Let's Have Matinee Dances

The students of the University of Idaho are the proud owners of a fine new Student Union building which has one of the best dance floors in the country. Crowded on Friday and Saturday nights, the new floor is usually locked and vacant until the next weekend. Why not permit matinee dancing on the new Union floor? The practice, followed in most of the large universities in the country would be welcomed by numerous students, who have an hour or so to kill before the dinner hour.

In other institutions, where matinee dancing is permitted and encouraged, large crowds attend regularly. Few of these institutions are better equipped to serve their students in this way than the University of Idaho. Cost to the university would be negligible, if a phonograph were used, and the dances even made a source of small profit, if one of the popular "nickelodeon" phonographs were employed.

Why not give the matinee dance plan a try on the Idaho campus—perhaps only one or two afternoons a week. The matter should come before the student union advisory board, and would be good starter for their first official action.

Seeing The Shows

—NUART—
Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday:
"100 MEN AND A GIRL"—Starring Deanna Durbin, Adolphe Menjou, Leopold Stokowski, Alice Brady, and Mischka Auer—Lovely Deanna as daughter of penniless trombonist Menjou persuades two wealthy socialites to sponsor an orchestra of 100 jobless musicians under the direction of Leopold Stokowski. A fresh, sparkling film including classics and popular swing numbers. Go to see.

—KENWORTHY—
Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday:
"DOUBLE OR NOTHING"—Starring Martha Raye, Bing Crosby, Andy Devine, Mary Carlisle, and William Frawley—Bing features a novelty Swing Band at his sensational night club, wins his lady love, and a million dollars. Comic cast provides dozens of laughable situations centered around a freak will which offers a million dollars to the one who can double $5,000 in thirty days. A side splitting musical comedy. Go along to see.

Th' Cub Reporter On The Loose

Comes now dear readers, another bit of soliloquizing, an innocuous post mortem brain storm following an uneventful sojourn in the spacious Blue Bucket lounge. Nothing more entertaining than the tapping of many feet, the metallic tinkle of gold passing into the nickelodeon, and "Am I glad I came to college?" Hankin gettin in the groove for the assembled pulchritude, was on the menu. Then like a tall scotch an, the thought crept over the old reporter. Why not have matinee dances in the lounge for an hour or so in the afternoons to take care of the tapping feet and inter masculine-feminine soulful glances, needless to mention Hankin?

Circulating among the masses in a desultory fashion, I gathered opinions, and find they be heartily in favor of such goings on, even unto making statements for publication.

Ruth Steele, the bucket housing problem, replies. "I think it is a very fine idea. If the girls would cooperate, it would be lots of fun."—I imagine we can expect hearty cooperation from Ruthie.

Gus Folkman, local truckin' protege, complies with: "In view of the inadequacy of exchange dances to accomplish their purpose, I feel a matinee dance of this sort would be very beneficial to both parties concerned."—At this point, I was tempted to bat out a feature on just wot innell the purposes of exchanges are, but abstained.

Margaret "Just call me Mickey" Gridley, teams up with the agitators. "I think the idea is definitely O.K." sez Mick. "They should have started talking about this a long time ago."

In the Spot

G. "Pres" Ridgeway—"An excellent idea old boy, if the students would attend such a function, there would no doubt be some interesting connections made."

Fae Harris, ill D.G. darlin, scorns her three dates to reply, "It's what the campus has needed for some time, and it would be highly entertaining, specially if that cute little Ridgeway boy could make it down here."

Thus studies, you witness the opinions of others. A little project for some enterprising lad or lass would be to take the idea before our benevolent dean of women, and I believe results could be obtained.

Rehearsals for the new play go on and on and they probably will for some time. We think Miss Collette must have had her tongue in her cheek when she gave Walter Belts the part of Lord Brocklehurst who "tells Mother everything". Phyllis Gregson is the mother who rules with an iron hand. We hope Mother approves of our turning the spot light on you all.

Did you by any chance go to Pullman to see "The Life of Emile Zola"? Reports have been more than favorable for this cinema. Most of us will just have to sit back and hope that it hits the Nuart, though.

Glendon, do you think it all fitting and proper for Lord Loam to go into a dance (if you call "trucking" a dance)? After all you are an English peer and what do English peers know about the Boy Scouts of America?

Well, toodle-oooh, my stage fans... we won't keep you in the dark long. Watch for Friday's spot!

Overseas travelers to Europe numbered 230,000 from January 1 to August 15 of this year, as compared with 214,000 for the corresponding period of 1936.

Dates 'n Doo Dads

Here's a bug in your ears: If ya' haven't been attending or tuning in on the Moscow broadcasting hour you've been missin' out on somethin' really good. Last Saturday's jam session really did some sweet, hot swingin'. Just a piona, a clarinet, trumpet, saxophone, trombone, and two guitars, but they were being played! And here's an orchid to the very lovely soloist, Joanne Enger. That gal can really sing. Better tune in sometime.

And now to get down to brass tacks—I mean "pins"—be it known that Dal Jordan hung his Phi Gam one on Helen Jean Way Saturday night. Fijl "open house," ya' know, and it's not even the pin season, either.

Another interestin' highlight of that little party was Gerlie Pearson's pajamas. Oh yes, she had a dress on too. Can't figure it all out, can you, Boyd?

Say, what was all this mix-up about, Didja see Jerry Stewart with Frankie Stolle at the Bucket dance while little Bernice Exelton pined at the Delta dance with Fred Swank? Hope it's all patched up by now.

And they say that Ward, that clever, unscrupulous caricaturist, made "Racy" Hallberg look just like a sledgehammer. That guy's really good, isn't he?

Two of the most ardent lovers on the campus are Bob Madkins and his little blonde gal friend. They're really absorbed. And they prefer to sit on the same side of the table at the Nobby. And they even prefer the same half of the bench.

Hudson Nieman (who played a mean trombone in Saturday's jam session) is also playin' a mean game with Honsowetz, mebbe.

It's bein' rumored around that Frank Finlayson is hangin' out darts for Gladys Pospisil. My! my! and he's only a frosh.

No sooner had Ellen Sampson alighted from the Cheney bus than Brant Gessel stepped up to do the honors with her suitcase. That old flame still fliskereth, eh Brant, even tho you are commutng to the W. S. C. Kappa house now? And speaking of commutng, ol' Ralphie Nelson isn't doing so bad at Genesee, now that "Mother" Parmley is teaching school there.

What dark-eyed Kappa spent Sunday afternoon near whose cottage at what lake?

Cute Jean Fedder, secretary of the freshman class, dining with Donald Green at Willis Sweet last Sunday. By the way, Jean, how is that rich doctor's son in Spokane doing?

A victorious team returns! On a lonely depot platform two figures stand waiting for the triumphant entry. Georgette Brunner and Carol Hart were among the Vandal representatives for welcoming the team back.

There's plenty of talent on this campus, and part of it is Benny Lutz's and Bert Wood's composition, "Somebody's been drinkin' canal water or noodles, two bits a plate."

Oh, yes, the Sigma Chis had a barn dance, but this is a good, clean column so that's all, folks!

To the editor:
I would like to bring to your attention the fact that students who are staying in the infirmary are like prisoners at Alcatraz. Although they have the facilities of a modern, well equipped building, they are denied the privilege of seeing their friends during visiting hours. Visitors are turned away with the excuse, "We do not allow visitors here", even though there is a sign on the door stating: Visiting hours are between 2-4 p.m. and 7-8:30 p.m.

Perhaps the nurse that answers the bell at night was never forced to lie in bed for several days or weeks. If not, she may not be blamed for not realizing that visiting friends are a great source of enjoyment to a patient; that they pass away those long tedious hours when the only occupation is to stare at blank walls.—H.M.

TWO PERMANENT WAVES
Co-eds preparing for a dance are not the only subjects for permanent waving—there is the tungsten wire used in General Electric lamps.

DOUBLE PERMANENTS
This wire, 19/10,000 inch in diameter, is first tightly wound, 335 turns to the inch, with the coils 1/1000 inch apart. After the wire receives this first "permanent wave," it is coiled once more, 70 turns to the inch, with 7/1000 inch between the turns. This reduces the original 20 inches of wire to a coil 5/8 inch long and having an outside diameter of 310/10,000 inch.

These permanent waves pay real dividends because tungsten wire becomes more brilliant as it is more closely compacted. This new process is only one of many developments made by G-E engineers in the field of illumination—a field which offers many opportunities to technically trained men.

It represents the work of many men. Experts in mechanical design have solved unique problems—for the shell of the turbine will have to withstand pressures equal to those that exist more than half a mile below the surface of the sea. When the unit is completed, electrical and chemical engineers, metallurgists, and research workers will have contributed knowledge and experience to it.

The design and construction of turbine-generators such as this is largely the work of college graduates—some of whom entered G-E Test only a few years ago. Thousands of other Test men are engaged in the design, manu-

"Pitching Woo" Hit Needs Definition, Pleads Publisher

Are you, or you, or you responsible for starting that choice college catch phrase, "pitching woo"? If you are, you've started something. If you are, or know who is, would you please get in touch with the staff of this paper?

And do you know what it signifies? Would you say "I've been out-pitching woo," or would you give knowing looks and raise your brows if you heard such a remark?

You see, Sam Mineo and Sid Prussin, who work for the Major Music company in New York, want to know. Why? Because someone as coquettish as the writer of "A Hot Dog, a Blanket, and You" has gone collegiate and written another silly ditty, "Let's Pitch a Little Woo." How does it sound? Its producers say it's bound to be played by all the leading radio orchestras this coming fall season.

But they need a "build-up" for it. Announcers see a need for wily wittiness about its origin when they comment on it. They have received conflicting opinions about how, why, and where it got its start, so they are trying to get in touch with every university in the country to find out.

If your brain contains that ingenious spark which ignited a country into "woo-pitching" consciousness, tell the world about it. Maybe you can win a Dick Tracy disintegrating pistol, er sump'n.

Injuries Darken Win; Bank Works Men

Idaho's victorious football team returned home from Salt Lake Monday morning, turned out for tough practice Monday afternoon, and will continue tough scrimmage sessions until time to leave again Thursday night for the Utah State game at Boise Saturday.

"In some departments of play we played a great game against Utah," said Coach Ted Bank. "In other phases we were terrible. A lot of work should fix us up."

Four minor injuries incurred in the Utah game are darkening the victory picture somewhat for the Vandals this week. Lyle Smith and Stonko Pavkov both came out of the contest with sprained ankles. Steve Belko developed a "charley horse," and Harold Durham is nursing an injured shoulder. Alternates in their positions will be groomed in tough practices this week.

Utah State, though doped by many to be a little below the standard of Utah, is considered a formidable opponent by Coach Bank. "We have a good chance to win if we work hard on weaknesses," he commented. "If we repeat our past mistakes at Boise, we are likely to be swamped."

The pep band, leaving for Boise Thursday noon, will not be on hand to lead a Thursday night send-off. Consequently no pep rally will be held before the game, according to Yell King Chuck Finnell. He thanked Idaho students for their support in last week's rally and suggested that the various group houses on the campus send telegrams of encouragement to the team at half-time in lieu of a regular pep rally.

---From The Bench---

By Bill Johnson

Three powerful factors in any football attack, a steady toe for place kicks, a powerful defensive line, and smart quarterbacking, were responsible, according to the Vandal's coaching staff, for Idaho's brilliant victory over Utah.

The winning place kick came in the last quarter, sailing cleanly from the toe of Steve Belko to win the game. The line went through Utah's weighty forward wall all afternoon and held off, protecting a precious two-point lead throughout a tense final quarter. The smart signal calling was most noticeable in the first period when Merle Stoddard spotted a weakness in the Utah defense, called a play through it, and sent Dellinger over from the six-yard line for a touchdown.

"It is the first time in a long while," said Bob Tessier, assistant coach, "that our boys got a break that put them in scoring position and then went a head and scored. Stoddard saw that Utah had shifted its offense and he aimed a play at a weak spot. It worked fine."

Coach Ted Bank was enthusiastic about the line's defensive play. "Thiessen, Pavkov, and Lyle Smith were standouts," he said. "The whole line played the best defensive game of the year. The offensive work needs polishing up but we are going to work on that this week."

Of the many newcomers to the Idaho line-up who have not played much this year, Coach Bank was especially pleased with the work of Ray Smith, Dean Green, and Gerald Dellinger. Green and Dellinger were among the smoother half-back combinations on the Vandal team last year but the Utah game marked their first appearance this season. Smith has been outstanding in every one of his brief appearances so far and won special notice in the Utah encounter.

With the Indians out of the way, Idaho goes to work this week preparing for their Logan cousins, the Utah State Aggies. Long practice sessions are planned for improving the line's offensive work and for clearing up the "too numerous to mention" faults in the backfield. Another long train trip beginning Thursday night will take plenty out of the Vandals in the way of physical reserves and practice time. The injuries of Lyle Smith, Stonko Pav-

Phi Delta Theta surged through a fourth straight victory to their league championship, as they mauled the ATO's 30-0. Behind the excellent combination of "Curly" Bill Kramer, Revell, Hall and Snow, they revealed themselves as the outstanding contender for the title, having garnered four wins 30-0, 26-0, 30-0, and 6-0.

Lambda Chi played a tune-up game with the Chi Alpha PIs, rolling up a 26-0 score in preparation for their league championship game with the Fijis tonight. Both teams are undefeated to date in league play, each having won three and lost none. The winner will enter the first playoffs next week.

After playing a full game and one 10 minute overtime period, the Lambda Chis and Sigma Nus ended all square, 7-7. In their 20 minute playoff period Sunday morning, on a long pass from Bill English to Lemon Lambda Chi scored the only points of the morning to maintain the undefeated status.

Sigma Nu finally broke into the victory column, edging out the Delta Chis in a hard fought game that was decided on the first two plays of the game. Following the opening kickoff Thompson threw a 30 yard pass to "sleeper" Zamboni, and followed it with a touchdown pass on the next play to "Bud" Robertson. From then on the game merged into a rough and tumble affair with neither team making any dangerous threats.

Willis Sweet hall, backing the Delta Taus out of the league championship Sunday with a hard-earned 12-6 victory, finished the schedule undefeated by bowling over the Kappa Sigs 19-0 in a game much closer than the score indicates. This victory assured them of a shot at the championship, in competition with the Phi Deltas, Tekes, and winner of the Lambda Chi-Fiji game.

The Tekes moved into a commanding position in League III without turning a hand as they claimed their third straight forfeit. A victory over the Triangle Club tonight assures them of the League championship.

Beta, chiefly through the efforts of Speedy "Mike" Sullivan softened the Triangle Club with a 26-0 lambasting. Mike personally accounted for 13 points, half of his team's counters.

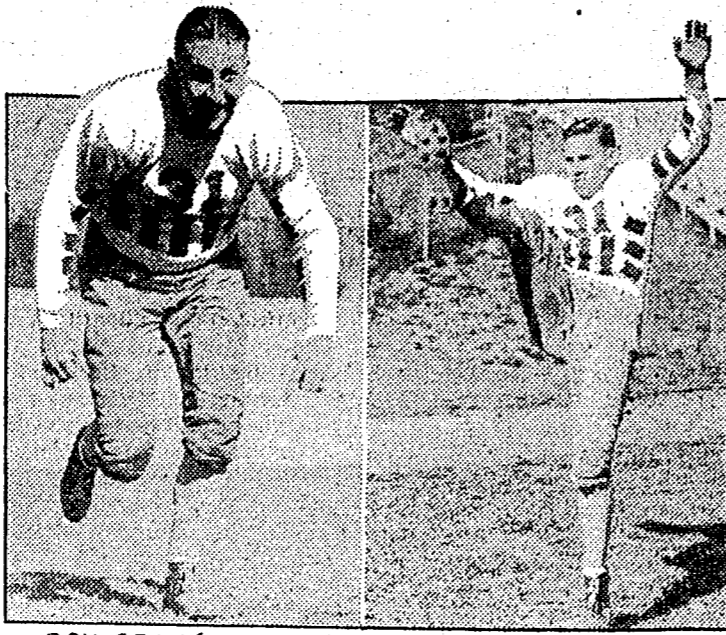

Tonight's games, being those postponed from last Monday, round out the schedule, and next week the respective league champions, runners-up, etc., open play for the trophy and intramural points.

Kov, Steve Belko, and "Bull" Durham may or may not clear up in time for the game. Harp practices all week is Coach Bank's solution to the problem of getting the best possible team in the field against Utah State.

While the varsity traveled homeward Sunday, Coach Al Paddock disregarded the Sabbath and drilled his freshmen candidates for the Lewiston Normal game Friday. The freshmen squad this year has some promising players. As yet they have not become well enough acquainted to call each other by name, but they are learning to go through plays together, and they seem to have more fun doing it than is generally the case with yearling squads. In a few weeks they will bear watching.

One of the big drawbacks for Idaho at Salt Lake, aside from a 198-pound line and a hard running backfield to subdue, was the 4,700 odd feet of altitude at the Utah city. The rarified air of the lofty town told on all of the Vandals in no uncertain terms. It necessitated the substitution of an entire new team in the first seven minutes of the game.

"Natives Return" to Southern Idaho

ROY GRAY (TWIN FALLS) ED ELLIOTT (BOISE)

FAMILIAR TO SOUTHERN Idaho football fans are these two men. Ed Elliot, lanky end, is well known to football fans in Boise and surrounding towns. Elliot is a former Boise high school star. Also equally prominent to Twin Falls fans is hefty Roy "Speed" Gray, guard on the Vandal team, who played for Twin Falls high school. Both men are anxious to display their football prowess this coming Saturday against Utah State on their own native Southern Idaho soil.

Coach Louie August Sends His Boxing Pupils Through Paces

After two weeks of light workouts and exercises the University of Idaho boxing team has settled down to a training program that is rapidly whipping them into one of the major threats of this year's inter-collegiate boxing circles in the west.

Idaho meets University of North Dakota here November 20. Last year this match packed the Memorial gym with the largest crowd ever to witness a boxing card at the University of Idaho.

W. S. C., last year's national inter-collegiate champs, will bring a strong club of lettermen to Moscow the 20th of December. Their only loss of any importance from last year's aggregation is "Pooch" Patrogalla, 119-pound national inter-collegiate champ.

Coach Louie August is skeptical as to the outcome of this semester's matches as he checks over the list of ineligible. Jackie Doone, northwest and Pacific coast Golden Glove titleist at 118 pounds, and Merlon Wright, also a fly weight, are ineligible because of poor grades and did not return to school this fall. Patsy Fitzpatrick, Carl William, and Alex Passic are not eligible until February as they have been in school only one semester.

The biggest loss of those not returning is Rolly Shumway, dynamite fisted sophomore who blasted his way to a national intercollegiate championship in the welter weight division last spring. Johnny Gessner, of last year's freshman squad, is finishing the welter weight berth this season. The team veteran is Ralph Miller, 119 pounder, who is starting his third and last season as a varsity man.

Bud Benoit, who fought in the 135 pound class last year winner of the northwest Golden Gloves at Seattle, has surprised the coach by weighing at 129 pounds, and will fight at that weight unless ousted by Patsy Fitzpatrick the second semester. Fitzpatrick, Golden Gloves titleist at 125 pounds, may also train down to 119 pounds and battle it out with Ralph Miller for that berth.

Ross Sundberg, well known to Idaho football fans, who under August's clever tutelage developed into the surprise of the season when he stepped out and won the Pacific coast inter-collegiate championship, will be back to dispute that place on Idaho's team with Forrest Ober. Sundberg tips the scales at 220 pounds when in top shape. Ober, who made the freshman squad in football, wrestling, and boxing last year, is developing into a stiff right hand puncher and will give Ross plenty of trouble.

Coach August is working overtime to put in the necessary time on an ambitious varsity and one of the best freshman turnouts in a long line of successful freshman squads.

His toughest intercollegiate football game was that played with Montana last year, and like Stonko Pavkov, Truck picks them as the toughest team the Vandals have yet to face this year. "With a whole team of veteran lettermen returning, they will have an unusual amount of all-round strength, and then there is always Popovich," Truck commented.

Truck is majoring in the school of education, plans to teach both mathematics and science when he receives his degree. He likes to travel a great deal and much prefers Idaho's climate to that of his native Milwaukee.

Vandal Personalities

By Bill McGowan

"I'm Dick to some guys, Truck to others, and I think I'm Richard Trzuskowski at the registrars office, but my real name is Ryszard Aloysius Trzuskowski," and in that manner the sage of Sweet hall gave me his monicker.

Sometimes known as the Plover of the Palouse, this gentleman stands 6 feet, 1 inch in his stocking feet, and weighs 215 pounds his "fighting weight." Halling from Boys' Tech in Milwaukee before he came to Idaho, Truck played three years of football at all positions on the line save end. A junior and a one year letterman under Ted Bank, he has been played at tackle and full-back, and is ready to take over either of the guard positions or hold down the center berth if the need arises.

Ryszard (Truck) is an avid candid camera fan and enjoys dancing a great deal, but his main interest in athletics beyond football lies in swimming. He tested water in the Milwaukee swimming pools this summer. His other outside interest is Polish sausage which he eats "by the yard," and heartily recommends to all those who desire something a little different refreshments.

Belko's Place Kick Annexes Game For Vandals Saturday

A perfect place kick from the 15-yard line by Steve Belko in the last quarter of the Idaho-Utah game at Salt Lake Saturday provided a 9 to 7 victory margin for the Vandals and plenty of thrills for the spectators.

Idaho trailed 6 to 7 through the third quarter after Dellinger failed to convert on the touchdown he made in the first period and after Utah had made good an extra point trial after a second-quarter touchdown. Then in the last period Belko's pass to Stoddard was good for a first down on the Utah 16-yard line. Another first down by Belko and Rolse moved the ball to the sixth where Utah held. On the fourth down Belko kicked the winning placement.

It was a hard, close game all the way through with neither team able to make yardage consistently through the line and with both depending largely upon the breaks for scoring opportunities. Utah's big break came in the second quarter when Cory intercepted a pass from Rolse and ran 39 yards for a touchdown. McGarry's placement was good; Idaho's big chances came in the first when Ray Smith scooped up a blocked Utah punt and carried it to scoring position on the six-yard line and in the last when Belko's field goal sailed cleanly between the posts.

The statistics show the teams to be about evenly matched. Idaho made seven first downs to eight for Utah, 187 yards from scrimmage against 172 for the Indians and 60 yards from passes to Utah's 59. A total of 80 yards in penalties, including one 15-yard fine that nullified Osterhout's 34-yard end-around sprint, was levied against the Vandals. Utah won through the game without incurring a single penalty.

Pledges Are Guests At Weekend Dances

Pledges were honor guests last week end at dances given for them by their upper-classmen.

Delta Tau Delta entertained its pledges at an informal dance Saturday evening at the chapter house. Witches, black cats, and orange pumpkins decorated the walls. Programs were autumn brown, printed in green. Dr. Evelyn Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Janssen, and Mr. and Mrs. Louie August were patrons and patronesses. Bill Chase's orchestra played.

Silhouettes for Gamma Phi
"Tips for pledges" was the theme of the Gamma Phi pledge dance Friday evening at the chapter house. Around the wall were hung finger silhouettes of the actions of the model pledge.

Dr. Evelyn Miller, Mrs. Loren Campbell, and Dean E. J. Idings and Mrs. Idings were chaperons. Music was furnished by Bert Wood.

Sigma Chi Barn Dance
Three truck loads of farmers drove to the Troy pavilion for the annual Sigma Chi barn dance Saturday evening. The dance floor was strewn with straw, and the couples did the chicken reel to the music of Bert Wood's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kalbus, Mr. and Mrs. Hail Macklin, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hagen were patrons and patronesses.

Delta Chi honored its pledges with a "big apple" dance Saturday evening. Large cardboard apples inscribed with the pledges decorated the walls. The programs were red felt, but in the shape of apples. Howard Chapman's orchestra played for the dance.

Patrons and patronesses were Major and Mrs. Charles Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steffens, and Jefferson Rodgers.

Which Reminds Me

What with the Sigma Chi barn dance and setch, this campus is really going to the dogs as far as style is concerned. Before the wolves broke loose I did gander about a bit, and this is what I saw: Rosanna House in a blue-green, tan, and orange round and round striped wool; Rosanna is extra specially fortunate to be able to toss a yard and a half together and end up with a nifty dress. Ruth Bevis really stopped me in her red, grey, and black, two-piece sport dress with the green tie. The color combination sounds pretty wild, but wait till you see. Leave it to Emily Lou Smith to pick a red flat crowned hat to go with her dress of three shades of grey. Helen Wright's camel-hair coat (both California products) makes a mighty fine setting for her dark coloring. Well you dear clothes horses please do well by me this week.

De Smet Selects Council Members

Executive council members were selected Sunday evening at the first meeting of the De Smet club, a Catholic organization for college students. Emily Lou Smith, Geneva Kraemer, and Frank Kurdy were chosen to fill these positions, which were left open due to former members of the council not returning to school.

Elections were held at 7 o'clock at the Student Union building. Following this, was a talk given by Father Earl Stokoe. A breakfast will be held next Sunday morning.

WOMEN'S NOTICE

Due to a clerical error, all new women students received notification that their attendance was required at the Monday night Freshman orientation. Any women students are welcome at these meetings, but attendance is required only of freshmen.

Home Ec Club Will Give Tea

To honor new teachers in the department, the home economics club will entertain at a reception tonight from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. Faculty members and towns people especially interested in home economics have been invited to the newly decorated practice house to meet Miss Esther Segner, Miss Louise Stedman, Miss Lella Herron, and Miss Stella Severson.

Gretchen Farber, chairman of the student committee, is assisted by Helen Luke, Beulan Johnson, Dorothy Swenig, Betty Engle, and Margaret Teller.

New Spurs Honor Last Year Alumni

Sunday morning the active Spurs entertained the 1936 Spurs at a breakfast. The purpose of the breakfast was to present the alumni Spurs with their emblems.

Dr. Evelyn Miller gave a short talk, congratulating the old Spurs on their work during the past year. Mrs. William Boyer, Spur advisor, also addressed the group. Musical selections were given by Rene McDermott and Mary Harvey.

Mrs. C. R. Crowley was a guest at the Alpha Phi house over the week end.

Women's "I" Club Initiates; Also Elects New Officers

The women's "I" club initiated new members at a meeting held October 7 at the Alpha Phi house. After the initiation was over elections were held and officers chosen for the coming year. Florence Wakefield is president; Neva Eisenberg is vice president; and Rita York is secretary-treasurer.

Pledges who officially received their "I" sweaters were Katherine Emery, Rita York, Julia Moore, Irene Johnson, and Isobel Stokesberry.

The "I" club with Miss Rollins as their advisor, is planning big things for this year. Chief among their responsibilities is that of promoting, encouraging, and directing inter-house athletic activities for the college women.

Kappa Phi Pledges 34 New Members

Idaho Kappa Phi met Sunday evening at the Methodist church for a pledge service by candlelight, under the direction of the officers: Allene D. Trunnell, president; Peggie Johnson, vice president; Margaret J. Quinn, secretary; Grace Gardner, corresponding secretary; Rachel E. Frevort, chaplain; Theda E. Lenz, membership chairman; Helen P. Irvine, treasurer; Ruth M. Ryan, social chairman and Kathryn L. Emery, historian; Mrs. J. Hugo Johnson, sponsor and Mrs. Willis L. Crites, Mrs. Eldon D. Schock, Mrs. Fred W. Hagedorn and Mrs. D. S. Jeffers, the patronesses.

The altar was decorated with cedar boughs and pink roses. The degree of the "Pine" was conferred on 34.

De Smet Club Gives Breakfast Sunday

The De Smet club, composed of all Catholic university students, will have a breakfast at the student union building next Sunday following the 8:00 o'clock mass.

Catholic students who are not living in group houses on the campus but who wish to attend the breakfast should phone 7121 and inform Father Stokoe before Friday, of their intentions to attend the breakfast.

Semester dues of 50 cents will be collected at the breakfast.
