

Levity and Littany

By L. O. Tinkle

Just how Governor Barzilla Clark will reconcile his past reputation as a builder with his veto of the bond issue bill is difficult to see. His two arguments so far—that new buildings should be constructed out of increased tuition charges, and that the state should "pay as it goes" in public building, seem open to criticism.

Last Friday's Argonaut presented figures obtained from other universities in the west, showing that our university obtains more money from out-of-state tuition than any of several surrounding institutions other than Oregon State, Oregon, and W.S.C., each of which has a much larger enrollment. That article also showed that such receipts are used for payment of faculty salaries and general administrative expense, and are not available for building.

The "pay as you go" principle seems well-founded when it is applied to current expenditures, but when it is applied to the construction of public buildings, planned to last three-quarters of a century, one questions its pertinence. Past history of the state shows a policy of providing institutional buildings through bond issues. Such policy is also general practice in most states of the union. Why present taxpayers of the state should carry entire cost of construction of buildings with a 75-year lifetime is hard to see.

Moreover, the board of regents planned to use the proceeds of the bond issue as a basis for applying for grants from the PWA. It would thus be possible to secure an additional 90 cents of federal money for every dollar of the state-supplied funds. Such a move would have been in line with the recovery policy of the federal government and would have provided an additional measure of economic recovery within the state.

Though the university has obtained some funds from the PWA, the amount is insignificant compared to that secured in other states. The University of Washington, from a bond issue authorized by the state and from PWA grants, has secured buildings worth $2,628,000 in the last four years, and Washington State, $1,300,000. Seven surrounding universities, by the same means, have constructed $5,102,387 worth of buildings.

On the educational bond issue bill amounting to $485,000 for our university, the southern branch, and the school for the deaf and blind at Gooding, an interest rate, according to present indications, of three per cent could be obtained. Approximately $32,000 a year would be required to retire the bonds—equivalent to a tax rate of about .00008 on the taxable property of the state. With this rate, a citizen whose property was assessed at $1,000 would pay about 8 cents a year toward providing adequate buildings for state educational institutions.

Gubernatorial veto of the bill means that the engineering building, condemned about ten years ago as unsafe by the state department of public works, will continue to be used. Equipment for the infirmary and for the library may be obtained for several months. That is the result on our campus. How will the southern branch and the school for the deaf and blind fare, where conditions have been crowded for years?

Blue Key and "I" Club Entertain Athletes At Luncheon

Players and coaches of the state high school basketball tournament were entertained at luncheon at the Blue Bucket Saturday afternoon by Blue Key and the "I" club. The Idaho Pep band and Chuck Collins presented specially arranged piano and piano accordion numbers. Informal talks by Coach Ted Bank and Forrest Twoogood were given.

A basketball clinic was held Saturday afternoon by Coach Twoogood for the purpose of acquainting the visiting coaches with the styles of play used at Idaho.

Idaho Graduate Writes About Floods, Earthquakes and Fire in Ohio

Mrs. Donald Urton Says Democratic Spirit Is Missing In East

(Editor's note: The account is part of a letter written by an Idaho graduate, Mrs. W. Donald Urton, Hamilton, Ohio. She was formerly Louise Lamelle of Kellogg, a graduate with the class of 1929. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority and was prominent in dramatics. With her husband she moved to Ohio from Spokane less than a year ago.)

University Dramatists Will Present "Lady of Letters"; Dodds, Fisher Take Leads

"A Lady of Letters", Turner Bullock's three-act comedy, will be presented by dramatic students of the university Friday and Saturday evenings in the auditorium at 8:30 o'clock. The author attended Yale at the same time as John Sellers, dramatics instructor.

The leading part is taken by Beatrice Jane Fisher, Weiser, a senior in education who has taken active part in dramatics for four years. Her two latest roles were the lead in "Petticoat Fever," and that of the cow in "Noah." The play revolves around Adelaide Willifer, the wife of a professor. She is not the typical professor's wife, but rather a dumb creature of whom the other faculty wives heartily disapprove. She buys a novel from a struggling author and publishes it as her own, which makes her the darling of the faculty wives who give her the title of the "Lady of Letters" before discovering that she is sailing under false colors.

The male lead is taken by Peter Dodds, who has been outstanding in music as well as dramatics. Margaret Taylor is the villainess of the story who always does the mean thing at the right time. Barbara Walker as Mrs. McDonald is a social climber who does the right thing at the right time. Gene Ryan, as usual, has a part calling for a great deal of humorous parlying and a queer jargon.

The producing staff includes Martha Allen, technician; Dorothy Brown, settings; George Oram, properties; Lucille Johnston, costumes; and Janet Clifford, makeup.

Famed Song Group Will Appear Here On Annual Tour

F. Melius Christiansen, Director of Choir, has Striven to Obtain Perfection in Harmony

St. Olaf's Lutheran choir will appear in Moscow, April 1, on its 26th annual tour of the Pacific Coast states.

F. Melius Christiansen, the director, has trained this choir for many years striving to attain perfection, and according to those who have heard his concerts, he has accomplished his aims. Mr. Christiansen is widely known among music lovers for his work with the St. Olaf choir.

Richard Spamer, of the St. Louis Globe Democrat, said after attending their concert:

"The unaffected manner of these young people exerts an indescribable charm. They come upon the stage, a surprised choir, take their places on a raised platform, stand at ease in perfect quiet, and by their calm demeanor compel a like attitude on the part of the audience. A minute later, Leader Christiansen appears, raises his baton, and a tenth of a second after lowering it the auditorium begins to be filled with sounds such as a trained ear cannot distinguish whether they be vocal, instrumental or celestial."

The choir will be presented in the Memorial gymnasium during its scheduled visit to Moscow.

Idaho Organizations Will Present Show To Lewiston Public

The Vandaleers will collaborate in Lewiston April 21 in the presentation of a show sponsored by Lewiston business men. Held in the high school auditorium, it will be open to the general public.

The Vandaleers will offer the formal part of the program, after which the two groups will give a combination number, and lastly, the Pep band will feature numbers using the same theme as was presented in its annual show here. As a special number the Pep band expects to furnish special written arrangements of the popular numbers of the day adapted to the Fred Waring technique.

Oregonian Features Outstanding Coeds In Sunday Magazine

University of Idaho coeds were featured in the Sunday, March 21, edition of The Portland Oregonian. One page was devoted to pictures of outstanding coeds and a cut of the Administration building. Women featured were Elma Lewis, Jane Baker, Doris McDermott, Elva Smith, Audrey Robinson, Helen Luke, and Dorothy Lentest.

College Promotion Accompanying the pictures was a brief history summary of the university. The Oregonian is devoting a page every Sunday to pictures and the history of coeds in the different colleges and universities of the Northwest. Oregon institutions, Linfield, W.S.C. and Idaho have lately been featured.

Work on Infirmary Contract Ended; Took a Year

PWA Hasn't Passed Loan for Purchase of Equipment; Occupancy This Year is Doubtful

Construction of the new university infirmary is finished, announced R. W. Lind, superintendent of buildings and grounds, yesterday. Building contracts totalled $118,000. Original plans called for completion four months ago, but labor troubles and lack of suitable labor forced the school authorities twice to extend the time for completion.

"It is extremely doubtful if the building will be used until next fall," university officials say. "Equipment was to be purchased with $21,000 raised through the sale of bonds. The governor vetoed this bill. Authorities have applied to the PWA for a loan of $18,000 but as yet have received no answer."

Bids Too High Once Original proposal made to PWA authorities was for a $150,000 building. During the latter part of January last year, the administration authorized a federal loan of 42 per cent on an $118,000 structure, the rest of which was to be raised by a bond issue.

Bids were opened March 7, 1936, for the construction work and found about 20 per cent too high. Back the infirmary went into the red tape mill for another two months. Again the board of regents altered building plans and called for bids May 1. The bid of the Colonial Construction company of Spokane for $75,288 was approved for the general contract.

Work on the infirmary would have been completed by November 25 under the contract, but materials were not forthcoming. Seven weeks were lost because of a strike in the stone quarries which were furnishing stone which had to be set in place before brick could be laid.

"We are asking for the additional money," the board said at the time the petition was made, "because the grant under which we started building the infirmary, $117,682, was not large enough to cover all expenses. This last grant for which we are asking is part of an added expense of $40,174.89, making the cost of the completed infirmary $157,856.89."

Increased labor and materials costs caused the additional expense.

Musical Fraternity Presented Sunday In Recital

Sigma Alpha Iota, women's national professional music fraternity, was presented in recital Sunday afternoon, at 4 p. m. in the university auditorium. Ensemble and solo numbers composed the program.

Sigma Alpha Iota members are chosen for musicianship, scholarship, character, and personality. Those appearing on Sunday's program were: Gertrude Gehrke, Marie Schneider, Fay Pettijohn, Agda Walden, Miriam Kennard, Melissa Stone, Mable Millay, Marian Dwight, Nina Kinghorn, Grace Boran, and Bette Mottern.

Elmer Humphrey, instructor in agricultural engineering at the university, has resigned his position which he has held for more than 10 years and leaves the of April for Nampa. He has accepted a position as district manager of the Allis Chalmers company for the Nampa-Boise area.

Dr. Neale to Leave April 2 to Assume Post at Minnesota

Board to Appoint Acting President at April 29 Meeting; Farewell Dinner, Hall Opening, Planned

President M. G. Neale will leave the campus April 2 or 3. He revealed yesterday his resignation will take effect from that date. Previous reports from Boise that he would not leave until July 1 resulted from failure to include provision by the board of regents for his release April 1, if matters here could be arranged by that date.

Though a new president will probably not be named until sometime next summer, Doctor Neale indicated an acting president will be appointed by the board of regents at their March 29 meeting here.

Details concerning completion of present construction work are settled, said the president. "I don't expect the acting president to have any difficulty on that score. General administrative matters are well in hand."

Begins New Work He will begin duties as professor of education administration at the University of Minnesota upon his arrival there. Spring quarter at Minnesota begins March 29, Doctor Neale will go by air to Minneapolis. Mrs. Neale and the children will go by train.

Faculty women are sponsoring a dinner, March 29, in honor of Doctor and Mrs. M. G. Neale. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock at Willis Sweet hall. "No entertainment has been decided. Invited guests are faculty men and their wives, the board of regents and their wives, former members of the board of regents and their wives, state officials and their wives.

Planned for Tuesday, March 30, is the formal opening, sweet hall dance, at which Doctor and Mrs. Neale are to be honored guests. Invited also are members of the board of regents, state officials, members of the supreme court, architects and contractors of the building. University celebrities invited will be Dean Evelyn Miller, Floyd Packard, purchasing agent; R. W. Lind, building superintendent.

Coeds Must Hurry Into Competition

Beautiful Girls Must Mail Picture Before April 5 for Queen Contest

No beautiful coeds on the Idaho campus have shown any apparent interest in the queen contest being sponsored by Blue Key.

The first judging is entirely from pictures, and entries should be turned in to Bill Armstrong, president of Blue Key, in time to be mailed before the deadline, April 5.

Each of 11 western states will pick a "charm" girl, who will receive a free trip by United Air Lines to San Francisco for the finals. The winner will receive a free trip to Paris to attend the exposition there as official representative of the 1939 San Francisco Golden Gate exposition.

Students Give Plays For General Public On U-Hut Stage

Two one-act plays will be given Tuesday night at 7 p. m. on the U-Hut stage by members of the fundamentals of play production class. The first play, a melodrama, will be played by Helen Abbott, Jane Pasley, Loren Bruns, and Joseph Mills, and will be directed by Betty Bodwell of the advanced class.

Stranger Interlude The second, a fantasy on the "Strange Interlude" type, will be played by Kathleen Tendall, Kathleen McLean, Juanita Warren, and Carol Jean Davis, and will be directed by Annette Wehn.

Both plays have been presented before the play production class for criticism and "testing," and were well received.

Foresters' Banquet Attended by 275 At Blue Bucket

L. F. Livingston was Guest Speaker; Foresters' Chorus and Ed Albany Furnish Entertainment

Industrial chemistry is making its momentum increasingly felt in the profession of forestry. L. F. Livingston, Wilmington, Del., vice president of the American Forestry association and manager of the agricultural extension section of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, told the members of the university Associated Foresters at their annual banquet Saturday. The affair was held at the Blue Bucket Inn.

Over 275 persons attended. Present were university students and faculty members of the forestry service, soil conservation service, blaster post service, entomology service and Potlatch Forest, Inc.

Entertainment was furnished by the forester's chorus, and two skits were presented by members of the school of forestry. Ed Albany, mystery-mimicking man from Milwaukee, furnished part of the program. Virgil Gould, president of Xi Sigma Pi, national forestry honorary, introduced the seven new initiates.

Plan for Clubhouse; Ground Treatment, Pleases Golfers

Golfers Field House Construction Begins in April; Will be Done by September Registration

Recent purchase of lumber for the golf course clubhouse completes the last step toward construction of the building, to be ready for use next fall. Plans drawn up by Architect Hugh Richardson of Lewiston were approved by the board of regents at their March 5 meeting.

Main features of the clubhouse, in much the same architectural style as the temporary classrooms on the campus, include a clubroom 40 by 25 feet, men's and women's locker rooms, an apartment for the superintendent of the course, and a 40 foot west veranda. There will be a catering room, where luncheons may be served, and a sales room.

The clubhouse, which will have a fireplace, is to be finished in knotty pine, and ceiling beams will be exposed in rustic fashion. From one corner of the veranda, fairways, one, two and part of three will be visible, and nine and parts of several from the other. Included in the superintendent's apartment, which is on the second floor, will be a bedroom, living room, kitchen, and dining alcove. Exterior of the building is to be finished in 10 inch cedar siding.

Awarding of contracts for $10,324.97 of lumber, most of it to be supplied by Potlatch Forests, Inc., completes one more step toward finishing of the stadium. Delivery of lumber is to be completed by May 1. Construction will begin sometime in April.

Only wood will be used in the (Continued on Page Two)

Four Professors Attend Spokane Council On Industrial Uses of Farm Crops

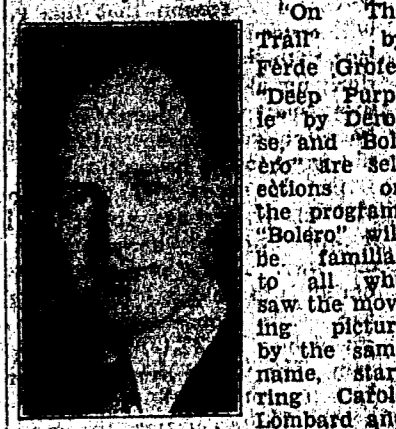

Opening session of the Pacific Northwest conference of the farm chemurgic council started Tuesday in Spokane. Purpose of the meeting is to advance the industrial uses of crops of the Pacific Northwest's farms and forests through applied science.

Four members of the university faculty left yesterday to take part in the conference, which will last two days. Dr. Hobart Beresford, head of the department of agricultural engineering, will give an address on the problem of developing power alcohol from farm

Musical Militarists Will Eye Leader In Ad at 8:15 p.m.

Modern selections, according to Director Robert Lyon, will be prominent in the music of the military band concert tonight in the auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Admission is free.

Bertram McGarrity, a new faculty member, will play a clarinet solo, "Concertino" by Heber. Pianist Hall Macklin, assistant of music, will play a solo, "The Grasshopper Dance" by Busch.

The piece creates a musical atmosphere in that it consists of patterns which are repeated over and over by different instruments, according to Mr. Lyon.

Dairy Short-Course Grads Are Placed

Course Nears Conclusion; Is Most Complete Course in Dairy Methods in the West

Idaho's five months' course in practical commercial dairying ended March 19 and graduated 26 potential dairymen. Many of the graduates are returning to dairy plants which they left to take 6th course.

Plants where men have already been placed are, Pocatello, Twin Falls, Caldwell, Burley, Lewiston, and Nampa. Plants in Spokane, Walla Walla, and Seattle, Wash., and Kallispell, Mont., have positions reserved for various graduates.

Idaho's dairying course is the only long short course, embracing five months of well rounded dairy husbandry in the western states. The facilities offered the students are rated first class by many of the dairy plants throughout the 12 states.

Ryan Takes Largest Track Team to Spokane A. A. U. Meet

Outstanding Talent of N.W. to Participate with National Champions.

With the largest squad of track men ever to represent the University of Idaho in a track meet, Coach Mike Ryan leaves for Spokane tomorrow to enter his 1937 aggregation in the First Annual Inland Empire Indoor track meet sponsored by the 161st Washington national guard tomorrow night. The outstanding track and field talent of the Pacific Northwest will match strides and leaps with Glen Cunningham, Norman Bright, Cornelius Johnson, and other national champions and record holders in the finest track meet ever to be held in the inland empire. Men from the squads of the University of Idaho, Washington State college, University of Montana, Gonzaga, Whitman, Whitworth, Cheney normal, and the Hill military academy of Portland will compete.

With Glen Cunningham, the world's greatest runner, and Norman Bright, national 5000-meter champion, participating in running events, and Cornelius Johnson, world's high jump record holder, entering the high jump, the meet will undoubtedly attract a record crowd," stated Coach Ryan yesterday. "I am taking a well-rounded squad of 50 men to represent the University of Idaho, and I think they will all give creditable performances. The boys are in the condition and frame of mind that makes winners."

Cunningham vs. Cunningham
Bill O'Neill, Pacific Coast intercollegiate cross country champion and record holder, and Dick Slade second man in last year's National Cross Country championships, will represent the University of Idaho in a special two mile race for the Spokesman-Review trophy. Pat Probst and Rex Fluharty will compete with Norman Bright in a one-mile race for the Dessert hotel cup.

Clardion Cunningham and either Wes Lathen or Walter Kantola will be pitted against Glen Cunningham in a half mile run for the Spokane Press trophy. Ray Pearson and Al Fiechtner will compete for the Vandals against the world's record holder, Cornelius Johnson, in the running high jump with a four inch handicap.

The complete Vandal roster will include:
Varsity one mile relay—Vervaeke, Kantola, Beeman, Powers, Neely, Millette, Smith, and Crowther. Varsity two mile relay—Fluharty, Probst, Adkins, Neely, Kantola, and Lathen. Freshman one mile relay—Shook, Wright, Morton, Cunningham, Forgey, Miller, Hietala, and Phinney. Freshman two mile relay—Miller, Phinney, Shook, South, Slade, Cunningham.

Six in Grid Relay
Football relay—Luvass, Gregory, Young, Powers, Dillinger, 35-yard dash—Warren, Morton, Wright, Meacham, Perkins, Young, Powers, Beeman, Vervaeke, Kantola, Millette, Smith, Hietala, Neely, Palmer, Lathen, Forgey, Rupp, Rauw, Zamboni. 35-yard hurdles—Pearson, Cable, Peacock, Powers, Palmer, Rauw. 600-yard run—Warren, Meacham, Perkins, Young, Vervaeke, Kantola, Millette, Smith, Crowther, Forgey, Hietala, Lathen, Rupp, Zamboni, and Poole.

One and one-half mile run—McGuire, Snyder, Klingler, and Stevens. Special half mile—Cunningham, Kantola, and Lathen. Special mile run—Fluharty and Probst. Special two mile run—O'Neill and Slade. High jump—Pearson, Cable, Peacock, Powers, Fiechtner, and Rauw. Twelve pound shot put—Johnson, Hokanson, Ritzheimer, Ellison, and Bel.

SPORTS NOTICE

All varsity baseball candidates including fielders who have not turned out previously, report at the Memorial gymnasium at 2 p. m. today. Outdoor practice will begin as soon as weather conditions permit.

Shumway Injured in Workout; George To Fight Miltenberger

Idaho's hopes for a win over North Dakota university's touted boxing team took a jolt last week when Rolly Shumway, outstanding Vandal welterweight, received a cut over his left eye in workout. He will be unable to fight the scheduled return bout with Joe Miltenberger, Nodak star.

Coach Louie August hopes to reduce Paul George from the 169 pound class to the 159 to replace Shumway. George, known as the "fighting cop," recently lost a decision in the semifinal bout of the Pacific coast intercollegiate championships that sports writers lambasted in California papers as the unfairest of the tournament.

Wright is Out

Only other change appearing on the card resulted from a tooth injury to Merton Wright who will be replaced against Gordon Lee by Ralph Miller, 112 pound varsity veteran.

Nodak boxers are in their best condition of the season, according to press reports from their camp. Miltenberger, Loverud, and Ekstrom have reduced weight divisions since their last trip to Moscow.

Vandal boxers also are rounding into top shape. With the advantage of roadwork, the worry of sufficient "wind" is not so acute. Coach August is greatly aided for the North Dakota card and the coming trip to the national intercollegiate championships at Sacramento by his brother Joey, who is down from Spokane.

Trackmen Show Much Power At Pullman

Showing unexpected power in the high hurdles, high jump, shot put, and relay races, Idaho's 1937 crop of track men engaged in an informal practice indoor track meet at the Washington State field house in Pullman Friday afternoon. The events were run to correspond to the events to be held at the A. A. U. meet in Spokane.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Ray Pearson and Al Fiechtner, Idaho high jumpers. Bill Powers, who copped the 45-yard high hurdles from Cougar Captain Bill Benke, Don Johnson, Idaho weight man, and the Idaho relay squads which won four out of five relay races.

"I am well pleased with the performance of our boys," Coach Mike Ryan said. "I think Leendersten

Merle Isham Garner's High Point Honors With 37 Points

Merle Isham, all-state forward from Pocatello, scored 37 points in three games to take high point honors for the state tournament, according to statistics compiled by Ernest L. Anderson, scorekeeper for the meet. Ronald Harris, Idaho Falls all-stater, took second place with 32.

Of the 86 players who saw action during the tournament, 51 were on the scoring list. Isham tallied 15 field goals and seven free throws in three contests for a 12-point game average. Harris scored 14 field goals and four free throws. Hawley, Wallace forward, and Plilton, Idaho Falls, were third and fourth with 28 and 26 points, respectively.

Other players breaking into the high-score column were: Beale, Idaho Falls, 22; Schweitzer, Boise, 20; H. Smith, Moscow, 19; Martin, Lewiston, 19; Goringe, Oakley, 19; Murray, Wallace, 18; and Hayes of Lewiston, Kelly of Boise, and Hopkins of Pocatello, with 17 each. Kelly, Boise guard did all of his scoring in two games.

Team scoring honors went to Idaho Falls with 112 points scored in three games for a 37 point game-average. Pocatello scored an average of 34 points per game, Moscow and Oakley 29 each, Boise 28, Lewiston 26, and Kellogg 24. Wallace, though runner-up in the finals, won most of its games defensively and scored only 23 points per game.

Trophies Awarded By Coach Bank After Games

Directly after the final game of Idaho state basketball tournament play Saturday night, trophies and awards were presented to winning teams and an all-state team chosen. Coach Ted Bank had charge of the presentations.

The championship cup went to Idaho Falls, who defeated Wallace 22 to 20. It portrayed two players jumping for a ball on the top of a tall gold cup. The cup was donated by the Moscow chamber of commerce and was presented by the president, Clarence Jenks.

Individual gold basketballs were presented to members of the victorious Idaho Falls team. On each ball were the words, "1937 championships." They were donated by the A.S.U.I. and presented by President Bert Larson.

The sportsmanship cup was presented first. It went to the diminutive Oakley Hornets. The trophy depicted two players on a pedestal, one guarding the other, who held a ball in his hands. The cup was donated by the Blue Key and was presented by President Bill Armstrong.

Poky Gets Consolation
The consolation cup went to Pocatello, who defeated Lewiston in the first game Saturday night. The cup depicted a single basketball player on a pedestal, with his arms in a guarding position. The trophy was presented by Coach Forrest Twogood. It was donated by Sib Kleffner of Boise.

Wallace, who was defeated in final game of the tournament by the new state champions, Idaho Falls, received the runner-up cup. The trophy depicted a single player holding a ball and standing on a large basketball, which was in turn mounted on a pedestal. Harry Brenn made the presentation and R. B. Ward donated the cup.

Club Awards Keys
The all-state awards, presented to the first team, were wedge-shaped keys, very modernistic in appearance. On the front of each was a raised figure of a basketball player holding a ball. Beneath, in raised figures, were the state seal and a small capital "I."

"Luckies have been my favorite cigarette for about 5 years. They're a light smoke that sensitive throats welcome. Of the many trends that sweep through Hollywood, one of the longest lasting has been the preference for Luckies. I once asked a 'property' man—who supplies cigarettes to the actors—what the favorite is. He answered by opening up a box containing cigarettes. They were all Luckies."

Coming Quizzes Are Final Touch In Late Spring Movement

"And next time we shall have a quiz covering the whole book." This is by far, the most subtle way of saying "And next time we shall do our utmost to completely and thoroughly destroy your equilibrium, constitution, and self-confidence!"

Nine weeks quizzes have loomed and are looming—adding the final touch to a dark, foggy opening of spring. Pity the poor boys and lassies touched with spring fever, completely in the dark as to who wrote the text they have supposedly been persuing for nine weeks, and even a little foggy on the color of the book. Pity them and try to understand that they come to college to have fun and are being thwarted five days out of seven. It may be daring to hope that the men and women, who correct the test papers, may still remember their grueling experiences in the classroom, but that's apparently the hope.

Are Students Wrong?

On the other hand, aren't the students maybe in the wrong? Might not it be due to their adolescent faith in life that they fail to see the obvious hint in the word "test". Can you justly criticize the instructors when they have been trying to warn the students for years that they are expected to undergo examinations for intellectual fortitude, will power, and general all around physical endurance?

It's hard to believe, isn't it, that there can be such a cruel streak in the most civilized people, yet those facts are important and must be faced sanely and seriously.

But there's a solution! Study hard and constantly, turn the midnight oil, stay awake in classes—then some day you too may be an instructor and hold poor, helpless pupils under your thumb.

It's inconsistent isn't it?

Linings for bags, cuffs of gloves and neckerchiefs in candy and pin stripes brighten and give a dash to the spring dress of dark silk or wool—a welcome change from flowers and colored collars.

Did you notice the array of raincoats the rain brought out of hiding? Its ravages were defied when Zeina Myers wore her smart black raincoat with the small white polka dots.

Girls in Cellophane: Girls, clad in red, white, and blue rubberized silk, Judy Hampton, Betty McKee, and Janet Anthony, remind us of a "wrapped in cellophane" story—but yet they are warm and dry.

St. Patrick's Day brought out the Irish in most of us. Margaret Brown foresaw the Spur uniform for a bright green dress. That's the spirit.

The Easter parade ought to bring a variety of costumes into the spotlight. Let's all stand in review as the parade goes by and get lots of good suggestions for our own wardrobes.

3 Group Houses Hold Dances

In spite of the forthcoming nine weeks' quizzes, three group houses held dances last weekend.

The initiation dance of Delta Tau Delta was held at the chapter house Saturday evening. The decorations were fraternity crests, paper streamers in the fraternity colors of purple and white, and white muslin pane's outlined with purple and gold Greek letters, "Delta Tau Delta."

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Janssen, Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Martell, and Dean and Mrs. D. S. Jeffers. Music was furnished by Howard Chapman and his orchestra.

Hays Features St. Patrick

A St. Patrick's theme was carried out at the Hays hall informal dance Friday night. Green and white shamrocks combined with yellow lights composed the decorations. At one end of the room was hung a large white shamrock with the figure of an old-fashioned girl painted on it.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Chamberlain, Dr. Evelyn Miller, Miss He'ene Halter, and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cooley. Music was furnished by the Paris Knights.

Lindley Hall Gives Dance

Green and yellow streamers provided the decorations for the Lindley hall informal Saturday night.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Cherrington, Mr. and Mrs. George Stump, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore. Dick Paris' orchestra supplied the music.

Helen Madson Weds Pennsylvania Grad

Miss Helen Madson, '36, and Roy Max Mairs, both of Ogden were married at Idaho Falls Friday.

Mrs. Mairs was graduated from the University of Idaho last year. She was an English major and is a member of Phi Beta Phi.

Mr. Mairs is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

The couple will live in Butte, where Mr. Mairs is with the J. C. Penney company.

W.A.A. Basketball Schedule Changed

Because of the freshman personal hygiene test at four o'clock Friday, the basketball schedule for this week has been changed. Instead of the previous schedule, Team A will play Team C, and Team B will play Team D today. Tomorrow Team A will play Team B, and Team C will play Team D. Thursday the freshman team will challenge the juniors, and Friday the sophomores will play the seniors.

The losing team in this week's games will be dropped from the tournament.

Last Thursday Team C defeated Team A, and team D defeated Team C. Friday the freshman team was victorious over the senior team, defeating them by one point with a score of 15 to 16.
