

Every once in a while something happens that really makes us pretty sore. The thing currently sticking in our gullet is the situation surrounding the taxi-train wreck on sixth street Tuesday night.

In the editor's mail this week was a classy bit of propaganda kindly distributed by the Japanese Chamber of Commerce of New York entitled "The Sino-Japanese Crisis of 1937" and an "Appeal to Reason."

On the second point, there is a great deal of truth, and should Uncle Sammy boycott the slant-eyed islanders, it will hurt us a great deal more than if we kept entirely out of the situation, and continued trade on as healthy a basis as possible.

The sophomores have gone big time in their plans for the annual Holly Day, and this year have inaugurated a plan for Holly Day Week, viz. December 11-16.

At California and William and Mary, co-eds can wear socks on the campus. But not at Texas, where hose are necessary to be well dressed.

Program Features Faculty Trio Tuesday Evening

Claus, Macklin, Little Appear at 8:00 in Auditorium; Brahms' Trio To Be Featured

When Carl Claus, violinist, Miriam Little, cellist, and Hall McIntyre Macklin, pianist, appear on the stage of the university auditorium at 8 o'clock next Tuesday night, November 30, they will open an evening's program of ensemble music by collaborating in a performance of the Brahms Trio in C Minor, Opus 101.

One of the greatest composers of all time, and one who won recognition despite bitter controversy and harsh antagonism, Brahms considered the "piano trio" (three instruments, one of which is a piano, performing together) such an important combination that he wrote five trios, all of which have gained a place in musical literature.

The American composer, Arthur Foote, will be represented on the program. Foote was born in 1853 and died a little over a year ago.

Cesar Franck's "Quintet in Minor," for piano and string quartet, was written in 1879 and was poorly received by contemporary audiences. Nearly all of the important compositions of Franck met this early fate, and it was not until his 69th year, the year in which he died (1890) that performances of his compositions met with any marked success.

Gem Deadlines To Be Set After Holidays

"The dates of the deadlines for the Gem material will not be issued until three or four weeks after the Christmas holidays. After they are once given, there will be no extending or shifting of dates as there has been done in the past; but they will be definite," reported Jimmy Yoder.

The Gem settings are coming in very slowly, and it would be appreciated if they were speeded up a little, as there is room for more.

There have been no additions to the Gem staff recently, and no new plans for the layout have been revealed; however, the design papers are nearing completion and will be ready for approval soon.

Train Hits Taxi Injuring Two

Vision of Taxi-driver and Train Engineer Was Obscured by Rain and Darkness

When a northbound Union Pacific passenger train plowed into a Bill's taxi on the Sixth street crossing Tuesday night, Carl Stockwell, 39, driver, was seriously cut about the head and neck, and Miss Ruth Ryan, 19, Gooding, university junior, received superficial abrasions and a gash on her forehead.

Trundled over 60 feet along the tracks before the train stopped, the auto was almost completely demolished. Its occupants were saved from more serious injury by the fact that the car did not turn over.

Although both car and train were traveling slowly, neither Mr. Stockwell nor Miss Ryan saw the approaching engine. Dazed by the accident, neither knew afterward what had hit them.

Clifford Smith and the Rev. O. A. Waterman, Troy, were approaching in a car from the opposite direction at the time. Both saw the crash impending and were among the first to aid in summoning ambulance and doctors, and getting the injured to Gritman hospital.

Stockwell was at first feared to have suffered a basal skull fracture, and was treated at the hospital, while Miss Ryan was removed to the infirmary.

"The taxi was moving slowly and appeared to be almost stopped on the tracks," said Mr. Smith. "I was about to comment that he was in danger when the train struck. It lifted the car up and then shoved it along the track," he said in describing the accident.

Washington Students Vote Boycott On Japanese Goods

Members of the Student Union of the University of Washington have made a vow to boycott Japanese goods as long as Nipponese troops occupy China.

The women resolved to refuse to buy stockings and all other Japanese goods, and the men will not date any girl wearing silk stockings until Japan removes her troops.

The move came as a part of a nation-wide student boycott of silk and other Japanese goods which started at the University of Rochester recently and was approved by Vassar and many universities.

Chess Players To Gather Sunday Afternoon

Plans for inter club tournaments and match play were discussed when chess enthusiasts gathered at the Fil house Tuesday evening, reports Owen Early, one of the prime movers back of the proposed campus chess organization.

Another meeting of the embryonic organization is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Sunday at Willis Sweet hall.

The club is open to those interested in the marshalling of knights, rooks, bishops, and queens over the red and black squares as well as those to whom curling is a well known method of throwing a protective cordon around the vulnerable king, Early pointed out.

"We have about 25 people on the campus who are expert in the game," he said. "These players will soon put the idea over to those who are neophytes in the game."

C. I. O. Branded Graft By Students Who Worked on Organized Projects

Laborers in North Idaho Mines Forced To Strike Last Summer

After spending a summer in rather close connection with the C. I. O. Del Winters, engineering student from Montana, has decided that the C. I. O. will not last very long and that all it is after is graft for some big boys.

A good example of this graft, Winters commented was something that took place early after the C. I. O. started to work in the Coeur d'Alene district. A Thomas McQuire came into the district as the C. I. O. organizer. He bought a small second hand car (paid the first installment) and agreed to pay the rest in cash at the end of the month.

Winters had his first taste of the C. I. O. during the last summer when he was employed at the Sunshine Mines located between Wallace and Kellogg. George Streve and Al Berg, Lambda Chi fraternity brothers of Winters were also in the Coeur d'Alene district during the summer. They also commented on the C. I. O. trouble there.

According to Winters the trouble with the C. I. O. first started in the early part of April when they tried to unionize the Morning mines. This resulted in a month strike at the Morning mines and caused a lot of trouble for the mines in general.

"I can see where the Morning miners had a very good reason for striking," Winters said. "They had long hours and rather low pay. The result was that the hours were shortened and the employment agent was dismissed." Streve added, "The strike also made it a very strong C. I. O. camp."

Following the success in the Morning camp the C. I. O. started on the Sunshine Mines. According to Winters this was a bad move because this mine has good hours, pays the best wages in the district, and gives the men a Christmas bonus every year. However a strike was called even though there were only 200 C. I. O. members of the 500 employed. The strike started in the first part of August and lasted only a week. There was no trouble at the time. However, blasting and other violence were attributed to the C. I. O. workers after the strike was ended.

All three of the fellows commented on the fact that the C. I. O. was not helping labor but was trying to get as much graft out of it as possible.

American Mercury Prints Soph Edict

Believe it or not, the University of Idaho has received national renown! Yes sir. The sophomores scored a nation-wide hit on that rainy Friday, October 1, when they sent an airplane zooming over the campus, scattering their bombastic edict to the freshmen.

Rush up to the library, get in line, and when your turn comes, you will find in "The American Mercury" for December on page 479 a copy in toto of the sophomore edict for 1937 with a very terse and pointed remark for its classification. It is included in the department called "Americana," which attempts to display a cross section of American thought.

The sophomore edict for the class of 1941 has been given nation-wide publicity in a publication composed of the writings of some of the most famous authors in the United States, because "The American Mercury" considers it "an example of higher education at the University of Idaho."

Idaho Graduates Marry by Proxy

Elva Anderson, '36, To Join Husband Austin Clayton in Peru

Miss Elva Anderson, former well known student here who graduated with a major in journalism in 1936, was married by proxy Wednesday night to a bridegroom miles away in some tiny Peruvian copper mining camp. The groom was Austin B. Clayton, also a graduate of the university.

The ceremony took place at Jerome, Idaho, where Miss Anderson has been reporting on a Jerome newspaper since her graduation. The Rev. W. E. Willis, pastor of the Presbyterian church at that place, acted as the proxy in the full legal ceremony.

The Rev. W. E. Willis, pastor of the Presbyterian church at that place, acted as the proxy in the full legal ceremony. The marriage was performed by the Rev. Albert E. Martin, the local Methodist.

Elmer F. Beth represents Idaho at Annual Journalism Convention. Three years ago, in November, Dr. Chilton R. Bush, director of the Division of Journalism at Stanford, called a conference of journalism faculties from West coast schools of journalism which are offering a professional major curricula in journalism.

Professor Beth says the most interesting thing to him is that Washington, Oregon, Stanford, and Southern California are members of the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism, all of them being class "A" schools.

Mitchell, Oberg, Durant, Simpson, Davis, H. Sullivan, Raphael, M. Sullivan-Tapped on Tuesday

Eight outstanding junior women were pledged to Cardinal Key, national service honorary for upperclasswomen, when the active members trailed through the various houses Tuesday night to pin the ribbons on the chosen few.

Sara Mitchell, Audrey Oberg, Vera Durant, Ardis Simpson, Carol Jean Davis, Helen Sullivan, Marie Raphael, and Marj Sullivan are now wearing the red and yellow pledge ribbons of the organization.

The pledges were entertained at a banquet at the Hotel Moscow, and later introduced at an assembly of the Associated Women Students. Julia Moore, president of Cardinal Key, presented them to the group.

Active Women Membership in the organization is based on points in scholarship and activities under the prescribed merit system, and on personality. The present year's activities are the only ones accredited.

Sara Mitchell is house president, Spur advisor, member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Pan-Hellenic society, A. W. S. council, and vice president of the Junior class.

Audrey Oberg belongs to Phi Chi Theta, is a member of the A. W. S. Council and Pan-Hellenic society, works on the staffs of the Blue Bucket and Argonaut, and belongs to Westminster Guild and Women's Athletic Association.

Besides being treasurer of the A. W. S., Vera Durant belongs to Phi Chi Theta and W. A. A. is vice president of Pan-Hellenic society, and a worker on the Gem and Argonaut staffs.

Ardis Simpson is house president, a member of the ASU executive board in the capacity of secretary, and a member of Phi Chi Theta and Women's Athletic Association.

Carol Jean Davis is exchange editor of the Blue Bucket staff, secretary of the junior class, works on the Argonaut, is a member of W. A. A. and the council of A. W. S., and works on the Gem business staff.

U of I Campus Strangely Barren As Students Go Home Turkey Day

The North Pole in the midst of a howling blizzard looks as thickly populated as a New York subway train during the five o'clock rush when contrasted to the University of Idaho campus Thanksgiving day. An outsider, visiting Moscow for the first time would have thought that a flood was impending and the entire populace had fled for safety.

A tremendous headache, but served to make the fortunate people who consumed all the turkey so lazy that they stumbled into the lounges of their respective domiciles, not to leave them except to retire long after darkness had fallen.

It Finally Happened

Where the railroad tracks cross sixth street was the scene of what might have been a horrible disaster last Tuesday evening.

Every day in the year, hundreds of automobiles whiz over these tracks, their drivers sometimes glancing down to see if a train is approaching, but more often not.

True, someone was negligent. Probably, if it hadn't been raining, or at night, the accident would never have happened.

It is small wonder that such an accident has not happened before and that someone was not seriously injured or killed in Tuesday night's crash.

Letters To the Editor

The letters appearing in this column do not necessarily reflect the policy of the Argonaut, nor the opinions of the editor.

Every time I go in the door to the lobby of the student union building, I am confronted with a starting group of S.U.B.L.L.S. (Student Union Building Lounge Lizards) through whom I am forced to run the gauntlet to the door of the Argonaut office.

Although she may have overdrawn the situation, "Disgusted" has a point. The S.U.B. lobby is always crowded with the same persons, is the scene of much wasted time.—ed.

It is my impression that the Blue Bucket inn is supposed to be managed for the convenience of students.

On numerous occasions I have attempted to lunch at the Bucket, ordering sandwiches or, in some cases, one of the combination dinners.

I have no complaint to make with the service from the fountain, which is speedy enough except at times when the place is crowded.

A New Slant On Athletics

With the current football season now at a close, the time for the annual charges, counter-charges, and public breast-beatings has arrived.

New in popularity, however, is six man football. Invented three years ago by Stephen E. Epler, the game this year gained standing in all sections of the country.

FOR NON VARSITY MEN At Michigan State, as at every institution, with an athletic reputation to maintain the vast majority of students get their exercise vicariously, not that it isn't a fine thing for the youth of the land to get out of a Saturday afternoon and express their loyalty and devotion to alma mater.

It is obvious, however, that this system does little for the health of the general student body. Nothing can be done about the men who compete in intercollegiate athletics, so long as such importance is placed on winning.

Small medals and sweaters, similar to those given to freshman numeral winners, could be awarded. A real incentive to four years of athletic participation would be a major letter sweater with some form of "S".

Mrs. Dale Honored At A. W. S. Tea

Mrs. Harrison C. Dale, wife of the president of the university, will be honored Friday, December 10, at a tea and reception given by the associated women students at the Student Union building from 3 to 5 o'clock.

In the receiving line, besides Mrs. Dale, will be Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women, Mary McKinley, A. W. S. president, and Marjorie Glenn, vice president.

Verla Durant, A. W. S. treasurer, and Phyllis Lewis, secretary, will pour. Four outstanding girls from each house and hall will assist with the serving.

The committee in charge of the tea is Helen Berg, Ethyl Gehrke, Marjorie Glenn, and Margaret Brown.

Kappas Broadcast On KRLC Hookup

Music by Kappa Kappa Gamma was presented over radio station KRLC in its regular Wednesday broadcast from Moscow from five to six p.m. November 24. The Kappa program presented the Kappa trio, a chorus, and instrumental numbers. Next Wednesday's broadcast will be sponsored by Delta Gamma from 5 to 5:30 and by Phi Delta Theta until 6 p.m.

The chorus of 10 voices sang "I Love You Truly," "When Our College Days Are Over," "Mystic Maze," and "Beat of My Heart." They were accompanied by Mary Lou Fahrenwald at the piano. Miss Fahrenwald also played two solos, "Deep Purple," and "Lento" by Cyril Scott.

The number "Posin" was sung by the Kappa trio composed of Joanne Enger, Ann LaRue, and Barbara White. Miss Enger sang "If You Ever Should Leave," and "So Many Memories." Rosalie Sanderson, the house president, spoke of the fraternity.

The third in this series of programs presenting campus fraternity talent from KRLC will present the fraternities of Delta Gamma and Phi Delta Theta.

This Moscow hour is broadcast from the stage of the Kenworthy theatre over leased wire to the main studios of KRLC located in the Lewis-Clark hotel in Lewiston. The Moscow representative in charge is Robert Klise.

The Delta Gamma part of next Wednesday's program is still in a formative stage. Phi Delta Theta has scheduled Homer David as master of ceremonies with an octet singing a group of Idaho fight songs, instrumental trio, a chorus, and solo arrangements for Wallace Garets.

Phi Betes Prefer Keys To Medals

It is inevitable that students at California should be thinking a little more seriously about the war in China than students elsewhere. For not only are they geographically nearer, but they are made conscious of the plight of fellow students from the Orient, many of them stranded without funds or letters from home. And these are frankly concerned.

In San Francisco eager crowds gather in front of the newspaper offices in Chinatown to read the cryptic bulletins that pile up in perpendicular columns. And even the youngest slant-eyed child is selling gardenias and shining shoes and begging your pennies for the war.

So that it becomes doubly interesting to learn that Phi Beta Kappa at the University of California recently passed a resolution condemning military training there as not conducive to scholarship. They prefer the gold keys of a brilliant student to all the medals a soldier can earn. No bugle call, they have decided, will tempt them to lay aside their books and shoulder arms on a foreign soil.

New Feminine Fad Is Scarf With Sport Dope

Newest wrinkle in feminine fads is a scarf to be worn to football games with the sports dope for the season printed on it in gay colors. If anyone offers to bet you two to one on the outcome of the afternoon's struggle, take time out and glance at your clothes before taking him up on it. This scarf is an article of clothing you probably won't want to carry over until next year, particularly if there are many upsets on it like Ohio State's defeat by U. S. C. and Washington's trimming by Oregon State. On the other hand, it's a neat object to toss into the stadium along with flying pillows and hats when the team is victorious.

A fashion circular sent out by a leading men's clothing manufacturer has the following note: "University men are getting away from the local campus fashions and abiding more by the rules of dress in accordance with build and complexion." But so far this is more a stylist's prayer than an actuality. When I made this observation recently in a magazine article, the protest was loud and emphatic. It was the men from notoriously careless universities who set up the hue and cry. The well dressed men said nothing.

Ross Parsons was appointed to approach Dean Miller in an attempt to secure such an authorization. A suggestion was also made that such priority dates as the Senior Ball be announced far enough ahead to avoid conflicts with functions of other organizations.

BUS PASSING LAW TO BE ENFORCED

Motor vehicle drivers must respect the Idaho law which prohibits the passing of school buses that are stopped on the highway while loading and unloading children. Violators of this traffic regulation will be arrested. This was the announcement of J. L. Balderston, commissioner of the state law enforcement department, in reviewing reports in connection with the recent accident to a school boy who was run down by the driver of an automobile reported to have been traveling at a high rate of speed when passing the school bus from which the boy had stepped.

A university is primarily an idea and the responsibility for framing that idea belongs to the student, Dr. Franklin Bliss Snyder, vice president, told 1,700 Northwestern university students.

Honorary Pledges Sophomore Woman

Annia Claire Herman, a sophomore in the junior college, was pledged Monday night to Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman honorary for women, as a result of her attainment of a scholastic average of 5.5 for the entire year.

Plans were also begun for a tea to be given in the near future for all freshman women having a scholastic average of 5.0 or better for the first nine-weeks period.

Lonely Hearts Club Remains Lonely At U. of California

There are 15,000 students enrolled at the University of California and some of them must sit alone in melancholy state and pine for love and companionship. So reasoned three students on the staff of the "Occident", the campus literary magazine. And to cheer their hermit life at college, they organized a Lonely Hearts club and advertised for "pen pals." The first day's mail brought eleven answers, and the founders announced that the applicants were being "thoroughly investigated." Communications continued to pour in.

Today no one is more lonely than the Lonely Hearts club. The "Occident" decided that there was no room for it in the office; and without so much as a post-office box to shelter it, the founders sold the files, letters and good will, if any, to the engineers for the sum of a dollar. The purchasers, when interviewed, admitted that they thought they could use some of the names for the engineer's dance this fall, thus bridging the loneliness of a good many Californians with noble intentions and a bad pun.

Along Fraternity Row

Dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta Thursday were Gwinn Rice, Robert Casey, Elliot Bradford, King Torgensen, Donald Wilson, Ronald Lambert, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wagzener.

Week-end guests of Pi Beta Phi are Miss Myrtle Jensen, Pocatello, and Miss Lois Thomas, Ashton. Miss Ida Mae Gillenwater, Miss Betty Magel, Miss Helen Banbury, Miss Mickey Smith, Miss Myrtle Jensen, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Hampton, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Huff were dinner guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Thursday.

Sigma Nu Fireside Sigma Nu entertained at a fireside Wednesday evening. Mrs. D. Kellogg, Nampa, and Miss Maxine McCowan, Pullman, were dinner guests of Delta Gamma Thursday.

Delta Delta Delta entertained Lambda Chi Alpha at a "Priscilla and John" dinner-dance Monday evening.

Thursday dinner guests of Beta Theta Pi were Mrs. J. D. Russell, La Grande, and Jim Maguire, Anaconda, Mont.

Tuesday Guests Chi Alpha Pi entertained Dr. Allan C. Lemon, Dr. and Mrs. W. Wayne Smith, and Dr. C. M. Drury at dinner Tuesday evening.

Phi Gamma Delta held an informal fireside at the chapter house Wednesday evening. Dorian Peterson was a dinner guest of Chi Alpha Pi on Thursday.

Spurs Will Sell Xmas Greens For Holly Day

Spurs will sell holly and holly wreaths on December 11 for the annual sophomore Holly Day week, to be held December 11 to December 16.

Holly will sell for 15 cents a sprig, and the wreaths will be $1.50. The Spurs will make a house to house canvass to sell the wreaths.

"We hope that every house will buy a holly wreath to hang in the front door or window," Margaret Allison, chairman of the holly sales said.

Houses are already making plans for their Holly Day decorations, and practices for the sophomore serenade, under the direction of Dan Danielson, serenade chairman, have begun.

"The holly day assembly will be the best ever," promised Bud Morse, assembly chairman. Other committee chairmen are Dick Phinney, publicity chairman; Ron Parke, decoration chairman; Bill Tomlinson, general chairman; Stan Hume, sophomore class president; Margaret Gridley, decorations co-chairman; Mike Sullivan, dance co-chairman; Frank Severn, dance co-chairman; and Arthur Swan, ticket chairman.

Chicago To Hold Stock Exposition

America's biggest farm congress, the International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show, will open in Chicago next Saturday morning in the International Amphitheatre.

The exposition will be in progress for eight days, from November 27 to December 4. It will be the 38th anniversary of this largest annual showing of live stock and farm products.

Cattle From 25 States Purebred beef cattle breeders from 25 states and three Canadian provinces will exhibit a total of 1,346 animals. Short-horn and Aberdeen-angus herds will be sent from 19 states and Canada, and Herefords will be there from 12 states. They will be coming from such distances as Texas and Alberta, the state of Washington and New York.

Sheep breeders from 16 states and Canada, representing a territory from Ontario to Oklahoma and Massachusetts to Montana, will send exhibition flocks for the competitions of eleven different breeds.

Farm youths from 12 states will compete on the opening day in a junior live stock feeding contest. They will exhibit a total of 405 baby beves, lambs, and pigs of their own raising, most of which have been prize winners at state and county fairs.

Big Draft Horse Show A total of 465 draft horses, representing five breeds, will be exhibited by breeders in 13 states, Alberta, Ontario, and Quebec; and swine herds have been listed by stockmen in ten states. Farmers from 35 states and six provinces of Canada have made entries for the 19th International Grain and Hay Show, which will be held coincident with the live stock exposition. Most spectacular awards are the corn and wheat championships. The winners will be crowned "Corn King" and "Wheat King" of the year.

Livestock feeders in 15 states, Ontario, and Saskatchewan will exhibit over 300 carloads of cattle, sheep, and swine in the exposition's carlot competitions.

HONORARY TAKES NEW MEMBERS

Hell Divers university swimming honorary, initiated 12 Tuesday evening and followed with a banquet at the Nobby Inn. About 25 members were present.

The following were taken into the organization: Jean Cunningham, Geneva Cramer, Paty Safranek, Mary Low Fahr-enwald, Elizabeth De Kay, Claudia Ashby, Jack Van de Steeg, Bob Cook, W. W. Roberts, Walter Wade, Ned Bowler, and Roderic Hearn. The new members furnished entertainment during the banquet. Regular business taken up at the meeting included the formation of plans for the annual water carnival to be held some time in the spring. Irving Rauw, president of the group, has written to Ray Daughters, famous University of Washington swimming teacher and coach of numerous Olympic stars, for suggestions of new water formations to be used at the carnival.

Cross-Town Bus Starts Operation With New Time Schedule Soon

Tuesday marked the full day's business of Moscow's new cross-town bus line and Albert Neely, owner and operator, reported that he was highly pleased with the results.

He admitted as much that night as he shined the gray and vermillion surface of the modern 22-passenger vehicle, which ended its first full day's run at 9 p.m. The last run will be made at that time every night, except Friday and Saturday, Mr. Neely said.

He promised a serviceable schedule within a week. "Trial and error method is the only one we have to work by in arranging our regular schedule," the driver-owner pointed out. Stops and starts for the air-conditioned, well-heated bus will be regulated in order to have students at the administration building before 8 a.m. and 1:03 p.m. each day.

As soon as a schedule for the new bus line is determined, handbills will be printed and passed out over the campus advertising the schedule. At present the bus has been coming from town up Sixth street to Deakin avenue and University avenue to the U-hut then to the Administration building. The fare is 10 cents. No definite stops have been worked out as yet, the drivers relying on prospective passengers to flag them.

Meeting To Hear Idaho Ag Papers

Two papers written by present and former members of the staff of the university college of agriculture are to be read before the American Association for Animal Production meeting in Chicago, November 28 to December 4, according to university officials. The university will not be represented at the meeting.

"Phosphorus requirements for beef cattle and sheep," written by Prof. C. W. Hickman, head of the animal husbandry department, in collaboration with Dr. W. M. Beeson, now at the University of Arizona at Tucson, presents a study of the need for phosphorus in animals and of the feeds that contain or are deficient in phosphorus. Hays and grains are strong in phosphorus while root crops are particularly deficient.

The second paper is "Breeding Studies in Sheep" by Dr. E. M. Gildow of the animal husbandry department and the experiment station veterinarian. The association comprises university professors, research men and scientists with an interest in livestock production.

Idaho Cross Country Team Coast Winners

On a muddy, rainy, course, the University of Idaho cross country team climaxed an undefeated season Wednesday afternoon in Portland, by snatching the trophy symbolic of Pacific Coast cross country supremacy from Hec Edmundson's University of Washington Huskies.

In tallying their fourth win of the year, Coach Mike Ryan's distance men garnered top honors with a total score of 31 points. The Huskies, pre-meet co-favorites with the Vandals, had to be content with second place, scoring 69 points. To win their championship, Idaho defeated Washington, Oregon, Oregon State, Montana, Willamette, University of Portland, and Linfield college.

Clearly demonstrating their superior team strength over all other contestants, the local harriders finished the first five of their seven man team in fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and ninth position. Only three other schools were represented in the first ten finishers.

O'Neill's Record Unbroken
The course record, set by Bill O'Neill of Idaho last year, was insured of safety by the heavy muck through which the runners were forced to travel. Rose's winning time was 24:02 compared to O'Neill's record of 22:54.4.

Pat Probst, veteran distance runner from Idaho who had not come up to expectancy all season, proved his real value by finishing fourth, the first Vandal across the line. Within nine seconds, Munday, the new dusky speedster for Idaho, Millette, and Glade all crossed the finish for the Silver and Gold.

Wesley Lathen followed these three just nine seconds later to grab ninth place, and clinch the meet for the Vandal leather lungers. Rex Fluarty finished fourteenth, and Dan Petersen sailed the eighteenth position away for the rest of the Vandal scoring.

The results:
Rose, M 25:03; Gitchell, M 23:09; Storiol, O 23:37; Probst, I 23:38; Munday, I 23:42; Millette, I 23:44; Glade, I 23:47; Lyden, P 23:52; Lathen, I 23:56; McGinnis, W 24:07; Crossdill, W 24:14; Coleman, W 24:17; McCombert, O.S.C. 24:18; Fluarty, I 24:28; Young, L 24:28; Loyal, O 24:44; Bogross, W 24:46; Petersen, I 24:53; Cortwright, W 25:10; Lewis, O.S.C. 25:12; Plymali, P 25:15; Wolpert, L 25:23; Bell, O 25:33; Colombo, P 25:41; Gilpin, O.S.C. 25:44; Tucker, O.S.C. 25:46; Rubnick, W 25:54; Davidson, O 26:28; Hooper, L 26:29; Bandy, year carried a rabbit's foot in O.S.C. 26:32; Litherman, O.S.C., his suit at all the games. Vandal Personalities

By Bill McGowan
Like Harold Rolse, Lyle Smith is another product of a Moscow high school who has made good in a big way on the University of Idaho varsity pigskin squad.

After two years of experience at center and half on the football team, and two years of basketball competition during which Moscow high won the state championship, Lyle transferred to the Southern branch of the University of Idaho. Coming back to Idaho last year he made a name for himself with the casaba flingers, and this year yanked down the starting post at the pivot position on Ted Bank's snail line skippers.

During the past eight games on the Vandal schedule, Smith has averaged a sprained ankle a game. Shock after shock weakened them, but with a long rest coming up for him after basketball season, Vandal followers look for him to go great guns at center next fall.

Lyle's work on the maple boards has so impressed Forest Twogood that the coach has ordered a special pair of shatter-proof glasses for the gentleman to wear during the coming basketball games.

Although practically a native Idmitly was born in Washington. He is 22 years old, tips the scales at 190 pounds, and reaches into the stratosphere a total of 6 feet and 1 inch. A junior, he has another year of competition. He is majoring in P. E.
Outside of this year's crop of ankle sprains, his only other injury was a broken nose suffered in high school. Football Teams Feted By Local Chamber of Commerce Tuesday Night

Teamates Elect Stonko Pavkov Honorary Captain of 1937 Vandal Team
Over 200 football enthusiasts, including members of the chamber of commerce, the University of Idaho varsity and freshmen squads, and the Moscow high school team banqueted last night at the Student Union building at the annual party dedicated to the successful wind-up of the grid season.

It was an evening of mutual congratulations and good will. Gale Mix, who acted as toastmaster, introduced Idaho's "head man", Coach Ted Bank, whose talk was interrupted by a burlesque broadcast of a football game from a loudspeaker over the banquet tables. Well known "downtown coaches" made up the two teams, and descriptions of the mythical game brought many laughs.
Coach Bank resumed to announce Vandal lettermen, introduce members of his squad, and sound a warning to freshmen to "turn out for spring practice if you want to make the squad next fall."

Pavkov Elected Captain
He announced election of Stonko Pavkov, 220-pound tackle from Gooding, Idaho, as honorary captain of the 1937 team. Theissen, Musial, Knap, Rolse, and Aschenbrenner he named as men who had played the longest time in 1937 games.

Green, Pavkov, Gray Voted "I" Blankets By Executive Board

Thirty varsity football men at the University of Idaho were voted awards Tuesday night at the meeting of the student executive board. Three men, Dean Green, Stonko Pavkov, and Roy Gray, were voted blankets for their three years of competition.

Men completing their second year of athletic competition for the Vandals and winning their second stripe are: Lyle Smith, Walter Musial, Kenneth Carberry, George Theissen, Tony Knap, Roland Winter, Richard Trzuskowski, Keith Sundberg, Steve Belko, Rex Willard, Harold Rolse, Milton Osterhout, Rudy Aschenbrenner, Gerald Dellinger, and Earl Gregory.
New Lettermen
First year lettermen are: Jack Donovan, Tony Kamelevicz, Ray Kacmarek, Emory Howard, George Chrape, Merle Stoddard, Edgar Wilson, Harold Durham, Richard Therrell, James Johnston, and Jasper Nutting.

Fifteen of the men winning varsity awards are native Idahoans, the balance of the award earners are from out of state.
Yearlings Given Numerals
Freshmen putting in the time to win numeral sweaters, embellished with a large 1941, are: Charles Kneller, William Bates, Fred Rettberg, Arthur Bland, Warren Galahan, Glenn Rathbun, Ronald Harris, Herbert Carlson, Horace Brelsford, Earl Acuff, Frank Reynolds, Paul Ryan, Garland Barlogi, Barney Hayes, Robert McAmis, Clifford Palfreyman, Wesley Middleton, William Smith, Ray Branom, Gordon Sandison, William Neal, Milo Anderson, Charles Glasby, and Kenneth Weiland.

Basketball To See Organized Rooting

Plans for organized rooting at the basketball games this season will be formulated in the near future, says Charles Finnell, yell king. King Charley has been promised the assistance of the Alpha Phi Chi, a national service honorary, which is beginning its activities on the Idaho campus.
Expressing himself as very well pleased with the spirit of the student body, at the Idaho-Montana football game, Finnell hopes to see similar support at the basketball games.
The Alpha Phi Chi, which assisted in the final rally of the football season, is composed of intra-mural sports managers of 20 men's residence groups, who in addition to managing the athletic contests between the houses, have taken the task of encouraging intercollegiate athletic competition.
Officers of the group, advised by faculty members Gien Jacoby and his assistant, Claude Hart, are Thomas Gill, president; William Castagneto, vice president; Don Bislante, secretary; and Robert Ratliff, treasurer.

CAL GALS SMOKE IN "U" ROOMS

Hostess committee members of the University of California are planning a set of rules for smoking in women's rest rooms in university buildings.
Fire precaution and sanitary conditions will be considered and only those rooms containing proper equipment will be used. The plan came about after trouble with girls smoking in the rest rooms, and it was decided proper permission would be safer.

Idaho Has One Auto To Four Persons Statistics Show

Idaho has one automobile to every four persons or two motor vehicles of all kinds to every seven persons. This heavy increase in cars of all descriptions is shown by the registration in the office of J. L. Balderston, commissioner of law enforcement. The heaviest increase was noted in passenger cars with 7,406 more in the ten months this year than in the same period of any previous year. An increase of 2,003 is also noted in farm trucks. With the increase in motor vehicles, there has been a corresponding increase in the mileage of improved roads. There are now more than 27 cars to every mile of hard-surfaced or graveled highways while there are five motor vehicles for every mile of the 36,624 miles of roads of all descriptions.

Uniforms Arrive For Officers

Junior cadet officers will soon be dressed up in new uniforms, Sam Browne belts and all the trappings. Major Sutherland announced today that the consignment of uniforms arrived on Wednesday and are now in Davids' being fitted and altered. As soon as alterations are completed, the uniforms will be formally issued from the department. Becoming permanent property of recipients, the uniforms are paid for out of the government allowance paid advance students in military.

Varsity Boxers Train Hard For Opening Match Against W. S. C.

Final arrangements for the Idaho-Washington State boxing card to be held in Moscow December 3 were completed today, according to Louis August, Idaho boxing coach.
Headlining the card is Jess Willard, Jr., for the Cougars, and Jim Nixon, hard hitting Idaho boxer, at 175 pounds. Moscow fans are anxious to see the junior Willard in action and the bouts are awaited by Moscow fans and students.
Benoit Meets Waller
Other Idaho men slated to appear and their opponents are: Captain Ralph Miller, Idaho, is pitted against Doug Blessinger, Washington State, 115 pounds. Bud Benoit, Idaho gentleman of the ring, meets Captain Paul Waller of Washington State college in the 135 pound class.
At 125 pounds, Aaron Blewett, Idaho veteran, tangles with Andy Tedrick, Cougar veteran. Joe Fallini, Idaho's tiger, steps into the ring with Miles Erickson, Washington State, in the 145 pound event. Vandal football letterman Carl Osterhout, takes up the gloves again to box Carl Stock, Cougar, at 155.

Sports Picture of the Week

Helen Mills Moody, one-time women's tennis champion, is caught in a fast action shot when she resumed tournament play in Los Angeles following her recent divorce. Critics said she was in fine form.

Rifle Team Soon To Begin Practice On Armory Range

Practice will begin for the university men's rifle team as soon as Captain Waters, who has been convalescing from an operation since September, resumes his duties in the military department. Captain Waters succeeds Captain Norman as coach of the rifle teams this year.
Remodeling on seven of the eleven targets on the armory range is nearly complete, and the remaining four will soon be disposed of. Not satisfied with the quarter-inch steel back stops, Major Sutherland has had them reinforced with a three-eighths inch spring steel strip running perpendicularly up the center of each.
"The four targets upon which remodeling has not been started are being ripped down today, and it will be interesting to note how the steel-plate backing has been worn through by the continuous peppering of 22 bullets," remarked Major Sutherland.

I KISS YOUR HAND

No place for co-eds in Tufts college where members of the Union club have adopted what they describe as a "safe and sane" attitude toward women, particularly the girls at Jackson college. Articles in the constitution make it unlawful to go steady with any girl, to keep company at any time with any co-ed from Jackson, to forsake study to keep a social engagement, or to have more than two dates without permission of the union. A kiss is cause for immediate expulsion, but think with what gallantry a Tufts man can hand in his resignation.

Ober to Fight

James Clabby, star Idaho freshman a year ago at 165 pounds meets Darwin Meiners, Cougar ace. Forrest Ober, another Idaho football player and boxer, opens his current fistic season with George Hubert, Washington State gridman.
All bouts are for three rounds. Two preliminary bouts will bring the card to 30 rounds of boxing.

---From The Bench---

By Bill McGowan
(Guest Writer)

While Bill Johnston, your regular correspondent, recuperates from a tough session spent with a turkey at his pater's domicile, I shall try to recapitulate, and bring you the highlights of the past Vandal season.
Undoubtedly, this has been Coach Ted Bank's most successful season as head of Idaho's gridiron trusties. Losing three out of eight tough games is a record any school, any coach, and any team can well be proud of. Idaho was goosed by W. S. C., St. Mary's, and Utah, but they in turn held Montana and Gonzaga scoreless, both teams claiming all-Americans in Karamatic and Popovich, and also kept Utah from crossing their goal line.
While the Vandal gridders rolled up no large scores, only the University of Washington could score as much as 14 points more than Idaho. Credit for the defensive bulwark the Silver and Gold presented goes largely to their great forward wall.

Offensively, the Bankmen relied on a passing attack during their early season encounters, which made them one of the most dangerous passing teams on the coast. Because of sloppy fields, the Vandals returned to the more orthodox line-plunging during their last two games, and proved equally as effective.
Probably the greatest thrills of the season were brought to the Idaho rooters in the opening and closing games. Given only the slimmest chance by their rooters to defeat the highly touted Oregon State Beavers, Idaho's fighting footballers defeated the O. S. C. gang 7-0 with two last minute passes which left every spectator in the stands weeping from excitement. In their final encounter with the previously undefeated Montana Grizzlies, Ted Bank's boys battled through three scoreless quarters only to rip the Montana line to shreds in the closing minutes and wreck the Grizzlies' "Bowl" trophies with a 6-0 win. A fourth quarter field goal by "Bud Shekels" Belko won a third thriller from Utah State 9-7.

While it is true Idaho is losing some great men in Pavkov, Theissen, Carberry, Nutting, Osterhout, Winter, Green, Dellinger, Willott, and Gray, no true Vandal fan can help but look upon next year's season as Idaho's greatest since they tied for the Pacific Coast conference championship back in the '20s.

Look at the experienced veterans back next year to bring the Silver and Gold to the top of the pile! Hal Rolse, one of the outstanding kickers on the coast, if not in the nation; Maurice Young, the Pennsylvania speedster; Eddie Wilson, another speedster; "Bull" Durham, the flashy full; Rex Willard, a great halfback; "Tony the Terror" Kamelevicz; Jimmy Johnston, a truly bright prospect; Emory Howard, the boy who caught the touchdown pass against O. S. C.; Ray Smith and Tony Knap, two of the "tightest" ends Idaho has ever had; Jack Donovan, the hard-working guard; Carl Gra, an up and coming center; Aschenbrenner, Kacmarek, Ober, Musial, Smith, Weinberg, and Therrell, a booming bunch of fighters on the line; Steve Belko, the hero of more than one game; Gordon Price, another speedy half; Ed Elliott, Merle Stoddard, and Earl Gregory, tough speed burners; George Chrape, the potential all-American who suffered a broken ankle early in the season; and one of the greatest all-around players any team or any coach in the nation could hope for, powerful Dick "Truck" Trzuskowski.

Everyone on the band wagon Idaho is going places!

Vandal Basketball Team Gains Strength; Grid Men Join Squad

"Looking stronger every day," was the way Coach Forrest Twogood described his varsity basketball team as it prepares for the first game of the year against Whitman at Walla Walla December 2.

The squad worked out Thursday morning and took up their regular practice schedule again today. Coach Twogood will be away Friday and Saturday, attending the Pacific Coast conference meeting in Seattle. Freshman Coach Al Paddock will take over the varsity coaching duties in his absence.
Play Freshmen Tuesday
The annual freshman-varsity game will be played as an open scrimmage next Tuesday. Coach Twogood announced. In a scrimmage this week, the varsity showed up well, defeating the yearlings with ease. The game next week is open to the public.
An addition to the schedule for the south Idaho road trip was announced this week. The College of Idaho game, previously just a rumor, was set definitely to be played in Boise December 18. The hoped-for schedule this year will include 32 games, 20 of them conference affairs.

U. C. L. A. December 16 and 17 Games with Whitman and Cheney will occupy the Vandals during the first few weeks of their season. The highlight of the pre-Christmas season is the U. C. L. A. series here on December 16 and 17.
With the addition of new players who, have just transferred from the football team, and with the practice the other regulars have been obtaining during the past weeks of practice, the squad is rapidly shaping up to a fine prospective team.
