

REVENUES below expectations, accrued from Student Union week-end dances, continue to harass university officials. Why is it? Why don't Bucket dances attract large enough crowds to make money? That hall room is supposed to be the campus' social center, but the couples gathered there Saturday night could have found plenty of dancing room in a medium-sized igloo.

These columns suggested last fall to the powers-that-be that they cease the eternal switching of orchestras, settle down to steady employment of the best campus band, and then watch the crowds grow.

The Argonaut would gladly run a poll to test student opinion on what is the best student dance band, but Argonaut polls are never answered. So what? One certainly doesn't have to inquire far to determine, however, what orchestra would draw crowds week-end after week-end at the Bucket.

That band would prefer to play steadily at the Bucket, too; such employment would eliminate the undesirable moving of stands and instruments from job to job. Think it over.

The cry of "Wolf, Wolf!" will go unheeded by the Moscow fire department, and the university will wake up to find one of its fraternities, sororities, or dormitories in ashes one of these first mornings.

Another false alarm, reported by a woman's voice and directing the fire trucks to Phi Delta Theta Friday night, drew the admonishment from Fire Chief Carl Smith that all subsequent reports from the campus would be checked before the engines went out.

Some day we may have a real fire. Nice jokes, these false alarms, don't you think?

NEWS OF THE APPOINTMENT of black-haired Gale Mix as permanent secretary of the Idaho alumni came as one of the most illuminating tidbits this corner has received in years of haphazard news. It should be best news to the university and its coaching staff has had in many years.

Alumni who know are quick to caution that Mr. Mix will not act as a collection agency to replenish Idaho football coffers from the pocketbooks of alumni. It will be his duty, however, to promote interest in Vandal athletics and to keep an eye out for alumni who might be financially capable of helping the cause. Experience among alumni associations of other colleges has proved that an alumni secretary whose sole objective is "athletic" usually fails.

Mr. Mix's major task will be the organization of thousands of former students into units where their desires for fruitful outlet of enthusiasm in various fields and their reverence may be directed into unified accomplishments.

Mr. Mix is well acquainted with the university and its problems. He has a catching personality; he possesses family and political prestige (he's a son of G. P. Mix, former lieutenant governor of Moscow).

Since he coached successfully at Moscow high school for four years before he became a car salesman for Inland Motor company (Lyle Smith and Hal Roise played on his teams), he should be able to approach a high school athlete and say, "Here, you'd better forget that offer University of Washington is making you to play football and come to your own state university, because Idaho has this advantage, and this one, and this one, et cetera, et cetera."

MUTINOUS GRUMBLINGS, no doubt, will greet the railroad "special" rates which appear in this paper's advertising columns. The railroads are breaking precedent, offering no special Christmas rates.

Vacationists Travel At Regular Rates

Railroad and bus companies will cooperate fully (but at regular rates) in the wholesale retreat of students from Moscow Wednesday, December 21, for their Christmas vacation.

Southern Idaho's student special will leave Union depot at 5:30 o'clock, said W. O. Baldwin, traveling passenger agent for the Union Pacific, today.

A complete 15-car train, with three coaches, four sleepers, two diners, and an observation car, the special will carry its passengers at regular fare.

Chaperons will be named in a few days by Beatrice Olson, dean of women.

Travelers on the special will reach various points, west, south, and east, at the following times: Huntington, 7:30 a. m. Thursday, December 22; Weiser, 9:10; Payette, 9:30; Ontario, Oregon, 9:40; Nysa, 9:55; Notus, 10:15; Caldwell, 10:30; Nampa, 10:45; Meridian, 11:05; Boise, 11:20; Orchard, 12:30 p. m.; Mountain Home, 1 p. m.; Glenns Ferry, 1:35; Bliss, 2:25; Gooding, 2:45; Shoshone, 3:10; Dietrich, 3:25; Minidoka, 4:20; American Falls, 5:05, and Pocatello, 6:05.

Union Pacific stages will have several new de luxe buses ready at Hotel Moscow at noon Wednesday. As fast as a bus is filled, it will leave for South Idaho, until all wishing transportation have been accommodated.

Ruth Ryan Files For New Trial

University Woman Continues Legal Battle Against U. P.

That Ruth Ryan will continue her legal battle for damages, recently denied her in a district court jury verdict, was indicated today by filing of a notice of intention to move for a new trial with the clerk of the court. Miss Ryan, university student from Gooding, filed the suit for $7,500 against the Union Pacific railroad company and A. W. Bullock, engineer, following a train-taxi smash-up in November, 1937, in which she allegedly sustained injuries.

The notice, filed through her attorneys, M. F. Ryan, her father, and Murray Estes, asserts that Miss Ryan will move to vacate the verdict, which was in favor of the defending company, and to grant a new trial.

Grounds named upon which the motion will be based are alleged as: irregularities in proceedings of the court and orders of the court "by which the plaintiff was prevented from having a fair trial," insufficiency of evidence to justify the verdict; that the verdict is "against the law," and that errors in law, including instructions as to law given to the jury, refusal of the court to give the jury certain instructions requested by the plaintiff; erroneous rulings by the court as to certain exhibits and objections.

The accident occurred at the Sixth street crossing between a taxi in which Miss Ryan was riding and a Union Pacific passenger train. Miss Ryan then brought the suit claiming negligence on the part of the company, and the trial was held during the recent fall term of court, with Judge Gillies D. Hodge presiding.

MARTIN ADDRESSES A.A.U.W. Boyd M. Martin, instructor in political science, will leave Wednesday for Odeur d'Alene where he will speak to the International Relations section of the American Association of University Women on the Czechoslovakian crisis.

BOXING CONTEST SPIKED Boxing Coach Louis August wishes to notify the public that the contest the Vandal boxing team is sponsoring, better known as the "Boxers Book Loan Fund," has been called off, and each contributor will have his money returned promptly. Please see the boxer who contacted you.

Pep Rally To Send Basketball Team On to California

Idaho students will be on hand tonight to give the basketball team a rousing send-off when it leaves for a series of games in California.

The Pep band will leave the Blue Bucket at 6:40 o'clock and will take the regular route to the station. Yell King Bill Moats and Yell Dukes Ed Bennett and Mitch Hunt will lead the rally with the I.K.s assisting. The Pep band will add additional enthusiasm.

King To Oversee Annual Coed Edition of Argo

Fae Harris Gets Managing Editor Post on Dec. 20 Issue

Margaret King of Boise, junior journalist, was named to edit the Coed edition of The Argonaut December 20, Editor Jack McKinney announced today. Management of the special edition constitutes the campus' highest journalistic honor for women.

Miss King, who is president of Theta Sigma, local journalism honorary for women, immediately selected Fae Harris of Idaho Falls as managing editor of the edition. Both Miss King and Miss Harris received society and women's editorships of The Argonaut during their sophomore year. Miss King's activities include society editor of the Blue Bucket, class editor of the Gem, treasurer of the Associated Women Students, and society editor of The Argonaut. Miss Harris is active as feature editor of the Blue Bucket, member of Phi Chi Theta, business honorary, and a member of the W.A.A. executive board.

Other appointments were Jean Cunningham, news editor; Jean Cornell, sports editor; Betty Ash, feature editor; Margaret Carothers and Mary Alice Pettit, copy desk editors; Alice Alford, day editor; Phyllis Morrison, women's editor; Patricia Churchill and Betty Rhoades, rewrite co-editors; and Eleanor Kerr, society editor.

Among those appointed for the reporting staff are Fay Hiller, Norma Lou McMurray, Esamary Parker, Dorothy McDonald, Elena Silepcevic, Virginia Erdman, Marjorie Kingsbury, Lorraine Hansen, and Wanda Kimes.

President Attends Boise Meeting

To complete plans for the University of Idaho semi-centennial, President Harrison C. Dale left for Boise last night to meet with the committee on arrangements. He indicated that the plans and organization of both the university and Boise would be presented for coordination.

He indicated that arrangements for the semi-centennial were reaching final form. Minute details will be studied at the Boise meeting. The southern committee will report on arrangements for the dinner, the speeches, and general celebration at Boise January 30, while President Dale will explain the work of the university faculty.

He will return Friday.

Dramatics Honorary Taps New Pledges At Close of Play

New pledges for the Curtain local dramatic honorary, were tapped Saturday night after the closing of the play, "Tartuffe." They are Ray Hyke, Christine Nichols, Loren Bruns, Ned Bowler, Eldon Butler, Hubert Miller, Robert Harris, and Mildred Ryan.

Pledges are chosen for outstanding dramatic performances or outstanding ability in backstage work.

Blue Key Pledges Hunt Wraps To Help Needy

Neophytes Will Drive Wagon About Campus In Ragmen Disguise

Blue Key pledges will introduce a new type of help for Moscow's needy next Saturday afternoon when they visit each group house on the campus in search of discarded clothes.

"Unwanted clothing, especially shoes, will aid greatly in relieving the relief problem," said Stan Hume, co-chairman of the drive. "This is the first year this plan has been in operation here and we want it to be a success."

If it is, Blue Key will continue it each Christmas season.

Pledges who will call for the clothing include Homer Davies and Stan Hume, co-chairmen, Steve Beiko, Dick Trzuskowski, William Tomlinson, John O'Neill, Bill Chase, Mike Sullivan, Dick Hutchinson, and Herb Sanderson.

An old covered wagon, following a route to be announced on Thursday, will be used as the vehicle of collection. The drive will begin promptly at 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. All clothing will be turned over to the local relief headquarters for proper distribution.

Anderson Reveals Unusual Talent

Blind Student, State Legislator, Names Right Pitch in Any Key

By John Sewell

So rare that only about one person in every 10,000 possesses it, an unusual talent Major Bowes recently devoted a full quarter of his program to an amateur who had this amazing ability—the attribute of perfect pitch is possessed by Jesse Anderson, blond student of political science, who was recently elected state legislator from Bonneville county.

Hearing a single note, Anderson can name it and place it in its proper position on the piano keyboard, or he can give the name and key of any chord he hears. Not only can he name any note he hears, but if a specific note is named he can instantly hum the exact pitch.

The amateur with perfect pitch who appeared on Major Bowes' program asserted that he could name the tone of the major's famous gong and did so. Mr. Anderson, listening to the same program over the radio, named the tone of the gong to companions just before the performer; their decisions coincided. Anderson's gift, miraculous to most people, is taken as a matter of course by the blind legislator who seems to see nothing particularly unusual in it.

A competent musician, Anderson plays the piano, trumpet, and saxophone, and composes. He has had two pieces published—is thinking of having a waltz published, "Rendezvous for Two," which he recently completed.

Annoying to Anderson is the phonograph in Lindley hall because the turntable has been so speeded up that all the music it plays is pitched about a half note high. A half step in all the notes of a piece is absolutely imperceptible to even ordinarily sharp-eared musicians, but it is a glaring error to Anderson and is offensive to his sensitive ear.

Essay Winner Returns From Exposition

Carl Sierk, senior agricultural student, returned Friday from Chicago where he attended the International Livestock exposition as Idaho state winner in an essay contest sponsored by the Swift packing company. Thirty-four other state winners attended.

While in Chicago, Sierk attended the Swift marketing school held December 3 to 7.

Assembly Lifts Lid Off Holly Week

Owing to conflicts with previously listed events, the Sophomores' Holly Day assembly scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Friday evening, preceding the dance. Otherwise, plans for the second-year students' annual pre-Christmas festivities remain unchanged.

Tickets for the Holly Day dance went on sale yesterday afternoon at the S.U.B. bookstore, the Administration building, and in men's houses and halls. Programs may be obtained after tomorrow noon at the Student Union bookstore only. Price of the tickets will be 80 cents a couple including programs.

Prof. Jones Helps

Prof. Archie N. Jones, head of the department of music, has agreed to change the time for an "Elijah" practice to Friday afternoon in order that the assembly may be given this week along with other Holly Week events. Starting at 7:15 o'clock Friday evening, the program will be over in time to allow students to attend the dance at 8:30, according to Chairman Frank Powles.

The assembly will be the first student-talent program presented this school year and will feature new arrangements of popular songs by the Pep band orchestra of 14 pieces. Featured soloists will be Betty Bollinger and Ralph Woodward, a trio composed of Edith Weisberger, Barbara White, and Betty Bollinger—will also sing. Novelty numbers including an accordion duet by Florian Hunt and Chuck Harland, a humorous reading by Inez Brown, and a dance by Merle Nelson and Mickey Smith will complete the program.

Co-chairman Bill Abrahamson, Frank Kara, Betty Jo Jeppson, and Jerry Scott have been aiding Powles in making arrangements for the assembly. Admission will be 10 cents per person.

Judge Decorations Wednesday

Group houses must have their decorations completed by 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Judging will be held later in the evening by a committee composed of Prof. Lawrence H. Chamberlain, Verla Durant, Bill Tomlinson, and Virginia Erdman and Jack Arnold, co-chairman in charge of arrangements for the house decorations. Winner will be announced at the assembly.

Since late permission could not be obtained for the women, the sophomore stencilers Thursday night will accumulate from two sophomore men from each of the fraternities and men's dormitories.

Dale Names S.U.B. Advisory Group

A "Club house" advisory committee to assist in the administration of the Student Union building has been appointed by President Harrison C. Dale.

The group will hold their first regular meeting Friday at 4 p. m. to consider suggestions for improvements in service to students in the S.U.B. Their recommendations will be made to Floyd Packer, manager.

Faculty committee appointed by President Dale is: Prof. H. E. Lattig, Dean Beatrice Olson, Dean Herbert Wunderlich, and Graduate Manager George Horton. Beth Bothwell, William Tomlinson, and Willis Brewer are student representatives, picked by the executive board this fall.

HART BACK FROM BOISE

Claude Hart, assistant intramural director, returned from Boise yesterday where he attended a meeting of recreational directors.

NOTICE!

All women appointed by Margaret King to work on the Coed edition of The Argonaut are requested to be in the Student Union building lounge at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon. This meeting is important, and any woman not present will be dropped from the staff.

Special Editor

MARGARET KING (above) will act as editor of the annual Coed Argonaut December 20, the last issue before Christmas vacation. Miss King is a junior journalism student. Managing editor of the issue will be Fae Harris.

Marshall Speaks Before Bankers

Declares Hitler Will Moderate Jewish Persecution; Eyes Wednesday Engagements

Idaho's fast-moving European history professor, Dr. C. E. Marshall, discussed the Jewish situation in Germany before members of the Clearwater branch of the Idaho State Bankers' association at their semi-annual meeting Saturday night in Lewiston's Lewis-Clark hotel. Wednesday noon he will go before Phi Alpha Delta, legal honorary, at the Bucket to talk on "Bill of Rights and the Jews," then move over to Pullman at 2:30 p. m. to discuss international peace before that town's W. C. T. U.

"Hitler will likely grow less belligerent in foreign affairs," Doctor Marshall told the bankers Saturday, "and his persecution of the Jews will gradually lose vigor now that Germany has become a 'have' nation again."

Doctor Marshall asserted that regardless of individual views regarding the Jewish peoples, they constitute a "nation within a nation" and pointed out that their affluence during a time when most Germans were in need had given rise to their persecution.

"But no matter what the explanation," he added, "from a Christian point of view, the programs against the Jews are unjustified."

Referring to the part of Britain and France in the recent crisis, he asserted that both nations had their eyes on their colonial possession rather than on central Europe. England depends on importations from her colonies and world markets for her manufacturers and must maintain her international ex-istence, he said.

He asserted that Anthony Eden soon would be back in the cabinet and said that Eden is not an enemy but a member of the same party as Chamberlain.

Referring to current agitation in Tunisia, he said that if the choice was between France and Italy, the people there would choose France, but if given the opportunity they would prefer independence to either of the others.

Contacts Alumni

GALE MIX '27 (above) was named by the university alumni president, E. C. Keffler, Friday as the alumni secretary. He will travel over the state, organizing alumni clubs and promoting interest. He is the eldest son of former Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. G. P. Mix of Moscow.

Idaho Team Wins Debate Series

Triangular Debate Includes Meet With W. S. C. and Whitman

For the first time in nine years, the university debate team won a triangular debate meet with Whitman college and Washington State College last week-end. Last of the debates was finished Sunday when Leonard Arrington and Leslie McCarthy outpointed W.S.C.

Debater Arrington and Talker McCarthy were high point men, with favorable decisions in three out of their four contests.

A. E. Whitehead is coach of the winning Idaho team.

The schedule was based on the question: "Resolved, that the federal government should cease using public funds for the purpose of stimulating business."

The triangular meet included 12 debates with only Whitman, W.S.C., and Idaho competing. Idaho won five; W.S.C. won four; and Whitman won three.

Underclassmen debaters are pointing for the Inland Empire tournament to be held in Moscow January 14. Competing will be Idaho, W.S.C., Whitman, Gonzaga, Whitworth, Montana, Idaho southern branch, Southwest Nazarene College, and Lewiston Normal. Interested freshmen and sophomores should see Mr. Whitehead.

Scouting Honorary Meets To Prepare Tentative By-laws

Organizers of Alpha Phi Omega, scouting honorary, met last evening at the Blue Bucket to hear their constitution read by Loren Miller, whose committee prepared the by-laws which will guide the local chapter until it is accepted by the national organization.

Thursday, January 12, former scouts will hear final reading of the constitution, approve the document, elect officers, and launch their campus activities. Sixty are expected to become charter members.

Tonight a delegation of five will assist Moscow scout authorities at their court of honor in Whitworth school. One eagle award will be given at that time.

Sophomors and Sophistry

As it must to all municipalities, a communist scare came to Moscow last week. Rumor had it that student intellectuals (Jewish or otherwise dangerously radical) had built up a communist cell organization, held regular meetings, planned the subversion of the World Society and Hodgin's Drug store.

Twogood Names Eleven Men For Trip Into California During Holidays

Entraining tonight for southern California, eleven basketballing Vandals and Coach Forrest Twogood will launch a five-game tour of California schools against the U.C.L.A. Bruins in Los Angeles Friday night.

Players making the trip, as announced by Coach Forrest Twogood, are co-Captains Steve Belko and Lyle Smith, Brenden Barrett, Otis Hilton, "Whitey" Price, Roy Ramey, Ronnie Harris, Chick Atkinson, Cartee Wood, Irvin Hopkins, and Bill English.

Idaho will meet U.S.C. December 17; Stanford December 19, California December 20, and San Francisco university December 22. On the return trip, the Vandals will meet the University of Utah in Twin Falls for a two-game series December 26 and 27. The appearance in Los Angeles will be part of a four team carnival including Tulane, Idaho, U.C.L.A., and U.S.C.

Coach Twogood announces the starting lineup against the Bruins will probably be Belko and Harris at forwards, Barrett at center, and Smith and Hopkins at guards, although the whole squad will probably play.

The team will arrive in Los Angeles Thursday night at 6 o'clock. Practice sessions have been scheduled for Thursday evening and Friday morning at the U.S.C. gym on the Trojan campus.

Hoopers will return to Moscow from their barnstorming tour December 29.

The team, as a whole, is in good condition. Barrett's wrist is improving, according to Coach Twogood, and should be completely healed with a few days rest. The Vandal center sprained it in the Whitman game.

Coach Twogood, however, was pessimistic about the condition of Belko's knee, informed that Steve has been favoring it more than ever this week.

"All these games are going to be tough," believes "Twogood." "Southern division teams are the best they have been for a number of years. U.S.C. has a center in Vaughan, rated by some writers as better than Hank Luls-etti."

"Our defense is as good as anyone's and our offense will be, if we start clicking," Twogood said.

Purpose of the extended tour is to give the Vandal sophomores added experience before the gruelling conference season sets in early in January.

Courtmen Tip Cheney
Clicking for the first time this year the Vandal courtmen recorded their fourth consecutive victory—a 47-25 triumph over the strong Cheney Normal team—Saturday.

Led by 6 foot 8 inch Otis Hilton and Roy Ramey, howitzer expert, the Vandals showed their first flashes of mid-season form. Hilton, entering the game shortly before the half, promptly bucketed three field goals and continued the pace the second half to lead the Vandal scorers with 11. Ramey accounted for 10.

Five Teams Pace Ping-Pong

Looking especially strong at this stage of the intramural table tennis tournament are A.T.O., Sigma Chi, Willis Sweet, Delta Chi, and Lindley hall. All have won three team matches without a setback.

A.T.O. heads League I; Sigma Chi and Willis Sweet are tied in League II; Delta Chi leads League III; and Lindley paces League IV.

Results of last evening's "ping-pong" found Lindley triumphing over Delta Tau; L.D.S. over Fijis; Delta Chi pasting the Betas; Sigma Chi trimming Sigma Nu; Idaho club over V.I.V.O. club; Chi Alpha over T.M.A.; Kappa Sig over Colleague hall; A.T.O. over Phi Deltas.

Fencers Win Meet Against Cougars

Beginning their 1938-39 season, two Idaho fencing teams defeated the Washington State college follen in practice meets at Pullman last Saturday.

Idaho's varsity swordsmen turned back the Cougars by a score of 7-2. Outstanding for the Vandals were Peterson, Frazier, Poulton, and Gray.

The Vandal second team, following their elder brothers, displayed class in defeating the W.S.C. second team 6-3. A return match is scheduled during the second week in January to be held in Moscow.

Pershing Rifles Place Second in Match

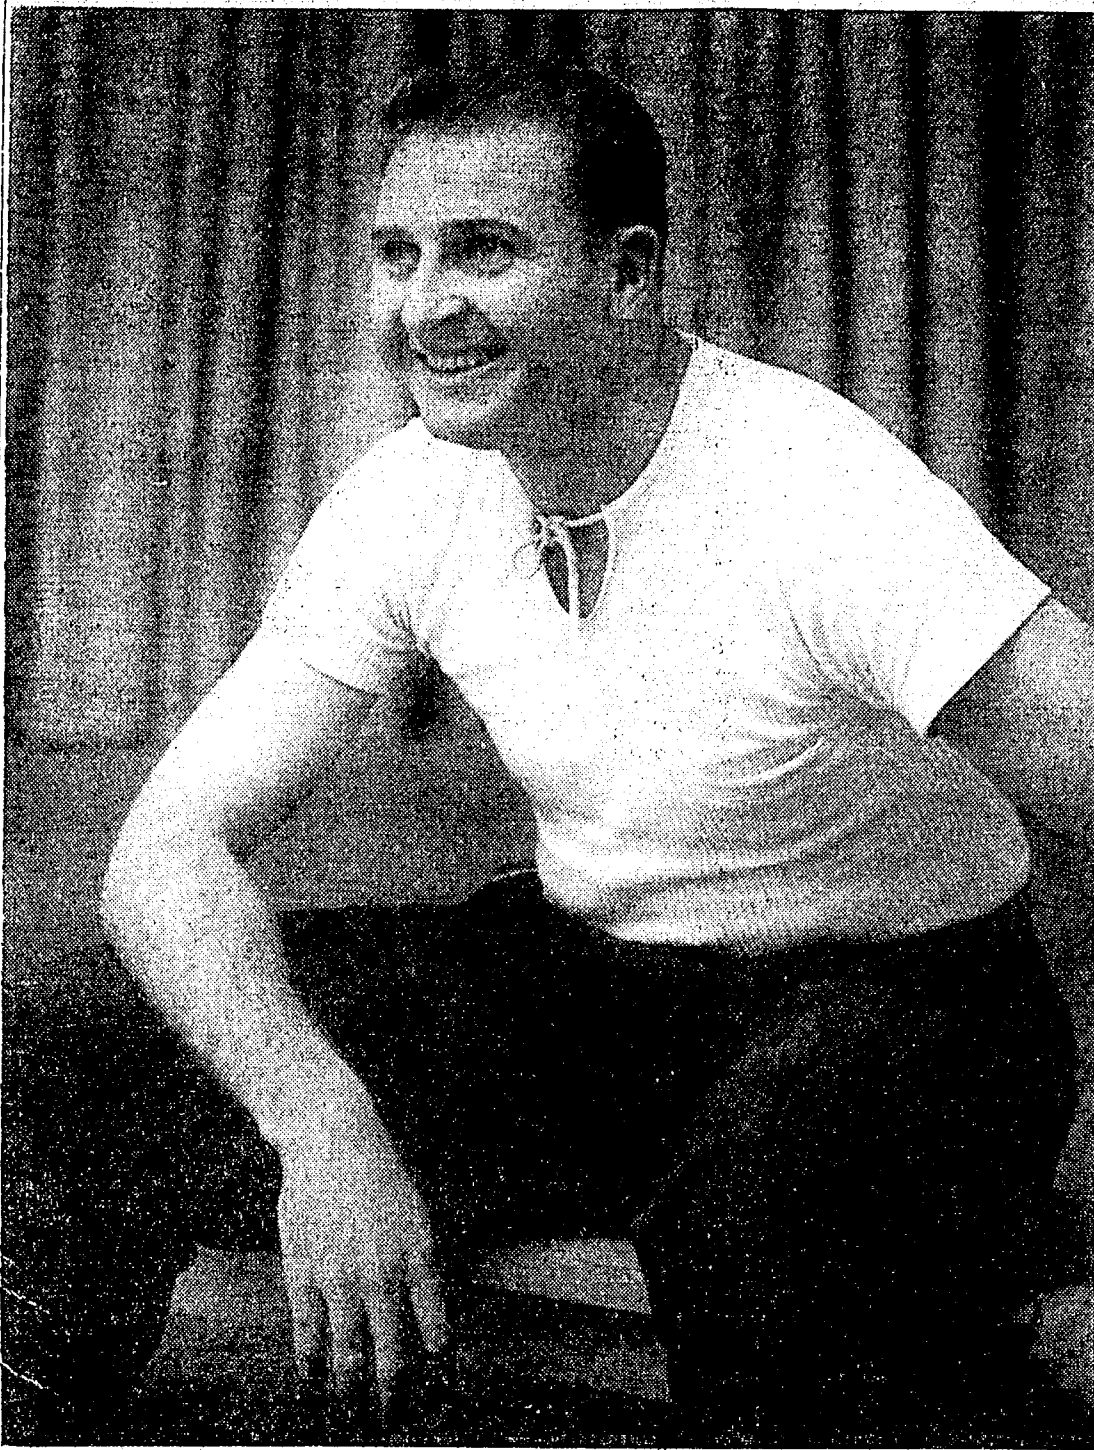

Company C of the Idaho Pershing rifles placed second in the fall rifle match of the Sixth Regiment of Pershing Rifles, according to a report from Lt. Col. R. N. Cuncan, University of California Pershing Rifles.

Company A of the University of California at Los Angeles won first place with a five-man team score of 1,772, Idaho was second with 1,715, and Company B, University of California third with 1,536.

G. R. Smith, U.C.L.A., was high scorer for the meet with 368. John Baer was high man for the Idaho team with 361. Other men who fired for Idaho and their scores are: Eugene Prather, 355; Douglas A. Joslin, 354; Bill Alcorn, 341; and Willard Kunz, 304.

World consumption of cotton in 1938-39 is not expected to exceed the 26.4 million bales consumed the season before.

Twogood Smiles His Satisfaction

COACH FORREST TWOGOOD, who leads the Idaho basketball team into its third season under his guidance, is one of the most genial men on the coaching staff. Above, he watches his charges in action with a smile of satisfaction. In the three years since he assumed coaching duties at Idaho, the Vandal member has made the silver and gold team one of the most feared in the Northwest. Tonight he departs with his team for a tournament in Los Angeles where the Vandals will meet Southern California and U.C.L.A.

Coaches To Attend Annual Convention

To attend the annual convention of intercollegiate football coaches in Chicago, Idaho mentors, Ted Bank and Bob Tessier, will leave Moscow by train on Christmas day for the windy city.

Purpose of the gathering is to enable coaches from all sections of the country to explain new ideas, suggest new rules to make football more interesting and safe, to compare various methods of offensive and defensive play, and to gather new methods of teaching the fundamentals of the game.

Vandal Boxers Stop Cougar Team Easily

Taking another step nearer the National Intercollegiate boxing championship, Idaho's leather slingers battered an ineffective Cougar all over the ring in Memorial gymnasium last Friday night, copped an easy 6-2 triumph over the outclassed Washington State college team.

In the six bouts won by Idaho, the Vandals took unanimous judges' decisions. Both bouts won by the Staters were taken on technical k.o.s., one following a bad cut over Vandal co-Captain Carl Killian's eye, the other after Vandal Coach Louis August believed his fighter, Otto Holmes, had been fouled.

Joe Fallini hammered out a decisive victory over his more experienced foe, Bob Quiggie of the visitors, to take the best fight of the evening. Slapping the Cougar to the floor in the first, the scrappy Vandal dropped him again in the second round for a nine count. Packing dynamite in his shocking rights, Fallini chased Quiggie all over the ring in the final canto, marked his opponent badly.

Kara Wins Handily
Stepping up to 135 pounds, classy Ted Kara gave his heavier opponent, Les Coffman of W. S. C., an effective lesson in boxing. Showing as much natural ring ability and speed as any fighter ever to represent the Vandals, the dangerous little sophomore outboxed Coffman, rocked him with jabs to the head to win going away.

Making a distinct upset, Alex Passic, fighting at 175 pounds, soundly whipped his more experienced opponent, Tom Tarbox, to win the semi-final for the Vandals. Although handicapped with a bad chest cold, Passic carried the fight all the way, made Tarbox buckle in the second with vicious powerhouse hooks.

Pete Cenarrusa in his first varsity ring appearance, found little opposition in Bill Hopkins in the second bout. Hank Straub

Swimmers Work In Preparation For Big Season

Coach Bob Tessier has been sending his varsity tankmen through conditioning practices during the past two weeks.

"Regular practice sessions are scheduled after the holidays," Coach Tessier said. "About 25 are out for the squad, but there is plenty of room for more."

The complete varsity schedule:

Montana, February 4, here.
Washington State, February 11, here.

Washington, February 18, Seattle.

Oregon, February 24, Eugene.
Oregon State, February 25, Corvallis.

Washington State, March 4, Pullman.

The minor sports carnival is scheduled for March 11 at Pullman. Teams to participate are Idaho, Washington State, and Washington.

The Pacific coast northern division meet will be held March 25 at Seattle.

Coach Tessier announced the freshman schedule will be released at a later date.

Freshmen Practice Against Varsity

"Indications point to a fair freshman basketball team this year," said Coach Walt Price yesterday. "Although frosh lack height we anticipate a suitable substitute in speed."

No games have been definitely scheduled for the neophytes as yet.

Twenty-one men are reporting daily for the squad, give the varsity men plenty of opposition in scrimmages.

Coach Price expressed himself well pleased with the way the frosh are learning the two again in the second round for

Mentor Lays Plans For Spring Drill

Although regular track practice has been suspended until the last week in January, Coach Mike Ryan is already laying plans for the most extensive spring program in Idaho's history. Indications are that the team will be the weakest of the Ryan regime, and the Vandal mentor is working overtime to correct the weak spots.

Practice meets which were conducted this fall showed that most of the scoring strength of last year's victorious squad is missing, and the Vandals will be woefully weak in the field events and hurdles. Emory Howard showed much promise on the field last year, and Ryan is grooming him to take the place of Don Johnson. Howard should also be the leading pole vaulter, but will be pushed for honors by Chuck McHarg and Sophomore Darrel Kerby. In the high jump, Leterman Al Flechtner is expected to show up well.

Zingale Whips Doeg
Sam Zingale dropped Fred Doeg in the first round of their bout at 145 pounds, and went on to win handily.

Started the Idaho landslide by slugging out a victory over Doug Blessinger after pounding the Cougar's midsection in the first to weaken him.

Trzuskowski To Play In East-West Game

Climaxing four years of intercollegiate football at the University of Idaho, top honors came yesterday to Dick Trzuskowski, three year letterman on the Vandal gridiron squad, when he received notice that he had been selected on the team of all stars to represent the West in the annual East-West game to be staged in Kezar stadium, San Francisco, January 2.

Picked from the cream of all western players, members of the team are selected by the coaches, "Babe" Hollingbery of Washington State, and "Biff" Jones of the University of Nebraska.

"I'm very happy to accept the invitation," Trzuskowski said last night. "Naturally, I shall do my best to help the western team defeat the eastern All-Stars."

Star Is Versatile

Capable of playing nearly any position on the team, Trzuskowski received many honors this year for his work at the tackle position. Last year he performed for Idaho at the fullback post, was trained to carry on the work at the center position. Weighing 220 pounds, the big tackle is noted for his fine defensive play, his offensive churning.

By receiving the invitation, Trzuskowski became the sixth Idaho man in recent years to represent the West in the classic. Preceding him on the honor roll were Charlie Diehl in 1927, a guard; "Irish" Martin, 1932, a guard; John Nordby, 1934, a halfback; Norman Iverson, 1936, an end, and "Swede" Ward, 1936, a halfback.

Coaches from all the Pacific Coast conference attended the confab.

Dean T. S. Fear and Graduate Manager George E. Horton accompanied Coach Bank as representatives from Idaho.

Vandal Gridsters Get Mention in Poll

Dick Trzuskowski, Tony Knap, and Hal Rolse, senior Idaho gridsters, received honorable mention in the 1938 National Intercollegiate Sports Writers' association poll for all-American football honors.

The annual poll, in which the Argonaut sports staff participated, listed the following first team:

Ends, Holland, Cornell, and Daddio, Pitt; tackles, Belnor, Notre Dame, and Wolfe, Santa Clara; guards, Twedell, Minnesota, and Helkinen, Michigan; center, Aldrich, Texas Christian; backs, O'Brien, Texas Christian, Goldberg, Pitt; Luckman, Columbia; and Bottari, California.

Presentation of a constitution for approval and furthering of organization plans are to be the subjects of a meeting of the University of Idaho Ski club in Ad. 311 at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, Hans Winbauer, acting chairman, announced today.

Five Dances Keep Socialities Busy

Christmas bells, fir boughs, miniature trees, and icicles decorated the Beta Theta Pi house for the annual Christmas informal dance held Saturday night. Programs were of white parchment tied with purple cords.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Nellie M. Barclay, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Boyer, and Dr. and Mrs. William E. Folz. Music was furnished by Paul Ennis and his orchestra.

Club Dances
A floor show featured the Wilis Sweet "200" Club cabaret dance Saturday. Acts included a tap dance by Merle Nelson, vocal solo by Ralph Woodward, a trio number by Betty Bollinger, Barbara White, and Edith Weisgerber, and a novelty act by Joe Allegretti.

A large crystal ball suspended from the ceiling reflected colored lights. Tables with novelty matches and napkins were arranged along the sides of the room.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chamberlain, and Robert Middleton. Glen Whitesel's orchestra furnished the music.

Texas Have Apache Dance
Slums of Paris were reflected in the costumes of the dancers at the annual Tau Kappa Epsilon Apache dance which was held Saturday evening. The room decorations and the programs carried out the theme of the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hunter, and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Drager were patrons and patronesses.

A.T.O.'s Have Tin Cans
Hundreds of tin cans and many lurid posters and signs formed the decorations for the annual Alpha Tau Omega Tin Can dance held Saturday evening. Individual programs were made by the members to carry out the theme of their costumes.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Goss, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brenn.

Chi Alphas Dance
"Odds and Ends" was the theme used in decorations and costumes at the Chi Alpha Phi dance last Saturday night.

Patrons and patronesses were Miss Stella Keys and Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Rodgers. Music was furnished by Chuck McConnell and his orchestra.
