INTEREST AT THE boiling point: last time the Argonaut ran a poll to determine the cross-section of student opinions on the war situation. The poll was very successful if one voter can be considered a cross-section of 2,750 students. One voted.

"Henceforth," says the editor, "no more polls."

No interest: because of an oversight, one part of the two-fold poll was omitted. The forerunning explanation went to paragraph's length to indicate that "the poll below" contained a question on which Idaho well-wishers were to vote "yes" or "no" on the proposed adoption of Prince Alpine Don II as the Vandal mascot. Only thing wrong was the fact that some one forgot to have the question inserted. The editor originally intended to erase the mistake by inclusion of the pertinency in this issue—until he saw the productivity of the "war" poll.

Now he's afraid that the deluge of "dog" votes would so overrun the Argonaut box that a bigger and better ballot box would have to be constructed—necessitating a new and unthinkable expense to the ASUI. So no "dog" poll.

DEMOCRATIC DECIPHERING:

The Idaho campus is fortunate. At University of Washington and other universities it is a disgrace to be the hash or chief bottle washer in some fraternity, sorority or dormitory. That work deposes one to the rank of untouchables, is left to Chinese and Filipino helpers.

At Idaho, on the other hand, waiters' jobs afford the means to an education for many. The sororities even vie among themselves to secure the most handsome hashers in order to display these casanovas to the fickle-hearted female rushees.

This campus bears no better example of its democratic attitude toward the "manual laborer" than its own student-body president, who goes about administrative duties for 2750 students part of the day and remainder of the time hushes at a sorority.

should miss tonight's rally in honor of a football team departing for California and the U. C. L. A. Bruins game Saturday.

The football team will appreciate a good turnout; that will extend appreciation to these men of the grid for an undefeated record so far, an unblemished slate to come.

Just as human as any one, maybe a little bit more so when you get under their hides, are these football players. They are earning their education on the "field of hard knocks." They are not dumb dodos either. Many are excellent students, regular guys. Virtually all of them do very well scholastically when one considers the weariness that must accompany them to the books at night after a day's bruising football practice.

Prof. Holm Leaves To Check Poultry In Southern Idaho

Dr. Glenn C. Holm, assistant professor of bacteriology, left October 12 for southern Idaho to check blood tests that have been given to the poultry in that section.

For several years these blood tests, carried on by field men, have been given the poultry for Pullorum disease. Doctor Holm will check these tests to be sure they are thorough. He will return to the university November 12.

Vandals Trounce Gonzaga, Leave for Conquest of Uclans

Long Runs Feature Thrilling Battle

By Norm Larkin

In a game featured with all the thrills of a Barnum and Bailey circus, University of Idaho's powerful Vandals continued their determined march to an undefeated season at Neale stadium Saturday when they trounced the Gonzaga Bulldogs, 26 to 12. The Vandals kept their twofold record intact of not losing a game on their new field and by keeping their victory slate unblemished. Long punts and sensational runs, combined with vicious blocking, and beautifully executed passes featured the game, which saw 38 points scored in the first half.

Idaho opened the scoring after eight minutes of play when Roise dove over the center of the line from the 1/2 yard stripe, after a sustained drive from the Gonzaga 48. Roise's try for point was wide. Twenty seconds later saw the highlight of the game, when McGuire, Gonzaga fullback took the Vandal kickoff a yard back of his goal line and galloped 101 yards behind perfect blocking for the Bulldogs' first score. The point was missed, and the game was tied at 6 to 6.

Roise almost returned the compliment on the following kickoff, when he took the ball on his 12-yard line, returned it to the Gonzaga 47 before he was hauled down. Two plays later, Chrape fumbled; the Bulldogs recovered on their own 38; and Gonzaga was off to their second touchdown. A long pass from Canadeo to Ray Hare put the ball on the Idaho 4 yard stripe. McGuire skirted his right end to

Riflemen Select New Members From Soph Class

Pershing Rifles Choose From Men Making "B" Average

Pershing Riflemen selected nine new sophomore members at their last meeting October 1. Chosen men have satisfied the requirement of a "B" in military and will begin drill with present members Tuesday night. They are: Fred Harris, Willis Sweet hall; Paul Sartwell, Delta Tau Delta; Henry Johnson, Idaho club; William Langley, Sigma Chi; Robert Smith, Chi Alpha Pi; Henry Straub, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Grant Humphries, L.D.S. Institute; and William Hovey, Campus club.

"An appropriation has been made from the military fund for the purchase of white over-seas caps trimmed in blue," said Sam Rich, captain of the company. "The caps are to be used by the Riflemen in all parades, ceremonies, and unit drills."

Appointments were made at the same meeting to fill vacant positions:

Feminine Lawyer Returns to Idaho For Short Visit

Miss Mary Smith '35, Idaho's only practicing woman lawyer, has returned to the scene of her legal education to visit her sister, Mrs. Martin R. Bingham.

Miss Smith has been practicing law in Rexburg since graduating from the university, is justice of the peace there.

"The beginning lawyer will find that small towns offer the best advantage," she says, "because competition is too keen in a city."

Bulldog Pass Defense Clicked Here

Ray Smith and Tony Knap, Idaho's two candidates for all-coast honors at the end position, are seen in this picture. Smith, number 16, has his eye on the ball which is coming to him from Hal Roise. Knap, number 25, is not in position to catch the ball, but is coming up to lead interference in case Smith, number 16, has his eye on the ball which is coming to his teammate who is in the picture.

Returns on War Question Disclose Idaho Students Unconcerned Over Facts

By Ed Davis

Idaho student opinion has spoken again, in a clear, ringing voice! (Fanfare)

Remember the ballot published last Friday to show the world what Idaho thought of war?

Today the Argonaut staff is moping around sleepy and red-eyed after spending most of Monday night counting and tabulating the returns. After tabulating the returns, we feel somewhat like the Literary Digest must have when something slipped in their ballot tabulation a few years ago. But we promised to give the results, come what may. Here they are:

The count revealed an odd situation—opinion on every question was clear-cut and undivided. That isn't as queer as it sounds. ONE ballot was returned. If the lone voter will visit the Argonaut office today he'll receive a complimentary subscription to the sheet for the months of June, July and August.

He might be a Fiji; his answer for the fourth question, to-wit: "What methods would you use to avoid a draft?" was simply, "It's a secret."

The Lone Wolf of Idaho is all for the St. Bernard mascot. The answers to the rest of the questions are sane and normal; further comment on them is unnecessary.

If enough requests are received in the near future, the staff may put out an issue devoted exclusively to ballots on everything from "Why is the arbor-etum?" to "Will the Republicans win in 1940?" It would be swell for starting fires or papering walls.

And the staff could go to bed early the night before the mighty presses roar.

The total cost per year for tuition, room and board at Harding college is but $200.

Midget Will Visit Idaho Campus

Phillip Morris Midget Will Attend Idaho Homecoming Game

Johnny (Call for Phillip Morris) Roventini will visit the Idaho campus at Homecoming November 12. He is on a good will tour of every sizeable campus in the United States.

Mr. Roventini will be at W.S. C. in the morning, come to Idaho in the afternoon for the game and may stay for the Homecoming dance. An elaborate program to enliven his visit is being planned by Phillip Morris representatives Bud Bennett and Glen Maxwell. He will be escorted from the Idaho border by state patrolmen. An attempt will be made to have him visit every fraternity and sorority on the campus. He will dine at Delta Tau Delta.

A 57-pound, 43-inch midget, he has been received at the White House. He will come to Moscow in a car built to scale for a man of his size and capable of 105 miles per hour.

N.B.C. To Present 'Everyman' Sunday, Next Great Play

"Everyman," second of the series of Great Plays to be dramatized by the National Broadcasting company, will be presented at 10 o'clock, P. S. T., Sunday morning, October 23.

This play, which originated about the beginning of the 16th century, is one of the greatest of the English morality plays, still grips those interested in drama. A "morality" is a drama undertaking the symbolical or allegorical representation of life, and it depicts conflict between good and evil in the life of man. Each moral quality is shown as a person.

Idaho Rates Even With Bruin Team

By Bill McGowan

Primed for the crucial game on their schedule, 33 Vandal gridiron warriors, their coach, and manager, leave for Los Angeles tonight prepared to continue their winning streak by whipping the University of California at Los Angeles Saturday in what may be one of the coast's exciting games.

After a chalk talk Sunday evening, a light drill yesterday, and a heavy scrimmage session this afternoon against U. C. L. A. formations, Coach Ted Bank announced his charges as in "good shape physically and prepared to put up the battle of their lives for victory on Saturday."

Key Battle

The Bruin struggle is rated by the Vandal team as the key game of their march. Victory will keep them knocking on the door of their full brothers of the Pacific Coast conference, while a defeat will virtually eliminate them from consideration; this year unless upsets occur later in the season.

After listening to Scout Forrest Two-good's detailed report of the U. C. L. A.-California game last Saturday in which he stated the Uclans had "plenty of power and an excellent passing attack," Idaho's strategists went into conference last night to work out a system to stop the Bruins.

Stress Pass Defense

Believing his men were mentally alert and prepared for the game with the realization that they were going into the struggle on the short end of the odds, as they did against Washington—Coach Ted Bank drilled his team in pass defense and attempted to iron out their big offensive fault, fumbling.

Idaho's squad was back to full strength with the return of its five injured members. Included on the team making the trip will be "Bull" Durham, Earl Gregory, Merle Stoddard, and Jimmie Johnston, Vandal backs who did not play Saturday, and Fred Retteberg, lineman.

Workout In Frisco

Traveling schedule of the Vandals calls for a workout in Kezar stadium in San Francisco on Thursday and a workout Friday afternoon in Pasadena's Brookside park.

The men making the trip:

Ends: Knap, Smith, Ryan, Howard, and Helme.
Tackles: Kaczmarek, Trzuskowski, Tauber, Rathbun, Piedmont, Therrell, and Strang.
Guards: Mustal, Donovan, Kamelevicz, Rettberg and Sanner.
Centers: Aschenbrener, Smith, and Caccia.
Quarterbacks: Gregory, Beall, and Stoddard.
Fullbacks: Chrape, Durham, and Bell.
Right halfbacks: Willson, Price, Acuff and Johnston.

Record Rally Seen For Team Tonight

A record crowd is predicted to attend the send-off rally at the Union depot at 7:20 o'clock tonight as Idaho's undefeated football team leaves for U. C. L. A.—the "biggest hurdle in the Idaho schedule." Starting at the Blue Bucket, students will march around the campus along the usual route and reach the railroad station at 7:10 p.m. The Pep band is expected to be out in full strength to lead the parade.

"We are getting wonderful cooperation from all students at rallies," commented Yell King Bill Moats, "but would appreciate a larger turnout of the upperclassmen. However, we expect the school out en masse for this one."

Following Coach Ted Bank's statement that the Uclan game is likely to be "the toughest on the Vandal schedule," student enthusiasm for the rally has mounted to the highest pitch since the Washington send-off. Grandstand quarter-backs are already predicting an undefeated Idaho season if the team gets by U.C.L.A.

Team's Fine—the Students? —

Despite rain and chills Idaho students displayed a good deal more whoop-it-up at Saturday's game than they did the week before. The spirit was better—yet worse.

All in one breath that sounds contradictory. Its clarification is this: the yelling was much better, but the student indifference which greeted Yell King Bill Moats' pleas to fill up the card stunt section was deplorable. A special bouquet goes to Bue Key: they were the only group with enough spunk to move out of their special section and occupy seats where the cards had been placed. Why couldn't other students have shown as much Idaho spirit?

Yell King Moats and aides went to a week's hard work to think up attractive card stunts, engineer and organize them, and have the explanation cards placed in the stadium. After the yell leaders had gone to so much work, it must have been discouraging to see their efforts go by the boards, just because a few students were too lazy to pull themselves to an upright position and move over a few seats.

Moats had some excellent stunts worked out. They were of the type that could put the Idaho cheering on a par with yelling in big time colleges. Idaho now has a football team that is "big time." Why couldn't Idaho students have shown a spirit that was commensurate and filled up those seats, so that the card noyties might have been executed?

What can be done to remedy this situation at Homecoming—to show a courtesy instead of an insult to the efforts of the yell leaders? The solution seems obvious. On the student side of the stadium, I. K.s should blockade, until that bleacher section has been filled, all entrances which are not directly adjacent to the card stunt section. Secondly, I. K.s should be stationed along the bleacher aisles to make sure that students do occupy that particular section first.

Finally, members of the minor "I" club can help the I. K.s more effectively in a program designed to prod a little more spirit into a group of persons who, in one respect, showed a spirit of cooperation Saturday that would have disgraced the podunks of Podunk high school.

Sophomors and Sophistry

Two weeks ago rumors of WAR, talk of WAR, news of WAR were rife in the world and on the Idaho campus. Two weeks ago R. O. T. C. lads were brushing off their WAR uniforms, and students were earnestly discussing the imminence of WAR.

Today bull-fest topics are once more economics and sex. Today we are again reading "Lil Abner," and once in a while we drop around to a class. Today we have again that feeling of isolation, indifference, and security.

Not so the American journalists. Well aware that United States youth will fight our next WAR, they ask: "What does the United States Youth think about WAR?"

In the most recent survey questionnaires have been sent to college editors, to be distributed by college editors, to be answered by collegians in an effort to get a cross-section of "youth opinion." The information will be used in statistical form as the basis of an article to appear soon in a nationally circulated magazine.

SAMPLE QUESTION: What in your opinion is the best way for the U. S. to stay out of war?

POSSIBLE ANSWER: We should adopt a more realistic attitude in our foreign relations. We cling to the outmoded, unworkable policy of isolation, blind to the fact that only through international cooperation and collective security can we build a solid foundation for peace.

Now before you go back to your coca colas—a portion of a letter recently received from England, quote:

"You ask me what we think of the European situation: To us the Munich conference laid no permanent basis for peace. To us, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Ukraine, it makes no difference: it is only a matter of time. For us young men the only question is what branch of his Majesty's service to enter."

"For a people who live only 20 minutes away from German air bases—bombs, gas and death can any moment become horrible realities."

So much for YOUTH and WAR.

The article which will be based on this survey is scheduled for early issue in a leading national magazine, according to a letter accompanying the blanks.

Sideline Slants

with Bill McGowan

Our apologies to Managing Editor Loyd Salt of the Washington State Evergreen who we classed in our category last week in our challenge to a wager on the W. S. C. Idaho game slated for November 12. Fellow columnist Salt, who we classed as sports editor, has accepted the terms of the wager as we stated it with the exception of the date when the long hike is to take place.

If the Cougars drop the homecoming tussle to the Vandays, Salt Walks from Pullman to Moscow on the Tuesday following the game, arriving here before 4 p. m. If Idaho double crosses us and lets our neighbors put one over on them for the fourteenth time, we take the long walk.

The beard growing stipulation apparently isn't going to amount to much, because Salt claims he couldn't grow much of a beard in any length of time, and we know ours will never cause a barber much worry.

With that little matter out of the road, permit us to reprint a statement which appeared in a Los Angeles Times sports column last week.

Referring to Coach Jimmie Phelan of the University of Washington, the article says in part: "To make it worse, he wasn't even able to beat those Idaho Potatoes who were booted off the round robin schedule of the coast league because they weren't supposed to be good enough to make the big shots in the conference work up a sweat against them. But let me slip you a confidential note here, Mister Dyer. Those Idaho Spuds will be plenty tough for our Broons to mash down here next week. A Central European may be a push-over for Herr Hitler to scare out of his country, but when he starts playing American football, he doesn't give up so easily, as you may recall from your Notre Dame history. Look over the Vandal roster of unpronounceable names and you'll see what I mean."

The article is signed by one "Pigskin Peters," and helps to show the respect Southern Californians have for Coach Ted Bank's revised version of what an Idaho football team is like.

Leonard Salladay seems to be taking a mighty interest in Marjorie Hendrickson of late.

Babes Dump Broncos; Drill For Normalites

The Vandal babes opened their season with a 14-7 triumph over the Boise Junior college Broncos at Boise Saturday.

Although the freshmen pushed the Broncos all over the field, they could score only in the first and third periods. First tally came in the opening quarter when Tackle Solinsky, blocked a punt and Woodrow Peterson, end, fell on the ball over the goal line.

Peterson scored the final touchdown on an end-around from the 20-yard line in the third period. Boise J. C. tallied in the second quarter on a tricky reverse that was good for 60 yards and a touchdown.

Tony Aschenbrenner, brother of Rudy Aschenbrenner, varsity center; Solinsky, and Zenkovich, were outstanding for the baby Vandals, according to Coach Walt Price.

"I am well satisfied with the showing of the team," said Coach Price, "and with more experience they should round into a well rated ball club."

Starting line-up for the freshmen included Harris and Peterson, ends; Throckmorton and Solinsky, tackles; Zenkevich and Holbein, guards; Aschenbrenner, center; Shedd, quarterback; Uberagua, and Graham, halfbacks; and Dalton Smith, fullback. Twenty-five of the 28 men who made the trip played.

The freshmen travel to Lewiston for their annual game with Lewiston normal Friday night.

score. The kick for point was blocked—score 12 to 6 for Gonzaga.

A Gonzaga fumble, recovered by Idaho on the Bulldog 27 yard line, shortly after the second period opened, set the stage for the Vandals' second score. It took just six plays for Idaho to push over the second touchdown, Wilson going over from the 1 yard marker. Boise's conversion was good, and Idaho was back in the lead 13 to 12. Spectators were hardly rattled in their seats when the Vandals were off to the races again. Idaho kicked off and Gonzaga had the ball on their 26. The Vandal line held and Canadeo was forced to kick.

Roise took the ball on a dead run and behind exceptional blocking raced 69 yards for another touchdown. Roise's try for point was good again and the Vandals led 20 to 12.

Intercept Pass
An intercepted Bulldog pass resulted in the Bankmen's final score. With the ball in Gonzaga's possession on their 37 yard line, the Bulldogs elected to pass. An aerial heave, intended for Ray Hare, was intercepted by Center Lyle Smith, who loomed up from nowhere, snagged the ball, and galloped to the 11-yard line before he was downed. Roise, on the next play, scooted around his right end to score Idaho's fourth touchdown and also his fourth in collegiate football. The extra point went wide.

Contests Will Feature Engineer Exhibit
Engineers are planning a program Thursday in the Memorial gymnasium with entertainment consisting of an accordion solo and an art exhibit.

Interest will be centered in the contests among the various engineering societies. To the winner of the tug-of-war contest will go a prize and first chance at the refreshments.

Fullback Carries Ball To Class For Lost Wager

George Chrape, University of Idaho fullback, and End Tony Knap, today went to classes with a football under one arm. They must carry the pigskin until the Vandal squad leaves Tuesday night for Los Angeles where it will play the U.C.L.A. Bruins.

Chrape said he would carry the ball during all his waking hours this week if he fumbled in the Gonzaga game. If he did not fumble, the other 10 men in Idaho's starting lineup agreed to pack the leather spheroid for the same length of time.

Both Chrape and Acting Captain Tony Knap muffed the slimy ball Saturday. There were plenty of other fumbles but the Vandals scored 26 points in the first half to the Zags 12.

Cripples Return For Bruin Game
Expected to be at top strength for the U.C.L.A. game, Idaho's varsity football team was reinforced yesterday with the return of Harold "Bull" Durham, Jimmie Johnston, Fred Rettburg, Earl Gregory, and Merle Stoddard, all of whom were unable to play to any extent in last Saturday's tilt with Gonzaga.

Stoddard and Gregory, quarterbacks, were bothered with knee and ankle injuries incurred in the Washington and North Dakota State games. Johnston, halfback, was hurt in practice before the first game of the year. Bruised back muscle kept him out of a suit.

Durham, cannonball fullback, wrenched a knee in the University of Washington game which was at first expected to keep him on the sidelines for the remainder of the season. Responding to treatment, the veteran speedster will be able to spell George Chrape at the fullback spot in the Bruin game. Rettburg, sophomore guard, has recovered from a wrenched knee.

Scouts Travel Covering Games

Idaho's scouting staff has covered many miles since the beginning of the football season and a heavy schedule of games to be scouted still lies before it. Coach Twogood has just returned from Berkeley, Calif., where he scouted the U.C.L.A. team when they played California last Saturday.

Coach Twogood started the scouting season by scouting the Washington team when they played Minnesota at Minneapolis. For two weeks Twogood has been in California scouting Gonzaga, U.C.L.A., and Montana teams. On September 30, "Twogie" scouted the Montana University of San Francisco game. The following Saturday he saw the U.C.L.A.-Washington game at Los Angeles.

Coach Glenn Jacoby's main assignment until now has been to scout Montana for the all-important Vandal-Grizzly tussle October 29.

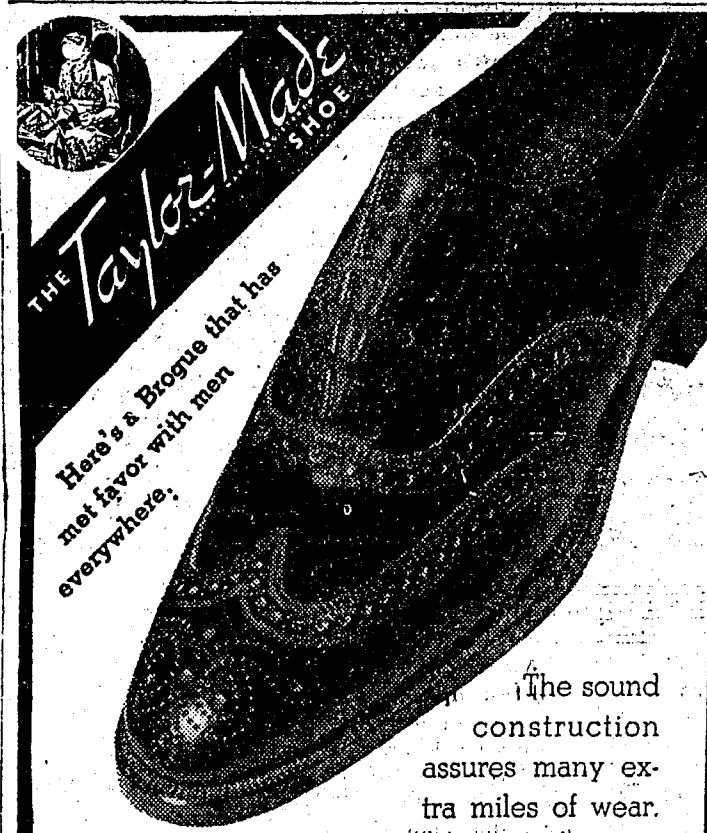

On November 5, Jacoby will accompany the team to Oregon. The week after that he will scout the Utah Aggies in their game against Wyoming at Logan.

Freshmen Meet Sophomores In Annual Clash

Starting today and continuing through Wednesday, the freshman and sophomores will vie in their annual dual track meet. After their performances last week, the freshmen appear to have a slight edge in scoring strength, but sophomore representatives will be in the thick of the battle for every point in the 12 event program.

Last week's result would indicate that the bulk of the frosh scoring strength lies in Ramirez, Wetzel, Stegford, and Dwyer in the runs; and Unbewust and Humphrey in the field events. To oppose these men the sophomores will offer Leibowitz, Alterwein, Neal, and Elder in the track events, while Kerby and Ryan will do most of the jumping and throwing.

If all students who sleep through history were placed end to end, they'd be more comfortable.

Honorary Holds Bridge Tournney

Cardinal Key, upperclasswomen service honorary, has scheduled a bridge tournament as one of the first of a series of interesting activities planned for this year, according to Carol Jean Davis, president of the group.

The tournament will last four weeks this year with a silver cup to be presented to the winning house at the Cardinal Key assembly last year high and low prizes were given each time women met to play during the series.

Each house will be given one week to select players, who will represent the best bridge players of that house. These players will continue throughout the series and no substitutions will be granted. Twelve group houses will be represented and the opponents will be named by drawing numbers.

Friday is the deadline for the names of the representatives to be chosen. Allee Trunnell, Alpha Phi, is chairman of the tournament, and any additional information may be secured from her.

Idaho Journalist Gets Editorship

Cecil "Bill" Rudeen, Idaho journalism graduate and former Argonaut sports editor, last week received promotion from general assistant reporter of the Idaho Falls Post-Register to night editor, according to word received by Elmer F. Beth, assistant professor of journalism.

The new night editor's duties are to edit night Associated Press news dispatches, handle all late local material for the morning rural edition of the Post-Register. Rudeen was well known on the Idaho campus, served as president and vice president of Sigma Delta, Press club member, and two-year Argonaut sports editor. He was graduated last February.

Student 'Hams' Get Foreign Stations

Using their new R.M.E. receiver, members of the campus Radio club have talked with stations as distant as Cape Town, New Zealand, Russia, New South Wales, and the Philippine Islands.

Although radio telegraphic communication over such distances is not rare, phoned radio conversation rarely travels farther than across the United States. Conversation with Cape Town is almost unheard of, according to Prof. J. Hugo Johnson, head of the electrical engineering department.

Howard Morrison is this year's president of the Radio club. Other "hams" are Bernard Miller, Jack Fox, Bruce Gralow, and George Larsen.

Idaho Cows Make State Records

Recent achievements in milk production by the University of Idaho Holstein herd are three new state records and a second place, according to department of dairy husbandry officials.

Idaho Fayne Calista, a junior two-year-old, replaced Idaho Hello Goldenrod as the first state record holder. Second state champion is Idaho Korndyke Winsome as a senior two-year-old in class B, yearly division. Idaho Korndyke Quaintness has placed second on the state honor list among four-year-olds in class A, yearly division.

Professor Carter Attends School

Prof. I. N. Carter returned recently from a trip to Seattle where he attended a "Short Course for Water Works and Sewage Disposal Plant Operators." He said attendance and enthusiasm for the course exceeded all expectations.

This annual school is working toward the goal of licensing water and sewage disposal plant operators, and of removing their selection from politics.
