O.S.C. Game Marks Field Dedication

Ceremony and revelry anticipated for this year's early Homecoming at Idaho have already excited lively preparation. September 25 opens Idaho's football season with Oregon State in the new Neale stadium to be dedicated just before the game.

Homecoming was placed ahead this year to allow better weather and travel conditions for the many alumni and former students returning to the Idaho campus for the traditional day.

Present Trophies Between halves of the contest Idaho students will take over the program with the presentation of group house decoration trophies and the performances of the university bands.

Old members of Idaho's Pep Band will oil up their horns tomorrow and begin rehearsals for their first two engagements, the two big Homecoming dances, September 24 and 25. Always among the best attended on the annual social calendar, these dances last fall drew an estimated attendance of 800 to 900 couples, both will be held this year, as before, in the Memorial gymnasium, largest floor available.

The first dance, night before Homecoming, will be the Intercollegiate Knights' annual mixer. It will be held right after the freshman fireworks display and Homecoming rally on MacLean field. All students, townpeople, faculty members and out of town visitors are invited to attend.

Final on the Homecoming program will be the Homecoming dance Saturday night after the Idaho-Oregon State game. Sponsored by the Idaho Alumni association, it will not be a mixer but a straight trade-your-own affair. It, too, will be open to all who wish to attend.

The Intercollegiate Knights and the Alumni association are combining forces to secure check room facilities, a sound shell, and a public address system for both dances.

Beery To Be Present Wallace Beery, movie star, will be present to witness his first performance of the Idaho Vandals. Beery recently acquired property in Idaho and as a new citizen of the state is behind the university and its athletic teams.

Brain Trusts Crack Straight A Grades Second Semester

Twelve names constitute the "straight A" list for the second semester of last year. Exactly half of the perfect-grade group were seniors. Following is the list announced by the university registrar:

Seniors — John S. Brosnan, Moscow; Arval L. Erickson, Rexburg; June E. Fleming, Boise; William S. Lee, Moscow; Sarah M. Lyon, Moscow; Jack E. Woods, Emmett.

Reception Planned For H. C. Dale

Welcome for New President Added as Part of Homecoming Activities

An added event on Idaho's annual Homecoming program this fall will be a high, wide and handsome reception for President and Mrs. Harrison C. Dale, who returned to the campus recently after an absence of eight years at Miami university in Ohio.

The reception, sponsored by the board of regents and the faculty, will be held at Hays hall from 8 to 10 o'clock Saturday evening, September 25, or the first part of the evening after the big football game. It will be informal.

No individual invitations are being sent out, said Dean T. S. Kerr, chairman of the university public events committee. Included in the invitation to attend are all friends of the university, which is a broad invitation indeed, and so intended.

Chenoweth Devotes Leave to Research

On sabbatical leave the first semester is Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, head of the philosophy department. He is spending most of the summer and all of the first semester doing research study in political philosophy at Harvard university.

He is devoting most attention to the philosophical backgrounds of communism, fascism, and democracy. Accompanied by Mrs. Chenoweth, he started east immediately at the end of summer school and spent a few weeks in his home state, West Virginia, before going to Harvard. He will be back on the campus at the opening of the second semester.

Here's Real Setup About Bookstores On Idaho Campus

"Clear up the confusion caused by two new book stores opening up on the campus this fall," Editor Bill Ash instructed this Argonaut reporter, who knew as little about the book store situation as the next fellow.

After much interviewing of the right people, and getting rid of several wrong ideas, your reporter sifted out these facts:

Only one store, the Student Union Books store, is operated by the university. It is being housed in the Student Union Building which is covered by the $130,000 Associated Students bond issue floated last year. These bonds, which also paid for the new stadium and golf course, are being retired with the new student activity fee which went into effect last year. Manager of this store is James W. Kalbus, formerly assistant chief accountant in the bursar's office, and a former Idaho track star and campus leader.

With the other store, the University Cooperative association, the university or Associated Students are not in the slightest way concerned. It is a private local venture entirely.

J. Hugo Johnson Is Acting Dean Of Engineering

Faculty Member Since 1918 Temporarily Succeeds Ivan C. Crawford

Appointment of Prof. J. Hugo Johnson, electrical engineering department head, as acting dean of the college of engineering has been approved by a special committee of the board of education, according to its announcement today from Pres. Harrison C. Dale. Resignation of Dean Ivan C. Crawford to become dean of engineering at the University of Kansas, left the vacancy.

Professor Johnson has been a member of the faculty since 1918, and in 1933-34 while Crawford served as state PWA engineer, was acting dean.

Other appointments also were approved by the committee. Miss Esther Frances Segner will replace Miss Lillian Navratil as assistant professor of home economics and state supervisor and teacher trainer in home economics. Miss Navratil resigned to be with the state board of vocational education at Boise. Miss Segner holds a B. S. degree from University of Wisconsin, an M. S. from University of Minnesota. She has been instructor in the Milwaukee vocational school.

Elmer N. Humphrey, who resigned in April to become field representative for a tractor implement company at Nampa, is returning to his position here.

Harrison C. Dale Assumes Office As New President of University

A Message From A New President--

To the Students of the University of Idaho: The editor of the Argonaut has very kindly given me this occasion to extend you a public greeting. It is a pleasure to do so, and I thank him for the opportunity.

A University community changes rapidly and even those of you who have been here one, two, three, or, in the case of graduate students, even four or more years, will miss companions of other days and will find many new faces in your midst. But even though individuals within the student body come and go our common devotion to the University of Idaho and our efforts to maintain its high ideals of scholarship and of conduct give a continuity to college life that extends over many generations.

I am sure that the faculty and the older students join me in a special welcome to the class of 1941. Although Idaho is not entirely new to me, I shall always feel a particularly strong attachment to this class for we shall be sharing new experiences together.

To you all, I offer every good wish and the hope that the coming year may be rich in achievement and in lasting satisfactions.

H. C. DALE, President.

New Library Wing Provides Space

Books and Periodicals To Emerge from Dust-Covered Boxes;

With the completion of Idaho's new $110,000 library, students will at least have easy access to a vast number of books and periodicals which formerly were stored in dust-covered boxes in the basement of the Administration building.

The new wing matches the auditorium wing of the Ad building and is of the finest type reinforced concrete construction.

The lower floor of the wing is to be taken up with stacks and reading rooms, while upper floors will house the reserve library, a periodical room, and classrooms. The old periodical room on the first floor will be converted into a newspaper reading room.

Reading Space Enlarged

The new library is a great improvement with more reading room space and stack room space available, according to the library staff. However all the added space will be filled with reading material when all books are in place.

NOTICE

This fall the ursar is trying a new system for the payment of fees which is expected to decrease time and confusion at the cashier's table. All students are requested to have the exact amount in money or a personal check for the exact amount of their fee statement before going to the cashiers. There will be a charge table in the line where students may get the necessary change.

The bursar will not be allowed to extend any credit on registrations and no registrations will be deferred under any circumstances.

Housing Is Problem For 3000 Students

With amateurs and experts both guessing Idaho enrollment figures at well over 3,000, the housing situation is again a pressing problem. The university is doing everything possible to "ease" the situation through the operation of two new cooperative dormitories.

These are the Triangle Club which will compose the building of the old infirmary, and Senior hall. These three will be operated as one and will be served from one kitchen. The kitchen in the old Senior hall has been appropriated as additional floor space.

The buildings, completely renovated throughout, will accommodate about 70 men.

In the location of Lewis hall last year will be the Hilltop Club, another cooperative group house. This has been taken over by the university and fixed to accommodate 40 men comfortably. The club has been completely cleaned and renovated to afford excellent living conditions at a moderate price.

Lindley hall and the Idaho club will be operated on the same basis as last year, rounding out the university's cooperative groups. Willis Sweet hall is not operated on a cooperative basis, but has a flat charge for room and board.

Ridenbaugh hall will be operated as a women's cooperative group this year, instead of a men's group. Forney hall and Hays hall will be operated by the university in the same way as in the past.

Frank L. James Named Manager of New Course

Frank L. James was named manager of the new University of Idaho golf course by Graduate Manager George E. Horton. James, who designed the Idaho course, will also take over the professional duties of the course.

Date for the opening of the new nine-hole course is yet undetermined. "Conditioning of the turf" on fairways and greens will take several weeks," James said. He hopes to have several of the holes ready for play by the time first classes are called at the university.

James has been in the golf business for 40 years, starting when a boy in England. He has built several of the largest courses in the United States.

Former Idaho Dean Succeeds M. G. Neale

Harrison C. Dale, first dean of Idaho's school of business administration, recently assumed his new duties and responsibilities as Idaho's ninth president, succeeding Dr. M. G. Neale who resigned in June.

His appointment was announced July 31. The board of regents lured him back from Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, known to many alumni as Idaho's "eastern branch" because of the number of former Idahoans on its staff. He left the deanship of Miami's school of business.

Student Union Is Near Completion As School Starts

A new student union building on the Idaho campus will be ready for use by the first of next week, provided the finishing touches can be completed in the next few days, according to James Kalbus, acting manager. The dining room, under the direction of Miss Bertha Peerey, will open Tuesday evening. She will be assisted by Miss Hazel Ottosen.

The entire old part, which was formerly the Blue Bucket, has been renovated and redecorated. The lobby of the new addition will be furnished in new overstuffed furniture, as will the lounge off the main dance floor. New desks and equipment will be used in the other offices.

"What we intend to accomplish is service to the students," said Kalbus. "We want to make the student union building the activity and social center of the campus."

The dance floor will give approximately three times the space as in the old Blue Bucket, and can be divided to allow two dances to be held at the same time. Easy access to the kitchen and serving rooms will permit excellent banquet facilities.

Special lighting fixtures for the ballroom are to be installed as soon as possible. The student union building will house the offices of the Argonaut, Gem of the Mountains, and the Blue Bucket, A. W. S. and ASUI offices, graduate managers' offices, publicity office, dining room, ballroom and student bookstore.

Payments for room and board will not be accepted in the registration line, but must be paid at the Bursar's office, room 109 in the Ad building.

Pep Band Guns for Horn Tooters At Tryouts Scheduled Thursday

Members of the Pep Band will gather at the women's gymnasium, 7:30 Thursday evening to prepare for the tryouts for new members half an hour later, announces Leader Glen Whitesel. With returning membership estimated at 19, and 23 required to complete the famous little troupe, the swing masters plan to take in four new members and one alternate for each section.

Slated for several trips and more radio work than ever before, the Pep Band is loaded with new arrangements and gunning for musicians to fill its ranks. Whitesel says there are many to pick from. Vacancies made by students not returning have been left by Clayton Spears, tenor sax; Ray Pearson, clarinet; Merlin Severin, sax; Dick Baker, trumpet; and Ralph Radford, peck horn.

Vandaleers Seek 12 New Warblers With Humane Double-Try System

Nearly a dozen vacancies in the Vandaleers, Idaho's popular mixed chorus, will be filled immediately after registration in competitive tryouts open to new and old students. Vacancies occur in all four sections.

Trials will be held September 21 on a new plan. To avoid fright and tension, candidates will sing before a small selected committee of Vandaleers, instead of an audience. Two tryouts will be held: all candidates will be heard and classified in the first and selected in the second, both in a small studio.

From the Vandaleers came the following suggestions regarding the tryouts: Be prepared to sing one number of your selection, and bring your own music. If you can play an instrument, come ready to perform with it also, as this may give you preference. It is suggested you make some provision for an accompanist. If you are unable to find one, come to the Music hall beforehand and one will be provided. The first tryouts will be held at 7 p.m., September 21, in Music hall; be there and ready. Last year the Vandaleers made two trips to Lewiston, one to Spokane, and a three-day trip to Portland, assisting with the Northwest Music Educators Conference; and a short tour of the state, including an appearance in Boise during music week. Incidental to these trips were radio broadcasts over stations KIDO, KFPY, and one over Columbia Pacific network from KOIN in Portland.

What's in a Name?

Unsuspecting infants down through history have had peculiar names forced on them, unaccountable syllables will today identify many nations in the world, and unintelligible mixtures of consonants and vowels have been mixtures of consonants and vowels have been placed on many a railroad station sign throughout this country.

But it is doubtful whether the entire collection of names, representing people, nation, or station, can compete with the bunch of 42 monickers which, according to the Department of the Interior's Biennial Survey of Education, hangs on the doorways of higher institutions of learning in the United States.

For instance, a checkup down the long list of colleges in the survey reveals that, up until last year, 92 students in Joliet, Ill., went to "Assisi" Junior college. They had to change the name to St. Francis. No one would take them seriously.

"Descriptive" names seem to grace most of the halls of the educational institutions. Anyone who would like to attend a "Keene" college, can do so in the state of New Hampshire. Or, if you tend to overburden the scales, there's a "Stout" institute awaiting you in Wisconsin. People who find school to be a little difficult can go to a "Shorter" college down in Rome, Ga.

How would you like to become a practical joker? The "Kidder" institute in Missouri will serve the purpose. Are you shy in the presence of strangers? Become a man by attending the "Savage School for Physical Education" in New York city, or the "Bonebrake" seminary in Dayton, Ohio. Does noise irk you? Go to "Peace" Junior college in Raleigh, N.C.

While downtown, you've undoubtedly been "touched" for a meal by some wandering waif. There is a "Panhandle Teachers" College in Goodwell, Okla. Also a "Straight" college awaits in New Orleans for those of corkscrew tendencies.

How would you like to say you're from good old Dropsie, Spearfish, Skidmore, or Goshen. Yes, they all are colleges. Maybe you prefer Slippery rock, defiance, Woster, or Bessie Tift.

Did you know that you could be educated at Otterbein, Catawba, Gustavus Adolphus, Talladega, Bob Jones?

Have you found the college of your choice yet? If not, you'll have to go to New York's Keuka, or Tennessee's Hiwassi.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to students of the University of Idaho at Moscow that the university officials reserve the right to assign students to rooms in Hays Hall, Forney Hall, and Lindley Hall in preference to rooms in their dormitories or other living quarters. The purpose of the reservation of this right and its exercise is to insure maximum occupancy of such designated dormitories until the debt incurred in connection with the issuance of the Infirm and Hospital Building Revenue Bonds, Series of 1935, has been liquidated. The cost of accommodations in these dormitories shall be as follows:

Hays Hall . . . $72.00 per year
Forney Hall . . . 72.00 per year
Lindley Hall . . . 54.00 per year
Section 1. The average rate to be charged for the rooms in Lindley Hall shall be not less than $54.00 per year per person.

The President of the University of Idaho shall see that the above charges are made and collected semi-annually in advance for facilities and services afforded by said dormitory. There shall be no reduction of said rates below the point for which debt service on the Infirm and Hospital Building Revenue Bonds, Series of 1935, and the expense of maintenance and operation are covered.

Section . The following rules for the occupancy of said dormitory are hereby adopted:

1. The State Board of Education and the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho hereby instruct the President of the University of Idaho to require students attending said University of Idaho to avail themselves of the use of said Lindley Hall to the extent of facilities available.

2. The rooms shall be rented only to duly enrolled students and faculty members of the University of Idaho.

3. The dormitory shall be occupied only by male students, male faculty members of the University and a hostess, and shall be at all times under the supervision of the Proctor of Men.

4. All occupants of the dormitory shall be responsible for damage to the room and furnishings therein occupied and used by them.

5. The State Board of Education and Board of Regents of the University of Idaho shall from time to time issue further regulations not inconsistent herewith governing the supervision and management of said dormitories as circumstances may require.

The above rules shall exist and be in force so long as any of the Infirm and Hospital Building Revenue Bonds, Series of 1935, remain outstanding and unpaid.

HEATING SYSTEM GROWS
New water mains and steam tunnels were installed throughout the campus during the summer, according to the building and grounds department of the university. The new lines give added capacity, and are necessary to help carry the extra burden put on the heating plant by the addition of new university buildings.

THE CO-OP

Some Frank Statements About Idaho's Newest Organization.

WHAT IS THE CO-OP?

Frankly, the new Co-Operative Book Store has been organized as an experiment to determine if Idaho students want and will support such an institution.

The University Co-Operative Association has been incorporated under the laws of Idaho with the following purpose, as stated in the Articles of Incorporation.

"To sell to students and faculty members of the University of Idaho, books, student supplies and other merchandise at the lowest possible prices consistent with good business methods, a reasonable rate to investors in the Association, and the secure financial foundation of the Association."

HOW CAN YOU JOIN THE CO-OP?

Students may obtain Participating Memberships in the University Co-Operative Association, Inc., by the payment of $2.50 for membership fee. Should a Participating Member later wish to withdraw from the Association, this membership fee will be returned to him less 50c which will be deducted for a handling charge. This deduction is made solely to discourage frequent joining and withdrawing from the Co-Op by any one student.

WHAT BENEFIT WILL YOU RECEIVE?

It is planned at the end of each semester to declare a rebate which will consist of a per-centage of the total purchases of each Participating Member during the semester. This rebate will be paid in cash. The rate of rebate will be determined by the Board of Directors and will be based upon the business and profit of the Co-Op store for the semester.

WHAT REBATE WILL BE PAID?

No one knows what per-centage of rebate will be paid. No promise of any specific rate can be made before the official announcement at the end of each semester. However, to avoid misunderstanding, it should be explained that the rate of rebate in the first year of the Association's existence will probably be small.

The organizers of the Co-Op do not expect the new store to make a profit in the first year of operation. Regardless of this, a rebate of some rate will be paid each semester from the start. If, as is anticipated, the new store does not make a profit at first, a small rebate will nevertheless be announced for each semester and will be paid from the private capital which has been subscribed to the Association.

HOW IS THE CO-OP FINANCED?

The Co-Op was organized and incorporated by several Moscow business men who have had long experience in the book business.

It has been partly financed by the subscription of $10,000 in private capital, all of which has been paid in to the new corporation. It is expected to be further financed by the sale of Participating Memberships at $2.50 each. Whether enough students become Participating Members, and whether these students leave their investments in the Association long enough to build an adequate financial structure and to permit the withdrawal of the private capital remains to be seen.

In addition to the financing of the organization, it is felt that the providing of experienced management is a valuable contribution from the organizers of the Association. The new corporation has taken over the stocks of both the former privately owned book stores.

What Will the Organizers Get From It?

During the first year of operation, and possibly for some time thereafter, no dividends will be paid on the private capital which has been subscribed. If the Association continues to use private capital, it is expected that nominal dividends will eventually be paid on these funds. Those who have invested money to start the Association expect to receive about 6% on their investments, after the business is on a paying basis, if this private money continues to be used.

Will All of the Profit Be Distributed As Rebate?

Probably not. After the operation of the store becomes profitable, it may be desirable to use more capital for expansion of the business. In this event, a portion of the profit may be retained as Capital Surplus for the enlargement of the stock of merchandise. If the organization must continue to use private capital, nominal dividends should be paid to the investors. These factors must be considered as well as the payment of rebates on purchases.

Furthermore, it may be desirable to maintain a fairly constant rate of rebate instead of paying a large rate in good year and little or none in poor. This will require the retaining of part of the profit made in good years as a reserve for disbursement when business conditions are poor.

The plan of the Co-Operative Association at Idaho is essentially the same as that which has operated for many years at the universities of Wisconsin, Texas, Cornell and many other institutions. It has been carefully organized with consideration of the necessity of starting it with private capital.

Beginners' Reader
Gains Recognition
After Publication

The Gordon company of New York, a new publishing firm in the college textbook field, brought out in May the "French Readers for beginners," written by Arthur H. Beattie, of the department of modern languages of the University of Idaho. In the short time that has elapsed since its appearance, the little book has already won much favorable comment, and advance indications would seem to show that it will be quite widely used, even in its first year. The book is as distinctive in content as it is in appearance. Professor Beattie has sought to provide interesting and useful reading material for beginners in college courses. The student finds himself dealing with a living language from the beginning of his work. It is a language text providing an introduction to the study of French but at the same time it serves to awaken interest in France, its people, its arts, and its literature, and to pave the way for the study of them.

James Kalbus Appointed Manager Of New Student Union Book Store

Appointment of James W. Kalbus, 1934 Idaho business graduate track star, as manager of the new Student Union Book Store was announced this week by President Harrison C. Dale.

Kalbus is among Idaho's best known younger graduates. For the past three years he has been an accountant in the university bursar's office, and was promoted a year ago to assistant chief accountant. His popularity and wide acquaintance among students and faculty on the campus was one of the principal reasons for his new appointment.

As a student Kalbus was graduated in the upper tenth of his class. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional business fraternity, and was granted that organization's award for the best grades in the school of business during his sophomore and junior years.

Track was his athletic specialty. Primarily a sprinter, he tied Idaho's present 100-yard dash record of 9.8 seconds. He was switched to the quarter-mile and relay events during his last season, and the third time he ran the 440 distance, broke the Idaho record. Unofficially, he later bettered his time of 49.6 seconds to 49.3, the present Idaho quarter mile record.

Also during his senior year he was business manager of the Gem of the Mountains. He is a member of Blue Key, and a former secretary of the Interfraternity council. His home is in Boise.

Would Fertilize Old Range Land

Process Would Allow Increase in Big Game, Prevent Erosion
A new and unique experiment in winter big game feeding is being undertaken by Jack Parsell of the U. S. forest service and Dr. A. B. Hatch, assistant professor of game management at the University of Idaho school of forestry.
It is an outgrowth of Mr. Parsell's lecture to the class in game management on his three years' study of big game on the Lochsa and Selway drainages of the Nez Perce national forest. It was found that the elk herds keep entirely to the warmer south slopes along the river and seriously overgraze some of the areas.

Many Elk Starve
Many elk die in the spring even though their stomachs are full—chiefly of the woody parts of browse. A few years ago it was discovered that artificial fertilization of forest land greatly increased food value and palatability of browse on the Black Rock forest in New York. Parsell and Hatch want to find out if carrying capacity of a few of the more heavily overgrazed portions of the Nez Perce forest can be increased by artificial fertilization.
Could Be Practical
"Although soil fertilization is wholly impractical from the viewpoint of growing timber, a few hundred dollars spent in fertilizing overgrazed game range might enable the elk herds to increase rather than decrease over their present numbers, and at the same time prevent erosion of valuable timber land," Dr. Hatch relates. "In the initial experiments the fertilizer was distributed on acre plots along the Van Camp Lookout Road by means of a fire pump mounted on a 350-gallon water tank, carried on a heavy dump truck. Mr. Parsell already has suggested the ultra-modern method of 'distribution' by airplane should the initial tests prove practical. Ten years from now sportsmen and game departments may be fertilizing winter range rather than reducing the hunting season to improve game conditions."
Among the advantages of this method of increasing the carrying capacity over artificial feeding with hay as practiced in Yellowstone park and other congested areas are the following: the elk do not become domesticated; they will not concentrate in large bands, a condition favoring spread of disease and parasites; and food is available in the wild state eliminating the high cost of hay feeding.

Schedule Is Changed For Fall Rushing

Rushing schedule used by sororities to fete freshman girls the first week of school has undergone drastic changes. Disapproval of the pre-school rushing plans by the board of regents late in August necessitated this revision. President Harrison C. Dale and Dr. Evelyn Miller, with the help of Moscow panhellenic representatives, turned out the new plans to be initiated this year. Although rushing has previously taken a week to complete, it will be over in five days this fall, starting with the panhellenic tea on Wednesday, September 15. On Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday each sorority on the campus will entertain at two parties daily, the order being as usual with breakfast, lunch, dinner, and fireside with a slight change on Sunday when tea in the late afternoon will be substituted for the breakfast. Pledging will be on Monday.

Silence rules which outlaw anything more than a "hello" between sorority and freshmen girls, outside the houses go into effect immediately after the new women arrive. Silence rules for Moscow freshmen were effective after Monday night, September 13.

Other entertainment planned for freshmen includes a movie party on Friday sponsored by the Associated Women Students and a picnic supper on Saturday by the Women's Athletic Association for the women in the dormitories.

Forestry School Gets Changes

Several changes in forestry curricula have been announced by Dean D. S. Jeffers of that school. Total credits required for graduation have been raised from 143 to 151. Required forestry credits have been raised only 1 point in the general forestry curriculum, reduced 3 credits in wood utilization technology curriculum, and raised 6 credits in the curriculum for range management.

The change was brought about very largely by the addition of a summer camp session for 10 weeks. This summer camp will come between the sophomore and junior years for students in all curricula. A course in surveying will occupy the first five weeks, to be followed by courses in mensuration and a study of the forest community.

The summer camp is in line with advances being made by forestry schools across the United States. The courses in surveying and mensuration will be taken under conditions which more nearly simulate the circumstances surrounding the work after the men have finished their university course. The summer camp will be established on Big Meadow creek on the university forest 17 miles from Moscow, at the site of the present CCC camp. From this location, the students will be in easy touch with all parts of the 7000-acre university forest.

Chemistry has been placed in the freshman year together with the course in general zoology. An English requirement of a grade of "B" or better in the second semester of the freshman year is required of all students; otherwise, a third English course is required in the first semester of the sophomore year. Those students who are not required to take the third course in English, may start an elective program in the first semester of the sophomore year. A course in general soils has been added in the sophomore year of the forest production curriculum, which is a distinct advance in quality.

NYA Allotment For Student Aid Gets Reduction

The University of Idaho's allotment of NYA funds has been set at $3,165 per month, according to an announcement from the office of the president yesterday. This sum will be available starting September 16 for each month throughout the school year.

Dwight S. Jeffers, dean of the school of forestry, and Miss M. Belle Sweet, librarian, are chairmen for the committees handling applications for men and women, respectively.

The sum available this year is approximately 25 per cent less than the total amount available last year. During the 1936-37 school year 279 students received $4,205 per month for work done.

Most of the work done is stenographic, secretarial, grading, research, janitor, forest nursery, sewing, and campus improvements.

Students interested in this type of aid may file applications with the chairmen of the committees.

Some of the stones in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington weigh more than 23 tons each.

Part of Old Equipment to Be Used; PWA Appropriation Insufficient

The Idaho school of forestry is one of the 14 recognized by the Society of American Foresters. It has a staff of seven men who have pursued their graduate training at Yale, Harvard, Michigan, McGill, Chicago, and California. Three of the staff have pursued research work at foreign institutions, two of them as fellows of the American Scandinavian Foundation.

Rescued in June by the University of Idaho board of regents, Idaho $118,000 infirmary, threatened to be left vacant, is now being equipped for its first year of service.

Failure of PWA authorities to grant the original $40,000 request for equipment left the university with a modern hospital, vacant and useless. With $13,000 raised by the board of regents, along with equipment from the old infirmary, the university administration looks forward to comparatively efficient service.

Launching the new infirmary on its career of service June 12, Dr. W. V. Halverson, chairman of the faculty health and housing committee said:

Provides Broad Foundation

The general result of the changes is to widen the opportunities for general foundation preparation and place the technical training upon a much firmer basis and more in line with the professional advances in forestry.

The new building will provide greatly increased space and facilities for clinical or outpatient service. For every bed patient last year, the infirmary averaged 14 clinic calls. Students who call at the clinic this year for minor ailments will find a large, attractive waiting room; three treatment rooms; a new X-ray machine, and an emergency or minor surgery.

Bed patients will have private rooms on the second floor, men in one wing and women in the other. Nurses' quarters will be on the first floor and the kitchen and other service rooms in the basement.

The infirmary staff will continue as before: two part-time physicians and five full-time registered nurses.

NEW TAXI SERVICE

A new Yellow Cab taxi service has been established in Moscow, with offices at Eshom's service station at 5th and Main streets. E. V. Anderson is the manager of the new firm.

'Grow With Idaho' Is Slogan Taken For Homecoming

Gigray Announces Theme for September 25 when Idaho Meets O.S.C.

"Grow with Idaho" is the slogan adopted by the University of Idaho students for their Homecoming September 25, William Gigray, Blue Key group chairman in charge of the affair, has announced. The slogan will be the theme of decorations for the traditional Homecoming when Idaho steps into the new $50,000 Neale Stadium against the Oregon State college Beavers.

"The slogan was selected," Gigray commented, "because of the rapid growth of the university in the last few years. Many new buildings as well as an increased student enrollment makes 'Grow with Idaho' a fitting slogan."

Gridmen Return Early To Begin Practice

Returning to the campus early were 44 University of Idaho football men to enlist in the football ranks for fall practice, which started September 9. Underneath a hot early autumn sun the Vandals have diligently toiled with their tactics and fundamentals, building a greater football team for Idaho.

Included in the early-returns were 19 lettermen who give Coach Ted Bank a strong nucleus around which he will form the 1937 grid team. Breaking through from the freshman team of a year ago are a dozen more likely candidates for the ball club, coupled with several more men transferring to Idaho from other schools.

Count on Pavkov
Headlining the Vandal bid for honors during the coming campaign are Stenko Pavkov and George Chrape, tackle and fullback respectively. Pavkov has already been listed as a possible contender for all-American honors, and Chrape is destined to do great things on coast gridirons before the season closes.

Pressing the two possible stars are several other members of the Idaho team, in from 1936 reserves and up from the 1936 freshmen. Merle Stoddard, Couer d'Alene, and Joe Spiczuzza, Milwaukee, Wis., are backfield standouts. Tony Kamelevicz, Milwaukee, and Jack Donovan, Bovill, shine in the line. Coming into the fold of starters from last season's reserves is Eddie Wilson, flashy little right halfback.

Young Is Darkhorse
Darkhorsing for the Vandals, Maurice Young, Defiance, Pa., takes his left half job like a gust of wind and travels about as fast, twisting and shifting every step. He was ineligible for the freshman club a year ago, but turned in several commendable performances last spring, opening coaches' and fans' eyes.

Tackle is the weakest spot on the Vandal team. Cast in the two tackle roles are Pavkov, and one of the following for the other post: Letterman Geo. Thiessen, Ray Kaczmarek, Forrest Ober and Dick Therrell. Walter Betts, reserve center last season, is working in the line at tackle during the early practices and may be stationed there permanently.

Veterans at Center
Center position is well fortified with Veterans Lyle Smith and Rudy Aschenbrenner plus Carl Grau, sophomore. Guard jobs call Veterans Ray Gray, Walter Musial, and Kenneth Carberry, and Sophomores Tony Kamelevicz and Jack Donovan, with Jasper Nutting, varsity reserve, making a strong bid for the position.

End position has likely candidates in three lettermen—Roland Winter, Tony Knapp and Milton Osterhout. Newcomers in the ends' camp are Ray Smith, Emery Howard and Ed Elliott, who also packs a healthy punting toe.

Backfield candidates are plentiful. For the first time in many seasons the Vandal backs will work in combinations. Substitutions will mean an entirely new backfield. The quartets are working together in present practices. Coach Bank feels that the men working together for the duration of the season, they will be enabled to enact a more perfect rhythm and the men will be aware of each other's playing habits.

Three Backfields

Practices thus far have brought out three distinct backfield combinations. Rating of the backfields as to order is impossible, each group appears "tops." One backfield includes Eddie Wilson and Maurice Young at halfbacks, Merle Stoddard, quarterback, and George Charpe fullback. None of this group has played varsity ball for Idaho.

Another group includes Keith Sndberg, quarter, Dean Green and Harold Roise, halfbacks, and Dick Trzuskowski, fullback. The third crew consists of Earl Gregory, quarter, Gerald Dellinger and Steve Belko, halfbacks, and George Willott, fullback.

Roaming the reserve list for spots in a backfield are also such dandies as Joe Spiczuzza, Rex Willard, Harold Durham, Gordon Price, Jimmy Johnston and Otho Holmes.

Travel 6000 Miles

During the coming season the Vandals will travel approximately 6,000 miles and will return to Moscow after each contest. Opening game will be with Oregon State college in Moscow September 25, also the Homecoming-Stadium Dedication contest; October 2, Idaho meets Washington State at Pullman; October 9, University of Utah in Salt Lake City; October 16, Utah State at Boise; October 23, St. Mary's at San Francisco; October 30, Washington at Seattle; November 13, Gonzaga in Spokane, and November 20, Montana in Moscow for Dad's day.

Roaming Coaches Return to Jobs After Vacations

Idaho's crew of roaming coaches are back in their respective places at Moscow after a summer of traveling. Coach Robert Tessier was the last to arrive from New Orleans, La., where he spent six weeks at the home of his parents. Coach Al Paddock arrived in Moscow from Fort Smith, Ark., where he had spent six weeks visiting relatives. Coach Forrest Twogood drove in from Algona, Ia., after spending his summer in California and Iowa. Glen "Red" Jacoby arrived last week. Coach Ted Bank and Trainer Mike Ryan spent the summer in Moscow while their wives were traveling in Europe and New England.

Stowell to Replace Jacoby As Coach At Idaho Falls

Harold Stowell, former University of Idaho basketball star and a former member of the all-Pacific coast aggregation, has been appointed to succeed Glen "Red" Jacoby as head of the physical education department in the Idaho Falls school system. Stowell will coach basketball and head the department, and another coach is yet to be named to coach football.

Electric Equipment With Visible Score Improves Stadium

A new electric scoreboard and timer is being installed at the closed west end of Idaho's new Neale stadium, and will be ready for the dedicatory game on Homecoming, September 25, when the University of Idaho Vandals meet the Oregon State Beavers.

The new electric timer will be accurate to the second and will be visible from any place in the stadium. Loudspeakers are being installed that will be able to give listeners half a mile away a play-by-play description of the game.

Harte Appointed Mural Director

Claude Harte, former secretary to Ted Bank, head coach, has been appointed assistant director of intramural athletics. He will assume his new duties in connection with his secretarial work in the athletic department.

Harte recently wrote a manual for athletic managers which will be used by the athletic department this year. He reports several requests for the manual from other institutions.

FINISH PRESS BOX

Finishing touches to the press box in the University of Idaho's new Neale stadium will be added this week, with other finishing work to be completed within two weeks. The press box has been built to accommodate 20 newspapermen as well as booths for radio announcers and technicians. Also included in the structure are boxes for guests and scouts.

Canoe burials were once practiced among American Indian tribes.

Flee College Grind Says Harvard Head

"Activities and athletics, as well as studying and formal courses, are necessary for a well-rounded university life," says Dr. James Conant, president of Harvard university. Censuring the "Grind" as well as the "Activity hound," the educator says the "Balance" should be the watch-word for all undergraduates.

Stressing the importance of providing educational opportunities for deserving students whether or not they are economically independent, Dr. Conant emphasized the need for more scholarships.

WHEN IN A HURRY CALL BILL

From the Bench

Today's thriller, "The Mysterious Case of the Malignant Feet," as presented in one chapter, will end once and for all the talk about Theron Ward having the biggest tootsies on Idaho's athletic staff.

Despite all reports to the contrary, the Vandal assistant frosh football coach could not strap on two suitcases—and still feel a pinch around the toes.

Publicity went far and wide that Ward wore special size 13 EE, and that he could trundle those dogs over 100 yards in :09.9—which he did, once.

Now—it seems Ward once complained about shoes not being big enough, so they sent him to a shoe store in Moscow for a special measure. He came back and said the prescription called for 13EE's, and the somewhat awed equipper sent an order cast.

When Ward drew the shoes the following fall, he found them so big he could practically turn around without moving either brogan.

So they gave him a pair of 11½'s, and stowed the leather-stitched coal scuttles for Paul Bunyan—if the latter ever goes to college at Moscow—Spokane Chronicle.

End Combination Broken

First blow to the Vandals in early spring practice was the wrecking of the above end combination. Joe Harrell, letterman end, failed to hurdle the books last semester and fell before the eligibility rules. Roland Winter will now be teamed with Tony Knapp, a fellow Wisconsinite.

The Revolutionary Pen That Won't Run Dry In a New and Superlative Model—the Speedline

It's not how much a person has in his pocket that determines whether or not he selects the new 1938 Parker Speedline Vacumatic—it's how much he has above his shoulders!

Some other pens cost as much as this revolutionary invention, yet no one having the "low down" on pens wants to pay these prices without getting these new-day advantages. For example: A new all-time high in ink capacity, hence a Pen that never starts anything it cannot finish. A Pen that shows the ENTIRE ink supply—shows when to refill—hence one that never runs dry in classes or exams.

An utterly exclusive Style—laminated Pearl and Jet—now with slender Speedline shape—the most restful ever conceived. And not merely modern in Style, but wholly modern in mechanism, too. Its SACLESS and patented Diaphragm Filler radically departs from all earlier types, regardless of whether they have a rubber ink sac or not.

New University Book Store In Student Union Building

Something Idaho students have been talking about and vainly hoping to get for the last 20 years—a university book store on the campus—finally has materialized. Beyond the plan stage, the venture will open for business this week in the recently completed wing of the student union building, thereby making Idaho the last major institution in the northwest to provide a student service which most universities consider as necessary as facilities for board and room.

The project originated last winter with the board of regents. The board, after considerable investigation, decided upon the project as a means of student service to make the campus more desirable and attractive. The task of putting the store on an operating basis was turned over to Floyd L. Packer, university purchasing agent.

Other Stores Studied
Mr. Packer thereupon visited several northwest campuses to study operation of other book stores. Everywhere he was told that choice of a manager was most important. After interviewing many candidates and investigating more applications, he finally decided upon a young Idaho graduate in the bursar's office, James W. Kalbus, a 1934 business graduate and former track star.

Mr. Kalbus' appointment, effective September 1, includes management of the entire student union building, for the time being. He has been given the responsibility of setting up the Blue Bucket or food service unit as well. Later on, a manager for that branch will be named, enabling Mr. Kalbus to devote his full time to the book store.

The new book store is "really neat," as students would say. It is fitted up with attractive showcase and display units designed and built to order by one of the leading store equipment firms in the United States. It has a receiving room, plenty of storage space and a private office for Mr. Kalbus.

Sell All Supplies
Just what the store will handle has not yet been decided. Intentions now are to stock and sell all types of supplies and equipment generally used by students in classroom and laboratory work, and in such of their extra-curricular activities as are definitely related to university work.

One point definitely decided upon is that the store will serve students only, as defined by authorized possession of an A. S. U. I. card. In other words, any person who does not have an A. S. U. I. card cannot patronize the store, which eliminates faculty and townspeople entirely.

No Books Now
Because the project got under way too late for advance ordering of books from publishers, the book store will not handle books for the first semester. Later on, at the beginning of the second semester, books will be stocked as a permanent proposition. Also, the store will begin buying and handling used books. Meanwhile, students will obtain their books from the usual source, but as to incidentals, they are urged to patronize the new store, their very own.

Policy of the student book store may be outlined as follows: In general to sell at the lowest price consistent with sound merchandising principles for an institutionally owned store.

BROSAN WRITES ON WEST

An important western contributor to "The Dictionary of American History," now being compiled by Charles Scribner's Sons under the editorial direction of Dr. James Truslow Adams, noted historian, will be Idaho's professor of American history, Dr. C. J. Brosnan. He has accepted the invitation to write a series of articles on phases of western history. He will also assist in the selection of an appropriate list of topics to represent Idaho history and development. The advisory editorial staff for this monumental historical work includes historians representing the nation's leading universities and libraries.

Moscow to Have Broadcast Station For Student Use

Plans for a radio broadcasting station in Moscow are nearing completion, and should the station be materialized, university musical students will be the chief source of talent.

Affiliated with station KRLC at Lewiston, the transmitter would be located in Moscow two days a week, when the music department, under the leadership of Archie Jones, head, will arrange and give the programs from the stage of the Kenworthy theatre.

The programs would be presented from the theatre every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon from 1 to 2 o'clock. There would be the usual matinee, and the radio broadcast would be an added attraction in which students would have their first chances in radio.

Rattles and other university functions would be broadcast by direct wire with the Lewiston station, if present plans work out.
