

Western Days Begin Thursday Morning

With tentative lists cast aside, Bill Chase, in charge of Homecoming yesterday stressed the universal change of college garb to that befitting "Western Ways," on Thursday morning. The dress will carry through Thursday, Friday, and Saturday until the conclusion of the game.

Intra-mural managers will be in charge of an assembly Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in Memorial gymnasium.

Current campus opinion recently had been that the club had its neck out a foot after its pledge dinner became overly hilarious. This week the club, only a wisp of a jump ahead of the inquisitors headed by Prof. J. M. Raeder, ran up the white flag of surrender, ceased to function. Members were notified that there no longer was a Press club. The shadow of the "Blitzkreig" had been too much.

Subject of discussion in classes and canteen shops has been the rumor that one of Willis Sweet's freshmen had been booted out of school by disciplinary action. To get the record straight, however, Jason points out he has not been eliminated, but given a probationary status.

The student ran into the spotlight when he clipped out three pages of the library's copy of The American Mercury. The spiked boot was poised, but, commendably, it never swung home due to the fact that the victim was so new, so unacquainted with library rules and difficulty of the university's buying even one copy of the Mercury with its limited funds.

Although all students will feel relieved that this freshman was kept in school, it must be agreed that university authorities are right in clamping down on such practices. Hard enough is it to find source material in the library without bringing on tantrums of profanity with the discovery that some sharp-knifed student has already carried it home in his pocket.

Booster Club Re-plays Utah-Idaho Game

The Vandal Boosters Tuesday Noon Quarterback Club "played" the Utah-Idaho football game over again at its meeting today noon in Hotel Moscow. Head Coach Ted Bank and other members of the Idaho coaching staff led the discussion of the game in which the Utes trounced Idaho 35 to 0 Saturday at Boise.

Informal singing of the Idaho school songs concluded the meeting.

Gratton Broadcasts Local Dances Through New Speaker System

Programs Can Be Picked Up in Houses and on Campus

By Bob Wethern
You are sitting in your flashy convertible, aimlessly twisting the tuning dial of the radio—searching the wave bands for something new—and suddenly you find it. For over the ether with startling clarity comes—"You are listening to the suave strains of Billy Gratton's orchestra playing for the Delta Alpha" formal, at the chapter house on the Idaho campus.

Maybe you haven't a flashy convertible with a radio in it, but Billy Gratton's orchestra has a small microphone and broadcasting set capable of broadcasting his dances over the campus, and he plans to use it to an advantage this winter.

Build by A. Flechtner, versatile bass fiddle, trumpet, and trombone player in the band, the set and its advantages have drawn favorable comment from dancers at the ATO pledge dance and the Willis Sweet and Forney hall informals, where it has been used this year.

"Using the set instead of public address equipment, we find it has a better tone and is more convenient," said Billy, "because the metallic sound of 'P.A.' loud-

Annual Serpentine To Open Rally Friday

The traditional women's serpentine will start the Homecoming rally Friday night at 5:45 o'clock. Yell King Mitch Hunt announced this morning.

The women will parade through the men's houses during dinner, led by Spurs, sophomore women's service honorary, singing school songs interspersed with lusty chants and yells. The freshman fire-works display will take place immediately afterward at McLean field.

Hunt wishes to thank those who attended the Utah-Idaho game for their spirit in supporting the team Saturday in Boise. A large crowd of alumni and undergraduates gathered for a rally at the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Boise Friday night. Saturday night they danced to the music of Idaho's Pep band at the Elks' ballroom.

Debaters Compete In 2nd Round Of 'Mural Battle'

United States' Contraction and Conscription Of Wealth

Debating the embargo on contraband policy of the United States, 17 men's houses are battling orally in the intramural debates as competition enters the second round of the double elimination tournament.

Two teams have been entered by each of the women's houses for their intramural debate on the question of conscription of wealth in war time. Results of the first round follow:

Willis Sweet hall over Sigma Nu, Idaho club over ATO, Campus club over Delta Chi, Delta Tau over Lambda Chi, Lindley hall over Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta over Christian hall, TMA over SAE, Sigma Chi over TKE, and Sigma Nu over ATO.

The subject for men's debate is "Resolved: that the United States place an embargo on all contraband goods to warring nations." The judges, taken from the faculty, expressed opinion that all debates were well prepared despite the fact that little time was had for preparation.

A score sheet is being used by the judges for the first time in intramural debate. This score sheet gives inexperienced debaters helpful criticism as an aid to future debating.

Wunderlich Arranges To Accommodate Homecoming Crowds

Plans to accommodate a large Homecoming crowd are being made through the office of Herbert J. Wunderlich, dean of men. Because of the limited number of people who can be accommodated in hotels and campus residences, arrangements are being made to secure rooms in private homes.

Anyone who has rooms to be rented over the week-end should call 8501. Lists of available rooms have been left at the Hotel Moscow and the Student Union building. If any students do not have rooms for their guests, they may call at either of these two places.

Working His Way Through College

PROBABLY the only student in the country who "works his way through college" serving as a police judge is Henry McQuade, pre-law senior at Idaho. He is a justice of the peace, and as acting police judge spends his evenings at the Moscow police station, answering the telephone, arraigning cases, and trying minor ones. Last Saturday night he handled 20 cases, mostly traffic violations. Police Chief George N. Sheffield stands in the background. The culprit is unidentified.

Military Honorary To Pledge 30 At Formal Ceremony

Pershing Rifles To Hold Rites at SAE House Tonight

Nearly 30 men will be pledged by Pershing Rifles, national military honorary, at a formal pledging ceremony to be held at the SAE house tonight. Capt. Reginald Meyer will officiate.

This group of pledges will be initiated at mid-semester when 40 freshmen who have made a B grade in military for that period will be pledged. The two groups will bring the organization to a full quota of 80 men.

Those to pledge tonight are Roger Byron, Howley Carlson, Averill Clark, Allen Cook, Milton Eberhart, Allen Foster, Ernest Gnaedinger.

Big Plays Will Come To Idaho Campus

Three of the outstanding repertoire companies of the American stage will be brought to the Idaho campus by the Legitimate Theater Corporation of America, Prof. John H. Cushman, head of the English department, announced today. The faculty committee in cooperation with the student body has succeeded in selling enough tickets to guarantee the presentation of the plays.

Caucus Nominates Independents For Class Jobs

Abbey, Hilton Head Ticket; United Students Have Nothing to Say

The Independent caucus last night selected the party's candidates for the class elections to be held November 2, at a meeting held in Lindley hall. Randy Wahl, chairman of the caucus, announced the following candidates:

Senior class: Bob Abbey, president; Max Chauls, vice president; Oscar Pothier, treasurer, and Irene McDermott, secretary.

Sophomore class: Kenneth Scott, president; Helen Campbell, vice president; John Webster, treasurer; and Marjorie Thompson, secretary.

Further participation of off-campus students in student activities was stressed in the platform of the party. The Independent platform also calls for an extension of student self-government, allowing open hearings on all appointments and executive board meetings. "Students living off the campus should be encouraged to participate more in the intra-mural program, student publications, and university social life," Wahl said at the meeting.

The executive board is meeting tonight to appoint election chairmen and the election board in charge of the polls, ASU president, Walter Olson, announced this morning.

The United Students held a caucus at Hotel Moscow last night, but silence shrouded the mystery of the selection of the candidates for the coming election.

Three points on the Independent party's platform were an increase in activities and social life of students living off the campus, establishment of a student self-government, and the maintaining of a highly democratic form of student government.

Pep Band Returns From Busy Tour

The Idaho pep band has the distinction of being the first band to play in the new Pocatello high school auditorium, gained when they played there last week as part of their tour of 25 southern Idaho cities.

The band returned to the campus Sunday after a week in which they presented radio broadcasts from Boise and Twin Falls and played at the Gooding state school.

Swing music was definitely the most popular, though the 25 members of the band played programs consisting of swing, march arrangements, and solos, said Jack Fitzpatrick, leader.

At Boise the band played for the alumni dance Saturday evening at the Elks club and for a rally Friday evening when a capacity crowd gathered in the Crystal ballroom at Hotel Boise. In Twin Falls, they played for a dance at Radio-

Street performances and school programs, as well as special performances, brought the total number of appearances to 40 at the end of the tour. The band made recordings while in Boise.

Visited Many Cities visited included Weiser, Payette, Emmett, Caldwell, Nampa, Mountain Home, Glenns Ferry, Buhl, Filer, Burley, Rupert, American Falls, Pocatello, Blackfoot, Idaho Falls, Ricks college at Rexburg, Gooding, Jerome, Twin Falls, Boise, New Plymouth, Meridian, and the NYA Vocational school at Weiser.

Bernice Claire will co-star with Eric Linden in "Golden Boy," first of the series, to be presented the second week in December.

Other famous personages and plays which are on the season's list are Jackie Coogan in "What a Life" and Eva Le Galliene starred in "Hedda Gabler."

Sales of tickets are being handled through group houses, and at the present time the women's houses are leading men's by a ratio of three to one.

Professor Cushman and the committee have bent every effort to bring the plays to the campus, he said, because students may never have a similar opportunity to see outstanding drama. The price of a ticket for the three plays is $3. When "Golden Boy" ran in New York, the price of balcony seats alone was $6.

Any student who has not been contacted and is not reached within the next three or four days should reach either Dean of Women Beatrice Olson or Dean of Men Herbert J. Wunderlich and obtain a ticket.

Lecture Hits Mark As Timely Rodent Demonstrates Rule

"Every rule hath its exception." Yesterday morning Howard E. Packenham, instructor in English, was lecturing to a freshman English class,—"of course, little things like that don't matter."

All of a sudden several girls screamed and there was a mad scramble for tables and chairs. Confusion reigned, and it was several minutes before the disrupted class continued. And the cause of it all was just a little thing. A little gray thing which had scampered across the floor—a mouse.

Female Footballers Set For Clash; Pi Phis to Battle Kappas

Captains Refuse to Disclose Scene of Grudge Game Tomorrow

"Female football" will make its debut on the campus tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock when the Pi Beta Phi Terrors clash with the Kappa Kappa Gamma Alleycats in a grudge battle.

In an effort to curb the attendance, the battleground will not be announced until after the game," Pi Phi captain, Betty Jo Jeppson, announced this morning.

The game will be a 6-women touch tackle clash with four eighteen minute quarters. The referee has not been selected yet, according to captains Jeppson and Mary Low Fahrrenwald of the Kappa gang, but efforts are being made to obtain a neutral one. Efforts are being made to get Prof. Willard J. Wilde, accounting professor, and two of his adding machines for scorekeepers.

"Both teams look terrible in practice," one of the team captains avers, "but this is because we're both saving our strength and trick plays for the day of the game."

Tomorrow's game will be the first "female football" struggle at Idaho, according to Betty Jo Jeppson.

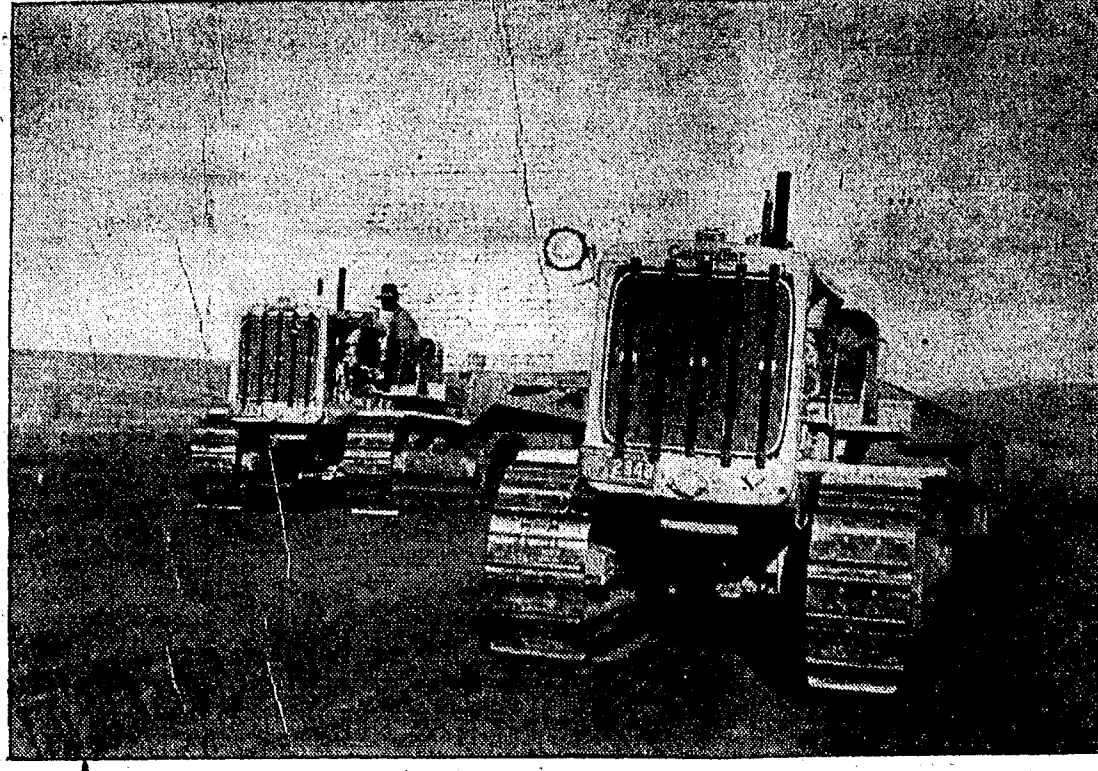

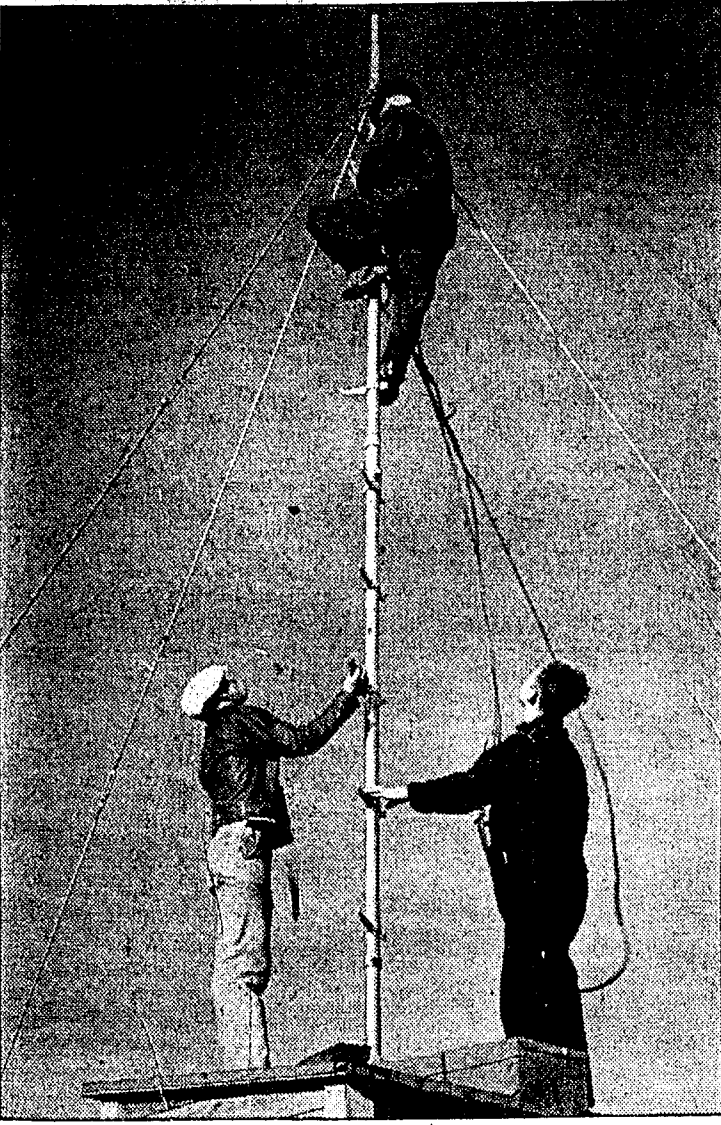

"We're out to lick 'em, 'cause we're training on milk," the Pi Phi captain says.

"We're all in good shape and we're training on steak three times a day," Mary Low Fahrrenwald, captain of the Kappa gang retaliates.

The girls will don Levis for the battle and will not use headgear nor any padding. "We don't need all the equipment. We can take it," the Kappa captain declares.

Starting lineups as announced by the head woman of each house are: Pi Phi, Jean Cummings, "Penny" Pennick, Betty Paul, Virginia Rice, Roberta Thomas, and Captain Jeppson. The Kappa lineup includes Barbara White, Joyce Kenworthy, Mary Fran Marshall, Frances Redmond, Lelle Gwillian, and Captain Fahrrenwald.

First Ground And Air Work For Flying

THE BIG "CATS" are rolling these days at the Pullman-Moscow regional airport as the program progresses to improve the port for civilian pilot training courses of the University of Idaho and Washington State college and for other purposes. Above may be seen two of the big Caterpillars "on the job" in the eastern section of the port where grading activity centers at present. At the side appears the anemometer as it is being installed following its arrival from the Idaho bureau of aeronautics which loaned it for use at the airport. Atop the instrument, to be used for recording direction and velocity of wind, is H. H. Langdon, director of civilian pilot training and mechanical engineering department head at W.S.C., while two students from there assist him. The improvement program is being conducted under supervision of a five-man board to which the port was leased by Pullman. Objective of the program is to improve the airport to meet requirements of the civil aeronautics authority.

Mortality Rate For Chicks Declines As Poultrymen Experiment

Egg Production Increases As Williams Improves White Leghorn Flock

Chickens are awfully temperamental creatures. For almost no reason at all, unless you call digestive disorders, paralysis, or heat wave reasons, the feathered folk fold up in alarming numbers—and probably just when egg prices have gone sky high. For these reasons the university's poultry department was established in 1913, to carry on experimental work to aid poultry growers in Idaho.

Never a large department in regard to the number of students enrolled, it has devoted most of its time to actual experimentation, and the distribution of helpful pamphlets to Idaho poultry farmers.

One of the biggest improvements since the department's establishment has been the large decrease in mortality rates in the university's laying flock. For the year 1933-34 the mortality rate was 44.6 per cent of the entire flock, but by the 1938-39 season the rate had reduced to 7.1 per cent by following a rigid breeding program.

Started With One Responsible for a large part of these improvements is assistant poultry husbandman, J. Kenneth Williams, who six years ago noticed one hen's longevity, and decided to use it for breeding purposes in developing a flock of long lived leghorns. By using carefully selected mature hens and males in breeding, a steady decrease in mortality rate and increase in egg production was the result.

"That egg production has increased is shown by the fact that our first 300 egg hen appeared in 1933, another in 1937, four in 1938, and 12 in 1939," said Mr. Williams. "By 300 egg hens we mean those that lay 300 or eggs during the course of their first year of laying," he added.

'Odd Jobbers' Limit Membership Quota As Group Expands

Specialists at jobs, ranging from washing dishes to caring for children must now be voted into the Odd-Job club founded recently by Herbert J. Wunderlich, dean of men.

"Membership now totals 35, more than can be placed," Dean Wunderlich said. "The result is that members will have to be voted in. These boys can be

Longfellow to Visit Idaho Campus For Red-Cross Meets

Commodore W. E. Longfellow, assistant national director of first aid and life saving service for the American Red Cross, will visit Moscow next Tuesday, October 31. Commodore Longfellow has devoted his entire time over 25 years to first aid and life saving and is the organizer of the national life saving program.

Plans are being made for meeting of Commodore Longfellow with campus groups, and dinner meeting at the Hotel Moscow for people from Lewiston, Pullman, and Moscow, well as university students. Announcements of time and arrangements will be made later.

Commodore Longfellow's headquarters are in Washington, D. C., and only rarely does he visit the West. He will be accompanied by Ben W. Carpenter of the American Red Cross.

Letters Home

from Naive Nan

Dear Mamma,

Today is Monday, and I am not very happy on account of I'm blue again, and that is because of it being Monday. I guess I should not be sad or anything, though, because I had a pretty good week-end.

Saturday night I went to a dance where everybody wore long dresses and talked about the orchestra which was Joe Tight, or somebody like that. I did not have such an awful good time because I had to dance most of the time with Oliver who was the boy who brought me. I do not know what he must think in charge of the place that I me during the whole dance. We got some awful cute little books, though, with some kids names in them who I don't know. I think I will save mine to write the things I want down town in it.

Maybe, though, Mamma, it is not so strange that nobody cut in on me all evening, because I did have a black eye. That is what I got on the skating party Friday night. I was mad about that, too, because I told the man in charge of the place that I had never been on skates and to please give me some easy ones to start out on. I was mad at the doctor over at the infirmary, too, because I told him about onions being good for a black eye and he didn't even pay any attention to me. I think maybe I will buy some today.

Dean Goes To Boise

Dean E. J. Iddings, head of the college of agriculture, and J. H. Rearden, county agent leader, left on a routine inspection trip of South Idaho yesterday morning. Dean Iddings will be in his extension office in Boise and will visit the various experiment stations. Mr. Rearden will contact the county agents of South Idaho.

Year's Leave Ends For Law Prof.

Returning after a year's leave of absence which he spent as a special research fellow at the Columbia university college of law, Bert Hopkins, associate professor of law, expressed satisfaction upon being back in Idaho and near spots where he may enjoy his favorite sport, fishing.

While at Columbia, Professor Hopkins spent most of his time in research upon conflict of law in the administration of decedents' estates. He is continuing his research here and the results will be published in the form of a doctor's dissertation.

Professor Hopkins holds degrees from the University of Wisconsin, the Yale school of law, and recently received his master of laws from Columbia. He has been employed here as an instructor and professor since 1929.

During the period of his stay in New York, Professor Hopkins found many items of interest in the art galleries and museums of that city. He also said that he enjoyed many of the plays and operas presented there.

Besides doing research work, Professor Hopkins participated in two graduate seminars; one in legal education and the other in legal philosophy.

It's a safe bet that a soda fountain clerk makes swell drinks because he went to sundae school.

Library Receives War Books For Reading List

Several books pertinent to the war have been placed on the reading shelf of the main floor library, Dr. Chandler Bragdon, chairman of the "Background for War" committee, said today.

Among the best of these are "Road to War," Walter Millis; "Savage Symphony," Eva Lips; "Guns or Butter," R. H. Bruce; "Across the Frontier," Philip Gibbs; "The Life and Death of a Spanish Town," Elliot Paul. "Road to War" is an attack upon the J. P. Morgan group that encouraged the entrance of the U. S. in the World war. Revelations of the book led to a senate investigation several years ago.

"Savage Symphony" describes the persecution of the educated German who does not conform to the government's program. "Guns or Butter" is an account of the travels of an English ex-diplomat through Germany and the Baltic countries in 1937 and 1938.

"Across the Frontier," although extremely biased in favor of the British, is a good history of the break-down of the League of Nations, and is of interest because of the conversational material.

"The Life and Death of a Spanish Town" describes the effect of the Spanish upheaval upon the innocent mass of people, and was written by an American living in a small Spanish town during the revolution.

—Eyeful In Idaho—

The following does not purport to be authentic. It could, however, have come from the diary of almost any young man on the campus.

October 18, 1934. Today I was issued my ROTC uniform—olive drab just like all other olive drabs.

September 27, 1937. Joined the national guard today. Made it on the strength of my ROTC experience.

June 18, 1939. Was detailed today for pit duty in the regimental marksmanship tournament.

October 15, 1939. First came the Nazi-Soviet pact. Then the European war. Now everybody wants a bigger army and navy.

Before January we are to be taken away from our studies for special national guard encampment.

November 8, 1935. Turned down a chance to go deer hunting. Had to tell the fellows I was coming down with a cold or something.

—Boiling Blood—

The following article appeared in a Moscow daily one day last week:

Chief Justice James F. Ailshie of the Idaho supreme court told the Rebekah state assembly in convention here last night that America needs more red-blooded young men instead of sissies in its colleges.

"Would you mothers want to raise a son who would stand back and let a big bully interfere with his rights," Ailshie asked.

"America has its rights on the high seas and I believe we should continue to carry on our trade with neutral nations. We should tell European nations to carry on their fight in their own back yard."

"Ailshie said it made his 'blood boil' when he read recently about Cornell students who announced they would not fight unless in a defensive war."

University and college students in America base their objections upon logic. In 1918 American universities and colleges all over the land sent students overseas with the idea of "making the world safe for democracy."

We know the outcome of that intervention. There was no lasting peace, and democracy emerged in a worse mess than before.

The present-day university student has enough horse sense to distinguish between good and bad propaganda and is definitely anti-war.

Boys who formed democracies, dictatorships, and anarchistic governments at the University of Iowa child welfare station developed best under democracy.

Homecoming Schedule

Thursday: 8:00 Everyone asked to appear on the campus in Western clothing. 11:00 All university assembly at Memorial gymnasium. 7:30 Rally-mixer at SUB. Cardinal Key and Blue Key pledging. Friday: 4:30 Deadline on group decorations. 5:30 Women's serpentine through men's houses during dinner hour. 7:30 Rally and fireworks display at McLean field. 8:30 I.K. all college mixer at Memorial gymnasium. Saturday: 1:30 Beard judging at McLean field. 9:00 Homecoming mixer at Memorial gymnasium in charge of Alumni association.

THE SCREEN SCOPE

Kenworthy — Wednesday and Thursday

"They Asked For It" and they got it, referring to William Lundigan, Joy Hodges, and Michael Whalen in Universal's gay action drama which revolves about the efforts of three college chums who try to show the residents of their old home town "How things should really be done."

In an effort to save his small newspaper, and the businesses of his friends, owner-editor Lundigan fabricates a big news story which causes him a great deal of trouble but turns out to be a reality.

Billed on the same program is blood-and-thunder panorama of the newspaper game, "News Is Made at Night," a modern version of the Jeckyll-Hyde mystery.

It is the typical newspaper story, about the hard-boiled editor and the meek cub reporter, who in this case is a romantic loving girl, played by Lynn Bari. Preston Foster is the hard-fighting editor who tears the mask of respectability and reveals a trail of murder being committed by a convicted swindler, "dead for 18 years."

Friday and Saturday

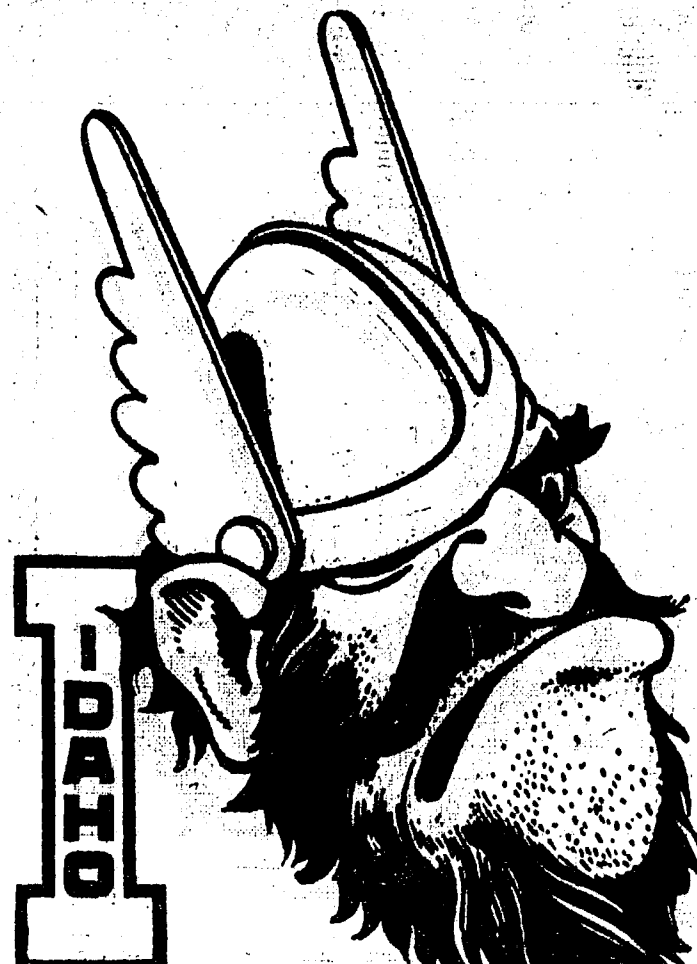

Noted for his rugged characterizations, Victor McLaglen scores a knockout again in "Ex-Champ" in a ring side story that combines excitement and bathos to make it an enthralling drama.

Portraying McLaglen as a broken-down ex-champion prizefighter, who makes a sacrifice to save his snobbish son from disgrace, and at the same time trains his protegee, Tom Brown, into a world champion, the story moves swiftly along to a smashing finish.

Quart — Thursday to Saturday When bathing beauties parade, anything can happen, and it does in "Fast and Furious" to the tune of two murders, several attempted murders and a string of beauties unparalleled for several years.

Co-starred are Franchot Tone and Ann Southern, able contestants for the title of "Craziest Screen Couple." Tone plays the part of an amateur detective and Ann Southern is his devoted wife.

City Will Enforce New Rulings On Auto Parking

Students who fail to cooperate in the newly enacted campus parking laws will find themselves in trouble with the city law enforcement authorities, asserts R. W. Lind, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Moscow police are cooperating on the enforcement, and will operate with patrol cars on rounding up the offenders.

All students who park their cars within the restricted areas will be required to obtain stickers from the buildings and grounds office, and affix them to the windshields of their cars.

Chenoweth Wins Grand Prize In Fish Contest

Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, pipe smoking head of the philosophy department, was judged winner in the third annual big fish contest sponsored by a local firm, according to results announced by the contest director, W. J. Kelly.

Professor Chenoweth's prize-winning fish was a two-pound, five-ounce rainbow trout measuring 21 inches in length. This particular fish was caught in the fast waters of the St. Joe river, and, according to the professor, "put up quite a battle." He was awarded an $11 tapered line.

Professor Chenoweth is a fisherman of no mean repute and has won many prizes before. Last year in the same contest he was awarded a prize for the biggest fish caught during the month, and two years ago was awarded the prize at Lewiston for hooking an 18-pound steelhead salmon.

Dr. T. F. Blakemore, Moscow dentist, was runner-up in the contest with a fighting four-pound bass from Chatolet lake. He was awarded a $9.50 fly reel.

Bucket Features Life of Bank

Resplendent in original color cover, the Blue Bucket magazine will make its initial debut this year Saturday, October 28.

This issue will feature an editorial on the life of Ted Bank from his high school days on, as told by his wife, Mrs. Theodore P. Bank, an article on "Why Women Hate men," an alumni column; a humorous house directory on the return of the alumni; the results of the most popular orchestras and songs; and the newest jokes.

Students may buy The Blue Bucket at the Argonaut office, Student Union building, both the Co-op and Student Union bookstores. In the house and halls Spurs and Intercollegiate Knights will be in charge of the sales. The price this year has been reduced from 15 cents to 10 cents.

The so-called "French" telephone is not French at all. It was invented in this country by a graduate of Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute.

Dr. Smith Attends Teachers Meet

Dr. W. Wayne Smith, associate professor of education, was the only representative from the United States to attend the East Kootenai Teachers' association meeting October 19, 20, and 21 at Creston, B. C. He was one of the two principal speakers.

Dr. Smith spoke Friday on "Making the Curriculum Fit the Needs." He also addressed a guidance conference of high school teachers and principals. Course that schools should take under the present war conditions was outlined by Ira Dilworth in the opening speech of the convention, Thursday night. His speech was "Keeping Up the Morale in School and Home in Time of a Crisis."

This was the largest meeting ever held in Creston, with about 250 representatives present. A banquet was held Friday night with 216 present.

To The Editor: The editorial, "War Comes to College," in Friday's Argonaut listed three reasons why students join the national guard:

- 1. Exemption from ROTC, "an irksome routine to many students." 2. "Drills are held on Sunday morning, which interferes comparatively little with school life." 3. "Quarterly checks from the war department are issued in payment for drills." "Why drill for nothing when it's easier to drill for money?"

This all leaves an incorrect impression which I wish to clear up. In the 10 years of Troop K's existence, less than five men have enlisted to escape ROTC, and most of these did so because of study conflicts. The troop officers discourage such enlistment on the ground that men who dislike ROTC will not make good troopers.

More than 50 per cent of the troop's personnel are also taking ROTC, and this figure has always been high or higher. Of the other 50 per cent, many have already taken ROTC, or have been members of the guard in their home towns before coming to school.

Does it appear to you that students join the guard to escape ROTC?

As for reasons 2 and 3, they admittedly are factors, but certainly not reasons for joining. The money does not amount to much and is totally offset in many cases by the two weeks compulsory summer camp each June, which cuts into a $100 per month job to the tune of $50, plus the hazard of angering the employer.

Leaving out "patriotism," I'll tell you why I joined the guard, and these reasons hold for all of the members whom I know personally.

I love the snap with which soldiers stand, move, and speak; I love rifles, pistols, sabres, combat maneuvers, and camp routine, horses and saddles, and any man or woman who feels the same. Call this anything you like, I still love it, and I'll wager that behind many an ROTC gripe there is really a similar feeling, though it goes unadmitted.

In case of war, it is necessary for the government to use men of college age. Avoidance of military training will not keep an eligible man from duty. If you doubt this, study the government's plans for "M" day. If they need us, I want sufficient training on my record to go as an officer, and not as an enlistee. Since I could not program advanced military, the guard is my means of getting this extra training over and above basic ROTC. There are many practical benefits to be derived: 1. Skill with rifle and pistol. 2. Skill in horsemanship. 3. Skill in handling men and getting along with them under varied conditions. 4. Physical and mental development. Now add that the government pays me to enjoy these benefits. Do you still wonder why I joined the guards? Yours, J. C. Tr. "K," 116th Cavalry.

Boise Men Extend Gem "Good Will"

Dick Phinney, business manager of the Gem, returned from Boise after two days of contacting business men, highly pleased with results.

"The excellent cooperation and good will shown by the business men and the chamber of commerce were greatly appreciated," Phinney declared. "Our advertisement from the Boise chamber of commerce will be one-third larger than last year's."

Gem sales are picking up, Phinney stated, due to the good work of the group house representatives. Representatives for three more houses have been chosen. They are Ward Tiff and Fred Canfield for Idaho club, Cecil Bowyer for Campus club, and John Strickle for Chrisman hall. Two vacancies are still open for representatives for Willis Sweet hall.

All business staff representatives are asked to attend a meeting Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in the meeting room off the Blue Bucket cafeteria.

Utah Nabs First Extra Point

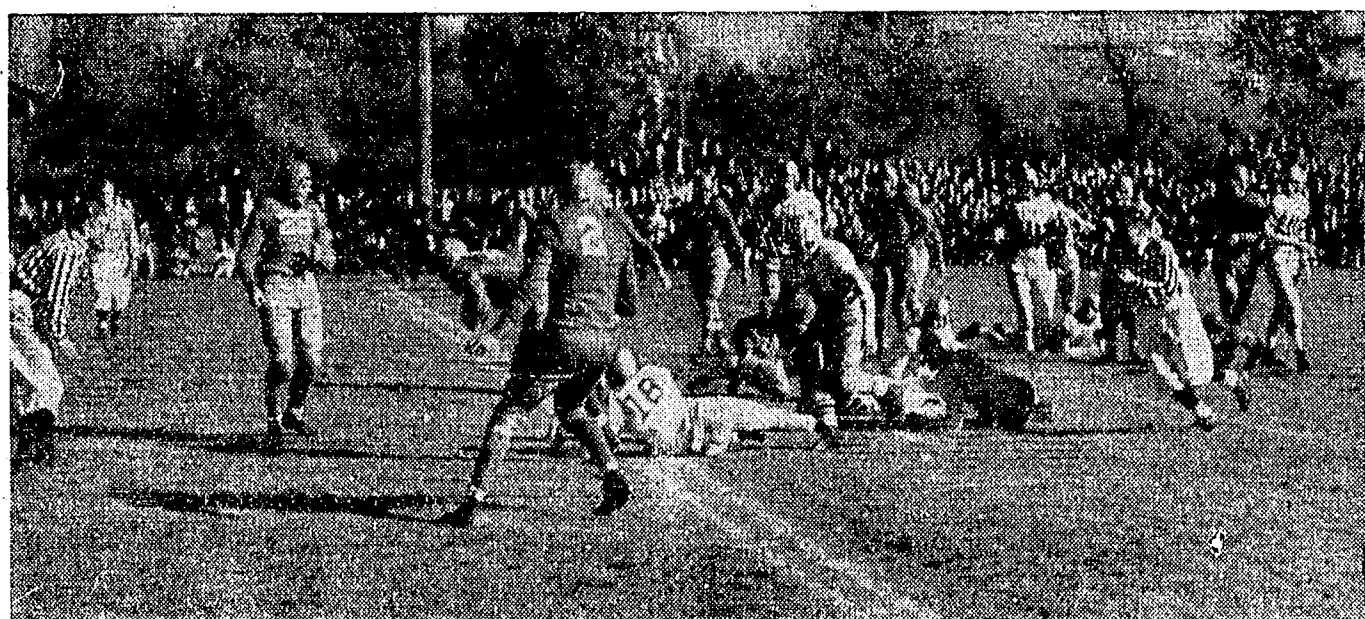

REDSKINS are pictured above making the first of five consecutive conversions against Idaho Saturday. Seven Prizes to Go To Best Talent In Amateur Hour

Auditions for the frosh amateur hour, November 2 at 7:15 p.m., will start this Thursday in the auditorium at 7 p.m., according to "Bow-Wow" Wojtkiewicz, class president. "Any student in the university is eligible to try out for the program. Anyone who wishes to do so should see me," said "Bow-Wow." "Seven big prizes and perhaps more will be awarded to the most talented contestants." The judges will be Wojtkiewicz and an executive board to be selected. Tickets at 15 cents will go on sale sometime this week at all houses and halls.

--DIRT-- by Dolly Van

Dirty Dolly woke up out of a blue funk this morning to reflect over the happenings of her Boise week-end. Incidentally, the school spirits at the game were mighty fine. And later on at the Congress club they were no less exuberant. Conspicuously present by their demonstration were Margaret Ward and Archie McDonnell aided and abetted by Tommy "I Get Around" Mercer and Betty Vealy.

A couple of oldsters who aren't back this year were pretty lively and I do mean Mary Lou Raymer and Jack Hammerland. Earl Gregory and Ailene Tru-nell were together again, and that deal looked pretty much cinched from where I was sittin'. Gus Rosenheim seems mighty interested in the l'il jewel he toted down, too.

Here ta' home the kids were really whoopin' it up at "Joel's Place," which is a very nice place—if you like outdoor plumbing. Francis Cannon and his companions were pretty busy all week-end at Wrights, that was just to keep the campus morale up, tho.

A mighty desperate boy is Bob Suteliff who says to Wanda Kimes, "Take my l'il Jewel or else—". There's a lotta purty gals frolicin' around in the Bucket lounge right now as Dotty taps away on a dirty typewriter, in keepin' with the latest.

Johnny Meese is spendin' a lotta his free moments and cash on the gorgeous Bonny Jean Jennings, (sucker). These romancin' bring to mind the flaming torch Bob Sover carried for l'il Jane Barrett last year, cuz I haven't even seen it flicker of late. Well, I'm tyin' up these loose ends for the day, and hopin' that the comin' week-end will bring new things, so if you make a mistake—make a big one.

Pre-Meds Honor New Initiates

Six new initiates to Alpha Epsilon Delta were honored at a banquet given by the Idaho Alpha chapter of the pre-med honorary Sunday, October 22 at Hotel Moscow. John Finley, president of the honorary, welcomed the new members of the club and spoke on the aims of the association which are to promote fellowship and understanding between the group and the local doctors and the faculty, and to assist the pre-medical students in their future careers. Guest speaker of the evening was Dr. C. F. Magee, prominent local doctor, who read a paper on the role of heredity in disease. Other special guests were Dr. D. M. Loehr and Dr. H. D. Cramer. The new initiates honored were Gerald Barton, Clyde Culp, Kirk David, Vernon Harris, Jake Harshbarger, Robert Murphy, Robert Revelli, and Ivan Thompson.

Frosh Hurl Tug-of-War Challenge

Wojtkiewicz and Classmates Question Spirit Of Sophomores in Proposing Battle For Idaho-Montana Halftime

To revive an old Idaho tradition in a new form, Stanley "Bow-Wow" Wojtkiewicz, freshman class president, invited freshmen yesterday to challenge sophomores to a tug of war to be staged during the half-time of the Idaho-Montana State game Saturday.

To lend impetus to the movement and to define the issues involved, one of the freshmen contributed the following challenge addressed to the sophomore class:

"We, the freshman class of the University of Idaho, have heard that Idaho has no school spirit. We don't believe it. It isn't the whole school at fault. It's the sophomores. We intend to prove such is the case by challenging the aforesaid class to meet us on the football field at half-time for a tug of war. If the sophomores don't show up, we will know and the campus will know that they are hiding their apathy under the cloak of sophistication.

"We don't expect them to appear, of course. We contend that the sophomores could be classified with the Moscow-Pullman road—tedious and boring and with a yellow streak up the middle. But if they do appear, we'll defeat them so thoroughly that even they may have sense enough to give us the right of way on sidewalks.

Accident Injures Local Students

A university student and two Moscow high school youths are recuperating today from injuries sustained when their sedan crashed into a pickup truck on a straight stretch of highway one mile north of New Meadows Friday, 7:30 p.m. The carload of students, on their way to the football game at Boise, was driven by Robert Einhouse, university senior.

The injured are Bill Campbell, high school student, a fractured collar bone; Einhouse, severe face and head lacerations and bruises; "Zip" Einhouse, Robert's brother, hip and back injuries. Campbell and the only one of the three pickup passengers who was hurt were taken to a Boise hospital. The Einhouse brothers were taken to Council, 30 miles from the scene of the accident, for treatment. Ernie Day, Frank Fowles, and Woody Reed, students riding in back seat of the sedan, were uninjured. The sedan, owned by Dr. Einhouse, was demolished. Glaring lights were given as the cause of the accident.

Bank Bills Scrimmage After Utah Debacle

It's nothing but practice and scrimmage for the Idaho Vandals this week as they make preparations to meet their traditional foes, University of Montana Grizzlies, Saturday at Neale stadium. Saturday will mark the Vandals' first appearance on their home field since their opening game of the season against Montana State's Bobcats, September 30.

Beaten on their last three road trips, Idaho faces a week of rigid practice in getting their offense and defense to clicking before the Grizzlie invasion, according to Coach Ted Bank. Besides being determined to crack the win column again, Idaho will be fighting to retain the coveted "little brown jug" which goes to the winner of each Vandal-Grizzlie gridiron battle. Montana has yet to see the stein, as Idaho has been the only winner since the trophy was originated.

Coach Ted Bank, upon returning to Moscow yesterday, gave high praise to the Utah Redskins.

"They are the best team we have played this year. I believe the Utes have one of the strongest teams on the Pacific coast. We just didn't have our stuff Saturday," the Vandal mentor said.

Anderson Hurt Again
Only major injury on the Idaho roster is Chace Anderson, who injured his knee in the Ute game. It is not certain whether Chace will see action in the Montana game or not. Tony Kamelevic, guard, who has been nursing an injured knee since the Montana State game, was injured on the first play of the game Saturday and it is doubtful whether he will play Saturday.

Coach Bank ran his charges through offensive drill last night and defense practice is on the grid menu for tonight for the Vandals. Pass offense and defense and smoothing out running plays will occupy the rest of the week's practice for the Bankmen.

Montana will bring a team that is crowded with sophomores this year. Few seniors are listed on the Grizzlie eleven. Outstanding in the Grizzlie sophomore backfield are Jack "Rabbit" Swarthout, 160, triple threat, E. Roberts, Naranche Brown, Strom, and Eryan. Coach Doug Ferenden places his hopes of victory in this backfield.

Utah Steamrollers Idaho
University of Idaho Vandals ran into a Utah university grid machine that was clicking like clockwork Saturday at Boise, and when the clicking was over they were on the short end of a 35 to 0 score. Completely overpowered both on the ground and in the air, Idaho could not find the range to match a highly geared

Vandal, Ute Try "Sit Down" Play

RUDY FRANKLIN (sitting), Vandal halfback, collaborates with a Utah Indian tackler in a "sit-down" play during the Utah-Idaho football game at Boise which ended 35 to 0 for the Utes. Jack McKissick (7), Ute quarter, is standing over the pair. Too late to block for his teammate is Merle Stoddard (44), Vandal quarter. Behind him is Sam Tobin (42), Utah end. Coming up from the other direction are Maurice Young (2), Idaho left half; Floyd Spendlove (28), Utah tackle; and Empire Lon Kump of Salt Lake City.

Ute team that was determined to break a two-year jinx held over them.

The game was only five minutes old when Utah pushed over their first touchdown, manufactured by running plays and long passes. The second Ute score came as the result of an Idaho fumble on the Vandal 38. The Redskins ran the ball over on straight ground plays.

Idaho's only flash of power came at the start of the second quarter. LaVern Bell, fullback, took the ball on the Vandal 27 and drove to the midfield stripe. Maurice Young, halfback, made 22 yards on the next play, going through the line straight up. Two more first downs came on four plays by Bell and Young, but the threat ended when Englekemp passed far into the end zone with no receiver near.

Utah's three other touchdowns were made through sensational passes and long runs coupled with fine blocking and deceptive playing by the Ute backs. Fumbles nullified several Idaho opportunities to score in the second half.

Trackmen Prepare For Busy Week

Inter-Class Meet Begins Today; Distance Men To Meet Montana

Idaho's fall track program will hit its full stride this week with the three-day inter-class meet on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, and the annual cross-country race with Montana Saturday morning.

More than 50 track men will take part in the inter-class affair in which this year's scrappy freshmen have already been established as favorites. The freshmen are strong in all events on the program, and only the juniors, led by Phil Leibowitz and Darrel Kerby, are given an outside chance to dump them. Outstanding event on the program should be the mile run in which Leibowitz locks horns with Vic Dyrvall and the new freshman star, Bob White.

Montana Stronger
Saturday's cross country race with Montana should not be a repetition of last year's race at and place their orders. Men in the halls and houses who did not make their purchases at the time the women canvassed the group may give their orders to the house president.

Missoula, where Idaho hung up a perfect score. Harry Adams' Grizzlies are a much more potent outfit this year, and Coach Mike Ryan has lost the backbone of the team that took the Coast championship last year. Trials to date would indicate that Tom Lacey, Garry Elder, Irv Alterwein, and Bob Dwyer will take the places left vacant by the graduation of Wes Lachen, Rex Fluharty, Pat Probst, and Fred Millette. However, these men lack the experience to make them topflight performers, according to the Vandal coach.

Following the fireworks will be the IK pre-Homecoming mixer at Memorial gymnasium. Included on the roster of events will be a floor show and the Pep band orchestra and soloists. Jim McFarland and Jack Fitzpatrick have charge of the mixer talent. Prizes for the best dressed man and woman in western attire will be presented at the dance Fri-

Vandal Eleven To Wage Battle For "Old Beer Mug"

Again the "Battle of the Old Beer Stein" will rage when the Vandals meet Montana university's Silver Tip Grizzlies Saturday. Starting a tradition between the schools, the antique beer mug was offered last year by Montana to the winner of the game, and each successive year it will be given to the victor.

The beer mug tilt calls to mind a similar tilt between the Universities of Minnesota and Michigan, who have had a "Battle of The Little Brown Jug" every year since 1902.

The oversize mug, now displayed in Memorial gymnasium, was presented last year to Ray Kaczmarek, tackle, and acting captain against Montana, by Coach Ted Bank after the Vandals crushed Montana 19 to 6.

Coach Ted Bank predicts that there will be a battle for the mug. He stated, "The offensive looks better. More yardage was made in the few times we had the ball last Saturday than in any previous game."

Tex Harrel, end, insists, "We'll beat 'em!" Dick Therrel, tackle, "We'll all be old men with whiskers if we don't win." Merle Stoddard, quarterback, "The team is ready to go!"

Price Bills Work For Yearlings

With scrimmage against the varsity yesterday, tonight, and tomorrow, along with working out a defense against the Gonzaga freshmen, who will run up against the freshman team November 4, Coach Walter Price predicted a full week for his yearling football squad.

The Babes will form a defense similar to that of the Montana Grizzlies Thursday evening in order to give the varsity an opportunity to work out their plays against the expected Montana defense.

Gonzaga work will begin Friday night, Price reported.

A large part of the freshman practice has been in the line of aerial attack, with the result that the Babes may take to the air in an effort to overcome the Spokane club.

Vandal Coach Lists Pre-Season Slate For Idaho Hoopmen

University of Idaho's basketball team will start its pre-season schedule December 1 with Whitman college here, Coach Forrest Twogood announced today. The Vandals will play five games at home and an equal number of games away from home in their pre-season schedule.

Coach Twogood announced the following schedule:

December 1, Whitman, here.
December 2, Willamette, here.
December 4, 5, Montana, Missoula.

December 8, Whitman, there.
December 12, Eastern Washington normal, there.

December 15, 16, Rubenstein (grads from the University of Oregon championship team of the last two years), here.
December 19, Gonzaga, here.
December 20, Gonzaga, here or at Coeur d'Alene.

December 30, Gonzaga, Spokane.

The team will practice two nights a week until November 6, when they will start practice every day. Three regulars who cavort for Ted Barik's football team will not start practice until after the first basketball game, states Coach Twogood. They are Ronnie Harris, "Chick" Atkinson, and Milo Anderson.

Socialites Enjoy Big Weekend

Multi-colored lollypops carried out the theme, "Suckers," at the Tau Kappa Epsilon pledge dance Saturday evening. Lollypops were hung from the arched doorway and lights and used to form the Greek letters, Tau Kappa Epsilon, in front of the orchestra pit.

Lollypops, on which caricatures of pledges were mounted, decorated symbolic pledge pins hung on the walls of the living room. A large illuminated pledge pin gave a soft light throughout the room.

Line drawings of pledges doing house work and a gold Teke crest decorated the orange cellophane programs. Robert McKinnon's orchestra played for dancing.

Patrons and patronesses included Mrs. Stella Keyes, Dean and Mrs. D. S. Jeffers, and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Ramstedt.

Paddles for ATOs

Hard wooden paddles formed the programs of the Alpha Tau Omega pledge dance Saturday.

Short wave radios amplified the music of Billy Gratton's orchestra throughout the dancing rooms.

Blue covered lights gave an indirect glow to the rooms which were decorated by blue paddles on which the pledge pin and pledges' names were emblazoned in silver.

"Patronizing" were Dean and Mrs. Ralph Farmer and Bernard Dimsdale.

Kites at Theta House

Theta kites of black and gold covered the walls of the Kappa Alpha Theta house Saturday for their annual pledge dance. Replicas of the black and gold pin with the name of a famous theatrical star tied to the black cord were used as programs.

Patrons and patronesses included Mrs. Charles F. Chessman, Miss Louise Stedman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Adams, Mr. and Mrs. John Cushman, and Albert Braun. Hud Nieman's orchestra played for dancing.

Autumn Comes to Forney

Richly colored autumn leaves reflected the fall season at the Forney hall dance Friday. Leaves covered the walls and lights and formed a background for a large basket of autumn flowers placed at the end of the living room.

Wine colored programs carried out the autumn color scheme. Music was furnished by Billy Gratton and his orchestra Mrs. Gladys Babcock, Miss Beryl McArthur, Prof. and Mrs. Hugo Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greene were patrons and patronesses.

Lindley Enjoys Carnival

Under a blue ceiling, members of Lindley entertained their guests at the fourth annual carnival dance Saturday evening. Streamers of gaily colored crepe paper hung from the walls, while posts were wound in red and blue.

An arrow cut-out decorated the white cellophane programs which were tied with gold cord. Joe Titus and his orchestra furnished music for dancing.

"Patronizing" were Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greene, and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Duffey.

Sig Chis Go to Troy

Gunny sack programs reflected the "farm" mode at the annual Sigma Chi barn dance Friday at Troy. Guests and members of Hud Nieman's orchestra were dressed in clothes suggestive of an old time barn dance.

During the intermission Marcia Gwinn was introduced as the "sweetheart of Sigma Chi" for this year.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. James Kalbus and Mr. and Mrs. Louis August.

Dance to Spokane Band

A harvest theme was carried out in decorations at the Kappa Sigma pledge dance Saturday. Corn shocks and pumpkins filled corners of the rooms, while scare crows peeped from behind doors.

A cut-out of an upperclassman with a paddle decorated the cork programs. Music was furnished by the "Escorts," Spokane orchestra.

Prof. and Mrs. A. L. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kerr, and L. F. Aldrich were patrons and patronesses.

Treble Cleft Chooses 35 New Singers

Thirty-five women were chosen for the Treble Cleft club, a group of women singers directed by Miss Jeannette Cass, last night.

The group meets every Monday and Friday eighth period and they have already started work on a group of numbers for a program to be given later in the year.

Sigma Chi Selects Marcia Gwinn

Marcia Gwinn, Kappa Kappa Gamma, became "the sweetheart of Sigma Chi" Sunday afternoon when she was presented with a jeweled sweetheart pin at a dinner honoring her at the Sigma Chi house. Sunday night Miss Gwinn was the recipient of a serenade given in her honor by the fraternity.

Announcement was made that Miss Gwinn had been chosen the dream girl Friday night at the fraternity's annual barn dance by Glenn Harding, Sig president, but formal presentation of the pin was not made until Sunday.

"Being chosen the sweetheart of Sigma Chi is the most wonderful thrill I have experienced, and I only hope that I will be able to live up to the honor which has been bestowed upon me," she said.

Since the contest apparently proved quite popular on the campus, Harding announced a similar event would be held in the fall of each year.

Seven outstanding future homemakers were tapped by Phi Upsilon Omicron, national professional home economics honorary, Thursday evening. During the dinner hour pledge ribbons were pinned on Goldie Manning, Patricia Keepings, Pauline Brady, Gwyneth Bales, Eileen Heath, Carol Rudd, and Imogen Boyer.

Membership is based on scholarship, leadership, and personality. Their aim is to promote interest in home economics.

All freshman home economics students are urged to attend their meeting on October 25, at 3 p. m., in room 304H, of the Administration building. A program will be provided.

Women Introduce "Hawkins" Day On Idaho Campus

A new minor national holiday will be observed on this campus next November 4 at the Idaho-Utah State football game when women of the campus vie for prizes on Sadie Hawkins' day, according to plans being sponsored by Cardinal Key.

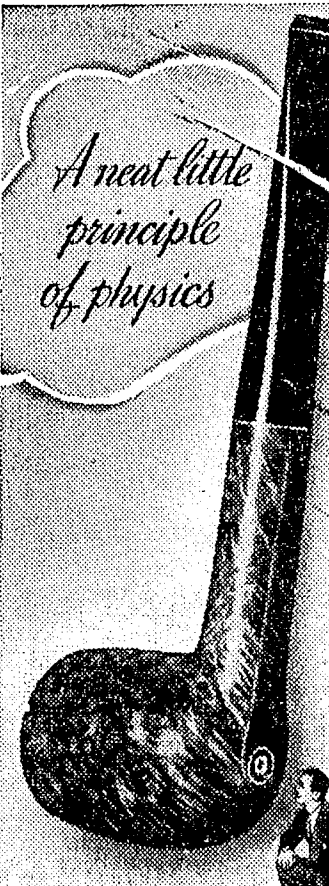

The holiday was inspired by an episode in the Li'l Abner comic strip, and since has been celebrated on college campi all over the United States and Canada.

Each women's group house and hall has been asked to select two representatives to vie for places in the Dogpatch, Ky., celebration where Daisy Mae, "Strange Gal," "Ma Yokum," and even "Sadie Hawkins" will hold sway instead of "Betty Co-Ed."

Plans have not as yet been completed for the entire celebration of Sadie Hawkins' day; however, everyone in the university should attend the Idaho-Utah State game on Sadie's day, when the prizes will be awarded.

CARBURETOR KAYWOODIE $4

In this Kaywoodie pipe, called the Carburator Kaywoodie, a wonderfully sweet-smoking pipe has been improved by the application of a neat little principle of physics. When you take a puff at one of these Carburator Kaywoodies, you automatically draw air in through a tiny inlet in the bottom of the bowl. That incoming air keeps the smoke cool, sweet and serene, no matter how beligerently you puff. In fact, the harder you puff, the more air comes in. That's why it's called a Carburator Kaywoodie. Everybody knows that a Kaywoodie is the most socially-conscious of pipes—gets itself admired everywhere. And the Kaywoodie Flavor is famous. But don't let us urge you—Shawn above, No. 22.

Spurs Prepare For Weekend

Spurs, service honorary for sophomore women, are this week busily completing plans for homecoming. Meetings will be held every noon this week in preparation for this event, Macky Colquhoun, president, announced.

Friday night spurs will sponsor the traditional serpentine through men's houses and halls on the campus. At a meeting Monday noon, it was decided that all spurs would go to annual homecoming mixer Friday night without dates. In this manner they can donate more time to seeing that everyone has a good time.

Annual Spur serenade from 12:30 to 2:30 o'clock Friday night will conclude the day. Both last year's Spurs and this year's Spurs will participate in the serenade which will visit each group residence on the campus. Dean Olson has granted 2:30 permission for this night.

Definite plans for serpentine have not as yet been made. Saturday afternoon members of honorary will resume their duties and sell carnal apples at the homecoming game.

Tobacco...opens Doors to Fields where People Live, Work & Achieve

Today there are about 1,000,000 cigar stores, drug stores, country and grocery stores where you can buy cigarettes in the United States. These retailers, and the jobbers who serve them, have built up a service of courtesy and convenience unmatched by any other industry catering to the American public's pleasure.

THERE ARE ANOTHER MILLION people who are engaged directly or indirectly in the transportation of cigarettes to every town, hamlet and crossroads.

IT IS ESTIMATED that there are 1,602,000 tobacco farmers raising tobacco in 20 out of the 48 states. Good tobacco is one of the hardest crops to raise and bring to market, requiring great skill and patience from seed-bed planting to harvesting and curing. The modern tobacco farmer has done well the job of constantly improving the quality of his product.

THE AVERAGE LENGTH of service of the 13,230 people working in the Chesterfield factories, storage houses, leaf-handling and redrying plants is over 10 years. This means that every step in the making of Chesterfields, regardless of how small, is handled by people who have had 10 years of experience and ability in knowing their jobs.

TRULY TOBACCO OPENS DOORS to fields where people live, work and achieve, and Chesterfield takes pride in its ever increasing part in this great industry that is devoted entirely to the pleasure of the American public.

TO SMOKERS, Chesterfield Cigarettes have always said, and now repeat, that in no other cigarette made can you find the same degree of real mildness and good taste, or the same high quality of properly cured and aged tobaccos. Chesterfield Cigarettes are made with one purpose only...to give smokers everywhere the Milder, Better-Tasting Smoking Pleasure they want. You can't buy a better cigarette.
