Last Names

Of all the collegiate, rah-rah stunts at Idaho, few are in more questionable taste than the habitual calling of all one's friends and acquaintances by their last names.

The habit grows naturally in the classroom, where a student knows most of his fellows only by the way they are referred to by the instruc-Jor-as Miss Robinson or Mr. Brown. He becomes acquainted with them and indicates the informality of the contact simply by dropping

Last names are the customary salutation among men. Their use among women or beween the sexes is a trend which has persisted despite all opposition, until it is not unusual for a sorority president to be obliged to remind members please to call each other by their first names in the presence of guests.

Persistent omission of Christian names is a habit which may get by with only an occasional raised eyebrow on the campus. In what is losely termed the 'real world' outside, however, it is definitely not sanctioned, and for that reason, no other, seems a foolish habit to form.-Washing trails at the all the second

Conversation

Conversation is not tennis, where you return the other fellow's service, but golf, where you go on hitting your own ball. In a now-old copy of Readers Digest, one Raymond Mortimer says it might be defined as a tyranny of anecdote tempered by interruption.

Our technique of conversation seems to be along the line of least resistance; it takes so keep the words chasing each other. And the most admired, brilliant conversationalist is the one who can achieve the interested nod, half smile, and complete silence except for "you're right.

This is our technique; now the conversation itself-

Conversation, is, not chess, where you make the play after some thinking, but tiddledy-winks, where you just keep snapping a disk at the cup. Once in a while you hit the cup, but usually you just keep snapping the disk.

Common among our conversationalists, from the standpoint of the quality of their argument, are three types:

1: The one who knows nothing about the subject but goes on hitting the ball ... his result is a nit-witty conversation.

. 2. The one who irrationally chooses a side, then tries to bliff it out on insufficient knowledge until cornered.

3. The one who has specialized in the subject and is so "cracked" upon it that he is intolerable in argument. Conversation, which from practices should be the most advanced of mankind's abilities, is nothing more than a sad mixture of golf and tid-dledy-winks.—U. of W. Daily

The Movie-go-Round

Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday "Green Light" is based upon the same theme Story of Louis Pasteur'. Errol Flynn stars in this human interest story. The principals are doctors, nurses, patients, and all of the atmosphere of the story centers about the manner of life they have elected to follow. The theme centers about a young doctor who takes the blame for a slipshod operation, saving the name of a well-known specialist. As an outcast in his profession he hides his identity and begins practicing in a small Montana town. Attempting to make his way back, he combines with a bacteriologist in the fight against the dreaded tick fever. They are successful and his name is restored to proper professional standing. With Errol Flynn are Anita Louise, Margaret Lindsay, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Walter Abel and others. We give this picture a vote of fair entertainment.

Tuesday

"Camille," starring Greta Garbo and Robert Taylor. This picture is a tragic romance. It's Alexandre Dumas' tale of the Parisian beauty who gives up wealth and social position for the love of one man. If you like Garbo and Taylor combined in a story which will bring a lump in your throat, see 'Camille.'

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday America's outstanding lyric soprano, Gladys Swarthout, Metropolitan Opera diva and screen actress, makes her third stellar appearance in motion pictures in "Champagne Waltz," a scintillating romance with plenty of music. Fred MacMurray appears opposite her as leader of an American "swing" band.

The action of "Champagne Waltz" is laid in modern Vienna, with the conflict between 'swing," newly introduced to the gay capital by MacMurray, and the old-fashioned waltz, as exemplified by the Strausses. Miss Swarthout is a granddaughter of the musical director of a popular waltz who is driven out of business by the new "swing" music. There is a romance between Miss Swarthout and MacMurray, who poses as the American consul in order to win the girl's favor. When the trick is exposed, she leaves him. What happens from here on will indeed arouse your approval, perhaps. But supporting these two stars are the dancing team, Veloz and Yolanda; Jack Oakie, Herman Bing, and others. This should be good entertainment.

NORMALITES AHEAD AS HALF CLOSES

In the preliminary game last night the Lewiston Normal team defeated the Idaho frosh 15-7 in one half of basketball. The Normalites, led by Gaskill with eight in debate contests points, jumped into an early lead and increased it as the game progressed.

The game was forced to close after one half of action because of the early start of the Idaho-Washington game.

costs were paid off and the return of the profits to the students might be appreciated. It was estimated by representatives of all student groups on the campus last Monday that, if the present Student Book exchange were to be taken over at the terms of the present management, savings would amount to from 10 to 15 per cent during amortization.

Representatives will meet again it the SAE house Wednesday night to discuss the interview and further plans. Foremost in the minds of the petitioners is the desire to secure a book store which will return its profits and save money for every university student who buys books.

Successful Elsewhere It was suggested at meetings last week that the coop could be organized under the laws of Idaho, so that it would not be subject to taxation and members of the ASUI would not be individually liable for its debts.

Ottis Neilson, graduate student of accounting, who has been making a study of the co-operative movement, pointed out the scope and success of 160 such or ganizations in the United States.

given to cheering wildly and continuously and booing the refereeing frequently. Steve Belko, victim of several "hard luck" fouls, left the game with four against him in the middle of the last half. The loss of the stocky forward, who had sparked the attack with his brilliant playing was a serious drawback to the Vandals. Much of the enthusiasm they had shown left the floor with him.

Don Johnson was high point man for the losers with nine points, scored on four field goals and a free throw. The husky center-jumping guard played a brilliant game defensively and offensively. The rest of the Vandals performed Vandal team ever did. They were beaten by "on shooting on the part of two of the Huskies. Egge ran wild the first half, scoring eight points. Wagner scored six in the same half to put all the scoring behind the names of the two guards in the scorebooks.

The second half it was Loverich who ran wild. He scored five field goals and two free throws the second half. The last 11 of his points were made within the last seven minutes.

Vandal Aces Fight At Lake City Tonight

Coeur d'Alene fight fans are expecting to see plenty of action with three of the University of Idaho first-string boxers matched in main event attractions on an amateur boxing card at Coeur d'Alene tonight.

Bill Barnett, 145 pounds, Idaho's negro golden glove champion, will fight Rex Pegg, 142 pounds, in the five-round main event. Pegg won a decision from the negro lad in the diamond belt tournament held recently at Portland, but reports .say the little "brown bomber" was stale. Orv Lopp, 145 pounds, clever Favorite with the crowd, too, was the second-round knockout by Patsy Fitzpatrick over Jimmy Syme. Fitzpatrick had a decided edge over the Canadian featherweight, but took a few stingers himself in jolting Syme about the ring. Syme was dropped at the bell ending the first round, but lasted 45 seconds of the seccond round before Fitzpatrick's terrific right hand to the jaw abruptly ended the fight.

Julian Benoit easily outboxed rugged Doug Powell, punching consistently through the Canadian's defense, but won on a four round decision. Dropped for a count of 8 in the first round, his face a bleeding mass, Powell stubbornly came back for more.

"A little over a year ago I changed to Luckies because I enjoy the flavor of their tobacco. Ever since, my throat has been in fine shape. As my voice and throat mean so much to me in my business, it's plain common sense for me to prefer this light smoke.

IN PARAMOUNT'S "THE PLAINSMAN" DIRECTED BY CECIL B. DE MILLE

So I'm strong for Luckies!"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women-lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Cooper verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies-a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.
