Saturday Will End Xmas Decorating

Holly Day Assembly
Features 18-Piece
Swing Band Wed.
In Auditorium

As the Christmas Holly Day decorations deadline, Saturday night, draws nearer group houses have started arranging colored lights and evergreen boughs in an effort to win the 11-inch loving cups which will be awarded to the winning houses.

Bringing Christmas atmosphere to the campus, sophomores today started sale of Holly wreaths at $2.50 under the management of Margaret Allison, chairman of the Holly Day sales committee.

"Our objective is to make the campus Holly Day conscious by placing a holly wreath on the door of every group house," reports Margaret Allison.

Assemblies Courts Rhythm Spurs will make the nearness of sophomore Holly Day week even more evident by starting sale of Holly sprigs next Monday.

As a result of the latest decision the assembly will be held from 6:45 to 7:45. Among the outstanding features will be a number by Ed Albany's "College Marvels", a harmonica band, a tap dance, a trio, new numbers by an 18 piece swing orchestra, and numerous other surprises.

Phil Harris' new arrangement of "Canal Water" will be swung to at the dance for the first time on the Idaho campus.

Programs and tickets, which are now on sale at the Student Union book store, are being bought rapidly. Tickets are also being sold by group house representatives who were named at noon today.

Getter Get Two
Students are again reminded that the programs are limited in number, and only those who are among the first to buy will be sure of getting programs with tickets. These tickets are selling at 40 cents apiece with two tickets per couple being necessary for admission. The dance is definitely scheduled for December 16, with dancing from 8:30 to 11:30.

A broadcast from the dance has been arranged from 10:15 to 10:45 over NBC.

In answer to the inquiries of several freshman girls who attended Dean Miller's orientation class, results show women who had either missed the test or failed it had to retake it.

Steps which a journalist should follow in writing a scientific story were summed up at the meeting as follows: (1) preparation for interview, (2) interview, (3) writing the story, (4) checking with news source for accuracy.

Heads Miss Point
Headlines came in for a share of criticism, because of the misleading effect which they sometimes produce. "Leads," or the opening paragraph of news stories, were both condemned and lauded, the journalists justifying their attempt to promote readability of what otherwise might be dry, scientific facts; and the scientists criticizing them for often entirely missing the point of a story, or by emphasizing unimportant details which have a dramatic or bizarre aspect.

President Dale Receives Students' Petition Against Rulings of Dean

Yesterday's Demands

Demands drawn up by members of the ASUI and presented to Pres. Harrison C. Dale by John Banks, student body president, upon President Dale's return to the campus Thursday noon are published as follows. Copies were made and distributed to all organized residence groups on the campus.

We, as representatives of the group houses and residences of the campus, request that the following changes be made immediately in rules governing the activities of women students on the campus:

1. We ask that the closing hours be 12 p.m. Friday nights; 12:30 a.m. on Saturday nights; 9 p.m. on Sunday nights; except when permission has been granted for the students to leave the campus for the week-end.
2. We ask that members of women's honorary organizations be allowed to enter men's houses unchaperoned when on official business.
3. We ask that women be allowed to smoke in men's houses during social affairs.
4. We ask that women be granted permission have and drive cars on the campus.
5. We ask that house-mothers be allowed to attend shows and social functions on week-end nights.
6. We ask that the houses be given permission to set their own penalties for lock-outs and date cutting, and other minor offenses, and that these penalties are to be enforced within their own house.

In addition to these changes, there are various small grievances held by the majority of the students that we wish to present.

In addition to these requests, which we want acted upon as soon as possible, we ask that immediate action be taken and permission granted for freshmen and sophomore women students to attend A.S.U.I. play tonight, for which they have already paid their admission price. We also ask that immediate action be taken to grant permission for these same students to attend a Sophomore assembly and Holly-day dance next week.

Strike Halted as Permission Is Granted for Frosh to Attend Play and Assembly

Entrance of President Harrison C. Dale into the picture spiked a student strike which was to have been called at 1 p.m. yesterday in protest to the social rules enforced by Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women.

Presidents of all group houses met at the Student Union building Thursday morning, drew up a list of grievances which were presented to the president in petition on his return from South Idaho.

President Dale immediately announced that freshmen and sophomore women would be allowed to attend the ASUI play last night and that 8 o'clock permission would be granted for the Holly Day assembly Tuesday. The president acted over the rulings of Dean Miller, who had previously refused Thursday play attendance by underclass women and extension of the assembly permission.

Capacity Audience Sees Second Play

Drama Involves Sociological Problem; Players Give Splendid Interpretations

Henrik Ibsen's "A Doll House" was presented last night at 8 o'clock in the university auditorium before a large audience.

This three-act sociological problem drama was dramatized admirably by Carol Jean Davis and Peter Dodds, who gave fine interpretations of the leading roles, supported by crippled, philosophical George Oram; Melvin Westerdahl; Margaret Marcus, a woman of the world; Helen Abbott, and Marjorie Lester, youngsters; Buddy Hagen and Ann Trueblood, in their quaint Victorian costumes, delighted the cast and audience alike.

Each phase of the production, including costumes, setting, and lighting was directed and supervised by Miss Jean Collette and Mr. J. F. Sollers of the dramatics department, assisted by Naomi Hillman, Ruth Bennett, Kenneth Arnett, Justin Slete, and Harold Wennstrom.

The play will be presented again tonight at 8 o'clock.

Debaters Discuss National Question

Annual Inland Empire Tournament Will Begin Here January 15.

"Resolved—That there should be compulsory national arbitration of labor disputes," the Pi Kappa Delta national debate question for 1937, was considered by 18 freshmen and sophomores at a forensic meeting Wednesday called by Coach A. E. Whitehead.

Work is being started in preparation for the annual Inland Empire junior college debate tournament, which will begin January 15.

The first debate of the triangular men's tournament with W. S. C. and Whitman was held on the campus Wednesday evening when Dave McCarrill and James Duree of W. S. C. met Leslie McCarthy and Leonard Arrington of Idaho. Decision will not be released until the completion of seven debates on the Pullman campus Saturday.

Idaho will be represented by Leonard Arrington, Leslie McCarthy, Joseph Carr, Norman Rhodes, Lewis Levering, Gerald Richardson, John Young, Hubert Miller, Roy Stark, and Cliff Dohler.

Rifle Team Names Otto Nelson As New Captain

Otto Nelson, '38, Moscow, was elected captain of this year's rifle team yesterday at a meeting held in the university armory. Robert Abbey, '39, Boise, was elected manager. Nelson was unopposed on the ballot, Robert Abbott and Bill Guthrie, other nominees having withdrawn. Abbey was opposed by John Elder but won by a single vote.

This is the first year that the team has chosen officers. The election was held at the request of Capt. Edwin Waters, this year's coach, who felt that the team needed some responsible representatives to handle routine team activities. He suggested that both offices be filled with senior members if possible. However, since only one senior was available for office, the manager was chosen from the junior class. Voting was restricted to old members.

Vandalers Carol For 3rd Concert

The University of Idaho Vandalers, directed by Prof. Archie N. Jones, will present the third annual candlelight Christmas carol concert Wednesday evening, December 15, at 11 p.m. in the University auditorium. KFPY will broadcast the entire program by remote control from the auditorium stage.

Traditional folk carols—Christmas music by Bach, Christiansen, and Handel—will be sung. Special numbers will be presented by the flute trio, violin quartet, and the Vandalettes, women's sextet.

Special lighting and scenic effects have been planned through the cooperation of Miss Marion Featherstone and Mr. John F. Sollers, according to James Burkhard, Vandalers business manager.

SMOKING PROHIBITED ON DANCE FLOORS

An appeal is made to students to refrain from smoking while in either of the ballrooms of the Student Union building by James Kalbus, manager.

"We have one of the best dance floors in the Northwest," said Kalbus, "and cigarette burns on the floor will ruin the surface in a short time."

Frosh To Debate Labor Question At January Meet

Plans for freshman debating were made Wednesday night at a special meeting called by A. E. Whitehead, debate coach. He announced that the freshman question would be the same as that which the varsity is debating at the present—Resolved: That National Labor Relations board should be empowered to enforce arbitration of all industrial disputes.

Six men, eight women were present. Plans for a debate tournament to be held here January 15 were announced. About 50 teams are expected to enter. Run off will be four rounds of debating, one in the morning, two in the afternoon, one at night. No team will know the results of its efforts until after the final debate, and the winning school will be determined by the percentage of winning teams which it has entered.

Science and Journalism Experts Discuss Scientific Publications

Inaccuracy is the greatest fault to be found with reporting of scientific news, a group of university scientists agreed Wednesday night when they met with journalism students at the Student Union building.

Listed chiefly as causes for inaccuracy were newspapers' insistence on speed, their "playing up" of extreme or dramatic features, the reporters' lack of understanding of their subjects, or indifference to checking details with their news sources to eliminate errors.

Present at the meeting were Dr. Ella Woods, home economist; Dr. L. H. Stauffer, assistant professor of physics; Dr. E. B. Stough, head of the department of zoology; D. D. DuSault, assistant professor of chemistry; Porter Ward, news editor of the Daily News-Review; and John Brosnan, news editor of the Star-Mirror; as well as Elmer F. Beth, assistant professor of journalism majors of the university.

Opinions Differ
Opinions differed widely as to how scientific news should be handled, some insisting that the scientists, themselves, were the only ones capable of handling such news, and that the general public should not be informed of

MORE DEMANDS MADE

At an official meeting of the Associate Women Students this morning demands for changes in rules were drawn up to be presented to the dean of women and president of the university. Mary McKinley, AWS president, will present the women's petition.

building Thursday morning, drew up a list of grievances which were presented to the president in petition on his return from South Idaho.

President Dale immediately announced that freshmen and sophomore women would be allowed to attend the ASUI play last night and that 8 o'clock permission would be granted for the Holly Day assembly Tuesday. The president acted over the rulings of Dean Miller, who had previously refused Thursday play attendance by underclass women and extension of the assembly permission.

To ASUI President John Banks who had presented the petition President Dale wrote:

"I have the series of six requests which you presented me on behalf of the ASUI. Since none of these seem to demand immediate action, I should like to defer for the present recommended changes or adjustments in these regulations.

"Without determining a permanent policy, I see no serious objection to allowing freshmen and sophomore women students to attend the ASUI play on Thursday evening and hereby authorize the necessary permission.

"I have further authorized the extension of the sophomore assembly to 8 p.m., and I am approving permission for women students to attend, thereby extending the permissive hour until 8 o'clock for all houses and dormitories.

Very sincerely yours,
Harrison C. Dale.

Strike agitation, probably fanned by the episode at W.S.C. two years ago, arose in packed meetings held in various group houses Wednesday night. Presidents of the group houses were delegated to form the official, petition forming body.

Meeting with the house presidents yesterday morning were five deans—J. G. Eldridge, J. F. Messenger, Ralph S. Farmer, E. J. Iddings, and Acting Dean J. Hugo Johnson. Deans' recommendation that the matter be referred to President Dale quashed immediate strike threats. The president's reply to Banks was the result.

President Dale also met with students at Student Union at 5 o'clock yesterday. Gist of his speech there ran:

"We are granting the two student demands which need immediate action. I am asking that the others be deferred for further consideration. Please do not forget that the rules which we, as administrators, are often required to enforce are not of our making but frequently emanate from the board of regents or the demands of parents."

Instead of open hostility and acts which invite damaging publicity, President Dale suggested

Seeing The Shows

Quart—Sunday, Monday, Tuesday:
"BREAKFAST FOR TWO"—Brought together for the first time as co-stars in the romantic comedy are Barbara Stanwyck and Herbert Marshall. They are supported by Eric Blore, Glenda Farrell, Etienne Girardot, and Donald Meek. "BREAKFAST FOR TWO" is based on David Garth's novel of the same name, which was published in Red Book Fair entertainment.
Kenworthy—Friday and Saturday—Double feature:
"THE GREAT GAMBINI"—starring John Trent and Marjan Marsh. Plenty of excitement, with murders, mind readers, etc. All ends well, with the villain in the hands of detectives. Pretty poor.

"THE JONES FAMILY IN HOT WATER"—with Jed Prouty, Shirley Deane, Spring Byington, Joan Marsh, and others. The typical American family in riotous comedy. Fair.
Kenworthy—Sunday and Monday:
"LOVE IS ON THE AIR"—with Ronald Reagan and June Travis. Is a combination of comedy-drama, and mystery. Pretty fair.

In the Spot

Carol Jean Davis plays light, carefree Nora in "A Dolls House" by Henrik Ibsen, seen by the University of Idaho students last night and staged again tonight. This difficult role is well portrayed; the characterization is well done in her little skip around the stage and her stage appearance. Her costumes fit her personality to a T. The audience is cinched to feel chills running up and down spines when she does her Tarantula dance, ends up in hysterics. A beautiful piece of work, we say.
George Oram plays a much different type of character in this play. His subtle remarks dealing with the plot and his limp are played consistently through the play. Margaret Marquess can do one of the most difficult things to do on the stage beautifully, that is—listening and appearing interested on every situation. Mel Westerdahl brings that bit of sympathy that is needed into a decidedly unsympathetic character very well.
All in all—the players are good, and you can't go wrong on one of Ibsen's plays. Much credit, of course, goes to him for his well written play with a plot brimming everything a good play needs. The costumes and settings are authentic of the Victorian period in Norway.
The play is to be at 8 p.m. instead of 8:15, as some of the announcements have been.

W.S.C. Dean Says Teaching Becoming More Of a Profession
Teaching is becoming more of a profession, according to Dr. A. A. Cleveland, dean of the school of education at W. S. C., at the pledging meeting of Kappa Delta Pi, national educational fraternity, at Dean and Mrs. J. F. Messenger's home last Tuesday evening.
As a part of the program, 25 outstanding students of the educational school were selected to pledge the honorary fraternity. Those selected as pledges were: Marcelo Ordenez, Robert Muffett, Melissa Stone, Ward Collings, Helen Clough, Helene Haller, Lois Longetelg, Maude Hodgson, Bertha Larsen, Royce Stauffer, Robert Pitts, Alleen Trunnell, Catherine O'Donnell, Myrle Harris, Calypso Hawley, Angeline Helmholtz, John O'Conner, Helen Sullivan, Billie Hilliard, Kathryn Katzenmeyer, Mildred Southward, Kenneth Doty, Grace Boren, and Pearl Summers.
In his speech to the group of young educators-to-be, Dr. Cleveland explained that in order for teaching to become more of a profession, it will be necessary that the teachers become experts in training children.
"In order that we may have teachers who are experts and could be rated as professional," Dr. Cleveland said, "it is necessary that we select the right materials. We can't make a lot of dumbbells into thinking people. This is our biggest problem."
It is necessary that the students train in the field in which they expect to teach. Another requisite, according to Dr. Cleveland, is that the students must have a broad culture... a sprinkling of social studies of every kind. It is necessary that one studies educational psychology and know the principles of teaching.
Something Beside Vocation
"Personality development, as well as guidance for the youngster, is very necessary," Dr. Cleveland said. "Study the individual and help him not in vocational instruction alone, but also in social problems, hygiene, and other difficulties." Good health and the use of good English are determining factors in the professionalism of the new teacher.

Jealousy: A friendship that exists between a couple of girls.

Electricals Meet To Demonstrate

First demonstration meeting of the electrical engineers was held in the electrical engineers' laboratory Tuesday evening. Various demonstrations were made primarily for benefit of underclassmen.
A demonstration of resuscitation for electric shock was conducted by Robert Gillette and Jerome Johnson. Wesley Falls demonstrated the Tesla coil, which at present is giving four-foot sparks.
Slide rule contest was won by Wendell Satre. In a hook-up contest between junior and senior classes, the seniors won. Meeting closed with the serving of cider and doughnuts.

"As I See It"

by Seidel

Europe is drifting towards war. The far east is at it. Spain is up to its ears in attempting to stop the advance of fascism. Brazil has gone fascist. So what!
At our state universities such subjects as R.O.T.C., Student's Peace Conference, Unionization of instructors, and Fight against War and Fascism are a closed book to each individual student and instructor, if he desires to voice his opinion concerning them. It is only by the conscious thought of the entire student body that such subjects can be dealt with. It is essential that the entire student body be class conscious, for only in that manner can anything of consequence be accomplished.

Allow me to quote an article: "The only group that stood between Vargas, and the seizure of the government (Brazil) was the universities." In this one sentence is shown what conscious action on the part of the younger generation can do. The sorry part of the affair was that Brazil did go fascist.

Compare the attitude of the students of the Brazilian universities with ours. We, in our smugness, have begun to believe that athletics, and the gossip of social life are the prime factors of an education at our university. Instead of analyzing the trends with the clearness, and hardness of steel, we analyze them with the softness, and opaqueness of butter in the summertime. This newspaper, and our magazine is an example.

Perhaps I am going at this in the wrong way. I was told to be tactful, but by being tactful one sometimes loses his point, and I'd like to make sure that I don't lose this one.

The one group that can help us entangle ourselves from this morass is the faculty. They should be united; they should be a militant faculty; as special workers, as workers in the highest sense of the word, should have some sort of a union wherein they may express their opinions, and not suffer dictation by the someone who saw to it that they received their jobs.

I commend the gentleman for bringing the question "Of going to war" in front of his classes. However, that is not enough. A thing more pertinent would have been, "What would you do to prevent war?"

The answer lies with us, students. We are the ones on whom the future depends. Think it over, and see what you can do. WE CAN DO ANYTHING, but we don't want to fight capitalistic wars, or have fascism come at us. A band, and a pretty girl with the phrase "A war to end wars" caught us last time, let us see if we shall be on guard this time. I hope so.

A speaker last year commended us on being Good Americans. We cheered him. . . . Americanism or Conformity. What is the difference? If one doesn't conform, he is Unamerican by definition. It hurts. It reminds me of two business men I once overheard.

First—(Whispering to the second) Ya see that fella?
Second—Yes.
First—You know what?
Second—What?
First—He's been trying to think.
Second—The damned red.

So you can see that we've got to attempt to think and see for ourselves, then perhaps we shall be moving in the right direction.

Xi Sigma Pi Holds Initiation For Foresters

Xi Sigma Pi, national upperclassmen's honorary forestry fraternity, initiated seven on Wednesday afternoon in Morrill hall. They were Dr. V. A. Young, assistant professor of forestry; Selden L. Tinsley, graduate student; Gilbert Dyll and Jesse Campbell, seniors; and Clifton Wendt, Charles Poulton, and Ray Stone, juniors.

Forestry students, to be eligible, must have completed two years' work in forestry, and must have a grade point average of 5.0 or above. Objects of the fraternity are to further interest in forestry, to promote high scholastic work.

Xi Sigma Pi is the largest, oldest national forestry fraternity in this country. It numbers among its members Colonel W. B. Greeley, secretary-manager of the West Coast Lumbermen's association and former chief forester, U. S. forest service; Dr. Henry Schmitz, editor, Journal of Forestry and dean of the school of forestry, University of Minnesota; and Dr. Raphael Zon, director, Lake States Forest experiment station.

First Men Pledge To Sigma Delta

Sigma Delta, men's professional journalism honorary, pledged seven students at a dinner meeting in the Student Union building Wednesday noon. Pledges are Hans Wetter, Plummer; Edward Dakin, Kimberly; Moreau Stoddard, Coeur d'Alene; John Price, Gannett; Edwin Ranta, Kooskia; Sam Rich, Blackfoot; and Everett Colley, Moscow.
Cecil Rudeen, president, in a short talk, said that the aims and purposes of the honorary were to further the professional interests of journalism in the state and among students at the university.
Rudeen related the brief history of the new organization from the inspiration that hit Phillip Haring, former editor of the Argonaut, two years ago to its present development on the pledging of its first group of new men.

Members are selected from upperclassmen majoring in journalism at the university, maintaining a reputable scholastic standing, and having a professional interest in the field.

Demands Made

that students feel freer in the future to come to him with grievances.

An attempt was made at the SUB meeting by Student Ed Riley to bring open discussion of the six-fold petition drawn up. Riley asserted that he had "been pushed into the chairmanship of meetings which fostered strike sentiment."

The president refused the immediate request to talk over the points demanded.

Main change in present administration asked in the petition was the granting of permission to houses to set their own penalties for lock-outs and date cutting, and other minor offenses, and that these penalties be enforced within the house.

Dean Miller commented: "I cannot understand the reason for this display of hostility, since the students are asking for privileges which were urged upon them from my office last spring in their Associated Women's student council, and which they voted against at that time and again this fall. They have always been welcome to come in

Idaho Defeats Wash. Team 43-40 In Closing Minutes of Play

Trailing most of the game, Idaho's basketball team added some last-minute scoring punch to their superior offensive attack and nosed out Eastern Washington College of Education 43 to 40 here Tuesday night.

Brendon Barrett, sophomore trick shot artist and ball-hawker de luxe, and Don Johnson, Vandal captain, were about the only men who kept Idaho in the ball game during the first half.

With the opening of the second period, Cheney extended its lead to 27 to 19. A few minutes later, Barrett and Smith had tacked four points more on the Vandal side.

Idaho Basketball Team Faces Strong Whitman Five Tonight

Whitman's Missionaries, thirsting for revenge for the 32 to 31 defeat Idaho gave them last week, invade Moscow tonight for a return engagement on the Vandal floor.

The starting line-up will probably be Belko and Johnson at forward, Barrett at center, and Smith and Kramer at guard.

Vandals displayed against Cheney, has been working the squad on basket work all week. Vandals improve.

Coach Al Paddock Pleased With Freshman Basketball Prospects

With their squad cut to 15 eligible men, and a complete schedule of games being lined up as fast as possible, freshman basketballers are going to work in earnest this week to build a yearling team capable of taking on all comers.

Many All-Staters A tentative first string, lined up by Coach Al Paddock, includes Otis Hilton, towering center from Arkansas; Ronnie Harris; Idaho Falls all-state forward last year; Milo Anderson, forward who also played on the freshman football team; Ora Wildman, guard who made all-state from Boise last year; and Irvin Hopkins, guard last year for Pocatello.

Crowding the first-team boys for starting positions are: Dave Marshall and Dick Armstrong, forwards; Johan Lang, center or forward; and Kenny Woods and Bob Revelli, guards.

Three Ineligible John Woffington, "Howdy" Smith, and Carlee Wood, all prominent candidates for first-string berths, came under the nine-weeks eligibility ban and will probably not be eligible until next semester.

Coach Announces Rifle Practice

Practice for men's rifle team will start next week, according to Capt. Edwin Waters, team coach.

"Unless remodeling on the range is completed before then, pre-Christmas practice will be restricted to old members; otherwise, both old and new members will begin practice simultaneously," reported Captain Waters.

Maj. Charles F. Sutherland today invited all faculty members and university students to join the Moscow Rifle club.

Starting tonight, the club commences shooting in the Inland Empire rifle meet sponsored by the Spokesman-Review.

Members will shoot once a week for 10 weeks, and winners will be selected on the basis of the five highest scores.

---From The Bench---

This column's first bouquet, a heart-warming little vote of confidence from Don Carlson, assistant sports editor of the University of Alberta's student paper, the Gateway, arrived in the mail this week.

Mr. Carlson's letter had to object: first, to extend some welcome encouragement to a brother "colyum-concocter"; second, to suggest that the Argonaut and the Gateway exchange sports columnists for an issue or two.

The first point probably means little more than the fact that someone reads this, (even if he does live 'way off in Canada).

The second suggestion might give Argonaut readers a chance to learn something about college athletics in Canada. We would appreciate any student comment about inviting Mr. Carlson to be a guest writer.

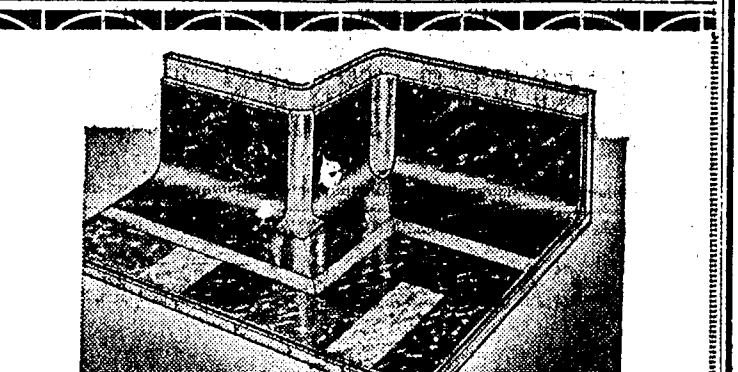

While we're on the subject: Talking to Orville Williams, sports editor of Cheney's school paper at the game Tuesday, we discovered that Cheney sends a reporter to cover all of its away-from-home games.

With all this off our chest, we could say that the new non-center-jump rule appears to be all the blessing to Idaho basketball that Coach Twogood predicted it would be; that the team isn't much interested in dating hours just now and, consequently, not much interested in the "Big
