

HEADWINDS

For many a year, the Blue Bucket magazine has weathered, often winchingly, the wintry blasts of fuming presidents and irate guardians of student morals.

Today the Argonaut carries notices of publication board meetings for appointments to the staffs of the newspaper and yearbook.

That the cost of publishing the magazine next year may be upped 50 per cent was discovered by Gale P. Mix, graduate manager, when he began arranging printing contracts for next year.

The Bucket is in added disfavor at the graduate manager's office because the magazine is almost three weeks past its scheduled April 28 publication date.

"Since we have promised our national advertisers publication dates," says Mix, "this delay jeopardizes future national advertising income."

Editor Art Swan says that the advance date was set as a stimulus to get his staff functioning, that he is endeavoring to test sustained interest generated by the magazine appearing about monthly.

The ASUI constitution, however, still states that the associated students shall print a humor magazine.

Jason is of the opinion that if any backing up is to be done it will be the constitution that withdraws. Certainly, it has exhibited rubbery qualities before.

Jason would prefer that The Bucket, often in hot water, did not disappear from the campus even as lackluster as the sheet has sometimes been.

Yet, if students are uninterested, it should be discontinued and promptly.

Jason suggests that those up for promotion on the Bucket toddle down to the graduate manager and discuss next year's problems.

If The Bucket continues, its budget should be unfrozen so that it will have a fair chance at the circulation it needs to maintain itself.

Difficult it is for Jason to understand the attitude of a few independent leaders in regard to campus organizations.

Not long ago Jason sat at the executive board's shiny topped table, listened to impassioned demands that the Intercollegiate Knights correct their pledging system so that more hallmen may be represented.

Yet Les McCarthy, newly elected student body president, refused to allow himself to be considered for Silver Lance and Blue Key, top organizations for men.

To Jason, this seems like questionable sportsmanship. The Independent men loose bars at organizations, yet they refuse to have anything to do with steering them.

Jason feels that after elections are over the ASUI president should represent the entire student body, and not just one political party.

Conceivably, President McCarthy honestly feels that these organizations are a waste of time, and that service he wishes to do can be done from the ASUI presidency.

Jason grants that these Independent men may have good motives for abstaining from the organizations, yet he believes that the men they represent want them to cooperate with other student leaders in directing the affairs of the campus.

To this woolgatherer, it seems that a man who puts himself up for the highest office on the campus should also be willing to assume the obligations that attend it.

Decidedly apropos seems the hoarse growl of a late hour poker player: "put up or shut up."

Flyer To Receive Last Honors Next Saturday

Squadron To Come North For Funeral of Lieut. Torelle

His visit with friends, fraternity brothers, and his fiancée is ended. Lieut. Albert Torelle will rejoin his flight squadron for the last time at 1 A. M., Saturday in Spokane.

Lieutenant Torelle attended the university four years. He was a member of Scabbard and Blade, Vandalers, captain of the Pershing Rifle, and a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

He left Sacramento flying field at 7 a. m. Friday morning on a cross country hop.

Startled students watched the big silver ship circle low over the campus, and head for the downtown district.

Many theories are advanced as to the cause of the accident. Captain E. C. French, Spokane army officer who investigated says the exact cause of the crash will probably never be known.

Lieut. Torelle's engagement to Jean Cunningham was to be announced after his arrival. The engagement and wedding rings were found near the scene of the fatal crash.

Two Carnegie men are advising with the planning board and a complete survey of the university's needs and those of the penitentiary," Governor Bottolfsen said.

The program at the dam will include a conducted tour of parts of the project closed to most visitors, and an illustrated talk on the penstock construction by government engineers.

The invitation to the Idaho student A.S.C.E. chapter explained that water probably will be flowing over the top of the dam then for the first time, and that alone would be a sight worth the trip.

Survey of the possibilities of providing faculty members with activity tickets is being conducted by the Independent council, according to Bob Swanson, president.

The council plans to consult at least half of the faculty before presenting a formal report to the ASUI executive board.

A statement prepared by council members contended that tickets will help bring about a closer relationship between faculty and student body and will increase advance revenue from ASUI activities.

Bott Promises Aid In Building New Dairy Plant

A new dairy building for the university will probably be at the head of the state institutions building program for next year, according to Governor C. A. Bottolfsen, who will be in consultation the coming week with two Carnegie institute educational advisors, and the state planning board.

Governor Bottolfsen made this statement to friends in Moscow yesterday.

"Two Carnegie men are advising with the planning board and a complete survey of the university's needs and those of the penitentiary," Governor Bottolfsen said.

Presidents Confer On activities, Student Finance

School activities, elections, student financial control and the honor system had their innings at the annual student convention of Western Colleges, Provo, Utah, May 2, 3, 4 and 5, Walt Olson, ASUI president and Leslie McCarthy, president elect, disclosed when they returned recently.

Participating were 35 colleges and universities, with representatives from Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Wyoming, New Mexico, and Montana.

That activities should be open to the largest number of students possible and free from domination by a minority was generally agreed, said the residential pair.

Idaho students appear more interested in their government than other Western colleges goers, said Olson, since the percentage of voting students is twice as high as that of any other college represented at the conference.

School elections of several were faculty controlled.

Board Will Select Future Heads For Publications

Meeting Wednesday Will Decide Chiefs For Argonaut, Gem Next Year

The ASUI publications board will meet Wednesday at 4 p. m. in ASUI office to select future editors and business managers for the Argonaut and The Gem, Walt Olson, ASUI president, said yesterday.

Candidates for positions have already been nominated by staff heads, and their eligibility has been checked, said Gale Mix, graduate manager.

Candidates for managing editorship of The Argonaut for next year are Knox Craig, Ed Davis, Bob Leeright, Melvin Butterfield, Bob Bonomi, Bob Snyder, and Bob Wethern. The candidate selected will be managing editor next year and automatically move up to the editorship for 1941-42.

Candidates for assistant Argonaut business managership under the same arrangement are Armour Anderson and Virginia Erdman.

Alden Hull, assistant Gem editor this year, will probably be formally approved for the editorship next term. He will appoint three assistant editors subject to executive board approval at the beginning of next year.

Gem candidates to be considered for next year's business manager post are Bill Abrahamson, Ed Benoit, Charles Donaldson, and Jane Pier, Mix said.

Permanent members of the publications board, specified in the ASUI constitution, are Walt Olson, ASUI president; Gale Mix, graduate manager; Elmer F. Beth, assistant professor of journalism, and Ray Clark, executive board member appointed by Olson.

Nieman Will Wield Pep Band Baton

Hud Nieman will lead the Idaho Pep band next year, band members decided at the Pep Band club's annual dinner last night. Bob Sower was chosen business manager; Wayne Sorrenson, librarian.

Nieman will take over the baton wielded by Maestro Jack Fitzpatrick this year. A two letter winner on the Vandal golf team, Nieman has been active in Pep Band activities for three years. He plays a trombone.

With only four seniors graduating from the band, the prospects for next year are bright, according to Nieman, Fitzpatrick, Clyde Culp, Bob Shewnaek, and Chuck Tiller leave the band's roster after June. Fitzpatrick played in the saxophone section; Culp, the drums, Shewnaek, reed section, and tiller, tuba.

Ag Club Will Select New Officials, Make Picnic Plans

Ag club members will meet May 17 at 7:15 p. m. in Science 110 to select a list of nominees for official positions for next year's organization, according to Russell Fisher, president. Final ratification of the club's constitution will also be considered at Friday night's meeting.

Committees for the club picnic to be held Saturday afternoon include Hubert Reisenauer, general chairman; Myrl Clark, refreshments; Seth Corless, entertainment; Bill Siddaway, transportation; and Glen Lewis, invitations.

Lawyers To Purchase Memorial Plaque

Phi Alpha Delta, professional law honorary, will purchase a plaque this week to be hung in the law library. The name of the senior who, after five semesters in the law school, has the highest scholastic standing, will be engraved on the plaque.

The plaque will be hung as a memorial to Sen. William E. Borah, who was a member of this chapter of the organization.

On Her Way To The May Queen's Throne

On her way to the May Queen's throne is Rachel Braxtan. A few minutes before this picture was taken Miss Braxtan officially became Idaho's queen of May when a crown of flowers was placed upon her head. In the right foreground above is Marjorie Schlake, matron of honor for the occasion, while in the background can be seen a portion of the crowd which Saturday witnessed the May festivities. Bearing Miss Braxtan's train are two of the four little flower girls for the fete and two more following.

Houses Entertain At Formal Dances

Tulips and lilacs carried out the theme of the traditional "Lilac Parade" dance at Ridenbaugh hall Saturday evening. A swinging gate, picket fence, and trellises, all decorated with lilacs, changed the rooms into realistic flower gardens.

Nosegays of pansies, tied in a lace frill with lavender ribbon, were used as programs. Bob McKinnon and his orchestra played for dancing.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sollers, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Banks, and Mary Reed. Sigma Nus Picnic and Dance

Sigma Nus and their guests danced in a replica of the "bottom of the sea" Saturday evening. Green indirect lighting shone on sea weed and fishes, which decorated the walls. Programs were of Green and yellow, tied with a green cord.

"Patronizing" were Sgt. and Mrs. Dured E. Townsend, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Braun.

The dance followed the annual underclassmen's picnic at Flannigan's Flat to which graduating seniors were invited as special guests.

Kappas Have Floral Formal A floral motif was carried out at the Kappa Gamma Gamma formal dance Friday evening. Baskets of tulips, lilacs, and narcissus were placed around the walls. Bob McKinnon and his orchestra played for dancing.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tessier, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brenn, and Mrs. Lenore Scott.

--DIRT-- by Dolly Van

It seems to ol' Dol that she's covered about as much territory as did Adolph Hitler over the weekend what with all the swell mothers here, the May Fete (where the May Freights feted), and everything else that was goin' on! Anyway, either you fair readers have been forced to act pretty nice, or else you did such a job of acting up on the sly that you even fooled Dolly.

Not bothered a bit by the out-of-town guests or all the goings-on were the Sigma Nus and they trojoked away to a slurpin' good Saturday afternoon and followed it up that night with a waltz party! Best slurpers at the picnic, Dol understands, were guests Ozzie Welch and Ollie Lou Peck. Ozzie was life of the party man while Ollie Lou showered affection by the Peck all over Jim Towles.

Poor Jim was so showered with affection that he never made the dance, but his date, Betty Joe McKinley went with Welch since Ollie Lou finally drooped by the way also.

That same day--or rather night--Betty Bollinger returned from the Lambda Chi picnic with Karl Koch and finding that tempus had fugit faster than she thought, did a little second story work!

With more people spurred to high gear than you could count on your little pink toes, first prize for sportin' the most pink elephant went to Betty Lou McBean and Gordy Davidson on the Spur serenade Friday night!

Sammy Zingale is gettin' plenty heavy fan mail these days and all from one source! The Beechnut Bouncer has been corresponding with a 13 year old lassie back at the Wisconsin homestead; and the little girl is editor of her school blabber. At first she wrote Sammy that she was sorry Omar Crocker hadn't knocked his head off but was so surprised to get a return letter that she decided Gummy Gloves Sam wasn't so bad after all--she even showed his letter to her principal who remarked that it was the cleverest letter he had ever had the tenacity to read!

Well the pine are still flyin' around and here's a couple more to add to your swillin' collection! Just last night Ralph Garst passed passed his jewel to Julia Titus who will now be able to go to the SAE sweetheart dinner Sunday, and Bill Hovey has passed his long decoration to Winona Kemp.

Winona blushed coyly the other night as her table mates at Hays gayly chanted "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" in honor of the occasion.

With you folks bein' so good over the weekend Dol's diggin' has been mighty slim so all you slick ones be thankful you escaped the ol' gal's poison pen this time and a fond farewell till Friday!

Dairy Judges Return From Field Jaunt

The dairy cattle judging team made a field trip to farms near Spokane last Wednesday in conjunction with the WSC dairy cattle judging team.

Students Object to War Thoughts

Poll Shows Majority of Students Oppose Rushing Into The European War

As Europe's war spreads to new fronts, observers are pointing to increasing possibilities of the U. S. being involved. In the opinion of American college students, many of whom are of fighting age, what are the conditions under which the U. S. should join the Allies against Germany.

Interviewers in scores of campuses have asked the question in a Student Opinion Surveys sampling. The results, exclusive to The Argonaut and other member newspapers, show definitely that the American collegian has not changed his mind, is still much opposed to rushing into the conflict.

A good majority, two to one, may be included in two camps: those who believe we should not join at all; those who would have us fight only in case the U. S. is actually threatened with an invasion.

The largest group of students, one-third of the entire enrollment, would keep our armies at home and fight only if an enemy attacked on this side of the Atlantic. The smallest group registered in the poll, 2 per cent, represents the students who believe the U. S. should join the Allies at once.

Following are the complete national tabulations: Under what conditions do you believe the U. S. should join the Allies against Germany?

1. Only if there is actual threat of the U. S. being invaded.....33%
2. U. S. should not join.....31
3. Only if there is actual threat of any American nation being invaded.....15
4. Only if England and France appear to be losing 10
5. U. S. should join now.....2
6. Other conditions.....5
7. No opinion.....4

Those are the opinions of students after the German invasion of Scandinavia. Recent Allied failures in Norway may have changed attitudes to some extent, but the trend as the war has progressed has been more and more against the U. S. entering the conflict. Six months ago a survey poll pointed out that 36 per cent approved of sending troops against Germany if the Allies appeared to be losing. Now only 10 per cent approve.

Six Good Reasons Why Pitchers Get Nervous

On Taking Turns

Subdued but continuous student grumblings about the operation of the university infirmary swelled to a louder pitch last week as word got around that a man who had been spiked on the baseball field had to wait more than an hour with an open, painful wound before receiving the doctor's care. The reception staff, accused of delaying the victim's visit to the physician, came in for special criticism.

Nobody can deny that reception women often learn too well the lesson that the man in the inner office must not be bothered and that their own mission is to keep people out unless they pass through the portals in the approved, orderly way. Perhaps, some of the infirmary staff members have been afflicted with the same super-sense of formal order that affects many campus secretaries.

However, the students who object to waiting for treatment of any ailment or injury should realize that the infirmary problem is not a simple question of "they shall be treated" versus "they shall not pass." In the case mentioned, officials knew that the subject had received emergency treatment at the gymnasium training room. They also were knee deep in cases—too busy to make nice decisions as to which cases should be treated first.

The core of the infirmary problem is the fact that too many students need attention to be adequately cared for by one doctor. Increased use of the infirmary has boosted its costs. It must operate under-staffed until its income is correspondingly increased. That increase, as students here must be well aware of by now, will probably come from an increase in the students' health fees. Nobody can blame the injured student for complaining if he must wait for attention. To be realistic, however, he must realize that relief will only come with extra cash and that students are getting good care—if not enough.—B. J.

Communique - - Comment

Reports from the East and from Washington indicate that there may be truth in the statement made recently by a French correspondent on his return from a trip to the United States. The French newspaperman asserted that America was passing already from a state of neutrality to a state of "pre-belligerency." President Roosevelt's words of hearty encouragement to King Leopold of Belgium are regarded in Europe as proof that the United States will step in to save the Allies before it is too late. It is evident that an increasing number of our citizens, in the East at least, are convinced that this nation should prepare itself for active intervention on the side of the two democracies against the Nazi menace.

Unfortunately, the news of the past five days makes it harder for Americans—even at this distance from the fighting areas—to retain perspective. Natural anger at the aggressive brutality of the German attack on the Low Countries tends to make us think and act on the basis of instinctive or emotional reactions—rather than reason. Let the Germans invade England itself and, in the opinion of this writer, American who were sincere isolationists a month ago will be clamoring for the sending of the U. S. air force and the U. S. fleet to the aid of our sister democracy. The cry of "Stop the Huns" will be heard once again—as it was in 1917—and American man-power will be organized for the defense of civilization on the English Channel.

Already pressure is being put upon Congress for the repeal of the Johnson Act. Senator Hiram Johnson has reminded his countrymen that lending to the Allies will mean involvement in the war on the side of Britain and France, if there is a danger of Allied defeat. The temper of the present administration at Washington is more pro-Allied than the public utterances of some of its leaders would make us believe. These leaders feel that public opinion, now hardening into black hatred of the Nazis, is already behind them. Let's hope that it is not. But it is our duty—here in the West—to realize that in certain sections of the country it may be.

Letters Home from Naive Nan

Dear Mamma,
Well, I guess I am a degeneration, Mamma, because guess what, I am writing a letter in my education class, by which I do not mean that it is a class which you get education in, but it is a class where you learn how you can make dumb little kids get an education, even when they do not want to get an education. Right now, we are talking about noble things like individuals and democracies, and also how you can make kids shut up in school, although right now I can not think what it is they call that.

Anyway, like I said, I am writing in class and that way I am throwing two rocks at one bird because now maybe I will get an old Fisk, Harold Gibbs, Bruce Gorfast, and also I will get a check from home because I am writing. (You will notice, Mamma, that I am not asking for money, but if Holmes, Herman Humphreys, you are going to take that as a Ralph Hunt, Paul Hunt, Glen hint guess there is not anything Hunter, Rollin Jones, Darrell which I can say will change it, Kerby, Robert Kidwell, Leonard although it makes me kind of mad Kingsford, Robert Knox, Willard you always think I am hinting Kunz, William Langley, John McMahon, David Marshall, William Mason.

As you remember, Mamma, yesterday was Mother's day, and I hope you liked the candy which I sent you, and I wonder would you save the pink bow on top of the box because it just matches my new sweater, and I also wonder did you notice I was awful careful to get those chewy kind of chocolates Papa likes.

I also wore an awful pretty red carnation and a pink one, Mamma. They did look awful nice, especially the one in my hair, although I would still like to know what the kid meant which said that would be bigamy.

I think that you will be glad to know that I took time out yesterday from all the important things which I have got to do, and appreciate the fine arts of life, including the songpest. It was really awfully nice, and kind of romantic because everybody which sang had a sweetheart and moon, and I was just wondering do they have a lease or something on the moon and how would they do it. Anyway, there was one fraternity I had never heard of and it had a moon, too. There was a Pi Phi moon and a Cappa moon and also that Kres Ent moon.

Love,
Nancy.
P. S.—I have decided I want to belong to the Cardinal Tea, Mamma.

Northern Division Officials Plan Big Athletic Changes

Conference Will Hear Proposals This June

By The Argonaut's Sports Editor.
Drastic revisions affecting all phases of the Pacific Coast conference and Idaho athletic program were revealed by Gale L. Mix, Idaho graduate manager, yesterday upon his return from a meeting with graduate managers of other northern division colleges in Spokane.

Outstanding among the proposed changes suggested and discussed by some northern division colleges to be presented at the annual meeting of the heads of all conference members this June is one which will do away with all distinction between major and minor sports. Identical sweaters will be given for each sport, regardless of former distinctions, should the proposal carry this June.

In addition, requirements for an award in each of the several sports will be standardized among all conference members. Sweaters, too, will be uniform between members with a maximum price to be paid for sweaters established by the conference. In conjunction with sweater awards, northern division members went on record as opposed to the awarding of lifetime passes to university functions such as are now given to major award winners and student executives.

Football Due For Shake-up
Football is due for a radical shake-up if changes now contemplated go through, according to Mix. Spring practice in football as well as out-of-season practices in all other sports may be abolished. Early track workouts and off-season drills in basketball will be eliminated. A definite season for all sports will be established, and conference members will be expected to adhere to the schedule. Football practice in the fall will probably be advanced five days, however, in order to permit conditioning work.

"This movement is gaining wide favor throughout the United States," Mix said yesterday.
In addition to the elimination of spring football practice some officials hope to develop offensive football by prohibiting scouting and taking of moving pictures of rival teams in action. Such a move would tend to open up football, Mix said, through de-emphasizing football defenses.

Stop Freshmen Competitors
An action similar to that recently adopted by the Big 10 and Rocky Mountain conference intended to eliminate all outside competition for freshman athletes will also be proposed. Should the measure meet the approval of the southern division heads, freshmen will not compete with other schools in any phase of athletics. However, fundamentals of each sport will be taught at the individual colleges, and numerals will be awarded to first year men upon the recommendation of coaches. According to the Idaho graduate manager, this measure is most certain of passing of all those proposed.

"At present it appears very likely that these measures will meet the approval of the entire Pacific Coast conference this June," Mix stated. "Idaho is naturally in favor of the proposals. We believe they will materially assist in bringing about a better understanding between conference members and result in competition for the athlete will be to his best advantage."

Trackmen Break Losing Streak

Savages Fall Before Vandals 67 to 58; Leibowitz and Flechtner Set Records

Two Idaho track records were smashed Saturday as the Vandal machine downed Eastern Washington College of Education 67 to 58. Don Cleaver's two-mile record of 9 minutes, 27 seconds, which has stood for a dozen years was erased when Phil Leibowitz, running the distance for the first time this year, breezed through to a 9:25.4 clocking. A few minutes later lanky Al Flechtner lifted himself over the high jump bar at 6 feet 4 7/8 inches to add almost an inch to the record he set earlier this year.

Carpine Scorches Cinders
All the record smashing wasn't done by Idaho, however. Vic Carpine breezed through the fastest 100 yard dash ever run on the Idaho track when he registered a 9.7 second clocking in the century. Later in the day the Cheney captain loafed his way to a victory in the 220-yard dash.

Schow Impresses Ryan
Besides the broken records the most satisfactory performance to Coach Ryan was that of Doug Schow in the quarter mile. The big junior covered the distance in the fast time of 50.2 seconds. One of the best races of the day was the half mile in which Ike Brown of the teachers came from behind and nipped Idaho's Bob Neal at the tape in the fast time of 1 minute 58 seconds.

George Makela and Maurice Young were out of the meet with the injuries which have kept them on the sidelines for the past three weeks.
Summary:
100 yard dash: won by Carpine, Cheney, second, James, Idaho; third, Freeman, Cheney. Time: :09.7.
220 yard dash: Won by Carpine, Cheney; second, Freeman, Cheney; third, Cohen, Idaho. Time: :22.2.
440 yard dash: Won by Schow, Idaho; second, Johnston, Idaho; third, Nichols, Cheney. Time 50.2 seconds.
880 yard dash: Won by Brown, Cheney; second, Nale, Idaho; third, Zier, Cheney. Time: 1 minute, 58 seconds.
1 mile run: Won by Dyrgall, Idaho; second, Dyrgall, Idaho; third, Slade, Idaho; Time: 4:32.8.
2 mile run: Won by Leibowitz, Idaho; second, Dyrgall, Idaho; third, Slade, Idaho; Time: 9 minutes, 25.4 seconds (new record).
500 yard low hurdles: Won by Chis-tus, Cheney; second, Garst, Idaho; third, Cohen, Idaho. Time: :23.9.
120 yard low hurdles: Won by Chis-tus, Taylor, Cheney. Time: :15.7.
500 yard low hurdles: Won by Chis-tus, Cheney; second, Garst, Idaho; third, Cohen, Idaho. Time: :23.9.
800 yard low hurdles: Won by Chis-tus, Cheney; second, Garst, Idaho; third, Cohen, Idaho. Time: :23.9.
Shot put: Won by Anderson, Idaho; second, Anderson, Cheney; third, Howard, Idaho. Distance: 40 feet 11 inches.
Javelin: Won by Nogle, Cheney; second, Dingle, Idaho; third, Anderson, Cheney. Distance: 158 feet.

Golfers Trip Team From Montana U.
University of Idaho's varsity golfers hung up their third victory of the season Saturday by trouncing Montana's divot men 11 to 1, bringing their season to a close with three wins against the same number of losses. Only singles matches were played against the Grizzlies. Louie Kramer was medalist for the Vandals with a par—70. Skedd and Sanderson were low for the Montanans with 74s. With fine weather prevailing all scores were good.

Championships Remain
Hud Nieman and Bob Smith, veterans, will return to the Vandal ranks next year along with a large crop of sophomores.
The northern division championship meet will call four varsity golfers to the wars again May 25 at Corvallis.

Sox Scout Visits Idaho Campus During Tour

Oregon State college has the best balanced baseball team in the northern division, according to Ernie Johnson, scout for the Boston Red Sox, who visited the campus this week end. However, the five diamond teams comprising the division are all well-coached, he said.

"Idaho looked particularly good in defeating Oregon twice last week," Johnson said, "especially in view of the fact the Ducks were favored to win both tilts."
The Red Sox scout concurred with Vandal Coach Forrest Twogood in the belief that Oregon State will send her two strongest pitchers against the Vandals Wednesday and Thursday and take a chance with a weaker mound force the next two days when they meet WSC at Pullman.

Gale Mix Releases 1940 Schedules

Complete northern division schedules in basketball, baseball, track, golf, tennis, swimming, wrestling, and fencing were announced by graduate managers of the division members Sunday in Spokane following an all-day meeting at the Davenport hotel. Representing Idaho at the confab were Graduate Manager Gale L. Mix and Coach Forrest Twogood.
Division championships in wrestling and fencing were set for Moscow March 11.

Military Interferes With Baseball Game Slated for Friday

The freshman baseball game, scheduled for Friday against the Lewiston normal teachers on MacLean field has run into a temporary obstacle, according to Coach Gordon Williamson. The military department will hold its season's finale Friday and will occupy the MacLean diamond for the entire afternoon. Negotiations are now under way by Graduate Manager Gale Mix to secure the baseball lot by the cavalry barns for Friday's encounter.

Williamson expects a close game with the Pioneers. With the completion of spring football practice, three new men have joined the freshman squad. Vic Berlius will take his place on the pitching staff. Irv Konopka will perform behind the bat, and Harold "Noisy" Neustetter will make a bid for the first base job. These men are expected to add additional power to the yearling aggregation in its remaining games.
Saturday the freshmen will engage the WSC Kittens in another home game.
Chemical engineers, and faculty will go on a picnic Saturday afternoon at Flannigan's flats.

Horsehidlers Skyrocket From Cellar Position

By Charlie Boren
Idaho took a pair of games from the touring Oregon baseball team last week and boosted themselves to fourth place, leaving Washington State holding down the cellar. Oregon State will play its final games here against Idaho this Wednesday and Thursday. The Corvallis team is leading the pack with seven victories and one loss to Idaho. Both games start at 3:30 p. m.

Picked by Coach Forrest Twogood for the hurling job Wednesday is Merle Stoddard. Dick Snyder may handle the mound job Thursday. No changes in the batting order are expected, but the right field starter is still uncertain with the final selection depending on the starting Oregon pitcher. If Elliot does the tossing for the Staters during the initial contest, Twogood expects to spot Ross Roundy, Ronnie Harris, or Chuck Atkins in the garden position.

Twogood Praises Stoddard
Twogood praised Stoddard for his performance last week, when the Vandals dropped Oregon 2 to 1 in as close a game as Idaho has played this year. Idaho counted once in the opening frame after Roundy reached first on a misplay, and then scored during two infield outs. Spicuzza came home in the seventh on Bobby Smith's bunt after he had reached first on the second of two Oregon errors.

Roy Ramey stopped Oregon's last attempt to tie or win the game. Walden reached second and with but one out, Pitcher Ager sent a liner toward right center with a two-base hit tag on the ball. Ramey swung out from second and took the ball with one hand, continuing to second base to complete the double play, unassisted.

Snyder Wins Second
Dick Snyder was the winning Vandal pitcher after the dust had cleared away from a mild slug-fest which Idaho captured by a 9 to 4 count Saturday morning. Joe Spicuzza came to bat with none out and the bases loaded during the first inning after Stoddard, playing right field, had singled, Catcher Price had lined out a double, and Chick Atkinson had walked. Spicuzza's one-baser scored Stoddard, and Bob Smith's single sent Price home. Ramey walked to force Atkinson in.

Snyder Clouts Triple
Stoddard slapped out a double in the second and Oregon sent in a relief pitcher. Atkinson flied Stoddard to the plate. Again in the third, Caccia singled and came in on Snyder's triple, Snyder reaching the pay base on Stoddard's safety. Atkinson and Spicuzza scored in the fourth and Caccia tallied on a passed ball after sticking a three-ply blow during the seventh.

With more than half the season past history, and in view of the string of victories posted by Oregon State, Twogood rates the Willamette Valley nine to capture this year's flag. The Stater pitching staff is strong, as the cluster of big league scouts hovering around Pitcher Elliott indicates, and the remainder of the club is well balanced, he said.

If Twogood can pilot his charges through an even break with the league-leading Staters, and then turn in a couple of victories over Washington, whom the Vandals meet May 27, 28, his club can count on placing, with as good a chance as any for the second spot.

'Mural Sports

By Dewey Allen
Along the intramural front favorite softball teams led their leagues while the horseshoe pitchers began to show their strength last night. In Division A Willis Sweet's I and II teams were leading their leagues, but had to share the honors with a pair of strong teams from Chrisman hall. In Division B the Phi Dells, Sigma Chi, and Delta Chi led league I while ATO, Delta Tau, and Lambda Chi, were tied for the league II team.

In softball Willis Sweet is won their second straight victory by downing the Idaho club 11 to 7. In the only other Division A game, Lindley hall is broke into the win column with a 14 to 10 slugging victory over the Campus club. In horseshoes Willis Sweet took over the lead in league I. The Sweet peg ringers defeated the Idaho club to chalk up their second victory and take over undisputed first place.

Phi Dells Beat Tekes
Division B softball games saw the Phi Dells become the first team to garner two wins as they handed the erratic Tekes their second straight setback by a score of 13 to 2. The victory put them at the head of the pack in league I. In the other league I games the Phijs walloped LDS 12 to 4. In league II the favorites, Delta Tau and Lambda Chi came through with opening game wins.
Delta Tau walked over the Betas 20 to 7 and Lambda Chi smothered

Wunderlich To Speak At Graduations

Herbert J. Wunderlich, dean of men, who returned last Friday from a week's good-will tour of six northern Idaho towns, will leave Thursday to give commencement addresses at Kellogg, Rose Lake, and Clarksfork Thursday and Friday.

On his second tour of Idaho high schools this year, Dean Wunderlich visited Bonners Ferry, Sandpoint, Priest River, Coeur d'Alene, Plummer, and St. Maries. He spoke before assemblies and at student conferences for those desiring information on educational opportunities and vocational guidance.

Netters Vanquish Cougar Team

After dropping a 6 to 3 decision to Montana's traveling net team Friday Idaho tennis men came back Saturday to trip Washington State 4 to 3 and avenge an earlier 5 to 2 lacing by the Cougars.

Vandals copped three of the singles matches from the Grizzlies but faltered to lose both the doubles contests. Dave Freeman, Elmer Jordan and Jimmy James scored victories for Idaho.
Idaho Whips In Doubles
Trailing 3 to 2 after the singles matches, Idaho won both of the doubles matches to defeat a stubborn Cougar team. James won from Duncan of W.S.C. 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, and Leo Imhoff defeated Bussard of WSC in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3 for singles victories. James and Bud Doane teamed to score a 6-4, 6-4 triumph over the Cougars. Imhoff and Dave Freeman clinched the Idaho victory with a 6-3, 6-2 victory over the Staters.
