Additions Change Interior of Bucket

New Fountain To Improve Service and Add To Building's Appearance

The Blue Bucket Inn, meeting place for Idaho students for many years, is undergoing an extensive remodeling, which will completely change its interior appearance. The major addition will be a smart new horseshoe-shaped fountain counter, being placed in the spot formerly occupied by the right banquet room.

Workers are now busy tearing out the old walls and installing the plumbing for the new counter. A temporary wall has been erected to keep the noise and dust out of the Inn during the construction.

Protrudes from North

The new fountain will protrude from the north side of the room, extending out toward the south end of the building for a distance of approximately twenty feet. The old fountain will be torn out to make more table space.

Besides greatly improving the appearance of the Bucket, the transformation will speed service materially, according to manager James Kalbus. Sandwiches, hamburgers, salads, coffee, and other related dinner items which formerly were prepared in the rear kitchen will now come from the new counter. In addition to the new fountain, a fry plate, steam table for warming food, and a refrigerated salad table will be enclosed with the horseshoe counter.

Service To Be Speedier

Stools for those who want speedier service are to be placed around the counter; there will be room for fifteen stools. The same familiar tables that now adorn the Bucket will still be there after the remodeling. The candy case and cash register are to be in the center of the new counter, which is now being constructed in Spokane. As soon as the preliminary work is done, the new equipment will be installed. Mr. Kalbus expects an opening

Dramatic Leaders Go To Seattle For Big Pow Wow

Enjoying a brief respite from arduous work on "The Merchant of Venice," Miss Jean Collette and Mr. John F. Sellers, university instructors in dramatics, will go to Seattle to attend the Theatre conference on February 17, 18, and 19. College and university instructors from Utah, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, and Washington will represent their respective institutions in the Seattle meet.

Barrett Clark, Broadway director, will be the guest speaker for the conference, and address the gathering each day. The University of Washington dramatics department, headed by Glenn Hughes, nationally famous dramatic authority, will present special plays in their Penthouse and Studio theatres for the entertainment of the guests. A demonstration of puppets and marionettes will be presented by University students.

The Seattle Federal Theatre project will have a display at the Meany hotel depicting the history of the drama from the ancient Greek open-air theatre to the modern playhouses. Meanwhile, work continues to go forward on "The Merchant of Venice" which will be presented on Friday and Saturday, February 25 and 26.

Students To Try Out For "Mikado" Tomorrow Afternoon

"Mikado" tryouts will be held tomorrow afternoon at the university auditorium, at 1:30 o'clock. Prof. Archie N. Jones, of the music department, and Miss Jean Collette, of the dramatics department, urge everyone with or without experience in either music or dramatics to try out. Students are asked to choose a short selection and to be able to read a few lines from the opera. Each contestant is asked to furnish his own accompanist.

Aviators Offered Vocational Help

United Air Lines Sponsors Scholarships for College Men Interested in Aviation

College men choosing aviation as a vocation are being given a headstart by the United Air Lines scholarship, sponsored by the United Air Lines Transport corporation. The scholarships have been awarded for the past eight years, and as many non-technical papers as technical papers have won awards.

Candidates must be male, undergraduate students in good standing and in regular attendance at some recognized university in the United States or Canada, which offers at least two years of work leading to a bachelor's degree in arts or science. Their age must be between 18 and 25 inclusive, and they must be physically normal.

To win the contest they must submit a treatise of not more than 3500 words on some technical or non-technical aeronautical subject. These must be mailed, with questionnaire attached, to the Boeing School of Aeronautics, Oakland, California, not later than midnight, March 14, 1938. Questionnaires and copies of their circular will be forwarded by Boeing school upon request.

Four awards will be given, consisting of the choice of eight different courses dealing with some branch of aviation, and 20 hours of dual and solo flight instruction. One of the four winners, showing the best aptitude upon completion of the first quarter's work will be selected to complete the Airline Pilot flying instruction of 285 hours.

Dr. Bakaleinikoff Edits Music Text

Dr. Vladimir Bakaleinikoff, 1937 summer school music faculty member at the University of Idaho, has recently published a book entitled "Elementary Rules of Conducting," according to word received by Prof. Archie N. Jones. He has also prepared two exercise books for the viola and two orchestral sketches for the symphony orchestra.

Dr. Bakaleinikoff will return to the Idaho campus next summer for the six weeks' session to conduct elementary and advanced music classes. He will also direct the symphony orchestra, assisted by Prof. Carl Claus, of the university music department, and Prof. Michael Orenstein, principal cellist and assistant director of the Portland symphony orchestra.

Students Pay Cash For Flunks At Oklahoma School

When students write home to dad for money, their requests may have a new implication at Oklahoma University. If you flunk courses there, you can't afford to stay in school—literally can't afford it. Over student opposition, the board of regents voted a fine of three dollars a credit hour for each course flunked. It is estimated that this fine will increase revenues about $12,000 a year, and it is hoped will improve scholarship. A year ago the board tried to pass the ruling but met with such opposition, the plan was abandoned.

Abe Goff, former prosecuting attorney of Latah county, spoke on the court system of Idaho at a dinner meeting of Phi Alpha Delta which was held Tuesday night. Special guests were Dean Pendleton Howard, Associate Professor Bert Hopkins of the law faculty, and members of the freshman law class.

Mammoth Parade Slated Thursday

"T" Club, Alpha Phi Chi, Pep Band Cooperate For Rally

"The biggest rally ever held on this campus will be the one on February 17 for the basketball team, which is leaving on a road trip to play two games each with Oregon and Oregon State," said Roy Gray, field manager and chairman of the rally committee. "It is going to start promptly at 6:30 p.m. in front of the Student Union building, parade around the campus and group houses from there."

From the Student Union building, the parade will go to Hays hall for a five minute stop, from there past the Administration building. Other five minute stops will be made at Willis Sweet hall and the Fiji corner. "T" club members will be installed as checkers at each of the group houses to record the number of students participating. Houses having 50 per cent turn out will receive 25 intramural points and additional points for each member over that.

The "T" club is cooperating with Alpha Phi Chi, the yell leaders, and the Pep Band in making this rally a real success.

Engineers Approve Membership Cards

The Associated Engineers' council formally approved of the sale of Associated Engineer membership cards for 50 cents at their last meeting Tuesday afternoon. "It is hoped every engineer will buy a card," states Wendell Decker, president, "as the Associated Engineers need money to finance their dance, smoker, picnics, and general functions of good will towards members of the faculty and other groups."

The membership cards entitle the holder to the Idaho Engineer, and a 25-cent reduction of their dance ticket. The group of engineers having the highest percentage of sales in their group will get a 25-cent refund on their 50-cent ticket. Membership cards will be sold among the groups by group members.

The council set March 19 as the date for the Engineers' ball, and Decker appointed committee heads. Ralph Radford, Al Torrelle, and George Davis were chosen by the council to have charge of the engineers' part of the musical show being sponsored by the music department this spring.

At the Oklahoma-Iowa State football game, athletic directors found the ideal ticket taker for the Oklahoma-State game flatly refused to admit the Oklahoma grid stars without tickets. The entire team was forced to purchase them to gain admittance.

The Four-Year Question

In 1939 the Idaho legislature will meet again, maneuver politically, probably pass some cow rustling laws, and argue over the abolishment of radios in cars.

Bound to ooze from the political muck stirred up by that body of little "big shots" will be the bi-ennial annoyance—"Let's make the southern branch at Pocatello a four-year, degree granting university."

If the bill to expand the southern branch passes, many un-informed persons in this state will credit the legislature with a masterful measure. To those who know and realize, the passage of the bill would constitute the greatest political blunder in the state's history. Educationally, instead of one outstanding university and a ranking junior college, Idaho would then have two mediocre colleges, very mediocre.

The southern branch bugaboo may seem to some students too far removed from our campus life—but it's a problem much closer to home than most realize. Should the expansion program bear results, those who are now freshmen in Moscow may find themselves being graduated from an institution here in 1941 that has been relegated to the ranks of mediocrity through an act lobbied past a grass-roots legislature by a selfish bunch of Pocatello business men.

The tinderbox is being planted close to home. We, especially the upperclassmen, should fight against it and talk against it at every turn, prevent it from exploding under our very feet in 1939. Letters home, enlightenment to the home town editor, and information to those who moan, "Isn't it too bad that we can't have a four-year school at Pocatello?"—all these student approaches will help.

They'll help to reproach the cynical inroads of Pocatello business men, some of them University of Idaho graduates, who right down deep want a four-year university at Pocatello for just one reason—to put a heavier feathering in their own, greedy, money nest.

Really pin one of these leeches down, and he'll tell you just that. But that real reason never goes out in southern branch expansion propaganda. They wait about Pocatello being the center of the state's population; they yowl about the exorbitant travelling expense to reach Moscow from the South; they contend that many student are leaving the state owing to Moscow's remoteness.

But the propagandists never mention the fact that travelling expenses are so infinitesimal compared with the total cost of going to college as to be virtually negligible; they never allude to Idaho's not possessing enough wealth to appropriate sufficiently for one four-year school now; they never consider the magnificent financial outlay already made in Moscow. Finally, they suppress the possibility that, once the expansion bill has passed, the cream of the state's youth will mosey outside the state for their education rather than attend either of the lowly rated institutions Idaho would have to offer.

From the Bench

by Bill Johnston

Before giving what we fondly consider to be the "dope" on the big game tonight, we want to start off with a very emphatic gripe—a gripe directed at the Idaho coaching staff on behalf of the freshman basketball team.

The Vandal yearlings have proved time and again this year that they have a team well worth watching. They prove it again in nearly every practice session by playing the varsity on even terms. Yet, when they play a game, they are not watched. They start their games after the varsity have finished, and they play to an empty house.

The remedy is simple, but, so far, our coaching staff has done nothing about it. While spectators pour into the gym at 6:30 to get a good seat for the varsity game an hour later, the freshmen wait and wait, too, until "their turn comes" and everyone has gone.

Why not start the freshman games at 6 o'clock? There would be plenty of people much more willing to watch them than to "sit it out" until varsity game time. The freshmen could be finished in plenty of time for the varsity game. The crowd which came to watch basketball would have something to watch.

What about it, Coach? Well, the big practice for the Oregon games was held in secret session this week. It would defeat the purpose of the practice to tell what we saw there, but fans can expect some new wrinkles in Idaho basketball tonight and tomorrow night. Who will win is a matter that is in the justly infamous "lap of the gods." However, our money (if we had any) would be bet in the second game—on the team that lost the first one.

Here are some of the Webfeets who comprise, according to some authorities, the nation's outstanding collegiate basketball team:

Lauren "Laddie" Gale—6 feet 4 inch forward, high scorer in the Northern Division and likely to set a new record this year. To the Northern Division he is almost what "Hank" Luisetti is to the southerners. Just a junior.

Dave Silver—6 foot 4 inch forward, held down by broken bones and chicken-pox all season, he is once more hitting the pace that made him all-Northern Division forward last year. A senior.

Urgel "Slim" Wintermute—6 foot 8 inch center who is reason No. 1 why Idaho will have trouble retrieving backboard shots. A junior.

Wally Johansen—5 foot 11 inch junior guard, dangerous passer, dribbler, shooter.

Bob Anet—5 foot 8 inch junior guard, the midget on the team and a deadly long shot.

The reserves:
Ted Sarpola, 6 foot 4 inch sophomore forward who took Silver's place most of the season; John Dick, another 6 foot 4 inch forward; Ray Jewell, 6 foot 7 inch center; Ford Mullen, 5 foot 8 inch guard; and Matt Pavalunas, 6 foot 4 inch guard. Go Vandals!

Women Swingsters To Organize A New Campus Swing Band

Swingsters to the right of us, swingsters to the left of us, swingsters all around us, but all of the swingsters are male.

Something should be done about it, for Idaho coeds can blow, toot, and tap just as rhythmically and just as "shag" inspiringly as any of the species.

Something should be done about it, for the male bands on this campus might profit by a bit of competition—especially competition of the feminine variety.

Something should be done about it if only to provide a greater variety of campus swingsters. After all, people get tired of hearing the same tunes continually swung in the same way.

Something should be done about it to bring the hidden feminine musical talent before the ears of the campus. Maybe we have a femme Benny Goodman lurking in our midst, who knows!

Something has been and is being done. Edith Hopkins is forming an all-women's band! She asks that all saxophone playing and all trumpet tooting women get in touch with her immediately at 8221 or Hays Hall.

Final try-outs for band positions will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Student Union building.

John Elder, chemical engineers representative in the Engineers' council, reported on the last council meeting and explained that the purchase of an Associated Engineer membership card entitles the engineer to an Idaho Engineer, and a 25-cent reduction on his dance ticket to the Engineers' ball.

The Engineers' ball will start rolling March 19 at the Student Union building with the engineers' patron St. Patrick as guest of honor.

The Associated Engineers' council has charge of the dance, and Wendell Decker, president, has appointed Frederick Winters and Ben Humphrey in charge of program and sales committees; John Elder, publicity; Ed Joyce, orchestra; Bob Linkhart, entertainment; and Voitto Luukkonen, patrons' program.

Initiation quiz for Daleth Teth Gimel pledges will be given Friday at 4 o'clock in the Women's gym.

Initiation will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Blue Bucket.

To permit members to attend the game, the initiation banquet will be held at 6 o'clock and the semi-formal dance at 9 o'clock in the Blue Bucket.

League II winners were Ridenbaugh hall over Delta Delta Delta; Town girls over Forney hall; Phi Phi over Alpha Chi.

League I will play again next Tuesday night, and league II will play Thursday.

Remodeling

The office for the new Student Union building hostess is now finished and Mrs. Mable Whitehurst, who has charge of booking all social events for the building, has taken possession.

The office was constructed on the second floor in the room that was formerly the women's check room.

Mrs. Whitehurst and Mr. Kalbus will be aided in the operation of the Bucket and the Student Union building by Mr. Bob Robinson, who arrives soon to take charge of the Inn and kitchen. He will work with Mrs. Whitehurst in arranging special dinners for campus organizations.

The installation of a new asphalt tile flooring is also planned for the near future, according to Mr. Kalbus.

Idaho Meets Oregon, Division Leaders, Tonight and Saturday Night

Division Results May Depend on 2 Games

The Standings

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Oregon	9	3	.750
W. S. C.	8	4	.666
Idaho	7	5	.583
Wash.	7	7	.500
O. S. C.	4	8	.333
Montana	3	11	.257

A great defensive team, represented by Coach Forrest Twogood's Idaho Vandals, meets the leading exponent of offensive basketball in the Northern Division, represented by Coach Hobby Hobson's Oregon Ducks, tonight and tomorrow night in two games which will have a definite bearing on the division championship.

Riding high in the top slot with 9 wins and 3 losses chalked up to their credit, the Oregon team will probably go on the floor tonight favored to retain their league lead. Idaho, bidding their time, will be out to haul the Ducks off the top roost and keep themselves definitely in the running for their first Northern Division title since the early twenties.

four game series, the Vandals won one and dropped another at Eugene, and the Ducks won two from Idaho at Moscow. The first was an overtime affair which Hobson's gang won by a single point, and the second was won by a two point margin.

After smoothing out the wrinkles remaining in the Vandal defense, Coach Forrest Twogood brought his practice session to a close with only a light workout yesterday. As his team left the floor from the final practice session before the "crucial" series, Twogood said, "We're ready. There isn't much more we can do now. Oregon is the best team in the conference and we are the underdogs, but we can give them a game of basketball."

Seating capacity at the Memorial Gymnasium has been increased by the addition of 400 bleachers at the west end, and all available space will be filled with chairs. The games are slated to get under way at 7:30 p.m.

Probable opening lineups will be Silver and Gale at forward for Oregon, Wintermute at center, Anet and Johansen at the guard posts. Idaho will have Belko and Captain Don Johnson at forward, Barrett at center, and Smith and Kramer at the guard spots.

Idaho's Defense Good

Whether or not Idaho's close checking, ball-hawking quintet can stop the fast, shifty Ducks from Eugene is the big question. With an average of only 32.67 points scored against them in conference competition this year, the Vandals leads the pack in the defensive game. Oregon, with an average of exactly 50 points per game, ranks with Stanford in the offensive department. Defensively, the Ducks are way down the line. Their opponents have rolled up an average of 41 points per game. On the other hand, Idaho ranks fourth among the Northern Division teams in offense with an average score of 38.5 points per game.

Led by "Slim" Wintermute, Laddie Gale, and Dave Silver, 6 ft. 8 in., 6 ft. 6 in., and 6 ft. 6 1/2 in. respectively, Oregon can put a team on the floor which will average over 6 ft. 2 in. However, what the Vandals lack in height, they make up in their floor work, speed, and dribbling.

High Scorers on Floor

Seven of the 11 leading scorers in the Northern Division will be on the floor in the two game series. Laddie Gale, Oregon forward, is far out in front with 134 points. Steve Belko, Idaho sparkplug, rides in second place with 104 markers. Johnson is fourth, Barrett is seventh, Johansen of Idaho is eighth, Wintermute, center on the Duck squad is tenth, and Kramer of Idaho is eleventh.

The 1938 Oregon team is composed of virtually the same men Idaho knocked out of the conference championship last year. In their 1937

ARGONAUT STAFF SHOULD REGISTER

Prospective Argonaut staff members for the following semester should leave their names and preferred type of work at the Argonaut box in the Ad building or at the office before Monday.

Tentative plans for staff work and a system of assistant editors has been drawn up.

Those wanting to work on the staff should give name, address, and telephone number, previous experience on other publications, and the type of work desired.

Four Vandals Are Among High Scorers

Individual total in the Northern Division basketball race, as compiled by E. A. Anderson, Vandal statistician, placed Steve Belko, Don Johnson, Brendan Barrett, and Bill Kramer of Idaho in the first 11 leading scorers including last Saturday's games. Laddie Gale, Oregon forward, appeared to be well on the road to a new division record for scoring in any one season. His nearest competitor was Belko of the Vandal team, who was 30 points behind with a total of 104 points.

Webfeet's Mentor

HOWARD (HOBBY) HOBBSON, above, is coach of the rangy University of Oregon basketball team, a favorite in the present northern division conference. Hobson, a former Webfoot athletic star himself, is now coaching at Eugene.

Immediately after this event, the Vandal skiers will journey down to McCall to enter the Winter Sports carnival being held there Sunday.

Tuesday Is Deadline For Trackmen To Report, Says Ryan

Any man who is not now in training, must report to Ryan in his office prior to that date either to receive equipment or make arrangements for the coach said.

IT'S FUN TO SAY IT WITH FLOWERS

HE SEES WHO BUYS WHAT TOBACCO

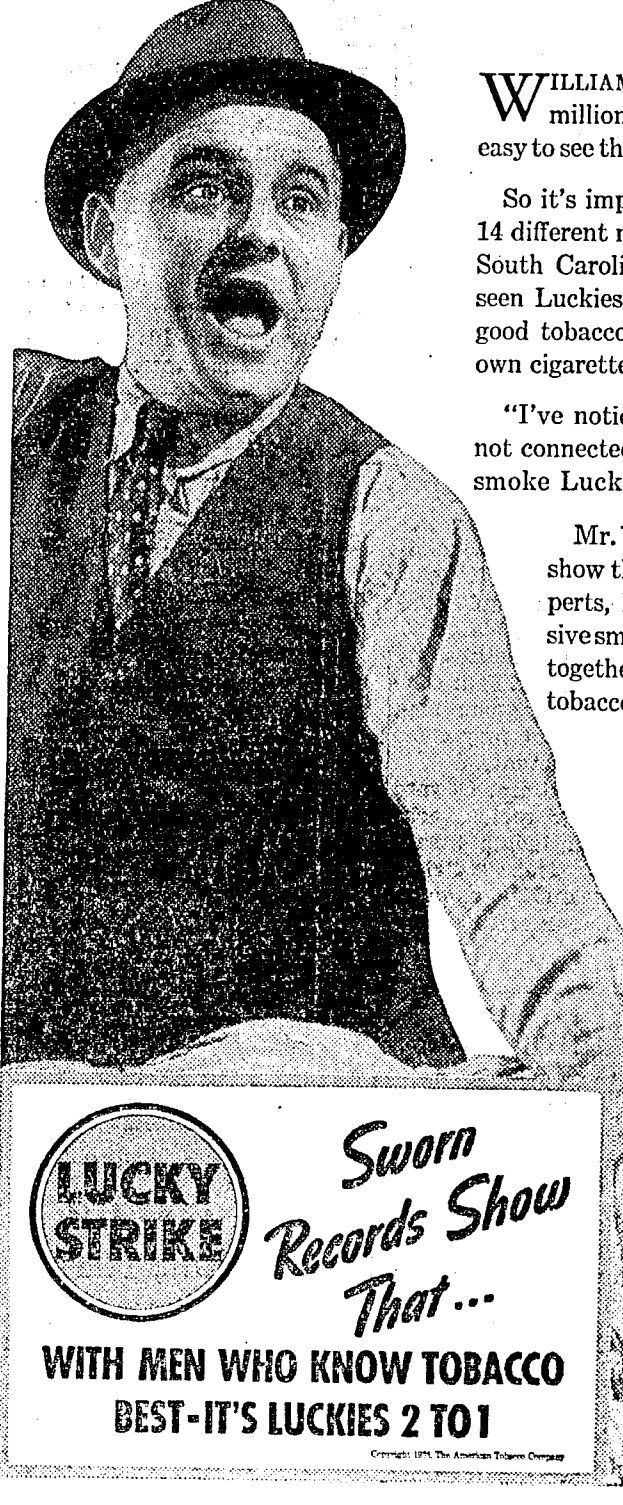

Like so many other independent experts, Bill Whitley, Tobacco Auctioneer of Henderson, N. C., smokes Luckies

WILLIAM D. (BILL) WHITLEY sold over 15 million pounds of tobacco last year. It's easy to see that he's an expert who knows tobacco.

So it's important to you when he says... "At 14 different markets in Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky, I've seen Luckies buy the best tobacco. I figure it's good tobacco that makes a good smoke. So my own cigarette is Lucky Strike!"

"I've noticed, too, that independent buyers, not connected with any cigarette manufacturer, smoke Luckies more than any other brand."

Mr. Whitley is correct. For sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes put together. Remember: The men who know tobacco best smoke Luckies 2 to 1.

HAVE YOU HEARD "THE CHANT OF THE TOBACCO AUCTIONEER" ON THE RADIO?

When you do, remember that Luckies use the finest tobacco. And also that the "Tasting" process removes certain harsh irritants found in all tobacco. So Luckies are kind to your throat.
