

ASUI Elects Board, New Class Officers

With the hilarity of homecoming celebrations gone, the ASUI will go about the serious business of electing class officers and two members of the executive board tomorrow. The election booths will be located in the north end of the main hall of the Administration building and will be open continuously from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Nominations of the two parties were made by petition to ASUI President John Banks before Friday night.

Separate ballots will be provided for the election of the executive board officers and for the class officers. Freshmen will vote only for the executive board members since their class officers have been elected.

New election procedure will be put into effect, and members of both parties are hoping the new system will prove satisfactory. The rules as adopted by the new election board appointed last week by ASUI President John Banks and approved by the executive board are:

1. ASUI activity books must be presented to the election board before ballots will be given out.

2. ASUI books must be signed on the back side by the owner. The election board may require the voter to prove his identity.

3. All ballots must be stamped by the election board before being deposited in the ballot box.

4. ASUI books fraudulently presented will be confiscated by the election board.

President Banks made it clear that no "funny stuff" will be tolerated when he said:

"Any activity book that is confiscated will never be returned, so anyone attempting to give in some other person's name will be without his or her athletic tickets."

The election board consists of Don Burnett, chairman, Belva Budge, Iver Longteig, Joe Carr, Agda Walden, Carl Branson, Everett Holt, and Don Benedict.

Vacancies on the executive board were created when Clara Young and Donna Mae South Larson, both elected last spring, failed to return to school.

ASSEMBLY POSTPONED

The public events assembly, scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning in Memorial gymnasium, has been postponed indefinitely, due to funeral services for Dean J. A. Kostalek.

Town Men to Have Annual "Bullsession"

The bull-fest, an annual smoker given by Tau Men Aleph for the men students of the university living downtown who do not belong to an organized group house on the campus, will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the armory.

The organization of Tau Men Aleph was started in order that the off-campus men might have the chance to become acquainted with each other. Men in Tau Men Aleph also have full participation in campus activities.

GEM NOTICE

Anyone interested in working on the editorial staff of the annual, the Gem of the Mountains, should fill out an application blank obtainable Wednesday between 3 and 4 p. m. in Room 202 M.G. All staff positions will be filled this week.

Gabfest Featured By Luncheon Club; Refresh Idaho Win

Football lovers gathered this noon at the Hotel Moscow at the regular meeting of the Tuesday Noon Athletic Luncheon club. Willis Crites, president of the Vandals Booster club, was in charge of the sponsoring group. Line Coach Bob Tessler presented the inside dope on Idaho's strategy which won Saturday's game against Oregon state. Glen "Red" Jacoby discussed pointers to be watched for in next Saturday's game with Washington State. Both coaches showed much hope for Idaho's success against W.S.C.

9 Appointments Made to Faculty

Four Idaho Graduates Receive positions and Assistant Chemistry Professor Appointed

Nine additional staff appointments were announced recently from the office of President Harrison C. Dale. Dr. Tobias H. Dunkelberger joins the chemistry faculty as an assistant professor, replacing Dr. J. D. Lindsay, resigned. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh, where he was a graduate assistant for five years. After that, he taught a year at North Texas Agricultural college.

Two 1937 Idaho mining graduates and a third from the Case school of Applied Science at Cleveland, Ohio, are new research fellows in metallurgy. Idaho men are Ernest E. Oberbiller, editor of the Idaho Miner last year, and Earl G. Leatham, wrestling coach last year. The Case man is Frank E. Noe. Kenneth A. Lauritzen, senior in music education last year, is back this fall as a fellow in the school of education.

Edith Adriansen, 1930 Idaho graduate, is new in the registrar's office. She has had both teaching and secretarial experience. Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Rowe were appointed assistant proctor and hostess, respectively, at Willis Sweet hall, and Dr. and Mrs. John Ehrlich to similar positions at the Triangle club. Miss Helen Powers is the new hostess at Ridenbaugh hall.

Ridings Flies Plane To See Idaho Win

Second Lieutenant Don Ridings, rifleman extraordinary while on the campus and now flying with the 11th bombardment squadron, U. S. Army, made a flying trip to Moscow from Hamilton field near Oakland, California, to be here for Homecoming.

Lieutenant Ridings flew one of his own ships from California, but had to land at Spokane for want of a large enough field here. Arriving in the Washington city, he engaged a ride to Moscow from a fellow birdman. The only place they could find which was close to Moscow was a wheat field. Landing, hitchhiker Ridings thumbed a ride to the university. Lieutenant Ridings flew one to Spokane.

Lieutenant Ridings was a crack shot on the rifle team of 1934 and in the national guard and advanced R. O. T. C. work. After graduation, he received an appointment to Randolph field in Texas. Since leaving Randolph, he has been flying bombers for the army out of Hamilton field.

JONES INJURED IN FALL

Paul Jones, who last year coached wrestling at the university, is in the Wardner-Kellogg hospital suffering from a punctured lung, a broken pelvis, and a slight concussion of the brain. Jones was injured in a 40-foot fall down a mine shaft while working in the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine at Kellogg.

Student Union To Open Formally Friday Eve With First Dance

Change in Season Flung Tickets Makes Them Good Both Nights

Next Friday evening ASUI will formally open the new student union building (formerly the Blue Bucket Inn) to the use of the students. According to James Kalbus, student union manager, the doors of the new dance hall will be opened at 9 p. m. for the first dance of the season.

Featured at this gala opening will be a specially enlarged bucket dance orchestra.

"If things go right," said Mr. Kalbus, "we will probably have other entertainment for the students at the intermission."

Includes Offices

The new student union building will include all offices of the associated students. Among these will be the offices of the graduate manager, the Gem, and the Argonaut. The new book store, which has been operating for the past week, the lounge, and the fountain are located on the first floor. The ball room and more newly finished lounge rooms will occupy the second floor.

This year the associated students are operating on a different type of season dance ticket. Tickets will be good for either, or both, Friday and Saturday. Last year's dance tickets were good for one night only each week end. By this new method the students will be able to come to the dances either night.

Ticket Dances, Too

The price of the season tickets has been set at $3.50, entitling the holder to attend any 12 of the 20 scheduled dances. Tickets are on sale on the campus now, and it will also be possible to obtain them at the door Friday evening. Those who do not have the season tickets will be required to pay 40 cents a person. Special guests may obtain admission to these dances.

"Under this new system we expect more students to participate in the regular week end dances," informed Kalbus. "I hope that those individuals who live off the campus or are not in regular campus groups, as well as those who are, will make an effort to make the union dances a success this year."

The new lounge rooms, check rooms, and all the furnishings will be in readiness for the grand opening of the student union Friday evening.

Colonel Hatfield Takes Command Idaho R.O.T.C.

Lieut. Col. Floyd Hatfield serves as the new head of the Idaho R.O.T.C. unit. He was appointed last spring to fill the vacancy left when Lieut. Col. Allen Fletcher was transferred to the R.O.T.C. unit at the New Mexico state college of agriculture and mechanical arts, located at Las Cruces, N. M. Lieutenant Colonel Hatfield originally came from Kentucky but was transferred from San Francisco to here. He is a graduate of the infantry schools at Fort Denning, Va., and Fort Leavenworth, Kan. He was enrolled in the World War but saw no action.

Law is the colonel's hobby, and he takes it seriously, as evidenced by the fact that he holds a law degree from the University of Arkansas.

Lieutenant Colonel Hatfield declared his reception here very cordial. He spent two months this summer fishing and getting acquainted with this section of Idaho while camping at Priest Lake.

Independence hall in Philadelphia is open daily to the public without charge.

Dirt Digger Issue For Next Bucket

Theme of the first issue of the Idaho Blue Bucket, humorous quarterly to be published October 14, will be "the Garbage Can," it is announced by Jean Dunkle, editor. Deadline for material will be October 1.

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Student Union Building of staff members and those interested in working on the publication, new staff members were selected and were made acquainted with the magazine.

No Decisions Made On Yell Candidates

Isabell Louis, Jim Galloway, Bill Moats, Ed Albany, or "Red" Courtney will be elected yell duke or duchess at a meeting of the executive board tonight. Tryouts were made last Saturday by these candidates, who took turns leading Vandal cheers.

"This year the yell king has no voice in the election of the yell duke," said Charles Finnell, present yell king. "The executive board alone is responsible for the election of the yell duke."

A "scaramouche" is a ne'er-do-well.

University Mourns Dean Kostalek

Loss of Friend and Adviser Saddens Campuses

John Anton Kostalek is dead. Thousands of hearts are saddened miserably at a time when happiness should be rampant. The university suffers one of the deepest losses its has ever known.

Those who knew him but slightly will miss his inevitable friendly smile and cheerful greeting.

Those who knew him rather intimately must bear the loss of a sincere helper and a kind adviser. Yes, the dean of the college of letters and science was an unfailing friend to anyone in need. Never impatient, truly solicitous, always genuinely concerned with another's problems.

Those who were colleagues of his in the field of science will lose the resourcefulness of a brilliant mind. He was truly a leader in the search for knowledge, a chemist of no mean renown.

Those who lived with Dean Kostalek are suffering most deeply. They have lost a beloved husband and father. No words which could be said here will lessen their sorrow. They knew his sterling character best. How can they help but miss him most sorely?

The flame has been extinguished, it is true, but oh, it burned so brightly while it was here.

Committee Formed For Management Of Student Union

The University Board of Regents approved the formation of a Student Advisory Committee to help direct the use of the new student union building, in their meetings on September 24, 25, and 26, 1937.

They will have power to make recommendations about management and generally represent the student point of view. This arrangement should prove more than satisfactory to the faculty as well as the students.

The committee is to be composed of the Manager of the Student Union, Jim Kalbus; Graduate Manager, George Horton; Dean of Women Evelyn Miller; one faculty member to be chosen by the faculty; and one senior, one junior, and one sophomore, to be selected by the Executive Board of the University.

Kerr to Succeed Dean Kostalek

Ten Appointments in Various Schools Made by the Board of Regents

Another major responsibility befall Dean T. S. Kerr, head of the junior college when he was appointed acting dean of the college of letters and science at a meeting of the state board of education and the university board of regents Sunday. He acted in this capacity in 1934 during the sabbatical leave of the late Dean J. A. Kostalek, and served as president pro tem following the resignation of Dr. M. G. Neale last spring.

Further appointments made during the three day meeting included:

Walter Virgin as associate plant pathologist of the college of agriculture, effective February 1, 1938, replacing W. H. Pierce who resigned June 1. Mr. Virgin, who received his B.S. degree from the University of Idaho and now working for a Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin, has done intensive research in the field of bean and pea diseases.

John W. Gray, University of Washington, with a B.S. degree in electrical engineering, was appointed an instructor in engineering. Replacing Stanley Richardson as instructor in the department of agricultural education, the board appointed a former Idaho graduate, William Craner.

James Kalbus, present acting manager of the Blue Bucket and Student Union, is being replaced as accountant in the bursar's office by Jack A. Wunderlich, '34. Miss Lella Herron was appointed instructor in home nursing and an infirmiry nurse. She is a graduate of Deaconess

Homecoming Awards Won by Alpha Phi And Lindley Hall

The Lindley Hall-Old Oregon Trail decorations for Homecoming Day won first prize in the men's group division, while Alpha Phi sorority won first prize with their "Ida-hoe" silhouette of a girl hoeing a garden. Consolation honors went to Chi Alpha Phi and Delta Delta Delta. Delta Chi, Phi Delta Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma won honorable mention.

The two judges were: Bill Hatfield and Dr. F. C. Church. Last year's contest winners were Sigma Nu and Delta Gamma.

The decorations were somewhat less elaborate this year because of the earliness of the seasonal game, but there was nothing lacking in the witty ideas and catchy puns which are ever present.

Game Brings About Fatal Heart Attack

Houses and Halls Make Repairs

Phi Deltas Lead List With New Rooms, Furniture, and Air Conditioning

During the past summer all group houses and halls made extensive or general repairs. Refurnishings, new decorations, paint jobs, and some landscape gardening, helped in making the new improvements.

Phi Delta Theta made more repairs and improvements than any other house. In the basement three new rooms and a large recreation room with complete new furniture was the major improvement. Two store rooms and a chapter room have also been added. The house was air conditioned and study desks and chairs have been purchased for each room in addition to other new furniture.

Remodeled Kitchens

Among the group houses which have remodeled kitchens and newly furnished rooms are the Thetas, Sigma Nu, Alpha Phi, Kappa Sig, Tri Deltas, A.T.O.s, Delta Gammas, S.A.E.s, Pi Phi, and Forney hall.

New radio-phonographs were purchased by Gamma Phi Beta and Alpha Tau Omega. The Alpha Chi house was reshingled. Sigma Chi fraternity repainted the woodwork on the exterior of their house and have installed indirect lighting in each room for making studying much easier and bolster the house grade averages.

Takes Moving

Tau Kappa Epsilon has a new home on Deakin street just north of new Student Union building. Delta Tau Delta rooms have new paint jobs and refinished floors.

Beta Theta Pi, Delta Chi, Phi Gamma Delta, Hays, Lindley, and Ridenbaugh halls made general improvements, while Lambda Chi Alphas planted a new lawn. The S.A.E. and Sigma Nu houses have new study lamps.

American Slang Totally Stumps Our German Interchange Student

English slang as spoken by track and field sports in the native American here in Moscow is the biggest obstacle for a newcomer to surmount, says Albrecht Behm, newly arrived student in the university from Berlin, Germany. Behm is the son of a professor of theology in the University of Berlin and is enrolled as a student in the school of forestry.

Behm has studied forestry in some of the better universities in Central Europe, attending Innsbruck in the Austrian Tyrol, and Goettingen and Freiburg in Germany. He comes to Idaho on an interchange of students sponsored by the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. In exchange, John Kinney, Lewiston, is attending the University of Heidelberg in Germany, furthering studies in philosophy and mathematics.

Although slang was a bit mysterious, Mr. Behm looked forward to seeing his first American football game, the O. S. C-Idaho fracas Saturday. Football as played here is far more strenuous than the rugby he used to see played in Germany, he remarked. The rugby type football, however, was quite popular in his homeland, being played the year around.

Like Skiing
Other sports given a big play were skiing in winter, and

Behm came to this country in company with 34 other students in all this year, he stated, there will be about 80 students exchanged between the countries. In addition to studying forestry in school, he plans to take advantage of travel opportunities in this country, and in company with a student at the University of Iowa intends to see a lot of it.

Funeral services for Dean John Anton Kostalek, who died Saturday afternoon of a heart attack induced by excitement at the Homecoming football game, were held in the university auditorium at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Classes were dismissed from 10 to 12 for the purpose. The Rev. H. H. Mitchell of Grants Pass, Oregon, conducted the impressive. Episcopal services which were attended by a multitude of university students, faculty members, and townspeople.

Dr. Kostalek was attending the game with his sister-in-law, Mrs. George (Catherine Patclairn) Kendall of Los Angeles, who arrived only recently to visit. He died before he could be taken to a hospital.

Born in Prague, Czechoslovakia, September 13, 1885, he came to the United States as a child. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1907, and received his doctorate from the University of Illinois three years later. He was only 25 then. He came to the University of Idaho campus in 1911 as professor of organic chemistry. In 1915 Dean Kostalek went to the North Dakota Agricultural college, and with the advent of the World war he entered the chemical warfare division. He returned to the Idaho campus in 1919 and was appointed dean of the college of letters and science seven years ago.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, the American Chemical society, and Sigma Xi, he is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mary Elizabeth and Katherine. He was a member of Delta Tau Delta, social fraternity.

DEVLIN REPLACES HUNT

Clarence Devlin, diminutive quarterback on the University of Idaho football team in 1934, '35 and '36, has accepted a coaching position in the McCammon (Idaho) high school. He succeeds William Hunt, former football manager at Idaho in 1934.

For the "Wise Boys"

Mere words, such as must be employed in this brief editorial, cannot give full vent to our feelings toward the wise boys who lifted the two new camel's hair pillows off the new davenport in the Student Union building last week. Such pilfering could almost be overlooked had not three (3) of the beautiful new smoking stands been taken from the same place during the pre- or post game celebrations over the week end.

Make it a Football Contest

Again the time is here for Idaho and Washington State college to pit their best football brains and brawn against one another for the culmination of nearly a half century of rivalry. Again every student in each tradition-shrouded institution is fired with the almost insatiable desire to see the opposing school submerged in utter defeat. O. K., Idaho, give 'em both barrels!

Both barrels, we say, but by this year the two student bodies should be sufficiently civilized to save them for a football contest instead of a civil war, gorilla style.

Used to be considered the traditional and proper thing for the two very, very bitter rival schools to exchange with one another their brigades of painters and general havoc raisers. This necessitated putting freshmen on three-hour watches throughout the campus. Civilization and higher learning have prevailed against this Katzenjammer brand of humor more and more in recent years.

This is a good year to give civilization and higher learning a complete triumph. Vigorous, friendly rivalry is the kind of relation we want with W. S. C. Let the women do the painting. Put the Vandals and the Cougars on the gridiron and let them fight it out while all Idaho shouts for victory.—N.A.W.

Th' Cub Reporter

Rush week being successfully completed by all concerned, your inquiring reporter has been released from the confines of the linen closet to continue his aimless wanderings about the campus in quest of the concensus held by the various individuals residing thereon.

The quest of the hour was brought to light as the result of many a heated bullfest and post coffee controversy.

The argument seems to hold the interest of hall and fraternity equally, as both are involved. This question, made embryonic by a recent ruling, has grown to amazing proportions.

The apparent fact that the governing body of Willis Sweet hall, a state owned building supported by taxation and rentals, has taken the power to dictate into the affairs of the residents of the hall to such an extent as to whether they shall or shall not become affiliated with any Greek organization on the campus provides the impetus for interrogation.

The question: is this ruling which came into effect this year, a fair and just restriction?

This correspondent has attempted to obtain the views and arguments of both sides, yea even to disturbing "Honest John" Farquhar in the middle of his siesta. His reply to the question: "I think it's a good idea. You can't have a united group with their interest divided. If they can pledge a fraternity, let them live there. It's a principle of fighting fire with fire. As soon as some of our boys show promise, some of our boys show immediately affiliates them. We're going to do away with that."

ary from the 'big house', stands with the ruling. "I feel the new hall ruling has a distinct advantage in that it promotes a feeling of pride among hall residents for the hall if their fraternal interests are not elsewhere."

Jack Maguire replies: "Just because a man can't afford to live in a house, he shouldn't be deprived of the social connections it offers."

"I think it's a screwy idea. It should be your privilege to pledge and live here."

Vincent Wells, disturbed from an interesting date, cast his opinion in favor of the hall ruling.

"I believe if a man pledges a fraternity and lives in the hall, he loses any opportunities a fraternity has to offer, and does not get into the swing of the hall functions; so I am in favor of the rule."

This survey having been completed, I find I'm right back where I started, but I met some nice people, and maybe furnished a bit of fodder for your next hash.

Idaho to Offer Special Course Dairy Methods

Opening October 18 is the University of Idaho's five months' course in practical commercial dairying. This special course is planned to give a practical working knowledge of modern dairy manufacturing methods, explains Dr. D. R. Theophilus, head of the dairy husbandry department.

In the Spot

Hello, all you dramatic-minded people, this column is going to keep you in touch with the "goings-on" back stage of the University Players.

First of all, a little gossip on our brother Theoplans: Aldrich Bowler—well known on the Idaho stage as stage manager and actor—spent the summer with the Farragut Players at Rye Beach, New Hampshire. Reports are that he did so well that he has another position with the same players next summer. He is spending the winter on Broadway. Our pride and joy, John Sollers, technician and builder of all those grand sets last year, spent the summer with the same group of players, returned to Moscow this fall with a wife and a wire-haired terrier. Shall we shift the spot?

Miss Jean Collette, director, worked at the Northwestern Theatre with some outstanding celebrities in the theatre world. Among them was Blanche Yurka, Broadway and Hollywood star who played Portia in the Merchant of Venice at Northwestern. She worked in direction in "Allisons' House" with Susan Glaspell, author of the play.

Soon the spot-light will be cast on the fall play, "The Solitaire Man," by the famed Samuel Spewack, writer of the Broadway hit, "Boy Meets Girl." If this play is full of the same peppy dialogues besides being crammed full of mystery we'll really have something to look forward to. Hang around the spot and we'll throw more light on the play next time.

Faculty Hunters Bag Six Elk On Selway

Every Moscow man who has returned from the elk hunting in the Selway National forest to date, has bagged one of the 1000 animals which the game department is permitting to be taken after September 1.

The so-called "mercy hunt" was arranged by the game department after finding that large numbers of the animals were dying in the winter because of lack of food. During the summer months, elk find good grazing in the higher hills, but in the winter are forced down to the lower slopes which offer about 4 per cent to the grazing land available in the summer.

Half Get Game As a result, elk eat roots, willows, bark, and anything else available, hundreds dying of starvation before spring.

With more than two million acres opened, hunters are permitted to buy a special license until 1000 elk are taken.

Among Moscow and university hunters who have been successful are Capt. Charles H. Hart, military department, Capt. Lewis S. Norman, military department, Dr. A. B. Hatch, assistant professor of game management, and Barton Rowe, Moscow rector. All hunted in the Old Man's Lake district.

Dr. W. E. Shull, associate professor of entomology, and Corey Schrimsher, Moscow high school manual training teacher, had the good luck to get their elk at the one place where a car can be taken—Elk summit. Both men had killed an elk by 8 a.m., and only one-fourth mile from the car. To be successful, it is necessary to pack in.

Research Paper Rated Best

Idahoan One of Few Scientists to Present Two Papers Before Meeting

Ivan Taylor, Buhl, University of Idaho graduate and faculty member, had a hand in preparing what was rated the most interesting paper presented at the recent fall meeting of the American Chemical Society at Rochester, N. Y.

He was one of three Columbia university scientists who have been doing significant research on the isotopes of potassium (a phase of commercial fertilizer research). His associates were Dr. H. C. Urey, Nobel prize winner in chemistry in 1935, and Dr. A. K. Brewer, another Columbia man. Mr. Taylor has been on leave of absence from Idaho for two years, working toward his doctorate at Columbia.

To Mr. Taylor goes the distinction of being one of the few young scientists who has presented two papers before a single meeting of the American Chemical Society. In a second paper he discussed the results of his researches on the Idaho campus, on the tetra and pentahydrates of copper sulfate.

Mr. Taylor is a 1931 Idaho chemical engineering graduate plus a master's degree in the same subject in 1933.

Ag Stock Show At Exposition

Competition Arises for Places on Livestock Judging Team

With competition keen for places on the various judging teams, Idaho Ag students eagerly await the year's "high" in livestock shows and judging.

The International Exposition to be held at Portland October 2 to 10.

Hogs and beef cattle on stock consignments are being combed, carried, and sheeked up to championship form for the big show.

Although members of various teams have not yet been selected, 18 junior and senior men will form five crack judging teams for the agronomy judging events.

Last year Idaho entries pulled down 26 first, 13 seconds, and three grand championships, besides several lesser awards.

Expressing optimism, C. W. Hickman, head of the animal husbandry department, stated that this year's consignments should be every bit as good as in former years.

Competing against the university will be contestants from the University of Montana, W. S. C., O. S. C., and the University of British Columbia.

Some of the Idaho teams will leave Thursday for Portland, others later in the week.

NOTICE TO MEN STUDENTS

Attention is called to the importance of filing change of residence cards with the Men's Housing committee. A stipulation of the board of regents is that correct addresses must be filed by all men students on penalty of cancellation of registration.

Change of residence cards can be secured in the Registrar's office, from the chairman of the committee in Ad. 333, or from the proctor of men in Willis Sweet hall.

Idaho Looks Forward To W.S.C. Encounter

Starting the season off successfully with their 7 to 6 victory over Oregon State college, the University of Idaho Vandals are now pointing toward their next game with Washington State college this coming Saturday at Pullman. Last Saturday while the Vandals were defeating the Oregon State Beavers, the Cougars battled the Gonzaga Bulldogs to a scoreless tie.

The Vandals did not come out of the game unscathed. Injuries were frequent among the Idaho squad. Lyle Smith, center, is suffering from a badly injured ankle. Carl Grau who also saw plenty of action as center last Saturday has a bad knee as a result of the game. Stonko Pavkov and George Chrape have had colds. Kenneth Carberry, tackle, has several broken ribs. George Thiesen, tackle, who was the only Idaho man to play the entire game last Saturday, has a bruised nose. Rollie Winter, end, was badly bruised as a result of Saturday's game. Tony Knap, end, is packing a distinctive black eye which he received in the game.

Ed Elliot, end who was on crutches last week because of a sprained ankle, will report for practice this week. Rudy Aschenbrenner, center, who also has been out on the disabled list, will report for practice this week.

Practice for this week will consist of light scrimmage Tuesday and Thursday. Practice will ease off Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Some of the rough spots in last Saturday's game will be smoothed out in this week's practice.

Special grooming of plays will be on the menu for the Idaho gridsters this week. Monday evening the football team reviewed plays at chalk talk practice.

Despite the injuries that have struck the Idaho camp, the spirit and morale of the team is in high pitch. Each player is determined that Idaho shall come out on top of the heap in this week-end's tilt with the Washington State Cougars and thus end the supremacy that the Pullman lads have had over the Vandal lads for the past years.

Intramural Heads To Map Program Thursday Night

The 1937-38 intramural program, directed this year by Assistant Coach "Red" Jacoby, assisted by Claude Hart, will get under way Thursday, September 30, at 7:30 p. m., at the year's first meeting of the intramural managers in room 104 of the gymnasium.

Several new rules which have been suggested but not yet approved will be brought up for consideration. The measures include proposals to clarify eligibility of team members, standardize the drawings of opponents, and a new set-up to govern moving from one house to another and the selection of scorers. A good deal of fireworks is expected in the way of debate on the proposals.

In addition to the regular intramural managers of the groups, each team is requested to select and send a head scorer to the meeting. Officials present will include Jacoby, Hart, Bob Parks, Pat Probst, Oscar Cable, Brenn Barrett, Walter Betts, Ralph Spang, and Johnny McCall.

The fall intramural sports will begin October 4. The first sports to begin will be touch football, tennis, and golf. Cross country running will begin on October 8. Intramural athletic fields on the campus now total eight. With the extra playground space available this year, it will not be necessary for any team to play more than one game a night. Collegiate hall and Lewis Court will probably be admitted to the league at Thursday's meeting.

ATTENTION FROSH!

You are urged to come out for frosh football. Come, one, come all—the squad will not be cut. Practice started Monday. Let's have a good turnout.

Al Paddock, frosh coach.

MANAGER'S NOTICE

Eight openings for freshman football managers. Report to Kenneth Anderson and Bob Ratliff at 4 p. m. Wednesday on the football field. Freshmen may travel with the frosh team this year. Ted Bank.

Vandalmen Beat Oregon Staters

Idaho's new stadium was successfully dedicated last Saturday with the Vandal's 7 to 6 victory over the Oregon State Beavers. The game was fought on fairly even terms and was sparked by both teams riddling the air with passes.

The Stater's touchdown came in the closing minutes of the second quarter, when the Beavers drove up to Idaho's 4 yard marker. Joe Gray, left half, skirted around left end to make the Beaver's touchdown. The try for extra point went wide.

At the beginning of the second half, the Vandals made a successful drive up the field. A sure touchdown seemed to be in store for the hard-driving Idaho men but they were halted on the one-foot line by a stubborn Beaver eleven.

Idaho's touchdown came in the closing three minutes of the fourth quarter when Roise flipped a pass to Emory Howard over the end zone. Roise's kick for the extra point was good. The game ended with Idaho in possession of the ball.

Starring for the Beaver team were Kolberg, towering fullback, who constantly got under Idaho's skin by his pass defense; Joe Gray, the shifty halfback, and John Alexander, halfback.

Equally outstanding on the Idaho squad were George Thiesen, tackle; Tony Knapp and Rollie Winter, ends; Lyle Smith, center; George Chrape and Harold Roise quarterbacks.

Orofino Band Wins Contest Preceding Saturday's Game

First feature of the formal opening and dedication of Neale stadium Saturday was a high school band contest, in which the Orofino high school band took first place.

The contest, immediately preceding dedication of the field and the Idaho O.S.C. football game, was a colorful affair in which bands from Moscow, Nez Perce, Orofino, and St. Maries high schools maneuvered on the field in uniform.

St. Maries' high school band placed second.

Mr. Robert Lyon, university band leader, had charge of the contest.

Parking Grounds Need New Exits

Handling approximately 1,000 cars during the afternoon, the Military department of the university combined with the local and state police to handle the traffic at last Saturday's Homecoming football game. Pre-game traffic parked as fast as it came into the parking grounds, but it took over 30 minutes to clear the lot after the game.

"With the addition of one or two more exits to be used after the games, I believe that the parking facilities as offered at last Saturday's football game would be nearly perfect," commented Capt. Charles H. Hart who was in charge.

SWIMMING POOL OPENS

The university swimming pool will open for regular use tomorrow with the following hours for men: 9 a. m. to 11 a. m.; 5 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. The complete schedule will be posted on the door of the pool.

Harvard university has the largest endowment of any college or university in the United States. It amounts to $129,000,000.

Frosh Practice Starts Monday

The Vandal yearlings started practice yesterday afternoon at 3:30 with a light work out. Promising material will be coming up from the Frosh pack for next year. Monday over 60 freshmen football enthusiasts had donned football suits. By the end of the week the football roster is expected to go even higher than this mark. Last year 70 frosh turned out for practice.

The Vandal Babes will again be under the tutelage of Al Paddock. Theron Ward is Paddock's assistant this year. Monday's practice was spent in acquainting the new men with the Idaho system, shifts, and in learning two or three plays.

The Vandalites will open their 1937 season against the Lewiston State Normal teachers in Lewiston in a night game, October 15.

---From The Bench---

By Bill Johnston

Idaho's biggest Homecoming in many years is over. This week the proud and happy Vandals, with a confident student body solidly behind them, prepare for the annual big battle with Washington State. Coach Ted Bank, almost too excited to talk after the breath-taking session Saturday that was an upset to everyone but Idaho players, broke in on congratulating sports writers to make this announcement:

"And next week Washington State. We all wanted to win today—badly. That is why we did. But we also want to beat Washington State. All the boys will be in there trying to do it."

In the locker rooms a singing band of Vandals felt much the same way about it. "We're going to beat Washington State."

Not Forgotten. Not that the dedication game has been forgotten. As long as the players and students have any memory of Idaho they will remember the Oregon State opener. They will remember the O.S.C. club as a hard-driving, clean-playing team that incurred only one penalty in the game. And they will remember Idaho as a fighting team that matched that record and in addition came back after that heart-breaking episode on the eight-inch line to prove to a disheartened troop of students and supporters that it was as good as it thought it was.

But now is not the time to glory in games that are past. With Goddard and Fletcher and a host of star linemen gone from Washington State's lineup, Idaho is credited with having the best chance to beat the Cougars this year that it has enjoyed in several seasons. It will be a hard game, as hard probably as the Oregon State encounter. Babe Hollingberry's boys have been underrated before. In 1930 they were doped to end at the bottom of the heap. That was the year they won the Northern Division title. But Idaho has a good chance to win and the Vandals intend to make the most of that chance.

Physically as well as psychologically, the Vandals came through the game Saturday in fine shape. Lyle Smith is still bothered by an ankle sprain, but it is not considered serious. The rest of the squad is in good condition to resume tough practice sessions on MacLean Field every night up to game time. They are still earnest, the Idaho players. There is little "horseplay" during practice. They have a job to do and they intend to do it. "Ted" Therrell, pausing a moment on his way to practice, had this simple statement to make about the team:

"We are going to beat Washington State. We've been beaten long enough."

Intramural Men Meet This Week For Fall Plans

New Rules Are to Be Introduced for This Year's Sports

A meeting of intramural managers, assistant managers, "B" league managers, and each group house scorer will meet September 30, according to Claude Hart, assistant intramural athletic director. At the meeting plans for the fall intramural activities will be discussed.

Touch football, golf, tennis, and cross country will be run off during October, Hart said. Drawings will be made at the managers' meeting.

A new system of running off the league competition will be introduced at the meeting. This new system will rotate group house play through the four leagues. Each of the four leagues will have five group houses in its own particular league. Members of the different leagues will be rotated by this new system so that they will have a chance to compete in each league.

Several new rules will be introduced at the meeting. The new rules are (1) In the event an eligible competitor moves from one hall to another he competes for his former hall residence until a change in sport; (2) games postponed because of sudden storm necessitate the managers of the teams involved meeting immediately with the intramural director to determine a time for playing the contest; (3) eligible undergraduate students only, can compete in intramural athletics; and (4) postponed games not played before schedule is completed will count as no games.

Lewis and Clark Defeat Moscow

Lewis and Clark high school, sparked by a speedy little backfield combination, overcame the superior weight of a favored Moscow high school team and won 20-6 in a Saturday morning game on MacLean field.

Moscow's only score came in the second quarter when Holben, guard for the Bears, blocked a Spokane kick, scooped the ball up and went over for a touchdown. Lewis and Clark put themselves into scoring position several times by end runs and a trick shovel pass play that was always good for yardage.

The game was featured on the Spokane side by penalties. Eight holding and offside fines were called on Lewis and Clark. Moscow incurred only one five-yard penalty.

RIDENBAUGH NAMES HEAD

Katherine Emery was elected president of Ridenbaugh hall Monday evening.

Other officers are Eleanor Butler, vice president; Rae Falls, secretary; Marjorie Blood, treasurer; Jane Lillard, song leader; Peggy Leichter, social chairman; Iris Schwartz, scholarship chairman. House manager will be Alberta Hill. A.W.S. representatives, Ruth Bevis and Marguerite Brown.

W. S. C. Tickets On Sale Today

Student tickets to the Idaho-Washington State football game to be held at Pullman Saturday may be obtained here in the Administration building this afternoon.

Idaho students must present their student activity tickets and 75 cents to receive the admittance cards. The activity books must be presented again with the ticket for admittance at Pullman.

No definite information has yet been received about special transportation facilities. If enough of the tickets are sold, a special train or bus will probably be chartered. The ticket sale here is being handled through the Graduate Manager's office.

Tickets will be sold Tuesday from 10 to 11 a. m. and 3 to 5 p. m.; Wednesday from 9 to 10 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m.; Thursday from 10 to 12 a. m. and 3 to 5 p. m.; Friday from 11 to 5 p. m.

Campus Calendar To Appear Weekly

To acquaint university students and faculty members with the Calendar of Campus events, a bulletin listing campus events for the following week will be sent to members of the faculty and university residence halls each Saturday, the registrar's office announced today.

Copies of the list for fraternities and sororities will be placed on the mail rack in the Administration building each Saturday noon. The calendar for this week appears elsewhere in today's Argonaut.

Two Coaches Miss Homecoming Game, On Scouting Tour

Not all the football coaching staff was present last Saturday to see the Idaho Vandals down the Oregon State Beavers. While Idaho and the Beavers were battling it out on the new stadium, Forrest Twogood, assistant football coach and head basketball coach, traveled over to Bozeman to scout the Montana State-University of Utah game. Utah defeated the Montana Staters, 19-7. Also up in Montana was Al Paddock, freshman coach, who also was on a scouting tour. Paddock scouted the University of Montana-Whitman game at Missoula. Montana defeated the Missionaries 25 to 0.

Popovitch, University of Montana quarterback, is going to be a real threat this year, Paddock said. "The shifty Montanan is the best back that I have seen on the coast since I have been out here," Paddock commented.

Twogood's scouting trips will make it impossible for him to see Idaho in action only once this year and that is the game with the University of Washington. Next week Paddock will travel down to Salt Lake to see the University of Utah and B.Y.U. The following week he will travel to San Francisco to see St. Maries and the University of Nevada play. He will also scout the University of Washington at a later date.

"I was disappointed to miss the Idaho game Saturday," Twogood commented, "but if the boys come out as well as they did Homecoming for the rest of the season, I'm willing to miss the rest of the games."

Idaho Grads Come For Big Celebration

Some trucked, some two-stepped, some did the Big Apple. Whatever age the dancers, or of whatever era the dance, the students and alumni of Idaho expressed all the enthusiasm of the boosters of a winning football team Saturday night at the homecoming mixer at the men's gymnasium.

The Idaho Pep band, led by Glenn Whitesel, played for the dance, and gave a half-hour broadcast over radio station KFPY by remote control. Homecoming events and university social affairs were being Friday evening by the IK mixer, held at the gym. Houses and hall entertained many visitors gathered for the week end festivities. Guests at the Alpha Phi house were Miss Jean Francis, Lewiston; Miss Helen Banbery, Buhl; Miss Mary Lou Childs and Elaine Gunderson, Spokane; Miss Katherine Bjornstad, Harrison; Mrs. James Flack, Boise; Miss Zelma McCarroll and Marguerite Shurtleff, Payette; Miss Lorna Cornell, Priest River; Miss Dorothy Rosevear, Kootenai; and Miss Ruth Gregory, Pottlatch.

Alpha Tau Omega had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Howard Altnow, Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson, Boise; Bill Nelson, Robert Grant, and Fred Roswell, Spokane; James McDonald, Yakima; James Gridley and Rudy Carlson, Coeur d'Alene; and John Ruebke, Wallace.

Kappa Sigma entertained Herb Johnson, Walla Walla; Jim Thornton, Coeur d'Alene; and J. M. Martin, Boise.

Homecoming guests of Lambda Chi Alpha were Mrs. T. Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Berg, Wallace; William Armstrong, Portland; Keith Jacob, and George Koathe, Spirit Lake; Telpher Wright, and John Melio, Athol, Idaho; and Kelly Kurdy, Grangeville, and Robert Bonomi and Ed English, Wallace.

D. G. Grads Return
Delta Gamma entertained Mrs. W. G. Guernsey, Miss Margaret Morgan and Miss Virginia Dodd, Spokane; Mrs. Waneck Stein, Miss Mary Congdon and Miss Marion Delano, Boise; Miss Nita Sherman and Miss Peggy Simons, Kellogg; Miss Ruth Haller, Twin Falls; Miss Jean Allison, Pullman; Miss Janet Little, Emmett; Miss Janice Rotering, Payette; and Miss Dorothy Peeble and Miss Margaret Hanrahan, Lewiston.

Guests at the Idaho club were Lenn Cruse, Elk River; Paul Osterhout, Jack Anderson, Herbert Larsen, and Vernon Sanford, Pottlatch; Ted Brasch, Spokane; Lorenzo Alenter, Worley; Harvey Hollinger, Paul; George Harvey, Orofino; and Mr. and Mrs. John Ludeke and Miss Louise Ludeke, Genesee.

Gamma Phi Beta guests were Mrs. Al Blair, Miss Dora Baird, Miss Frances Baird, Miss Dorothy Holden, Miss Edris Coon, Miss Dean Winter, and Miss Meg Graham, Boise; Miss Mildred Elliott, Miss Kathryn Kimball, and Miss Jackie Blackman, Spokane; Dr. and Mrs. L. V. Guy, Sandpoint; Mrs. J. W. McFall, Twin Falls; Miss Margaret Stoddard, Coeur d'Alene; Mrs.

George Brunzell, Pullman; and Miss Jean Denting, Yakima.

Devlin Returns
Clarence Devlin, Mountain Home; Wally Geraghty, and Morey O'Donnell, Spokane; Bob Dudley, Sandpoint, and Robert Morris and Jack Nicholas, Lewiston.

Guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon were George Young, Coeur d'Alene; George Beardmore and Delevan Smith, Sandpoint; Clyde Richards, Lewiston; Cecil Greathouse, Boise; and Frances Jones, Kellogg.

At the Kappa Gamma house were Miss Tootle Dullard, Miss Julie Davis, Miss Kay Lane, Miss Wilma Fischer, Miss Betty Hearn, of Boise; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Way, of Spokane; and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thornton, Coeur d'Alene.

Sig Chis Entertain
Sigma Chi had as guests Pete Pence, and Rex Brainard, Spokane, Dewey Edmunds, Oscar Edmunds, and Bob Potts, Coeur d'Alene; Joe Herndon and Charles Herndon, Salmon; Woody Sorenson, Portland; John Stewart, Boise; and Harry Thatcher, Wallace.

Mrs. Victor Thompson, Boise; Miss Betty Edwards and Miss Bernice Blair, Wallace; Miss Patricia Elmers, Miss Kathryn Ayers, Miss Mildred Ebril and Miss Marjorie Dempsey, Grangeville; Miss Janet McCoy, Spokane, and Miss Barbara Lipps, Genesee, were among the guests of Alpha Chi Omega.

Lindley hall guests included Leslie McCarthy, Bonners Ferry; Lewis Galey, Kellogg; Roy Beenders, Nez Perce; Kenneth Primus, Jonas Parshall, and Sam Skeels, Lewiston; Carl Buell, St. Maries; Joan Johnson, Mullan; Glenn Wallace, Kendrick; Clarence Finch, Hayden Lake; and Irvin Woodward, Leland.

Tri Deltas Return
Guests of Delta Delta Delta were Mrs. Wendell Carnelfix, and Miss Ruth Evans, Weiser; Mrs. Dorsey Morre, Post Falls; Miss Edith Potter, Boise, and Miss Aileen Crome and Miss Marjorie Robbins, Twin Falls.

At the Chi Alpha Pi house were Wilson Bow, Beaumont; John Clemens, Orofino; Harry Tolford, Spirit Lake; and Don Ridings, Hamilton Field, California.

Mrs. J. E. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Zamboni, Wallace; Ed Mayer, Pete Peterson, and Glenn Exum, Kellogg; and Miss Mary Thomas, Spokane, were guests of Sigma Nu.

Betas Had Few
Beta Theta Pi entertained Clyde Inman, George Dean, and Bob Tucker, Emmett; Judson Wark, and John Lukens, Boise; Howard Parrish, Buhl; Jack Harris, Kellogg; and Don Haasch, Payette.

At the Pi Beta Phi house were Mrs. George Hjort, Boise; Miss June Quayle, Montpelier; Miss Fay Pettijohn, Grangeville; and Miss Ellen Bradshaw, Miss Donna Bradshaw,

Which Reminds Me

"A Peckin' to the right, to the left, and to the back—why! Lookit that men, he's a peckin' on his back!" Speakin' of backs, how does Jack Wilson look in that fancy green suede jacket? And speakin' of Peck, Garth's gaberdine suit with the green sport jacket and brown trousers doesn't seem to hold him back. The next step in this modern dance era seems to be 'Truckin', and who can do it smoother than Clyde Hankin in his white leather jacket. Gus Pene trips the light fantastic in a fine corduroy belted coat that does wonders for his brown eyes. Vincent Wells in his manly way struts around in an unusual sweater of egg-shell and brown wool. Jack Hammerlund's wild Tahiti "tom boy" shirt would be welcome in any Big Apple circle—On with the dance! WHICH DANCE??

Women Again Reside In Ridenbaugh Hall After Five Years

Ridenbaugh Hall, for the past five years a cooperative residence for boys, has again been converted into a hall for girls. Dedicated in June 1902 to the young women of Idaho, the hall was named in honor of Mary E. Ridenbaugh, vice-president of the Board of Regents at this time. In 1932 the hall was turned into a cooperative for men. Then this fall the corridors again resound the voices of young women.

It is now run on a purely cooperative basis, being divided into several groups with a chairman for each group. Alberta Hill is house manager. Working under her as department heads are: Marguerite Brown and Goldie Manning, cafeteria; Peggy Quinn, dining room; Idell Keyes, laundry; Dorothy Hale, work chairman; Margaret McPherson, sewing; Doris Hereth, bookkeeper; Iris Swartz, scholarship chairman; and Ellen Leichter, social chairman.

On Tuesday evening, the following were elected officers of the hall: Kathryn Every, president; Eleanor Butler, vice-president; Rae Falls, secretary; Marjorie Blood, treasurer; and Marguerite Brown and Ruth Bevis, A.W.S. representatives.

New House Mothers Arrive To Chaperon Both Men, Women

According to information received from members of Gamma Phi Beta, Mrs. Lauren Campbell will act as the new house mother of that group. A resident of Dillon, Montana, Mrs. Campbell served as hostess of the Residence hall, Montana State Normal. During the summer she was acting dean of women.

Five years ago Mrs. Campbell resigned as Alpha Chi Omega house mother to accept a government position in Boise. Lionel Campbell, a graduate in the college of law last June, is one of Mrs. Campbell's sons.

Mrs. Corinne Robertson Casey, new house mother for the Kappa Alpha Theta group, is formerly of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and has lived several years in Alaska and Los Angeles, California. Mrs. Casey was a student of the University of Idaho. All her experience has been that of a housewife instead of a house mother, according to information received.

At Willis Sweet hall, Mrs. Howard M. Rowe, California, will handle the house mother's job. Mrs. Rowe came here two years ago, and claims housewife duties only. The Triangle Club hasn't a house mother yet but is expecting to have one soon.

Dean Has Meeting For Frosh Women

In order to acquaint the new students with Idaho traditions, the first of a series of meetings for all freshmen women was held last night at 7 p.m. at the Blue Bucket inn. All freshmen were required by the dean of women to attend. Roll call was taken.

At these meetings, talks are given to help the new women students know how to appropriately dress, how to entertain, and how to understand the customs of the University of Idaho.

Meeting Starts W.A.A. Activities

W.A.A., Athletic association for women, began activities Monday with a meeting of the officers including Frances Murtha, president; Julia Moore, vice-president; Pauline Brush, recording secretary; Marie Raphael, corresponding secretary; and Ruth Rhodes, treasurer.

Soccer practice also commenced this week and all women, especially freshmen are urged to participate. Points received will aid in obtaining the 100 points necessary for eligibility to W.A.A. membership. Membership in W.A.A. counts as a major activity. Women interested in earning "I" sweaters must participate in a variety of sports to reach their requirement.

Those entering sports are requested to watch the bulletin board in the Women's gym for announcements concerning each particular sport.

Soccer Practice Draws Crowd

About 75 women directed by Ruth Rhodes, turned out yesterday for soccer practice, the first major sport sponsored by W.A.A.

Practices are held daily from 4 o'clock until 5:30 o'clock. Women receiving either an hour or an hour and a half practice credit toward the required number of hours.

Captains and teams for the Miss Neva Morton, Miss Helen Douglass, and Miss Francis McCoy, of Spokane.

Lyon May Direct Women's Band

"A women's military band will be organized this year if enough interest is shown," Archie Jones, head of the music department, has announced. This move is being made in response to the interest shown during registration. Plans are being made for a 30- or 40-piece band. Robert Lyons, director of bands, will direct the organization. Women students with instruments and who are interested are invited to call at the music office.

Home Ec Seniors Get Experience

White uniform and problems in home management are being ironed out under actual working conditions by 3 home economics seniors in a practice cottage recently fitted up near the campus.

The practice house is a five-room cottage at 1061 Deakin avenue, between the L.D.S. Institute and the S.A.E. fraternity house. All of the seniors in the home ec department helped get it ready, swinging paint brushes, mops, and such like household instruments.

Every home ec senior is required to spend four weeks in one practice house. Each group chooses a particular problem or subject it wants to study, in addition to the general problems of home management.

Women now receiving their phone calls at the practice cottage are Betty Ingle, Margaret Hansen and Margaret Telcher. Living with them, and directing their efforts, is Prof. Elsie Maxwell, head of the home economics department.

In the old days, gasoline was towed out to sea and dumped as a waste by-product of kerosene.

REGISTRAR'S NOTICE

Saturday, October 2, is the final date for change of study lists without penalty of failing grade if work is below passing.

Thursday, October 7, is the final date for removal of incompletes. Incompletes not made up by this date automatically become failures unless the student has previously filed a permit for extension of time signed by his dean and the instructor concerned.

Idaho Men Write On Mine Methods For Gold Gravel

Revved interest in mining gold-bearing gravels prompted the authoritative Engineering and Mining Journal to feature an article on that subject in its July issue written by two men connected with the University of Idaho school of mines. "Choosing a Mining Method for Gold-Bearing Gravels" is its title. Authors are W. W. Staley, assistant professor of mining, and Richard H. Storch, one of his former students.

The article is a condensation of a thesis offered by Storch in June, 1936, for his degree in mining engineering. In its original form, the paper was awarded first place in a competition sponsored by the Columbia section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. Professor Staley, under whose direction it was written, condensed it to magazine length.

Nutritionist Advises Fems to Eat Right, Become Beautiful

No girl wants to be fat, but she should not make the absurd and dangerous mistake of going on a rigorous diet in an attempt to get thin, says Miss Lella Wall Hunt, nutritionist at Washington State college. The adolescent girl should remember that she needs a variety of foods to supply the demands of her rapidly developing body, and an unbalanced or restricted diet is apt to cause serious harm.

A girl's general diet at this age, continues Miss Hunt, should consist of plenty of milk, fresh green vegetables, fresh fruits, cereals and breadstuffs, meats, fish and eggs. Skin disorders are common at this age, but a thorough cleansing of the skin each night with pure soap and warm water, a careful diet and an avoidance of hurried eating or eating between meals, especially of sweets, will do much to prevent the occurrence of this trouble.
