'They're Tops'

Theta Sigma herewith "takes the bull by the horns." "Sitting just quietly and smelling flowers" seemed to us an arbitrary evasion of an expected sequel to the Argonaut roster of 10 top senior men. What the regular Argonaut staff wouldn't attempt, fearing the delicacy of the subject, Theta Sigma has fulfilled—selection of 10 outstanding SENIOR women.

Criteria for election to this mythical honor roll differed somewhat from that which directed the choosing of the senior men. We chose the 10 women who we thought had gained the most distinction during their college years for just being who they were; acting like it, and being known and liked for it. In other words, personality was the keynote of the selection. To these 10 winners, in varying degrees, have come popularity, friends, achievements, honors, and what-have-you, by virtue of their possession of that intangible something we call personality.

Here they are, in alphabetical order:

- Beth Bothwell—a cherubic little Kappa who spends a great deal of her time in the physical education department. Quiet and unobtrusive her first two years, she was catapulted into the limelight last year when she was elected to serve on the ASU executive board and to wield the gavel for her sorority. Then, Mortar Board took her to its fold. Beth is a proof that some of the nicest gifts come in small packages.
- Verla Durant—an outstanding "sweetheart" and a brainy business student; passed by when the Tri Deltas chose their Spurs her freshman year. She has since been a capable president of her sorority and of the Associated Women Students. Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Chi Theta, and Mortar Board list her in their membership. Incidentally, she is a candidate for beauty queen.
- Doris Franson—an independent politician and an independent woman. She has partially earned her way through college as secretary in Dean Howard's law office, yet she has maintained a high scholastic average, served as hall president, and busied herself with enough activities to win membership in Mortar Board. Twice she has been chosen by Dean Olson to make "good will" tours into Idaho towns as a representative of the university's womanhood.
- Isabell Louis—"to know her is to like her," and just about everybody knows her! She's a "live-wire," a good sport, a vivacious beauty. Campus fashion critics have given credit to her taste in clothes. Staying in the public eye without engaging in very many extra-curricular activities has been her particular penchant.
- Sally Mitchell—a woman who has worked hard in home economics for four years and received her plum for it—an internship back East. Executive ability galore, evidenced by two years' service as Alpha Phi house president, and Cardinal Key top-job this semester. Deficient, perhaps, in crowd-pleasing, spontaneous personality, but a gem of a girl when you know her.
- Maria Raphael—a quiet girl with a sweet smile and a dependable spirit; prominent in Woman's Athletic association, a real voice on the ASU executive board; a member of Mortar Board. She has also served Theta as house prexy.
- Ardis Simpson—the "May queen," and a queen all through the year. She's a combination of charm, beauty, and brains that's hard to beat. She has decorated May processions for three years—page, maid of honor, and finally, queen; elected to the executive board her junior year by the most votes of any candidate. House president, Mortar Board, Alpha Lambda Delta, Spurs, and Phi Chi Theta are a few of her achievements.
- Elena Slepcevic—the "I" club queen who has gained campus-wide recognition in only two years at Idaho. In that short time, she has received membership in Cardinal Key and been handed the Alpha Chi gavel. A conscientious student and worker, holder of a Montana teacher's certificate awarded to her two years ago as the youngest student ever to receive one in that state.
- Spokane Smith—has a personality as interesting as her name. She's been around for five years, working downtown while she won her degree—and her fame—on the campus. She's a political dabbler, has been a Spur, and a well-liked house president of Gamma Phi Beta. Her charming friendliness have won her many friends all over the campus.
- Mary Sullivan—a definitely bewitching personality! Disarmingly friendly, delightfully witty, refreshingly different. She is also a "big gun" politician, a capable house manager, and an active Cardinal Key. Incidentally, she's a conscientious home ec-er and member of Phi Upsilon Omicron.

Famous Prophet Predicts Wonderful Jobs For Well Known Idaho Students In the Future

Cross my mit with a jack, butch, and I'll tell ya all ya want to know about what youse and your gang will be doing in 1950. It's a dead cinch that "Frog" Darnell will be waddling with pride over a raise to $12.50 a week on the weakly Troy Tribune. All of which reminds me of the future fate of another of the political potion mixers, "Tommy-gun" Mercer. With a shanking gat in my mit, I predict dat dis mug will probably be juggling funds for no less a swell guy than Al Capone—who should be out of the Big House by then. Course, there's always da possibility dat our little "Tommy-gun" may forsake dat career for da straight-and-narrow.

Isenberg Lives Alone
Here's a not one straight off the griddle. Believe me, butch, when I say dat "Killer" Marion Isenberg is slated to enjoy many quiet evenings in her own hang-out—in the absence of any male protector and in the presence of a family of cats and dogs.

And this is on do Q.T....By 1950 local yokel, "Snake-eye" Sam Rich will be banking shekels oined by high pressure selling of moth-proof gas masks to all da bucks. No doubt he will be forced to pick up some "hot money" on the side to support his Moll, ex "Blondie" Johnson, and their five brats.

Gutter Gunnin' With Dirty Gertie

Now lissen, we're gonna ease you the pure dope on accounta because Fats is in prison tonight and we're holdin' de data.

Now what's dis we heard Sibyl Sloane tellin' "Dead eye" Hiene tuther day in lib? Wasn't it all about her smoothie picnic date with Dean Kloefer last Sunday? Yeh, but we happen ta know he was at home bookin'.

Now lissen ta dis. Romance in de spring. It got Margie "Handshake" Alison and "Whitey" Price over de dead bodies of Clayton Spear and Helen Rowley.

Looks like Hillard Hicks is anglin' for anudder tumble. He wuz sweet enuf, to gather pretty posies with Jean "Legs" Feeder for da Hays hall brawl.

We kinda wish Paul Price could understand his pinings for Marge (W the B) Kingsbury were pretty futile as long as that gal has the opinion she has of him. And incidentally, Budd Tripp sorta darts in her direction much to the dismay of "Look me over" Penny Pennick.

Our underworld grapevine takes de liberty of announcin' de engagement of Marty Evans to Chuck Kennedy of the army in Pocatello. Marty says, "we'll have swords 'n ever'thin' at our weeddin'." We express our deep sympathy to her present isolation with the mumps. Somehow the end seems near, and we aren't jus' talkin', Fats. I'll be back Tuesday so you kids behave dis week-end when de mothers are here.

The Academy Bums Line Up

By Mike "The Mug" Morphine

Don't let nobuddy tell ya dis ain't da real ting! It's on the dead level. These yere yokels 'a been marked by da hottest bunch of sca-roo-tinlizin' heelers that ever shadowed a victim, as the "Theta Sigma Academy Award Winners for 1938-39" (—and we wasn't doin' it for our health, see?)

Best-dressed man around town: Stan Ritter. (Whut doll could resist them "pea-green" pants, that checkered coat, that careless hat?)

Best-dressed man around home: Larry Duffin. (Da boys just know he's got a pair o' flashy red pajamas. Don't all the gentlemen of Esquire have 'em?) Well, besides, the committee imagines he looks better in 'em than any other guy, cuz red always was good lookin' on a lady-killer. Sorta like the proverbial red flag waved in front of a non-heifer.)

Best dramatic performance of the year: Moreau Stoddard, for his skintillatin' rendition of "Ferdinand, the Copywriter" before an appreciative Spokane audience. "Pathos, yet mingled with comedy" was da voidiet of each and every spectator.

Cinema Cynicism

KENWORTHY — Friday-Saturday— "Secret Service of the Air" is the first in a series dealing with the exploits of secret service men. Ronald Reagan plays a transport pilot, who is taken into the secret service to get information from the key man in an all-smuggling ring. How he breaks up the gang, which is smuggling immigrants with the help of an air-taxi service, furnishes the story.

Hopalong Cassidy is back again, this time in "Silver on the Sage." Twin brothers, one a crooked gambling hall owner, the other a double-crossing ranch foreman, furnish the impetus.

KENWORTHY — Sunday, Monday— "Fisherman's Wharf," starring Bobby Breen, is a father-son tale, with Henry Armetta in the role of the father.

NUART — Sunday to Tuesday — Bing Crosby and Joan Blondell are the stars of "East Side of Heaven." Bing is a singing taxi driver and Joan, his sweetheart, is a hotel telephone operator. Mischa Auer is Bing's unemployed roommate who has learned from reading the stars that he should not even look for work until 1942.

Tourney Played By Novice Fencers

Eight men competed early this week in the novice fencing tournament sponsored by Foll and Mask, fencing honorary. Jack Turner nosed out Jim Dick by one touch for the championship. A new foil was the first award; Dick was presented a new blade for "runner-up."

Entries were men taking fencing this past semester, and included Turner, Dick, Bob Knox, Ron Dunn, Chet Southam, Ward Smith, Alfred Heddal, and Bob Andrews.

Stoddard May Be Missing from Lineup In Tomorrow's Game of Make-Or-Break Series

First of a series of battles to determine top team in the northern division of the Pacific Coast baseball conference is slated for 3:30 this afternoon at MacLean field when the Vandal nine play off the first of a pair with Oregon State Beavers.

The coast team and the Vandals, along with the University of Oregon, are tied for top honors, each with five wins and three losses. The latter duo will clash Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Stoddard Disabled

Idaho, in traditional fashion, had her plans for the victory trek knocked for a loop today with Merle Stoddard, stellar moundsman, out of commission with a cold which has settled in his pitching arm, Coach Forrest Twogood reported.

"If we are going to get anywhere, we must have Stoddard," Twogood stated Thursday night. Ed Ranta or Whitey Jenkins will pitch for the local lads in Saturday's 2:30 O. S. C. game if Stoddard is still laid up.

Earl Gregory will be on the mound, with Whitey Price behind the batmen, and the rest of the lineup as usual for this afternoon's "Twogood" said. Price will be on the job tomorrow, too.

Chances Are Good

The Webfeet came out two up on the local men in their series at Corvallis, April 26 and 27, but the Vandal coach predicted that "we have a very, very good chance to win today's conflict on our own diamond. We are much better now than we were on the coast trip." Idaho split honors at Eugene on the Oregon trip.

Remaining on the Vandal schedule are a pair with Washington State college, one here and one in Pullman, and a double fray with Washington university on the home field.

Frosh Nine To Play W.S.C. Diamond Men

Frosh baseball stars will again attempt to shine tomorrow morning when they battle the Washington State college Cougar Kittens. Merle Lloyd will launch the attack from the pitcher's box, with either Bruce Brooks or Sheldon Barry assisting as catcher, according to Bob Baldwin, mentor.

The greenies will wind up the season with Lewiston state normal a week from Saturday, May 20, Baldwin said Thursday night.

In their four previous contests the boys have been unsuccessful, the coach said.

STUDENTS PRESENT PLAY

Two one-act comedies were presented at the University hut last night under direction of two advanced play production students, Richard Rosendahl and Alberta Wells.

The cast for the first play included Josephine Armstrong, Gail Moore, and Oliver Williams; for the second play, Velma Venita Marsh and Ralph Hansen.

Track Team To Split For Two Meets

The Idaho track and field team will be in two places at the same time Saturday when it enters into competition on fields at Pullman and Cheney. ## Mothers Are Feted At Gala Week-end

Almost 300 mothers of Idaho students are expected to arrive today and tomorrow for a week-end of activities and entertainment in their honor. The Dads are treated to a football game and dance, the Alums have their fun at Homecoming, but the traditional mother's week-end tops them all.

Official opener for this fourth annual occasion sponsored by the A.W.S. will be the Vandaleer concert tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the university auditorium. In past years the "Taps and Terpsichore" dance review was given on this night under the direction of Miss Jeanette Wirt, head of the physical education department, now on leave of absence in India.

A.W.S. council members will serve at a tea and reception in Willis Sweet hall given for all mothers immediately after the May fete. ## Groups Favor New Plan

A meetin' wuz held Monday afternoon ob de social chairmans—ub all de gangs, on de campus and Verla Durant, president o de A.W.S., to hash out sum quibblin' over dese exchange swingin' parties. Should it be jitterbug, swing, or good old-fashioned waltzes? I guess dat is wrong. De question brung forth was, should de boys an' de galls have exchanges alternatin' foist? Wid a few minutes o de rounds it wuz decided dat dis would be a super idea. Both boys and girls wuz in favor o de issue wid no treats out. So if it passes de A.W.S. council, it will be de works from now on. Dat way de swingin' will be over wid before green-up time.
