THE POLITICAL POT... Jason hoped to avoid things political until after Homecoming...

Apparently, the Greek chiefs believe that the Independent party is already in the "splitting" process.

ANTI-AMENDMENTS... Jason's sources also informed him that T. N. E. will spread the word around to vote against the "clean politics" amendments.

Now, these amendments were drafted by political science majors and were unofficially approved by members of the political science faculty.

But T. N. E. is not interested in theoretical democracy. Theta Nu Epsilon members are more interested in the "democratic" techniques of Tammany hall.

McCarthy Names Committeemen; Board Approves

Two Amendments To Be Put On Ballot For Election Thursday... The ASUI executive board unanimously favored various committee appointments by President Leslie McCarthy, voted to put two "clean election" amendments upon the ballot in next Thursday's election, and approved the ASUI budget at a singularly "non-political" meeting Tuesday night.

Caccia Explains Reason

The motion was made by Boardman "Babe" Caccia, who explained that the amendments would prevent a repetition of the election two years ago in which Walt Olson was considered defeated for the student body presidency until he was able to prove that the ballot boxes had been "stuffed."

Committees Named

Election committee members appointed by McCarthy and approved by the board are Howard Langland, chairman, Sam Kauffman, and Al Rice.

WSC, Idaho Leaders Discuss Homecoming 'Good Will'

Leaders of Washington State college and Idaho student affairs met yesterday noon at the Blue Bucket in their annual "good will" campaign to keep down acts of vandalism on either campus during Homecoming celebrations. Discussion centered on the serious consequences of "feuding," which might affect friendly relations between the two colleges for many years.

Particular concern of the group was the disappearance of the W.S.C. cougar's portable cage, which was later found and returned. Leaders of both groups expressed the desire that students on both camps would maintain the same attitude of good feeling that was manifested at the meeting.

Plans for the two student body presidents to alternate speaking at the respective rallies were formulated.

The traditional "Blue Bucket" will be shown to the stands at half time of the Homecoming game, and will go to the winner of the game for possession for a year.

Deans Attend

Washington State men who attended the discussion were Dean Otis C. McCreery, dean of men; Earl V. Foster, graduate manager; Don Greeley, A.S.S.C.W. president; and Paul Sax, vice president; Earle R. Ross, interfraternity council president; Harold Silvermail, president of independent men; and Jack Sackville-West, I. K. duke.

Idaho leaders present were Dean H. J. Wunderlich, dean of men; Gale L. Mix, graduate manager; Les McCarthy, ASUI president; Bill Johnston, Argonaut editor; Bob Swanson, independent council president; and Bill Abrahamson, president of interfraternity council.

The women will start on the 10-yard line and the men on the 20-yard line. The area for the contest will go as far as the 50-yard line and be bounded by the sides of the field.

The contest, to last five minutes, will be started by a gun fired by Les McCarthy, A.S.U.I. president. Judges will be McCarthy, Ann Maguire, John Montgomery, and Dean and Mrs. Herbert J. Wunderlich.

Closing event of the program is the annual Homecoming dance at 9 p. m. tomorrow in Memorial gymnasium. Curt Martin and his orchestra will provide the music. Entertainment will include a song by George Saunders and a soft shoe dance by Priscilla Done.

Bands To Play

Idaho and W.S.C. bands are scheduled to play at the game and to perform letter formations. The W.S.C. chorus will appear with the Cougar band during the final six minutes of the half.

ed to run on a non-partisan ticket for sophomore class president.

Also to be decided by the student voters next Thursday are two amendments, appearing elsewhere in this Argonaut complete. The amendments, if passed, would provide for the determination of election board judges on a merit basis, and a "clean-up" on election procedure. Students will also vote for the establishment of a full-time, student-supported alumni secretary.

Polling booths will be set up in the Administration building and in the Blue Bucket lounge, according to McCarthy. Time for voting will be determined by the election board, which will be selected by the merit examining board next week.

open for registration until 10 p. m. Friday and again Saturday. A file will be kept so that old grads may locate each other.

plained. Rally committee members are Zingale, chairman, Oswald Walsh, Stanley Jeppeson, Jim Gerrard, and Steve Weisgerber. The committee will oversee all rally activities during the year.

Appointed to the assembly committee, in charge of all ASUI assembly programs, were Milt Eberhard, chairman; Keith Hardin, Rex Blodgett, Anne Stoddard, and Helen Rowley.

A petition given McCarthy by Stanley Wotjkievicz was rejected unanimously by the board. The petition, requesting a student vote on whether the Blue Bucket magazine should be published, was disregarded because the board decided it was not properly drawn to go on the ballot at a constitutional amendment.

Following is the petition: "We, the undersigned, hereby petition for the ASUI to let the students vote in the forth coming election whether or not they want the Blue Bucket magazine."

The magazine was discontinued as a campus publication last spring.

Appointed to the examining committee, which will draw up were Vern Ravenscroft, chairman, and administrator merit examinations for election board candidates, Ken Kofmehl, Virginia Erdman, Wayne Hudson, and La Moyne Jensen.

Sennett Taylor was appointed temporary chairman of the election board.

Paul Ryan appeared at the meeting to request that an honorary track award certificate be presented at the Idaho-Washington State game to the father of Doug Dingle who was killed in an automobile accident last week.

Dingle was anxious to win a track award this year, Ryan said, and would almost certainly have won his letter if he had lived. The request was granted by the board.

The proposal providing for an alumni secretary and placement correlator, tentatively approved by the board at an earlier meeting, was finally approved with minor changes. The measure will go on the election ballot to determine student opinion regarding it. It is printed in this issue of the Argonaut. A copy of the plan under which the University of California operates its alumni activities was submitted by Ann Little. The board postponed consideration of the plan, however, until results of election are in.

Sheean Says United States Should Send Aid Abroad

"Because we have only six months to live ourselves," Vincent Sheean told a crowd of 3,500 in Memorial gymnasium Tuesday that we should send all aid to England to protect ourselves. The doctors in Berlin and Tokyo, he said, have passed sentence.

Mr. Sheean, author, lecturer, and war correspondent, spoke here under the auspices of the public events committee.

"It makes no difference," Mr. Sheean declared, "who is elected president, or what policies we adopt. The decision has already been made in Berlin and Tokyo."

Talks to Journalists

Elaborating on this statement later at a luncheon given in his honor by Sigma Delta, upperclassmen's journalism honorary, he said the treaty made by Germany, Italy, and Japan stated clearly that if any one of the signatories became involved with an outside power, meaning the United States, that the other powers would come to the treaty signer's aid.

"Fascist powers honor treaties made among themselves," he said, "no matter how worthless they are when made with other countries."

Japan's desire to drive American and English interests out of Asia was also given as a reason by Mr. Sheean that our peace will be short lived.

"For three generations, the Japanese have been instilled with the aim of driving us out of Asia, and they realize that the possibility of achieving that aim is greater now with German support back of them than ever before."

The traditional English theory of "balance of power" in Europe will be abandoned, the lecturer told his luncheon audience, when this war is over, even if England wins. They know that their empire is gone, he said, and are working for a new federated Europe.

Hitlers Principle Saves Britain

"If Germany had invaded England in June," Mr. Sheean disclosed, "they would have had nothing to cope with but the air force. It was a disarmed army that had returned from Dunkirk. The thing that saved England was Hitler's principle that Germany could never fight on two fronts at the same time."

A German invasion of England in the spring is likely, he said, but England will be stronger. No one but Winston Churchill, he believed, could have brought about such a resurgence of spirit in England, and made such a unified cabinet with members selected from all parties.

Regents Will See Heating Plant

Two important measures will come before the board of regents in their first meeting of this year here this afternoon, President Harrison C. Dale said yesterday.

First act to be considered by the board will be the refinancing of the bond issue on the Albion normal dormitories. President Dale advised that the board would apply for a refinancing movement.

Regents will be conducted on a tour of the newly remodeled university heating plant, as the second part of their meeting. Under construction since last April, a new boiler began operation today.

Sheean's Busy Day Includes Moscow, Cheney Talks

By Ed Davis

This Vincent Sheean gets around, no doubt about it, thought five Idaho men after taking him to Spokane late Tuesday afternoon. Counting on their fingers, they found he had exactly half an hour to himself and his wife between start and finish of a long Tuesday.

"My Day" included the trip by car from Spokane in the morning with Cecil Hagen of the publications office; brief perusal of notes, speech at 11 a. m. in the gymnasium, lunch till 2:20 with Sigma Deltas, Theta Sigmas, and faculty; a half hour at the Phi Gamma Delta house, and the trip back to Spokane.

Wait, we're not through yet. After a bite with the boys, Mr. and Mrs. Sheean left for an appearance at the Eastern Washington school of education at Cheney in company with the institution's president. Then back to Spokane, arriving only to be hustled to the Press club for an interview with Inland Empire newsmen.

Plan Vacation
The Sheeans are looking forward to a two-week vacation from lecturing during the excitement of national elections. He spoke in Walla Walla Wednesday and in Butte yesterday. From there they will fly home to Bronxville, Long Island, where they and the Joseph Kennedys of England and America live across the street from each other.

"Jimmy" (his publisher started the use of "Vincent," his more dignified middle name) and Mrs. Sheean are a very handsome couple. Students here admired him, and they would have enjoyed seeing his wife. A striking brunette, she is a Londoner by birth. She makes friends and influences people as easily as her husband.

On the road back to Spokane, he told a few experiences of his undergraduate days at the University of Chicago, and listened to many more of the men in the car.

"Am I happy when I'm traveling around Europe or the Orient? Not especially, being a foreign correspondent is no picnic when you have two fine daughters at home who scarcely know their father."

He enjoys meeting people, though, and described vividly a recent party given by the Queen of England. He can give an instant evaluation of every public figure in England, knowing many of them personally. And Mr. Sheean isn't exactly a stranger to French and American public figures.

His traveling companions did their best to make Vincent Sheean Palouse-conscious after he had made them world-conscious. Followed an interchange of old world and new world jokes.

Fifteen minutes after are first polls close in many eastern states at 6 p. m. next Tuesday, the Columbia Broadcasting system will be on the air with returns of the presidential election. The staff will stay on the air from then until one the the major parties concedes defeat.

University Women Witness Filming Of "Wyoming"

Betty Sutherland and Betty Hale Meet Well-known Film Stars

By Mary Ellen Hartigan
"Wyoming," western show featured at the Kenworthy theater early this week, may have been just another western to most Idaho students, but to two women, Betty Hale and Betty Sutherland, it was a picture with plenty of action that they saw this summer while working in Jackson Hole, Wyo.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer established their location at Jackson Lake, a few miles from the City of Jackson Hole, and the cast and crew spent much of their time in town. The women met Leo Carillo, Wallace Beery, and Ann Rutherford, principals in the show.

"Mr. Carillo was very friendly and natural," Miss Hale said. He asked us where we were from, and when he learned that we attended the university he asked us our major. He seemed really interested, and off the screen is the same in pictures. He talked with an accent and wore cowboy clothes."

He wrote "Hi, Pal, and Best Wishes, Leo Carillo," when they asked for his autograph.

Beery Dislikes Fuss
"Wallace Beery seemed quiet and obviously hated to have people make a fuss over him," Miss Sutherland said. "He wore very casual, old clothes. Mr. Beery owns a ranch in Jackson and spends most of his summers there, so the people were quite accustomed to seeing him and many of them knew him personally."

When they saw Ann Rutherford she was wearing no makeup, horn-rimmed glasses, and a tan camel's hair coat. She gave the Idaho women her autograph.

Many of the townspeople of Jackson appeared in the picture. Local cowboys played wranglers and soldiers in the show. The girls saw the scene filmed of the Indians charging over the mountain. Because of the wrong effect, the ranch had to be burned twice. The second time it was burned one building at a time because the scene was filmed in a national forest.

Miners Hear Scheid At First Meeting

Vernon E. Scheid, assistant professor in geology, addressed members of the associated miners at their first meeting of the year last night. He told of the aims of the organization and how membership benefits students enrolled in the school of mines.

Actors To Present "Kind Lady," N. Y. Melodrama

"Kind Lady" will be the first melodrama to be presented on the ASU stage in five years, according to John F. Sollers, dramatics instructor and director of the play. It is scheduled for November 7 and 8, at 8 o'clock in the university auditorium.

"It is very unusual that permission was received to stage 'Kind Lady' on the Idaho campus, for the play is now running on Broadway," Sollers says. That the public feels the need of excitement that melodrama offers, has made the New York play a success, he said.

Members of the cast are Jake Harshbarger, Adell Clemmer, Phyllis Heiner, Imo Gene Muck, Lucy Adele Dillingham, Keith Hardin, John Chrape, Betty Detweiler, Don Swinney, Dennis Savage, Georgia Wolfe, Emma Jo Long, and Rod Greening.

Coach Issues Call To Skiers For Team Tryouts

Initial turnout of Idaho skiers is set for Monday at the Memorial gymnasium, Hans Winbauer, student ski coach, announced yesterday. Skiers planning to turn out should contact Winbauer before turning out for the conditioning exercises.

Four of the skiers who competed with the team last year are expected to turn out. They are Phil Conley, Martin Marquard, Sykes Gilbert, and Winbauer. Sun Valley where they took third The team last year travelled to in the Sun Valley national intercollegiate competition. The team also raced at Mt. Rainier, Mt. Hood, Walla Walla, Wash., and Wallace, Idaho.

Negotiations are underway for University of Idaho skiers to become members of the Inter-mountain Ski Council, a Northern Idaho-Eastern Washington group. Member clubs of the council are the Chewelah Ski Club, the Seikirk Ski Club, Washington State College, the Spokane Ski club, and the Idaho Ski Club, Wallace.

Foresters Plan Annual Dance

Foresters will dance in a setting of pines in the Blue Bucket Ballroom, on November 23, at the annual Foresters Ball, according to Pershing Vance, social chairman of the club.

The ball, a semi-formal, will be the only large social function Thanksgiving weekend, Vance said.

Tickets for the ball will be on sale at all men's halls and fraternities within the next ten days.

Price of tickets will be one dollar per couple. Music is by Joe Titus and his orchestra.

Honorary Installs Former Dean

Dean Ivan C. Crawford, dean of the University of Michigan engineering college, and former dean of the Idaho college of engineering recently entered the Michigan hall of fame by mounting the traditional Sigma Rho Tau stump on the Michigan campus, striking the time-honored pose, and becoming an honorary member of the "Stump Speakers' Society."

The group's newest member maintained tradition by serving as principle speaker of a Sigma Rho Tau banquet.

Having joined the ranks of the noted sons of the "Stump", which includes such men as Gov. Luren D. Dickinson of Michigan, Dean Crawford is scheduled soon for much of the pomp and ceremony which surrounds the University of Michigan chapter of the honorary engineering speech society.

BROTHER, THEM'S FIGHTIN' WORDS

The Vandals are going to score Saturday. Just how often depends upon the extent of their anger when they finish reading the following paragraphs. Already this recoprtter can visualize a sharp rise in the blood-pressure of all Idaho grid-ders.

"Football Becomes 'Minor Sport' in Moscow (Idaho) . . . Ample Proof of De-emphasis on Scoreboard." Those were the headlines topping a column by Jimmy Corcoran in a recent issue of the Chicago Herald-American. Kind of dull reading at that, but don't go away, Mr. Corcoran really waxes enthusiastic in the column itself. Following are some excerpts from Corcoran's column.

"But how about dropping a line (and p'rhaps a spare back-field too) to the dying heroes of the University of Idaho of Moscow (U. S. A.), who have been throwing out their necks all season and haven't scored a point yet? Notre Dame wrecks Carnegie Tech, 61 to 0, and Boston college puts a potato masher on Idaho for sixty points. Now Carnegie knows what a touchdown lookst like—having scored a few against—Geneva—but with Idaho it's been zero weather since the season opened."

"Yale has decided to de-emphasize its football, but Idaho, York, and Mount Union don't have to make any announcements. The boys have dropped goose eggs all over the field and no one has heard a cackle."

"Perhaps the present plight of the University of Idaho could be the fault of the railroads. The school is located at Moscow and it might be that the train crews are afraid to stop there because they think the school might be run by Stalin. Certainly there is some reason why football players don't care to get off the train when (and if) it stops at Moscow."

"To date, Idaho has held the opposition's scoring down to 148 points and the worst, apparently, is yet to come."

You are all wet on a half a dozen points, Mr. Corcoran, but more specifically, the points scored against the Vandals total up to 147, not 148.

REMOTE CONTROL COACHING

Mike Ryan, Vandal track coach, is probably the only mentor who has ever coached a team by remote control. While Mike was acting as nursemaid to the Vandal football squad on the eastern trip, he was also sending daily instructions to members of his Pacific Coast championship cross country team.

Despite the lack of adequate coaching and the sickness bug-aboo that has descended on Ryan's hill and dale men, they should win the varsity race from Coach Dixie Garner's Cougar runners tomorrow. The Leibowitz-Dyrgall-White combination should whip over the four-mile course layed out in the rolling Palbuse hills ahead of any Cougar opposition except, perhaps, Bill Dale or Noel Williams.

Idaho's freshman leather-lungers will not be quite as successful. In fact, that long line of undefeated yearling teams is about to be broken—and into very small bits. Cougar Cubs who will be most instrumental in defeating Idaho are Marston Fitzsimmons, who last year ran the fastest interscholastic mile in the nation; Jim Crump, Washington interscholastic mile champ; and Curtis Bowers, two-minute half-miler.

Incidentally, Bowers tried for a solid month to get some sort of "accommodations" at Idaho, but evidently someone thought that good track men weren't needed in the Vandal camp.

Manager Announces Practice Hours For WAA Tourney

Women interested in entering the horseshoe tourney next week have only two practice periods remaining, according to Mary Ellen Dunkle, tournament chairman.

Twenty-five WAA points will be given for women placing in the upper one-third of the tournament; 15 to those in the middle-third, and 10 will be given to those who place in the lower-third.

Women desiring practice hours can get them Monday and Tuesday between 3 and 5 o'clock at the pits behind the women's gym, according to Miss Dunkle. She will be present both days to aid in practice.

Spurs Will Have Annual Luncheon

Washington State Spurs and Idaho Spurs, national sophomore women honorary, will lunch together Saturday noon in the banquet room of Hotel Moscow, according to Joyce Tucker, president.

Dean of Women Beatrice Olson will be guest speaker at the luncheon. Joyce Tucker will welcome the Washington state spurs and the president of the Pullman chapter will give the response. Mrs. W. H. Boyer, Spur advisor, and the dean of women from Washington State college will be guests at the luncheon, Miss Tucker said.

The luncheon is a traditional affair for the Spurs from the two chapters. Ruth Ann Cahoon and Pauline Hawley are in charge of the luncheon.

Zingale To Assist Boxing Mentor

Official confirmation of the appointment of Sammy Zingale as assistant student coach to Louie August, Vandal boxing mentor, came from Athletic Director Ted Bank's office yesterday. The appointment came as an anti-climax to Zingale's boxing career at Idaho.

Last year Zingale captained Idaho's national championship mitt team, after fighting in the 135, 145, and 155-pound classes for two years. His transfer from the university of Wisconsin to Idaho deprived him of another year's eligibility for collegiate competition.

Interrupted Crocker's Wins Highlight of Zingale's career came last year when he broke Omar "The Socker" Crocker's list of 24 straight victories by drawing with the Badger Star in a featured bout at Madison, Wis. National Champion Crocker had earned 17 of his 24 straight wins by knockouts.

The task of developing what promises to be a strong freshman team goes to Zingale, according to Coach August. A record roster of yearling aspirants could not have been effectively coached by himself, August said.

Reuben Margolin, a graduate student from the East, was appointed assistant student coach under Zingale, according to Coach Bank.

Honorary Solicits Money For 'Mums

Members of Mortar Board, service honorary for senior women, are now busy conducting their annual sale of chrysanthemums for the homecoming game tomorrow. Each group house on the campus will be solicited today for collections and more orders. Orders taken today will be delivered tomorrow morning.

Saturday morning, 'mums will be sold at Hotel Moscow and at the gates before the game.

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock the annual alumnae breakfast of Mortar Board will be held at Hotel Moscow.

Miss Lulu Holmes, Dean of Women at Washington State college will be guest speaker at the breakfast. President of the Washington State Mortar Board chapter, Miss Joyce Johnson will be an honored guest.

Prof Takes Leave

Prof. John Howard, assistant professor in civil engineering, will leave today for Spokane where he will be employed by the Washington Water Power company. He will do special work in evaluation and hydraulics. He has been granted a year's leave of absence.

Taking his place on the Idaho faculty will be G. A. Riedesel, coming here on leave from the Idaho bureau of highways. His home is at Twin Falls. Riedesel's appointment is subject to approval by the board of regents.

Vandals Stress Offense For 42nd Meeting With Cougars

Revamped Lineup May Start Against Traditional Foe

Coach Ted Bank sent his Vandal gridmen through stiff practice sessions this week in preparation for Idaho's traditional Homecoming battle against the Washington State Cougars here tomorrow. Coach Bank has been concentrating on offense in an effort to break the scoreless Vandals into the scoring and winning columns.

All pre-game dope points to an easy Cougar victory but Bank has pointed out that anything can happen in a traditional affair such as the Idaho-WSC game. An Idaho victory tomorrow would be the Vandal's first grid win over their Palouse rivals since 1925.

Reserves Press Regulars
Sophomores and reserves have been on the rampage in practice this week and several regulars might be missing from the starting lineup at game time. One-year letterman Tony Aschenbrenner has been pushing Tom Solinsky for starting honors at the pivot position.

End spots are the most undecided positions on the squad. Sophomore Ed Keiper and junior letterman Chase Anderson have been looking good in recent practices and may be starting the game in place of regulars Paul Ryan and Vic Berlus.

Clark, Smith Threaten
Weight of the backfield duties will probably fall on the shoulders of Ray Davis, left half; Earl Acuff, right half; LaVern Bell, fullback; and Mac Beall quarterback. This combination might be upset by two sophomore backs who showed up well in the Utah game.

First sophomore is Dale Clark, right half, who reeled off good yardage in the Utah State game and shows promise of developing into a good left-footed kicker. Clark was a high school star but bad knees have kept him out of college football until now.

Sophomore left half Bob Smith is the other back who will probably see much action in the civil war of the Palouse. Smith, the lightest man on the squad, had been hampered by injuries all season, but is a speedy ball carrier and one of Bank's best passers.

Cougars Act Leary
Coach Babe Hollingberry and his Cougar machine are not taking the Idaho team lightly. Coach Hollingberry is drilling his gridgers hard and is seeing that the team does not become over confident.

Several changes are liable to be made in the WSC starting lineup with sophomores and reserves pushing first string men hard for their starting posts. Center Earl Stone may be benched in favor of Francis Rish, senior reserve. Hollingberry has rumored that there may be several more changes in the usual starting lineup.

Coach Calls Mermen For Conditioning

Initial turnout for the Vandal swimming team is scheduled to take place shortly after the close of football season, Coach Bob Tessier said yesterday. Football duties keep Coach Tessier busy at present.

"All persons interested in the swimming team should start turning out as soon as possible, however, in order to be in shape when regular sessions start," Tessier said.

No indications as to the probable size or strength of this year's swimming team were forthcoming from Coach Tessier.

Wrestlers Prepare For Season; Prospects Good

Climax of the Vandal grappler's wrestling season which includes five conference meets will come May 1 when the Northern Division championships are held here. With eight lettermen and several other experienced wrestlers planning to turn out, prospects for a successful season are good, according to Coach Dennis Hess.

Heading the list of lettermen now working out is Coach Hess, who wrestles in the 148-pound class. Other lettermen are Buhl Sutton, 138 pounds; Marvin Chouinard, 138 pounds; Hank Juran, 168 pounds; LaVern Bell, light-heavyweight; Leonard Zenkevitch, heavyweight; Danny Welsch, 131 pounds; and Italo "Babe" Caccia, 168 pounds.

All mat candidates with the exception of Bell and Zenkevitch, are working out regularly, according to Coach Hess.

Lightweight Needed
"I would like to have anyone interested in wrestling in the 118-pound or 128-pound divisions report to me Monday. The two positions are the weak spots in what should be a strong team," said Hess.

Coach Hess is expecting Bell to turn in some fine matches, as he has won almost all of his previous starts. Juran and Zenkevitch should also be greatly improved this year, according to Coach Hess.

Conference meets this year will be held with Washington State, January 18, at Moscow; Washington State, January 25 at Pullman, Washington, January 31 at Moscow; Oregon State, February 15 at Corvallis; and Northern Division championships, March 1 at Moscow.

Normal To Entertain Idaho Women At W.A.A. Playday

Volleyball, modified soccer, paddle tennis and swimming are the activities scheduled for the Lewiston normal-Idaho Women's athletic association playday Nov. 9 at Lewiston.

The normal WAA has invited 16 Idaho women to attend and the first to sign the list in the basement of the women's gymnasium will be taken. Any woman is eligible. WAA membership is not required and transportation will be furnished.

Cars leave the Women's gymnasium at 9 a. m. Saturday Nov. 9 so that students may register and begin the activities immediately. Idaho women will entertain at a luncheon.

Vandal gridgers paused long enough in scrimmage sessions at Boston's New Fenway park to let a news photographer "shoot" them posed on the culvert used to roll up the canvas covering the field. From left to right the gridmen are Mac Beall, George Nixon, LaVern Bell, Earl Acuff, Tom Solinsky, Paul Ryan, Maynard Helen, Glenn Rathbun, Rex Workman, Joe Piedmont, Leonard Zenkevitch, Pete Hecomovich, Fred Nichols, Elmer Smith, Chace Anderson, Laune Erickson, Rex Engelking, Milo Anderson, Chet Leary, Chuck Chandler, Ray Davis, John Tomich, Hank Crowley, Bill Micklich, Bill Harper, Ron Harris, Cleo Rowe, Vic Berlus, Bill Piedmont, Ed Keiper, Ken Cox, Irving Konopka, Tony Aschenbrenner.

'Mural Sports Cougar Runners Offer Vandals Opposition

Undeclared paths of Phi Delta Theta and Chrisman I will converge Monday night as the two squads battle for the university intramural touch football championship.

Both teams scored divisional championship victories last week to earn berths in the university finals. PDT conquered Alpha Tau Omega 18-6 Thursday evening for the "B" title and Chrisman I gridgers were just as impressive as they rolled over Sweet II, last year's mural champs, by a 20-7 count for the "A" crown.

Monday's game promises to be a duel between two clever passers as well as a couple of strong squads. Gordie Williamson will be chucking for the Phi Deltas and John Shreve for Chrisman. It was the passing of these two lads which netted each team its championship.

Shreve's bullet passes over the line accounted for every point which his team scored against Sweet. Williamson's tosses, usually to Castagneto, brought all the Phi Deltas' scores against ATO.

In the final games, the winners had things almost their own way. Chrisman rolled unopposed over Sweet II, intercepting passes and then tossing for touchdowns. Never were last year's champions a serious threat. ATO furnished plenty of opposition for the Phi Deltas during the first half of their game, but in the second half, the winners had everything their own way.

Other results this week were: Phi Gamma Delta 13, Delta Tau Delta 0; Sigma Alpha Epsilon 2, LDS 0; Sigma Chi 6, Kappa Sigma 0; and Tau Kappa Epsilon 13, Lambda Chi Alpha 0. Five games other than the championship tilt will be run off Monday night and the touch grid season will be over.

Listed in order of their season standings are the teams of division A: Chrisman I, Sweet II, Idaho II, Sweet I, Idaho I, Lindley II, Campus I, Chrisman II, Lindley I, and Campus II.

Points each hall will receive for participation in intramural football are Sweet 200, Idaho 180, Chrisman 160, Lindley 140, and Campus, 120. Standings and points in division "B" have not been tabulated.

And now for a little "football courtesy:" In the Phi Delt-ATO game last night a player received a pass and was galloping goalward when an opponent jumped on his neck, executing a touch tackle. Both players sprawled on the turf, and when they had struggled back to their feet, the tackler re-

Cougar Runners Offer Vandals Opposition

Idaho's varsity and freshman cross country teams were pronounced ready for the strong Washington State Cougars by Coach Mike Ryan yesterday. The teams clash in their annual dual at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at MacLean field.

Coached by Dixie Garner, the Cougars are one of the strongest teams on the coast and if Idaho can defeat them tomorrow a path to the fourth straight Pacific Coast championship seems clear, according to Coach Ryan. Last year the Cougars upset the Vandals by handing them their first dual meet defeat of the Ryan regime at Idaho.

Garner Only Loss
Only loss from Washington State's squad of a year ago is Dixie Garner who graduated and took over the coaching reins. Leaders of the Cougar invasion this year are Bill Dale, who placed second in last year's meet, and Neel Williams who placed fifth.

Coach Ryan is depending upon Phil Leibowitz, Vic Drygall, and Bob White for an Idaho victory with LaMarr Chapman, Sted Johnston, John Thomas, and Iv Alterwein backing them up. The three former Vandals have turned in fast times this year.

Illness Takes Regulars
Lost from the Vandal team because of illness are Bobby Neal, Bob Dwyer, and Stan Grannis. Neal recently underwent an appendicitis operation, Dwyer suffered from appendicitis symptoms, and Grannis broke two ribs in a touch football game.

The Cougar cub squad, which includes some of the nation's former outstanding prep distance men, will give the win record of the Vandal yearlings the worst scare of its existence reports Ryan. The Idaho freshman team has yet to lose a dual cross country meet.

Fitzsimmons Leader
The cubs are led by Marston Fitzsimmons who ran the fastest high school mile in the nation last year. Pressing Fitzsimmons for honors are Jim Crump, holder of the Washington interscholastic mile record, and Curtis Bowers, a two minute half miler from Walla Walla.

Frosh Scrimmage During Week

Intrasquad scrimmage featured this week's practice sessions for Coach Walt Price's freshman football gridgers as they continued preparations for the Gonzaga yearling game November 9 at Spokane. Special emphasis will be placed on blocking to strengthen the Freshman's running attack tomorrow, according to Coach Price.

A defense for the Notre Dame style used by Gonzaga's yearlings will be worked out next week by the coaching staff, and the Vandal freshmen will learn a few new plays. Steady rainfall has hampered practice all week.

Gonzaga, under Coach Fanny Hunting, has played two games this year. The Bulldog Pups opened their season by beating Lewiston normal 13 to 6. Last Saturday they battled a heavy WSC freshman squad to a scoreless deadlock.

One of the bulwarks in the Gonzaga backfield is Fred Hare, third of the football-playing Hare boys. Fred is a brother of Ray, currently playing for the Washington Redskins professional team, and Cecil, who is one of Puggy Hunt's varsity backfield mainstays.

Murphy Takes Post

Donald M. Murphy, of the plant pathology department returned Tuesday to the campus, from his Twin Falls laboratory where he spends his summers.

Mr. Murphy works for half of the year in the government entomology laboratory at Twin Falls, on bean breeding projects. He spends the remaining six months at the Idaho agricultural experiment station here.

Phi Deltas Defeat Betas 14 To 2 In Annual Game

About 150 student fans watched Phi Delta Theta defeat Beta Theta Pi 14 to 2 in their traditional grudge football battle Monday. Playing on a rain-soaked field, the two teams slid around for 40 minutes of feature football.

The first Phi Delt touchdown came in the first period when Gordon Williamson passed to Dick Harlan in the end zone. Williamson passed to Don Bechtol for the point. Fran Cannon set up the second Phi Delt touchdown when he intercepted a pass and ran to the Beta 14. Williamson passed to Bill Castagneto in the end zone, and flipped a short aerial to Bill Brown for the Phi Delt's 14 points.

Costly Fumble
A fumble in the Phi Delt backfield cost them two points early in the game when the Beta line surged through to catch Williamson behind his goal. The second half produced no scoring.

Outstanding play of the game came in the second half when Dick Snyder, Beta halfback, intercepted a pass in his end zone and ran it back to the Phi Delt 12 where the drive finally bogged down.

On the wet field, raining proved impractical and both teams used a passing attack. Phi Deltas completed 12 passes and the Betas 0.

Officials for the game were Darrel Kerby and Pete Hill.

Huge Vote Expected

For some years before Christ's birth Rome was in bad shape. It was too rich and too poor, too fat and too lean.

A noodle and macaroni line was formed with matinees free every afternoon at the Stadium, if you brought your vote.

Who does Hitler think he is, telling all the European nations what kind of a dictatorship they may have!

Let's look at the record. Let's put away all prejudice—racial, religious, economic, social, moral, and mental.

Another says this is all wrong, and a lot more isn't right. If, says he, the voter will support him, we'll go back to the old "knit one, pearl one" system and that will fix it.

The boys on the gravy train kick because they are afraid they'll be kicked off as the train makes the next corner.

Quietest of all is the class of the "fatted calf," from 21 to 35. They watch the baldheaded political and economic barons stir the goldfish bowl—so patriotic and serious.

As their numbers come up, these boys see a free trip to Pearl Harbor, Manila, Singapore, or Cardiff.

How delightful is the south when—but where were we? Oh yes, the election next Tuesday. Step right up, folks.

Communique Comment

According to an Admiralty report, German U-boats sent to the bottom a total of 146,000 tons of British shipping in the week ending October 21.

England forms the only important European market left to American industry. As our aircraft and munitions factories gear themselves to increased output, in order to supply the tight little island with the sinews of war, our economy is becoming more and more dependent upon the successful continuation of Britain's defense.

Churchill and his colleagues realize that the continued shipment of vital supplies from the United States to Britain gives us a certain stake in a British victory.

One reason for the British losses is the inability of the Admiralty to give adequate conveying service.

And the future of our sizable trade with Japan is obscured in the war clouds of the western Pacific.

Election Amendments

Two merit examinations to be held each year are included in the provisions of one of the three amendments that will be placed on the ballot next Thursday.

The amendment provides that the following rules shall govern the examinations:

- 1. The examination board shall be appointed by the executive board and be bi-partisan. 2. Any student registered in the University of Idaho who is eligible for participation in ASUI activities may take this examination. 3. Participant applications shall be identified by numbers until after rating is determined.

Specific provisions for numbering ballots, handling ballot boxes, and checking election results are provided in an amendment which will be on the ballot next Thursday when students go to the polls to vote for class officers.

- 1. Ballots shall be numbered consecutively, in duplicate. 2. Ballots to be approved, printed, checked, and locked up under the supervision of the election board chairman, vice chairman, but no party shall be deprived a representative upon presenting a petition requesting such representation from the executive board. 3. Number of ballots shall be certified at printing office and checked at polls before voting begins.

Alumni Secretary?

To determine the attitude of Idaho students on the question of an alumni secretary to be paid from funds collected from students, the following resolution will appear on the ballots in the ASUI election November 7.

RESOLVED: That a permanent official shall be selected to serve as alumni secretary and placement correlator for the University of Idaho.

That he shall cooperate with the university faculty and administration to find jobs for graduates, encourage students to attend Idaho, organize alumni groups, and contribute related services to the university, graduates, and students.

That a fee of 50 cents per semester shall be charged each university student, beginning the second semester of the 1940-41 school year, and that such fee will entitle each student, upon graduation, to lifetime membership in the Idaho Alumni association.

That all proposals to select the official, set his salary, formally delineate his duties, or alter the policy of his work in any way, must be approved by accredited Idaho Alumni association, by the president of the university, and by the ASUI executive board before they shall be put into effect.

That monies collected from the fees shall go toward paying the salary and expenses of the official heretofore described.

"Quien Sabe?"

Numbers—Numbers—Numbers. They used to be statistics and long columns of them excited interest only in financial centers, or among the players of some "numbers" game who hope for financial reward.

War blooms in Europe; threatens to engulf the world; numbers leap to life and become the living youth of America.

Long lines of men search longer columns of numbers seeking the answers. The time they are to go may be answered soon. What they can plan for the future, what it will ultimately mean to them, what they can expect after this "numbers" game is over perhaps is best answered, "Quien Sabe?"

Decorators Keep Night Watch On Work

Delta Gamma freshmen determined last night to guard with their lives the result of a day's hard labor—the wooden false entrance to the house, which will be featured as a part of their Homecoming decorations.

The superstructure, upon which the women exerted their knowledge and lack of knowledge of carpentering through the day, was early termed the new "Delta Gamma Chapter House."

3 Students Talk Over KRLC

Homecoming plans were broadcast last night when three Idaho students and Perry Culp, jr., assistant graduate manager and publicity director, spoke over KRLC, Lewiston.

The program was made up of questions and answers with Mr. Culp asking questions about Homecoming activities, group house decorations, dances, the Sadie Hawkins race, the pajama parade, and the football team.

Students appearing on the 15 minute broadcast were Norma Lou McMurray, Alice Alford, and Italo Caccia.

to vote. But his sources assured him that Greek voters will continue to vote as they are told to vote.

In fairness to the Greek executive board members, however, who voted unanimously to put the amendments upon the ballot, Jason must say that he believes at least one of them honestly believes in clean elections and was honestly in favor of the amendments.

All the facts in this column were admitted by one member of T. N. E. and by another Greek who is "close to T. N. E." These facts, Jason believes, will constitute an adequate reply to the critic who recently accused this column of concentrating too much attack against the fraternities and sororities.

CONCLUSION

Jason believes, will constitute an adequate reply to the critic who recently accused this column of concentrating too much attack against the fraternities and sororities.

To the independent voters who may be wondering if Jason is taking them for a ride, he can only say: "That's the way I heard it—from T. N. E."

One Big Auto Ride The 25,260,000 autos in America are quite sufficient to take every man, woman and child in the country riding at the same time.
