Noted Pacifist Presents Four Main Topics as Basis for Address

Mr. Page is recognized as one of the leaders in the peace movement in the United States.

Four central questions were presented on the hypothesis that the United States was involved in a war. The four questions were: "What will we do while we fight?" "What would we do with the army?" "What would we do with the enemy?" and "What would we do after the armistice?"

Youth Calls Strike Against War

Nationwide youth protests against possible American involvement in war are being called for Friday, April 19, at 11 a. m. (E. S.T.) it was announced by Miss Fay Bennett, executive secretary of the Youth Committee Against War, New York city. No strike is expected to occur on this campus, however.

Declaring that the strike is a "dress rehearsal for our course should we be shoved into a conflict which is not ours," the call urges students, farmers, workers, and all youth to "strike" against any mobilization.

The plan of protest is backed by such organizations as the Fellowship, National Council of Methodist Youth, Youth Committee Against War, and Student Peace Service.

Asserting that they "hold no brief for Hitler, Stalin, or any dictator," the sponsors declare that "United States involvement won't end dictatorship." Over one million young people are expected to participate in the strikes.

Thomas To Close Concert Season Tuesday Evening

Baritone Is Recognized for Wide Knowledge of Opera Hits

John Charles Thomas, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera, will present the last of the Community Concert series at Memorial gymnasium Tuesday, April 23, at 8 p.m. Holders of local community concert tickets and WSC and Idaho students will be given preferential seating and admission until 7:45 p.m.

Thomas made his start to fame when he was still a small boy. His father was a Methodist minister and his mother, a singer. The three made up an evangelistic trio for camp meetings. When a medical student at Conway hall, Carlisle, Pa., he was unexpectedly awarded a scholarship to Peabody conservatory in Baltimore. Faced with a tremendous decision as to whether medicine or music should be his career, he flipped a coin. Music won.

Chrisman Men Honor 'Grand Old Man,' Try To Revive School Tradition

Namesake Group Will Try To Inaugurate Chrisman Holiday Again

In an attempt to revive the neglected tradition of "Chrisman day," so faithfully observed by university students in the early 1900's, Chrisman hall last night entertained Mrs. E. R. Chrisman at a dinner in honor of her late husband.

April 18, 1898, Lieutenant Chrisman left for Spanish-American war duty. Men of the ROTC, nearly all of whom joined the colors, gave him an all-night farewell party before he left. Harry Lewies, freshman orator, told the group last night, speaking in honor of Chrisman's unselfish attitude and paying tribute to "Idaho's grand old man."

Featuring handlebar mustaches and bustles, the Junior week festivities got into full swing last night in a hilarious assembly and a mixer following. Three events still remain on the Junior program: judging house decorations, the prom, and the cabaret. On Wednesday evening the annual serenade was given at five central campus points.

holiday that was observed annually as "Chrisman day" until 1907—five years after Chrisman returned for his second term of duty here as a captain. Until the middle of the 1920's, the tradition lived on, but known then as "old guards' day."

The day was given over to the hilarity by the "old guards," first the Spanish-American war veterans and then the World War servicemen. Lewies last night stated that Chrisman hall would set aside April 18 of every year to pay tribute to its namesake and expressed the hope that the whole university would join in honoring the late beloved Chrisman who died last January.

Prom programs can be obtained at the Student Union building anytime this afternoon announces co-chairman Keith Hardin. The Blue Bucket ballroom will be decorated with flowers of all sizes, shapes, and colors tonight for the prom, according to Hardin.

Sharing the highlight with the floorshow in the cabaret tomorrow night will be the rare opportunity of having pictures taken on a linyne photo with silhouette cardboard figures of an old-fashioned man and a woman as a background. A hole is cut in the cardboard figure through which the subject will stick his head to get "snapped," according to Walt Gugnoni, cabaret co-chairman.

The floorshow will begin at 10 o'clock sharp, Gugnoni announces, with the Floradora sextette expected to take top honors for crowd approval. The cabaret will be decorated as the interior of an 1890 Bowery barroom—"O'Looney's bar."

House decorations, lending atmosphere to the Junior week celebration, will be judged this noon, according to general chairman Sennett Taylor. The house decorations will be judged on suitability to the "Gay Nineties Revue" theme and originality.

Starring Sammy Zingale as Professor Whiz in the first act of the student-written skit, "U Daze," the assembly depicted typical life in the university classroom in 1895. The second act also depicted a phase of student activity in 1895, the popular downtown saloon. Musical numbers were headlined by Zingale's comical interpretation of the current song hit, "She Had to Go and Lose It Near the 'I' Tank," and "The Pink Police Gazette," by a men's quartette.

Singing on the more serious side were Con Borreson; "In My Merry Oldsmobile," and Betty Bollinger, "My Man." Tap dances by Bob Reagle, an accordion solo by Shirley Campbell, a Floradora sextette by six buxom athletes, and a comedy act completed the program of the second act.

Amendment Comes After Deadline

A proposed amendment designed to include the office of the alumni secretary with regular ASUI officers was submitted yesterday by Stanley Wojtkiewicz for inclusion on the ballot at the ASUI election April 25.

ASUI President Walt Olson said he was unable to accept the amendment because the constitution requires that all amendments must be published in the Argonaut at least a week before elections. He said he would be "unwilling, in any case, to accept the proposal in its present indefinite form."

The proposed amendment came out of a meeting of house and hall representatives called by Wojtkiewicz. It follows:

"Resolved that Article II, Section 1 of the Constitution of the ASUI be and hereby is amended to read as follows:

"The officers of the ASUI shall be a President, a Vice President, a Secretary, and an Alumni Secretary.

"That Article III shall be amended to read as follows:

"Clause 4. The Secretary of the Alumni shall have complete control of and create an Alumni Placement Bureau; That he shall compile and keep a directory of alumni; that he shall have charge of alumni entertainment at homecoming; and that he shall faithfully execute these and any other duties that the alumni board will see fit to entrust to him.

"He shall go into office June 1, 1941."

Guild Organizes Years Plans

Ideas for an interesting and progressive program for next year was the theme of the monthly dinner meeting of Westminster Guild held at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. Dean D. S. Jeffers spoke on "That Which We Have in Our Hand."

He stated that to fit into the situation right now where we are needed, instead of waiting for something big to come along, is the most valuable use of your life. If the individual will evaluate himself and then use his good points, his life will be worth living, he said.

Program for the evening consisted of a vocal selection by Marian Partner and a piano solo by Katherine Reed. Elizabeth Bracken was in charge of devotions.

"Do you serve women at this bar?"
"Nope, you got to bring your own."

Cops Corral Cutups Carting Clothes Of Comrades

A sweet little prank engineered by Gamma Phi Beta sorority underclassmen and supported by members of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity turned sour last Tuesday when the city police force stole the cue in the last act.

When Gamma Phi Beta seniors took their annual sneak Monday, underclassmen retaliated by playfully pinching a dozen or so suits and skirts off their missing sorority sisters. The loot was turned over to Tau Kappa Epsilon members to be "sold" back to its owners when they visited the T.K.E. house Tuesday night for an exchange dinner.

Not until city police armed with a search warrant marched up the T.K.E. house walk with irate losers under the "borrow and buy" plan, did its occupants realize they were holding the bag.

Shaky T.K.E. members hastily gathered up the "hot" clothing and deposited it at the Gamma Phi house via several side windows.

stubs remain in the book. Each ballot is numbered on the back and the same number appears on the stub. Each voter is given a number in the poll book corresponding to the number on the ballot he receives. After marking the ballot, he is required to fold it so the number is visible.

By checking the ballot number with the number on the stub, the election officer can be sure that the ballot deposited in the box is the same as the one received by the voter before entering the booth.

Though it is possible to determine how the voter votes under this system, Olson explained, the danger that the secrecy of the ballot will be violated is slight, because the ballots can usually be checked only on a court order.

Secretary Hull has now warned Tokyo that any Japanese move toward the Netherlands East Indies would meet with the strong disapproval of the United States. The French government has greeted Hull's words of firmness with enthusiasm. London is still to be heard from, but we can be certain that the British welcome any American promise to help in preserving the status quo in the Orient. The Allies don't want to see Japan take a commanding position in the Far East while they are embroiled in the European conflict; it would be grand, for them, to have Uncle Sam police the western Pacific and keep the Japs in their place.

Tokyo has had a number of American "warnings" in the past decade. Hull sounded grim but he didn't come to an actual threat. The Japanese realize that the war in Europe is making the American people more anxious than ever to keep out of war. The Gallup Polls testify to this. There is widespread sympathy for the Chinese in their gallant struggle against the Jap invaders, but public opinion in this country has not forced a stoppage in the shipment from our shores of vital materials that keep the Japanese war machine from collapse. Has our secretary of state any ground for believing that the American people would be ready for a long and costly war against Japan—if the Tokyo government should decide to assume a type of control over the Netherlands' East Indian empire?

Doubtless Hull hopes to face down the Japanese by a display of firmness. It is possible that he is threatening the use of an embargo on shipments to Japan. Such a move by the United States would work great hardship on Japan; there is no doubt but that the Tokyo authorities fear that we may in time come to that type of drastic action. On the other hand, the opposition of certain business and manufacturing groups to a mild form of embargo on American exports to Japan, in the past six months, is an indication that pressure from these groups might keep congress from voting an anti-Japanese embargo, even in the event of a Japanese thrust at the Dutch East Indies. The generals and admirals at Tokyo may feel that the dignified head of our state department has some pretty good cards—but not quite good enough.

Students Show Religious Interest

Forty Per Cent Attend Church Regularly; Twelve Per Cent Never Attend Survey Shows

As church-goers, American college students give themselves a good grade. A national poll of the Student Opinion Surveys of America just completed reveals:

1. Only one-eighth declare they never attend church; 40 per cent say they go regularly.
2. A majority state they go to church more often or at least about the same as they did before they came to college.

The poll, taken by personal interviewers from coast to coast, provides the first complete answer to the significant question often asked: Do college students lose some of their religiousness when they leave home? A good number, 46 per cent, admit they attend services less often than they did before they arrived on the campus.

What may be surprising to some is that 15 per cent of the students say they are now going to church more often than when they were home.

Catholics appear in the results as the least apt to change their habits on religion upon leaving their homes, and they take honors for regular church-going.

Tabulations of church-attendance habits for the entire college and university enrollment of the nation are given below. It should be considered that Jewish church services often conflict with campus social life and scholastic schedules; thus the lower attendance shown than for Gentiles:

Do you attend church regularly, only occasionally, or never?

	All	Prot.	Cath.	Jew	Other
Regularly	40%	39%	75%	9%	24%
Occasionally	48	54	20	67	55
Never	12	7	5	24	21

Here's More About— Tomlinson

last election by a house just to see how the "boys" were doing. He also said that the board checked on persons of whom they were suspicious.

Olson attempted to speak for a moment and Tomlinson told him that he was no dictator and that if he wanted to talk he had to get down from the president's chair and talk from the floor.

"I've got the floor and I can keep it all night. You recognized me," said Tomlinson.

Claiming that he was only trying to get rid of some of the evils of the present system, Tomlinson asked why the numbers should be on the ballots, and was told that they were an added check.

Tomlinson Hits Campus Politics
Tomlinson branded campus politics as "This childish system that sends out 'would-be' politicians to get their fingers burned in county elections two years after they get out of here."

Olson asked if Tomlinson could prove there had been ballots traced in the last election. Tomlinson asserted that he knew persons on the election board who had done it. He and Eddie Lowe started out to prove the tracing. While they were gone "Bow Wow" gave his report.

Back into the fray came Tomlinson to ask if anything would be done if the fellows were brought in. Olson replied, "You're darn right I'm going to do something." Tomlinson refused to bring anyone in to have him "crucified" by Olson, and then made pointed remarks laying the blame for ballot checking at Olson's feet.

Tomlinson asked Olson if he would accept a motion that numbers be left off the ballots at the next election. Olson said he would. Saying that it didn't make any difference and that the motion would not pass, Bill presented the motion. Fae Harris seconded. The motion was lost as McGowan, Shaver, Caccia and Clark opposed, and Harris, Lowe, and Tomlinson supported.

A short discussion followed during which Olson said that the motion could be reconsidered later. Gale Mix told the board that it must decide by Saturday as the ballots must go to the printer then.

Before the heavy discussion got underway, an amendment to the proposed amendment was moved by Tomlinson after Olson declared the chair would accept such a motion. The change makes the proposed amendment read that junior and senior major sport managers will get eight inch chevrons in the color of the sport on their left sleeve. The Amendment had formerly proposed six-inch chevrons. The amendment comes up for vote next week.

W. S. C. Trackmen Invade Idaho; Vandal Nine Plays

Odds Favor Cougars In Saturday's Meet

Idaho will open the conference track season tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in a dual meet with Washington State college on MacLean field. Although the Cougars were badly beaten by California last Saturday, they are still one of the strangest track outfits in the nation and are heavy favorites over the injury-ridden Vandal outfit which barely sneaked in ahead of Whitman last week, according to Coach Mike Ryan.

Injuries Riddle Vandals
With at least half a dozen of his best men on the injured list, Coach Ryan believes the Pullmanites can expect to get little more than a workout.

Since the indoor season started, Idaho has been hit by injury after injury. LaVerne Bell, northern division discus champion, and Maurice Young, Idaho's best sprinter and quarter miler, are definitely out of the meet. Bell is stopped with an appendicitis operation, and Young with a pulled leg muscle. Hurdler Ralph Garst, who broke a small bone in his foot, and Chuck Humphrey, who strained a leg muscle in indoor training, will be making their first outdoor appearance Saturday.

Flechner Out of Meet
Although they will probably compete Saturday, pole vaulters Chuck McHarg and George Makela are recovering from injuries received last week. Idaho's 6-foot 4-inch high jumper, will be out of the meet with a spiked foot. Washington State will pit Dixie Garner, Bill Dale, and Lee Orr

Par Hounds Tramp 3400 Miles Of Fairways

Golf playing students of the university have walked the distance equal to a transcontinental journey across the United States since last Friday, estimates Francis James, golf pro. Approximately 2,000 rounds of golf have been played since Friday. The course is 3,100 yards long, so the golfers have walked 3,400 miles in less than a week.

"The fairways are in good shape and the greens are improving slowly," says Mr. James. They were responsible for placing W.S.C. fourth in the national picture last spring. To support this strength, they have shot putters Cox, Rowsell, and Londos, pole vaulters Feeley and Perie, and discus thrower Stone. In the runs they will be backed by Bob Littlejohn, Herb Lang, and Noel Williams.

Strong In Weights
To oppose this strength, the Vandals will have Phil Leibowitz, Vic Dyrgall, Dick Slade, and Bob Neal in the distance runs. Doug Schow, Sted Johnson and Chuck Humphrey are Ryan's nominations in the sprints, and Ray Suonimen in the hurdles. Idaho's field event department is considered stronger than the Cougars with Vernon James in the high and broad jumps, Darrell Kerby, George Makela, and Chuck McHarg in the pole vault, and Emory Howard, Dave Ellison and Paul Ryan in the weight events.

Erin's Prize Crew

Twin Falls To Meet Vandal Ball Club

Last home game before the Vandal baseball nine begin their big road circuit will be played this afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Twin Falls entry in the Pioneer league furnishing the competition. A double-header will be played with the Lewiston Normal teachers tomorrow afternoon at Lewiston, Coach Twogood said yesterday.

Snyder Will Pitch
Dick Snyder, sophomore pitcher who has set fans talking in earlier workouts, will open in the pitcher's box for Idaho this afternoon with Whitey Price, veteran backstop, catching Snyder's slants. Playing a relief role, if needed, will be Reuben "Red" Thompson and Merle Lloyd, both newcomers to the Vandal aggregation.

The Vandals will leave Moscow Thursday for the beginning of a six-game road trip. Idaho meets Washington at Seattle April 26 and 27. The swing carries the Vandals over to Eugene for a two game series April 29 and 30. Oregon State will play Idaho May 1 and 2 at Corvallis. The Vandals will return to Moscow following the Oregon games and will have about three days to rest up from their travels before meeting Washington State at Pullman on May 6.

Spokane Licks Vandals
The Spokane Hawks handed Coach Twogood's club a 10-4 licking Wednesday, but in spite of a make-shift infield the Vandals played fairly good ball against the Class B professionals. "Chick" Atkinson sprained his ankle to create the infield problem. Twogood had little time to fit a new player to second base but he opened the game with Roy Ramey, third baseman, at second. Harris shifted in from the field to third and Otis "Rook" Hilton stayed in his usual spot at first. Bob Smith played his regular position at short.

Six Golfers Meet W.S.C. Saturday

Favored to defeat their cross-border rivals, a six-man squad of Idaho golfers will meet the Washington State divot diggers tomorrow afternoon on the Cougar course in the second conference tilt of the season for the Vandals. An intensive ladder tournament, in progress all week, determined the six men who will bear the Gem State colors in tomorrow's tussle, according to Coach Dr. "Butch" Boyer. One change in the Idaho lineup may be forthcoming before tee-off time, but the starting lineup given to the Argonaut last night was as follows: Jack Walton, Hud Nieman, Bob Smith, Louie Kramer, John Rawlings, and Ed Clarkson.

'Mural Sports by "Dewie" Allen

Intramural track will get under full swing next Monday at Neale Stadium when a bevy of trackmen will strut their stuff. Scheduled for Monday afternoon are the preliminaries in the 140-yard high hurdles, 50-yard dash, 600-yard run and the 100-yard dash. Finals for intramural track are scheduled for Monday April 29.

The outcome of intramural track will go far to determine the winner of the grand trophy presented at the end of the year for the house or hall amassing the greatest total of points. It is in track that Willis Sweet must gain back the 45 points lost to Phi Delta Theta in swimming. Willis Sweet is hoped to take the track and field contests, but whether or not they can overcome the Phi Delt's 45 point lead depends upon the Division B leaders' strength in the old Greek sport.

Four Sports Remain
Besides track, horseshoes, golf, and softball remain on the intramural program. Golf and horseshoes are minor sports and receive 100 points for first place. Softball is the last major sport to be run off, but the Phi Delt and Willis Sweet will not compete against each other in this sport, leaving track as the last sport for Willis Sweet to gain the necessary points on the trophy-bound Phi Delt.

Intramural track schedule:
Tuesday, 4:15 p.m. at Neale Stadium: 300-yard run, 120-yard low hurdles, 600-yard relay.
Wednesday, 4:15 p.m. at Neale Stadium: 60-yard high hurdles, 50-yard dash, 600-yard run, 100-yard dash, 120-yard low hurdles.
Thursday, 4:15 p.m. at McLean field: Pole vault finals, high jump finals, and shot put finals.
Friday, 4:15 p.m. at McLean field: broad jump finals.
Monday, Neale stadium, 4:15 p.m. Finals in 60-yard high hurdles, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 300-yard run, 120-yard low hurdles, and 600-yard relay.

Demonstrations for poultry and grain have yet to be scheduled.

Bank Lists Four Back Outfits

Well into the first week of scrimmage, Coach Bank's varsity football squad is stressing offensive action today but will get regular game scrimmage tomorrow.

"Both the backfield and line," said Coach Bank, "are showing up better than any time during a game last year, but I'm still not satisfied. The men who can block are the men who will play the game."

shop around." But either the practice of letting contracts should be abandoned and open competition encouraged, or effective measures should be taken to eliminate chiseling after award of the contract. Jason, personally, believes that as long as a contract is awarded by the senior class that class members should show their support by buying the official announcement.
