

With the smoke finally cleared away from the highly publicized "strike threat" by last night's meeting of the university discipline committee held Thursday afternoon...

That the situation was bad in Thursday night's Spokane Chronicle goes without saying. The article inferred that all those called before the board were on disciplinary charges...

Among numerous points to be cleared up is President Dale's statement at last Thursday's meeting. He said it would be impossible to take action on the six major points of the petition until after the holidays...

It is very likely that at least one of the demands will be turned down by the board of regents. This particular one, regarding permission of women to own and operate cars on the campus...

STUDENT ACTORS TO GIVE PLAYS

Actors of the fundamentals of play production class will present two one-act plays Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. in the University hut...

Tuesday evening's program will consist of a melodrama and a fantasy, both under the supervision of Mr. J. F. Sollers...

Those taking part in the plays will be Beth Sampson, Marianne Robinson, Homer Johnson, Frances Borden, Melvin Westerdahl, Marlan Willsey, Jerry Davidson, Annabel Wetzel, and Blaine Crawford...

Special Features Cooler Cars; Dr. Miller To Choose Chaperone

The special, 15 modern air-conditioned cars, will leave Moscow at 5:30 Friday, December 17, and return at 12:15 January 3. Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women, has not named the chaperone as yet.

Four sleepers for boys, four sleepers for girls, two dining cars, four day coaches, and one observation car will make up the challenger-type train.

Time Marches On

The train, which leaves Moscow at 5:30 Friday, will arrive in southern Idaho Saturday. The schedule is as follows:

A Holiday Greeting

To the Students of the University:

As you return to your homes you will be carrying into every town of Idaho and to other states a part—your part—of the University of Idaho. To you all and to the families to which you are returning for the most significant holiday season of the year may I extend best wishes for a joyful Christmas and a New Year rich in the lasting satisfactions of life.

Symphony To Play Friday in Gym

Mary McCormic, Famous Opera and Radio Star, on Program

Friday morning, December 17, at 10 o'clock in the Memorial gymnasium, the Public Events Committee will present the famous Kryl Symphony orchestra with Mary McCormic, American opera radio star, as one of the outstanding soloists.

University students will be admitted upon presentation of their ASUI tickets. General public admission will be $1 per person. This concert is under the auspices of the Public Events Committee of the university and is entirely separate from the Community Concert series.

Exceptional Personnel The symphony orchestra, consisting of an exceptional personnel of artists, is under the direction of Mr. Bohumir Kryl, proclaimed by critics as the greatest cornetist of today.

This famous conductor, who has toured this country continuously for the past 32 years with his fine symphony bands and is now on tour with his symphony orchestra, is the only prominent present-day conductor who has a dual liking and talent for both music and sculpturing.

Born in Prague, Bohemia, the son of a sculptor, he came to America when but a very young lad, working his passage by playing the violin. In Indiana he served an apprenticeship with the late General Lew Wallace. Persuaded by John Phillip Sousa, the famous band leader, to drop sculpturing and tour with his band as cornetist, he earned and has kept his enviable reputation as "that cor-

Essay Winner Returns From Chicago Livestock Exposition

Robert M. Keyes, senior major in animal husbandry in the college of agriculture, returned last night from an 18-day trip to Chicago where he was a guest at the International Livestock exposition held from November 27 to December 4.

Aside from attending the exposition, he and the thirty-six other essay winners visited the meat packing plants of Chicago. After witnessing the different processes from the time the animal is purchased on the hoof until the finished cuts are laid on the retail butcher's block, Keyes declared that he was most impressed by the buying feature of the packing business and the way in which market quotations were determined from day to day.

Law Enforcement Is Factor In Game Problem

Full utilization of laws already enacted in Idaho would go a long way toward the start of a reasonably productive management program for big game, Dr. A. B. Hatch, general chairman, keynoted at the three-day game management conference held at the University of Idaho last week.

The conference, first of its kind in the state, attracted 100 enthusiastic technical men from the following agencies: Idaho state game department, U. S. forest service, U. S. biological survey, soil conservation service, University of Idaho school of forestry and the Idaho Wild Life federation.

Research Needed Need for research on Idaho's game problems was another important point brought out at the conference. A comprehensive conference will be held next year at the University of Idaho Southern Branch at Pocatello.

Dr. Hatch, assistant professor of game management on the school of forestry staff, pointed out that one of Idaho's most valuable game laws is the provision giving the state game warden authority to close and open any designated area in the state to hunting or fishing. Only exceptions are game preserves created by the legislature.

Sage Grouse Defended G. L. Girard of the U. S. biological survey warned that a conservation program for game birds should not be just one of substitution. He continued with an excellent paper in defense of the nearly extinct sage grouse. That stately native bird, he pointed out, is worth restoring, rather than being replaced with pheasants from China, Australia, or other parts of the world.

Engineer Whitesel To Derail Couples on Xmas Special With 18-piece Orchestra

All aboard for the "Christmas Special" with the class of 1940. The rails are hot, and the turns sharp, declares Engineer Glen Whitesel.

Combination Christmas and railroad scenes at the Blue Bucket Tuesday will greet the dance goers. Trains, headlights, stop, and go signals, whistles, and even pine trees are only part of the unique decorations.

Composing the most musicians yet assembled in a student dance orchestra, Engineer Whitesel promises to straighten the turns with his crew of 18. "Few programs remain," admitted Stan Hume, sophomore class president. "They will be given to the first buyers."

Not even a clue. Our mystery still hangs as one of those unsolved mysteries in the annals of university life. It is a publicity stunt? If not, the "shots" will clear it all up some time during the dance Thursday. They say they will.

Patrons and patronesses to the dance are: Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Chamberlain, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyer, and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Moore.

Salary Limit Set On Student Jobs

New Maximum of $40 Monthly Established By Academic Council

That students must be careful not to exceed the amount so fixed under penalty of having the balance deducted from their pay check is the warning issued by Frank Stanton, university bursar, to students on the irregular help roll. The following action concerning these students was passed November 24 by the academic council:

"That, beginning with the school year 1937-38, all regularly enrolled students at the University of Idaho employed in any manner as irregular help shall be limited to a maximum of forty dollars ($40.00) per month during the school year beginning with the first day of university exercises and ending and including all vacations except the regular Christmas vacation stipulated in the catalog.

Approval for More "Should it be necessary or desirable, because of some special fitness, technical knowledge, or skill, that a student be allowed to earn more than $40.00 per month, the matter shall be presented to the president of the university for his approval and authorization.

That compensation for all labor or services shall not be less than thirty-five cents (35c) nor more than forty cents (40c) per hour except in special cases which shall have the consent and approval of the president of the university before the work is begun or the university obligated in any manner."

ENGINEERS HEAR G. E. SPEAKER

Mr. M. M. Boring, chief of the personnel department of the General Electric company, will be on the campus all day Wednesday to interview students and explain the work and opportunities offered engineers in the various departments of the General Electric company. Senior electrical and mechanical engineers are particularly urged to talk with Mr. Boring.

Budge Gives First In Series Of Law Lectures

Students of the university law school had the privilege of hearing Justice Alfred Budge of the Idaho State Supreme court Monday afternoon in the first of a series of lectures on professional ethics. Justice Budge came to Moscow especially to deliver this group of lectures to the law students.

The lecture Monday afternoon was of an introductory nature and dwelt upon the importance of ethical conduct in the practice of law. This afternoon Judge Budge planned to comment upon and discuss some of the leading cases in Idaho that involve disbarment proceedings and unethical conduct of attorneys.

The concluding lecture on Wednesday afternoon will be a review of the history of the integrate or statutory bar, as distinguished from the voluntary type of bar organization. Judge Budge will deal especially with the duties of the state bar commissioners and the powers conferred upon them by the rules of the supreme court and statutes.

All Camera Fans To Meet Tonight

All students interested in forming a camera club are to meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Blue Bucket, announces M. W. Melzian of the architecture department.

Professor Melzian stressed the importance of all interested being present this evening, as it has been definitely decided to organize a club. Purpose of this meeting is to actually form the organization and elect officers.

The purpose of the club, says Mr. Melzian, is to further photography on the campus both as a hobby and as a profession. He stated that it is not necessary to have any experience in photography to join the group.

The club plans to set up their own dark room and perhaps study in groups. Members will be instructed in both the art and technique of photography by competent instructors; they plan to sponsor contests and exhibits, both local and over the entire Northwest.

New Committee To Function Soon

A student-faculty committee will be appointed by university President H. C. Dale immediately after the holiday vacation to make recommendations to various administrative agencies regarding student problems, according to an announcement from the president's office on Monday.

The committee will be composed of five students and five faculty members, will carry its principal weight as a recommending body. It is understood the first question to be dealt with will concern the six demands made last week to the president of the university regarding changes in women's three of them women.

L. K.'s Reorganize Ushering Plan For Next Games

To eliminate confusion, the Intercollegiate Knights reorganized plans Wednesday for ushering reserved seat sections at the gym.

"In the past," announced Duke Dave Pace, "ushering has been handled entirely from the door. According to the new method, each usher will be assigned to certain definite positions for the entire year. These positions will be assigned according to the various sections, with a head usher and crew for each section."

This arrangement is intended his job, and develop a higher degree of efficiency in seating large crowds, Pace pointed out. Plans were also made for coming basketball games and plays. A meeting will be held at the Phi Delta Theta house Monday to familiarize each usher with evening at 7:30 o'clock to discuss plans for the basketball games Wednesday and Thursday nights.

R. E. Gale's Speech Inspires Assembly

R. E. Gale, commercial manager of the Idaho Power company, declared in a lecture before an all-engineering assembly that practically any student who passed an accepted engineering course could be reasonably certain of a good future.

Mr. Gale divided ordinary students into three groups: the "sharks," those who "just get by," and the large group in between, and gave some ideas on the courses open to each group. The worst type of student is the one who barely drags by in school because he just "has too much else to do." He requires too much outside stimulation to get down and dig, and, as a rule, never goes far after he graduates.

At a luncheon held in his honor at the Blue Bucket immediately preceding the afternoon assembly, Mr. Gale gave some interesting accounts of his experiences as a young engineer. He is a graduate of W. S. C. went to war, and was afterwards employed in Florida by the Phoenix Construction company, but was forced to quit the job because of malaria fever. Since that time, Mr. Gale has been employed by the Idaho Power company.

HARMONICISTS TO PLAY Feature of the Sophomore Holly day assembly will be the introduction of Ed Albany's "Harmonica Swing Band", composed of about 25 harmonicists, three of them women.

Assembly Opens With Uncle Benny Lutz as Master of Ceremonies Introducing Talent Program

Because 8:00 o'clock permission has been granted, debonaire master of ceremonies, Benny Lutz, will start the Sophomore Holly Day assembly tonight at 6:45.

Vandaleers Carol Xmas Songs On Wednesday

Vandaleers, directed by Prof. Archie N. Jones, will present their traditional candlelight program of Christmas carols Wednesday, December 15, at 11 p.m. in the university auditorium.

They will present carols of many nationalities, as well as several Christmas hymns of both ancient and modern origin.

Several ensembles will assist the Vandaleers: These include the Vandalettes: Catherine Bauman, Louise Paulsen, Louise Frank, Betty Torgeson, Helen Clough, and Agda Walden; a viola quartet composed of Karl Wilson, Richard Gardner, Gayle Partner, and Patricia Churchill; and a flute trio, Miriam Kennerd, Margaret Allison, and Robert Dahlstrom.

Soloists will be Gwendolyn Harrigan, Betty Torgeson, Louise Paulsen, Agda Walden, and Karl Wilson. Prof. Hall Macklin, organist, will assist with the final number, Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

Special lighting effects have been arranged by Miss Marian Featherstone and Prof. John F. Sollers. The entire student body, as well as the townspeople, are invited to attend this final musical program before the holidays.

Woodbury Designs Cover for Bucket

Malcolm Woodbury, winner of the cartoon contest which was sponsored by the Blue Bucket magazine, is to design the cover for the "vacation special" issue, according to Jean Dunkle, editor. A limited number of copies will go on sale Thursday morning.

"There will be a map of interest to all train riders heading south for the holidays," editor Jean Dunkle said, "and Tau are John Banks, Wendell The Shopping Guide for Christ-Decker, Bert Huntington, Paul mas Holidays" will be a definite Taylor, Bob Baldwin, John aid to all who have not yet Carlson, Aleck Alexander, and completed their Christmas list. Courageous Reporter Wins Story From "The Man Who Won't Talk"

The reporter read the assignment in the assignment book. "Dr. A. B. Hatch, of the forestry school, is going to speak in Sandpoint, or is he? Get all the dope; time, place, who to, about what, etc. He won't talk, so this will tax your ingenuity. ARE YOU AFRAID TO GET THROWN OUT?"

"No, and I was," were the results of the reporter's first try. After OK'ing his story assignment, Joe Copy looked for and found Dr. Hatch's office. He poked his head into the room and asked the doctor if he was busy, seeing him talking to a student.

"What do you want?" asked Hatch. "Well," hesitatingly, "are you going to Sandpoint soon to give a talk there to someone about something?" "Oh, an Argonaut reporter, eh? I'm going to be busy for several hours." Joe Copy then went to see Dean Jeffers, but he wasn't in, and several forestry seniors

On whose mantle the cups for house decorations stands lies in the decision of Dr. F. C. Church, head of the department of European history; "Bob" Greene, proctor of men; and Mary Kirkwood, professor in art department. During the assembly, the winners will be announced.

Christmas spirit was further enhanced yesterday by the start of the sale of holly sprigs by Spurs, Selling the sprigs at 10 cents, they canvassed all group houses.

Features Swingsters An 18-piece swing band with Benny Lutz as leader, as well as master of ceremonies, and the debut of Ed Albany's 23-piece harmonica band are high spots of the soph assembly. Three trios, tap dancers, and novelty leaders will also make bids for fame.

"We've oiled the harmonicas and are ready to swing it," declared Albany.

Tickets, to go on sale at the door, will be 10 cents. Judges passed on Christmas decorations at group houses last night between 5 and 6 o'clock. Winners will be announced at the assembly tonight.

Sigma Tau Takes Nine Into Group

Today at 4:15 p.m. Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary, will initiate nine new members. The initiates are Gilton Alsop, John Baldwin, Henry Bauer, Eugene Graham, Charles Harris, Joe Lambert, Volto Luukkonen, Paul Mann, and Adelbert Winters.

Following the initiation, a dinner will be served at the Blue Bucket in honor of the initiates. Dean Johnson, head of the engineering school, is to make the formal presentation of keys at that time. Several alumni and faculty members will be present at the dinner.

Active members of Sigma Tau are John Banks, Wendell The Shopping Guide for Christ-Decker, Bert Huntington, Paul mas Holidays" will be a definite Taylor, Bob Baldwin, John aid to all who have not yet Carlson, Aleck Alexander, and completed their Christmas list. Ed Hokanson.

could give him no information about the prospective trip of Hatch. Back to the dean's office, but "the dean is very busy now, and can't see anyone." Then over to the Ad building to talk to Mr. Fitzgerald, who also was uninformed, but obligingly offered to call Dr. Hatch and ask him about the pending question. But Hatch's phone remained unanswered so Joe journeyed back to Merrill hall, and again poked his head into Dr. Hatch's office. "You haven't had a change of heart towards reporters, have you?" asked Joe. "No, I haven't. I have been pestered by reporters until I'm tired, and I have nothing to say." "But you should consider yourself honored that reporters think you an important enough person to bother," coaxed Joe. "But I don't." "Just like a clam," sighed Joe. "Yes, just like a clam," said Dr. Hatch emphatically, with a glance at the

"As I See It"

by Seidel

Watching the excellent performance of "A Doll's House," the fact came clearly to me that the era of "art for art's sake" had passed. The theater is a social instrument which, if deftly handled, can accomplish that which writing alone can not.

The question has often arisen, "Do propaganda writers have a place in the theater?" or should the theater only draw its material from dramatic incidents and conflicts without noticing the social value of that incident? I have begun to believe that every artist, if he attempts to portray life, is a propagandist, and because of that, the message which he tries to deliver is of some importance to society.

We have here at our command the instrument; all that we have to do is apply it. The point is, in what direction is it to be applied? I don't believe that a play should be chosen for the simple reason that it pleases the majority of the audience.

Ibsen is theater. Every thought, word, and phrase is to the point. I don't know of another writer that had or has as much dramatic insight as he. The play started off slowly and gradually seemed to warm itself up. True, the theme may be out-moded, but good theater is theater at any time.

Yet we must realize that Ibsen in his day was a revolutionist even more than any of the writers of today. What made Ibsen so vital during his day was that he dealt with the material of his day. I often wonder just how close we are coming to the material of our day in becoming educated at our universities.

I'd like to mention here that the presentation of a play is no better than the presentation of the parts of the minor characters. The difficulty under which these people work is hard to understand. I, once, attempted to be an actor, a messenger boy in "Journey's End," and I thought that I worked as hard as any of the principals saying that one line over and over, "A message for Captain Stanhope."

Watch the times, and see. I'd like to mention here that the presentation of a play is no better than the presentation of the parts of the minor characters. Seeing The Shows

Quart—Wednesday-Saturday

"STELLA DALLAS"—starring Barbara Stanwyck. The story is of a tawdry, vulgar woman who rises to magnificent heights through her sublime love for her daughter. It is one which enables Stanwyck to come back to the screen with a strong bid for stardom once again. Although a trite plot, the show should prove good entertainment for those who go in for strongly emotional stuff.

Kenworthy—Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday

"FIREFLY"—with Jeanette MacDonald and Warren William, a musical of slight importance is staged in a Bayonne cafe in 1808. Miss MacDonald as Nina Azara portrays the all-too-clever intelligence agent, uses her somewhat doubtful wiles to ensnare an unsuspecting army officer. Go along to see—should be better than it sounds.

ROPER AND EVANS DEBATE

Debating on the negative side of the question, "Several states should adopt the unicameral system of legislation," Jack Roper and Ambrose Evans, freshmen from the University of Idaho, will debate with the Lewiston high school team Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, according to A. E. Whitehead of the debate department.

Dates 'n Doo Dads

Christmas time is the time for fun, and the time for fun was last Saturday night. Wow! The usual round of parties, ya know, and did everyone get around. A few formals dropped in at "Steve's Amusement Emporium" and some "hurdy-gurdy" galls were seen at the Sigma Nu Four Roses—I mean White Rose formal dance.

Who had more fun than Dick Lambert 'n Hester Gentry at the Sigma Nu dance? Some of the underclassmen didn't do so bad either. For instance, just take a look at Bob Wycoff 'n John Everingham. What did someone mutter about a gutter?

Thought Ralph Crouch 'n Helen Williams were goin' steady but I saw him with Betty Lou McConnell 'tuther night. The enigma of the Kappa Sigma house party: who or what was in that certain room that was locked all evening? Certain people tried hard enough to find out.

Dean Green's bubble dance was really effervescent. (get it?) Wait Betts honored. Lucille Cottle this time. Wonder if Lorraine Williams felt very bad about it?

D'ya spose there was any significance to those adorable costumes of Pinky MacFadden's 'n Mary Sullivan's at the Tin Can jamboree? Whose runnin' who ragged?

"Twas awfully clubby of "Teet" Whalen 'n Hollis Neveaux to wear long underwear, wasn't it? Quaint but intriguing: Gus Pene 'n Norma Mitchell.

Naughty but nice: Betty Booth. Kinda silly, but funnier's heck: Iris Louis in Chuck Mallard's suit, 'n Chuck in a formal.

Homie Fisher 'n Zelma Meyers weren't doin' so bad, either. Wonder if Dorothy McKinnon sat at home Saturday night when Earl Bullock failed to show up, or did I see her whippin' around corners with Wait Brown later on? By the way, wonder why he's got a grudge against Betty King. Don't know why, but I just don't think he likes her for some reason.

Looks as if Wendell Gannon were pitchin' hard in the Mick Gridley league again. Maybe it's that "this year's crop don't seem the same" effect. Member 'bout a year ago?

Patsy Fitzpatrick seemed to be havin' an awful gay time with a cute little wench from Spokane Saturday night.

Thought the Pullman Phil Deltis kinda aired their nostrils a bit too much, didn't you? Lots of people are getting to think there is Stanton room only "around" Phyllis Lewis these days. Wonder if that will "sult-or"? Floyd Wallace got proposed to last Saturday night, but he doesn't want her name mentioned, he says, because it would make another gal mad. Not two proposals, Floyd?

Owen Hatley brought Marj Williams down from the home town for the Willis Sweet cabaret—looks like he's really doing some good there. Wonder how Morton Woods' bass harmonized with Agda Walden's soprano last Saturday? Did you make her sing for her supper, Mort? Bill Hunt got lost while going after his date, and got stuck in the mud. Judging from appearances, he got his car out by absorbing the mud hole on his suit. Tsk! Tsk!

"I've rattled on 'n now I'm through, You say you think it's not so hot? Well, if you don't, here's all I say: So what, so what, so what, so what?"

Journalism Students Chronicle History of Idaho Newspapers

Idaho journalism students in the history of journalism course will again take up the role of historians during Christmas vacation, to chronicle the history of Idaho newspapers, continuing a project begun in 1931.

Forty-one newspaper histories have been written by journalism students since the first inauguration of the idea. Most of these papers were published in Idaho, a few exceptions being Washington papers.

This year, students of the course, which is given in alternate years, will write historical sketches of 26 Idaho papers and one Washington paper. Four of these newspapers have ceased publication. Newspaper files, libraries, and interviews with pioneers in the community, are the main sources for the sketches.

"Newspapers have been closely allied with the growth of Idaho communities," Elmer F. Beth assistant professor of journalism, explained. "For that reason the biographical and historical material which newspaper files contain should be preserved."

Library Files Sketches As evidence of the interest in the sketches, the Idaho Press, monthly publication of the Idaho Editorial Association began printing "billed" or condensed versions of the sketches in November, 1936. The original sketches, some reaching 10,000 words in length, are filed in the university library.

In 1862 the first newspaper published in Idaho, The Golden Age, commenced a three-year career at Lewiston. Previously, Rev. Henry H. Spalding had operated a printing press at Lapwai as early as 1839, printing books and pamphlets for use in teaching Indians at his mission. The press was later taken to Oregon, however, and now reposes in the Oregon state historical museum.

In 1836, a year after the Lewiston newspaper venture began, The Idaho World was begun in southern part of the state at Idaho City. Following close on the footsteps of these pioneers in Idaho journalism were the Lewiston Teller, The Boise Statesman, The Owyhee Avalanche at Silver City, The Idaho County Free at Grangeville, The Genesee News, The Pierce City Miner, and a host of others.

Many of these suspended publications, as mining and lumber communities shrank from roaring frontier cities to "silent," "ghost" towns. Others, which chanced to have more stable economic resources behind them, are still publishing, a few having grown into valuable properties with the passing years.

"A Doll's House" (A Review)

The playgoers on Thursday evening found the performance not quite up to par. If they could have seen the show in its last dress rehearsal, they would have been in better luck. Yet, no one person can be called at fault. It all came about because everyone in the east was pushing too hard to put the play over, and in doing so forgetting their lines, hence the tempo of the play was lost and the audience worked hard to get in the way of the play and misinterpreted many of the finer points.

But to the playgoers on Friday evening went the reward—it was truly a good show! Much credit is due Carol Jean Davis, who portrayed her character of Nora in true form. She is fortunate in having a good stage appearance to begin with, and by blending in a light, gay, little skip, she quickly established a sympathetic character to be watched and admired all through the show. She seemed to gather about her with the audience's knowledge, a complete transition from a child-like, doll-person to a developed, mature person with more judgment than her dull husband, Torvald. Her dance, ending in hysterics, was certainly the best acting done on this stage to make the audience forget time, place, and that it was a play they were experiencing and not reality.

Peter Dodds, as Torvald, was well cast, as he fit into the role very well. He came much too close for comfort to the good, old-fashioned "meller-drammer" in places. George Oram did the best bit of acting that he has ever done. His old spontaneity and naturalness was gone, but somehow he grasped his subtle role and played it to its best. His limp and slight stoop established his character and he kept it all through the play.

Campus Social Life Hits New High

"Petty's review" was the feature of the Kappa Sigma house party and dinner dance Saturday. Large copies of Petty's drawings were on the wall, and in the evening some of Petty's "girls" burlesqued a show.

A formal dinner was served at the Student Union building, and there was dancing after dinner.

Each guest was presented a photograph of the party.

Patrons were Captain and Mrs. C. H. Hart, Captain and Mrs. L. S. Norman, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Tessler, and General and Mrs. E. R. Chrisman.

Lighted Christmas trees of all sizes, and evergreen boughs and mistletoe decorated the Delta Chi house at its Christmas dance Saturday evening.

Prof. and Mrs. W. J. Wilde, William Schroeder, and Jefferson Rogers were patrons.

Bowery Dance

S. A. E. stood for Steve's Amusement Emporium Saturday night at the annual bowery dance.

The house was transformed into a saloon of the nineties. Guests dressed in bowery finery, danced to the music of Benny Lutz's orchestra.

Honored guests were Sergt. and Mrs. A. C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davidson, and Major and Mrs. C. F. Sutherland.

White roses were the decorations at the Sigma Nu upperclassmen's formal dinner dance at the chapter house on Saturday evening. The programs were black leather book marks.

Bill Chase's orchestra furnished the music.

Professor and Mrs. Archie Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Packer, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hoskins were patrons.

Hays Hall Entertains

Silver Christmas trees, red candles in candelabra, and green fir boughs lent the holiday spirit to the Hays hall Christmas informal dance Friday evening, December 10.

Patrons were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Chamberlain and Miss Helene Haller. Benny Lutz orchestra played.

Washington State college and Idaho chapters of Phi Delta Theta held their annual exchange informal dance at the local chapter house Saturday evening.

Tinsel streamers and a large silver Christmas tree, with blue lights, decorated the dance floor.

Patrons were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Fitzgerald, and Samuel S. Walker.

"200 Club"

Guests of Willis Sweet hall dined and danced at the "200 club" cabaret Saturday evening.

A revolving crystal ball hung from the middle of the ceiling. A three-act floor show, menus, and waiters added to the cabaret theme.

"200 club" souvenirs were on each table.

Honored guests were Dr. Evelyn Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Rowe, and Dr. and Mrs. James A. Cooley.

Crazy costumes were the life of the Alpha Tau Omega tin can dance Friday evening at the chapter house. More than 4,000 tin cans hung from the ceiling, and advertisements decked the walls.

Patrons were Capt. and Mrs. Charles Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tessler, and Aruthur Howe. Howard Chapman's orchestra furnished the music.

Sigma Chi Party

A huge snow-capped mountain, between two lighted Christmas trees, was the center of decorations at the Sigma Chi Christmas dance Friday evening. Santa Claus and his reindeer were dashing up the mountain.

At intermission, every guest was presented a gift.

Dr. and Mrs. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Hall Macklin, and Mr. and Mrs. James Kalbus were patrons. Glenn Whitesel's orchestra played.

A tower light, flashing on the tumbled, mossy rocks of a seaside garden, provided the setting for the Chi Alpha Phi annual Christmas formal Saturday at the chapter house.

A spraying fountain in the garden reflected colored lights into a pool beneath.

Programs were of mirrored chromium with an etched design. The dance music was furnished by Howard Chapman's orchestra.

Patrons were Mrs. Stella Keys and Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain.

Church Group Meets Tonight

Westminster Guild will hold its next meeting on Tuesday evening in Ad 311 at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Henry Gauss will be the principal speaker and will talk upon "Recollections of Germany," where she visited last summer.

Westminster Guild is an organization composed of Presbyterian and Congregational students. Margaret Thornton is president of the group and Mrs. James A. Cooley is advisor.

Dinner To Be Held In Honor of Dramatic Students

Nine outstanding members of the university dramatics department were selected to pledge "The Curtain," honorary for the outstanding dramatic students, last Friday, following the ASU play, "The Doll House." These members were selected on their superiority on the play casts or on the stage crews.

Those students who were selected are Bess Cuddy, Bea Jane Fisher, Carol Jean Davis, Janet Clifford, Joe Mills, Peter Dodds, Walter Betts, Lois Pearce, and Mary Lou Murdock.

A dinner will be held in honor of the pledges at the Nobby Inn next Thursday evening at 6:00 p.m. No special program has been arranged for the occasion, according to Glendon Davis, president of the honorary.

Kappa Phi Service Presided Sunday

Kappa Phi held its traditional candle-lighting service Sunday evening. Pine trees and lighted candles made an impressive background. "Ave Marie" was played by Roberta Moffitt on the cello. Besides a number of carols by the chorus, solos were sung by Peggy Johnson, Mildred Paulson, Mary Lou Fahrwald, and Allene Trunnell. Alice Ann Martin and Eileen Heath sang "Coventry Carol."

Dates at Idaho Club

The Idaho club entertained President and Mrs. Harrison C. Dale and their sons, Winthrop and Paul, and the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Hughes at dinner Sunday.

Miss Kathryn Keanton and Miss Jean Francis were guests at the "Alpha Phi" house last week-end.

President and Mrs. H. C. Dale and sons, Paul and Winthrop, were guests of Kappa Alpha Theta at dinner Friday evening. The Christmas theme was carried out in table decorations, with a centerpiece of holly and candles and sprigs of holly scattered the length of the table. Demi-tasse was served in the living room.

Delta Tau Delta entertained Delta Gamma at an exchange dance Wednesday evening.

Theta Party

Kappa Alpha Theta held its annual Christmas party Sunday evening. Formal dinner was at 6 p.m. with a color scheme of red and white cleverly used throughout the decorations and dinner. After dinner, gifts were exchanged, and a short program was presented. Guests were Mrs. Corinne Casey, Mrs. Bennett, and Mrs. Larry Baird.

Week-end guests at Hays hall were Miss Elizabeth Haller, St.

Alpha Phi Chi May Sponsor Pep Rally

Tony Knap was appointed field manager for intramural basketball by Coach Red Jacoby at a meeting of Alpha Phi Chi, intramural managers' honorary fraternity, last Tuesday.

After an informal discussion President Thomas Gill appointed a committee to study and formulate plans to increase the spirit of the student body at pep rallies. Committee members are Max Hosoda, Lindley, Bill Watt, ATO; John Fagerstedt, Beta; and Claude Hart, assistant director of intramural athletics, as ex-officio member.

It was also decided that there would be no doubles in table tennis next year. Instead of two doubles and two singles, there will be a series of four singles.

Tokes Give Dance At Spokane Club

Vacationing Idaho students going to Spokane will be interested in the All-Fraternity dance to be held this Friday at the Wandermere country club.

The dance is semi-formal and will be open to all college fraternity men of the Inland Empire and their dates. It is being sponsored by the Spokane "Teke" club who hope to make it a regular annual affair.

Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.15 per couple.

Dance Will Honor Military Pledges

Eleven pledges to Scabbard and Blade, military honorary organization, will be formally pledged at a dinner and dance at the student union building ballroom Wednesday evening at 8:30 p.m.

Brig. Gen. Edward R. Chrisman of Moscow will be the honored guest at the affair. Patrons and patronesses will be Capt. and Mrs. Lewis S. Norman, Capt. and Mrs. Charles H. Hart, and Col. and Mrs. Floyd Hatfield.

Charles Crowther, Lawrence Duffin, Earl Gregory, Forrest Grapton, Dick Hutchison, Carroll McElroy, Paul Morken, Phil Remaklus, Som Rich, Nels Stromberg, and Harold Rolse are to be formally pledged.

Isn't it wonderful to have formal, Tin Can dance, and Bowery dance all on the same weekend. Well, hear goes, and Viel Scott looked plenty smooth in her green crepe formal with full pleated skirt. A black satin with large light blue flowers and low neck gives Ruth Lukens that added sophistication. Rosanna House (call me "Justa") was having a fine time at the Bowery dance in Mrs. Stanton's blue serge bathing suit and pig tails (not Mrs. Stanton's) Beth Bothwell tried to be Easter at the "Tin Can" dance and most froze her cotton tail. Anyway you make a most successful Bunny. Micky Gidley and Bill Maclear had quite a time Friday night with baby dresses, freckles, and teeth out. Speaking of Hussy's at the Bowery dance, Betty Magel gets first honors. Lily Spenser is most ingenious in her black tafetta formal with colored thumb-tacks fastened all over the jacket.

Vandal Hoopsters Meet U. C. L. A. Bruins Wed. and Thurs. Nights

Idaho's Strength to Be Tested Against U.C.L.A. In Pre-Conference Game

The U. C. L. A. Bruins, winding up a six-game road trip series, will tangle with Idaho's undefeated basketballers in Memorial gymnasium at 7:30 Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

The Vandals, anxious to extend the four consecutive victories to include the Bruins, work out this week in anticipation of their hardest games so far.

Vandals Improve
"Our boys are coming along in good shape," commented Coach Forrest Twogood. "They are getting in better shape physically, and they are playing better ball."

"Our boys haven't done much on the road trip so far," admitted U. C. L. A. Coach "Caddy" Works. "We lost to Oregon State and Oregon, but we are getting good practice as we go along."

Last year the Vandal-Bruin series broke even. U. C. L. A. won the first game 45 to 34, and Idaho won the second 30 to 26. Both teams hope to settle the supremacy question in its own favor in this week's games.

Starting Lineup
Probable starters for Idaho, Coach Twogood indicated, will be the same men who have comprised the starting lineup for most of the games so far. Don Johnson and Steve Belko will probably get the starting forward berths; Brendon Barrett, the center post; and Lyle Smith and Bill Kramer, the guard assignments.

The Bruins, following the games here, will return to Los Angeles. Their trip will have included a game with Oregon State, another with Oregon, and two-game series with Washington State and Idaho. The Vandals leave Friday on a south Idaho road trip to include games with the College of Idaho, Brigham Young, Utah, and the Southern Branch. They will return home again December 30.

Below is the Idaho and U. C. L. A. basketball players, their numbers, positions who will be suited up Wednesday and Thursday nights:

Idaho	No.	Pos.	U. C. L. A.	No.	Pos.
Don Johnson, Capt.	14	F	Alex Rafalvich	21	G
Bill Kramer	7	G	Wilburn Munkers	22	F
Steve Belko	11	F	Harley Humes	23	F
Lyle Smith	17	G	Carlton Sieck	25	F
Willis Bohman	15	F	Robert Calkins	27	F
Roland Winter	10	G	Harry Holt	31	F-C
Gilbert Doll	8	C	Chester Lappen	32	G
Brendon Barrett	16	C	Paul Slaughter	33	G
Roy Ramey	5	F	Jack Cooper	35	F
Bob Dvorak	6	G	Jack Montgomery	37	G
Bill English	4	G	Richard Brunnenkant	37	G
Paul Sullivan	12	G
Gordon Price	3	F

Reserve seat tickets are now on sale at the Hotel Moscow. Price is 75 cents. They will be sold from 5 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. Season tickets are still available for $7.50.

Idaho Beats E.W.C. Saturday Night

Chalking up their fourth win in their fourth early season game, Vandal basketball men downed the Eastern Washington College of Education 36 to 30 on the Cheney floor Saturday night.

Opening the game with a field goal by Bill Kramer in the first half-minute of play, Idaho ran up a 23 to 18 lead by half time. The Vandals were more consistent on shots and handled the ball better than the Savages all the way through. The Savages trailed in the scoring column practically all during the game.

Johnson High
Don Johnson, Vandal forward and captain, took individual high-scoring honors for the third consecutive game with 12 points. Steve Belko and Bill Kramer, with 10 each, tied Pink West and Ed Ulowitz who led the Teachers' scoring.

Coach Ted Bank Returns From Coast Meet

Just returned home after acting as chairman of the Pacific Coast Conference Football Coaches association meeting held in Del Monte, Cal., December 6-8, Idaho Ted Bank makes plans this week to report on Pacific coast football at the National Football Coaches association convention in New Orleans December 29 to 31.

"At the coast conference meeting," he said, "we discussed new rule possibilities and made some recommendations for rule changes. Conference schedules for 1938 were straightened out to some extent, but Idaho's 1938 schedule is still in the formative stage."

Letter From Kipke
"Returning home this week I discovered a letter from Lou Little, Columbia coach, informing me that I have been re-appointed on the national rules committee. Another letter from Harry G. Kipke, former president of the National Football Coaches association, invited me to report on the 1937 Pacific coast season in New Orleans."

Rule changes which the coast conference meeting favored, including two boosts for offensive teams and one for defensive players. The coaches approved a suggestion to make forward passes legal anywhere back of the line of scrimmage. They also favored a new rule to make illegal lateral plays subject to a five-yard penalty from the point the lateral was thrown. The present rule calls the ball back to where the play started.

A new rule proposal to prevent an offensive team from being given penalties which put them within a yard of the defensive goal was adopted. Under the proposed ruling, illegal plays within 10 yards of the defensive team's goal line can only be penalized half the distance to the goal.

A motion to put goal posts on the goal line was rejected.

First Annual Banquet To Honor Champion Cross Country Team

The first annual banquet of the championship cross country team will be held at the Student Union building Thursday evening, January 13, according to Mike Ryan, coach. An effort is being made to have such men present as President Harrison C. Dale and Charles E. Stark, Jr., Spokesman-Review sports editor.

Decided at a meeting of the Cross-Country club Sunday afternoon was that the banquet will be held in honor of both the varsity and freshman cross country teams. The varsity team has been in cross-country competition for three years and has never lost a dual meet. This year they forged ahead to the top to win the Pacific Coast championship. At the meeting in which they won the championship every school on the Pacific coast was extended an invitation to compete.

Pat Probst was elected honorary captain for the varsity team, while Philip Leibowitz and Bob Neal were elected captains of the frosh team. Wesley Lathen was elected president of the cross-country club, which is composed of all men who have been in competition in cross-country races on either the frosh or varsity teams.

Other officers elected were: Pat Probst, first vice president; Rex Fluharty, second vice president; Bob Neal, treasurer; Fred Zamboni, historian; Woodrow Snyder, secretary. Since Woodrow Snyder graduates in June, Dan Peterson was elected to fill the office of secretary when he graduates.

Final plans were completed last week by Harold Oldson for a get-together of Idaho students at the Palomar in Los Angeles on Tuesday, December 28.

Students from W.S.C. and Oregon State, who are living or visiting Los Angeles during the Christmas holidays have been invited to join Idaho students in a reunion of students of Northwest universities at that time.

According to Oldson, the managers of the night club have offered a special rate, as well as a special group of reserved tables for those planning to attend the party. Any Idaho students who have not yet made arrangements to attend the gathering and who plan to be in Southern California after Christmas, are urged to notify Oldson at Willis Sweet hall before Thursday morning, or to phone him at his residence, 54 N. Wilson Ave., Pasadena, California, after Sunday, December 19. The phone number is Colorado 4856.

Wallace Beery, Vandal godfather, has been invited to attend, and over 20 couples have already signified their intentions of joining the group.

RIFLE PRACTICES ARE SCHEDULED

Rifle practice started yesterday afternoon for this year's title team, when old members gathered on the armory range for the first time. Capt. Edwin Waters announced that no new candidates would compete until after holidays.

"All new candidates are requested to report immediately after vacation," Captain Waters said. "Practices are held between 2 and 5 o'clock Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons and for Saturday mornings at 9 o'clock."

Novice Boxing Tourney Is Successful

Coach August Plans To Have Another Tourney In February

The first novice boxing tournament ever held at the University of Idaho was conceded "very successful" by Coach Louis August. The semi-finals and the finals were held Friday night in the basement of the men's gym.

"The fights proved very popular," August said. "Although there were no entrants in the 119-pound class, a total of 32 men took part. I expect to run off another tournament near the end of February. This gives the fellow in the grandstand a chance to find out what it is all about. Only those who have never fought before are allowed to enter."

Winners were Arthur Moritz, 129 pounds; Gerald Storey, 139 pounds; Pete Genarrusa, 149 pounds; Carl Kierulff, 159 pounds; Sherman Schmidt, 169 pounds; Cliff Palfreyman, 179 pounds; and Gould Fay, heavyweight.

The toughest weight was the 159-pound class with 12 entries. Students showed so much interest that Coach August has decided to run two tournaments each year for beginners.

TWENTY CHILDREN FETED
A party for 20 nursery school children, sponsored by the child development class, is to be given in the home economics department Wednesday from 3 to 5 o'clock. A tree, Santa Claus, and a program will be provided to entertain the children. Refreshments will be served.

Vandals Blanket Whitman Cagers By Big Score

Paced by Captain Don Johnson, who contributed 20 points for high-scoring honors, and displaying a much-improved offensive attack, Idaho smothered Whitman 56 to 35 Friday night in the Vandal's second home basketball game.

Play was about even during the first few minutes of the game, with both teams concentrating on offensive attack and neglecting their defenses.

Idaho Starts Scoring
Midway in the first half, with the score tied at 13, the Vandal defensive play became more steady. About the same time, Johnson and Ramey started to work in for nicely executed field goals, and the half ended 34 to 23 for Idaho.

Second Half Slow
The second half, slower than the first, was marked by frequent substitutions, poorer offensive systems, and a slowly mounting Vandal lead. The ball-hawking and backboard rebound shots of Brendon Barrett, and the all-round efficiency of Lyle Smith were the high points of last-half Vandal play.

Mike Reser, deadeye forward, scored 11 points during the game, mostly on long shots, to take top honors for the Missionaries.

Dooley Announces His All-American

Two coast football players and one Rocky mountain conference player won a berth on Eddie Dooley's all-American selection Saturday night. Western players chosen were Victor Markov, Washington, right end; Byron (Whisser) Waite, the Colorado sensation, left halfback; and Sam Chapman, California, fullback.

Eddie Dooley is the football authority who appears on the Chesterfield program. He announced his football selections last Saturday night, December 11.

The following are his all-American selections:

- Andrew Bershank, LE, 185, North-Carolina; Edmund Franco, LT, 196, Fordham; Leroy Monksy, LG, 198, Alabama; Alex Wojciechewicz, C, 200, Fordham; Joe Routt, RG, 193, Texas A & M; Victor Markov, RT, 213, Washington; Chuck Sweeney, RE, 190, Notre Dame; Clint Frank, Q, 190, Yale; Byron White, LH, 187, Colorado; Marshall Goldberg, RH, 185, Pittsburgh; and Sam Chapman, F, 188, California.

---From The Bench---

By Bill Johnston

Christmas holidays, Vandal basketball, and Friday's Co-ed Argonaut are likely to be pretty thoroughly mixed this weekend. So first thing, before "them women" get our column, we want to congratulate a squad of up-and-coming Vandals on their showing so far, and to wish them a Merry Christmas road trip and a very Happy Conference New Year.

The U. C. L. A. games tomorrow night and Thursday should be the most interesting so far on the Vandal schedule. Idaho looked good against Whitman and Cheney, but there is no way of telling just how Whitman and Cheney would look against conference competition. U. C. L. A. will be the first team on the Idaho schedule that ranks "up in there."

Talking to Coach "Caddy" Works, who came over to visit Moscow while his team waited for the Washington State game, we got some first-hand information about the Bruins.

Their team will be composed mostly of sophomores and juniors. Only one veteran, Crossan Hays, 6 feet 4 inch center, is left of last year's team.

"However, we will be playing our eighth game this season Wednesday," Coach Works declared. "Our boys are inexperienced, but they are getting better as they go along."

"Oregon State has a much better team than most people realize," he said. Oregon beat us, too, 47 to 26, but they did not play as well against us as they did last year. They have all last year's team back and should have more strength this year. We lost our team last year and should be weaker. It is just one of those things that happens early in the season."

To those who are derisive because Whitman beat Washington State twice in a row, we would like to repeat his words: "It's just one of those things that happen early in the season."

L.D.S. Win Table Tennis Tourney

Led by the brilliant playing of two all-university table tennis stars, Vaughn Lewis and Bill Reese, the L. D. S. Institute repeated their championship performance of last year, defeating Mark Robinson and his Kappa Sig cohorts in the championship playoff. The winners received 100 points as minor sports champs in the intramural cup race.

Sweet hall maintained its lead in total intramural points by finishing third, ahead of the Idaho club, and received 90 points.

Two all-university teams were named by officials from the 118 men participating in teams lining up as follows: the 5th intramural sport, the Vaughn Lewis, L. D. S. Institute

Clinton Alsop, Sweet hall Mark Robinson, Kappa Sigma Kenneth Leuritzen, Desert club
