Curtains To Improve Gym Acoustics

Echo Will Be Eliminated by Burlap Hangings for Lunceford Band

That the music of Jimmie Lunceford and his orchestra in all probability will reach the ears of Dad's day dancers under almost perfect acoustical conditions, is assured by an announcement from the office of the university purchasing agent today.

The appearance of Jimmie Lunceford at the University of Idaho was assured Friday when Blue Key sent in a check for $400 as an advance guarantee for the appearance of the orchestra.

Ceiling Causes Echo

Due to a high, arched ceiling over the main floor of the Memorial gymnasium, heretofore speakers and musicians have had to contend with an unusually prolonged echo. Music emitted from the instruments was reflected back down about a beat too late, resulting in a merging of sounds until melodies were too blurred to be recognizable.

Sounds last for 20 seconds with the present furnishings; but with the new deadeners this period will be cut down to three seconds, a perfect rating for this type of building.

To Hang Burlap

Upon recommendations of officials of the Columbia Broadcasting company, curtains of acoustic burlap are to be hung from the rafters and along the east and west walls. Extensive surveys of the sound properties of the gym have been made by Prof. L. H. Stauffer, of the physics department. The hangings will be similar to those used in large auditoriums along the Pacific coast.

Every effort is being made to insure the trappings getting up for the Dad's Day dance. Five men under the direction of R. W. Lind, superintendent of buildings and grounds, started work

'Collegiantics'

As Observed by Themostofus

Our bouquet for today (dandelions!) goes to that eminent sports writer and columnist, now spreading comment in the columns of the Spokesman-Review. Monday morning's S-R contained a shining example of his work, with his usual attitude of "Down with Idaho" being very apparent. One sentence, in particular, grated on our usually calm outlook of life, namely; "Somehow or other you couldn't help but get a suspicion they feared they were in for a licking and were relieved at an upset victory."

Of course, we wouldn't expect a Washingtonian to be a strong Idaho booster, but we do think that credit should be given where it is due. If our columnist friend had talked to very many Idaho supporters before the game, he would have learned that the feeling was very much a winning one. The Idaho victory celebration, commented on in the Spokane paper, had been planned for some time and the above extract does not apply to any true Idaho fan.

We hope that the big Jimmy Lunceford dance and the Idaho-Montana football game won't overshadow the primary purpose in back of this week-end's entertainment. Dad's Day is a phrase that can very easily be relegated to the back of one's mind with its significance forgotten. However, if most of you will just stop to think for a few minutes, I think that you will remember who it is that makes it possible for you to be here in

Chairmen Named For Annual Holly Day Week

Hume Appoints Tomlinson General Chairman of Sophomore Week

Bill Tomlinson, appointed general chairman of Holly Day week by Stan Hume, sophomore president, has completed committee appointments for the sophomore assembly, dance and serenade.

December 15 has been set as the tentative date for the assembly and dance. Cups will be awarded to the best decorated men's and women's group houses. The cups are being given this year in place of the money prizes formerly offered.

The decorations committee will be headed by co-chairmen Mickey Gridley and Ron Parke. They will be assisted by Bob Davis, Helen Jean Way, Grover Knight, Phyllis Thomas, and Doris Eby.

Dick Phinney will head the publicity committee. Bob Dvorak, Don Kirby, Alice Mae Robinson, Marvin Webb, and Bob Dilley will work with him.

Bud Morse, who is assembly chairman, will be aided by Charles Fimmel, Fae Harris, Beth Sampson, Ha Ingersoll, Ed Albany, Bernard Frizzie, and Regina Limacher.

Arthur Swan is the head of the ticket committee, assisted by Ruth Mather, Mary Harvey, Les McCarthy, and Bill English.

Mike Sullivan and Frank Severn are co-chairmen of the dance committee. Dorothy McKinnon, Bob Dilley, Margaret Marcus, Pete Cenarrusa, Ed Clarkson, and Dick Kaufman complete the committee.

Dan Danielson is serenade chairman, assisted by Bill Abrahamson, Gordon Ford, Bill Barrett, and Jerry Lowe.

Margaret Allison was appointed chairman of the sales committee with Fred Zamboni, Bill Harrington, Gladys Pospisil, Helen Kerr, and Joe Hackney as assistants.

Thespians To Give "A Doll's House" By Norwegian Playwright Ibsen

Eyes of the dramatically inclined are turned to December 9 and 10 when the dramatics department will again take the stage, this time in the vehicle, "A Doll's House" by Henrik Ibsen.

Ibsen, foremost Norwegian playwright, ironically enough, had no Norse blood. Although he was born in southern Norway, his ancestors were of German and Scotch descent.

Ibsen spent much of his early manhood studying medicine, but in 1851 he was appointed "Theatre-poet" to the Norwegian national theatre established by Ole Bull. His salary was meagre, but his experience there mounting Shakespearean plays proved invaluable.

Ibsen's Range Great

Ibsen wrote many different types of plays. "The Doll's

House" is one of his later plays, dealing within his modern series falling with sociological problems.

This play, which will be done in costume, deals with marriage as a failure. To answer the question, it furnishes an illustration of the customary sacrifice of the individuality of the woman to that of the man to whom she is married. These last modern social plays of Ibsen's have contributed the major part of the fame of the poet outside of Norway.

Primarily his manner of construction is analytic. He begins his plays where another dramatist would have ended them. Often the climax has occurred before the opening of the play and the consequences accordingly form the subject-matter of the action.

Lunceford Lifts

For Maestro Jimmie social sciences were most interesting in school and he was least interested in mathematics—Jimmie believes that jazz is becoming more tame, that American composers seldom offer real works of merit and that the public is swayed by "big name" bands.

His band succeeded Cab Calloway at the famous Cotton club in Harlem early in 1934 and was heard on the air waves via N.B.C. twice weekly from that rendezvous.

First learned to play a guitar is now hot with the saxophone. "Rhythm"—Sy Oliver is the arranger.

Lindley Challenges Groups To Guess Total Game Score

Because the stone monument on the lawn in front of the Ad building is badly in need of a thorough cleaning, Lindley hall challenges any group house on the campus to guess with it on the total score of the Idaho-Montana game next Saturday.

The total score means the combined scores of both teams, and the loser, the group making the poorer guess, must fulfill the following conditions: Scrub the monument, base included, with cleansing powder; and have the task completed by noon Sunday, November 21.

The first house to call Lindley hall, 8201, and inform Robert Welch, Lindley president, of its guess as to the total score will be accepted as challenger. Its acceptance must be printed in the Argonaut with its guess on the score, along with that of Lindley hall, on Friday, November 19.

In case of a tie between houses, each must scrub half of the monument to the satisfaction of the other by Sunday noon.

DELTA SIGMA RHO INITIATES PLEDGES

Delta Sigma Rho, national debate honorary, initiated five pledges Monday, November 8. Those initiated were Andrew James, Louis Racine, Roy Stark, Clifford Dobler, and Joe Carr. Bob McFadden, retiring president, had charge of the meeting.

Roy Stark was elected president for the coming year, and Joe Carr, secretary.

Intramural debate is to be handled by Delta Sigma Rho this year. Details of these contests will be announced before Christmas vacation.

Miss Leonard Will Start Her First Concert Tour In Europe in March

Miss Myrtle Leonard, Metropolitan Opera star, will sing here this evening in the Memorial gym at 8 p. m. During her visit here two years ago she thrilled the Moscow audiences with her "dark" contralto voice. As the result of the petitioning of Dean J. F. Messenger and others, and her own liking for Moscow, she returned last summer for six weeks, during which time she gave vocal instructions and concerts in surrounding vicinities.

Miss Myrtle Leonard

The concert, one of a series to be brought by the University of Idaho, is being opened to the public without charge.

The program chosen for tonight is published below. Miss Velma Gildemeister of the music faculty will be her accompanist.

New Bucket Goes On Sale Friday

"The Look" issue of the Blue Bucket has gone to press and will be on sale at 10 cents a copy Friday, November 19, reports Jean Dunkle, editor. This issue is a take-off on prominent magazines, such as Photo and Life, and from them many ideas about the make-up of the Blue Bucket have been borrowed.

This second Blue Bucket issue is dedicated to all the dads who will be here for the Dad's day week-end, to give them the lowdown on campus life. The cover is composed of a number of candid camera shots of well known Idaho students. Features this time include an article about war, and a special number, "Tribute to Our College Romance."

"Any contribution of articles, cartoons, or jokes for the Vacation Special issue which will come out about December 15, will be greatly appreciated," said Miss Dunkle.

PRESIDENT LEAVES FOR WASHINGTON

Harrison C. Dale, president of the University of Idaho, left Moscow Wednesday for Washington, D. C., where he will attend meetings of the association of land grant colleges and universities November 14 to 17, and the national association of state universities November 17 to 19.

President Dale expects to return to the campus November 28.

Campus Bus To Run Seven Trips Every Day Starting Next Friday

Students and professors living off the campus will no longer have to plow through snow down Third street, and follow Main street, recently approved by the Moscow city council, begins running Friday morning at 7:25 o'clock. Drivers will rely on passengers flagging them, as no planned stops have been made. Fares will be 10 cents.

The main entrance of the Administration building and the 'U' hut will be the most important stopping stations on the campus," said Malcolm Neeley, manager. "The bus is scheduled to reach the main entrance of the Ad building several minutes before every class throughout the day." Bus at 7:25 a. m. will follow

Main street south, Eighth street to Lynn avenue, up Sixth street, along South Hayes, down Third street, and follow Main street. The bus will turn at Eighth street, run to North Adams, where students will be dropped off at Whitworth school.

From Whitworth school up 'A' street, south along Polk, east on Third to Main street. South, up Sixth street, along Deakin avenue, up to University avenue, past the Women's gymnasium to the main entrance of the Administration building. At the close of every class period, the bus will be waiting for passengers, and retrace the route.

Dates 'n Doo Dads

Idaho won a football game on very slippery field this weekend. The rest of Spokane was just as slippery, and this old "seen' eye" (open during most of the sojourn) won a good many spectacles—not the gold rimmed kind either or do the drinkin' glasses come like that.

Brought back a hit parade for the benefit of you "stay-at-homes". Which is your favorite ditty? Here they are:

Charles Fimmel, yell king, was greatly pleased by the turn out at the game.

Gem Editor Urges Pictures Taken

Yoder Wants Photographs Ready Before Christmas
"We welcome student cooperation in having Gem pictures taken before Christmas vacation," Jim Yoder, yearbook editor, said today.

Activity blanks will be circulated shortly after the beginning of the second semester, about February 15, to allow students enrolled for the second semester to enter activities.

Burt also claims new presses have been installed by the Sams-York printing company of Boise to print the Gem, and new cartoon type, never before used in the state, has been added expressly for the Gem.

About Tonight's Concert
Tonight in the Memorial gymnasium, Idaho students will have an opportunity to hear one of the greatest contraltos on tour in the United States today—Miss Myrtle Leonard.

Miss Leonard, associated with the Metropolitan Opera company of New York, is just one attraction afforded all Idaho students by the university at ABSOLUTELY NO CHARGE.

Better take advantage of these opportunities now. When you are out of school, its ten to one you won't be able to afford a ticket.

Ella Olesen Leads Discussion Among Registrars

Ella Olesen, registrar, attended the Pacific Coast association of collegiate registrars on November 7, 8, and 9.

Miss Olesen led the discussion on recruiting, guidance, financial aid to students, and educational trends.

E. M. Pallett, University of Oregon, was elected new president of the association.

Myrtle Rach Attends

Myrtle Rach, Lydia Carlson, and Mary Ellen Heckathorn, from the registrar's office, also attended the convention.

Miss Olesen was accompanied home by visitors to the campus. They were: E. B. Lemon, Oregon State college; H. M. Showman, U. C. L. A.; E. L. Ray, Riverside junior college; Florence Brady, Occidental college in Los Angeles; Miss Mimi Colton, San Matlo college; and Mrs. Ellen Cres, North Pacific Dental college, Portland. They spent one day visiting on the campus, and traveled on to Pullman Sunday evening.

Women Breakfast With Theta Sigma

Invitations to the annual breakfast given for women working on the Argonaut are being sent today by Theta Sigma, women's journalism honorary. The breakfast, at which Mrs. Ted Bank will be the guest speaker, will be given at the Blue Bucket Inn Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

To create interest in journalism, Theta Sigma every fall selects women who have done creditable work on the Argonaut and invites them to attend the breakfast. Those receiving invitations are asked to reply before Friday at 4 p. m. to Ruth Bevis, Billye Jane Austin, Margaret Mattes, Jean Pence, or Dorothy Chandler.

A musical program will also be presented.

Former Students Married Saturday

Word has been received here of the marriage of two former university students at Blackfoot Saturday afternoon. The students, Miss Vivian Noyer of Blackfoot and Duffy Reed, Jr., of Twin Falls, attended the university last year.

Miss Noyer was a member of Delta Gamma and Phi Beta Kappa.

The couple will make their home in Twin Falls where the groom is employed in construction work.

Dr. Miller Tours Southern Idaho

Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women at the University of Idaho, left Saturday on a speaking tour of South Idaho to meet the parents of university students and to contact high school groups and parent-teacher associations.

Approximately 14 towns are listed on her itinerary, which includes stops at Caldwell, Nampa, Payette, Weiser, Emmett, Pocatello, Twin Falls, Rupert, Idaho Falls, and Boise.

At this time last year Doctor Miller made a similar trip to southern Idaho, lectured at several cities. This year she plans to be away for two weeks, returning about December 4.

A.A.U.W. Presents Views on Peace

The Moscow branch of the American Association of University Women presents in a resolution adopted by the organization the position of the national organization with reference to peace and international relationships.

At the national A.A.U.W. convention in June 1937, a report of a Study Commission on National Defense was given. From this report came the following resolution: Be it resolved, there must be,

"Formulation and maintenance of a foreign policy by the United States of America directed toward the perpetuation of international peace and predicated on the assumption that human life and civilization are more important than material interests."

The Moscow branch of the A.A.U.W. earnestly hopes that other peace minded organizations will publicly express their attitude toward this question of ever increasing importance. There is no lack of favorable opinion for peace among individuals and groups. The lack is our failure to give expression to our belief.

Dr. Braun Compares Iowa Study With Courses of Idaho Students

People in Iowa work 24 hours a day and occasionally put in overtime, in the opinion of Dr. Albert E. Braun, professor of general botany, who last summer received his Ph.D. degree from Iowa State college.

A former Idaho man hailing from Coeur d'Alene, Doctor Braun spent two years studying disease resistances of plants at Iowa agricultural experiment station. He thinks the students there seem more business-like in their attitude toward school and the courses are slightly harder than at Idaho.

Iowa is chiefly a prosperous farming country peopled by hard working Swedes, he says. "I was there two years and everyone seemed to work all the time with no vacations. Though the terrain is rolling and even hilly in places, people in that section just cannot grasp the idea of hills as we know them in Idaho," Doctor Braun said. "One bluff has state-wide fame because it is 500 feet high. It would hardly be noticed in Idaho."

"When I returned to Idaho this year, I was slightly disappointed at the poor research facilities afforded botany students here. They seem to be much poorer than in most other schools, and I think the state should appropriate a larger fund for this branch of study."

One walk on Walla Walla college campus is known as the "hello" walk. This walk leads from the administration building to the street by the music conservatory.

Which Reminds Me

Have you seen the window display on third floor Ad of the exotic models created by home ec. majors. Well, if you haven't rush up early, so you will know what is being worn on our fair campus.

Yes, indeed—Katherine Roos chooses the most expensive gown, $130 of blue-green bo-peep patterned gingham. Y-E-S! And with a zipper at the neck with two red tassels. Now, for us kids who went to Spokane—a 45-cent numbered design by Margaret Minty is just the thing the brica-brack finish gives the casual touch for dancing at the Italian Gardens. Evelyn Jenkins was quite moderate with her 70 cent blue broadcloth frock that shows an inch of white ditty to match the collar and cuffs.

Joan Dunkle's choice was a blue romper suit with three white pearl buttons taking the place of the much over used zipper. The Donald Duck applique on the waist is just the thing for you college men. Am running out of space so best you all go up and see the other tricky numbers.

the midst of all this education. This is Dad's week-end. Let's all do everything we can to make it a pleasant one for him.

An innovation that was adopted on this campus last year, was the one day Thanksgiving vacation. It caused little comment and was seemingly accepted by all the students as an improvement due to the added vacation time in the spring. Washington State has been following this plan since 1933 but, due to the efforts of some of the students, the attempt has been made to secure the return of the old plan. According to reports in the Evergreen, this is a minority movement and brought about by a few chronic agitators. We hope that this campus will not follow the example of these few. While it would be a nice thing if we could all spend Thanksgiving at home the longer Spring vacation offers such distinct advantages that to change back to the old plan would be a major error. Southern Idaho students, particularly, share this viewpoint. The old three-day vacations weren't long enough to enable them to get home and back, so, consequently, they were restricted to one trip home each year, that one at Christmas time. The rest from studies that the week-long spring vacation offers comes when everyone needs it most and gives everyone a chance to get home. We hope that there are no petition-pushers on our campus to start a useless and unwanted agitation for longer Thanksgiving vacations.

The Intercollegiate Knights have been conspicuous by their absence from university functions this year. Can it be that the organization is slipping? We hope not as it is one of the few honoraries that really perform a service to the school.

It's a big day
with a smoker when he finds out about Chesterfields
Smokers like that Chesterfield TASTE and sure as shootin' they're MILDER

Open the season with more pleasure
Chesterfield
