

'Tartuffe' Plays Tonight; Grand March To Open Ball

Friday, Saturday Curtain Rises at 8 on Imposter's Antics in Auditorium

Moliere's "Tartuffe," also known as "The Imposter," under the direction of Miss Jean Collette, will be presented by the ASUI tonight and Saturday beginning at 8 o'clock in the university auditorium. Seats may be reserved at Hodgins. Considered one of the greatest satires ever written, "Tartuffe" was first performed at the Court of Versailles in 1664. Incidents building to the climax are romantic, amusing, and ridiculous. Orgon is always glib and delightfully dumb as Tartuffe leads him into greater and greater submission. Moliere concludes the play with the G-Man's slogan, "crime does not pay."

Tartuffe, played by Hubert Miller, poses as a good pious man and manages by his wiles to dupe Orgon, played by Bill Hoover. Working wilyly, he obtains consent to marry Mariane, (Lucile Short) Orgon's daughter, and gains complete control of his money and property. Rest of the cast is as follows: Bob Harris as Valere, Mariane's lover; Keith Warner as Cleante, Orgon's brother-in-law; Richard Rosendahl as M. Loy-al, a tipstaff; John Todd as a police officer; Ava Lou Garlock as Elmire, Orgon's wife; Margaret Marcus as Madame Pernelle, Orgon's mother; Christine Nichols as Dorine, her maid.

Martha Lou Evans is assistant director and John Small is stage manager, with the following crews: make-up—Carol Jane Davis, head; Margaret Frazee, June Spellerberg, Alberta Wells, Lois Small, and Elizabeth Cleav-er; Mildred Ryan, costume head; Helen Abbott, Velma Patton, Doris Thompson, Ruth Bennett, Marianna Robinson, Richard Rosendahl; stage crew, Ross Myers, head, Nell Hoagland, Evelyn Williams, Wilma Hjort, Ila Ingersoll, Melvin Westerdahl, Scott Buntin, Maxine Driscoll, Susan Blincoe, Lois Moss, Dorothy McKinnon; properties, Dorothy McKinnon and Billie Sullivan; electricians, Frank Mayo and Douglas Joslin.

The 100th debate between W.S.C. and Idaho will be broadcast over KWSC, the Pullman station, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Result of last night's contest between W.S.C. and Idaho, represented by Jack Roper and William Tomlinson, will not be announced until the tournament is completed Saturday night.

KWSC To Air Tilt Of Debaters

The 100th debate between W.S.C. and Idaho will be broadcast over KWSC, the Pullman station, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Result of last night's contest between W.S.C. and Idaho, represented by Jack Roper and William Tomlinson, will not be announced until the tournament is completed Saturday night.

Idaho Poultrymen Hold Confab

The University of Idaho's annual two-day poultry short course got under way here yesterday at 10 a.m. with an address on "Factors Influencing Profits in Poultry" by C. E. Lampman. As head of the university department of poultry husbandry, Lampman is an interesting and well qualified speaker.

Phi Alpha Delta Takes Six Law Aspirants

Formally pledged to Phi Alpha Delta, law honorary, at a luncheon in the Bucket Wednesday noon were George Phillips, Peter Legueneche, Ray Givens, James Bothwell, Irving Bennion, and Bob Alexander-son. Dr. Cecil E. Marshall will speak on "Bills of Rights" at the next meeting, December 14, which marked the beginning of the final afternoon's program at 1:30 P. M. W. W. Albright, Julietta, and B. L. Keats, Moscow, told of their "experiences as turkey growers."

Student Remembers All-American Cousin

Besides his friends on the Vandal varsity who received all-American mention, Johnny Hoye, Willis Sweet Hall, is a friend and relative of Bob MacLeod, Dartmouth, halfback, who was picked on virtually every all-American team in the country this year. Hoye, a senior forestry student from Los Angeles, is a cousin of MacLeod. Although the last time he saw MacLeod was in 1934, Hoye remembers him as tall, handsome. MacLeod is pictured, full length, in this week's all-American selections in Collier's magazine.

Brosnan Relates Idaho History To Business Men

Colorful and progressive years of the University of Idaho's past were paraded before a large assemblage at Wednesday's Moscow chamber of commerce meeting in an address by Dr. C. J. Brosnan. Titled his talk, "Founders of the University of Idaho: The Honor Roll," the speaker traced the university's growth from its origin to the present when its "campus covers a state."

Idaho Alum Wins Naval Honor

Distinction of being the first Idahoan, as well as the first University of Idaho graduate, to serve as a rear admiral in Uncle Sam's navy goes to Robert L. Gormley, formerly of Moscow. He was one of six captains whose promotion to the rank of rear admiral was announced this week following approval by President Roosevelt. The last naval directory listed him as "captain, director of war plans, naval operations, navy department, Washington, D. C."

Dramatists Elect Oram President

The Curtain, local dramatics honorary, elected officers Monday night: George Oram, president; Marjorie Lester, treasurer; and Helen Abbott, secretary. The possibility of affiliating with a national dramatics honorary, plans for pledging of new members, and an initiation banquet were also discussed. A luncheon meeting was scheduled for next Friday at the Student Union building. Present Curtain members are Ruth Bennett, George Oram, Janet Clifford, Helen Abbott, Walter Betts, Marjorie Lester, Carol Jean Davis, Keith Warner, Bess Cuddy, Margaret Marcus, Grant Ambrose, and Andy James.

Band To Perform Sunday at 4 Under New Leader

University Concert band will be presented for the first time this year in concert Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the university auditorium. The group is directed by Assistant Prof. Bernard Fitzgerald, new on the music faculty, who came to Idaho from Hendrix college where he was head of the music department and professor of theory and composition. Professor Fitzgerald has gained recognition as a composer by compositions including a concerto for trumpet and orchestra, a suite for piano and flute, two suites for trumpet and piano, a sonatine for piano, and numerous works for solo voices, choral and instrumental ensembles.

Promissory Notes To Lift Gem From Doldrums

To increase Gem of the Mountain sales, the business staff has worked out a system of deferred payment to replace the old general deposit method. Sam Rich, business manager, announced yesterday. A sales drive will start December 12 and students will be able to sign a promissory note made in favor of Graduate Manager George Horton in order to hold their Gem.

Holly Day Plans Near Completion

Plans for Holly day week are rapidly nearing completion. A Christmas tree, posters, and pictures of toys, and a Santa Claus figure will decorate the ballroom of the Student Union building for the Toy Town Jamboree dance. Special entertainment will be presented during the evening. Nine o'clock permission has been granted to freshman women for the Tuesday assembly. Four new numbers to be played by the Pep band in the assembly are being kept a secret. Remainder of the program will be songs by Betty Bollinger and Ralph Woodward, and a trio consisting of Barbara White, Betty Bollinger, and Edith Weisgerber. Merle Nelson and Mickey Smith will dance.

Pre-Xmas Events Swamp Calendars

From the 20 social events still on the calendar before Christmas, Idaho students should find sufficient entertainment to suit their various tastes. The Senior ball tonight starts off with a bang. With last-minute details well in hand it promises to be a huge success. The ASUI play, "Tartuffe," with its successful style, should be good enough entertainment for anyone. Saturday night, December 10, the ASUI play will again be shown. Also scheduled is the A.T.O. Tin Can dance at the chapter house. The Beta Christmas dance, Scabbard and Blade formal dinner and pledging, Willis Sweet cabaret, Chi Alpha Phi informal, and the Teke Apache dance will take care of society for that evening. December 11, the 60-piece university band presents its first concert at 4 p.m. in the audi-

Argonaut Publishes Note That Buys A Gem

Here is a replica of the note students will sign to assure themselves delivery of a 1939 Gem. Business staff members will open their sales campaign Monday. The note: "I....., the undersigned, promise to pay the sum of four dollars ($4.00) on or before May 15, 1939, to George E. Horton, general manager of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, in consideration of the acceptance by the business manager of Gem of the Mountains of my subscription for one copy of said publication to be delivered to me on or before June 1, 1939."

Substitute for General Deposit Method Defers Payment Until May 15

To increase Gem of the Mountain sales, the business staff has worked out a system of deferred payment to replace the old general deposit method. Sam Rich, business manager, announced yesterday. A sales drive will start December 12 and students will be able to sign a promissory note made in favor of Graduate Manager George Horton in order to hold their Gem.

Scholars Observe Founder's Day

Founder's day was observed by the Idaho chapter of Phi Beta Kappa Monday when members of the foremost letters honorary gathered for a banquet and program at the Methodist church. They heard an address by Prof. Arthur S. Howe upon his student days at William and Mary, also listened to a broadcast from the Raleigh tavern at Williamsburg, Va., where the society was founded December 5, 1776.

Mock Trial Ends With Acquittal

"Not guilty" was the verdict returned quickly by the jury in the mock manslaughter trial of Andy James and Dean Kloepper Tuesday and Wednesday. Trial was staged by Bench and Bar, law students' society. Walter Budge, first witness for the prosecution, narrated events of the evening of the alleged crime, November 18. He believed he was struck by a bottle when he stooped to pick up a whiskey glass in the office of Dean P. Howard's secretary, where he and the defendants had been playing cards. Defendant James related that he and Defendant Kloepper quit gambling early in the evening because of disgust at Budge's "drunken" condition and unfair card playing and went to a picture show, stopping at the Blue Bucket to borrow ticket money from Jim Decourcy. They were in the Bucket, they testified, at the time the attack was made.

Seniors' Receiving Line Forms at 8:50 Tonight; Big Band Ready

Bill Chase, whose 13-piece Pep Band orchestra will entertain dancers tonight at the class of '39's Senior ball, announces that five special arrangements by Larry Clinton—who wrote, arranged and introduced "My Reverie"—will be unveiled at the colorful ball. Betty Bollinger and Ralph Woodward are scheduled for vocal spots during the entire evening, many of their numbers arranged by local bandsmen. Musicians who have heard the 13-piece aggregation in rehearsal this week predict they will give their year's best performance at the seniors' big splurge. Reception starts at 8:50 p.m. Steve Belko, resplendent in stiff shirt, as senior president

Dance Chief

Upon presentation of tickets, senior ball goes may procure dance programs in the Student Union lounge from 1 to 6 o'clock this afternoon. Program Chairman Vincent Wells notified this morning. will lead bigwigs of the campus and their guests in the grand march which follows. Other front-line marchers are: President and Mrs. Harrison C. Dale, Dean Beatrice Olson, ASUI President Max Kenworthy, A. W. S. President Verla Durant, Don Whalen, No. 1 man of W.S.C. student affairs, and Bob Goldsworthy, heading Washington State's seniors.

Alumni Name Mix Field Secretary

Moscow Man '27. Assumes Long Contemplated Duties, Rettig Announces. Funds accumulating several years in the Idaho Alumni association's treasury paved the way for the appointment by President E. C. Rettig, Lewiston, of Gale L. Mix of Moscow as full-time alumni secretary, upon approval last evening of the association's executive committee. Rettig's announcement today followed introduction of the new secretary to University President H. C. Dale, who declared himself delighted with the program and offered the institution's support and cooperation.

Council To Treat Moscow Boys

Underprivileged Moscow boys from 6 to 12 years of age, are assured a bit of hearty Christmas cheer from the decision of the interfraternity council last night to entertain them royally at dinner and a theatre party. The big night for the lads has been set for Wednesday, December 14. Various plans for entertainment were brought up at the meeting with indications that pledges would be called upon for a demonstration of fraternity life before the youthful guests. The boys are to gather at a central point downtown to be brought to the campus.

Concert Features Jones, Macklin

Featuring four vocal solos by Prof. Archie N. Jones, a joint concert was presented by Professor Jones and Assistant Prof. Hall Macklin in the university auditorium at 8 o'clock last night. Vocal solos were in manuscript form, written by four of Professor Jones' personal friends, including three present members of the university faculty, Mr. Macklin, Raymond E. Lawrenson, and R. Bernard Fitzgerald. TREE LIGHTS CAMPUS Spirit of Christmas invaded the Idaho campus with the appearance last night of strings of colored lights adorning the tall fir near the campus monument.

HUBERT MILLER, lanky dramatist-debater and senior in education, holds down the lead role in the dramatic production being offered at 8 o'clock in the auditorium tonight and tomorrow night.

LARRY DUFFIN, senior from Rupert, has served as general chairman of this year's Senior ball, which will be held tonight in Student Union ballroom.

The Gem-off to the Races

No sooner written about than done. Last time these columns bemoaned the plight of the Gem of the Mountains, whose sales have fallen far below normal since the Bursar's office refused to slice the $4 price of the book from students' general deposits.

Previously, when spring rolled around, the Bursar's office often had to inform students that their $10 deposits had been so vastly diminished by laboratory breakage and other charges that the $4 was not available with which to pay for the Gems. Requests directed at students for enough money to make up the deposit deficit have often gone unheeded. Result: the ASU has been left holding the sack and a bunch of unread Gems.

Mopings o'er -- the Moat

By Bill Hohenzollern

Music has now won itself a place among the "practical" arts. Young Nagayo Mootori, a Japanese composer, protesting against the importation of foreign music, is reported to have said: "Musicians must determine to wage a cultural warfare behind the lines."

One wonders what the nature of this "cultural warfare" will be. It may resolve into a band tooting contest among French and German patriots, respectively, playing the "Marseillaise" and the "Horst Wessel Lied." Perhaps the Munich Accord has given the dictators the divine inspiration to resurrect Beethoven, Bach, Rossini, and Verdi, do battle for them, Embryo composers could be kept behind the lines turning out compositions on a mass production scale. Printed matter of their inspirations would be used as a "cultural barrage" to bombard the enemy lines.

University Loses Loyal Booster In First Graduate

Death Takes Dr. Kirtley; Member of Original Football Team

Dr. C. L. Kirtley, who died December 1, was a member of Idaho's first football team and helped defeat W.S.C. twice in 1893. He was a member of the first graduating class.

When Doctor Kirtley entered the university in 1892, he traveled by stage over the mountains from his home in Salmon City to Red Rock, Mont. From there he traveled by train. The entire trip took four days.

After graduation from the University of Idaho and Rush Medical college, he served as a country doctor in the wild territory surrounding Challis. Traveling in the early days on horseback, skis, or snowshoes, he sometimes went as far as 120 miles to care for the sick.

Former University President Resigns U. of Kansas Job

Ernest Hiram Lindley, former president of the University of Idaho, 1917-1920, resigned recently as chancellor of the University of Kansas where he had been 18 years.

"Doctor Lindley was very attached to the university here and always displayed a warm feeling for any progress at Idaho," stated Dean J. F. Messenger of the school of education, a close friend of Doctor Lindley.

In 1925 a political controversy over the charge brought by Governor Jonathan M. Davis that Lindley encouraged a political machine at Kansas caused him to be removed from office but he was reappointed in two weeks.

All music majors and minors attended to listen to the numbers given by Alice Roberts, Geneva Richardson, Betty Torgerson, Harriette Kellis, and Mildred Cochran.

Doctor Kirtley always maintained close touch with the University of Idaho, its campus and athletic programs.

Interchurch Council Advocates Students Consider 'Ballots Before Bullets'

By Arlene Grendahl

"Ballots before bullets" is the theory of a group of Idaho students who favor the Ludlow amendment idea, providing for a national referendum before congress can declare war.

Commented Frank Wells, president of the interchurch council, which circulated the petitions, which will later be sent to congress.

Eight Fights Bring Champs Together

The ring feud between the Idaho Vandals and the W.S.C. Cougars will flare again tonight at 8 o'clock as the two boxing teams meet in their annual fistic rivalry for an eight-bout card. These two teams rank as the best boxing teams in the west, critics believe. Coach Louis August's Vandals are the Pacific Coast Champions, while like Deeter's Cougars have numerous times rated tops in the West.

This year Idaho has two inexperienced boxers on its varsity team; W.S.C. team is made up entirely of experienced men. Fights tonight will find Idaho's Pete Cenarrusa making his first appearance in the ring. His opponent, at 127 pounds, will be Bill Hopkins who has won the W.S.C. intramural championship, is rated a classy fighter.

Kara Steps Up
Fight that has been drawing the most interest is scheduled between Ted Kara, Idaho, and Les Coffman, W.S.C. Last year Kara was undefeated in freshman boxing for the Vandal babes, and this year with the varsity he has decided North Dakota's Cully Ekstrom. Kara, who normally fights at 127 pounds, will be moved up to the 135 pound class to meet Coffman, who last year fought at 145.

Co-captain Carl Killian, Idaho's heavyweight blonde bomber will clash with Louis Allen, Cougar heavyweight, in a fight that promises real thrills. Killian is the Pacific Coast light-heavyweight champion, runner-up in the nation in that class last year. This year he is fighting as a heavyweight because Coach August thinks he will be at an advantage over bigger, slower men. Allen of W.S.C. is one of the top ranking heavyweights in the West, his latest achievement, a triumph over Fred Glover, Canadian heavyweight golden glove champion.

Fallini vs. Quiggle
Other Idaho captain, Joe Fallini, will have his hands full with Bob Quiggle, W.S.C. 155-pounder. Quiggle boasts four years while the Idaho captain was runner-up in the 155-pound class on the coast last year. Fallini scored a knockout in his first fight of the season against Eshenberg of North Dakota.

At 125 pounds, Idaho's Hank Straub versus Doug Blessinger of W.S.C. Both are the aggressive, slugger type.

Sam Zingale, Idaho 145-pounder, will mix with Fred Doeg. Zingale is a scientific boxer who doesn't waste any punches while Doeg is an experienced boxer.

Vandals Travel St. Nick's Day

Yuletide Will Find Squad Riding on Train

Christmas vacation for university students, according to the official time schedule, begins at 5 p.m. Wednesday, December 21. Some believe that the date will free the entire student body of worry and work and allow all students to head back home to well-loaded tables and high-stacked gifts, but consider the case of Idaho's basketball team.

On December 20, it will be California at Berkeley; two nights later S.F.U. in San Francisco—both good games, but as for Christmas....

Christmas, for the casaba trouper, will dawn somewhere between California and Twin Falls. The train doesn't stop for holidays, and the team doesn't either. There may be some gifts. If someone's ball-handling isn't so good in California games, the rest of the squad may present him with rubber gloves. If the boys don't win, a rival coach may present Coach Forrest Twogood with a package of headache powders.

No Tree or Candy
But there probably won't be any popcorn, or any candy, or a tree. Popcorn and candy would interfere with condition for the games against Utah the next two nights. There wouldn't be room for a tree. The boys might rig one up in the manager's berth, but they don't have that kind of manager. Norm Heikkila, the keeper of the towels and water bottles, weighed 250 pounds when he was a boy. And he isn't a boy any more. There wouldn't be room for a tree.

Yes, they'll miss their Christmas dinner, and they'll have to be in bed by 11 o'clock for their Happy New Year, because the conference season opens a week later at Seattle. But are they sad about it? It's odd how some people would rather work than eat. As "Rook" Hilton, stratosphere sophomore center, summed it up:

"Say, if I get to make that trip—Christmas? Yeah, they'll be away. But if they only take me along..."

Idaho Schedules Two P.C.C. Games For Next Season

Associated Press dispatches from Palm Springs, Calif., disclosed Wednesday that University of Idaho and University of Montana's conference grid schedules had been cut to two games for the 1939 football campaign. Idaho's only two conference opponents for next year will be Oregon State college and Washington State. This season Idaho played five conference elevens—Washington, Oregon State, University of Oregon, Washington State, U.C.L.A.

Fencers Schedule Demonstration

Exhibition fencing match between halves of conference basketball games next semester will be performed by Foil and Mask, according to Art Peterson, student fencing coach.

Having met recently at Sweet hall, fencers elected Rudolph Goldblum president, Elmer Rieman, treasurer, David Lewis secretary. Other plans laid at the meeting include initiation of eight new members two weeks after Christmas vacation and sponsorship of a women's fencing group next semester.

Every Saturday club members duel among themselves in the Memorial gymnasium, preparing for matches with W.S.C. on December 10, and other competition unscheduled as yet. Three weapons, the foil, saber, and epee, will be used and demonstrated by the group.

Coach Peterson anticipates a busy season for his sword swingers.

Campusites Win Crushers' Crown In Intramurals

Campus club completed its domination of the intramural wrestling tournament by winning three of the seven final bouts and the championship, when Len Zenkevitch pinned big Tom Hohnhorst of Willis Sweet hall to take the heavyweight title.

Before a room-filled crowd of cheering fans, Zenkevitch twisted out of the clutches of the heavy Willis Sweet entry to throw him after 3 minutes and 38 seconds of scuffling.

Dean Bentley of Tau Kappa Epsilon threw John Miller of Lindley hall in 4 minutes and 8 seconds to capture the 126-pound title. Marvin Chouinard, Willis Sweet entry, worked fast in toppling Willard Baer of Campus club in 1 minute and 36 seconds to win the 135-pound division, while Al Hadley, Campus club, squeezed out a close decision from Walt Risse, lone Idaho club finalist, and took the 145-pound bout.

Jim Ellsworth of L.D.S. institute won two falls from Jim Fox of Willis Sweet hall in quick succession in an overtime period in winning the 155-pound title, while Hank Juran, non-affiliated entry, displayed exceptional ability by throwing Tom Sneadon, frosh football star from the Campus club, after 2 minutes and 53 seconds of struggle to grab the 165-pound division crown.

Walt Stevens of Campus club won the 175-pound title from Irv Bennion by taking a decision from the L.D.S. battler after a hard fight.

Remarkably clear pictures of the Idaho-U.C.L.A. game appearing in the new copy of Click, a picture magazine, show plenty of action the officials of the game probably missed. In one action shot, two Bruin linemen are attempting to take big "Truck" Trzuskowski, Vandal tackle, out of the play. While one Uclan hits him high, the other charges through with arms flying. Intentionally or otherwise one elbow is placed very nicely on Trzuskowski's chin. As far as we know, this action is illegal on the part of the offense.

"Babe" Hollingbery, W.S.C. football mentor, holds a record for coaching that is certainly distinctive. At one time he actually coached three different football teams at three different institutions in San Francisco. In 1922 and 1923, the Cougar mentor coached Bates prep schools from 3 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Lick Wilmersington high school from 4:15 to 6, then drove to the Olympic club where he taught them how from 6:15 to 8.

All schools used different systems, had different sets of signals. Once Hollingbery won a game from himself by playing Bates against Lick. Rushing from one side of the field to the other, he would give instructions to both teams. Bates finally won 6-0.

A Year Ago in Idaho Sports
Idaho's boxers, who later went on to cop the Pacific Coast title, pounded out a victory over the Washington State Cougars taking 5 bouts. Bud Benoit, Milt Osterhout, Mack Saunders, Jim Clabby, and Ralph Miller won for Idaho. "Cap" Horton announced that Idaho's football season from the financial angle was not all that it could be. Vandal cagers prepared to open their season on the local court against Cheney normal.

Five Years Ago in Idaho Sports
Coach Rich Fox was planning an extended tour of Southern Idaho for his hoopers. The barnstorming trip placed the Vandals in Boise Christmas day. This year, the Idaho courtmen will be just about there again when St. Nick rolls around. Student writer of the early Argonaut comments on football rules permitting clipping within 3 yards of the line of scrimmage. Since 1933, all clipping has been penalized.

Dust from the Sports Bin
If the 15 Idaho basketball players were laid end to end, it would not only look darn funny, but they would cover 1,098 1/2 inches or an average of 6 ft. 1 1/2 in. Tallest is "Rook" Hilton, 6 foot 8 inch center; shortest is Steve Belko, 5 foot 10 inch forward.

Evidently Idaho is attempting to outdo the rainbow effects Oregon's cagers produced last year with their brilliant green and lemon yellow suits. This year's Vandal court squad has added gold silk knee guards.

Lewiston-Whitman Bow To Vandals

Seeking their fourth victory of the season and playing their final home game before they meet Montana on January 10, Coach Forrest Twogood's Vandal loop squad will encounter the Cheney Normal-Savages in Memorial gymnasium tomorrow night.

Pleased with improvement, but not yet satisfied with the floor work of his charges, the Idaho mentor is expected to give most men a good workout in tomorrow night's game in preparation for the long road trip into California and Utah during December.

Indications this morning were that the opening lineup for Idaho would include Bren Barrett, letterman, at center; Steve Belko and either Ronnie Harris or Roy Ramey at the forward posts; and Lyle Smith and Carlee Wood at the guard positions. Wood and Harris are both sophomores.

Idaho Wins 40-28
Improved greatly in their offense, University of Idaho's Vandals raced to a 40 to 28 victory over Whitman college last night at Memorial gymnasium.

After a nip and tuck first half, which saw the Vandals holding a 14 to 9 lead, Idaho started to click in midseason form and ran the score to 33 to 20 after five minutes of play in the final canto. Close checking by the Missionaries kept the Vandals on even terms with the Whitman cagers during the first period. Whitman gained a 7 to 2 lead in the opening minutes of the game, but the Vandals came back with baskets by Barrett and Belko to lead 8 to 7, and the game see-sawed back and forth to the intermission.

Long shots by Larry Peplin, Whitman forward, accounted largely for Whitman's scoring in the first half. The Vandals opened the scoring in the second period with two quick baskets by Barrett within 30 seconds of play. From that point on Idaho continued to gain momentum and held the edge the remainder of the game.

Brendan Barrett was high scorer for the evening with 11 points, closely followed by Belko and Ramey with 10 each. Bullock, Whitman forward, copped scoring honors for the Missionaries with 10 points.

Take Loggers 35-28
University of Idaho's Vandals gained their second basketball victory of the season, but they did it the hard way Tuesday night at Lewiston, when they defeated Lewiston Normal's Loggers 35 to 28.

Frequent Logger fouling and deadly Idaho accuracy from the foul line enabled the Vandals to conquer the Normalites, after it had become anyone's game, from half-time to the final gun.

From the floor the Vandals sank 10 shots to 13 for the Loggers, but parted the nets 15 times out of 30 gift tosses to two of 12 throws for the Loggers.

Eight Lettermen Help Rifle Team

Eight experienced riflemen and more than 200 others with little experience have already turned out for the rifle team, according to Maj. E. J. Waters.

Matches for the year will be announced in January when the first ones start. Practice and tryouts will continue until the Christmas holidays.

Experienced shooters returning from last year's team are: John Elder, John McVey, Bill Alcorn, Robert Abbey, Earl Ragan, John Baer, and Glenn Rathbun. Forrest Gipton, who took part in the national matches at Camp Perry last summer, is another experienced rifleman.

Students May Watch Football Pictures

Moving pictures of Idaho football games during the 1938 season will probably be shown to university students at a later date, word from the publicity department revealed this morning.

In addition to pictures of the gridiron tussles, plans were being made to show several reels in technicolor of skiing at Sun Valley, according to Publicity Director Perry Culp.

Women Contribute Stability - Dale

That in a majority of cases women contribute stability, regularity, and system in the field of business was the contention of President Harrison C. Dale last night. President Dale was the guest speaker at the formal initiation banquet of Phi Chi Theta, women's national business honorary, at the Moscow hotel.

"Women are unusually gifted," stated President Dale in his address. "In staying with an undertaking and seeing it through."

Reviewing the history of Phi Chi Theta on the Idaho campus, the president stressed the importance of association and affiliation with national business groups in view of the fact that women are usually accepted on equal terms with men in most organizations today.

Special guests at the banquet were President and Mrs. Dale, Dean and Mrs. Ralph H. Farmer, Dean Beatrice Olson, Miss Ellen Releson, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Foltz, Dr. Edwin Graue, Mrs. Clara Aldrich, Miss Florence McIntosh, Mona O'Connor, Vernetta Stokesberry, Crayce Mudgett, and Dorothy Hall. Mrs. Dale and Mrs. Farmer are honorary members of Phi Chi Theta.

During dinner, Mary Elizabeth Thompson sang; Alice Roberts was accompanist.

New initiates, in whose honor the banquet was given, are Fae Harris, Madeline McFarland, Marion Moore, Christine Nuckols, Betty Ross, Norma Woodhouse, and Frances Zachow.

Californians Plan Idaho Reunion

Idaho students living in Southern California who plan to attend the annual reunion at the Palomar in Los Angeles during the Christmas holidays are urged to contact Harold Oldson at Sweet hall as soon as possible.

According to Oldson, a large section has been reserved for Idaho students and friends for the party which will be held on Tuesday, December 27.

"The management of the Palomar has granted us special price concessions," Oldson said, "We hope to have a representative delegation attend."

Indications are that Gene Krupa, now enjoying an engagement at the famous night club, will be there to play for the Idaho student gathering.

S.A.I. Holds Dinner In Commemoration Of Founder's Day

Sigma Alpha Iota, women's national music honorary celebrated its Founder's day Thursday with a formal dinner at Hotel Moscow. Guests included alumnae and patronesses. Following the dinner the group adjourned to the recital given by Prof. Archie N. Jones and Assistant Prof. Hall Macklin.

Miriam Kennard and Norinne Eubanks were in charge of arrangements for the banquet and program, a feature of which was the initiation of Mrs. Bernard Fitzgerald as patroness.

Jew Persecution Irks Lawyers

"Faculty of law of University of Idaho heartily approves resolution."

That was the terse, 10-word cabled answer of Dean Pendleton Howard Wednesday endorsing a resolution protesting Hitler's treatment of Jews in Germany. The resolution originated from the faculty of law at the University of Amsterdam, Holland. Context of the resolution follows:

"Resolution: This invitation has been wired today to all faculties of law in the British Empire, United States of America, France, Netherlands, Belgium, Switzerland, Finland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Iceland, the faculties of law of the universities noting with sorrow and dismay that in some countries innumerable people are being persecuted and tormented on account of their faith, race, or political convictions and that particularly in the so-called concentration camps innocent people are without legal procedure subject to inhuman treatment, considering that the basic principles of justice are thus insufferably violated, voice their protest against this violation in view of their duty to uphold the principles of mankind to support them in this protest and decide to publish this resolution and to communicate it to their respective governments."

WAA Reviews Handbooks

Tentative plans for Women's Athletic association handbooks were formulated at a W.A.A. executive board meeting last Tuesday in the Women's gym. Definite action will not be taken, however, until the members of W.A.A. approve. This action will be taken up at the next general W.A.A. meeting, December 20.

Arrangements were made to give a Christmas party, December 20, after the general meeting. At this time all women receiving 100 points in soccer or having 100 points will be pledged. Virginia Galloway will handle the program.

Coach Forrest Twogood, varsity basketball mentor, spoke to those attending a W.A.A. meeting last night in the Women's gym. He explained the technicalities of basketball, all necessary pointers needed to enjoy watching a basketball game.

Attic Club Exhibits Celebrated Prints By Fine Painters

French and German prints by such famous painters as Cezanne, Bonnard, Van Gogh, and Wuntz are on exhibition in the art building. The exhibit is being sponsored by the Attic club, composed of student members in the art department. These prints will go on sale Friday.

"Activity of the Attic club will be a party for the members December 13," announced Ada Mae Jeppeson, social chairman.

University faculty members, especially those who are native Idahoans, were honored at the annual formal dinner sponsored by the Faculty Women's club at the Student Union building last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Herbert J. Wunderlich, accompanied by Raymond E. Lawrenson at the piano, gave a violin solo, followed by Vandalier selections. Music during dinner was furnished by a string trio of Esther Hughes, piano; Roberta Moffitt, cello; and John O'Connor, violin.

Mrs. Floyd L. Packer was the general chairman of this year's dinner, assisted by Mrs. I. Newson Carter, decoration chairman; Mrs. Glenn Jacoby, program chairman; and Mrs. Kenneth Dick, calling chairman.

R. R. Agent Urges Students To Make Reservations Now

That students and faculty members going to California for the Christmas holidays should get in touch with railroad agents at Moscow and arrange sleeping car reservations was urged today by Robert H. Holmes, general agent of the Southern Pacific company.

Holmes said plans are under way to operate extra tourist sleepers from Moscow to San Francisco bay district and return if a sufficient number of persons travel together. By leaving Moscow Friday night, December 16, students will arrive in San Francisco early Sunday morning and arrive in Los Angeles 6 o'clock Sunday night.

W.S.C. PICKS NOTABLES

Hitler, Roosevelt and Mussolini were jointly voted as the top figures of the world today, being the only notables to receive recognition from every student reporter in a news writing class at the State College of Washington which was electing the 10 most "news-worthy" males. On the feminine side Eleanor Roosevelt and Mme. Chiang Kai-shek tied for first.
