New Deal Promised For Announcements

Dellinger Gives Political Plumb to Student Union Book Store for Handling

Senior announcements for 1938 commencement exercises will be sold this year by the university through the Student Union Book store, according to Gerald Dellinger, senior class president. In past years the announcements have been sold by a special committee of seniors, appointed by the class president.

"We feel that there has been considerable criticism of the sale of announcements as handled in the past," said Dellinger, "and since we would undoubtedly be criticized this year, we feel it is to the best interests of the class and the committee to leave this project up to the university officials."

The announcement committee, appointed by Dellinger, is as follows: Marta Berg, chairman; Lois Pearce, Marie Haasch, Robert Granville, and Dean Green. Dellinger is an ex-officio member of the committee. The committee will select the design for the announcements and the engraving company, but will turn the sale and entire handling of the finances to the book store.

Long considered a political plumb by campus politicians, the action of the class of 1938 is commendable in the opinion of most seniors. While there has been no actual proof of any "high-handedness" in connection with the announcement sale in the past, it is generally conceded that a few of the victorious party members always received certain benefits from the sale.

According to Dellinger, the new system will relieve the committee and the class of any such criticism, whether justified or not. Aside from choosing the design, the entire affair will be out of student hands.

Priced and information concerning the sale of senior announcements will be announced later, according to the committee.

Northwest Meet To Have Idaho Ski Entries

Slalom entries for the Idaho ski team which will take part in the meet of the Northwestern Ski association at Spokane, on February 25, were determined Saturday in trials over a 200-yard course on Genesee ridge.

Dick Adelman, Hans Winbauer, Jim Johnstone, Ronald Lambert, and Al Sanders turned in the five best time records Saturday.

De Wilton Fjeldsted and Frank Fowles are to participate in the exhibition as jumpers.

Calling for exhibition jumping Friday afternoon, slalom Saturday morning, and downhill racing that afternoon, the program brings together outstanding skiers in the Northwest.

Idaho's team will stay at the cabin of the Spokane Ski club with other college entrants. Spectators are welcome for the races and exhibitions, but they will not be accommodated overnight at the cabin.

Dr. Jahn Reports On Pulp Research

Dr. Edwin C. Jahn, forestry professor at Idaho, is attending the annual meeting of the Technical Association of the Pulp & Paper Industry at New York at which he will report upon research in pulp production carried on at the university under a $600 grant made by the association in 1936. The meeting opened Monday and continues through Thursday.

Impressed by activities in wood utilization in progress at the university, the association made the grant which has been used for research in measuring of gelatinization of cellulose and wood.

Thrills and Chills Make Up Theme Of Next Blue Bucket

Originally scheduled to appear on Valentine's day, the long awaited "Weird Stories" issue of the Blue Bucket will definitely be released Saturday, February 26, according to Jean Dunkle, editor.

This issue will be patterned directly after the cheaper magazines and will feature such luscious literary morsels as "True Confessions of a Party Girl," and "The Horrible Plot of Dr. Heckle."

The cover of the humor magazine is in four colors, showing a frenzied woman being pursued by ghoulish creatures. More cartoons are also featured in this issue than ever before.

Josef Hofmann Takes Bows At Pullman Gym

Josef Hofmann, world renowned pianist, was enthusiastically received last Friday night, by an audience of approximately 3,000 people at the men's gymnasium in Pullman. The concert, sponsored by the Community Concert Association, was part of a nationwide tour celebrating the maestro's 50th year as a concert artist, and marking the first time an great instrumentalist has made a golden jubilee tour in America.

His formal program and encore numbers represented the works of Chopin, Beethoven, Schumann, Schubert and other famous composers. The acoustics in the gymnasium were modified by crimson and silver-gray wall drapery. A number of university students and townspeople attended the concert.

Coming events in the series include concerts by Lanny Ross, singer, on March 19, and Albert Spaulding, violinist, on March 30. Both of these will be held in Moscow.

Moscow Churches Conduct Vesper Services

Approximately 300 Idaho students recognized the Student Christian Federation day of prayer Sunday afternoon by attending the vesper service in the university auditorium. Throughout the world, students in universities and colleges observed this occasion, which was sponsored by the World's Student Christian federation. Locally, it was sponsored by the Inter-Church Council of Moscow, and nearly all of the church were represented at the service.

The entire program was made possible by student participation, with the exception of the organ music by Hall Macklin and Archie Jones, who directed the Vandalers. Those students who took part in the impressive service were Carl Burt, Marta Berg, Jim Hughes, Marion Gerhauser, Jerry Mills, Blaine Liljenquist, and Bob Welsh.

Although there will be no other vesper services in the future exactly like this one, the Vandalers plan to present other types of programs for the enjoyment of the students on Sunday afternoons.

S.U.B. REMODELING NEAR COMPLETION

James Kalbus, manager of the Student Union building, expressed his hopes of having remodeling completed by the end of next week.

Celebrities Judge Beauty Contest For Idaho Contest

Raoul Walsh, LeRoy Prinz, and Edward Everett Horton, Choze Six of Idaho's Fairest

Raoul Walsh, outstanding director for 20th Century Fox, LeRoy Prinz, dance director, and Edward Everett Horton, movie actor, have been selected to judge the Gem of the Mountains beauty contest, according to word received by James Yoder, Gem editor. In renewal of a custom of a few years ago, a beauty section in the yearbook consisting of six pages will carry the portraits of the six most beautiful girls on the campus.

Arrangements for taking the pictures of each girl will be made next week.

Girls chosen as entries for the contest by the respective groups are as follows: Alpha Phi, Elizabeth Jensen; Alpha Chi Omega, Maxine Lange; Delta Delta Delta, Alice Gaskill; Delta Gamma, Ardis Simpson; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Jo Cook; Gamma Phi Beta, Mary Guy; Pi Beta Phi, Lorraine Jensen; Kappa Alpha Theta, Mary Bell Bennett; Hays Hall, Edith Beenders; Forney Hall, Peggy Jean Kitchin; Ridenbaugh hall, Marjorie Blood.

Honorary Pledges Frosh Scholars

Phi Eta Sigma Taps Fourteen Making Required 5.5 Average

Fourteen high ranking freshmen men were pledged to Phi Eta Sigma, national underclassmen's honorary, at a special meeting at the SAE house yesterday afternoon. Pledges attained the honor by the achievement of a 5.5 grade average for the first semester.

Vincent John LaVoie, Lewiston; Jack Ward, Moscow; George Elliott, Boise; Chester Milton Southam, Salem, Massachusetts; William Woodgate Reid, Alexandria, Louisiana; Howard LaRue Morrison, Boise; Louis B. Parkinson, Rexburg; Kofmehl reached a straight 6 average.

Dr. Erwin Graue, faculty adviser, commended the high scholastic achievement, and congratulated the pledges on their success.

Foresters Gather At W. S. C. Soon

Foresters from Idaho, Montana, and Oregon will gather at the State College of Washington on Saturday, February 26, to attend a meeting of the Inland Empire section of the American Society of American Foresters, E. H. Steffen, head of the department of forestry and range management, announced. The meeting will be open to the general public.

The program will include a speech about Europe by Dean E. C. Johnson of the State College, a talk on game management and forestry by Dr. F. S. Henika of the college, and a discussion of "Grazing as it Affects Forestry." Ample time will be allowed for general discussion between each of the speeches.

The program at the banquet that evening will be cut short to allow the guests to attend the basketball game between W. S. C. and the University of Idaho, the two teams that are running neck and neck for the championship of the Northern Division.

A conscience is that sixth sense that comes to our aid when we're doing wrong and tells us we are about to be caught.

They Tangle With Oregon Tonight

CHEERS FROM THE THROATS of more than 1,500 enthusiastic Idaho students brought wide smiles to the faces of Idaho's Brendan Barrett, Coach For rest Twogood, and Lyle Smith as they boarded the train for the Oregon schools last Thursday night. Victorious over the Orangenom of O. S. C. in Friday and Saturday night's games, the hard-driving Vandal cagers will be in for tough sessions tonight and tomorrow when they meet the lanky Oregon Webfoots at Eugene.

Ticket Sale Starts For ASUI Play

Shakespearian Drama Given Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

Reserved seats will go on sale this week for the Shakespearian production, "The Merchant of Venice," Friday and Saturday evenings, February 25 and 26. Holders of ASUI books can exchange tickets for reserved seats for either evening's performance. Curtain goes up at 8:15 p.m.

Hubert Miller will interpret the title role of Antonio, the merchant, while Phyllis Gregson Reiter will play the stellar role of Portia. Glenn Starlin is cast to play opposite Portia as Bassanio, while George Oram will be seen as Shylock, the Jew. Bea Jane Fisher Banks will be Portia's maid-in-waiting, Nerissa, with John Johannessen cast as her lover, Gratiano. Ruth Bennett as Jessica, Shylock's daughter, and Ned Bowler, as Lorenzo, make the third couple of famous lovers.

Blaine Crawford will play Launcelot Gobbo, one of Shakespeare's more famous comic characters.

Others cast in the play are Dal Jordan, Walter Betts, Joe Mills, Francis Cannon, Loren Bruns, Arthur Wise, Bill Eskeldson, Bob Harris, Gilbert Snow, Robert Knox, Mary Lou Murdoch, Naomi Hillman, Lois Pierce, Marjorie Lester, John Lane, Bruce Gordon, Al Dods, Chuck Harris, Clyde Kethly, Claude Johnson, and Aaron Blewett.

Dr. Miller Adds To Course Study

Illustrative demonstrations will be given this week at the Student Union building in connection with Dr. Allan C. Lemons' personality course study of etiquette. They are being sponsored by the dean of women as a laboratory period. Every student is invited.

Monday afternoon Mesdames H. E. Lattig, V. A. Cherrington, Hall Macklin, and Cecil Hagen set up tables appropriate for a formal dinner, a luncheon, breakfast, and late supper and described the appointments—silverware, centerpiece, and linen.

Proper introductions, receiving lines, and seating will be described by Miss Helene Haller on Wednesday at 5 p.m., and Miss Ellen Reiersen, assistant professor of business administration, will demonstrate the correct method of writing invitations, acceptances, letters of sympathy, and applications Thursday.

Press Club To Edit Dirt Sheet Friday

Issue, Peddled by New Pledges, Will Mimic New York Tabloids

Yellow tabloid journalism will replace the conservative Argonaut Friday when the Press club edits its annual blurb. Similar to the sensational News and Mirror of New York, the Press club edition will be five "columns" wide; it will bear 12 pages.

Spring pledges to the Press club will "butcher" the papers at important campus junctions Friday afternoon. Their names will be announced in the "tab" they peddle.

Lewiston Concert To Be Given By Vandaleers

Vandaleers, directed by Prof. Archie N. Jones, accompanied by Charles Strom, will give a program in Lewiston February 23 for the Vandal Boosters' club, in the high school auditorium, at 8 a.m.

The program is as follows:
I
"Jesus Priceless Treasure," Bach; "Song of the Pedlar," Williams; "The Music of Life," Cain.
II
"Czardas," Monti, Karl Wilson, violin.

III
"Gloria Patri," Palestrina; "Ave Maris Stella," Grieg; "Emitte Spiritum Tuum," Schuetky.
IV
"Andante from Concerto in D Major," Mozart, Miriam Kennard, flute.

"Cherubim Song," Tschalkowsky; "Salvation Is Created," Tschesnokoff; "Blest Are They," Tschalkowsky.

VI
"The Swan," Grieg; "By the Waters of Minnetonka," Llewellyn; "Cianina Mia," Frimlith, the Vandaleers.

"Beautiful Savior," Christiansen; "Lullaby on Christmas Eve," Christiansen; "Hosanna," Christiansen.

VIII
"Scherzo," Walkeries; "Dance of the Reed Flutes," Tschalkowsky—flute trio: Miriam Kennard, Margaret Alison, Robert Dahlstrom.

IX
"Mother Goose Suite," "Sing a Song of Sixpence," "Old Mother Hubbard," "Little Boy Blue," "Five Little Pigs," and "Hickory, Dickory Dock" by Horton.

XI
Negro spirituals—"Dig My Grave," arr. Dett; "Let My People Go," arr. Smith; "Chilun Come On Home," arr. Cain; "Plenty Good Room," arr. Smith.

DANCE WEDNESDAY
Matinee dances open to everyone will be held Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock at the Student Union building.

PICTURE SCHEDULE

Thursday—Ad. building steps: 12:30—Home Ec. club 12:45—Westminister Guild
Friday—Memorial gym: 12:30—Ag. club 12:45—Managers club
Gem activity blanks for juniors and seniors will be distributed Wednesday to all organized groups on the campus. Students living off the campus may obtain blanks at the Gem office in S. U. E. Hutchinson's, or Sterner's studios on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. I.K.'s will be in charge of distributing and collecting the blanks.

CAR, BUS COLLIDE
A Spokane sedan smashed its right fenders when it side-swiped the Moscow transit company bus in front of the Student Union building about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. Both cars were travelling north, and the accident occurred when the sedan swerved to the right after having turned at the ATO corner.

What Would You Do?

The Daily Texan undertook a poll to determine what proportion of the University of Texas campus population would support the United States in another war. The question asked was: "If the United States should enter the war under the same conditions as it did in 1917, would you volunteer?" Of the men students, 61.3 per cent answered "No." The Texan itself remarks:

Says the university campus, like many other camps: "We will not fight; we are too clever to be drawn into destruction again." Yet that sort of thing is pure sophistry. Let the bands play and the volunteer lists open, America would need relatively few drafts. Propaganda, national pride, individual respect, the conscription will do the job.

As a matter of fact, fewer than 38.7 per cent of the male students of the University of Texas in 1917 volunteered for military service before the draft statute went into effect, many volunteered to avoid being drafted. But there is no reason to believe that collegiate pacifism is direct evidence of susceptibility to propaganda, rather than any sort of evidence of imperviousness to it. Very few people, in college or out, in war or peace, do their own thinking.—Dallas Journal.

Seeing The Shows

NUART

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday

"STAND-IN"—Starring Leslie Howard, Joan Blondell, Allan Mobery, and C. Henry Gordon—Atterbury Dodd (Leslie Howard), eastern efficiency expert, finds that he can't run colossal studios in Hollywood in terms of cogs and units as he formerly ran banks. Stand-in Lester Plum (Joan Blondell) becomes his secretary and helps him replace the decimal points in his blood with red corpuscles by teaching him the jujitsu and the rumba. When a promoter bankrupts the studios and buys up control, the bank fires Atterbury, but due to the latter's new outlook on life, he organizes the studio employees and throws out the new owner.

This biting comedy of Hollywood promises to be rare entertainment. It laughs at Hollywood's big shots behind desks and praises the army of unheard of set workers such as stand-ins who sometimes differ from stars only in not having the same opportunities.

KENWORTHY

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday "LOVE AND HISSES"—Starring Simone Simon, Walter Winchell, and Ben Bernie—Native Bolesans will sink in their chairs when the cow puncher hero of "LOVE AND HISSES" appears on the screen always ridiculing the capital city. Winchell and Bernie again have their feud, but this time it's mostly about an unknown singer (Simone Simon) who becomes famous through the unintentional efforts of Mr. Winchell. Simone, adopting the radio name of Yvette Yvette, sings several songs in a pleasing but weak soprano voice.

This is one that Bolesettes should not miss even though the plot is rather lame.

Dates 'n Doo Dads

Can't be bothered to write much for your avid eyes today. You'll all be real busy with your dates when you read this anyhow—so I'm not gonna bore ya much. Besides, I just remembered that I've gotta go hide my pants, so the fellers can't keep me from goin' to the Skip.

Wouldn't possibly "run off," though, without mentioning Jo Cook's elaborate party at the Nobby the other day. She's really a delightful hostess. Aschenbrenner looked a bit pale around the gills, however—from another table, and Jack Wilson was looking daggery—not darts—at Jo Enger.

The Phi Delt's threw kind of a nice one down there Friday afternoon. (Wish I'd start sayin' nice things about 'em, nerrrr!) Well, anyway, Bob Williams was the motif. Color scheme: blue, hung with stars. Entertainment: Nicky Smith. Guests: Don Berger, Keith Sundberg, 'n Jim Ricer.

Edith "I Lead a Band" Hopkins looks real interested in Tony Knapp these days. Margaret Mattes 'n Don Harris will make a darned good-looking couple, won't they? Be on the look-out!

I wonder if there are more men's suits in the Theta house or in the men's houses. Mary Harvey so tenderly tucked away John Wright's suit for him last night so that he will be assured of some fine raiment for the Skip today. Wonder how he's going to change into it at the Theta house, tho. And Betty Torgensen had brother Kenny's suit in storage, too, except that it has disappeared now. Some gal must have "stooped to conquer." Sure nice to be a bachelor, or it it?

Aren't Ada Marcia Hoebel and Gerry Dellinger the cute kids, tho? Last Saturday night they got dispossessed from the Blue Bucket. Imagine Olie Oldson's embarrassment when he had called to his attention in Ridenbaugh hall that he had forgotten to hook his suspenders in front, and they had trailed him across the campus and into Ridenbaugh hanging grimly on behind. These red faces! It must be the nippy weather.

Emmett Porter (pathfinder to you) cuts across a lonely section of the campus on a narrow, snowy trail, and who should come from behind the trees on the other side to meet him but Miss Buckler! Those sure are swell cookies Fred Tilston's gal in Boise sends him. Wonder if Alice Lyons can do as well?

Letters To the Editor

The letters appearing in this column do not necessarily reflect the policy of the Argonaut, nor the opinions of the editor. The Argonaut invites the opinions of its readers and discussions of student interest, but reserves the right to censor any contributions. All letters must be addressed to the editor and must be signed by the author.—Ed.

To The Editor:
Twenty-four Spurs spend hours preparing one of the nicest pieces of entertainment that has ever been given at a basketball game on this campus.

Thirty-two hundred spectators fully appreciate the drill that is presented and show this appreciation in their applauding.

One budding columnist with a perverted sense of humor writes a criticism far too crude to be witty, condemning the Spurs' efforts.

FACTS:
1. We want more entertainment at our games that is on a caliber with that given by the Spurs.
2. We want less literary enterprises that are on a caliber with the one mentioned above printed in THE ARGONAUT.
Moral note: Always be fair in your criticisms.

B. A.

To The Editor:

Might I say that, while I am not a Spur, I am not so jealous of the recognition given them that I could be incited to such petty and adolescent criticism of their drill as that in the article in the last Argonaut. The article was evidently written by some Joe College who criticized because he doesn't know the meaning of service to his school. But if he felt the urge to criticize he might at least have had the pride to be original, instead of reviving the same version of "waddle" that was used by another "pea brain" critic two years ago.

Not only have the majority of the students expressed their appreciation of the background of practice hours which the service organization gave in preparing that drill for presentation, but faculty and town people as well. It might also be interesting to know that an officer in the military department voluntarily and glowingly complimented the Spurs on their posture in the drill.

May I suggest that in the future criticism of the University and its activities be constructive rather than derisive. M. K.

To The Editor:

Everybody's doing it doing what!!! — Selecting All-American All Time Basketball players. I want to limit my selection to an All Time All Idaho (U of I) basketball team! Without making any comments about any of the individuals...

...here is my all time All-Idaho basketball team: Alexander Fox, forward; Harold Stowell, forward; Oswald Thompson, center; Elra (Squinty) Hunter, guard; Ben Keane, guard.

No doubt by printing this in your paper I will have set off some fire works. I hope this will not get you into a bad mess, as I know there are others who will want to place other men on such a team as this. There are only two places on the above team where I think any competition might arise.

Respectfully Submitted,
Adrian Nelson, Jr.
Orofino, Idaho.

P. S.—I formerly played at Idaho from 1919 to 1923. I have seen almost every Idaho basketball team in action.

Dear Editor,
The Payette Lakes Ski Club wishes to thank the University of Idaho for its cooperation in making our tournament of February 13, 1938, a success.

It is our earnest desire to cooperate in making skiing one of the leading sports in our state. We would appreciate your printing this letter in The Argonaut, if possible.

Yours truly,

W. S. C. Kittens Defeat Frosh

Holding Ronny Harris and Rook Hilton to a combined total of only 12 points, the W. S. C. yearlings bounced the Vandal babes for the third consecutive time this season last Saturday night by a score of 43-40.

Rifle Team Wins Three Matches; Loses to Oregon

Idaho's rifle team shot victories over New Mexico, A. & M., University of Maine, and Penn State college last week, but were outclassed by University of Oregon to lose by a 100-point margin.

Scores are: Idaho 3,677; New Mexico A. & M., 3,620; Idaho 1,881, University of Maine, 1,800; Penn State college 1,367; Idaho 3,616, University of Oregon 3,719.

Ninth corps area match firing went into the fourth and last stage today as the rifle team began peppering the targets from the standing position, most difficult of all.

Last week's firing from kneeling position gave the Vandals a final 10-man total score of 874, five points lower than last year's. On the average, the Idaho sharpshooters are firing virtually the same scores as in the 1937 match.

'Scuse, Please

A worse-than-usual boner appeared in the last issue of the Argonaut, for which the staff apologizes to its readers and to Dr. Harold D. Cramer, new infirmary physician. It seems, twixt printers and make-up men, that the wrong cut appeared over Doctor Cramer's name. The identity of the man pictured and how he got in the paper remains a mystery, probably never to be solved. Doctor Cramer's picture will appear in next Tuesday's paper.

Contemporary Books---

By Bob Flitts

"Personal History"—V. Sheean
This book is a direct challenge to every reader. Sheean gives an account of his development, through contact with historic events, from an indifferent college student to maturity of thought and social consciousness. Using first hand experience in Morocco, Persia, China, and Russia, he shows the broadening of his perspective.

World known personalities are pictured, not as "handmaidens of destiny", but humans with greed and indecision as well as patriotic desires. These characteristics often determine international boundaries.

Although the actual history given falls to establish an integrated mosaic of the time, the book is significant: It brings the reader a consciousness of the economic and social changes constantly occurring. It also reveals the necessity of knowing about these changes, both local and international, if we hope to achieve the "long view" or historical perspective necessary to effective citizenship.

Vandals To Meet Oregon Ducks Tonight and Wednesday

Outcome of These Two Games To Determine Idaho's Standing

Bill McGowan

Successfully over the tough Oregon State assignment, Coach Forrest Twogood and his victory-crazy cagers march into Eugene tonight to tangle with the tall University of Oregon casaba men in a two game series which will decide whether the Vandals will come home to play for a Northern Division title or not.

Still tied with their neighbors from across the state line for first place in the Northern Division's torrid race for the championship, the Idahoans go into the contest with a very slight advantage. What advantage the Vandals have in ball-handling and passing plus their mighty slick defense will be off-set by the rangy height of the Webfeet who have three first-stringers standing over 6 ft. 4 in. in their interlovers. The Orangemen are playing on their own court which should help them some, but the first notch Moscow men have all the psychological advantage.

10 Straight

In the first place, Idaho is definitely on a hot winning streak which is mighty hard to break. At the finish of the first few games, the Idaho Vandal was resting ingloriously on the bottom of the heap with one win and four losses. In the last month they have taken a total of ten contests from some of the same teams who had previously dumped them, and lost only one. Such a streak of wins with the accompanying confidence it inspires affords a powerful handicap to the teams they oppose.

If Idaho takes the double-header from the University of Oregon, the Webfoots, who are now in second place, will be dropped from contention, and the race will narrow down to a pair of savage battles between the W. S. C. Cougars and the Vandals, with an outside chance for the University of Washington to get its finger in the pie.

If "Hobby" Hobson has solved the Vandal's potent defense and can check their offense long enough to give his team a two-game victory, the Eugene men can stay in the run-

Stanford-California Battle For Southern Division Supremacy

While the Northern Division race for basketball supremacy has been gradually narrowing down to Idaho and Washington State College, two of the most bitter rivals in the division, California and Stanford have been fighting tooth and nail for the top notch in the Southern Division. The two California schools hold the same degree of rivalry as the top slot northern teams.

Tied for First

Both the Indians and the Bears have seven wins, and two losses chalked up, while the Southern California quintet rests in third place with 4 wins and five set-backs. U. C. L. A., whom Idaho socked in an early season two-game series is the door mat for the Southerners with 9 losses and no wins.

Idaho will still have the same chance the Huskies from Seattle will have to cop the division crown.

Can Lose Only One

Because seven games is the most any team can lose and still hope to get in on a title play-off, the Orangemen will have only an outside crack at the championship if the series is split, while Idaho can remain definitely in the running in that case, if they stop the Cougars in both of their contests with them.

Coach Forrest Twogood gave his hard working team a two-day rest after their O. S. C. encounter, and plans to send the same men who previously dumped Oregon twice against the Eugene crew tonight. If both coaches open with the same lineup that started in the series at Moscow which Idaho won, the starters will include Belko and Johnson at forward for the Vandals, Barrett at center, and Kramer and Smith at the guard spots. Hobson will probably start Gale and Silver at the forward berths, "Slim" Wintermute at the center position, and Anet and Johansen at guard.

Friday
Idaho—34; O.S.C.—32

Rolling up their 10th conference victory, Idaho's pennant bound cagers stopped the dangerous Oregon State Beavers last Friday night in another of the last second finishes for which they are becoming famous by a score of 34-32.

After a slow first half which saw the Staters bottle up the Vandal offensive long enough to give them a 24-12 half time advantage, the Moscow men came back to roll up 22 points while checking the Beavers with eight markers.

Flashing a brilliant form of ball-passing and razzle dazzle style of play which has gained them the reputation of being the best team of ball-handlers in the Northern Division, Coach Forrest Twogood's men rushed the stubborn Oregon State team off their feet to remain in the running for the title.

It was Bill Kramer who snatched the ball game out of the fire for the Vandals in the dying seconds of the contest. With a minute and a half to go, the Beavers held a 32-31 advantage. Kramer let squaw scoring with 12 markers—ten howitzers to give Idaho their first lead of the game, 33-32, and a moment later the same Mr. Kramer sank a free toss virtually put the game on ice. Kramer and Captain Don Johnson tied for high score for the game with nine markers apiece. Brendan Barrett and Bill Stidham of the Corvallis gang were second high with eight digits. Both were ejected from the game in the final half with four personals.

Saturday
Idaho—29; O.S.C.—22

Continuing their long unbroken string of victories, Idaho dumped Oregon State in the final of their four game series last Saturday night at Corvallis by a score of 29-22, but only after a nip and tuck battle for the first three quarters of the contest.

After taking an early lead, the Vandals lost it to the fighting men coached by "Slats" Gill only to regain it at the close of the first half with a beautiful arch shot by Curly Bill Kramer. The Idaho team led at half time 14-11.

O. S. C. Leads

A determined attack by the Staters after the second half opened soon put them out in front by a score of 21-15, but for the next 13 minutes the Vandals held them to one lone free throw while making their own offensive click long enough to roll up 14 points. Mel Harris of the Beaver squad topped the evenings, scoring with 12 markers—ten of which came in the first half. Bill Kramer was high for the Twogood men with 10 points, most of them coming when badly needed.

From the Bench

by Bill Johnston

All the world loves a winner and as the Vandals continue to play the best basketball in the Northern Division, their praises come pouring in from every sports desk in the Northwest.

Especially gratifying is the comment of L. H. Gregory of the Portland Oregonian, probably the best sports editor of this area, who devotes a whole column to "those fool Idaho kids who don't know they can be licked."

"What passes these Idaho kids are," writes Mr. Gregory, "what fighters in the close ones! They're the slickest varsity ball-handling basketball club your correspondent ever saw, and that goes even for Washington's great teams when the Huskies had such gifted ball handlers as Hal Lee, the Wagner brothers, Ralph Cairney, and John Fuller."

From Montana, John Campbell, Kaimen sports writer, contributes the Grizzlies' encouragement:

"Those vanquishing Vandals did what no other team has been able to do this season: Fluck handsome feathers from the title-bound Oregon Ducks two nights in a row. Idaho was 'Twogood' for Oregon."

"The Northern Division pennant chase has settled down to a three-way fight between the favored Webfeet, the ex-champ Cougars, and the dark horse Vandals. We hope the Vandals get their chance to sit up there—and then stay there to walk off with the flag."

Even the Washington State Evergreen (though we haven't heard from Lloyd Salt yet) is boosting Idaho and Brendan Barrett! Comments "Passing Reviewer" Les Johnson, on the Oregon series here:

"I wanted to see the great Laddy Gale . . . I find that the man who checked Gale is the one who deserves all the praise . . . He was the coolest man on the floor during the entire battle, both on offense and defense. With four other men like him, any coach would sit back and relax as a team of men like that waded through all opposition. If you haven't already guessed it, mark me down as a 100 per cent Barrett supporter."

And that, my friends, even though it was Bill Kramer who did most of the Gale-checking in the series, "is somepin."

Everyone seems to agree that Idaho has a great team, but many overlook the fact that we have a great coach, too. If the Vandals win the title from Washington State (as they will have to do if they win the title), it will be because they play the smart, capable ball that Coach Twogood has inspired them to play. If there is a better coach on the Pacific coast, I would like to go to California with the team and see him.

Predictions for the games? Here's another cautious one: Idaho to split with Oregon, Washington to split with Washington State, leaving everything to the Washington State-Idaho series.

"I heard" department: Norman Heikkila, assistant manager and "substantial booster" of the Vandals, left this morning for the Oregon series because he "couldn't stay away." A pre-game telegraph to the Vandals at Oregon State, reading: "We know you can win. Love and Kisses. Gamma Phi Beta."; received the reply: "Thanks. We did. Collect when we get home."

Varsity Fighters To Meet Gonzaga Boxers

Sundberg will Meet Hara, 200-Pound Irish Football Player

Veterans and beginners will be pitted against the Gonzaga boxing team Thursday night in the Gonzaga gymnasium at Spokane. Ross Sundberg, Milton Osterhout, and Joe Fallini will be out to repeat their performances of last Saturday against the San Jose squad.

In the main event Hara, 200-pound Gonzaga football player is expected to give Sundberg plenty of trouble. Hara is a dangerous left-handed puncher and may give the Idaho man trouble in figuring out his style.

Two New Fighters

On the Idaho roster will be two men who have never been in a ring before—George Gillett, 135-pound sophomore, and Sherman Schmidt, 165-pound junior. Both men have been showing up well recently in training.

Schedule

Gillett (I)	135	Delwo (G)
Fallini (I)	145	Arthurs (G)
Osterhout (I)	155	Lammano, G
Schmidt (I)	165	Chestnut (G)
J. Nixon (I)	185	Zarowney, G

If the shoulder injury sustained by Alex Passic in his fight against Pete Bolch of San Jose State last Saturday is sufficiently improved, he will also be matched, according to Coach Louie August.

Freshmen Boxers Meet W. S. C. Frosh Friday Night at Pullman

Bringing together two of the strongest freshmen teams in the United States will be the Idaho-Washington State fight card at Pullman Friday night, February 25.

"This should be the biggest drawing card of the year," said Louie August, Idaho boxing coach. "We will send the strongest freshman boxing team to Pullman that Idaho has ever produced."

Horace Will Fight

Headlining the card will be Horace Brelsford, freshman fullback on the Idaho football team and always a crowd pleaser in the ring. The fight between him and his opponent, Dan "Red" Jordan, started last fall on the football field. When they were parted by other players, they promised to meet each other in the ring. The fight was originally scheduled for last fall, but the Idaho heavyweight was very disappointed when another man was substituted in Jordan's stead.

Kara Meets Luntsford

In the semi-finals Ted Kara will meet Fritz Luntsford in what Coach August calls "the battle of the year." Luntsford is one of the best lightweight on the coast and has several years of experience. Kara, Cleveland and Chicago Golden Gloves title holder and captain of the Idaho freshman team, is one of the classiest artists ever to represent Idaho in the ring.

No opponent has yet been selected to meet Frank Kara at 135 pounds, although it is probable that he will be matched against Dale Maloney of W.S.C. Hank Straub, 119-pound Vandal who is undefeated in freshman competition, will meet Frank Fletcher, promising W.S.C. fighter.

New Material

Rex Pegg, who will be fighting his second fight for Idaho, will meet Les Coffman at 145 pounds. Peg entered the university the second semester from Coeur d'Alene, and was runner-up in the 1937 Diamond Belt tournament. At 155 pounds Idaho will send Ernie Jensen, protege of world middleweight champion Freddie Steele, to meet Bob Drake. Clifford Palfreyman, Idaho, 165 pounds, meets Stanley Dilatash, who has a reputation as a dangerous puncher. No opponent has been selected to meet Chuck Glasby, Idaho's light-heavyweight.

Thrills and Spills

The heavyweight match between Dale Sanner, Idaho, and Max Kimberly, Montana State, gave the crowd their most thrills. Sanner threw the Montanan in five minutes and 45 seconds. Other results of the dual meet are as follows:

Noel Hallett, 118, d'clisoned George Kosmo, Montana State, time 6:25.

Corlys Hubbard, Idaho, 128, a decision over Bob Balhiser, Montana State.

Victor Hutton, Montana State, 138, d'clisoned Dwight Macy, Idaho.

Dennis Hess, Idaho, 148, d'clisoned Harold Steese, Montana State, in an overtime period. Roy Tokerud, Montana State, 168, d'clisoned Mike Nelson, Idaho. Babe Brown, Moscow, was the referee.

College Outlines Aid Students To Grasp Essentials Quickly

That college outlines are a definite aid to improved grades is the opinion of 3,720 students, nine of them from the University of Idaho, as shown by results of a poll conducted recently by the New York bureau of educational surveys.

Consensus among students from 223 schools was that by stating the facts concisely, the college outlines simplified study.

enabled students to grasp the essentials quickly and to get the most out of the recommended text and auxiliary reading.

Professors included in the poll approved the use of outlines as supplements to lectures, expressed belief that they helped the student who might otherwise get lost in an introductory course.

Parties Add Gaiety To Busy Week-end

The local chapter of Spurs held their annual dance for active and non-active members last Saturday at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house. Two dummies dressed as Spurs were placed at the goal posts on each end of the room. Decorations representing a typical basketball game with chalk drawings of the spectators along the wall, added an unusual touch to the theme of the dance.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyer, and Mr. and Mrs. John Beckwith were patrons and patronesses for the dance.

Howard Chapman and his orchestra furnished the music for the evening.

S.A.E. Hold Initiation Dance
Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained its guests at an initiation dance held last Saturday. The crest and pin were lighted and placed at the opposite ends of the room. Soft colored lights added to the simplicity of the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davidson and Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Engstrom were patrons and patronesses. Miss Marguerite Manion, Pierce, and her escort Harold Adams, high school music instructor, were special guests.

Chuck McLoughlin's orchestra furnished the music.

Chi Alpha Psi Dance Too
Beneath illuminated replicas of their newly acquired pins, seven initiates of Chi Alpha Psi were honor guests at a dance last Saturday.

Fraternity insignia provided the theme for decorations with the names of initiates appearing about a large master badge. The initiates are Myrl Clark, Stewart, Cruickshank, Harold Hofmann, Robert Knox, Ben Mottern, Robert Smith, and Manring Malmstrom.

Mrs. Stella Keys, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lattig, and Mr. and Mrs. Hobart J. Walker were patrons and patronesses for the dance.

Gamma Phi Smarties Entertain
Gamma Phi Beta "smarties" and their dates entertained at a "Smarty Dinner Party" given in their honor last Friday evening. The party is an annual affair for girls who make a five-point grade average or greatly improve their average from the preceding semester. Mrs. Laura Campbell was the patroness for the evening.

The L.D.S. Institute held its annual Green and Gold ball in the Student Union building Monday. The decorations and programs carried out a color scheme of green and gold.

Marta Berg reigned as queen with Alice Graham and Fay Ricks as her attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Tanner, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Luke, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilde were patrons and patronesses for the evening.

Bench and Bar Entertain
Members of Bench and Bar, law honorary, gave their annual dance last night at the Sigma Nu house. Approximately 45 couples danced to the music of Benny Lutz and his orchestra.

Bert Larson was general chairman for the dance. Walter Budge is chief justice of the organization.

Benny Lutz and his orchestra furnished the music.

Texas Hold Game Party
The second of a series of game parties was held by Tau Kappa Epsilon last Saturday evening.

Guests included Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Evans, and William

Miss Wirt Speaks At Auxiliary Tea

Explaining customs and culture of many countries, Miss Janette Wirt of the physical education department spoke at the International Silver Tea sponsored by the Mary Martha auxiliary Saturday afternoon in the Presbyterian social hall.

A musical program was presented during the afternoon by Elizabeth Gilmore Corless, Camille Ireland Ehrlich, Mary Kay Hickman, Lois Stone, Richard Michaels, Eugene Taylor, Bernice Rydholm, Juanita Anderson, Miriam Kennard, Marian Dwight, Avis Norling, and Lois Elwood Russell.

The tea tables were decorated with red tapers and centered by red carnations. Mrs. Frank Matz and Mrs. Charles Walton poured. Russian tea and cookies were served by Westminster members in gay peasant costumes. They included: Elizabeth Lukens, Marian McVeigh, Elsie May Stokesberry, Gail Ingle, Mary Guy, Billie Hilliard, Kay Bowers, Mary Alice Grant, and Jane Pier.

Joyce Mabnuson, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. H. P. Magnuson, and Florence Robinson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Robinson, assisted members of the auxiliary in receiving.

LYLE WOODY WEDS ON FEBRUARY 16

Lyle Woody, who last spring completed his second year in the school of forestry at Idaho, was married February 16 to Wilma Middleton, Connell, Wash. Mr. Woody is production manager on a farm at Connell where the couple will make their home.

Faculty Club Sets Rules

Rules and regulations for the Faculty Dancing club were drawn up recently by a committee consisting of Prof. Archie Jones, Lester Schmitt, James Kalbus, Prof. E. R. Martell, Elmer Beth, Lawrence Chamberlain, Kenneth Dick, William Polz, and Lt. Col. F. Hatfield. About 49 memberships have been sold in the club.

The club has been organized at the request of a group who attended a dancing party sponsored by the Faculty Women's club last fall.

The second dance of the year is planned for early May. The initial dance of the club was given during Christmas vacation in the Student Union building. The final dance of the year will probably be given just before the close of the academic year.

According to members of the committee, the club plans to add one or two dances to its calendar next year.

HOUSES INVITED TO PLAY NIGHT

The second of the series of play nights sponsored by the Pem club will be held in the Women's gymnasium at 7:30, Wednesday night. Eight representatives from the following houses are invited to participate: Alpha Tau Omega, L. D. S., Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi, Forney Hall, Kappa Kappa Gamma. Freshmen women will be granted 9:30 permission for the occasion.

The next meeting of the Pem club will be held February 28, at 7:30 in the Women's gymnasium. The constitution to be acted upon at this meeting.

STATICALLY INDETERMINATE

OBNOXIOUS OUSTS 5 STUDENTS

MOSCOW, Idaho, March 5.—Five students, prominent in journalism work on the University of Idaho campus, this evening were suspended for varying periods of time as the aftermath of the Press club's "Tabloid Argonaut" issued a week ago Friday.

The five, and the terms of suspension, are: William Ash, Boise, senior, editor of the Argonaut, twice-a-week student newspaper, until after spring vacation (April 12); Jack McKinney, junior, Salmon, managing editor of the paper, the same penalty; Gordon C. Smith, senior, Boise, business manager of the Argonaut and president of the Press club, suspended until next September; James G. Yoder, junior, Nampa, editor of the Gem of the Mountains, college yearbook, suspended until September; Fred W. Swank, sophomore, Portland, suspended until September.

President Harrison C. Dale left the campus for Lewiston immediately after the faculty discipline committee had made its final recommendation to him and could not be reached for a statement. J. F. Raeder, committee chairman, declined to comment.

Last Friday's student paper was issued by the Press club, comprising journalism students, and was modeled on certain metropolitan tabloid papers. The disciplinary action is reported taken because of objectionable treatment and handling of articles in the issue.

It is understood several other members of the club were denied further participation in campus activities until next fall, but the five named will retire from school for the terms of their suspension.

All are active in other campus activities, McKinney being president of Blue Key, honorary service fraternity of high standing.
