Artist Ball Is Slated For Saturday Night

Masquerade Will Feature Spokane Floor Show; Prizes Offered for Best Costumes

A new style of floor show, a new style of decoration, a new style of dance and refreshments to top it off will be featured at the Artist Ball to be held next Saturday evening at the Blue Bucket. The dance is being sponsored by the Maya club, honorary architectural group. This is the only all-college masquerade to be held on the Idaho campus.

According to Brandt Gessell, chairman of the dance, the decorations alone are worth the price of admission. The type to be used is something new in the way of decorations. The paint to be used is of a luminescent type, a paint that will throw off the light. At the present, the paint is not on the market, but is expected to be within the next month. It proves to be a most novel effect when used in decorating, Gessell said.

Novel Floor Show

As a feature of the intermission period, the Maya's will serve refreshments and will present a novel floor show. The show will be something new in the way of campus entertainment. The show will be brought from Spokane. A chalk talk along with that of a magician will be included on the floor show program.

Some psychologists contend that a person's voice over a telephone is a good criterion of his personality. We are more inclined to agree with this contention after our experiences. One of our calls was answered by a person with a lazy, languid voice that had the same effect as a "cold fish" handshake. Upon finding out whom we wished to speak to, the sleepy voice could be heard outside the phone booth, gently whispering the person's name. After two half-hearted calls, the voice returned to the phone with the information that "Bessie didn't seem to be in right now."

What a contrast this presents when compared with another voice that greeted us with a bright cheer. "Hello" and a pleasant request as to who we wished to speak to. One could almost visualize the alert aliveness of the answerer. Although the party called was not at home, we left the phone with the feeling that all possible effort had been made to find him.

Section of Old Fir Tree Makes Interesting Historical Measure

A wedge-shaped cross section of a six-foot Douglas fir that was a mere 169-year-old strippling when Columbus discovered America, hangs outside the office of Prof. L. J. Smith of the department of agricultural engineering at Washington State college. The section, which was loaned to the department by the West Coast Lumbermen's association, provides a graphic yardstick for measuring historical events during the past 600 years. More than six centuries ago, this Douglas fir started growing on the Pacific coast. It flourished, and at the beginning of the 100 years' war in 1338, it was 12 inches in diameter. Almost a century later, when Joan of Arc was burned in 1431, the tree was a lusty youngster of 26 inches diameter. Sixty-one years later when Columbus discovered America the tree's waistline had grown to 34 inches.

Only 95 Years
Ninety-five years later, in 1537, Mary Queen of Scots was executed and the diameter of the tree had reached 43 inches. Another three inches on the tree saw the landing of the Pilgrims in 1620. The signing of the Declaration of Independence more than a century and a half later saw the five-foot mark within reach. The tough old monarch was now more than 450 years old, yet years were to pass before it saw white men in any numbers. But things were speeding up. The last 150 years record the War of 1812, the Civil war, the Spanish-American war of 1898, and the World war of 1914. And 1927, the year the tree was felled, saw Lindbergh's flight across the Atlantic.

New Rally Plan Formulated By Alpha Phi Chi

Intramural Managers Aim To Increase Student Attendance At Pep Rallies

Striking against the present generally condition on the campus, the Alpha Phi Chi, local honorary for intramural managers, has added the control of the pep rallies to its list of activities. This plan for the rallies which they have planned will be put into practice on February 17. Plans are being worked up to make this rally one of the biggest on the campus.

The main aim of the group is to get 100 per cent participation of the students at all pep rallies, particularly when the team is leaving or returning from trips.

Since Alpha Phi Chi has two members and two pledges in each of the representative men's houses, the elaborate plan should prove simple according to Claude Hart, assistant director of intramurals. Hart explained that each house's representatives would be responsible for getting members of their own houses out to the rallies.

A system of checking of the students will be made at various places along the route of the rally. The field directors, ten intramural managers, and assistant director Hart will be stationed at the various places to check the house representatives. A new route has been worked out so as to get all houses in a close position along the line of march.

Cups to House

As an added incentive to the houses, a special plaque will be awarded annually to that house which has the greatest number of points as awarded for their participation at the rallies. This award will be made by the Alpha Phi Chi. The system of point-award will be on the following basis:

For 50 per cent participation of the house 25 points will be awarded.

For each one per cent participation one point in addition will be awarded, making it possible for each house to win 75 points with 100 per cent participation.

If a house has less than 50 per cent of its members at the rally, 25 points will be deducted from their intramural standing.

Finnell Approves Plan

According to Charles Finnell, yet king the plan is something that has been needed for some time here at the university. "I think the plan is very good," he commented. "If each of the houses will cooperate with Alpha Phi Chi and the yell leaders I am sure that the system will be a success." Finnell stated that the individuals in the house would be completely responsible for the success of the plan, and said he would like to see the plan worked out.

Plans for the big rally on February 17, will be announced later according to Hart. The honorary hopes to contact girls house representatives by that time so as to work out a similar plan for the girls.

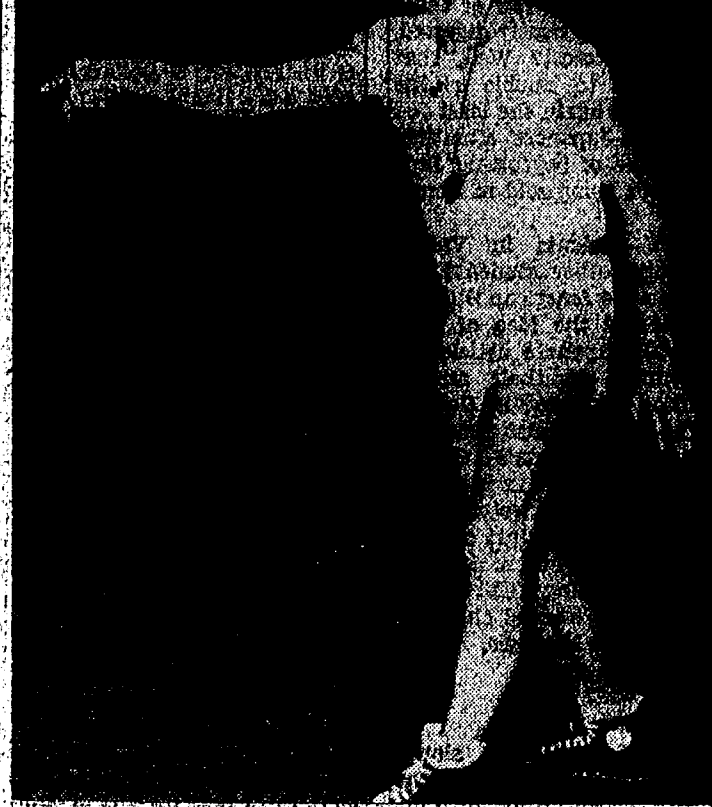

SNOW WILL HELP IF HANDS FREEZE

Stay away from the fire if you have frozen or frostbitten fingers or toes, warns Dr. F. H. Dirvine, dean of the school of pharmacy at Washington State college. Rushing up to a stove is the worst thing one can do.

Any part of the body that is frostbitten must be handled carefully, because complete circulation to the part must be restored gradually. Cold applications of water or snow over a period of several minutes with moderate rubbing of the part prove effective circulation with as little damage as possible.

Club Gives Prize For Best Picture Before April 1

Here is a chance for all amateur shutter-clickers to gather themselves cash and perhaps some publicity, for their photographs.

The camera club announces that an anonymous person has donated $10 to them, which will be given to the local camera artist turning in the best "shot" of some campus activity before April first. The contest is open to all amateur photographers in the university.

Competition Rules

Rules of the competition are this: Photos may be of any phase of college life—scholastic, social, or otherwise, and may be of any size, but must be turned in to camera club mounted on 15" by 20" white mounting. It is preferred that they be suitable for enlarging.

The club is already sponsoring a competition for the best candid camera-shot of campus life, the entries of which will be on exhibition in the Blue Bucket sometime in February. Spokesman for the association says there is a good chance that suitable pictures from both contests may be used by campus publications and perhaps others.

Student Prefers U. S. With Education To Chinese Army Job

An offer of $200 per week to be deposited in any American bank designated, was made to Walter P. Frick, 40, licensed pilot and vice-president of the University of Southern California flying club, by the Chinese national government.

"Rather than accept the offer, I decided to continue my education," Frick said. "If I had gone to fly for China I would have lost my United States citizenship, which I prize more highly than the risky offer of the Chinese government."

According to Frick, Chinese student fliers are being turned out at the San Francisco bay airbase at the rate of 50 per month. As soon as these men are able to take a ship off the ground and land again they leave for China.

Orchestra Gives Concert Sunday

Prof. Hall Macklin Will Play Saint-Saens' Piano Concerto

The University Symphony orchestra, Prof. Carl Claus, director, will play its first semester concert on next Sunday, January 16, at 4 p. m. in the University auditorium. The orchestra is composed of 55 members.

Of special interest will be the playing of the first movement of Saint-Saens' piano concerto, with the solo part played by Prof. Hall Macklin, accompanied by the orchestra.

Program Well-Known

The program will include the Leonore Overture No. 3 by Beethoven, and such well-known numbers as the "Dance of the Miriltions," from the Nutcracker Suite, featuring three flutes, and the "Andante Cantabile" movement from the famous Fifth Symphony by Tchaikowsky. The concluding number will be the Damrosch orchestration of Bach's "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." The public is cordially invited to attend this concert.

Special N.Y.A. Aid Given Students

A special N. Y. A. aid may be made possible for students who will be forced to withdraw from school at the end of the first semester due to a shortage of funds.

In order to receive this aid, students must be able to comply with either of the following conditions: (1) The family at home is receiving some public aid, or (2) the family income is so low that no assistance is possible from home. Certification of either condition is necessary by the parent at the public aid office nearest the home of the student.

Students qualifying under the regulations and who must leave the university for lack of funds may call for instructions at the office of Dean D. S. Jeffers, chairman of the N. Y. A. for men, room 331, Morrill hall, and ask the secretary for form N. Y. A. No. 37.

ALUMNI TO HONOR PERMEAL FRENCH

T. S. Kerr Presents Observations on Business Law and Political Science Conventions

Interesting observations were presented by Dean T. S. Kerr today based upon discussion which featured the meeting of the American Business Law association at Atlantic City and that of the American Political Science association at Philadelphia from which he returned January 9. Dean Kerr served as chairman of the first general session of the Business Law association meeting and served as chairman of the nominating committee for that body.

According to Dean Kerr, special interest was shown in two topics of present-day world significance. These were discussions of the Sino-Japanese conflict and labor problems related to government.

Imperialism Motive

The doctrine of Japanese Imperialism, Dean Kerr believes, is the Japanese motive for present aggression, not the need for territory into which a surplus population might flow, nor a need for basic raw materials.

"Japan claims that China is not capable of self government and consequently the excuse for invading China is to establish order," he pointed out. "The American viewpoint holds that China is capable of self government. This is supported by the fact that since 1924 the Chinese government has existed with less physical force or intimidation than has occurred in Japan where assassinations among public officials have been resorted to frequently. Also China has been faithful during this period in meeting her international obligations in contrast to the Japanese who have displayed contempt for international treaties," said Dean Kerr.

"It is generally believed that Japan would have been satisfied a year ago to see China broken into 12 or more states and, by balancing these states against each other, establish herself as the industrial center and political leader."

May Hold Ground

War hysteria is so prevalent in Japan that it is difficult to determine what will satisfy the militarists; but opinion seems to be that Japan will not forge farther into China, but will maintain possession of the land in China she now occupies in which live 90 million Chinese, according to Dean Kerr.

Representatives of the American Federation of Labor and Committee for Industrial Organization presented the question of government-labor philosophies which present a striking contrast to each, since the

Th' Cub Reporter On The Loose

Hi ho, dear unpropitious people! Talk about the "ides of March," and "June in January," this weather mitigates between the "devil and the deep blue sea." . . . but then, all Pollyanna would say, there is a cheerful side to everything—and how would we ever get our studying done if there were any ice and snow, and if we did know how to skate and ski.

And now, with a few of those trite expressions neatly digested, what's of interest? Well, that which seems to trouble us the most and yet again the least . . . is the Sino-Japanese situation, and the idea of boycotting Japanese goods being sold in America.

Women students in Vassar college and other students belonging to the American Student Union started the idea of boycotting all Japanese articles in this country at their annual convention at Vassar in December. The students also renounced their last year's Oxford pledge, never to bear arms in any U. S. war, and voted for a firm U. S. policy against aggressor nations. They, then, discarded all silk stockings, shirts, and ties into a bonfire and chanted:

"Make lisle the style,
Wear lisle awhile,
If you wear cotton,
Japan get nottin'."

The idea has been slowly creeping westward, and so your inquiring reporter decided to investigate the thoughts and ideas of the magnitude on this campus.

Helen Berg, one of those Gamma Phi pledges, dramatically exclaimed, "I think it would be a good idea, especially about not wearing silk stockings. I'm getting so darn tired of snapping a run almost every day, that I'd really be a staunch supporter of the idea."

Jo Cook, the girl that lived in Persia, claimed, "It's a good idea, but it would probably be a bit difficult to carry out. Maybe we could get some United States spun silk that we could wear for dress. Of course, all the silk that we have on this coast comes directly from Japan."

Allee Conway and Eleanor Redfield, Delta Gammas, remonstrated, "It might be a good idea, but lisle is too unflattering. . . . think of wearing lisle or woolen stockings to a dance!"
Bill (Peaches) Murphy, Sigma Nu pledge, doesn't agree with the idea: "It is purely all a war psychology. All these other countries want is a chance to break up this good neighbor policy that President Roosevelt has built up. I don't mind the idea of wearing woolen stockings, but the weather should furnish better reasons than merely a boycott on Japan."

Emy Lou Smith and Phyllis Rand are all for it: "Anything against Japan! The idea was tried in Pullman, and it worked pretty well . . . anyway, even if it didn't do Japan any harm, it certainly would decrease the amount of deaths caused by colds and cold legs."
Well, there we are. There are only a few of the various dissertations on the idea, which will probably go the way of all mad ideas, such as beard growing contests, limerick contests, etc. Anyway, if we don't have snow, there wouldn't be any sense to wearing woolen and lisle stockings. . . . and here we are back to the weather again . . . so yours truly will bid you a fond adieu.

Rumor has it that the Phi Gamma boys incited a few shades of Houdini at their brawl of Saturday last. Seems he even drifted so far as the Kappa front porch, and the unmentionable in question might have just gone with the wind. If ya wanta head what didn't happen, just talk to Walt Brown.

There must not be many telephone calls up "Delt way," cause every time they do get one, the whole house has to chime in on it. How about it, Mary Alice Pettit? And you thought it was Jimmie Yoder all the time.

Looked as if Ev Holt were breakin' up that old Roise-Sampson league a bit the other night. Well, I see Jo Cook is back "hair" again.

The CIO maintains that the only solution is a complete dictatorship by government or a so-called "Planned Economy" instituted by our national government, Dean Kerr explained in concluding.

To the Editor:
I would certainly like to send in a little comment on the general spirit of honor, fairness, and honesty evident on the campus of the University of Idaho. This spirit of general cooperation has been brought to my attention even more forcefully during the last day or so. I notice that students who have every chance in the world not to play fairly in patronizing the Ad. building commissary have displayed a remarkable sense of decency and honor in taking their bars and paying for them or taking their change. I believe this is generally so in the houses and halls, too. I wonder on how many campuses such a fortunate situation is duplicated, in which students can be trusted, and prove true.

Don't you think, too, that this is indeed an unusually fine situation, and one to be highly lauded?

Drug Store Coaches

Idaho, showing a record of 10 victories in 13 pre-season non-conference basketball games, goes over to Montana and gets knocked off twice in two thrillers. Immediately, the drug store coaches shoot a little more fizz water in their ice cream sodas and the downtown barbers give sloppier hair-cuts. They both yowl:

"What's the matter with the Idaho basketball team—losing to a team like Montana? Huh, I thought this was the year we were supposed to cop the conference."

To that moronic type of Monday morning dribbler, let me say that nothing was wrong with Idaho at Montana. Losing to Montana is no disgrace either, for that little crew of Grizzlies is going to knock over many of their more highly touted rivals in their telephone-booth gymnasium at Missoula. On the road, however, Montana will probably not fare so well; when they oppose Idaho on a floor where the bleachers do not extend right down to the playing floor, on a floor that is lively and fulfills regulation measurements, and under circumstances where fouls are closely called—the Vandals should emerge 20-point victors.

Such would be the prophecy of one who actually saw the ball-handling Vandals, obviously in a shooting slump, lose by a single point to the fighting Grizzlies on the latter's home floor.

A defeated squad deplors returning to this campus, for the cry from the bench warmers and drug store coaches is always, "What was the matter with you guys?" instead of, "Forget that one—better luck next time."

Seeing The Shows

KENWORTHY—Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

"CONQUEST"—Starring Greta Garbo, Charles Boyer, and Maria Ouspenskaya. Garbo plays the role of the Countess Walewska of Poland who forsakes her home and her husband in an attempt to win over Napoleon and thus save the life of her country. The two fall in love and are happy until Napoleon's mad determination to rule the world forces the Countess to leave him and also leads the emperor to his doom. Garbo appears for the first time in fifteen years in a supporting role, because the real star is Charles Boyer. He plays the Little Corporal in so magnificent a way that you shouldn't miss seeing him even though the narrative of the picture is rather dull.

NUART—Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

"EBB TIDE"—Starring Frances Farmer, Pady Milland, and Oscar Homolka—Frances Farmer, aboard a ship in the South Sea, attempts to carry on after her captain father dies of yellow fever. Ray Milland and Oscar Homolka succeed in interrupting her plans; and because of a typhoon, they land on an old island, supposedly quite rich in pearls. A miser who lives on the island adds a fiendish bit of drama to the play. All ends well with the love interest of Frances Farmer and Pady Milland. Oscar Homolka gives a remarkable performance of the outwaked captain. This story produced by Robert Louis Stevenson and produced in technicolor promises to be entertaining.

Idaho hoopmen split a two-game series against the Washington Huskies in Seattle Friday and Saturday nights, Friday night's game ending 38 to 28 for Washington. Saturday night saw the Vandals pull out with a 36 to 33 win.

The last game was a "sizzler". The score was tied in the last five minutes, with both teams playing nip and tuck ball, and Idaho fighting to regain an early-game lead. With two minutes to play, Barrett sank a trick shot from the sidelines to give the Vandals a 35 to 33 lead. A free throw by Kramer at the whistle, put the game on ice for Idaho.

Barrett, Belko, and Kramer were the Idaho "big guns", scoring 23 of the Idaho markers. Lockhart and Werner were high men for Washington.

Washington Wins First
 Friday's game, with a half-time score of 14 to 13 for the Huskies, and ending with them holding a 38 to 28 advantage, was the third Vandal setback in as many conference starts. Both teams played on even terms during the first half. In the second period, however, Voelker, Husky center began scoring. He tallied five last-half field goals to take high point honors with 14 points.

Kramer, with 10 and Belko with 8, were high scorers for the Vandals.

Mattmen Turn Out Daily To Prepare For Coming Year

Mattmen were getting their waltziness down in preparation for another season in the old grunt game of wrestling. Vandal wrestlers are out to repeat last year's championship. Under the tutelage of Bert Huntington, student coach, wrestlers have been turning out daily to absorb more experience in wrestling.

Lettermen will share the brunt of work this year. Two football players are among the returning lettermen. They are Stenko Pavlov and Jasper Nutting, heavyweights, at 15; Jack Smith, 165; Mike Nelson and Bert Huntington, 155; Jerry Mills, 125; and Pete Hallett, 115.

Frosh Add Strength
 Two frosh wrestlers from last year will give the wrestling team an added prestige. Forest Ober, football player and boxer, will turn his talents toward wrestling. Ober was one of the bright spots on last year's frosh team. Art Swan, 155, is another of last year's frosh wrestlers who is showing up well.

Other prospects are Dennis Hess, transfer from the southern branch, who weighs 145, Irving Rauw and Hans Winbauer, 165; and Dwight Macy and Clarence Kassens, 135.

Matches Being Arranged
 Coach Huntington announced that matches with Washington State college, Washington, Oregon, and Oregon State were being arranged. No definite schedule has been completed up to date. Wrestling will get underway the first of February.

Pull Game Out of Fire For Idaho Saturday

BRENDON BARRETT
Center

BILL KRAMER
Guard

IT WAS THE WORK of these two Vandal basketballers that pulled the game out of the fire for Idaho last Saturday night against the Washington Huskies. Barrett sank a difficult shot from the corner of the court with less than two minutes to play and the score knotted up in a 33 to 33 tie. This put the Vandals in the lead 35 to 33. Just before the final gun sounded, Kramer cinched the game by making a free throw. Idaho emerged the victors by a score of 36 to 33. Washington won the first game Friday night 38 to 28.

Vandal Hoopsters Engage Cougar Quintet In Two Game Series

Encouraged by the showing Idaho's basketball team made against Washington Saturday but still doubtful that the Vandals are performing as well as they might, Coach Forrest Twogood is drilling his charges this week for the two-game series with Washington State Friday night in Pullman and Saturday night here.

"We are improving on defense," Coach Twogood said, "but we are still very weak on making the short shots we have to make to win. Belko and Barrett looked especially good against Washington, and I've found I have a fine reserve in Whitey Price. But the team as a whole needs plenty of work."

Johnson-Smith Change
 Chief of the changes made this week to prepare for the Cougars, is the position switch of Captain Don Johnson and Lyle Smith. Johnson, playing forward so far this year, was shifted to his last year's guard position for the last Washington game. He performed so well that Coach Twogood has decided to keep him in the same position. Smith a regular guard last year and so far this year, has taken over Johnson's forward berth.

Strenuous practice sessions are slated for the Vandals this week. Although Washington State lost practically all its regulars last year, it has won half of its games this year, losing only to the veteran Oregon quintet; and the Idaho coaches are expecting stiff opposition.

"We expect them to be tougher," admitted Coach Twogood, "than either Washington or Montana."

The freshman teams of the two schools will meet after both varsity games.

Rifle Coach Sets Dates for Match

Telegraphic matches with 20 major universities and colleges throughout the U. S. have been arranged for the University of Idaho rifle team during February and March. Capt. Edwin Waters, rifle coach, revealed today. First matches are scheduled for the week of January 31 to February 5, and are with the Universities of Pittsburgh, Wyoming, and California at Berkeley.

The team competing in these first matches will consist of 15 men, the 10 highest scores being entered. Each man will fire 10 shots from each of four different positions with a possible perfect score of 400, and will fire under a time limit of one minute per shot.

More than 100 men have turned out for the rifle team this year. The squad will soon be cut, but just how many men will be retained has not yet been determined.

Ski Enthusiasts Busy Saturday

Approximately 40 university ski enthusiasts turned out for the team tryouts conducted by the Vandal Outing club Saturday on Moscow mountain over a one mile course.

Frank Fowles with a 4:24 record was followed in the time trials by Austin Helmers, 4:32; Dennis Hess 5:14; Dee Fjelsted 5:27; and Royce Stauffer, 6:17.

Finals January 12
 Announcement of final tryouts will be made at the Outing meeting January 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Blue Bucket, according to Ray Stone, president.

To date the club has two meets scheduled, one with W.S.C. on Moscow mountain, and one with the northwest intercollegiate ski union of Spokane the latter part of February.

LEHMANS HAVE SON
 Ward has been received of the birth of a son, Judson Lehman, January 4, to Mr. and Mrs. Corland L. James of Sandpoint. Mr. James was a '34 Idaho forestry graduate.

Intramural Sports

At the close of 26 games in the intramural basketball round robin, the Sigma Nu quintet stood in the favored position. Playing in what managers agree is the "toughest" league, the "Wallace" five representing Sigma Nu won a football score victory against the Fijis 18-12, dropped a strong Willis Sweet hall five 1-12, and rolled up a 31-23 win over a good SAE squad to lead all teams with three victories and no defeats.

Kappa Sigma and Lindley hall, with two victories apiece in the six-team league II, had things all to themselves. The league title will hinge on the outcome of their game. Kappa Sigma did up big scores, defeating the Desert club 45-6. A ball-hawking quintet, they will make trouble for an aggressive well-knit Lindley hall squad.

Woody Hall Stars
 With Woody Hall again showing the way, Phi Delta Theta's burly team has forged to the top of League II with a pair of wins, closely pressed by an aggressive Delta Tau Delta quintet, victorious in their first two games.

No team has survived the battles of league one, all showing one or more scars. Delta Chi and ATO are knotted for the lead with two victories and one loss apiece. Delta Chi dropped the ATOs 21-17 only to fall victim to a strong Idaho club unit 19-20. Idaho club in turn fell by the way before the ATO quintet, and suffered a second loss before the newcomer to the league, Lewis court.

At the close of league play this week, at which time all league championships and runners-up will have been decided, basket-

Frosh Cagers To Make Initial Bow Against W.S.C. Cubs

Vandal freshman basketballers, "not smooth yet, but improving," according to Coach Al Paddock, are waiting their chances this week to show their wares for the first time this year against Washington State frosh in the aftermath sessions to the two varsity games this week-end.

"The boys have a long way to go before they are a smooth-working team," Coach Paddock said. "However, they are improving, especially defensively, and I hope they will show something good before the year is over."

Probable Starts
 A tentative starting lineup for the games this week has been selected during the last few practices. It is now likely that the starting quintet will include, Otis Hilton at center, Dave Marshall and Milo Anderson at forwards, and Kenny Woods and Irvin Hopkins at guard. Three other players, Ronnie Harris at forward, and Ora Wildman and Bob Revelli at guard, are about on par with the five most probable starters.

The games this week will be the freshmen's first this year, and the first of a six-game Washington State series. The Cougar Cubs have so far won one game this year from the Moscow Eagles.

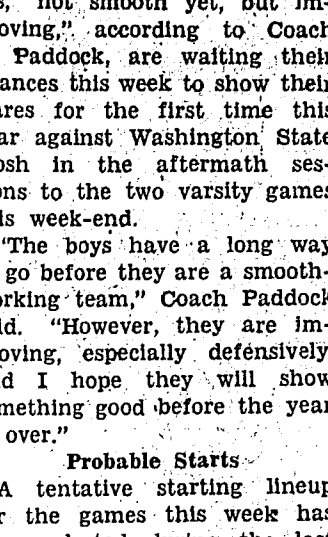

The intermountain country was called the "last frontier" by the fur trappers.

Vandal Personalities

By Bill McGowan
 Entering his third year of competition as a Vandal, Don Johnson is one of the outstanding athletes on the Idaho campus. For two years Johnson has been the center on Idaho's basketball team, and during that time he became famous throughout the Pacific Northwest for his brilliant brand of ball, but this year Coach Forrest Twogood has shifted him to a forward position from which he has sparked the team to win after win.

Twenty-one years old, Don stands 6 feet 1 inch in his socks, and tips the Fairbanks at 195 pounds. A senior, he will graduate with a degree in education. He plans on teaching P. E., history, and perhaps science.

For no particular reason beyond personal taste, Don is a strict vegetarian. He likes all types of athletics, and is sometimes known as the "song-bird" of the Phi Deltas. He has composed several pieces of music, and is an accredited musician on the piano, guitar, uke, and banjo.

August Schedules Matches For Next Semester

Five second-semester engagements for Idaho's varsity and freshman boxers were posted on the training room bulletin board this week by Coach Louie August.

San Jose State college fighters will come up from California on February 16 to meet Idaho's varsity team here. It will be the first team card between Idaho and San Jose State.

The Vandal freshman team will go to Pullman February 25 for a return match with the Washington State freshman team, which won from the Vandal yearlings here last month, 4 to 3. On March 11 the varsity team will cross the state line for a return match with the W.S.C. varsity team.

Full Team Planned
 Coach August again plans to enter a full team in the Pacific coast intercollegiate championships to be held at Sacramento, Cal., March 24 and 25.

3. "GENTLE ON MY THROAT. Others at the RKO-Radio studios agree with me—Barbara Stanwyck and Herbert Marshall, for instance." (Reason: the "Toasting" process expels certain throat irritants found in all tobacco.)

4. "NOW AS REGARDS TOBACCO... Luckies' flavor has always appealed to me very much. So I was interested to read recently that Luckies are the favorite cigarette among the tobacco experts themselves."

5. AUCTIONEERS, BUYERS AND WAREHOUSEMEN must be able to judge tobacco at a glance. Sworn records show that among independent experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as all other brands combined. With men who know tobacco best... it's Luckies 2 to 1.
