Hell Divers To Trick Spectators With Lights At Water Carnival

Lighted figures of graceful swimmers making patterns and formations in the waters of the spectacular events of the Hell Diver's water carnival this year. Fancy divers and clowns will perform. Can you do the same? If you have passed your senior life saving test, start practicing for the Hell Diver's tryout next week. They intend to take five new members. Lights are Tricks. Lighted figure idea will be accomplished by attaching dry cell batteries to the hands and feet of the swimmers, who will perform in the darkened pool. Attempts are also being made to attach lights to the divers, but no scheme for this has been adopted yet. The water carnival, given every year by the Hell Divers, will be held in April this year. All members wishing to participate are to try out this week. Advice to prospective Hell Divers is to review life saving technique and diving, since both are included in the test to tryout for membership.

Show is Planned By Miners At Annual Ball

To depict old time miners' brawls and give atmosphere at the dance, the Associated miners are planning a floor show during intermission for the annual Miners' ball this week-end in the Women's gym, February 5. Dr. Evelyn Miller has warned the miners to be careful in their use of decorations as several parts of last year's trimmings had to be removed. The atmosphere, Doctor Miller decided, was too suggestive. Shares for entrance to the ball—admit one—at $1 par value will be on sale at the main entrance of the Administration building from 1 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. Thursday. All Associated miners are selling tickets, and when the dance starts, tickets will be on sale at the door. Patrons and patronesses are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fahrwald, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon E. Scheid, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Staley, all of the school of mines faculty.

Deadline Approaches For Removal Of Old Incompletes

February 19, 1938, is the final date for removal of incomplete grades from previous semesters, the registrar's office points out. Incompletes not made up before that date automatically become failures unless the student has previously filed in the registrar's office a permit for extension of time, signed by his dean and the instructor concerned. Unless special action is taken in advance, re-registration in a course for which a mark of incomplete has been filed automatically changes the incomplete to a failure.

Mural Debaters Complete Plans

Plans for the annual university intramural debate to begin February 23 were outlined at a meeting conducted by Delta Sigma Rho, debate honorary, yesterday. Each team must register before February 5 for the double elimination contest. The women will sign with Andy James at the Fijii house and the men with Joe Carr at Lindley hall. Everyone is eligible except varsity debaters. All debates will be held in the group houses of the negative teams, who will act as host group. Contestants are required to prepare both sides of Congressman Louis Ludlow's recent amendment, "Resolved: That the United States should declare war only after a popular referendum."

Banquet To Honor Forestry Alumni

Plans for the Associated Foresters' 22nd annual banquet, honoring alumni and prominent forestry men, are being drawn up by chairman Claude Brower, Phil Bender, assistant, and George Calloway, toastmaster. A tentative date has been set for the first week in March. The purpose of these annual get-togethers, according to Dr. E. R. Martell, professor of forest management and advisor for the group, is to acquaint new students with prominent forest service and lumber men and to establish contacts which will enable their placement after graduation. Guest speaker for the banquet which is to be held at the Student Union, has not been selected as yet. The senior foresters will present a novelty skit and their program features will be presented by members of the forestry school.

H. C. Dale Speaks Sunday At L. D. S. Church

Reverence, tolerance, intelligence, and beauty are the four by-products of religion, declared President Harrison C. Dale. Speaking to students and townspeople at the L.D.S. Institute Sunday evening. A sizeable audience greeted President Dale when he made one of his first speaking appearances outside his official capacity as president of the university. Concerning the application of religion to every day life, President Dale classified reverence as the first by-product of religious living—reverence not only to deity but to fellow men who make contributions to humanity. "The second by-product ought to be tolerance," asserted the university president. He used as an illustration of wholesale intolerance the conditions which exist in present day Russia. Intelligence—"The glory of God is intelligence"—was by-product No. 3. "This includes beauty in such things as art and music, and to religion we must turn for inspiration," President Dale said.

SINGERS TO BEGIN ORATORIO TONIGHT

Professor, Back From Harvard, Weighs Campi-Idahoans Neater

Hello! Just another Idaho tradition, but they do it at Harvard, according to Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, head of the philosophy department. Professor Chenoweth returned from Harvard early last week. The Sabbatical leave was devoted for the most part to personal study for Professor Chenoweth. Political philosophy and its relation to communism and fascism was his main course of study. "It was most surprising to have so many people on the Harvard campus greet me with a hearty 'hello,'" Professor Chenoweth said. "A great majority of the men always have some kind of a greeting. However, I was rather reluctant to return it." Athletics Foremost. At Harvard the student is an entirely different type of fellow than the typical Idaho man, according to the philosopher. They like to do the same things as the Idaho boys.

Ice Skating or An Early Spring; That, Readers, Is The Question

What a little weather can do, it really makes you feel quite blue; It causes such a riot, Sorta makes one wanta diet, Ooh what a little weather can do! And that, my dear readers, although a most "un-journalistic" type of lead, should be quite an eye catcher. And why all this fuss, as well as what is the reason for this rambling? Well, eventually this little bit of rambling will announce to the world the comparison of this year's winter with that of last year. However, when one finds oneself faced with covering a weather story (the usual assignment being teas and such less boisterous material), one is bound to be more or less disconcerted... especially if that "run" is thrown into one's lap... (for example: someone else putting one's name down on the assignment book... in other times that could be called a decidedly definite case of forgery... now let's hope the offender's ears are burning!). With all that off the chest,

Register Any Change Of Address, Is Official Warning

Students who have changed their addresses since registration for the second semester should file properly approved change of address cards in the registrar's office immediately, according to an announcement last night. This is especially important to the housing committee, as well as for convenience in delivery of telegrams and other important messages to students, it was explained.

DIME NOVEL SELLS ON FEBRUARY 14

The "Dime Novel" issue of the Blue Bucket will be ready for distribution February 14, according to Jean Dunkle, editor. The theme will carry out the "True Confession," "Detective Story," and other bulk paper magazine type of article, in addition to a "Pen Pal" division and a page for the "Wanted."

DEGREE APPLICATION DUE

Graduating seniors, have you filed your application for the baccalaureate degree? If not, do so immediately if you expect to be graduated in June, 1938. Tuesday, February 15, is the final date for filing, according to the registrar of the university.

the weather will become the usual topic of the day, especially since this last burst of snow flakes, and the trend toward ski suits. "This winter, as is quite obvious, is one of the mildest winters for quite some time," observed Don Corless, instructor in agronomy, "the temperature has been considerably above normal all winter. "January of last year was 18 degrees below normal, and the coldest day was January 20, 1937, with 30 degrees below zero. This year January has been three and four degrees above normal. The normal mean temperature for a period covering 45 years was 28 degrees." This year has had considerably more moisture than normal. The normal precipitation over a period of 45 years for December was 2.76 inches, while the precipitation for December of last year was 4.05 inches. Well, there are the facts, and it still is an impossibility to predict the possibility of an early spring, or if there will be enough ice to learn to skate.

Broadcast Series Given by W.S.C.

"The Bookshelf," "The College Quill," and "Your English" are the names of three of a series of broadcasts which will be given over radio station KWSC every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, beginning February 7, by the department of English at Washington State college. "The Bookshelf," under the direction of Miss Ella E. Clark, associate in English, will be devoted to reviews of unusual books, new publications, and chatty news of authors and writers. The program will be on the air at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoons. "Your English," directed by Miss Dorothy Dakin, associate in English, will consist of a course in grammar, punctuation, letter writing, and proper speech. This program, which will be given every Wednesday, will be a continuation of the "Your English" program offered over KWSC during the fall semester. The program "College Quill" will enable students whose themes and papers have been deemed suitable to radio presentation to narrate or participate in the dramatization of the work which they produce, thus providing them with the added experience and training of oral radio work.

Personality Course Slated to Meet Wednesday at 4 p. m.

The first meeting of the class in "personality development" will be at 4 p. m. Wednesday in Ad. 311, according to the university administration, with Dr. A. C. Lemon of the department of psychology conducting the first class. Doctor Lemon has had wide experience in student guidance, and last year prepared a course of lessons in personal adjustment for a governmental agency. The course will include table etiquette, social conduct, good taste, as well as deeper aspects of personality development and discipline. Any student in the university is eligible to attend. Enrollment will be based on the turnout at tomorrow's meeting.

Basketball Team To Receive Send-Off Rally

Alpha Phi Chi Executive Committee Seeks Cooperation of Entire Student Body

Roy "Speed" Gray, field manager for intramural pep rally competition, met with the executive committee of Alpha Phi Chi at the Sigma Nu house yesterday noon to apply finishing touches to plans for a student body rally February 17.

Idea Supported. To give Idaho's fighting basketball team a rousing send-off for the Oregon series, Thursday, February 17, is the objective of the Alpha Phi Chi rally with every member of the student body in attendance. Having received enthusiastic support from Yell King "Chuck" Finell and Pep Band Leader Glenn Whitesel, cooperation of Dr. Evelyn Miller, dean of women, and from presidents of the women's organizations and houses—the committee mapped out a route of march. Starting from the Bucket at 6:15 p. m. with the TMAs, Desert club, Tekes, ATOs and Phi Phis as a nucleus, the "flare" rally will make a complete circuit of the campus. Three scheduled 5-minute stops for mass cheering and selections by the Pep band were designated. Arriving at the new depot by 7:05, the rally will be touched off with "fireworks" (exact nature undecided) as the team departs. The date has been tentatively reserved on the school calendar to be held free from all other campus functions. Group houses have agreed to have 5:30 p. m. dinners. An added incentive to the first basketball rally of recent years is the awarding of intramural points to men's group houses on a basis of number of participants.

Trio May Get Offer From Big Time Band

Editor Yoder Sets Deadline For Gems

Monday, February 7, is the absolute deadline for Gem subscriptions, according to Editor Jim Yoder. Cards may be signed at the graduate manager's office, Hutchison studio, and Sterner's. ## Pep Band Show Try-outs Set For Thursday

All inspired performers who wish to take part in the annual Pep Band show, March 24 and 25, are asked to attend the tryouts Thursday evening at the Student Union building. The tryouts apply to the informal part of the show. This year's show will be divided into two parts as usual. The formal part of the program will be special music arranged or composed by students on the campus. The informal section will be the Pep band's attempt to run competition to the swing bands of the nation. Band members plan to make this show one of the best. Special songs, dance arrangements, and concert arrangements of the Paul Whitman variety will make it the highlight of the swinging pepsters' season. Surprise numbers and novelties, to be announced later, are being planned by Leader Glen Whitesel. "I need a piccolo player and also a flutist," Whitesel pleaded. "They will be used in the swing part of the program. Those interested in the formal part are asked to attend the first practice at the Women's gym next Tuesday night."

Dick Trzuskowski Receives Unique Honor

To Dick "Truck" Trzuskowski, crashing Vandal fullback during the past season, came a new honor Saturday in the form of a card of merit issued by the All American Board of Football. This institution, founded in 1924, is generally conceded to be the official All-American selectors. The card bore the following inscription: "To certify that Richard A. Trzuskowski of the University of Idaho received All American rating for exceptional playing during the season of 1937." Warner Signs. Besides bearing the official seal of the board, it was signed by Glenn S. (Pop) Warner, head coach at Temple University; Frank Thomas, head coach at the University of Alabama; Howard H. Jones, coach at the University of Southern California; Robert C. Zupke, coach at the University of Illinois; and Christy Walsh. According to Andy Anderson, local statistician of Vandal records, this is the only time an Idaho athlete has been accorded this honor within recent years. Wee Willie Smith, backfield man of four years ago, was placed on the Little All-American Anderson said, but he cannot recall any other Vandal who received a similar honor in modern collegiate football.

Librarians Start Training Course

Fourteen librarians from all parts of the state are in Boise this week inaugurating the first vocational training course in librarianship available in Idaho. The three month's course, financed under the national George Dean vocational act, successor to the Smith-Hughes act, and sponsored locally by the state board of education, is being held at the traveling library in the capitol. Miss Lalla Bedford, state librarian and individual sponsor for the project, has long worked for the installation of a library course in Idaho to enable librarians of small town or community libraries to obtain a knowledge of the fundamental principles of library science, in order to systematize the circulation of books in the state. Instruction is offered in cataloging, reference work, book selection, juvenile literature, filing, letter writing, and circulation. IDAHO SCIENTISTS BIDDEN. W. S. C. chapter of Sigma Xi invites all members at Idaho to a dinner to be given tonight at 6:30 o'clock in Hotel Washington in Pullman. Dr. E. N. Hervey of Princeton university will speak on "Electric Potentials of the Human Brain."

"Three Trumpeters"—Kellogg, Baker, and Ennis—Attract Attention of Radio Announcer

An opportunity to play with a nationally famous band may be the reward for the tricky tripling of Idaho's "Three Trumpeters," according to a letter from Chet Huntley of Radio Station KFTL, Los Angeles, to Prof. Archie N. Jones. Dick Baker, Paul Ennis, and Junior Potts were the original members of the trio which gained fame as the "King's Trumpeters." Leonard Kellogg later became a member of the group. Baker is now living at Spirit Lake; Potts is a student of the University of Minnesota. Ennis and Kellogg are still in school here. Below is a reproduction of the letter from Mr. Huntley to Professor Jones:

Dear Professor Jones: Two years ago when I was affiliated with station KHQ Spokane, we produced several programs featuring University of Idaho students. Among these were three young fellows each playing trumpet and calling themselves the Three Trumpeters. Could you supply me with information amounting to where I can now get in touch with these boys; and how to address them; their names, when out of college, and if they would care to join with Rudy Valee or Paul Whiteman or another band of equal prestige. I am not in the booking business, but I just recall the excellence of those three boys; and being in a position to do them some good; I would certainly welcome the opportunity. If they should happen to still be in school, would you ask them to get in touch with me at the earliest possible moment? Thanking you for your cooperation and help, I am, Yours respectfully, Chet Huntley Station KFTL Los Angeles.

"It's pretty swell!" was the opinion of Paul Ennis when the contents of the letter were made known. "I'll have to have time to think it over," was Kellogg's response.

Conversation? Or Comic Page?

An idea for seniors! Instead of making freshmen "sparkle like a diamond" or romanticize to a broomstick at dinner tables, why not require three-minute speeches of them once a week on current topics? The procedure has been successfully attempted.

This is a day of rapidly passing events, an hour of turmoil, of significant changes. Spain is still at it—so are the Chinese and Japanese. Where will be the next Fascist conquest? The government of France has fallen; significant there is the opposition of the People's Front to Fascism. How many freshman students—even seniors—are keeping pace with current events? Does the dinner-table conversation run to the principles of Communism, to the significance of the Ludlow amendment or Justice Sutherland's retirement from the supreme court—or does it jump to wine, women, and more women. Very likely the latter.

A certain degree of diversion from the sports and funny pages to front page headlines and editorial columns of the newspaper could be very easily accomplished by Idaho's group houses. In fraternities and sororities the project would be easy; upperclassmen in clubs and dormitories could muster enough power, too, to compel discussion of current events.

Talks from freshmen would be beneficial, give confidence to the speakers, as well as provide enlightenment for the listeners. Even round-table discussion could be held, all at the feasting board taking part. The result would be more intelligent conversation and pleasanter entertainment of faculty members and other eminent guests. Why not give it a try?

University Experimental Station Conducts Drive Against Weeds

Extensive experiments, dealing with cultural methods, competitive cropping, and chemical control of perennial weeds—especially wind morning glory—are in progress at the experimental station established and conducted by the university experiment station, in cooperation with the U. S. bureau of plant industry. This station, one of five in a national drive against noxious weeds and the only one in the Pacific Northwest, was established near Genesee in 1936. Eighty acres of heavily infested land are the scene of the federal-state investigations. At the end of the first season of clean cultivation experimenting, the morning glory plants lost approximately 75 per cent of their root reserves, reports Dr. K. H. Klages, agronomist. Plots under cultivation for a year and a half had approximately 95 per cent of their root reserve exhausted. Good stands of forage crops were established on wild morning glory infested land. Application of 100 pounds of ammonium sulphate per acre to spring wheat on infested land produced significant increases in yields. Ammonium sulphate applications on winter wheat did not increase yields. Seven different chemicals were applied on 162 square rods and 12 one-twentieth-acre plots. Of the various chemical methods of application, dry sodium chlorate applied at the rate of two pounds per square rod in October proved most efficient for eradication. Of the numerous crops tested, crested wheatgrass showed marked resistance to residual effects of the sodium chlorate.

"As I See It" by Seidel

The scene takes place in a barber's shop located in the poorer section of Los Angeles. The time is the present—that is any day except Saturday or Sunday.

Barber—(A man of 40 rises from his chair, and closes his book as a customer enters.) Hello, Jim.

Jim—Hello, Joe.

Barber—Haven't seen you around for quite a while. What've you been doing with yourself?

Jim—(Sitting down) Never had the money for such luxury.

Barber—Haircut?

Jim—Yep, and cut it short.

Barber—How's college coming?

Jim—Pretty good.

Barber—I wish I could've gone there, instead of barber's college.

Jim—No difference.

Barber—But it makes a difference.

Jim—Somehow we got it into our heads that we'll be looked up to just because we're going to college.

Barber—But you're doing things.

Jim—No we're not doing much; we're learning things just like you learned to cut hair, and not to read Dante's "Inferno."

Barber—But I read that because I like it.

Jim—That's the same way it is up there. Those who want to read, read; those who don't want to, don't.

Barber—You fellows have access to all the books, plays, and everything. You should be advancing!

Jim—Yeah, that's why you see so much interest in outside events on the campus. Nuts, Joe, we're too busy to be bothered with the world around us. We've got to tend to business, and prepare ourselves for a job . . . just like you did.

Barber—Oh?

Jim—Forget it, and cut my hair . . .

Dates 'n Doo Dads

Trumpets blare! (effective sounding effects.) Enter pages Herald, Herald, and Forty-five, whistling, through fringed portieres, bearing scrolls which they just received from Wendell Gannon 'n Walt Dimmison. An announcement which rocks the earth at its very core, (also, incidentally, rocks the same part of the "Big Apple") declares that the nation's, nay, the world's, most revolutionizing dance sensation will be introduced by them and featured at this Spring's pep band show. A breathless universe stamps impatient feet and waits on. (not table.) It's to be called the "Weber College Shuffle." Watch for it.

By the way, has anyone ever happened to wonder where Ray York's fraternity pin is? There is a rumor abroad that it has wandered over Seattle way. Why not check up on that? And while speaking of the fluctuation of values in the jewel exchange market, premiums went above par when Gunk MacElroy had his pin returned to him last Saturday.

Rowdy-dow and rootie-toot! Gott dommit, what an extremely disorderly campus this week-end post-exam relaxation. Helen Williams 'n little "Stevie" Belko seemed to be enjoying each other's company immeasurably Saturday night at the Nobby.

Charley Maillard struck an engaging acquaintance with a Cow College gal Friday night and spent a good deal of time—and quite some dough—calling her on the phone later that night.

Random observations:—Benny Lutz had an excuse, his exams were not over—noisy Fijis on the Nobby balcony, especially Bill Harrington—Nels Stromberg 'n Mary Lou Raymer swinging it in the Bucket lounge—"Sandy" MacFarland getting unconditionally reconditioned on accounts business conditions—Richie Adelman and the rest of the Phi Deltis looking pretty "cheesy" tuther night, in fact, platters of it—Don Harris getting right back into the old groove, after how many years is it, Don—Frank Fowles being tenderly tucked in by the brothers, even getting all bruised by a broom, cuz I guess they were afraid he would climb right on the train with Folkman. Sigma Nu frosh giving the Gamma Phi frosh quite a trouncing in the snow—Jack Reiter being seen without his hair—Dick Darnell gaudin' the "bulls" Saturday night. My, oh my!

Why should Jack Fagerstedt run the other way when he sees Betty Ash? Is it because of his more recent Canadian enterprise?

Notice that Henry Bauer has been quite taken by Marie Kuchl lately. Too bad he is finished now—with school, I mean. Maybe Bill Fischer, his roomy, can take over there, too! Although with Charles Knox stepping out Edith McCarroll, Bill better pay more attention to the home fires.

Well, the slate is clean for another school term, so let 'er go, let 'er go, let 'er go!

As the result of 40-hour week legislation recently enacted in France, Saturday is now recognized as a legal holiday.

CARDS and COEDS

It was almost rumored that someone almost found something humorous in this column last time which almost inspired a very slight column. Now obviously this is a BAD THING, a decidedly BAD THING. It is not only a BAD THING, but, in addition, is a very juvenile, unsophisticated, and undesirable THING not to be encouraged. Therefore, in the future all precautions will be taken to prevent any unseemly and undignified display or outburst of mirth, and if anything of a humorous nature should possibly find its way into this column, it will soberly be labelled humorous, serious, satirical, or whatnot so the reader will be warned in advance. In this way he will be able to better maintain his emotional control, summon that slight tolerant smile, and pass on without running any danger of belying his true feelings. Now this is a GOOD THING, a decidedly GOOD THING.

COMMERCIAL: (This is of a definitely serious nature.) Dear Jo, This is a tip! Are you yumphi-ous? (noun—Yumph—fr. Am. yumph, fr. Eng. yumph, fr. Fr. yumph, fr. L. yumph, fr. Gr. yumph, meaning YUMPH.) Are you ecstatically, gumphously, bumpiously yumphi-ous? If you are not, you haven't any more chance in the campus social whirl than a titulated twiddlepuss in Paduka, a variegated wallflower at the North Pole.

However, do not be too despondent, for you too can develop yumph. Come down today to our store and try some of our concentrated skin stimulant and brain softening lotion called Phoo (spelled P-H-O-O, pronounced PHOO).

Phoo is good for you. It's Phoo tonight. Phoo will do wonders for you, too. Don't say biscuit. Say Phoo. To the men who know tobacco best it's Phoo to one. Eventually, why not Phoo?

Yours,
Batty.

Theta Gypsies Swing; Alpha Phis Set Sail

It must have been the gypsy in the Thetas that brought out the swirling skirts and bright sashes Saturday night. The chapter house, transformed into a woodland camp, was the scene of the revelry. Gaily colored tambourines added a dash of gypsy color.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Baird, Miss Helene Haller, Mr. Joe Montell, Marjorie Glenn, Howard Hartley, and Mrs. F. E. Gaffney of Orofino.

Mrs. William Casey, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Whitehead were patrons and patronesses for the dance.

Intellect Inherited by Children Born February and March

Research by Prof. Ellsworth Huntington, research associate in geography at Yale university, made known at the University of Chicago, convinced him children born in March or late February in the U. S. have the best chance of achieving intellectual distinction.

His data indicated that persons born in March in the United States, and in countries of similar temperature, live 3 8-10 years longer than those born in July, August, or September.

Births of several types of weak or defective people showed a seasonal relationship very like that of eminent people. Both facts indicate increased vigor in parents at the time of conception—June—according to Professor Huntington.

Modern Education Is Incoherent, Says Young University President

On your current reading list, you will want to include an article in the Saturday Evening Post on education by Robert M. Hutchins, the young and startling president of the University of Chicago. "We Are Getting No Brighter" is President Hutchins' title and conclusion.

The elementary and secondary schools suffer, because their program is not coherent and their pay is too small to attract capable teachers. Higher education is at fault because it tries to do everything for everybody instead of specializing. "Trivial" and "mediocre" are some of the adjectives he hurled; and the result, he explains, is chaos. Education is measured by the number of courses a student passes and not by his ability to think.

As a solution, President Hutchins suggests that the junior college system be enlarged and the scope of education defined. More important than vocational education, he argues, is the ability of young people to take care of themselves under any circumstances. That they can not is because we are not on the right track in the educational program that has been outlined.

BRUNETTES POLL VOTES

Blue-eyed brunettes beat out the blondes at Washington university. In a poll of 128 male students, the former won 58 per cent of the votes. Blondes got 36 per cent, and redheads trailed along with six per cent.

Vandal Personalities

By Bill McGowan

Bob Parks, one of the three promising men who became eligible to compete on the Vandal casaba team yesterday, is

BOB PARKS forward

Just another reason why coach Forrest Twogood can look on the 1939 basketball season without getting the jitters. Although faced with the loss of such stalwarts as Johnson, Winter, and Kramer, the Idaho coach will have a swarm of outstanding sophomores such as Parks upon whom he can rely to take over the burdens of their departing brethren.

Bob is a sophomore in the junior college and expects to get 36 per cent, and redheads go into the school of business next year. He comes from Spencer, Iowa, and far from the basketball mentor's home town. Although only 19, he carts 170 pounds on his 6 foot frame. As a prep school hoop man he won three letters at forward, and in 1936 he received all state honorable mention.

Besides basketball, Parks likes to chase the little white pill around the green, and is a member of Troop K 116th Calvary of the Idaho National Guard. He enjoys horseback riding.

Although ineligible during the first term of his freshman year, Bob wormed his way into the starting lineup of the Vandal babes and earned his numeral during the 1937 season. Duplicating his last year's performance, grades got him again this year, but now that he is ready to compete, fans are looking for him to give the starting forwards a real run for their money. He is steady and cool on the floor, and never stops working once he is in the game.

Bob prefers Idaho to his native Iowa because of the contrast the hills give over the flat plains of his home state. He agrees with Brendan Barrett about the quality of basketball, especially that of the high school in Indiana and Iowa. The prep school game is as fast as any college game on the coast he believes.

On Other Campi

That old college spirit can't and won't be downed, and since boys will be boys they must suffer the consequences. Thus five invaders from the College of the Pacific campus who went to light the bonfire on the Davis college campus two nights before the Homecoming game were subject to the consequences.

Consequences in this case followed the program below. Upon apprehension while paying their unofficial campus visit, the five visitors were first subjected to a close haircut, slightly reminiscent of the convict style. After this they were compelled to accompany their conquerors to class in their bare-headed condition and were not released until the following day after they had been made to witness their enemies' rally.

Frosh Boxers Meet "Y" Team Thursday Night

Idaho freshmen and varsity boxers will have a busy week-end meeting the Spokane Y. M. C. A. fighters Thursday night and the Kellogg Athletic club's squad on Friday night. The first meet of the semester at Moscow will be against the San Jose State college varsity February 17.

Headlining the "Y" card will be Ted Kara vs. Lloyd Rolph. Rolph, who is the present holder of the Inland Empire championship, will train down to 135 pounds to meet Kara, who will enter the ring at 125 pounds. Other matches will be Hank Straub vs. Ray Smart at 125 pounds; Rex Peg vs. Lyle Pollard; 145; Joe Fallini vs. Bill Pease, 145; Pete Genarrusa vs. Bob Brown, 145; Bud Benoit vs. Freddie Foss, 135; and Ralph Miller vs. Jackie Dolan, 118.

Slade Unable To Fight
Gene Slade, who was originally scheduled to meet Jackie Dolan, is laid up with rheumatism. Other matches may be scheduled. Sharing honors in the main event at Kellogg Friday will be Idaho's Ernie Jensen vs. Verne Earling, 165 pounds; and Joe Fallini vs. Clyde Gelst, 145 pounds. Ernie Jensen, protege of the world middleweight champion, Freddie Steele, will have his hands full against Verne Earling, present holder of the Northwest Golden Gloves championship.

Close Fights
Other close fights, according to Coach Louie August, will be Hank Straub vs. Buzz Briggs, 125; Frank Straub vs. Earl Siler, 135; and Carl Kierulff vs. Iver Lysing, 155. All fights are scheduled for four two-minute rounds.

Vandal Baseball Players Eager To Start

Last week's spring sunshine and warm drying winds brought University of Idaho baseball players thumping at Coach Forrest Twogood's door. However, Friday's snow storm put a cold chill on their energetic hopes of getting outside.

The weather with them, the ball players are anxious to get started in the diamond work regardless of the hot basketball season, which is occupying the Idaho coach's time at the present. Eight lettermen will report for the first call the last week in February.

Depends on Freshmen
Besides the veterans returning to the diamond squad, Twogood definitely is planning on four freshmen from last spring's team. Heading the list is Merle Stoddard, Couer d'Alene pitcher, who blanked the Washington State freshmen in the annual series between the two schools.

Also a standout to fill the vacated third base on the varsity nine is Roy Ramey of Kendrick, now busy on the basketball team. Ramey, head of the freshmen sluggers with an average of .300, caught the Idaho coach's eye last spring by his third base antics.

Mike Brennan of Spokane, another pitcher on the freshman team, also is included in plans for the Vandal nine. Grouped with the veterans of last season who did not make their awards in the outer garden work for the Vandals are two promising freshmen, Roy Roundy of Wallace and Maurice Young of Defiance, Pa.

Will Try Catching
Gordon Price, deemed to be Idaho's first three-sport man, in several seasons, told Coach Twogood between football and basketball seasons, he would like to take a try at catching for the Vandals. From grapevine reports, Price is an ace backstop in Pocatello during the summer months.

Fights Thursday

TED KARA, Vandal freshman fighter, will meet Lloyd Rolph, Inland Empire welterweight champion, in the main event of Thursday's fight card between the University of Idaho and the Y. M. C. A. held in Spokane. Kara's opponent will have a nine pound advantage.

Idaho Swimmers Lose To Oregon Teams

University of Oregon and Oregon State swimmers emerged victorious over Idaho swimmers in the meets held Friday and Saturday afternoons in Memorial gymnasium.

Idaho's Dick Slade, an unofficial competitor, stamped himself as a potential pointer by swimming two good races, one a tie for first place in the 220 yard free style.

Results Tabulated

300 yard medley relay: OSC (Bruegger, Rea, and Hartley) first. Time—2:26.4.

From the Bench

by Bill Johnston

Halfway through their season from Montana, but we haven't and halfway between the 1,000 and the 500 mark in their season so far, the Vandals get set this week for two games they mustn't lose—the Montana series here.

After Montana, Idaho plays three games on the home floor—two with Oregon and one with Washington State. For the other five with Oregon State, Oregon, and Washington State, the Vandals will be playing under the foreign floor handicap. Oregon, especially now that all-conference Dave Silver is back in the lineup, is a major problem for any team on any floor.

Thus the Montana series this week is one of the most important on the Idaho schedule. The Vandals can win both games if they play as they are capable of playing. If they lose either, their 500 in the percentage column now will probably go down in the records as an all-season high. Idaho still has a chance at the northern division title which is saying a good deal for Coach Twogood and "his boys." It is a long chance, but it is a chance. It mustn't be spoiled now by a loss to the Grizzlies.

Montana, all pre-game ratings to the contrary, won't be a setup. We have beaten teams that won't be noted for. The Grizzlies won from conference leading University of Oregon last night.

Three Men Added
With the addition to the team of Bob and Shirley Lund, and Bob Parks, ineligible during the first semester, the competent reserve material of the Vandals will be considerably strengthened for the Oregon invasion. Idaho men will make after their series with Montana and the University of Oregon. Whether or not any of the three can worm into the starting lineup will depend upon their ability to click with the men who have worked together so far this season.

W.S.C. STUDIES FOR EXAMS
The midnight oil is burning on the State College of Washington campus as some 3300 students prepare for final examinations of the current semester which will be given from January 31 to February 3. Registration for the second semester will be held Monday and Tuesday, February 7 and 8.

Coach Twogood Drills Team In Preparation For Montana Games

Returning Veterans and New Men Strengthen Coach Twogood's Team

Heartened by a double win over the Oregon State Beavers, but worried over Friday and Saturday's encounters with the Montana Grizzlies, Coach Forrest Twogood started yesterday to drill his men on their defensive tactics and to condition them against the Missoula men's high scoring forwards.

Especially praising the work of Marriano, diminutive speed burner, and Thompson and Ryan, Twogood expected the Montana team to employ the same fast running and ball passing that the Washington Huskies have Moans that Steve Belko is "finished" and "burned out" because he wasn't hitting in the two Oregon games are another evidence of many students' general forgetfulness. Belko's record for scoring is still good, in spite of a temporary slump. Don Johnson, high pointer in the last two games, was in a slump just as serious a few weeks ago.

This and that: Personal nomination for Idaho's best all-around ball player: Bill Kramer, Captain for Mike Sullivan's cuts: "the people's choice." Colorado's "Whizzer" White has finally won a place in the limelight as threat number two on the basketball team. Idaho freshmen win from Lewiston Normal—looks better and better for next year. What will it take for Idaho to win a championship? (1) Time for Twogood's players to learn a hard-to-learn system completely. (2) An Idaho student body that wants to win.

Saturday—Idaho 29, OSC 26
Don Johnson and "Whitey" Price scored when scoring was needed most to pull a 29 to 26 Idaho victory out of the Oregon State fire in the second game of the Beaver series here Saturday night.

With six minutes to go and Idaho trailing 17 to 23, Johnson tipped in a backboard shot. Then Price swished through a long one, his second in the 10 minutes he played. Johnson tied the count at 23-all with a free throw, then tallied a quick shot under the basket.

Few spectators remained in their seats in the last few minutes. Kebbe tipped in a backboard rebound for Oregon State and Mandic contributed a free throw, but the Vandals collected enough gift tosses from the desperate Beavers to keep the lead.

Vandals Trail at Half
Idaho took an early lead in the first half, with Kramer connecting on two long one-handers, and headed O.S.C. 8 to 2 midway in the period. Then Pflugard began sparking the Beavers. Idaho was unable to crack through Oregon State's two-three zone defense through the rest of the half and was trailing 11 to 14 at the end of the period.

In the first five minutes of the second half the Beavers increased their lead to 19-13. They were never headed until Idaho rallied in the last four minutes.

Johnson High Point Man
The game became rough near the end, with Barrett of Idaho and Vanelli of O.S.C. going out on fouls. Johnson took scoring honors with nine points. Pflugard, flashy Beaver forward, tallied eight for O.S.C.

Friday—Idaho 49, O.S.C. 24
Oregon State's five-man defense crumpled completely under a first-half Idaho passing attack Friday night, and a man-to-man system tried in the second period fared but little better. Idaho won 49 to 23.

Steve Belko started the scoring with a free throw. Bill Kramer and Lyle Smith sank a series of longs from the guard positions that pulled out the Beavers' defense until Don Johnson was able to drop in three from close in. When the slaters shifted to cover Johnson, Smith, Kramer, Barrett, and Ramey switched in longer shots. The half ended 26 to 10 for Idaho.

dals to a nine-point advantage for the half. Vanelli, Stidham, and Mandic were Oregon State's biggest threats during the period. Idaho's sophomore reserves, led by long-shot artist Mike Sullivan, carried most of the Vandal attack.

High-point honors went to Johnson with nine markers. Kramer with 7, and Ramey and Sullivan with six each, were all ahead of Vanelli and Stidham who led the Beaver scoring with 5 each.

Vandal Fencers To Cross Foils With W. S. C. Saturday

The art of fencing at the University of Idaho is taking definite team form, Arthur Peterson, captain of the foil fencers, reported Saturday after a long practice session. Included on the four-man team representing the Vandals are three lettermen from last year's team. Charles Poulton, Captain Peterson and Dave Lewis comprise the experienced men of the squad.
