Morken Chosen To Attend National Meet Early In November

Ten men were tapped Tuesday night by Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary fraternity, in recognition of their outstanding service in military, according to Capt. Earl Gregory.

They are: Myrl Clark, Chi Alpha Phi; Robert Davis, Phi Gamma Delta; Carl Killian, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Robert Matthews, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Cecil Smith, Willis Sweet hall; Arthur Swan, Alpha Tau Omega; Kirby Phippen, Kappa Sigma; Fred Zamboni, Sigma Nu; Richard Lambert, Sigma Nu; and Charles Thompson, Phi Delta Theta.

These men will be formally pledged at the annual formal Scabbard and Blade dance; the date has not been set.

Paul Morken was elected delegate to the national Scabbard and Blade convention to be held in Berkeley, Calif., on November 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Students To Get Free TB Test

Dr. Cramer Advises Everyone To Protect Against Disease

Free tuberculin tests will be given to all upperclassmen who desire one from 1 to 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, October 31, at the infirmary, according to an announcement today by Dr. Harold D. Cramer, university physician.

"I would advise every university student to take this test for tuberculosis," said Doctor Cramer. "Modern X-ray equipment installed during the summer makes it possible for everyone to protect himself against this disease. If enough interest is shown, dates will be set for future tests."

Of the Idaho freshmen, who took the test as part of the university entrance requirement, approximately 45 percent showed positive reactions. These will be X-rayed free of charge.

Upperclassmen with positive reactions may be X-rayed at the nominal fee of $2 a plate. This is much cheaper than is possible at private hospitals, according to Doctor Cramer. A positive reaction does not indicate active tuberculosis; it merely indicates that the person should be X-rayed.

LDS Institute Gets New Reuter Organ For Chapel Pulpit

The new Reuter organ placed on the rostrum in the L. D. S. institute chapel and costing $3,000 will replace a piano which has been used during services. No special dedication ceremonies are planned for this Sunday although a dedication will be held soon.

Placed in an oak case designed to match furnishings and architecture of the institute, it will be a valuable addition to the furnishings.

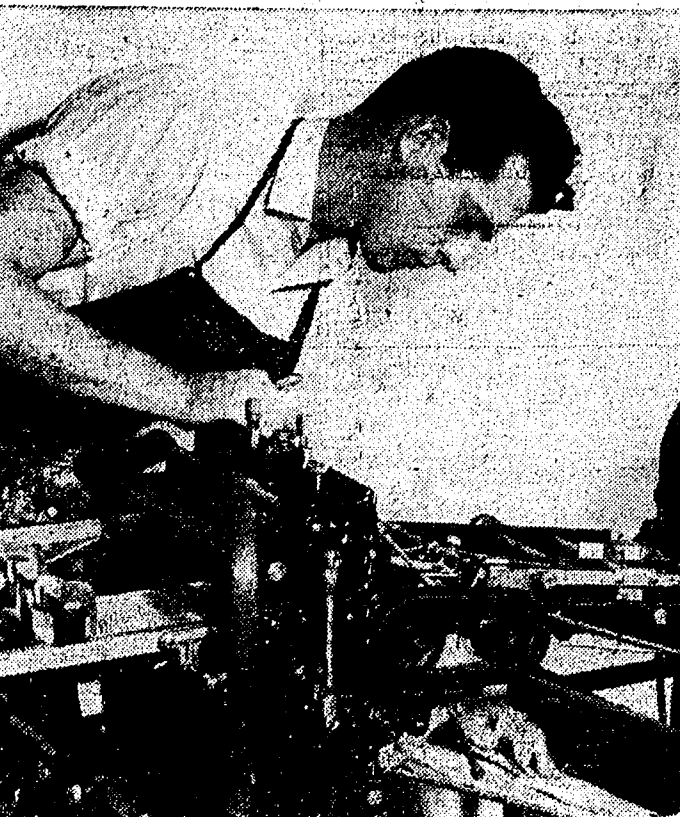

The 500 pipes of the organ are played from a two-manual console which has a stop list of 26 tablets. There is a variety of flutes; the string choir includes a harmonious Voix celest.

Paul Taylor Presents Convention Report

Paul Taylor, senior engineering student who represented Idaho chapter of Sigma Tau, engineering honorary, at the recent annual convention at Boulder, Colo., related experiences at the meet to 26 members at a dinner meeting last night.

The three-day convention, held on September 29 and 30 and October 1, was both entertaining and educational.

Student President Earns Keep

LIKE MANY OTHER students at the University of Idaho, Max Kenworthy, president of the student body, earns part of his own way. He is a skilled multigraph operator in the university publications department and has been on the job since September 1. He is a senior this year in an extractive industries course, combining forestry and business—also "hashes" at Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Scholarship Cords Go to Harding

Glenn Harding is "scholar of the week" and winner of a pair of cords awarded by Davids'.

The Sigma Chi junior from Grangeville attained a straight "A" average for his sophomore year and the second semester of his freshman year, a .750 batting average on the 6 point goal. He is a mechanical engineering student and had an 18 hour schedule last year.

In addition to his scholastic achievements, Harding is treasurer of inter-fraternity council, "hashes" at the Sigma Chi house.

Members of the committee choosing Harding as the week's scholar are Jack McKinney and Ed Lloyd, Argonaut editor and business manager, Maria Raphael, vice president of A. W. S., and Max Kenworthy, ASUI president.

WEINS TELLS OF RUSSIA

Dr. A. G. Wiens of the modern language department was featured at the meeting of the International Relations club Thursday evening in S. U. B. He told of his experiences during the Russian revolution and then led a discussion of Bolshevism in that country.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, November 8, in the S. U. B. with Herman Slotnick as student speaker.

W. S. C. TO HONOR DADS

More than 3,800 dads are being sent invitations to attend the annual Dad's day festivities at Washington State college November 4 and 5. The U.C.L.A.-W.S.C. football game and a Homecoming dance will climax activities.

Committee Pushes Special Plans For Anniversary

Idaho To Celebrate 50th Year Birthday Soon

Plans for Idaho's biggest celebration of 1939, its 50th anniversary, moved ahead last Tuesday at a meeting of the faculty semi-centennial committee with President Harrison C. Dale. On January 30, alumni will banquet all over the state and toast their alma mater.

Special assemblies, dinners, and a cantata given by the English and music departments will be included in the semi-centennial program. Dean Herbert Wunderlich, chairman of the faculty committee, announced that brochures containing historic documents, pictures, and anecdotes will be published to give students and others an idea of the university as it looked 50 years ago.

Boise takes an important part in the celebration, being the actual birthplace of the university. A brief historical drama depicting the introduction, enactment, and signing by Territorial Governor Stevenson of the act creating the university will be presented. President Dale leaves for Boise early in November to meet with alumni who are arranging the celebration at the state capital.

Working with Dean Wunderlich on the celebration here are Dean T. S. Kerr, Dean J. G. Eldridge, Dr. C. J. Brosnan, Miss M. Belle Sweet, Prof. J. H. Cushman, Prof. Archie N. Jones, O. A. Fitzgerald, and Cecil Hagen.

Tricky Sets Grace Idaho Stage

Happiness Steamer Runs From New York To Coney

By Marianna Robinson

Stage sets for "Excursion," being presented November 4 and 5, are tricky and unlike any other on the Idaho stage in recent years, with exception of "Noah," produced here two years ago.

One setting for this play is the deck of the S. S. Happiness, an old excursion steamer that runs from New York to Coney island. Alternating is that of the captain's bridge, or pilot house, with steering wheel, charts, binnacle and other navigating gear. The scene changes between these two settings five times.

To solve the shifting difficulties, the method used in the New York production is being followed. The wall in the rear of the passenger deck is hinged to swing open like a double barn door, revealing the captain's bridge. This device will cut down the time between scenes to only a few seconds.

Another problem of equipping the ship convincingly is the lack of available nautical gear. When the Seattle Repertory theater presented "Excursion" last winter they borrowed from waterfront ship chandler everything from a real steering wheel to a bathook. With Robinson lake and Paradise creek the only bodies of water, it has become necessary to make dummy equipment out of plywood, paper and glue, and to borrow gauges and indicators that look seagoing.

Engineer Donates Radio Reports

Several hundred radio engineering reports were donated to the campus Radio club this fall as the nucleus of a technical library by Charles G. Carssow, Washington Water Power company engineer at Moscow.

About 300 copies of the proceedings of the Institute of Radio Engineers, an R. C. A. publication, and 75 separate technical reports on radio of today and the future were made available to the club through this gift.

Information on television and other late developments are thoroughly covered in the reports. Contributions of technical information and experimental data for the reports came from radio engineers all over the world. Also included are regulations and recent rulings of the federal communications commission.

R. H. Hull, associate professor of electrical engineering and adviser to the club, hopes to build a complete radio engineering library from this generous start.

DIRECTORIES GO ON SALE

Long awaited faculty and student directories were put on sale today at the Student Union bookstore. These are available to all at a price of 10 cents each.

Metropolitan Star Pleases Audience In Memorial Gym

Natalie Bodanya, first artist presented by the Community Conect association, sang Wednesday in Memorial gymnasium before an appreciative audience of Moscow, Pullman, and Lewiston association members and university students. The youngest Metropolitan opera soprano was assisted by Bernard Frank at the piano.

Arranged in five groups, Miss Bodanya's program included classical and semi-classical numbers. For almost two hours she pleased the audience with her musical ability and personality.

Richard Crooks is the guest artist who will probably appear here next. The date has not yet been set.

McKinney, Moats, McGowan, O'Neill, Kenworthy To See Game

University of Idaho student bigwigs will not be lacking at the annual Grizzly-Vandal football classic at Missoula Saturday. Dozens of students left for the Montana university city this afternoon, and many more are planning on leaving tonight.

Boarding the same train last night with Coach Ted Bank and his gridiron warriors were Yell King Bill Moats, Argonaut Editor Jack McKinney, ASUI President Max Kenworthy, and John O'Neill, duke of the intercollegiate Knights.

Moats Will Lead Vandal Yelling

Moats will lead Vandal yelling at the Idaho section of the Montana stadium. This space is specially reserved for Idaho students who will be admitted on their ASUI activity cards. President Kenworthy will act as student representative, while McKinney, together with Bill McGowan, Argonaut sports editor who will leave Moscow tonight, will cover the game for the Argonaut.

O'Neill left for the Grizzly lair on a challenge from Bob Pantzer, duke of the Montana Intercollegiate Knights. If Idaho wins the game, Pantzer will push Idaho's O'Neill up and down the streets of Missoula; if Idaho loses, O'Neill will do the same.

Ex-Student Nears Top in Contest

A rung higher on the ladder to fame is Bob Kircher, former university baritone, who Saturday night reached the semi-finals in the Denver Hour radio program featuring top singers from all corners of Colorado.

Kircher, who now sings tenor, was approved by popular vote and will enter the finals next week if he comes through Saturday. Semi-finals winners will receive a prize of $100, with the victor in the finals receiving $500. The Idaho singer collected $85 for his part in winning the quarter-finals Saturday.

He can be heard over radio station KOA, Denver, at 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Friends may send votes to station KOA in care of Colorado Hour.

NBC ADDS ITALIAN PLAY

"The Great Magician" by Carra, next play to be presented on the Great Plays program Sunday over NBC network, is an example of the Italian type of low comedy play, known as "commedia dell'Arte." It is characterized by improvised dialogue of the players, who are provided with a scenario of the basic plot.

NBC ADDS ITALIAN PLAY

"The Great Magician" by Carra, next play to be presented on the Great Plays program Sunday over NBC network, is an example of the Italian type of low comedy play, known as "commedia dell'Arte." It is characterized by improvised dialogue of the players, who are provided with a scenario of the basic plot.

Homcoming will reach a white-hot climax Saturday night, November 12, when over 20 former Pep band soloists "jam" with Bill Chase's Pep band orchestra, which made a decided hit in the "Battle of the Bands" a few weeks ago.

As usual, the Homecoming dance, under direction of an alumni committee, will be in the Memorial gym. Morey O'Donnell and his committee expect a huge crowd will attend to see whether the oldsters are still swingers.

Among big names who will "get in the groove" are Bill Ames, Clayton Spear, Charles O'Connell, Bob Seymour, Harry Walden, Sidney Walden, Jack Snodgrass, Bob Campbell, John Soden, Tony Warner, Milt Pelham, Glenn Exum, Jim Armour, Orrin Tracy, Bill Hawkins, Dick Stanton, J. Ross Woods, Don Johnson, and Morey O'Donnell.

According to Chairman O'Donnell, guest artists will be introduced over the public address system before doing their stuff.

Other Dance, Rally

Filling in the rest of the Homecoming calendar are other dances and dinners, headed by the Intercollegiate Knights mixer, scheduled for Friday night, November 11, in the Memorial gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock. A prominent campus band will play.

To wind up the Homecoming rally in Neale stadium, "Cap" Horton promises a gigantic display of fireworks. New yells and new tunes by the Pep band will be introduced.

Outdoor displays built by group houses and halls will be judged Friday night. "Kings-X, W.S.C." this year's theme, gives house artists a wide choice for their displays.

Women Entertain

Women will invade men's houses during the dinner hour Saturday night as the annual Mortar Board serpentine winds around the campus. Spurs will entertain Washington State Spurs at luncheon before the game, and will be on hand during the game with apples and smiles.

Blue Key announced today that their Homecoming week assembly had been postponed a month. Nine weeks' quizzes and other engagements of the Pep band made it advisable to shift the assembly to December when they will also be able to take advantage of additional talent.

Alumni will be registered Friday and Saturday by members of Blue Key, and expect to eat together both Friday and Saturday evenings. Friday's dinner is scheduled for the Hotel Moscow, and Saturday after the game the annual Homecoming banquet at the Blue Bucket will attract old grads.

Publishers Praise Idaho Graduates For Popular Work

That the series of books by two graduates of the University of Idaho college of agriculture on the selection, fitting, and showing of livestock are the most popular books they have ever published, is the report of the Interstate Publishing company. The writers of these books are Julius E. Nordby and Herbert E. Lattig, both graduates in the class of 1915.

After many years on the college of agriculture staff, Nordby resigned to become head of the regional United States sheep breeding laboratory at Dubois, Idaho. Lattig is assistant dean of the college of agriculture and head of the department of agricultural education. Their series covers one book on each of the following classes of livestock: poultry, beef cattle, swine, sheep, dairy cattle, and horses.

Faculty members have contributed about $130 since last February to a fund to send flowers to funeral service of faculty members.

Idaho Grad Sees War-In China

Enemy Planes Break Peace By Dropping Bombs Nearby

Helen Dalton, 1932 pre-nursing graduate, is on the staff of the China Inland mission at Nancheng, Shensi province, China. She was advanced last winter from probationer to junior missionary.

"This province has been in peace except for air raids, mostly on the capital, Sian. Enemy squadrons twice bombed the Nancheng airport in March, igniting a large store of valuable gasoline. I was in the city and we could see the pilots as they flew over our heads repeatedly. Surely gives one a helpless feeling until one remembers we are in God's keeping."

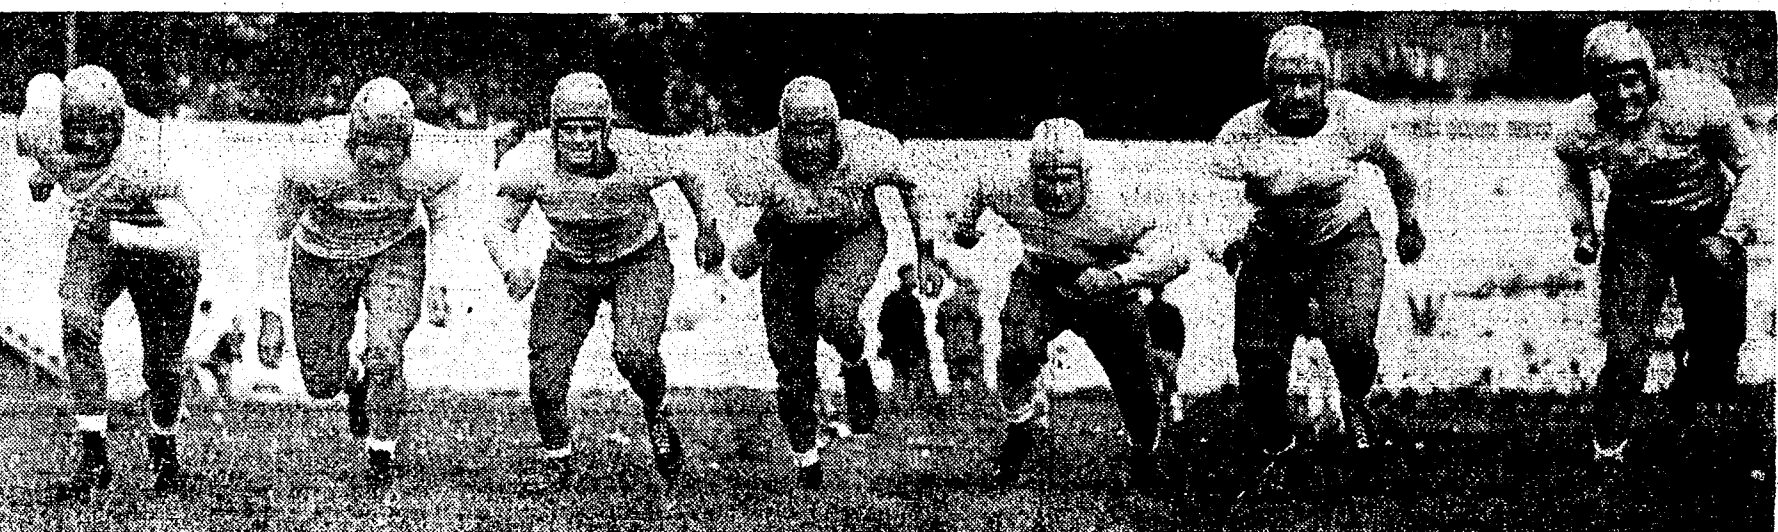

"A chief portion of my work these first few years has been learning to speak and read Chinese, and write a little of it. Last winter I had eight months of fairly active work in women's and children's service—Sunday school, Christian Endeavor, house to house visitation, and some country meeting in the open air. A minor bit of work was done caring for simple diseases, mostly for needy Christians."

"The war materially slows up and hinders communications. Parcel post (is) not accepted, so we go on without coast supplies. We sometimes make soap and dip candles, refine our own sugar and salt, and always make our own bacon and ham. So we run a real 'home products' department in the household."

"It's surprising how little foreign stuff is needed to live in comfort. We keep goats for milk and butter. Our garden raises our own salad vegetables, peas, beans, celery, etc. and there's a strawberry patch, too. We've an abundance of fruits in season, and many varieties of citrus fruits in winter."

Author of the Star Spangled Banner, Francis Key, never learned to play a musical instrument. He couldn't sing, either.

Seven Scintillating stalwarts Storm Striving "Snoopers"

- - Shall We Dance? - -

"Yes, my love," She said to Her at the Coed Prom. "I could waltz forever with you without becoming bored or having my feet trampled."

No, the scene is not what one might think—a light fantasy. It's the 1938 Home Economics club dance to be held Thursday. Possibly, when Glenn Whitesel and his orchestra have become too self-conscious to swing any more numbers for the dancing feet of the no-date girls, the couples will steal up to the kitchen and make fudge.

Men, why is the Coed Prom a no-date affair this year? If men did not out-number women on this campus several times we could understand why the future homemakers insisted on going to the dance with each other. If some of them are afraid they can not find dates unless they choose their own sex, we hereby offer to set up a dating bureau.

We're not criticizing the Home Economics women if they really enjoy each other the men can get along. We're only questioning what brought about this state of affairs when women boycott the men who are only too willing to cooperate with homemakers if given a chance.—M. S.

NUART—Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

"I Am The Law," starring Edward G. Robinson, John Beal, and Wendy Barrie. Edward G. Robinson proves to be another successful racket-buster, but unlike the usual mettlesome, fighting prosecutor, as a college professor on leave of absence, he executes his duties in a quiet, absent-minded manner. Not until he loses patience with the local gangsters does he break loose, and then mild Professor Robinson licks the daylighters out of them with his bare fists. When he goes back to teaching school at the end of the year, the town is free from its criminals, and he is saluted as its hero.

Also showing is "The March of Time," revealing for the first time on the screen, the Magnot Line in France.

KENWORTHY—Friday, Saturday—Double Feature.

"Smashing the Rackets," adapted from the series of Saturday Evening Post articles, is based on the doings of New York's young district attorney, Thomas Edmund Dewey.

Chester Morris, as the sleek young lawyer, is appointed special racket prosecutor for New York and uses a collection of street walker's testimony to send a big-shot racketeer (Bruce Cabot) to jail. Success is delayed, however, when he discovers the criminal is involved with his sweetheart's sister.

"Speed To Burn," starring Michael Whalen and Lynn Bari, is the story of a retired race horse who makes a successful comeback to the race track through the enthusiastic assistance of a new screen family, the Gambinis.

Ardis Simpson has that far away look in her eye, but not for long, as boy friend Johnny Hewitt, Stanford track star, will arrive for the week-end. What about your Delt pin, Jane Broadhead, and then all this about your having darts for a certain A. T. O.?

Here's hoping it's worth all the effort it took for Elena Sliepeevich and Ann Maguire to get to Montana. We can't understand, but it seems as if Dean Green still calls up Helen Williams, ex-steady, every so often. Is it merely for a friendly chat? We hope so, because we like the combination with Carol Hart right now.

THERE'S NO POINT IN LETTING NERVES GET FRAYED!

COCKER SPANIEL

Spaniel family dates back to 1386. Cocker is smallest of family. A very popular pure-bred dog in U. S. Standard colors range from solid blacks, reds, to shades of cream; liver red and combinations. Versatile, can be trained into retriever. Great lover of human family.

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST

...AND SO IS HE

HAVE you noticed how a dog, in the midst of play, suddenly stops and rests? His nerve system—as complicated and high-strung as our own—has signalled that it's time to relax! Man, unfortunately, is less sensitive to the warnings of his nerves. Though nerves may need a restful pause, we are inclined to press on in our absorbing tasks—relentlessly—forgetful of mounting nerve strain. When we find ourselves tense, irritable, upset, we may not even realize why. Don't let tension tie your nerves in a knot. Make it your pleasant rule to break nerve tension often through the day—TO LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Feel how gratefully nerves welcome the mellow intermission that your nearby package of Camels suggests. And not only do smokers find Camel's costlier tobaccos soothing to the nerves—but milder, too—ripe-rich in flavor—completely enjoyable from every angle!

FLAGSHIP PILOT, Captain Walter J. Hunter of American Airlines, speaks for his profession when he says: "Ragged nerves and flying don't mix. I head off nerve tension by giving my nerves regular rests—let up and light up a Camel. I find Camels soothing to the nerves."

"RUSH ASSIGNMENTS, deadlines, phone calls would wreck my nerves," says New York newspaper woman Estelle Karon, "if I didn't pause frequently. I let up often—light up a Camel. Camels soothe my nerves. I work better—get more fun."

Small Vandal Squad Awaits Montana In 'Battle Of The Stein'

Out Hunting For Grizzly Without A Gun

LYLE SMITH, senior center on the Vandal team, is expected to see plenty of action against the University of Montana tomorrow. A two year letterman, the big Idaho lineman is noted for his generalship on the gridiron and on the basketball court.

Vandals Patch Line and Backfield; Montanans Point for Victory

In quest of the "Little Brown Stein," 31 Vandals entrained yesterday afternoon for their annual battle with the Montana Grizzlies Saturday.

Sorrowfully wrecked by injuries to Ray Smith, stellar end; Harold Roise, triple-threat halfback; and three reserve tackles, Dick Tauber, Bill Piedmont, and Glenn Rathbun, the Vandals were numerically the weakest they have been this year.

Considering the weakened condition of the team and the Grizzlies' vow to avenge last year's defeat, Coach Ted Bank was none too optimistic about the outcome.

"However," he said, "it is going to be a tough game. But even with the injury list the way it is, the spirit of the squad is good."

Stein Goes To Winner

Adding to the rivalry between the two teams will be the awarding of the "Little Brown Stein" to the winner of the game each year to be kept until game time the following year. This is the first year of the tradition that corresponds to the "Little Brown Jug" rivalry between Minnesota and Michigan.

Replacing George Chrape, dismissed fullback, has been one of the major problems of the week. Quarterbacks Mac Beall and Merle Stoddard have been drilled in the fullback spot. Beall is slated to get the starting nod, according to Bank.

Roise Out

Harold Roise, blond Moscow sparkplug, has a bad charley horse and will probably view most of the game from the sidelines. Jimmy Johnston, who has been laid up all season with a strained back, will get the starting call Saturday with Chick Atkinson, southern branch transfer, backing him up.

Another injury that darkens the hopes of the Vandals is a hip injury to Ray Smith, rangy end. Emory Howard will replace him in the starting line-up.

"Truck" Trzuskowski and Ray Kaczmarek will be forced to play nearly the whole game as the reserve tackles are riddled with injuries and it is questionable whether Tauber, Piedmont and Rathbun will be able to play.

The Montanans have piled up an impressive record this year, despite their many injuries and misfortunes. They have walloped Cheney normal 27-0, tied the strong San Francisco U. eleven 0-0, upset DePaul 7-6, and have lost hard-fought games to a strong Texas Tech. team 19-13, and undefeated North Dakota U. 7-0.

"Jenkins, speedy halfback; Bill Lazetic, 200-pound fullback; Dolan, outstanding end; and Forte, star tackle, will be some of the men we'll have to watch," stated Coach Bank, praising the Grizzlies.

Workout in Missoula

The Vandals stressed blocking and tackling in their practice sessions this week. A light workout will be held in Missoula this afternoon to taper off.

Probable starting line-up announced by Bank will be: ends, Tony Knap and Emory Howard; tackles, "Truck" Trzuskowski and Ray Kaczmarek; guards, Walt Musial and Jack Donovan; center, Rudy Aschenbrenner; quarterback, Earl Gregory; halfbacks, Eddie Wilson and Jimmy Johnston; and fullback, Mac Beall.

Rest of the Vandals making the trip were: ends, Ray Smith, Paul Ryan, and Maynard Helen; tackles, Dick Tauber, Bill Piedmont, Glenn Rathbun, Dick Therrell, and Dave Strang; guards, Tony Kamelevic, Fred Rettburg, and Dale Sanner; centers, Lyle Smith and Italo Caccia; quarterback, Stoddard; fullbacks, LaVerne Bell and "Bull" Durham; and halfbacks, Harold Roise, "Whitey" Price, Chick Atkinson, and Earl Acuff.

Belko Receives Hoop Recognition

Word has been received at the athletic department that Steve Belko, stellar forward on the Idaho basketball quintet the past two years and due for more duty this season, was given rating of honorable mention on the all-American basketball selections for the 1937-38 season, chosen by Chuck Taylor,

Frosh Must Attend Speech Instead of Gym Classes

Doctor Cramer, director of the student health service, will give a health lecture Tuesday, November 1, at 7 p.m. Everyone registered in P.E. 31, frosh sports, must attend.

There will be no P.E. classes held during the week of October 31 to November 4.

Battered Frosh Meet Kittens Tomorrow

Riddled by Old Man Injury, who has claimed 16 members of his squad, Freshman Coach Walt Price is desperately trying to field a new team in preparation for the game Saturday at Pullman with the Washington State Kittens. Victorious in their last two starts against Boise Junior College and Lewiston Normal, the yearlings will endeavor to make it three in a row tomorrow.

"The team is the weakest that it has been all year," said Coach Price.

Those on the injured list are: Harrison, with several broken ribs; Peterson, a pulled leg muscle; Whitlock, a sprained ankle; and Winnett, a charley horse. Tackles who are on the sidelines are: Solinsky and Storey with knee injuries. Gamble was lost to the squad due to illness in the family and forced to leave school. Guards who are lost to the team are: Holben, with blood poisoning infection; Knobess, with a sprained ankle; and Ellis, who quit football because of a job. Chandler, center, who was hurt in the Boise game, with a shoulder injury, is out for the season.

A return game is scheduled with the Cougar Kittens November 5 to be played on the home field. Homecoming day will see the Idaho Babes engage the University of Portland freshmen in their final game of the season.

Sideline Slants

with Bill McGowan

All the world loves a winner, and while Idaho marched through four games knocking off "big time" opponents and rolling up huge scores on lesser lights in the gridiron world, the big Vandal machine crashed many a sports page throughout the country. With the crushing loss to U. C. L. A. last Saturday, Idaho's news value fluttered downward, but there are still five games on the Vandals' schedule, and we believe they are going to be making headlines before the season is over.

Realizing that they must crush the rest of their opponents with decisive victories if they want a "Bow! bid on New Year's Day, every member of Coach Ted Bank's crew is anxious to roll up a score.

Montana is strong, and revenge for the loss they suffered from Idaho last year will be very sweet to all true Montana men. In Missoula they are referring to tomorrow's game as the "big kill." They have pointed for this game since the final gun of last year's struggle. The Grizzly even gained revenge for the football defeat during the basketball season as Coach Forrest Twogood remembers.

Veterans from last year recall the vicious tackling Montana tossed against them before. They are expecting and are ready for a repetition. Anything goes tomorrow, so our advice is be there if you can. Idaho will win because they are fighting mad at everyone, including themselves, and they feel that they can redeem themselves by rolling up a score. Grizzly, beware!

Footballcast

Games selected—28—Right—17—Wrong—11.

Idaho-Montana—Idaho to win.

California-Oregon State—The Golden Bears will squeak through this one. Lon Stiner has whipped his men into a fine team, but they can't quite cut this.

Gonzaga-W. S. C.—Cougars coming up. We think they will upset tradition and beat Gonzaga. The Bulldogs are shy a couple of good boys, including "101" Jim McGuire.

So, California-Oregon—Long trips spell trouble for any but the best. Oregon bit out a big chunk this year. U. S. C. has come a long way, and Jones is beginning to show some of the stuff L. A. sports writers said he had at the first of the year. Trojans to cop a good game.

U. C. L. A.-Stanford—After Kenny Washington ran wild against Idaho, he looked very, very good. All the Uclans were performing in All-American fashion against the Vandals, and they should continue to do so. Unfortunately for Bruin fans, their team seems to run in hot and cold streaks. However, Stanford has not shown too much this year, so we pick the Bruins in a close struggle.

Dust From The Sports Bin

Wallace Beery, Vandal godfather, is reported to have dropped $5,000 on last week's game with the Bruins according to barber shop chatter. The actor collected $3,000 from Bing Crosby on the Idaho-Gonzaga tussle the week before, they say—We wonder if he is a Vandal booster.

Leather Lungers Meet Montana Tomorrow Morn

Six determined Vandal cross country plodders left Moscow early this morning for Missoula, Mont., where they will engage the Grizzly runners Saturday morning. Leading the Idaho invasion is big Phil Liebowitz, sophomore star from New York City. Coach Ryan expressed confidence in the runner's ability and expects him to finish in front.

Closely pressing Liebowitz for top honors will be two teammates, Dick Slade, Schenectady, N. Y., junior, and the veteran senior from Moscow, Rex Fluharty. Both of these men have been mainstays on Idaho's undefeated teams the last two years.

Wes Lathen, Moscow senior, and two sophomores, Irving Alterwein and Bob Neal, will make up the remainder of the squad. Lathen is overweight and isn't running to his form of past years, according to the coach.

Neal and Alterwein have improved and balance the team. Nothing is known of the strength of the Grizzly, but Coach Ryan remembers the narrow shave Idaho had in winning from Montana last year and has warned his charges of Grizzly strength.

Brain Trust To Hold Annual Election

Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary society, will hold annual election of officers this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The members will meet with Mrs. Harrison C. Dale at her home. Present officers are: Dean J. G. Eldridge, president; and Dr. F. C. Church, secretary. New members will be admitted next spring. Phi Beta Kappa is composed of faculty members and students.

Schedule Listed For Hoop Squad

The Idaho basketball team starts the season December 6 against Lewiston Normal at Lewiston when Lewiston will dedicate their new gym. On December 9 and 10, Idaho plays Whitman and Cheney Normal here.

The team will then go to Los Angeles where they will play U.S.C. on December 16 and U.C.L.A. the next night. The games will be a part of two double headers with Tulane playing U.C.L.A. December 16 and U.S.C. in their second game.

On December 20, in San Francisco, the Vandals play Stanford. Games with the Olympic club, California, and San Francisco university might also be played in San Francisco, according to Coach Forrest Twogood.

Returning home, the Vandals will probably play Utah university at Twin Falls December 26, 27, and 28.
