"Tartuffe," by Moliere, will be presented by the ASUI Friday and Saturday at 8 o'clock in the university auditorium.

Leading dramatic roles will be played by Bill Hoover, Hubert Miller, Bob Harris, Eva Lou Garluck, Margaret Marcus, Lucille Short, Keith Warner, and Donald Williams.

Stage setting for Moliere's "Tartuffe" is to be stylized in the Louis XIV period, with no attempt at realism. The same principle was used in "Paths of Glory" and "Noah"—plays which were presented here two years ago. The set is also similar to that which Donald Oenslager used in "Bourgeois Gentleman."

The stylized set is made up of a step unit and four large pillars with back drop of black. A few objects are worked out in detail, as the heavy ornate table and the chandelier. The set represents Orgon's house, can be changed by equipping the stage with chairs and table. Stage direction is also stylized without realism.

Louis XIV period costumes with wigs are being rented from the same company in Massachusetts, that furnished costumes for the ASUI production, "Paths of Glory." The costumes reflect approximately the same period as those shown in the movie, "Marie Antoinette."

State 4-H Winner Enjoys Trip

Estella Larson Returns From Thrilling Convention At Chicago

Estella Larson, Hays hall, state 4-H revue winner, returned Sunday afternoon from a trip to the national 4-H club congress in Chicago.

Her arrival in Chicago was delayed several hours by a farmer who had dragged a dead cow on the tracks and hoped to collect damages from the railroad.

In Chicago Miss Larson was registered at the Auditorium hotel. The first afternoon, the group was entertained by the Magio Key broadcast at the Chicago Civic Opera house. The entire company had been brought directly from New York for the 4-H congress. Later came a 45-mile tour of the city which included the Loop, Lincoln park, the Ghetto, Chinatown, and the University of Chicago districts.

In the dress revue Miss Larson placed in the red ribbon class. That afternoon the congress attended the Medinal temple where Mary Pickford was an honored guest. In a parade 47 states and Porto Rico, Hawaii, and Canada were represented.

Future M.D.'s Take Crucial Test That Determines Career

Eleven pre-med students reached a crucial point in their careers when they took an examination Friday. Purpose of the test, administered to students all over the United States on the same day and hour, was to determine aptitude of the aspiring medical students; it will be an important factor in determining their entrance into medical schools at the completion of the university course.

Papers were sent to Chicago to be graded by the Association of American Medical Colleges.

Toy Town Frolics Will Pep Holly Day Week

Sophomores Vision Animated Village as Traditional Theme

"Toy Town Jamboree" was chosen as theme of Holly Day week by the sophomore committee yesterday. Animated toys will transform the Student Union building ballroom into a veritable toytown for the Holly Day dance December 16. Bill Chase and his 12-piece Pep Band orchestra will play, and special entertainment will be provided.

Patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. Erwin Graue, Dean and Mrs. Herbert J. Wunderlich, Dean Beatrice Olson, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tessler.

Ticket prices will be 80 cents per couple, including the program.

New talent, arrangements, songs, and dances, and a 14-piece Pep band will headline the assembly for December 15 in the auditorium at 7:30. After the assembly, sophomore representatives will serenade.

House decorations must be completed by Wednesday at 5 p. m. and will be judged by three faculty members. Trophies will be awarded to winning sorority and fraternity at the assembly Thursday night.

Berkley Travels To Convention

Kenneth Berkley, Parma, was elected to represent the Idaho chapter of Alpha Zeta, national agricultural honorary, at the biennial convocation in Atlantic City, N. J., December 29 to 31, Chancellor Don Benedict announced last night after a special meeting.

Delegates from 43 states will be represented. Chester Evans, Malad, was chosen as alternate.

Verbal Clash Pits Skiles and Roper Against Cougars

First public debate on the campus this year will be held in Ad. 311 Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock when Vic Skiles and Jack Roper will meet a team from W.S.C., according to Coach A. E. Whitehead.

Skiles and Roper will be defending the question, "Resolved: that the United States government should cease spending public funds for the purpose of stimulating business."

This is the first debate of a triangular tournament which includes Whitman college. Following the practice of other years, one contest is held here, the rest of the tourney will be run off Saturday at Pullman with four Idaho teams competing.

President Enjoys Week's Tour In South Idaho

Finds Many Loyal Supporters of the University in Audience

President Harrison C. Dale returned yesterday following a week's tour of Southern Idaho, during which he spoke at Burley, Buhl, Rupert, Albion, and Twin Falls.

"I found in that region a great many loyal and devoted students and alumni of the university," said the institution's president. "They are increasing in number and securing positions of importance."

"The fact that the varsity basketball game with Utah will be played in Twin Falls has brought a great deal of gratification to former students and alumni in Twin Falls," said President Dale. "They are building a new stadium hoping that sometime an intercollegiate football game will be held there."

Taxidermy Accrues College Money For Ralph Sickles

Ohio Freshman Mounts Animals, Birds in Morrill 'Shop'

By John Price

As a lad of 12, raising pigeons was his hobby. Then on Christmas, Santa Claus stuffed into his stocking a booklet on woodcraft which included a treatise on the rudiments of taxidermy. Shortly, the pigeons were stuffed, and taxidermy had become his hobby. Today Ralph Sickles, Tiffin (Ohio) freshman at the Idaho club, is earning college expenses working at his eight-year-old pastime, contemplating making it his life work. He is majoring in art.

Three and four times a week the youthful taxidermist climbs to the top floor of Morrill hall to ply his art in a remote corner of Room 412. Arrayed on a side bench of his converted shop are 10 recently mounted specimens—a couple of squirrels, several pheasants, a gyrfalcon, and a great horned owl — that may some day grace what Dean D. S.

Moscow To Widen City Sidewalks

University students need no longer dodge traffic in a desperate manner as they go from campus hill to town. Widening of sidewalks and the bridge at Sixth and Deakin streets, approved last week at a special meeting of the city council, will remove traffic hazards at the junction.

In addition to widening the bridge, the sidewalk on the east side of Deakin avenue will continue around on Sixth street to the Union Pacific depot, according to city officials.

Final Ball Plans Occupy Seniors

Vacation To Begin As Set; Rumor Fallacious

It was a nice pipe dream while it lasted, but University of Idaho students learned this week that not all dreams come true. The rumor that college would be dismissed for Christmas vacation on December 16 instead of December 21 had no foundation, according to authorities.

"The present calendar was drawn up by the faculty more than a year ago," revealed Registrar Ella Olesen. "To begin vacation December 16 would muddle the whole year's schedule, make the vacation period exceed two weeks, and necessitate an extension of time in June to complete the second semester."

Barristers Open Slugger Case

Mock Trial Convenes Tonight In Latah County Court House

Each side of the law college's mock trial enters the fray tonight confident of its own powers to sway the jury. Prosecution will open the trial tonight, with the defense presenting its case tomorrow evening. Court will convene at 7 o'clock in the Latah county courthouse. Attendance will be limited strictly to law students.

Senior ball decorations, carrying out the "My Reverie" theme of the dance, will give seniors and guests a golden opportunity for reminiscing in the Student Union ballroom. Friday evening, said Betsy Budge, decorations chairman, today.

Two huge figures in blue, looking over their four years' experiences, will greet dancers as they enter. Full-length wall panels, in subdued blue, will depict scenes from campus life.

"Striking" programs, covered with white alligator skin, will be distributed Thursday, December 8 from 1 to 6 p. m. downstairs at the Student Union upon presentation of ball tickets, announced Vincent Wells, prog. chairman. Those falling to secure their tickets by that time will receive their programs at the door Friday night. Tickets are on sale at all group houses at $1.50.

Bill Chase's Pep Band orchestra has been polishing "My Reverie" blues tunes, and late numbers to assure music sympathetic to the theme of the first formal campus dance of 1938-39.

Among honored guests are Don Whalen, student body president of W.S.C., and Bob Goldsworthy, senior class president at Pullman. Leaders of ASUI will be present.

Heading the list of "big names" invited are Governor and Mrs. Barzilla W. Clark, President and Mrs. Harrison C. Dale, and regents.

Patrons and patronesses include Dean and Mrs. Ralph H. Farmer, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Floyd Hatfield, Maj. and Mrs. Charles F. Sutherland, and Mr. and Mrs. Hall Macklin.

Faculty Men Point Toward Recital

Jones And Macklin Will Feature Voice And Piano Thursday

Prof. Archie N. Jones, baritone, and Assistant Prof. Hall Macklin, pianist, of the music department, will present a joint recital in the University auditorium Thursday at 8 p. m.

Professor Jones studied music at the University of Nebraska, University of Minnesota, and Chicago Music college. He has studied voice under Arthur Middleton and Herbert Witherspoon, both formerly with the Metropolitan Opera company. Professor Jones has performed as a radio and concert artist, has given recitals in every state in the union. Miss Ardith Ries, assistant in music, will accompany Professor Jones.

Professor Macklin was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1931, has directed radio productions in Chicago, and composed a number of successful pieces.

Features of the recital will be a group of four vocal solos sung by Professor Jones. They are in manuscript form and were composed by four of his personal friends, including three men on the present music faculty—Mr. Macklin, Raymond E. Lawson, and R. Bernard Fitzgerald.

Military Honorary To Hold Pledging And Dinner Dance

Under the stern visages of rifles, machine guns, trench mortars, and 37-millimeter guns, the Scabbard and Blade annual formal dinner dance and pledging will open at 6:30 p. m. December 14 in the new ballroom of the Student Union building.

Formal pledging will be held for Myrl Clark, Robert Davis, Carl Killian, Robert Matthews, Cecil Smith, Arthur Swan, Kirby Phippen, Fred Zamboni, Richard Lambert, and Charles Thompson.

Dinner will be from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m., dance from 8:30 to 11 p. m. Glen Whitesel's orchestra will furnish the music.

Ramey Flips High One as Idaho Whips Loggers

The Gem's Jam

A noticeable dearth of Gem sales since September registration presents the ASUI with a problem of financial and reputational ramifications. The order for paper should be in now, and the Gem material should be in the printers' hands by February.

The estimated cost of the 1939 Gem is $11,252. The budgetary estimate for income from subscriptions is $7,200. To date, however, only $2,800 has been received on subscriptions.

Problem: unless the ASUI raises a sizeable sum of money soon, the Idaho yearbook will fall far below the standard set in previous years. Possible solutions: the Gem business staff may show signs of life and start a sales drive, or the university may play the role of big brother and help. Both remedies, it is hoped, will transpire. The answer must be forthcoming immediately, or it will be of no avail.

The catch: many students, not knowing the new setup, believed they could sign up for the Gem and have the $4 taken from their general deposit. The university administration, however, declined this year to take the sales price from the deposit. The alternative left the Gem business staff with a cash subscription sales.

The folly of the new plan was proved during registration. After the average student had paid $35 to $40 as a registration fee, he smoked past the Gem sales desk in nothing flat and left the business manager's books showing more than a 66 per cent decrease in sales as against those of last year.

Who will come to the ASUI's aid? Will 1,100 students dish out the necessary $4 a-piece to pare down the looming deficit? That's a virtual impossibility.

The university's allowing the price to be taken from the general deposit would solve the problem, as it has in the past. Other colleges follow that method. W.S.C. is said to have a general deposit of $5, and the yearbook price is taken from this fund; Idaho's deposit is set at $10, yet the university deems it unwise to allot part of it to the Gem column.

Unless some one makes a move soon, a slump in the quality of the Gem owing to a decrease in sales appears inevitable. Those prospects are regrettable, for Editor Bill Charlesworth has plans that will overshadow any previous Gem; several sections are scheduled to be enlarged with the addition of about 50 new pages. Idaho should maintain its annual at a standard which has made it the outstanding yearbook of the Northwest, a publication which need not take off its hat to any annual in the country.

Cinema Cynicism

KENWORTHY—Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday
"Men with Wings"—starring Fred MacMurray, Ray Milland, Louise Campbell, and Andy Devine—starts with the Wright brothers' first 59-second hop and maps the whole amazing chronicle of aviation. For its praiseworthy attention to authenticity in depicting the history of aeronautics and its beautiful photography, this picture ranks as one of the best of the year. If the writing and acting were up to the same standards, and if the saga of flying had not been sugar coated with a conventional narrative, it would have been considered one of the best pictures ever made.

The story concerns a woman (Miss Campbell) and two men (Mr. Milland and Mr. MacMurray) who devote their lives to aeronautics, with a triangular romance weaving its way through the plot.

Sophomors and Sophistry

By Rhetoric

On November 25 in the gripe column of this paper appeared a letter deploring the "Kenworthy System"—the attempt of the local theatre operator to fleece the students coming, to fleece the students going, to obtain that joyful Golden Elgée. This was one of the many letters of a similar nature that The Argonaut has received and printed in the past few years. It was another of the many despairing wails in the wilderness.

Student cynicism and indifference that met this protest in no way lessened the validity of the protesters' contentions. The griper was right and, in spite of their cynicism and indifference, students tacitly admitted the justice and rectitude of the charges.

In sledge-hammer prose the griper drove his points home. He stated:

"1. Mr. Kenworthy is making a deliberate effort to exploit the students.

"2. The shorts are abominable. (Example: 'Boolo the Wallula Zulu,' 'Amours of the Amoeba.')

"3. We can and should do something about it."

Manifestly this is so. Yet in the past, student indifference, cynicism, and disorganization have presented too great an obstacle to an effective boycott. The forces of inertia have always triumphed.

In my opinion something somberly malignant looms in a situation where students submerge their interests in the chill oblivion of a coca cola, where they foster futile Greek-Independent strife, where they continue to wail mournfully in the wilderness.

What we need is an honorary—an Idaho honorary of approximately 2,700 members. What we need is organization, action, and collective vocality.

I do not advocate "manning of the barricades" or "uniting the workers of the world." Mention of the effectiveness of student solidarity, however, and concentrated action in the strike threat last fall might not be altogether irrelevant.

Ox Road-- Optics

Hi-ya, Bucks! What promised to be a dull week-end in contrast to last wasn't so gold-durned tame after all!

Now that football season is over, the big muscle men can get around to a little light wrestling with the fems. We noticed that old team, Reg Linauer and Hal Roise, sippin' a mug or two of the well known grog down at the Nobby 'tother day.

Tony Knap has so much time on his hands now that he decided he'd best spend a lot of it with Marion Stockslager. You called it, sport—they're goin' steady!

The S.A.E. Bowery dance was a huge success—and not a precedent was broken—except that people stayed down stairs—by request. They served cider over the bar, and under the bar—Who said that? Noticed a stray Fiji in the person of Bud Clark, who longs for publicity. Will this do?

Does Bill Chase want to keep it in the family? For the last two Fiji dances he's played away in the orchestra while the brother rats tripped the light fantastic with his gal friend.

Saw Bob Revelli proudly escortin' Rachael Braxton to the ball game 'tother night. Wonder if his gadget is still planted up Spokane way?

Veteran Helen Williams was usin' the old block and tackle on Fred Rettberg in broad daylight.

We loved this, and you'll adore it! The Match-making Sullivan clan's frustrated attempts to promote the boy 'n girl affair betwixt son Pret and Garnetta Barnhill were shattered, when the party of the second part broke a date to the noted Tin Can dance—even at the expense of a two-day campus.

Since we made a mistake a few issues ago in connecting Dick Fischer with a Coeur d'Alene escapade, he's been griping no end. Apologies to Dick—his heart and pin still rest in Spokane with Peg Talbot. That's that. He won't have to beat 'em off with a club any longer.

Seen' as how House Manager Bill Thompson charges you room rent at the Beta hotel, hows about turnin' the tables, Siddoway, and collectin' a little rent from the back seat of your parked blue Chev?

Betcha the fella who painted Mona Lisa got his inspiration from the chaperons at the Fiji dance while watching Keith Warner and Dorothy McKinnon dance a practically straight program on six feet of floor space!

Somebody left the A.T.O.'s closet door open Saturday night and out tripped all the ll' frosh! My, oh my! Never have I seen er heard sech doin's and sayin's!

I leave you with a parting thought—all men at Idaho belong to the masculine sex! Yea, Name six!

'Lying Luke' Baltuth Tells Foresters Tall Tale

Bong! Meet the winnah, Otto Baltuth, alias "Lying Luke," of the tall tale tilt at last week's Foresters' ball. Otto faithfully narrated an episode of Paul Bunyan, honorary patron of the ball, to win two theater tickets. The story:

"Tramping from camp to camp, Paul worked up a whooping big appetite, wondered what Pete, his new cook, would offer. Pete pushed his crew of 200 to the limit, prepared THE famous duck dinner. As he saw the chief smacking his lips contentedly, Pete was only a few hundred ducks ahead of Paul, and losing ground rapidly. He had 50 boys shooting ducks, 50 packing them into camp, and the other 100 cooks roasting them for Paul's plate; but he could not speed his crew up; Paul was soon shouting for more.

"Disappointed and hungry, Paul studied the ducks' habits, noticed they flew in V's. When he brought down the leader, the others came down for a minute; rose again with a new leader. Brainy Paul picked out a landing place and by swinging his hunting knife at a hill full of trees, brought them all down but one big pine at the hilltop. Sure enough, when a cloud of birds roared up and Paul picked off the leader, they all squatted on the tree. A million ducks exceeded the capacity of the tree and down it came, crippling or killing them all. Paul was finicky; he picked only 300 of the choicest for his dinner and returned to camp."

Why don't the A. T. O.'s feed their Alpine Don on duck meat?

Letters—
Fascism is on the march. In its ranks march Neville Chamberlain and M. Daladier with their heads proudly uplifted—the saviors of peace. After all we didn't sell Czechoslovakia down the river? The newspapers proclaim these men diplomats. The people know better; they look at these fronts of ineffectual Fascists and say one word, "SELL-OUT."

Hitler's and Mussolini's eyes are now fixed on Spain. Democratic Spain must be defeated for Fascism to keep on its all conquering road. Hitler and Mussolini know the fact—so do Chamberlain and Daladier. Then, "Why not another Munich or Spain betrayed?" Exactly, Spain will never be defeated by any other means.

But what can we do? We're students at the university. "We can't do anything. It doesn't mean anything to us." What I want to get across is it means everything to us. It isn't only for the love of helping the people fight the Fascist invaders that this is being written. It is for us, you and me.

Fascism must be stopped, and there is no time like the present. For what does it all mean, our going to school, our learning things, if when we get all through we get it shoved back down our throats, and are told, "When I hear the word culture, I reach for my revolver." College essentially will not mean a thing if it does not make us realize the fact, "FASCISM IS BARBARISM."

There can be "No Munich for Spain." We must send letters to our representatives in Congress asking them to lift the embargo on Spain. An American food ship is being sent to Spain—we could very easily contribute. It wouldn't take much—we have dances all year, college dances with themes.

Could there be anything more appropriate than a "dance for Spain?" A tribute to the fact that our educational institutions are fulfilling the purpose of their existence. A dance in which there really is a cause for rejoicing—a dance that would mean something for a people fighting for the very essentials of life, "freedom from Fascism."

This idea for a dance for Spain may sound just like an idealistic notion. All of my friends laugh it off and say, "How can you have such a dance?" Probably most of you will laugh it off.

Hitler and Mussolini, however, can't be laughed off. It is upon this pathetic aspect of the democracies that Hitler and Mussolini depend. I say it with all my heart, that a dance for democratic Spain or a letter to your congressman is the finest expression that we university students can make to the cause of democracy. The idea wells up in me every time I think of it. It wouldn't be much, you powers that be on the campus, to investigate the matter and see what can be done; so that we, as university students, may say, "Neville Chamberlain and Edward Daladier, you sold our democracy down the river, but that is the last democracy that you will betray if we have anything to say. Our democracy is too precious for you to fool with. There can be no Munich for Spain and we know it."

To the Editor:
When but an underclassman, I used to think that wider sidewalks would be a boon to this campus—would allow a male student to meet and pass three coeds without being forced off the pavement to wade through the mud or snow.

However, since becoming a senior, I have grown wiser and no longer uphold the basic theory of this solution. I believe that coeds should follow the example of all gases; i.e., completely fill the container, and walk six abreast instead of three.

Trial work at the new experimental potato alcohol plant, at Idaho Falls, is progressing satisfactorily according to Prof. Hobart Beresford, professor of agricultural engineering, who returned Friday from a 10-day business trip to various southern Idaho cities.

Recently built at a cost of $25,000, the station is being run under the supervision of E. J. Iddings, dean of the college of agriculture, in connection with the university's other experimental stations. Established to demonstrate means for the utilization of waste products, particularly culled potatoes which were formerly thrown away, the plant has not yet been put into continuous operation.

In an effort to find new uses for the product, directors have used the denatured alcohol in defrosting refrigerator cars by burning it in shallow open pans. The denatured alcohol does not give off offensive fumes or smoke which might permeate the products stored.

Vandals Win Ragged Opener, 44-22; To Meet Whitman Thursday

Unimpressive Game Sparked by Oversized Squad for Teachers in Final Minutes

Showing flashes of speed and outstanding play by some sophomores, the Idaho Vandals defeated the Lewiston Loggers 44 to 22, in the Memorial gym Saturday night for the opening basketball game of the 1938 season. In the closing minutes of the game the Loggers sent in 10 men including everyone but the coach and the water boy in an effort to stem the tide, but the Vandals scored four more points while holding the Teachers scoreless. Coach Forrest Twogood used 13 players during the game. Idaho took an early lead and was never headed. Although the Vandals won handsily, they failed to display anything resembling championship form. The ragged performance was not unexpected, as the daily practice season was delayed because of the late grid schedule. The Vandals lacked scoring punch.

Show Promise

Individual performances which showed promise of improvement marked the first appearance of the Vandal hoopers, rather than the smooth synchronization which stamped them as one of the strongest clubs in the Northwest last year.

Roy Ramey, junior letterman, was leading scorer with 14 points. Mathhessen led the visitors with 7. Irvin Hopkins, sophomore guard for Idaho; was the bad boy of the game. He was sent out early in the second half on four personal fouls.

Travelling to Lewiston tonight to meet the Teachers for their second game, the Vandals will present a revamped opening quintet, which includes Steve Belko at the guard position. Lyle Smith, co-captain of the Idaho courtmen with Belko, will be at the other guard post; Ronnie Harris and Roy Ramey, at forwards, and Bren Barrett, center.

In seeking his most effective combination, Coach Twogood is expected to have still another lineup to start against the Whitman College Missionaries at Moscow Thursday. W. S. C. defeated the Missionaries by two points in the last 10 seconds Friday.

Court Squad Gets Advice from Coach

MAPPING A PLAN to carry his hoopmen into another basketball season, Coach Forrest Twogood is pictured above explaining just how to do it to part of his Vandal varsity. ## AP Honors Fall To Five Vandals As Nation's Aces

Selected for honorable mention on this year's Associated Press all-American team were five Idaho men, Vandal standouts throughout the past season.

In the line, Idaho gridgers received honorable mention in every position except center. Tony Knap, NEA news service all-Coast end, was selected as one of the outstanding ends in the nation. "Truck" Trzuskowski was given an honorable mention at the tackle position, and Walt Musial drew an honorable mention at guard.

Vandal backfield aces, who caught the eyes of Associated Press men were Hal Roise and George Chrape. Roise, this year's honorary captain, was chosen on various all-opponent teams and led the team in number of minutes played. Chrape played in only the first five games of the schedule, but in each game proved a defensive and offensive star.

Wolff Rates High
Noticeable on this year's all-American team was the absence of Pacific coast stars. The only player to be selected was Al Wolff, Santa Clara's burly tackle. Vic Bottari, California halfback, was chosen on the second team and Johnny Ryland, Bruin center, received a position on the third string mythical all-star team.

Only team in the nation to place two men on the team was Texas Christian—Ki Aldrich, center, and Davy O'Brien, back. Bud Holland, Cornell Negro end, and Marshall Goldberg, Pittsburg backfield ace, were the only two repeaters from last year's all-American team.

Roise Plays 471 Minutes To Lead Over Teammates

Hal Roise, honorary captain for the football team this year, led varsity squad members in number of playing minutes throughout the 10-game season with 471 minutes out of possible 600. Walt Musial, fiery guard, was second with 446 minutes, and Dick Trzuskowski was third in number of minutes with 440. Jack Donovan followed "Truck" closely, played 399 minutes during the season.

Idaho's two all-coast men were fifth and sixth in order in number of playing minutes. Roy Smith, INS all-coast member, was used by Coach Bank 370 minutes. Tony Knap, NEA news service all-coast end, saw service 348 minutes. Other leaders in number of minutes put in are listed in the following order: Ray Kaczmarek, 366; Lyle Smith, 325; Earl Gregory, 312; Emory Howard, 310; Mac Beall, 289; Eddie Wilson, 282. Rudy Aschenbrenner, 270.

'Louie' Advises Moderation As He Trains His Boxers; Intelligence Nets Titles

Moderation is the fundamental principle in boxers' training, according to Louie August, Vandal boxing coach. "Start training a little each day, get in condition gradually, and stay that way," cautions the boxing coach.

The Vandal mittmen train from the last of September to early April. A long training season, one may think; but the boxers train only an hour and 15 minutes a week, spread over five days.

Vandal boxers spend the first 3 minutes of their 15-minute training period warming up by stretching, loosening their muscles. They box two rounds—about four minutes—each day. Next two minutes are spent correcting errors that August sees. The punching bag provides the target for the remaining minutes of the daily training routine.

The fundamental principle in boxing, in the opinion of Coach August, is braininess. A boxer without intelligence will never rise above the mediocrity, opines August.

Gene Tunney Cited
"Gene Tunney is a good example of moderation in training," says August. "He is in better condition right now than 50 percent of the 'ham and egg' boxers throughout the country."

Another good example is Coach August himself. Seven or eight years ago when Louie was in his prime in boxing, he fought at 126 pounds. Today he weighs only 130 pounds and is as fit as when he was boxing.

Original Plans Differ From Present Gym

Original plans for Memorial gymnasium were much more elaborate than the building stands at the present time, according to R. W. Lind, superintendent of buildings and grounds. The original design included another large entrance and a west wing which would allow the building to be used as a combined auditorium and gymnasium. The west wing was designed to contain a large stage, to be used in conjunction with the gymnasium floor, underneath it a swimming pool, 28 feet wide and 75 feet long.

Practice Begins For Rifle Team

Practice firing for the Idaho rifle team started last week on the range in Memorial gymnasium. Range will be open for practice from 3 to 5:30 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays and from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Saturdays. Regular season will start January 9 with complete scores of 10 shots from each firing position.

Second semester military grades will be increased five points for men qualifying for the team; letters, granted to the 10 men shooting the highest scores.

"We have scheduled a match with the University of Maine rifle team," said Major Waters. "Word from Maine said: 'Glad to make the schedule, and trust we will have the same success as Governor of Maine vs. Governor of Idaho in potato mining contest.'"

Any student desiring to turn out for the team should file his name at the R.O.T.C. offices.

Harriers Pack Spikes Away

Idaho's cross country runners packed away their spikes yesterday after concluding one of the most successful cross country seasons in years by whipping the leading coast teams to win the Pacific Coast championship. In dual meets this fall the silver and gold runners defeated Whitman, Washington State, and Montana.

Coach Mike Ryan announced himself as "well pleased" with his freshman team, which includes some of the most promising runners ever to come to Idaho. With only Wes Lathen and Rex Fluhrty, the two Moscow boys, graduating in June, prospects for a winning team next fall are very good, the coach stated.

Clair Cunningham and Dick Slade will be back next year to make their final season their best. Cunningham has been a steady runner and is expected to be a consistent point getter next fall. Slade improved tremendously, should be consistently good next season.

Phil Leibowitz stamped himself outstanding as a sophomore. He has as much natural speed as any runner in the Northwest, Coach Ryan believes.

Yearling Boxers Draw With W.S.C. In First Card

University of Idaho's freshman boxers were held to a 4 to 4 tie in their card with the W.S.C. freshmen Friday night. A thriller from start to finish, each bout on the card brought cheers from the near-capacity crowd which packed the Pullman gym.

In the feature bout of the evening Idaho's Mike Falino battled Merle Vannoy in a fast, close fight. Vannoy gained a slight edge to win the decision. The heavyweight fight found Idaho's John Webster tossing leather fast and furiously at Louie Porta to prove his superiority over the Cougar. Tom Bainbridge, Idaho 175-pounder, beat Al Lishness, Cougar lightweight, to the floor in the first round to win on a technical knockout. Other results were: Glen Ousley, W.S.C., decisioned Maurice Sordia, Idaho. Bob Brimble, W.S.C., decisioned Ernie Jensen, Idaho. Jerry Knox, Idaho, knocked out Bill Umbach, W.S.C. Jack Allured, W.S.C., won a

Vandal Boxers Tackle Cougar Pugs Friday

Idaho's boxers will meet their arch rivals, W.S.C. Cougars, here Friday night in an 8-bout card which promises to be the best ever held between the colleges. Each team has been training hard in preparation for its annual classic.

Two weeks ago Coach Louie August ranked Idaho as the strongest boxing team in the West; since receiving W.S.C.'s lineup, however, showing three men on their team in their fifth year of coaching by W.S.C.'s Ike Deeter. August concedes that W.S.C. has a crack team.

LYLE SMITH Guard

Co-Captains Fight
Idaho co-captains, Fallini and Killian, will have their hands full when they tangle with Quiggle and Allen. Quiggle is an experienced boxer with a brilliant record, and Allen knocked out the Canadian heavyweight champion, Frank Glover, at Pullman three weeks ago.

A senior weighing 195 pounds and standing 6 feet 1 inch tall, Lyle is 23 years old, majors in physical education. "Basketball is a lot of fun," quotes Smith. "What's the use of playing if you don't get a kick out of it?"

Willis Bohman's feat in sinking the foul shot that beat Oregon in the first game against the Webfeet last year was the biggest thrill Lyle ever got out of a basketball game. Lyle attended the southern branch first two years in college, playing football and basketball.

"If I had the time and money," he says, "I'd like to study osteopathy, or chiropractic, although all my life I've wanted to be a mortician."

Playing against about 10 men in the Lewiston Normal game Saturday was the oddest thing Smith has ever experienced in basketball, in his opinion. "Someone yelled that there were six men on the floor, I turned around and there were about a dozen. I didn't know what to do."

Vacations are tops with the bespectacled Vandal athlete. "Although other teams in the conference are all good this year, I think we'll be up there with the best," Lyle said in regard to the Vandals' chances for a conference title this year. A member of Phi Gamma Delta, the executive board, "I", club, and Pem club, Smith is one of the friendliest men on the basketball floor.

He comes from Moscow high school where he played on the state championship team for two years in a row. He was selected on the all-state team both years. Smith also played two years of football in high school.

Gay Dances Held During Week-end

The engagement of Marion Dwight, Moscow, and Wendell Decker, Kootenai, was announced at the Gamma Phi Beta upperclassmen's formal dinner dance Saturday evening. The announcement was revealed by tiny cards under the salad plates.

The dining room table was centered by a bowl of blue carnations on a crystal reflector. Place cards and candles carried out the blue color scheme.

Cedar wreaths with red ribbons and tall red tapers in candleabra were used as decorations in the dancing rooms. Programs were white pagelets with small gold Christmas bells.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Clara Holmes, Dean and Mrs. J. F. Messenger, and Dean and Mrs. E. J. Judds. Music was furnished by Chuck McGonnell.

Hays has informal pine boughs, holly wreaths, and tall tapers gave a Christmas atmosphere to the Hays hall informal dance Saturday evening. Programs carried out the Christmas theme of the dances.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Beeson, Mrs. Mabel Whittehurst, and Miss Helene Haller were patrons and patronesses. Music was furnished by Dick Gardner and his orchestra.

S.A.E.'s Have Bowery With sawdust on the floor, a long bar, and red checkered table cloths, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house was transformed into "Steve's Amusement Emporium" for the annual Bowery dance Saturday.

Programs were in the shape of small swinging doors and contained an amusing list of behavioral suggestions for the evening. Music was furnished by Paul Ennis and his orchestra.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Lucia Sullivan, Sgt. and Mrs. Alfred C. Johnson, and Howard B. Roylance.

Foresters Dance The Associated Foresters gave their 24th annual ball Friday evening in the Student Union building. The room was surrounded with trees much like a forest, and with green and silver streamers.

Patrons and patronesses were Dean and Mrs. D. S. Jeffers, Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Martell, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Ehrlich, Dr. and Mrs. V. A. Young, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Hatch, Dr. and Mrs. E. V. White, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Gall, Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Daubenmire, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Stark, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wohletz.

Otto Baltuth won the prize for the best Paul Bunyan yarn. Dick Gardner's orchestra furnished the music.

Heil Divers Begin Work On Annual Carnival Although the event will not be given until spring, members of Heil Divers swimming honorary are starting work on their annual water carnival. According to President Pat Spence, practices of intricate water formations have begun.

Former Tackle Takes Vows

George Thlesen, Lewiston, former Vandal tackle, was married to Hazel Puckett, Clarkston, Saturday night by Justice Jack McQuade at his home. Both attended the university.

Thlesen, who graduated last year, was a two-year letter winner in football and the only Vandal nominated by Coach Ted Bank for the first string Pacific Coast all-star team last fall. He is coaching and teaching school at Reubens.

An old-time friend, George K. "Hap" Moody, witnessed the marriage. Other witnesses were Violet Kauffman and Walter E. Wilson.

Women Debaters Place Third

By winning five of eight debates the Whitman college women's debate squad won the annual triangular debate tournament with Washington State college and the University of Idaho which was held at Walla Walla. The Idaho group, accompanied by A. E. Whitehead, instructor in public speaking, returned on Sunday afternoon.

Washington State college won second place; with four out of eight debates to their credit. The Idaho group placed third.

The squad may debate next Friday morning with women from the Seattle college in Seattle, Wash., on the question of government pump priming.

D.D.G. Pledges To Entertain

Pledge President Peggy Barr of Delta-Delta-Gamma announced a party to be given in honor of the members of the group next Monday at a luncheon meeting held in the club rooms in the Women's gym yesterday.

Jó Armstrong entertained with a piano solo, "Wedding Day at Troldhaugen," by Grieg.

Committees as announced by Miss Barr for the forthcoming party are Laurine Wilde, Saxon Schneider, and Evelyn Dubois, entertainment; Irene McDermott, Fern Gallup, and Norma Dieter, refreshments; Cicely Herman, Esther Stevens, and Anita Hammar, decorations.

Large Sale Looms For Hoop Ducats

Season tickets for the approaching Idaho basketball season started off last week with a large sale. Graduate Manager George E. Horton said today. The first day's sale alone surmounted the season ticket sale for the entire season a year ago.

Season tickets being issued for the coming season, which commenced Saturday night against Lewiston Normal, entitled purchasers to the same reserved seat for the entire season. Price has been set at $7.50 for the Vandals' 14 home games.

Issuance of a season ducat is for insurance of seats for Idaho fans. Last year, particularly the two or three final home games, fans were unable to purchase tickets for the games. The season ticket this year will eliminate a recurrence this season.
