

Alumni Association

Overshadowed in the last ASUI elections by the egg tossing and the possibility of a woman reigning over the student body was an embryonic proposal backed by Stanley "Bow Wow" Wojkiewicz to rejuvenate the languishing university alumni association.

Since he was scholastically dethroned last January, the ex-kingfish had parleyed about the campus with the idea. This was the big deal about which he often mysteriously expounded.

Wojkiewicz went to work on his "plan" just before the elections. He contacted house presidents, but those worthies sent representatives to Bow Wow's meetings. The one time freshman kingfish, however, got out a petition to amend the ASUI constitution to include, among other things, an alumni secretary along with other student body officers.

The petition secured the required signatures, but President Walt Olson refused to put the amendments to the ballot as it had arrived after the deadline. He objected also to the indefiniteness of some of the provisions.

Bow Wow, however, was not the first to realize that the anemic organization of busy alumni needed a healthy outside stimulant. Unable to whip the apathy of the average graduate into healthy interest in their alma mater, alumni head men decided to have a look at the machinery of the successful alumni associations at nearby institutions.

The best way to turn a new graduate into an enthusiastic alumnae, they found, is to help him find a job. An enlarged replacement bureau sufficient to help students finishing in all branches of the university was therefore recognized as needed.

A tentative plan provides that students be charged 50 cents each semester during the customary four years in college for a paid up membership in the alumni association. Washington State college has had a similar plan in operation since 1934.

The funds received would defray the expense of a full time alumni secretary who would divide his time between the placement bureau and contact work with alumni groups throughout the state.

This fleeceer feels that if Idaho is ever to be strong athletically or financially, the alumni must be welded together first.

Students may not like the proposition of upping their registration fees, yet most will agree that this would be the most efficient method of financing an alumni association.

Botanists Depart For Field Trip

Sixty botany students piled into three trucks at 5 o'clock this morning, and left for a three-day field trip to Central Idaho to study flora. After a Sunday morning quiz, the group will return to the campus.

Dr. Floyd W. Gail, head of the department of biology, and Miss Vada Allen, botany instructor, head the party that will arrive at O'Hara's ranger station on the Selway river sometime today.

The group is divided into committees for camp work, with each student taking his turn at tasks. Committee groups include commissary officers, quartermasters, collectors, and a fiscal officer.

Spring Concert Ends Year's Program For Singing Group

Concluding their program for the year, the Vandaleers under the direction of Prof. Archie N. Jones, presented their annual Spring concert in the university auditorium last night. Violin solos by Prof. Carl Claus, instructor in violin, a comic vocal duet by Alice Roberts and Ralph Woodward, and numbers by a violin quartet consisting of JoAnne Treiner, Billie Furey, Patricia Churchill, and Marlan Partner were special features of the concert.

The concluding selection sung by the Vandaleers, a negro spiritual, "Ride the Chariot," was vigorously encored by the audience.

Honoraries Will Tap Pledges Saturday

Mortar Board, Cardinal Key, Silver Lance, and Spurs will take part in the annual May Fete to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Administration building lawn. Rachel Braxtan will reign as queen, attended by Marjorie Schlake as maid of honor, and Vera Nell James, page. Four tiny flower girls will be included in the court of honor.

The procession will form at the side door of the administration building with Miss Braxtan and her court followed by members of the Mortar Board, Cardinal Key, Silver Lance and Spurs. After the queen has been escorted to her throne, Spurs will perform the traditional dance around the Maypole.

Pledging to Follow

Following the dancing, members of Spurs will introduce Spur pledges for the coming year. Tapping for Spurs will take place Saturday morning. Each girl chosen will wear spurs at the ceremony.

Cardinal Key members will then take their turn by going through the crowd and pinning the red and yellow pledge ribbons on the chosen ones.

Mortar Board will then announce their selection of women for membership in that organization next year. Silver Lance, men's honorary will also announce its pledges.

Mothers of university students will be honored at a tea at Willis Sweet hall following the pageant between 4 and 5:30 p. m. Newly-elected officers of AWS will pour. Dean Beatrice Olson, Mrs. Harrison C. Dale, Miss Braxtan, and Ann Maguire will be in the receiving line.

Miners To Travel 800 Miles On Field Jaunt

Thirteen senior mining students will travel 800 miles to look over mining equipment, study underground work in the mines and inspect processes in mills and smelters on their annual senior inspection trip, according to William Staley, assistant professor of mining.

Vernon Scheid, assistant professor of geology, and Professor Staley will accompany them.

Variety in Itinerary

Their itinerary includes stops at mines in Selmo, B. C., Metaline Falls, Wash. and Wallace. Wednesday they will visit the Morning mine and mill at Mullan. Thursday the group will inspect the Hecla mine and mill at Burke, and the Sunshine property on Big creek. The students will look over mining operations near Kellogg Saturday and Sunday.

4-H Club To Carry On Old Ideals

A meeting will be held May 15 at 7:15 p. m. in Science 110 to organize all former 4-H club members into an organization, according to Russell Fisher, president of the Ag club, which is sponsoring the move.

The club will be designated to stimulate interest in agriculture and home economics among former 4-H club members, Fisher said. The need for such an organization has been felt for some time, and the movement is supported by the faculty, he added.

Songsters Brush Up Selections For Annual Sing

Sigma Chi's Draw First Place on Songfest Program

Chorus groups have haunted the auditorium to get in final practices this week for the annual songfest competition, which will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the auditorium. The affair is sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha and Sigma Alpha Iota, men's and women's music honoraries.

Co-chairs Alice Roberts and Jack Fitzpatrick announced the drawings for position in the contest as follows: Sigma Chi, Forney hall, Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Nu, Alpha Phi, Alpha Chi Omega, Gamma Phi Beta, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, and Kappa Kappa Gamma. Delta Delta Delta has withdrawn.

Judges will be Miss Myrtle Leonard and Robert Walls, members of the music department faculty, and Mrs. Dorothy Jacoby.

Cups will be awarded to the winning groups.

Hulas To Feature Assembly Skit For Freshman Glee

A combination of hula girls and a group of ship-wrecked sailors will be brought together for the Frosh Glee week assembly next Wednesday evening in the auditorium, according to Don Rice, general chairman, Bob Burggraf was named master of ceremonies for the event last night.

Enlisting talent from freshmen the assembly committee has prepared a program centering around theme "Hawaiian Lei Days."

Featuring a group of sailors marooned upon a desert island with a boy of hula maidens, the assembly will consist of eight numbers, both comic and instrumental, to fit the skit written by Don Liljenquist.

Lets To Be Genuine

For atmosphere and technical advice the Frosh obtained the services of Terence O'Rouark, who is a native of the islands. O'Rouark will highlight one part of the assembly with a selection of "pidgin" English for which the island natives are famous.

Actual hula skirts, palm trees and genuine leis have been promised by the committee.

Rice announced yesterday that any student desiring to provide his date with a lei direct from the islands, may do so by calling him at Christmas hall. The flowers will be flown direct to the mainland by a Pan-American Clipper and rushed to Moscow.

Freshmen Import Leis for Dance

While ordering 500 Hawaiian leis for free distribution at the Hawaiian Lei Days dance May 17, Del Schock, program chairman for Frosh Glee week, and Helen Skjersaa were struck with the idea of "what is a lei?" They knew of it being a garland of flowers which was strung around the neck of an American tourist, standing on a boat rail.

With the aid of a dictionary they discovered that a lei is made from the flowers of the Lehua tree, which is profuse in the South seas. The flowers are bright red, when in blossom, and have been adopted as the Hawaiian floral emblem.

The lei is made by weaving the flowers and a mixture of leaves in-

Originality Sprices Dance Show Of Taps, Terps

WAA Presents 10-Scene Annual Program Tonight At Auditorium

The curtain will rise at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the auditorium on the twelfth annual presentation of Taps and Terpsichore, sponsored by WAA. Members of men's and women's dancing classes and women's tumbling classes are in the cast.

The show is divided into ten distinct parts. An exhibition of tumbling, pyramids, and stunts is first on the program. Part II depicts the life of a college student during a typical day, a tap routine including "Start the Day Right," "The Book Worm," "Some Go to Military," "And Some to P. E.," "An Apple for the Teacher," "A Coke Date," and "Star Gazing."

Mexican Excitement

Mexican folk dancing features the next movement with such offerings as "Los Viejos—Dance of the Old Men," "Danza de Los Tecomates" and "La Cucaracha." Part IV is a review of modern dance techniques, part V the "Impressions of a Balinese Dance."

With music arranged especially by the two pianists, Saxon Schneider and Harriette Kellis, a satirical piece is next shown on the "Fables of Women" including the "salon of body sculpture" and "Kibitzer" followed by Finnish folk dances.

The finale is a dance arrangement and special musical number of "Finlandia," the hymn by Jan Sibelius.

Count Shows 83,037 Books In University Library

First count ever to be made of the books in the university library was completed recently by an NYA student from the office of Herbert J. Wunderlich, dean of men. Using only the card files in the law library and the main library, the counter found the number of accessioned books totaled 83,037 volumes.

This does not include the bound periodicals, which have been estimated at 25,000 volumes, bringing the total number of books in the library well over 100,000 volumes.

The count was made by counting the cards in the library shelf lists, which represent the books in the library. Estimated time for the count was 65 hours.

Numbers Show Subjects

Library books are classified according to their content and are numbered from 000 to 1000 in ten classifications. Numbers 000 to 99 refer to miscellaneous books; 100 psychology and philosophy; 200 religion; 300 sociology and education; 400 language and philology; 500 science; 600 useful arts; 700 fine arts; 800 literature; and 900 history and geography.

The count showed there are 813 volumes of language and philology, 1,543 miscellaneous, 1,550 religion, 1,669 psychology and philosophy, 2,891 fine arts, 6,347 history and geography, 6,591 science, 10,791 sociology and education, 11,175 useful arts, and 15,925 literature books.

In the law library are 11,399 volumes, and the few periodicals that have been accessioned (numbered and cards placed in the shelf lists) total 14,343 volumes.

Next count which will be made will probably result from the work of the Northwest library association in connection with the bibliographic center at Seattle.

Gaskill Represents Idaho as Queen In Contest

In the current number of Movie and Radio Guide magazine, prominent on the Blue Bucket bulletin board is a picture of Alice Gaskill, Idaho education junior.

Miss Gaskill, Delta Delta Delta, is one of 48 contestants picked to compete in Paramount Pictures' national contest for All-American college queen. Readers of the magazine will vote to choose 12 finalists, who will go to Galesburg, Ill., for final judging. While at Galesburg, they will attend the national premiere showing of "Those Were the Days," a motion picture of college life.

Well-known artists will do final judging at Galesburg; determine who shall be queen and receive free tour of Hollywood and a talent audition for picture week.

Leonard Will Sing At Concert Thursday Night

Miss Myrtle Leonard, Idaho voice teacher whose concert engagement in Vienna was cut short by Hitler's conquest of Austria in 1938, will be presented in a formal concert by the music department next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. Miss Ardith Ries will be her accompanist.

Miss Leonard still shivers when she recalls Austria's disappearance as a nation. She said she spent days and nights in seething excitement, uncertainty and fear, then got news that Nazi troops had crossed the frontier, and that Hitler himself was coming.

She and other guests at the Imperial hotel were given 10 minutes notice to leave. Hitler and his retinue were taking it over. At a nearby hotel—and she had to pay at both—she watched all day from a balcony as the German army marched in. German officers, sabbard scarred and cruel looking, she said, soon jammed the second hotel. An American friend rescued her, and at her home she heard Gestapo agents, checking up on everyone, repeatedly heckle a ter-

Twenty To Enroll In Auto Course

Twenty students will be enrolled in the 2-credit traffic safety and automobile operation training course that will be offered for teachers attending summer school. The course is offered with the cooperation of the American, Inland, and Idaho State automobile associations. Driving experience is a prerequisite. It will train teachers in how to teach others.

Presentation of the text materials will be in the classroom, while work on the road will be conducted in a dual-control driver training car. The dual-control consists of auxiliary clutch and brake pedals to enable the instructor to assume control if necessary.

Two certificates will be available, one for student-teachers satisfactorily completing a driver training course, and one for students satisfactorily completing a driver training course in high school. Charges for the course are included in the $15 summer school fee.

The course will be conducted by J. D. Youngman, head of the Industrial Arts department, North Central high school, Spokane.

Experts Interest Swimming Fans

Thirty expert swimmers of the Hell Diver's club swished, swam, dived, and clowned in the university pool last night and Wednesday night when they presented their annual carnival.

Conducted by Joe Allegretti, master of ceremonies, the program included swimming formations, men's and women's relay races, clown races and a censored beauty contest. Represting Sammy the Salmon and Bertie the Goldfish, Wally Ulness and Pat Safra-nek presented a skit. Six members gave an exhibition of form strokes.

A swimming duet by Virginia Dole and Frank Carpenter, replaced by Marsh Hyde last night; lighted exhibition diving by Jack Le Favor, and a lighted "I" formation in the darkened pool concluded the program.

Rush Week To Begin May 26; All Houses Participate

Rush week for spring pledging will commence May 26 and last until May 31 when hall women will go to their selected houses and receive pledge ribbons. Each sorority is allowed one rush party. Two parties will be sponsored each day until May 30, Memorial day, which will be a silence day. Pledging will be at 4 p. m. Friday.

Previous to rush week, sororities may have hall women to dinner twice a semester. There will be no week of silence before pledging this year. No written invitations will be sent out. Rushes will be called on the telephone and invited to attend dinners or firesides, and acceptances will be made then. Preferences for pledging will go through Dean Olson's office. Final bids must be in Dean Olson's office by 8:30 a. m. Friday.

At the Panhellenic meeting Tuesday, summer and fall rushing was also discussed. Dean Olson was present and offered suggestions for carrying out penalties for breaking of Panhellenic rules. Panhellenic will meet next Tuesday to vote on additions to last year's rules after representatives have discussed changes with their respective group houses.

Schedule for spring parties is as follows: May 26, Pi Beta Phi will have a dinner and Gamma Phi Beta a fireside, May 27, Alpha Chi will have a dinner and Delta Gamma a fireside; May 28, Delta Delta Delta will have a dinner and Kappa Kappa Gamma a fireside; May 29, Alpha Phi will have a dinner and Kappa Alpha Theta a fireside. Dinners will be from 6 to 8 p. m. and firesides from 8:30 until 10 p. m.

Dear Dol:

Please enter Margaret Rice in your contest "MOST DATING GAL." The following comments will show why she should be seriously considered.

1. The fact that she is a senior has unique reasons in itself. First of all, she is one of a very few women who does not go steady (why, I do not know) and proves it by dating many different people. And, although she is a sorority girl, she does not date fraternity men alone, but independents as well.

Since she is a senior, she enjoys the privileges of 10:30 permission—and I do mean enjoy because she uses it every week night. And it seems 10:30 is hardly late enough—especially when she has two dates for one night. Also, invariably on Sunday, she finds herself figuring out some way in which to accept two dates.

2. Other evidence that she is very much the dating girl is the fact that I know she keeps a date book. And even at that, more than once I've known her to be caught with two dates for the same night.

3. I understand she has a policy not to date the same person more than twice in a row, consequently she dates different fellows, as many as one in each house. Right now, she is concentrating on the Piji's, Delta Chi's, S.A.E.'s, and Beta's, besides a certain town fellow.

4. Her dating keeps her plenty busy—especially when she has to go clear to Spokane or Lewiston to keep dates. And when her out-of-town friends unexpectedly arrive on the campus, she really has to rush to accommodate them all.

5. She attends nearly every interesting affair on the campus. Her string of dance programs proves that. She saves

Honorary Taps to Pledges

Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary, Monday night pledged ten new members. Those pledged were: Margaret Dupes, Janet Anthony, Norman Fehr, Billie Furey, Lorraine Goodman, Margaret Hargie, Lewis Levering, Burton Sanders, Nina Seibel, and Bernice Wishart.

At the meeting President Harrison C. Dale spoke on "Frontiers in Education."

School Helps Seniors In Applications

Letters of application are being prepared by the school of forestry for 10 seniors and one junior in the forest production course desiring permanent or temporary employment in the logging industry.

The applications will be sent to A. Whisnant, secretary of the Pacific Logging congress and recent visitor at the university. He will distribute them to the 200 members of the congress throughout the Northwest.

the programs, she says, because that's the only way she remembers who she goes with. (Some say she dates so many fellows she has to keep a diary in order to remember them!)

6. Maybe another reason she's such a dating girl is that she likes to do so many things—play golf and tennis, dance, ride horseback, etc., not to mention picknicking. Although I admit there are some slams in these comments, they are only intended to show you how much dating Margie does.

Made Debut Early

Miss Leonard made her debut with the Metropolitan Opera in New York in 1935. She sang with Ponselle, Pinza, Martinelli, Pons and like stars; opposite Tibbett in "Emperor Jones;" and was chosen by the great Toscanini for two roles in the world premiere of Respighi's "Mary of Egypt," given in Carnegie hall with the New York philharmonic orchestra.

She began as a church singer in San Francisco, where her unusual contralto attracted the attention of noted coaches. Later she sang things like "Danny Deever" and "Road to Mandalay" in vaudeville. As a concert artist she has travelled all over the United States and Canada and in Cuba and Europe. Her last concert engagement was as soloist with the San Francisco symphony orchestra March 1.

Mothers' Day Greeting

Dear Mom:
I know I should have written before, but I've been pretty busy trying to catch up with professors and my eight-hour sleep schedule and things like that. At least, I'm writing today, because Sunday is Mother's Day, and I want to thank you. Not just for the cake, either, though that was swell. We had the same kind of cake for dinner the night I got yours, but it didn't taste the same.

It's hard to say what I want to thank you for. Maybe I should just send you a card and let it go at that, but a card like everybody else gets doesn't seem right for you. I guess I want to thank you for being a special kind of a mother, though that sounds silly when I write it out. I'll be wearing a flower for you Sunday, too, but so will everybody else, and that won't help me tell you what I want to say.

One way I might explain it, is to have you go see the show I saw this week, "The Grapes of Wrath." Now I don't mean that you aren't a lot better looking than the mother in the show, but she reminded me of you. She was always thinking about her family and never about herself, and she wanted a nice home, but she kept right on working for the rest of the family when she didn't have one.

No, that isn't what I want to say, either, because I heard a couple of other fellows say that the show reminded them of their mothers, too. I know you're different from their mothers, but it's hard to explain. It seems silly in a way even to try to explain, because I keep thinking you know more about what I'm trying to write than I do.

Thanks, anyway, for the letter. I'm sorry to hear that Dad isn't feeling so good. When I get out of school—but I won't be out of school for quite a while, so maybe I shouldn't figure out too much about that. Whatever I do when I get out, I guess you'll understand, and...
That's what I've been trying to write! Whatever I do when I'm up here or when I'm home, I think you know about. That's one reason why I don't write more. It doesn't do any good to brag to you about the little things I do up here, because you would know I was bragging. It doesn't help to cry for sympathy when things go wrong, because I know you have already been helping me as much as you can and thinking the things I did were fine whether they were or not. No, that isn't what I mean, either, but you know what I mean.

Anyway, thanks. I'm glad Sunday is Mother's Day, and I think there should be more of them. I'll be seeing you soon.—B. J.

Once again, Hitler has chosen carefully his time for striking. While Britain is in the throes of one of the most serious cabinet crises in its history and at a moment when the Balkans seemed to be the center of tension, he has sent his bombers and his mechanized and parachute troops into The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxemburg. The British, divided politically and painfully building up morals on the home front after the Norwegian fiasco, must now turn and make a desperate effort to keep the Low Countries out of the grip of the Nazi legions.

Note that the Germans are driving for the Dutch seaports nearest to England. The possession of these ports will enable the Nazis to threaten a military invasion of the southeast part of England. Acquisition of air bases on the Dutch coast will make it possible for German pursuit planes to accompany German bombers in raids on British industrial and population centers. Up to now, the round trip from airdromes in northwestern Germany to central England and back was too great for the smaller planes to make the flight. Nazi bombers will thus have the vital protection of a screen of swift fighters in their raids on England—if the Dutch air bases fall into German hands.

The Netherlands government has been awake to the danger of a Nazi "Trojan horse" for several weeks. A check-up ten days ago revealed that there were at that time over 100,000 Germans resident in Holland. That's a large number in a country of only eight million population. Espionage and sabotage carried on by this large German group will hamper Dutch resistance in the critical first few days.

Shelf For WAR Background

Wide-awake students interested in the Background for War column which appears weekly in the periodical room of the library will be interested in some of the articles appearing in the May issue of Atlantic Monthly and Asia, according to Chandler Bragdon of the European history department. Such articles as "French Women and War," "The Low Countries of the European War," and two articles on "Britain in Asia" provide interesting and informative reading material.

Eve Curie, daughter of two great scientists and author of the famous biography of her mother, is a liaison officer of whom France may well be proud. At the outbreak of the war Jean Giraudoux appointed her director of his commissariat of information. Miss Curie is the author of "French Women and War," appearing in the May issue of Atlantic Monthly.

"The Low Countries and the European War," an article written by Lieut. Co. C. Requette, is in the May issue of Atlantic Monthly. Lieut.-Col. Requette presents the reasons which may or may not deter the Germans from entering the low countries.

In the May issue of Asia two articles under the main heading of "Britain in Asia" are of interest. The first is by Albert Viton, and is entitled "The Defense of the Near East." Mr. Viton is connected with the political science department of Northwestern university, and is the author of "Great Britain: An Empire in Transition," published this month.

The second article under the heading of "Britain in Asia" is by Ladislav Farago, "The Defense of North of India." Mr. Farago has on five trips during the past five years visited Syria, Palestine, TransJordan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, and neighboring countries.

Ernie Jensen Tops Crosby Fans On University Campus

Sophomore Owns Collection Of Crosby Records; Prefers Dreamy Tunes

By Bob Wethern

Bing Crosby has numerous fans on Idaho's campus; but Ernie Jensen, sophomore physical education major from Tacoma, tops them all. Not content with just seeing Crosby's pictures and hearing his Music hall program, Ernie has invested his spare nickels into Crosby records to build up a library of some 60-odd selections.

"Every time I'm tempted to play a Crosby selection on a nickelodeon, I save the nickel for another record of my own," says Ernie. "A record in my own library is worth a rack full in a nickelodeon to me."

At home, Ernie has a radio player for his "waxes" of Crosby's crooning. Although he started the collection in 1936, he has secured records dating back to when Bing was crooning "June in January" and other old favorites.

"Ballads, when 'dreamed up' by Bing, appeal to me more than his swing singing. His rendition of 'Swanee River' is typical," says Ernie.

His collection includes nine-inch records of all types of Crosby vocalizing, but a big 12-inch disk of Bing singing "St. Louis Blues" with a Duke Ellington accompaniment is his favorite.

He doesn't think that Dick Todd, deep-voiced singing star of the Avalon radio program, is an imitator of Crosby, but that he sounds too much like him to really be appreciated.

Young Democrats Try To Round Up Voters

Young Democrats will soon make an effort to register all the eligible voters on the campus of either party, according to Compton White Jr., president.

By working through the registrar's office and with representatives in each group house or town organizations, they hope to contact all possible voters for the next election. Explaining that many who are eligible do not vote, the president said the organization would advise and help in the securing of absentee ballots for the election.

Drills Pit Freshmen Squad With Varsity

With no games slated for this week, Idaho's freshman baseball team went into scrimmage sessions against the Varsity. The freshmen will play Lewiston Normal one week from today, and a return engagement with the W. S. C. first year men the next day.

Not satisfied with the infield play, Coach Gordie Williamson plans pepper ball drills and fielding practice in addition to scrimmage ranks, scored the first touchdown work with the varsity next week.

Sunday May 12th
Yes, we all love Mother
Whether we're old or young;
On this day set apart for mothers,
Her praises are gladly sung.
We send to her love's tokens,
But withal have we passed the test?
Have we made complete that Mother's Day,
And made it a day of rest?
A day to enjoy her loved ones
Away from toil and care,
A meal that's prepared by other,
To a mother is very rare.

Oregon Invades Idaho For Two Game Stand

First of the leading conference teams to appear on the Idaho diamond since the opening of the conference season, Oregon will play a two-game series against the Vandals over the week-end. First game will start this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on MacLean field. The season's last game between the two clubs will start at 9 a. m. tomorrow, according to Coach Forrest Twogood.

Twogood yesterday selected Merle "Doc" Stoddard to open the initial tussle. Dick Snyder will pitch the morning game. Third base and right field positions, Twogood said, probably won't be definitely filled until a few minutes before game time. Batting order for the remainder of the squad is Gordon Price, catcher; Chick Atkinson, shortstop; Otis Hilton at first; Centerfielder Joe Spicuzza; Roy Ramey, second baseman; Bobby Smith, left field; and the undesignated third baseman, right fielder, and Pitcher Stoddard swatting at the end of the pack.

Team In Hitting Slump

"Right now, we're in a hitting slump but I think the boys will snap out of it this week end. They're standing up there at the plate worrying about getting a hit. When they quit worrying and get over their nervousness, we'll start hitting the ball," Twogood said.

It appeared likely that the Twogoodmen would sharpen their batting averages this week since they have already run up against the Oregon pitching staff and have had a chance to bat against their best hurlers. Al Linn, speedball artist, will probably hurl the first game for Oregon with Pete Igoe taking over for Coach Hobby Hobson in the second tilt.

Golf Men To Meet U. of Montana

Idaho golfers will meet the golf team from the University of Montana Saturday morning at 8:30 or nine o'clock in a singles match. Jack Walton, Hud Neiman, Bob Men who will play for Idaho are Smith, Louie Kramer, John Rawlings, and Ed Clarkson.

by "Dewie" Allen

Softball made its bow into intramural sports circles this week with all the favorite teams coming through with wins. Horseshoes made its debut with most of the games being won and lost via the forfeit route.

The softball games featured everything from wild slugfests to tight pitching duels in the opening week. Willis Sweet hall, won opening victories with both their I and II teams. The Willis Sweet I team eked out a close 8 to 7 victory over Lindley hall. Lindley sluggers outhit the Willis Sweet team 13 hits to 11, but could not hit in the pinches. Willis Sweet's II team downed the Lindley II team 10 to 3. Chrisman hall showed power to spare in carrying off their first two games of the schedule. Pitcher Fred Quinn led his team-mates to 4 hits while he was poleing out two home runs to lead his team in batting. The Christman IIs made it two in a row with a 22 to 10 victory over the Campus Club IIs.

In Division B, Phi Delta Theta squeezed by the Fijis 12 to 11 in an eight inning game. Delta Chi turned 17 hits into 30 runs to defeat the Tekes 30 to 13. Sigma Nu captured an abbreviated four inning game from LDS 13 to 5. In the other Division B game, ATO poured on the power to win over SAE 2 to 7.

Along the barnyard golf front, only two games were played with Willis Sweet Is gaining a 2 to 1 verdict over the Lindley hall Is. In the other encounter Phi Deltas took a 2 to 1 decision over the Delta Chi shoe men. The Idaho Club, Sigma Chi, and Sigma Nu won matches by the forfeit route from Chrisman hall, LDS and the Tekes.

Willis Sweet IIs won the first singles game from Lindley II last night and the other Lindley contestants forfeited to the Sweet men to keep Willis Sweet teams in front in both leagues of Division A.

Two Mile May Feature Idaho-Cheney Meet

Idaho's track team will make its last home appearance of the season Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when it tangles with the Eastern Washington College of Education team from Cheney. Features of tomorrow's meet will be the appearance of Vic Carpine, the teachers' ace sprinter, and the two mile duel between Phil Leibowitz, Vic Yergall, and Dick Slade of the Vandals, and Dick Slade of the Vandals, Coach Mike Ryan predicted.

Carpine has been one of the top sprinters of the northwest for the past three years, and has already registered a 9.7 second hundred this spring. Ever since Ryan started coaching at Idaho he has been sending his men after Don Cleaver's record of 9:27 in the two mile run, and every time they have fallen short. However, Saturday, with speedy Phil Leibowitz added to the two mile field, Ryan expects to see the record polished off.

Another interesting duel in Saturday's meet should be the pole vault where McHarg, Mekela, and Kerby of the Vandals will tangle with Clyde Ferrier. All four of the participants have cleared 13 feet or better, so the winner of this meet will probably have to register a record jump. Ferrier spent his freshman year at Idaho. Stedwel Johnston will have his hands full in the half mile against like Brown of the Teachers who has run the distance in less than 2 minutes several times this spring. Brown is a Lewiston boy who until last year held the state quarter-mile record.

In spite of a dismal dual meet season, Idaho was generally regarded last night as the team favorite. No predictions as to the outcome was forthcoming from Coach Ryan.

Gridmen Conclude Spring Drills

A 19 to 0 victory for the Blues over the Whites yesterday afternoon at Neale stadium in the second full game scrimmage signalized the windup of 28 days of spring practice for University of Idaho's 1940 gridiron warriors. After a scoreless first quarter, the Blue team caught fire in the second canto to push over two quick touchdowns and continue with another tally in the third quarter. Ray Davis, up from the freshman ranks, scored the first touchdown on a sweep from the 20 yard line. Lou Cox, quarterback, punched over the goal line a few minutes later on a fake pass and run play from the 25 yard line. Rudy Franklin bucked the line for the extra point. The third touchdown came on a reverse by George Nixon from the 18 yard line.

Roise Visits Campus On Marine Leave

Harold Roise, former Idaho half-back, now a commissioned second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine corps, attended the R. O. T. C. review unit yesterday. He is on a three-weeks leave of absence after completing a year's training period at the Basic Marine school in Philadelphia. Roise will report for duty at San Diego, Calif., June 4.

Date Mix-Up Gives Officials Worries

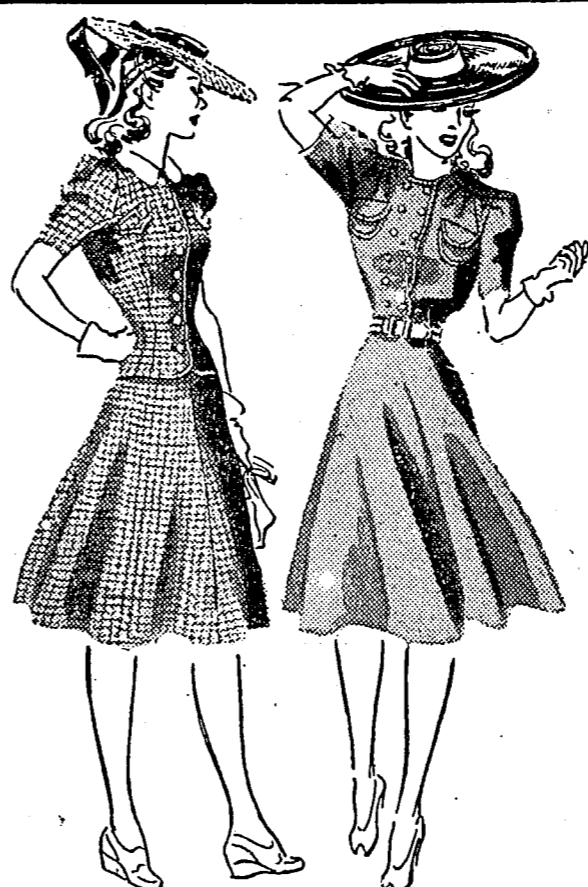

University officials last night were still unable to determine the status of the Montana-Idaho tennis match, scheduled to be played yesterday on the local courts. Kirk Badgley, Montana graduate manager, requested a change in date from Gale Mix, Idaho graduate manager. The change was granted, and a letter from Badgley confirming the date for the match was received yesterday by Mix. However, the Grizzly netters played Washington State college yesterday instead of the Vandals. Attempts were being made last night to arrange to play the scheduled match this afternoon, but some Idaho officials believed the failure of the Montana team to make an appearance on the scheduled date automatically resulted in a forfeit to Idaho.

Rudy Franklin, sophomore right half, was shifted from his usual position yesterday to the fullback slot. Bill Micklich has been the only fullback during spring practice. Franklin looked very good in his new position, according to Coach Ted Bank, and is expected to hold down that spot next fall. The hard charging sophomore stands about 5 feet 10 inches and weighs 175 pounds.

"Speed wins in motor-cycle racing! Slow burning wins in the cigarette field!"

says Jimmie Kelly, Champion Motor-cycle Racer and Enthusiastic Camel Smoker

ON A MOTOR-CYCLE I GO FOR SPEED IN A BIG WAY, BUT I KEEP MY SMOKING ON THE SLOW-BURNING SIDE WITH CAMELS. THAT WAY I GET A LOT OF 'EXTRAS'—IN MILDNESS, COOLNESS, FLAVOR—AND CAMEL'S SLOW WAY OF BURNING MEANS EXTRA SMOKING PER PACK

ON THE FAST SIDE—A 50-mile-an-hour skid, and Jimmie Kelly (No. 43) whips into the lead on the ocean beach at Daytona. On a racing motor-cycle Jimmie Kelly is a riding champion, but when it comes to cigarettes, this record-breaking driver is . . .

ON THE SLOW SIDE—That's Jimmie Kelly's way—and the way of millions of other smokers—of saying that he prefers the slower-burning cigarette . . . Camel. "That's where the 'extras' are in cigarette pleasure and value," explains Jimmie (above).

CHAMPION Jimmie Kelly (right, above) is just one of thousands of experienced smokers who have discovered that Camel's slower way of burning means several definite advantages. Being slower-burning, Camels are free from the drying, uncomfortable qualities of excess heat. They give you extra mildness and extra coolness . . . always so welcome. Slower burning makes the most of the full, rich flavor of Camel's costlier tobaccos. Camels give you extra flavor . . . don't tire your taste. The extra smoking in Camels is a matter of the smokers' experience as well as of impartial laboratory record. So get more pleasure per puff and more puffs per pack. Get Camels. HEADWINDS

For many a year, the Blue Bucket magazine has weathered, often winchingly, the wintry blasts of fuming presidents and irate guardians of student morals. But the wintry moaning of the bar has accelerated as the old humor-schooner sails close to financial breakers.

Today the Argonaut carries notices of publication board meetings for appointments to the staffs of the newspaper and yearbook. No mention is made of the Bucket. There may never be one.

That the cost of publishing the magazine next year may be upped 50 per cent was discovered by Gale P. Mix, graduate manager, when he began arranging printing contracts for next year. Such a possibility sets Mix spinning in his swivel chair for at that rate the ASUI will have to fork over $1,000 next year for support of the Bucket instead of the $600 this year.

The Bucket is in added disfavor at the graduate manager's office because the magazine is almost three weeks past its scheduled April 26 publication date.

"Since we have promised our national advertisers publication dates," says Mix, "this delay jeopardizes future national advertising income. If students are not interested enough to help with publishing The Bucket, why should the ASUI struggle along with it?"

Editor Art Swan says that the advance date was set as a stimulus to get his staff functioning, that he is endeavoring to test sustained interest generated by the magazine appearing about monthly.

The ASUI constitution, however, still states that the associated students shall print a humor magazine.

Jason is of the opinion that if any backing up is to be done it will be the constitution that withdraws. Certainly, it has exhibited rubbery qualities before.

Jason would prefer that The Bucket, often in hot water, did not disappear from the campus even as lackluster as the sheet has sometimes been.

Yet, if students are uninterested, it should be discontinued and promptly.

Jason suggests that those up for promotion on the Bucket toddle down to the graduate manager and discuss next year's problems.

If The Bucket continues, its budget should be unfrozen so that it will have a fair chance at the circulation it needs to maintain itself.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Difficult it is for Jason to understand the attitude of a few independent leaders in regard to campus organizations.

Not long ago Jason sat at the executive board's shiny topped table, listened to impassioned demands that the Intercollegiate Knights correct their pledging system so that more hallmen may be represented.

Yet Les McCarthy, newly elected student body president, refused to allow himself to be considered for Silver Lance and Blue Key, top organizations for men. McCarthy was not the only one; one or two other Independents did likewise.

To Jason, this seems like questionable sportsmanship. The Independent men loose bars at organizations, yet they refuse to have anything to do with steering them.

Jason feels that after elections are over the ASUI president should represent the entire student body, and not just one political party. This fleecer believes that the majority of Independent men feel the same way.

Conceivably, President McCarthy honestly feels that these organizations are a waste of time, and that service he wishes to do can be done from the ASUI presidency.

Jason grants that these Independent men may have good motives for abstaining from the organizations, yet he believes that the men they represent want them to cooperate with other student leaders in directing the affairs of the campus.

To this woolgatherer, it seems that a man who puts himself up for the highest office on the campus should also be willing to assume the obligations that attend it.

Decidedly apropos seems the horse growl of a late hour poker player: "put up or shut up."

Flyer To Receive Last Honors Next Saturday

Squadron To Come North For Funeral of Lieut. Torelle

His visit with friends, fraternity brothers, and his fiancée is ended! Lieut. Albert Torelle will rejoin his flight squadron for the last time at 1 A. M., Saturday in Spokane. The former student, whose visit home was suddenly ended when his body was carried from the charred and tangled wreckage of his silver attack bomber, will be honored with a full military funeral by members of the 7th squadron of the U. S. Air corps, Sacramento, Calif., who are flying to Spokane for the ceremony that will end his brief career.

Members of Phi Gamma Delta, of which he was a member, will attend the ceremony in a body. Lieutenant Torelle attended the university four years. He was a member of Scabbard and Blade, Vandaleers, captain of the Pershing Rifle, and a member of Phi Gamma Delta. He left the university after the spring semester of '38 to attend the Army flying school at San Antonio. After graduating from both Randolph and Kelly field flying schools, he has been on active flying duty at the Army base at Sacramento.

Crash Dazes Watchers
He left Sacramento flying field at 7 a. m. Friday morning on a cross country hop. After a brief stay at Felts field in Spokane, he took off for Moscow at 12:45 p. m.

Startled students watched the big silver ship circle low over the campus, and head for the downtown district. More startled still, were the on lookers when the plane suddenly wavered, crashed into a vacant lot, and burst into flames. Many theories are advanced as to the cause of the accident. Captain E. C. French, Spokane Army officer who investigated says the exact cause of the crash will probably never be known.

Lieut. Torelle's engagement to Jean Cunningham was to be announced after his arrival. The engagement and wedding rings were found near the scene of the fatal crash.

Engineers To Visit Coulee Project

About 50 Idaho civil engineering students and faculty members are expected to attend the annual Coulee dam meeting of the Spokane section of the American Society of Civil Engineers May 18.

The program at the dam will include a conducted tour of parts of the project closed to most visitors, and an illustrated talk on the penstock construction by government engineers. Dinner will be served.

The invitation to the Idaho student A.S.C.E. chapter explained that water probably will be flowing over the top of the dam then for the first time, and that alone would be a sight worth the trip.

Council Considers Faculty Tickets

Survey of the possibilities of providing faculty members with activity tickets is being conducted by the Independent council, according to Bob Swanson, president. The council has consulted 20 faculty members and reports that the general consensus of the group favors the tickets.

The council plans to consult at least half of the faculty before presenting a formal report to the ASUI executive board. A statement prepared by council members contended that tickets will help bring about a closer relationship between faculty and student body and will increase revenue from ASUI activities.

in San Antonio, Tex., following Keatts' graduation from the U. S. Air corps flying school there at 9:15 a. m. He will be stationed at San Diego, Calif.

Bott Promises Aid In Building New Dairy Plant

A new dairy building for the university will probably be at the head of the state institutions building program for next year, according to Governor C. A. Bottolfsen, who will be in consultation the coming week with two Carnegie institute educational advisors, and the state planning board.

Governor Bottolfsen made this statement to friends in Moscow yesterday.

"Two Carnegie men are advising with the planning board and by September will have submitted a complete survey of the university's needs and those of the penitentiary," Governor Bottolfsen said. "We are placing, with the assistance of the state planning board, a new dairy building for the university at the head of our institutions building program for the next legislature."

Presidents Confer On activities, Student Finance

School activities, elections, student financial control and the honor system had their innings at the annual student convention of Western Colleges, Provo, Utah, May 2, 3, 4 and 5, Walt Olson, ASUI president and Leslie McCarthy, president elect, disclosed when they returned recently. Participating were 35 colleges and universities, with representatives from Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Wyoming, New Mexico, and Montana.

That activities should be open to the largest number of students possible and free from domination by a minority was generally agreed, said the residential pair. Idaho students appear more interested in their government than other Western colleges goes, said Olson, since the percentage of voting students is twice as high as that of any other college represented at the conference. School elections of several were faculty controlled.

He earned towards winning a Junior I. K.'s next year will be entirely on a merit system, according to Mix.

Meeting Wednesday Will Decide Chiefs For Argonaut, Gem Next Year

The ASUI publications board will meet Wednesday at 4 p. m. in ASUI office to select future editors and business managers for the Argonaut and The Gem, Walt Olson, ASUI president, said yesterday.

Candidates for positions have already been nominated by staff heads, and their eligibility has been checked, said Gale Mix, graduate manager. Candidates for managing editorship of The Argonaut for next year are Knox Craig, Ed Davis, Bob Leeright, Melvin Butterfield, Bob Bonomi, Bob Snyder, and Bob Wethern. The candidate selected will be managing editor next year and automatically move up to the editorship for 1941-42.

Candidates for assistant Argonaut business manager under the same arrangement are Armour Anderson and Virginia Erdman.

Alden Hull, assistant Gem editor this year, will probably be formally approved for the editorship next term. He will appoint three assistant editors subject to executive board approval at the beginning of next year.

Gem candidates to be considered for next year's business manager post are Bill Abrahamson, Ed Benoit, Charles Donaldson, and Jane Pier, Mix said.

Permanent members of the publications board, specified in the ASUI constitution, are Walt Olson, ASUI president; Gale Mix, graduate manager; Elmer F. Beth, assistant professor of journalism, and Ray Clark, executive board member appointed by Olson.

Nieman Will Wield Pep Band Baton

Hud Nieman will lead the Idaho Pep band next year, band members decided at the Pep Band club's annual dinner last night. Bob Sower was chosen business manager; Wayne Sorrenson, librarian.

Nieman will take over the baton wielded by Maestro Jack Fitzpatrick this year. A two letter winner on the Vandal golf team, Nieman has been active in Pep Band activities for three years. He plays a trombone.

With only four seniors graduating from the band, the prospects for next year are bright, according to Nieman. Fitzpatrick, Clyde Culp, Bob Shewneck, and Chuck Tiller leave the band's roster after June. Fitzpatrick played in the saxophone section; Culp, the drums, Shewneck, reed section, and Tiller, tuba.

Ag Club Will Select New Officials, Make Picnic Plans
