Swedish Opera Star Comes To Campus For ASUI Assembly

Goeta Ljungberg Is A Splendid Singer Says Archie Jones

Goeta Ljungberg, one of the best operatic stars according to Professor Archie N. Jones, will appear in an assembly Thursday, February 4 at 11 a. m. in the university auditorium.

Professor Jones, who has heard Miss Ljungberg sing says: "Anyone who doesn't hear her will really be missing something."

Miss Ljungberg's brilliant career commenced at the age of eight when she sang for the Queen of Sweden. Since then she has sung command performances for the royalty of Europe. She divides her time between making appearances at the Metropolitan Opera house and concertizing throughout Europe and America.

Miss Ljungberg sings Tuesday night in Portland and will come to Moscow directly from there.

Has Talented Parents This daughter of the Vikings comes from parents who were both talented amateur musicians. She displays a talent for foreign languages singing in German, French, Swedish, Italian, and English.

"She has a fine reputation," remarked Hall Macklin, who is one of the many Idahoans looking forward to her concert.

"Someday," remarked Fay Pettijohn, treasurer of women's national music honorary, Sigma Alpha Iota, "Goeta Ljungberg expects to be able to sing just as well as I do. Goeta will Goeta with the Swedish singing you ever heard."

Spinsters To Skip At Gals Shindig February 22

Women's Dance Should Prove to Be One of the Year's Best Social Skirmishes

Idaho's sensationally successful Spinster Skip, timeworn tradition to which women "tote" their men, has been scheduled for the afternoon of Monday, February 22, according to Erma Lewis, president of Mortar Board. Mortar Board sponsors this dance annually, be it leap year or fruitless year, and it is alleged to be the height of social skirmishes.

Regardless of icy blasts, blustering blizzards, or cyclonic deluges, it always ushers in the donning of early Spring fashions. And the women foot all the bills. (Two perfectly good reasons why the dance is colossal.)

Tickets will sell for $1 this year, and will include a boutonniere for escorts. The kind of flower which the purchaser specifies will be delivered by members of the honorary.

Doris McDermott will sell tickets at Forney and Hays halls, Dorothy Rosevear at Pi Beta Phi, Catherine Bjornstad at Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Phi, Jane Baker at Kappa Kappa Gamma, Dorothy Brown at Delta Delta Delta, Esther Flenner at Delta Gamma and Gamma Phi Beta, and Erma Lewis at Kappa Alpha Theta and cooperative houses. Town women may buy tickets in the Ad building at a time to be arranged.

Committees for the Spinster Skip are: Dorothy Brown, entertainment; Dorothy Rosevear, publicity; Catherine Bjornstad, invitations; Jane Baker, patrons; Esther Flenner, flowers; Doris McDermott, tickets; and Erma Lewis, decorations.

An Argonaut editorial staff meeting will be held at 4 p. m. Wednesday, in Ad. 301. All students expecting to work on The Argonaut must be present. Second semester staffs will be picked only from those at the meeting.

Students Sprawl On Sidewalks; Cold Is Over

Busses Arrive on Time, Three Student Extras Sunday Night; Predict Warmer Weather in West

Warmer weather, but no balmy sunshine, has glazed the university sidewalks with slick ice instead of crispy, crunchy snow. While students continue to slip and sprawl on the walk between the Science building and the Fiji corner and many an equally hazardous strip, snowbound trains and busses welcome the warm breath of a chinook.

Three extra busses came into Moscow Sunday night loaded with students returning from a mid-semester vacation, and busses were running on schedule today. From Coeur d'Alene came a bus yesterday which had been unable to get through for an entire week, the highway having been completely blocked.

Storm Means Something Weather observers considered a storm on the coast as evidence that the cold weather which has kept people in the western half of the nation bundled in their warm woollies was breaking. At Boise weather bureau officials had reported the red column in their thermometers wilted and sat down at 15.3 degrees below—the coldest in more than 9 years. Now the thermometers throughout the area stand up at from 18 to 40 degrees above.

Drifts forced abandonment of plans to run the first Great Northern electric train from Spokane to Moscow since last Wednesday yesterday. The train, marooned with its crew for five days at Mount Hope, was freed Sunday. It went on into Spokane. Sunday snow blocked its way back to Moscow.

Idaho Philosopher Ends Journey To Midwest

Prof. C. W. Chenoweth Took Part in Meetings of Adult Education Convention in Minneapolis

Mr. C. W. Chenoweth returned Sunday from a six weeks' trip which took him to Minneapolis, Minn., where he attended meetings of the Federal Adult Education convention. The convention called for an extended research into the problem of adult education.

The meetings were conducted in conformity with old New England hall meetings—that is, everyone took part in an informal discussion of the problems.

Many Attend Members of the chamber of commerce, high school, and college students were dealt with in helping work out a new educational program in this field.

Mary Smith, Idaho Lawyeress, Runs On Both Tickets; Is Elected

Miss Mary Smith, who was graduated from the University of Idaho in 1935 at the age of 20, the only woman to be admitted to the bar since 1919, ran on a ticket as a Republican against herself as a Democrat—and won. She ran for Justice of the Peace.

Swede Singer

May Seek Campus Groups to Help Flood Relief

Containers at Blue Bucket and Ad Building to Catch Loose Nickels if no Organization Accepts

One of the honorary service organizations of the campus will probably be asked to take charge of collecting contributions for the Red Cross flood relief fund, according to Mrs. Mark R. Kulp, head of Latah county Red Cross.

Containers for student contributions will be placed at the desk of the Blue Bucket and on the table in the hall of the Administration building, in case no organization accepts the responsibility of collecting relief money.

Debate Delegates Will Make Plans, States Orland

Group Representatives Will Select Question and Arrange Schedule for Intramural Clashes Wednesday

All men's and women's groups which plan to enter intramural debate must send a representative to a meeting to be held Wednesday at 4 p. m. in Ad 206, according to an announcement by Lewis Orland, manager. The purpose of the meeting is to select a question and arrange a schedule. It is absolutely necessary that the representatives be present, because the debates begin February 18.

"In addition to intramural debate there will also be an extemporaneous speaking contest," said Orland. "Plans will be worked out at the meeting."

Rules for intramural debating this year are as follows:

1. Any person who has not participated in intercollegiate debate is eligible. (For the purpose of these debates, junior college tournaments are not construed as intercollegiate debate.)
2. Losing one debate eliminates a team.
3. The affirmative will be hosts of the negative for the first round.
4. There will be absolutely no postponements. Failure to appear will mean a default.
5. Judges must be secured by the competing teams and may be any person mutually agreed upon by both sides.

Dr. Neale Resigns as President; Board Will Meet in Boise Friday To Act on Three fold Program

Regents To Accept Resignation; Seek Budget, Contract

Idaho's board of regents will meet in Boise Friday for three specific purposes—to pass on President M. G. Neale's resignation, to present the proposed university budget to the joint finance committee of the legislature, and to hear Contractor J. D. Beery's decision concerning completion of the library wing by July 1.

Presented to the board at their meeting here a week ago today, Doctor Neale's resignation will be acted upon by the board Friday instead of today, the date originally set for the hearing on the contract mix-up.

Main activity of the board will consist of meeting at 7:30 p. m. Friday, with the joint legislative finance committee, made up of the appropriations committee of the house and the finance committee of the senate. R. S. Erb, Lewiston, is chairman both of the senate and of the joint committee, and Dan J. Cavanagh of Twin Falls is head of the house appropriations committee.

The regents will sit in on the budget hearing, endeavoring to show committee members that the budget, as drawn up by university officials, should be reported out. Governor Barzilla Clark's message lopped off $147,988.78 from the original budget, over a $100,000 of the cut coming in the personal service department, involving faculty salaries.

Return to 31-32 Level The budget as requested, and as the board will probably ask the joint committee to report it out, represents a return to the basis on which the university operated during the biennium 1931-32, though the enrollment has increased by more than 50 per cent since that time. It calls for only slightly higher state appropriations than those made for the bienniums 1929-30 and 1927-28.

In addition, it provides for completing restoration of salaries of university employees, cut drastically in the 1933-34 appropriation. Approximately 58 per cent of the salary cut was restored in the 35-36 budget. Present underpaid members of the

District Agricultural Conservation Conference Discusses Idaho's Program

Dean Edward J. Iddings of the college of agriculture, recently attended a series of meetings of the District Agricultural Conservation conferences. The purpose of these meetings was to outline and discuss Idaho's agricultural program.

Conferences were held in Pocatello on January 23; in Jerome on January 25; in Caldwell on January 27, and in Moscow on January 29. Each meeting was attended by approximately 900 representatives from various sections of Idaho.

GEM NOTICE

Pictures of campus organizations for the 1937 Gem will be taken beginning this week. The schedule of times for these pictures will appear in the Bulletin Board of the Argonaut. Members of the various organizations wishing to have their pictures with the group are urged to watch the schedule and be present at the proper time. Only one picture of each group will be taken. The schedule will be followed exactly unless weather conditions prohibit.

"I Regret Leaving My Friends"

Resignation of Mervin G. Neale as president of the university came as a complete surprise to students Saturday. President Neale, an army captain during the World war and leading educator since his graduation from Missouri in 1911, expressed his regrets at leaving Idaho, where his associations, he said, have been most happy.

Formal Part Gets Hair-cut In Pep Band Show of 1937 States Leader McFarland

Leader Jim McFarland is going to give the formal part of his Pep Band show this year a hair-cut. "This formal concert won't contain a number of 'long-haired' arrangements," informed McFarland, "but instead will be a lighter type, not so many frills, better fitted to the capabilities of the Idaho band, more readily enjoyable to the audience."

All Enthusiasm The curly-headed leader was all enthusiasm yesterday as he announced a strenuous campaign of practicing for the show. Formal concert practice will start immediately; informal part will undergo preparation after the tryout for campus talent selections to be held Saturday at 3 p. m. in the auditorium.

"This is one and only chance for potential and hidden talent to reveal itself," warned the baton wielder, "and the only way we have of attempting to give the best campus performers a boost."

For the formal part of the program, besides two special arrangements and some marches, McFarland announced intentions to use a special adaptation of his own on "My Hero," first made to be played by the large Illinois college band.

Big Time Stuff Of the two highlight arrangements one is "Great Day" by Law Professor Wins In Legal Scrap Over California "Little NRA" Code

A clause of the Ventura, Calif., cleaners' and pressers' little NRA code was declared unconstitutional as the result of the summer's work of Robert R. Willard, visiting assistant professor in the Idaho college of law. Mr. Willard was defending Anselmo G. Cardona, who operates a cleaning establishment in Ventura.

Cardona had already been convicted of violating the code, and sentenced to 40 days in the city jail, or $40 fine, before Mr. Willard took over the case. He made a Superior court habeas corpus appeal and succeeded in having the law declared unconstitutional securing the lease of Cardona.

Idaho Head Leaves To Take Position At Minnesota U.

"I hereby present my resignation as president of the University of Idaho."

By those words students learned Saturday that Dr. Mervin G. Neale, for six and one-half years chief executive of the university, had asked to be relieved of his duties, "effective at the earliest possible date I may be released."

In presenting his resignation last Tuesday to the state board of education, which will pass upon it in Boise Friday, Neale revealed he would return to the University of Minnesota as professor of education administration, a position he left 14 years ago after a two-year term. He learned of his election to that post Friday night.

May Be Here Until June At Minnesota the Idaho president will succeed Dr. Fred Englehardt, elected to the presidency of the University of New Hampshire. Doctor Neale will serve under the mid-western institution's famous educator, Dean M. E. Haggerty. He asked to be relieved of his duties at Idaho by March 15 or by April 1 at the latest, though he stated yesterday that he might not leave the campus before the end of the present semester.

Reading the announcement of his decision in Saturday morning papers, undergraduates and others alike pondered what circumstance caused Doctor Neale, one of the most popular of Idaho presidents, to resign his position.

Appreciates Board's Help "It is unnecessary," said President Neale, in a letter to the board of regents, "for me to say to the members of this board that I appreciate more than I can put into words the manner in which they have worked for the welfare of all the educational interests of the state of Idaho during the six and a half years that I have been in the state. I have never worked with a group of men and women anywhere where the spirit of cooperation was any finer or where there was any greater desire to serve the public interest."

"It is also unnecessary for me to say that I have personally enjoyed all my relationships with the Board of Education."

Other get-together is by Bertram McGarrity, instructor in woodwinds at Idaho, who has done arrangements for big professional theatre orchestras in the East. Mr. McGarrity's masterpiece of the Pep Band show will be a concert arrangement of a medley of school songs belonging to opposing universities of the Pacific coast conference.

"March On!" Two other numbers on the formal program will be Student Chuck Collin's "March On!" and a featured selection of Jerome Kern's from the musical comedy, "Showboat."

"These arrangements," confided McFarland, "are just suited for the Pep band's instrumentation. We don't profess to be capable of giving masterpiece performances on heavy, involved, 'long-haired' arrangements; the concert productions we shall play are peculiarly to the well-balanced instrumentation of this year's Pep band."

To complete his reed section for the show McFarland will add a bass clarinet player, Dick Gardner, and a bassonist, Roger Fish.

Idaho's rifle team will enter competition February 4, for the championship in inter-collegiate small bore rifle shooting. This competition will be between the colleges of the Ninth Corps area.

From the Ninth Corps area, the three highest teams will be chosen to fire for the national inter-collegiate championship of the United States.

Team of Fifteen The team will consist of 15 men. When these men have fired against the opposing team, the 10 highest scores for each position—standing, prone, sitting, and kneeling—will determine which team is the winner.

Outstanding practice scores have been turned in by John Elder, Bob Abbot, Walter Schoenfeld, Jerry Price, John McVey, Robert Abbey, Joseph Couch, and R. A. Frazier. The scores for tournament competition must be recorded by February 25. The team to fire for Idaho will be chosen Wednesday.

Dr. Neale Resigns

Amazed and sorrowful were students, faculty members, and townspeople Saturday at the sudden announcement that Dr. M. C. Neale, for nearly seven years president of the university, had resigned.

His career as president, second in length only to that of Dr. James A. MacLean, has been marked by the greatest growth in enrollment the university has ever known. There were 1,552 students here when he assumed the presidency. More than 2,700 enrolled last fall.

The present building program is credited largely to his foresight and perseverance. Three years were spent in untiring effort before the long-awaited infirmary became a reality. Among the most needed of Idaho's improvements: it symbolizes to students their friendly, persevering leader's continual efforts to give them adequate buildings. The student union building, the library wing, Sweet hall, the stadium, the golf course—they represent the widely diversified needs he has recognized and provided for during a single year!

A program of the buildings still needed, including both dormitories and additional classroom space, was outlined by Dr. Neale in his opening address to students this fall, an indication that his campaign for a better university had only begun.

Whatever Dr. Neale's reasons are for leaving, his departure two months hence will be a severe loss to the university. Whoever his successor may be, he will find the place hard to fill.—R.H.

The Movie-go-Round

Kenworthy
"After the Thin Man" with William Powell, Myrna Loy and Asta—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Here for once is a sequel which rivals its predecessor. Fully as gay as the original, as amusing and as complicated to follow, it is superb as a mystery melodrama and exceptional as an example of modern comedy.

Unlike Sherlock Holmes, who had recourse to narcotics, Detective Nick Charles (Powell) depends solely upon alcohol. In this picture, he sets a new record for deductive drinking. Fortified by a few nips aboard the train, he and his wife (Loy) arrive in San Francisco to find a party already in progress at their house. After a few nips more, they go to a family dinner, where Nick drinks the other male guests into a stupor.

Husband Disappears
When it turns out that the scapegrace husband of Mrs. Charles' pretty cousin (Elissa Landi) has mysteriously disappeared, Nick finds him in a cabaret and barely has time to drink to his health before the husband staggers out to get murdered. Detective Charles then settles down to drink and work in earnest. His evening reaches its peak when, in a room containing half a dozen dangerous characters and a police aide, the lights suddenly go off and shooting starts.

Before Detective Charles has pinned responsibility for the murder to the least likely character involved, "After the Thin Man" has introduced to cinema audiences as amusing a group of suspects as Author Hammett has yet contributed to the screen.

Asta, the wire-haired terrier, is perfect. This is not one to miss.

Nuart
"The Plainsman"—Wednesday through Saturday.

A glorified Western which emphasizes personalities rather than battles to provide exciting entertainment.

Endeavoring to make the West safe for settlers after the Civil war, Indian Scouts Wild Bill Hickok (Gray Cooper) and Buffalo Bill Cody (James Ellison) make war on Charles Bickford, who has been selling guns to the Indians. Their efforts, aided by the heroics of boisterous Calamity Jane (Jean Arthur) result in many Indian fights, culminating in the last stand of General Custer. Against this backdrop of battle, rises the romance of Wild Bill and Calamity Jane.

Cooper's role is tailored to suit him, and fits well. "Jean Arthur makes an outstanding characterization of Calamity Jane.

In Which a Thinking Student Calls Attention to the Frightful Bogey—Syphilis

Do you realize that any day YOU may be exposed to the most dangerous and destructive disease of all mankind? You shudder at the thought of exposure to tuberculosis, you quake at the thought of being exposed to scarlet fever, you are terrified at the news of an infantile paralysis epidemic, yet YOU live in a constant far-greater danger of a disease many times more dangerous than all these put together. That disease is syphilis.

Pictorial Statistics, Inc. shows that there are 22 new cases of syphilis to every nine new cases of scarlet fever, to every five new cases of tuberculosis; it shows also that syphilis strikes ONE out of every TEN adults. The surgeon general, U. S. public health service, put syphilis in our Big-Four—the four greatest killers, with pneumonia, cancer, and tuberculosis.

We are appalled at our high automobile accident statistics, but did you know that in 1934, when there were some 107,000 permanent disabilities from auto accidents, there were nearly FIVE TIMES THAT MANY DISABLED BY SYPHILIS? Think back! How many times have you nearly "gotten it in the neck" in an auto? Now multiply that number by five! The result is well-nigh terrifying—and well it might be.

Why Not Check It?
And why isn't this plague that is running rampant among us, this epidemic that is doing a hundred times more damage than the dreaded infantile paralysis, being checked? Medical science has the weapons available, the disease is relatively simple to detect, check, and in most cases, completely cure, but we tie its hands because we are a race of prudish ostriches (have you ever noticed how much neck an ostrich has stuck out when his head is buried?)

We cluck our tongues, say, "Tsk, tsk," and slide back into the complacency of the belief that "nice" people don't talk about syphilis, that "nice" people don't have syphilis, that "nice" people don't have anything to do with those who have syphilis. We think of the disease as the mark of "guilt," as the wages of sin, but we are wrong—terribly, terribly wrong.

AT LEAST FIFTY PER CENT of all new cases are traceable to innocent infections. Just think what that means! You, YOU, have five times as much chance of becoming infected from a drinking cup, a glass, a cigarette, a kiss, or one of the many other means of innocent infection, as you have of being permanently disabled in an auto accident!

Don't Be an Ostrich
What can you do to protect yourself? For detailed suggestions read "Why Don't We Stamp Out Syphilis" by Thomas Paron, M. D., surgeon general, U. S. public health service in Survey Graphic July '36, or its condensation in Reader's Digest July '36; be prepared to back to the limit the national campaign (see Collier's, editorial, Feb. 7, '37) which is feebly getting into motion (a similar campaign several years ago in Sweden has practically stamped the disease out of that country) and most important of all—pull your head out of the sand—realize that syphilis isn't to be hush-hushed—IT'S TOO CLOSE TO HOME!—J.P.D.

In Which a Frozen Student Laments On the Necessity of Freezing—and the Occasion

Dear Editor:

It seems that this is the popular place for all the pet gripes in this neck of the woods.

The other evening we had a couple of basketball games scheduled with our friends across the border. According to all the dope the frosh game was to start at 6:30. Now there were something like a hundred ardent Vandal supporters that braved the sub-zero weather to witness this early game only to find the gym locked, plans changed and admittance to only those worthy few that are on Coach Twogood's squad. A few of the bolder individuals, seeing a chance to become a hero, ventured forth to act as spokesmen for the chilly crowd, only to find the door securely blocked by at least a half dozen persons whose only answer was, "No one gets in until the Knights get here to take the tickets". Even the same answer was given to the suggestion that the shivering group be admitted to the interior of the building and the guards take their positions on the stairway and entrances to the floor.

Sincerely I gripe,

greatest regret." Friends of Doctor Neale professed no knowledge of his impending resignation, stating the action was a complete surprise to them. Beyond statements by the president that he would like to return to teaching, they knew of no previous indication that he intended to resign. They felt that desire to return to the freedom of a professorship at a large university motivated his decision to "step back" 14 years to his former position, to which Doctor Englehardt succeeded him.

Interviewed yesterday, President Neale offered no new explanation, preferring to keep his own counsel. He reiterated his previous statement regarding complete harmony with the board of regents, with the faculty, and with the students, thus branding as ridiculous any rumors that political pressure had been applied to force his resignation.

No Acting President
His assertion that he would remain on the campus for some time gave assurance that he would see the university through the legislative session, and would present the university's case in the request to the legislature for a larger biennial appropriation. Also requiring his attention are the several new and yet unfinished projects which he sponsored during the past year, the student union, the new library, the golf course, the stadium, the infirmary, and Willis Sweet hall.

No acting president, said Doctor Neale, will be appointed by the board of regents Friday. In the event that a successor has not been selected by the board before Doctor Neale leaves the campus, an acting president will be named, not unless such is the case. No clue as to a possible next president has yet appeared. Should an acting chief executive be named, faculty men pointed out that Dean E. I. Diddings occupied that post during the six months between F. D. Kelley's resignation and Doctor Neale's appointment. Another possibility is Dean of Engineering Ivan C. Crawford.

President Neale came to Idaho after seven years as dean of the school of education at the University of Missouri, where he graduated with a bachelor of science degree in 1911. In 1917 he took an A.M. at Columbia University, and, three years later, received his Ph. D. from the same institution.

Beginning his life work as a teacher in Missouri rural schools, he became superintendent of schools at Platte city and Malden, Mo., going to State Teachers college at Marysville in 1914. For the next year he was state high school inspector, becoming an associate in education administration at Columbia in 1919.

Captain in War
The next year he joined the faculty of University of Missouri, going to Minnesota in 1921 for two years. He was a member of the 42nd (Rainbow) division in the World war, rising to the rank of captain, and being wounded in action in May, 1918.

Doctor Neale will have completed nearly seven years in the Idaho presidency when he leaves two months hence. Only one president, Dr. James A. MacLean, here from 1900 to 1913, served a longer term. The university saw its greatest growth under Doctor Neale's stewardship, the enrollment increasing from 1552 to the record 2756 registration of last fall.

Idaho Vandals Make Ready For WSC Games This Week-End

Teams Play at Pullman Friday Night, at Moscow Saturday Night

The Washington State Cougars found the Vandals easy prey last Saturday night, but it will be a different story this coming week-end, say the Vandal players.

On Friday night, the Idaho team will play at Pullman, and the next night the Cougars come here. Those games will end hostilities between the two mortal enemies until March.

Somewhat discouraged over the performance of his team last week, Coach Forrest Twogood is redoubling his efforts to instill his system of play into the squad.

Several factors ganged together to force Idaho into a second-half slump last Saturday. It was a combination of "Cash" Dolquist, Bill Dahlke, loss of Don Johnson to the Vandals the second half, uncanny accuracy in Cougar shooting the second half and speedy checking by the visitors.

Dolquist and Dahlke each scored nine points to lead the scoring parade for W. S. C. Bill Kramer was the Idaho big gun with seven points. Lyle Smith and Steve Belko, forwards, followed with six points apiece.

Johnson left the game on personal fouls shortly before the first half was over. After losing him the Vandals seemed to lose much of the drive and confidence that gave them a one-point margin of lead for the first half. The score at the half was 15 to 14.

Cougar Spree
The Cougars, shooting continuously as usual, were unable to connect for many field goals the first half. The second half, zooming long shots and set-ups alike, dropped through the netting.

Idaho led most of the time throughout the first half, but never by over two points. A field goal by Lyle Smith shortly after the second half began gave the Vandals a three point lead, the most they ever had.

After that goal, the Cougars went into a scoring spree.

The scorer marked: "Dahlke, free throw; Clyde Carlson, field goal; Al Hooper, free throw; Dolquist, field goal; Dahlke, field goal; Nelson, free throw; Dahlke, field goal; and Nelson, field goal, before the Vandals ever flicked the net again. The score then read 27-17 with 13 minutes yet to go.

The scoring was fairly scattered from then on, with the Cougars stretching their lead to 15 points before the final gun.

Honorary to Hold Swimming Tryouts

Hell-Divers, the swimming honorary for those who have earned Red Cross Senior Life Saving certificates, is holding its mid-semester tryouts Wednesday night, February 10. Members are chosen for their ability in swimming, diving and life saving.

Vernon Shook, president, announced that a new method of selecting members is being used this time. A board of five Hell-Divers who are registered Red Cross examiners will conduct the tryouts and grade on the basis of efficiency.

All Senior life savers are urged to come to the pool in the Memorial Gymnasium at eight o'clock dressed to tryout.

All freshmen interested in working as freshman managers on the track team, report to Mike Ryan in the training room, Memorial gym, Wednesday night at 4 o'clock.

teaching, stenographic, and clerical staffs would have their salaries slightly increased, a slight increase in services other than personal, supplies, equipment structural and non-structural improvements are asked.

New faculty members required by the tremendous increase in enrollment would be provided for under the requested appropriation, and slight increased appropriations for the extension division and experiment stations are asked, in order to better the service to the state.

Awarding of the contract for construction of the library wing still hinges upon whether or not Contractor Beery can complete the structure by July 1, the time specified in the PWA grant. He is to give his decision at Friday's meeting. A possible solution to the problem would be extension of completion date by PWA authorities.

The Vandal Babes started the second semester off with a bang last night in trouncing Whitworth college from Spokane, 37 to 16. Half time score was 24 to 9.

The Vandals had little trouble against the Pirates, scoring almost at will, while limiting the Spokane team to six field goals. Four of the Pirate field goals were made by Warrick, star forward.

Bob Parks, ineligible until yesterday, proved to be a distinct asset to the team. He gathered high scoring honors with four field goals and three free tosses for 11 points. He adequately filled the breach left by Bill English, who came under the scholastic ban yesterday after the grades came in.

Sieh and Ramey were high in the scoring for Idaho with seven and six points, respectively. Sieh showed up well despite being in the game only a brief while.

Varsity Coach Forrest Twogood took charge of the yearlings in the absence of Al Paddock. He sent substitutes in regularly, but no combination was vulnerable to the attack of the Pirates.

The case received considerable space in the newspapers. The "Ventura County Star" said in part:

"The decision was a victory for Robert Willard, young Ventura attorney now teaching at the University of Idaho, who took Cardona's case and carried it through the courts just for the experience."

Favorable Comment
"Willard's comprehensive briefs on the subject, citing well-founded authorities and references, drew favorable comment from Ventura's leading attorneys."

A previous case decided in favor of the NRA code made Willard's case more difficult. The district attorney, who was prosecuting Cardona, hired a special man to write his brief on the constitutionality of the code. Yet notwithstanding the expert counsel Willard was fighting and the fact that this was his first case, he won a favorable decision.

COACH TED BANK LEAVES FOR DETROIT

Ted Bank, head of the physical education department, left last night for Detroit, Michigan, where he will attend a meeting of the national rules committee of the American Football Coaches association.

Vandal Matmen Oppose Cougars In Memorial Gym February 13

Idaho's modern version of the ancient sport called wrestling will be shown to the public at the season opener here February 13 in a dual meet with Washington State college.

Last year the Vandals twice took the measure of W.S.C., lost to Washington, then made the best showing among college teams in the northwest Olympic trials at Seattle. Local fans are looking forward to a close contest at the coming meet. Idaho lost more men by graduation than did their opponents, and the withdrawal of two men has put a damper on enthusiasm.

Paul Jones Outstanding
Easily the outstanding man on the Idaho squad is Paul Jones, 135-pound senior from New Plymouth. After winning at Seattle last winter, he went back to the national Olympic finals at Lehigh university, Pennsylvania, and lost in the semi-finals to the present inter-collegiate champion. Jones has been directing training of the squad this season, as there is no regular wrestling coach. Percy Clapp, assistant football coach and former Minnesota wrestler, helps the squad when he can.

Veterans Back
Withdrawal at the end of the first semester of two of his men has cast a cloak of gloom over Jones. Matt Boardman, promising 128 pounder, and Dale Sanner, heavy-weight, left school. Jasper Nutting, too, is taking a vacation, and likely will not be able to take part in the matches.

Outcome of the coming match will depend largely on the showing of some of last year's veterans. Bob Miller, Moscow, 118 pounds; Paul Jones, New Plymouth, 135; Dean Green, Glendale, California; Stonko Pavkov, Gooding, heavy-weight, are the experienced grapplers who will be on the mat again. Reserves from last year and transfers from the southern branch will round out the squad.

best adjusted to married life if the man assumes his position as head of the house and if his wife is willing to cooperate.

Gives Rules for Marriage
"Marriage, after all, is a partnership and should be run on a business-like basis. If those who marry will use only a little common sense, there is no reason why their venture should not be successful."

Miss Smith states that after unraveling marriage knots in divorce courts, she would be very cautious about taking the marriage vows.

Cougar Kittens Tumble Before Vandal Babes

Working smoothly, the Idaho freshmen piled up a large lead over the W.S.C. yearling basketball team early in the game here Saturday night and defeated the Cougar babes 34 to 28.

At half-time the Vandals held a lead of 27 to 9, but lost it rapidly in the face of a second-half W.S.C. rally. The Cougars narrowed the margin down to six points before the gun sounded. W.S.C. made 19 points to Idaho's 7 during the second half.

Ramey High Scorer
Roy Ramey, Idaho forward, was high man with 9 points to his credit. Chase, forward, was high for the visitors with 8 points. Brendon Barret, center, with 7 points, and Bob Dvorak, guard, with 6 points, were next in line for Idaho. Mike Sullivan, Idaho forward, was outstanding as a ball hawk and made two baskets in a brief time of play.

Snow Puts Stop To Vandal Fight Card With Dons

Fights scheduled here February 12 between Idaho and San Francisco university boxers have been called off due to deep snow in Moscow and consequent prospects for poor attendance.

The request for cancellation of the card was made by Louis August, Vandal boxing coach. Expense of bringing the San Francisco university team here would have been too heavy to risk slim gate receipts, he said.

Next engagement for Idaho's fighters will be a card here February 20 with a team of amateur champions representing all of western Canada. Every man on the invading team will have to earn the right to make the trip here by winning his weight class in tournament competition. Sponsor of the Canadian team will be the Meraloma Athletic club of Vancouver, B. C.

Annual Track Meeting To Be Held Tuesday In Science Hall

Organized indoor track activity began yesterday afternoon and the training program will continue until the early part of March. The Memorial gym floor will be available to track men only between 2 and 4 o'clock during the training season, according to Coach Mike Ryan.

On certain specified days the floor will be available to track enthusiasts from 3 o'clock until 5. The days when the track men will be unable to use the floor until after 3 o'clock are February 4, 9, 11, 25, 26 and March 1. Whenever the basketball team is away on a road trip the gym will be turned over to the track men.

Deadline Set

Next Tuesday the annual track meeting will be held in the Science building, room 210, and all plans for both the indoor and outdoor meets will be discussed. THIS MEETING WILL BE THE DEADLINE FOR ANY STUDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY PLANNING ON COMING OUT FOR SPRING TRACK. It will be impossible for anyone interested to show up next spring if he has not participated in the winter training season.

At the annual meeting several films will be shown. One of the films is the record of the last Olympic meets in Berlin and, according to Mr. Ryan, should be of interest to everyone. The public is invited to attend the showing of the films, but must leave when the business session of the meeting takes place.

Revised Point System To Be Used by A.W.S.

Activities of women students will be checked with a revised point system beginning with the present semester, according to Dorothy Rosevear, chairman of the point system of the Associated Women students. A point system has been in effect at Idaho in the past, but had to be changed to include new activities on the campus.

Cards will be made available next week at the group houses for those who live on the campus, and town women may secure them by calling at the office of the dean of women. On these cards, every woman is asked to indicate the honorary societies, clubs, and committees to which she belongs, offices she holds, and publications on which she works. Mimeographed sheets telling the number of points awarded for each activity will be posted. Upperclassmen are allowed 15 points, and underclassmen, 10. "The purpose of this system," said Miss Rosevear, "is to distribute activities among many women instead of allowing two or three to participate in all. A check is made in this way, too, upon the activities of the individual women, so that no one is carrying more activities than she can handle adequately. Women who are carrying more than the specified points in activities will be asked to drop some."

Table Tennis Games Start Next Week

Representatives from women's and men's groups on the campus who expect to participate in the table tennis tournament must sign their names on the announcement posted in the women's gym by Friday morning at the latest. The turnout from each house should be as large as possible, no one will have to be a "shark." Men's houses are turning out in larger groups than are the women's, announced Miss Janette Wirt, P. E. instructor.

The tournament will consist of singles games, with places on a challenge ladder to be drawn at 12:45 Friday, in the gym lecture room. The tournament will start next week.

Pep Band Chorus Tryouts Soon

Girls who have had basic tap dancing rules are eligible to try out for the Pep Band chorus routine, according to Miss Janette Wirt, P. E. instructor. The tap routines for the show are to be taught in Miss Wirt's tap dancing classes.

Any girl of medium height who wishes to try out for the chorus routine should report to one of the tap dancing classes to learn the routine, along with the girls registered in the course. The classes will be taught, starting this week, Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Women's gym.

Men of Notre Dame Don't Miss Women, (They Say)

Notre Dame is plenty tough—and they can prove it! Heading a recent questionnaire was the question:

"Do you regret that you are not attending a co-educational institution?"

Sixty-six per cent of them are real "he-men," voting overwhelmingly they can get along very nicely without the fair sex. A super-sentimental 15 per cent weakened and said that they regretted the absence of the girls. Nineteen per cent confessed to a part time yearning, but were for the most part satisfied.

Among other things, the men decided that coeds are less likely than other girls to make perfect wives. They gave two very definite reasons: "They won't sacrifice, and they can't cook!"

Alpha Phi's Use Unusual Theme

Cinderella, beloved heroine of fairy tale days, was the glorified feature of the Alpha Phi underclassmen dinner-dance Saturday night at the chapter house.

The setting might easily have been one out of which Cinderella herself had stepped. Place-cards on the dinner table represented coaches, and each was drawn by a life-like rubber mouse.

Silhouettes on Walls

The walls of the dancing rooms were covered with silhouettes of the beautiful heroine, her two hideous sisters, and old Prince Charming himself.

Patrons and patronesses were Miss Ruth Smith, Dr. Rexford E. Daubemire, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Cherrington, Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Corless, and Mrs. Homer Pittner.

Bert Wood's orchestra furnished the music.

Sharp Shooting To Start Soon

Try-outs for the woman's rifle team will start February 8. The range will be opened from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday for those who wish to try for the team. They will be required to pay to the Woman's Athletic association 50 cents each to defray the cost of ammunition.

Elimination contests will be conducted during February or March. First the eight best shots from the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman classes will be selected to form the rifle squad of 32 women.

Practice for this squad will continue to March 8. Then competitive firing between the four class teams for the university championship and high individual scores will start.

Women's basketball practice started Monday with the two-court system to be used throughout, according to Lola Mae Dickson, general manager of basketball.

There will be playing every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 4:15 until 5:30 o'clock for an indefinite number of weeks. Every woman who wishes to be eligible for team membership after that time must have practiced a minimum of eight hours.

Monday and Wednesday are specified as junior and sophomore days, Tuesday and Thursday as freshmen-senior days.
