Anyone who attended the executive board meeting last night might well have wondered what has become of the high-powered political maneuvers that have preceded earlier ASUI elections. The board played wistfully with the idea of calling the whole thing off and declaring the unopposed Independent candidates elected. After it decided that process would be unconstitutional, the board sadly decided to hold a regular election.

The part played by "Bow Wow" Wojtkiewicz in the board's decision to hold the election as scheduled was a small one. Though "Bow Wow" or "Woof Woof," as he has been called since his bark has become somewhat muffled was the only candidate opposing the Independents, the election would be held even if he resigned.

According to his story, "Bow Wow" might have fared more happily if he had accepted the Independent caucus decision to leave him off the ballot. The administration, he claims, has threatened to remove him from school if he runs.

"I have to run now," he said, "If I don't run, it will look like I'm scared."

Without vouching for "Bow Wow's" statements, Jason can make one suggestion for the administration. A ballot box is as effective as an administration axe in dealing with a potential martyr. Unless "Bow Wow" has done something for which he should be expelled, in other words, the administration's wisest course would be to let the students decide his political fate.

INDEPENDENT INCENTIVE

The Independent party may feel somewhat cheated, because the followers of T.N.E. have withheld a list of opposition candidates, but the most important issue scheduled for the election still remains upon the ballot. That issue is the fate of the proposed amendments to bar corruption permanently from school elections.

T.N.E. members have admitted that the Greeks will be instructed to vote against the amendments. They are counting, probably, upon an Independent apathy caused by the lack of candidate competition. But Jason is not sure this time either that the Independents will be apathetic or that T.N.E. will be able to keep the mass of Greek voters from reading the amendments and deciding for themselves.

As far as the Independents are concerned, they have every reason to turn out in full force Thursday. The amendment measures represent the best of the Independent reform drive. It will be ironic indeed if that drive ends short of a permanent clean election situation.

The downtown students, whose interest in political activities is necessarily limited by their ignorance about them, will certainly find nothing mysterious or distasteful in these amendments. If they take time to read them and think to carry their ASUI books to class, a permanent reform will be achieved.

And the Greeks, who will be told to vote against the measures, need only reflect a moment. How long would the Independent party leaders be able to hold their halls within the fold if they could not constantly point to corruption on "the other side of the fence"? The answer is: Only until the Independent voters decided that the Greeks were putting up a better man. And what are the basic reasons why Independents distrust the United Students? 1. They allow T.N.E. to run the Greek politics. 2. They have consistently voted against the amendments which any voter can recognize as laudable devices to clean up elections.

For these reasons, Jason believes the amendments may be passed Thursday, despite the disinterest on the rest of the election. He sincerely hopes that he is right.

WRITE-IN BALLOTS?

Ever since T.N.E. announced that the Greek party would not offer candidates, voters have been asking whether United Students intend to write in candidates. Jason's guess is that they will not. T.N.E. leaders have assured Jason that they will not, in the first place, and it would hardly be to their advantage to lie to him in a mid-year election. In the second place, such write-ins would probably be thrown out as illegal because of a special wording of the constitution upon the subject of nominations.

'Clean-up' Amendments Will Be Thursday Issue

Delta Gammas See Mortgage Go Up In Flames

Sorority Pays Off Debt On Twenty-year-old House

"With bent head and solemn thought we devote this moment to those who chased off mortgage troubles for the bronze, the pink, the blue," were the words inscribed on each tiny scroll, marking places for 60 at an 11-o'clock breakfast given Sunday morning at the Delta Gamma house.

In the dining room the light came from tapers in crystal holders on the tables. The flowers, in low bowls, were in the sorority colors. Later, in the living room, Frank Stanton, university bursar and for the past 15 years financial director for the group, gave a report, dating from 1920 when the chapter house was built.

He paid tribute to Mrs. Elizabeth Given for her wholehearted cooperation during her 17 years as housemother; to Claus Peterson, Howard David, Harry Whittier and Frank Naylor.

At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Stanton, Mrs. Given and Mrs. T. D. Matthews, only alumnae present who was here in college when the house was built, lit the mortgage papers and threw them on the burning logs in the fireplace.

Beecher To Direct Chorus of 400

Starting next Thursday evening, outstanding singers of the campus will trek across town each week to rehearse Handel's "Messiah" at the Methodist church auditorium.

Prof. Alvah Beecher, head of the music department, will direct the ensemble of over 200 singers from the university and 200 more from Moscow citizens. The oratorio is scheduled for December 15.

Professor Beecher will open the first rehearsal next Thursday evening at 7:15 o'clock and as a nucleus for his campus singers will use the Vandaleers and the university singers. Prof. Carl Claus will choose and rehearse a large orchestra.

All singers will be welcomed into the huge ensemble, said Professor Beecher, and those who have scores for the Messiah are urged to bring them. Church choirs will figure prominently in the Moscow delegation.

Seniors Learn Techniques Of Mine Rescue Work

Looking like fugitives from a war zone in their goggles and oxygen breathing apparatus, 18 senior members in the school of mines are undergoing an intensive training course this week in the techniques of mine rescue work, according to Prof. William W. Staley, assistant professor of mining.

Given each year by the U. S. bureau of mines, the course is in charge of J. Howard Bird, mining safety engineer, Seattle. Covering a full week, the course affords training in the use and maintenance of oxygen breathing apparatus and first aid training.

Each student has a Paul and McCaa oxygen breathing apparatus and learns the proper methods of breathing and detecting leaks. A two-hour oxygen supply is carried by each wearer so that he may enter gas or filled mines and work without fear of losing consciousness.

Practice in Open Air

After first practicing in open air, the class members are placed in a box car filled with formaldehyde gas and learn to work under actual conditions. Individual equipment weighs 30 pounds and is furnished the class by the Bureau of Mines.

Class students are: Harry Bast, S. L. Cook, Archie Cooke, Robert Durk, Charles Horn, Howard Jacky, Lewis Karably, Fred McCrory, A. J. McDonell, P. J. McGanley, Charles McHarg, Miro Michelich, F. R. Neal, H. A. Pow-

Best Decorators

Hays Hall 'Daisy' Catches Prize In Man Chase

Fleet-footed Edna Lucile Roberts, Hays hall, pounded into the stretch at the Sadie Hawkins derby classic Saturday and upheld local Dogpatch honors by being the first "Daisy Mae" to snag a dodging "L'il Abner." Her winged heels netted her $2.50 and a box of chewing gum.

George Poulos, Tau Kappa Epsilon, attired as Abner's joy-juiced partner, Lonesome Polecat, seated himself at the western end of the field after a lengthy chase and drew the other $2.50 as the last male uncaught.

There were evidently no "mud-ders" among the participants. The race was pitted with many a fall as some galloping Abners failed to negotiate a turn.

Les McCarthy, decked out as "Marrying Sam," fired the opening gun for the race. Judges were Ann Maguire, John Montgomery, and Dean and Mrs. Herbert Wunderlich.

Tri-Deltas Win House Prize

"Hi grads, no hoakum, you're welcome to Yokum" brought the first prize in the women's house decorations to Delta Delta Delta. A family group of Mammy, Pappy and Abner extended the invitation in the decoration.

Willis Sweet hall won the men's group contest with a sign depicting Mammy taking Pappy to the cleaners and giving him a scrubbing in the familiar wash tub.

Each of the contest winners received a cup.

Honorable mention in the men's group was given to Phi Delta Theta and Delta Tau Delta. Forney hall and Kappa Kappa Gamma received honorable mention for women.

Women Pick Captains For Speedball At Class Meetings

Eleanor Axtell was chosen captain of the senior women's speedball team at a meeting of the team last night. Other captains chosen were Joyce Kenworthy, juniors; Mary Fran Marshall, sophomores; and Jacqueline Davis, freshmen.

The speedball tournament begins Monday, November 11.

The newly elected captains, Pat Unternahrer, manager, and Mrs. Ruth Manca, W. A. A. advisor, will choose the class teams after practice Thursday afternoon. The team selections will be posted on the bulletin board in the women's gymnasium.

Regents Approve Purchase Of New Trophy

Men Students To Compete For Semi-Centennial Scholarship Cup

Acting on a suggestion by President Harrison C. Dale, the university board of regents approved a plan which will bring another scholarship trophy cup to the university, at its first meeting Friday. The cup will be purchased from funds left over from the semi-centennial celebration in 1939.

As suggested by President Dale, the cup will be given to the men's group fraternity, or hall, with the highest grade average during the year. It will change hands each year, after the second semester grades have been tabulated. This cup will correspond to the one now given by Mrs. Dale to the women's group with the highest average.

"The money to purchase this cup will come from the balance of the fund used to conduct the semi-centennial celebration two years ago," Dale announced yesterday. "Money for that celebration was donated by the alumni and friends of the university. After all the bills were paid, there was money left over. Until this time, we have not known what to do with the money."

President Dale said that the trophy would be known as semi-centennial cup.

Out-of-state business occupied the remainder of the meeting, except for a visit by the regents to the new university boiler at the heating plant.

Board members attending were Mrs. A. A. Steele, Parma; W. C. Geddes, Winchester; J. W. McNaughton, Coeur d'Alene; A. L. Swim, Twin Falls; J. H. Anderson, Blackfoot; and J. W. Condie, Boise.

Debaters To Hold Third Round

Intramural debates will swing into the third round tonight when six of the remaining seven forensic teams meet to argue the merits of whether or not North and South America should form a hemispheric defense, reports Harry Lewies, varsity debate manager.

Willis Sweet will argue the affirmative side of the question against the Campus club on the latter's home floor. The S. A. E.'s will seek their third straight win at the expense of Sigma Chi, and the affirmative Idaho club team will argue with the Betas. The L. D. S. team drew a bye for tonight's round.

Two Teams Eliminated

Losing two debates by forfeit, automatically eliminates Sigma Nu and Chrisman hall teams from competition. Sigma Chi, L. D. S. and Willis Sweet have each won and lost one debate. The Betas are undefeated after one debate. The Campus club has yet to break into the win column after one try.

Winters Gives Paper On Forestry At Fall Meeting

Members of the industrial empire subsection of the Society of the American Foresters, Saturday, according to Dean D. S. Jeffers, of the blister rust control headquarters, Spokane.

A paper, "Some Aspects of the Forest Situation in North Idaho," was presented by Dr. Robert K. Winters, of the northern rocky mountain forest and range experiment station, said Dean Jeffers.

Papers were also read by Prof. Elwood V. White, associate professor of forestry, on the "Isolation of Arabe-glacton from Western Larch," and by E. F. Rappacher of the northern rocky mountain forest and range experiment station on "Larch for Plywood."

Car Trails Owner Across Lawn At Sweet

Strange things happen at Homecoming but Tony Paulson, graduate of last year, was slightly baffled when his car attempted to trail him into Willis Sweet hall Sunday morning.

He parked the vehicle on Line street above the hall, but, seemingly devoted to its driver, the model A Ford jumped the curb, cut across the steps, and rolled down the lawn and came to halt a few feet from the entrance.

Only damage sustained was a badly bent front axle and a divoted lawn.

Woman Instructs Student Pilots

Flying instructor for 10 Idaho student pilots at the Pulman-Moscow regional airport's Irene Crane, lone woman engineering student at Idaho for the last three years. This year she is working for the Wallace Aerial Surveys, CAA flight contractor for Idaho and Washington State college student pilots.

Miss Crane holds a commercial pilot's license and an instructor's rating. She received her commercial license in September after spending most of the summer taking instruction at Spokane, Missoula, and Kellogg. She qualified for her private pilot's license in April as a member of Idaho's first pilot training class.

Instructs Ten Students

Her students, dubious at first about having a recent fellow student for an instructor and a girl at that, now vouch for her ability with a curt, "She knows her stuff." Her students are Beulah Keister, Rachel Swayne, Clarence Stark, Ollie Hammer, Leonard Hickman, Benjamin Schmidt, Creston Johnson, Thomas Arnold, John Gaffney and Billy Chronic.

Lutheran Poll Shows F. D. R. Ahead By Small Majority

If President Roosevelt doesn't win today's election it won't be the fault of the local Lutheran Student association which cast 23 votes for Roosevelt, 16 for Wendell Willkie, and 1 for Norman Thomas in a straw vote Sunday.

Democratic leader Melvin Alcaiger expressed dissatisfaction with the small majority Roosevelt obtained and assured Democrats it would be increased greatly by today's election. Republican leader Beuletta Nordby did not comment.

The ballot followed a non-partisan speech on citizenship in which Dr. Paul Eke, head of the agriculture economics department, told the students they should vote according to their consciences after thoroughly familiarizing themselves with both candidates.

HUNTERS GET WARNING

A warning to all student game hunters has been issued by local law authorities, in regard to hunting on university property. All university owned land, and especially the farm is designated as a game reserve.

Any students caught hunting birds on the property will be fined $25 and their guns will be confiscated, according to the authorities.

Executive Board Votes Election Necessary

The ASUI executive board unhappily decided that an ASUI election will be held Thursday to fill class officers and one executive board post at a special meeting last night.

Despite the fact that only one place on the ballot, that of the sophomore class presidency, will be contested, the group decided the election must be held. A suggestion to dispense with the balloting because it will cost about $200 and because all Independent candidates except one are unopposed was discarded.

Stanley Wojtkiewicz, one-man "Fair-Play" Party, will oppose Weldon Cole, Independent, for the sophomore presidency. Board members pointed out however, that the election would be necessary whether Wojtkiewicz ran or not.

Merit Exam For Board

Polling booths will be set up in the administration building and in the Student Union building downstairs lounge. A bi-partisan election board, selected by merit examinations, will supervise the voting. Polls will open at 9 a. m. and close at 4 p. m.

Wojtkiewicz said yesterday that the administration has threatened to remove him from school unless he declined to run in the election. Obviously ill at ease, he appeared before the board last night to answer questions. He admitted he had had difficulty in securing entrance here this year, but explained he had been allowed to enroll after he promised to "be a good boy and wear a shirt to class."

Seeking a method to hold the election without incurring unnecessary expense, "Babe" Caccia suggested that the executive board supervise the voting. Under his plan voters would be given small slips of paper rather than regular ballots and would vote for class officers upon them. The proposed constitutional amendments printed in the Argonaut's last issue, would not be voted on this election under Caccia's plan.

Regular Election

The board decided, however, that the election must be run according to regular procedural rules. Members of the election board will be announced and approved at the regular executive board meeting tonight. Both "clean election" amendments will be placed upon the ballot, and students will indicate their opinions upon a proposal to hire a fulltime alumni secretary and placement correlator.

Clemmer And Chrape Star In First ASUI Play

Playgoers may obtain tickets tomorrow to "Kind Lady," first ASUI play of the year, to be presented Thursday and Friday, 8 p.m. The tickets may be obtained by presenting ASUI tickets at the Student Union bookstore. Hodgkin's drug store will sell tickets to town people.

Taking leads in the New York melodrama, first in five years to be presented at Idaho are Adell Clemmer and John Chrape. Director is S. F. Sollers, dramatic instructor.

The play tells the story of a middle-aged kindly art collector who unsuspectingly gives a cup of tea to a beggar on Christmas eve. The beggar is an artist who brings a family of criminals into her home and attempts to steal her possessions. Her efforts to escape comprise the plot.

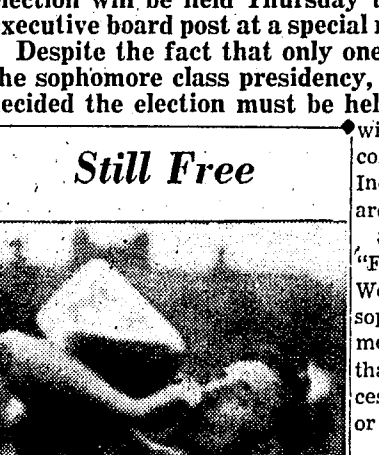

Play Portrays Terror

A parallel of faint terrorism and aggression is brought in by romantic episode in the play are the author. Portraying a slight Lucy Adele Dillingham and Keith Hardin.

Musical background for the play is furnished by special records ordered from New York, the same as used in the original Broadway production.

Cast members include Jake Harshbarger, Phyllis Heiner, Imo Gene Muck, Betty Detweiler, Don Swinney, Gayle Manion, and Harry Dahliner; properties, Arlene Grendahl, Virginia Aylor and Howard Carpenter; lights, Den-ton Darrow and Ned Bowler; costumes, Louise Schadler; make up, Imo Gene Muck, Irina Williams and Beth Geddes; sound effects, Marcia Kimble.

Still Free

Fleet George Poulos managed to keep away from all the man-chasing women Saturday. He won first prize in the elimination race for Sadie Hawkins day.

Lawyers To Honor Five Justices

Idaho's five supreme court justices will be the guests of honor at the annual Bench and Bar, law honorary, banquet at Hotel Moscow Saturday night, according to Dean Pendleton Howard of the college of law.

The opening of the court term in Lewiston next week will make available at this time all five justices. Abe Goff, local attorney, politician and president of the State Bar association, also will be a guest at the banquet.

Robert Alexanderson, student justice of Bench and Bar, will preside at the banquet. About 50 law students and members of the college of law faculty will attend.

Students Will Eat Turkey Meat On November 21

Idaho students will eat turkey on November 21, regardless of what the university calendar says, President Harrison C. Dale announced yesterday. Governor C. A. Bottolfsen has declared his intention to proclaim for Idaho the date suggested by President Franklin D. Roosevelt as the day of national thanksgiving. The university will observe the holiday date set by the governor.

Classes will be dismissed Thursday, but will convene again on Friday, President Dale said. Students leaving for the week-end will be counted absent from Friday and Saturday classes.

Idaho Poll Shows Faculty Picks Willkie 5-3

By Ed Davis

The Idaho Galluping poll gallops on. And it's the faculty's turn to tell the Argonaut reporter off. He thought of holding certain instructors' opinions over their heads to secure a better grade here and there, but it's confidential.

Almost 30 of the faculty members returned a count of five to three for Willkie! They know their own minds, for most of

Beresford Edits Farm Bulletin

Ten thousand copies of the bulletin "Farm Electrification in Idaho," were distributed yesterday throughout the state. The publication was issued by the University of Idaho Agricultural Experiment Station. The magazine is a glorified issue of the regular bulletin series printed by the Department of Agricultural Engineering.

Commemorating Idaho's fifty years of statehood and the advancement of farm electrification during that time the bulletin was published in cooperation with the Idaho committee on the relation of electricity to agriculture.

Written and edited by Prof. Herbert Beresford, head of the agricultural engineering department, the bulletin is an interesting account of electrification advancement instead of strictly technical articles.

The foreword was written by the gentlemen and ladies questioned spoke their pieces in the firmest tones for "The Man."

This looks like about the first time in the school's history that the students and administration were able to agree on a major issue. Students went for Wendell five to four and the faculty picks him five-three. It cannot be said students were carrying favor with their instructors, for students had their first say. Now whom shall we poll for the final say before tomorrow.

Dislike 'My Day'

Getting specific, the poll showed a perfect split in the English department. Chief objection to Roosevelt was "My Day." One whole department went for the New Deal lock, stock and barrel.

Several other departments touched split squarely. In one such case, the man called whooped, "500,000 votes for Roosevelt." He was not in the business school.

Cougars Claw Idaho Gridmen 26 To 0 After Close Early-Game Battle

Women Will Compete In 'Shoe Tourney

Women's horseshoe tournament, open to all women who have had one or more hours of pitching practice, will be held Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 to 5 o'clock. Women wishing to participate in the tournament should come to the horseshoe pits behind the women's gymnasium anytime during these hours.

Idaho's Vandals went down in defeat for the fifth time this season and for the sixth time failed to score as they bowed before the Washington State Cougars 26 to 0. About 5,000 Homecoming fans viewed the contest, which was played on a field made soggy by a week of rainfall.

After the Vandals had dominated play for the greater part of the first half, WSC struck with lightning rapidity for two touchdowns. The Cougars, with reserves playing added two more scores in the third quarter.

PAINT APARTMENT

Dr. and Mrs. Jolley's apartment in Chrisman hall was painted yesterday. It was the first time the proprietor's apartment had been painted since the building was constructed.

Injuries Costly
The defeat was a costly one for the Vandals as they lost the services of Mac Beall, Earl Acuff, and Dale Clark. Beall and Acuff suffered knee injuries which will keep them out of the Montana game and possibly longer. Clark sustained a sprained ankle and will probably not see action Saturday. Bunk Holmes, sophomore Cougar halfback, was carried off the field with possible internal injuries.

Idaho threatened shortly after the opening kickoff. After an exchange of kicks the Vandals took the ball on the WSC 39 when Bill Sewell's punt was short. Ray Davis, sophomore halfback, broke loose around right end for 12 yards and a first down on the Cougar 27. A roughing penalty gave Idaho another first down but the attack bogged down after the Vandals had moved up to the 18-yard line. Beall's 60-yard quick kick, which put the Cougars deep in their own territory, featured the drive. Beall also punted out of bounds on the WSC nine-yard line.

Sewell Heads Attack
In the second quarter the Vandals continued to threaten. Sophomore End Ed Keipper recovered a fumble by Dick Renfro on the State's 27, but Beall's fourth down pass was incomplete and the Cougars took the ball on downs.

Bill Sewell started the Cougar attack near the end of the first half. After Sexton recovered an Idaho fumble, Sewell completed three passes to put the ball on the six-yard line but there the Vandals braced and took the ball on downs. However, the Cougars came back with a 44-yard drive for a touchdown. A pass from Sewell to Nick Suseoff was good for a first down on the 32. Sewell passed to Captain Don Greeley on the 22 who raced across the goal line unopposed. Stan Johnson added the extra point.

Cougars Strike Again
The WSC passing attack struck again after Vandal Pete Hecomovitch had kicked from the Vandal end zone to the 36. A few plays later Atkins passed to Bob Kennedy who evaded two tacklers for a 25-yard touchdown play. Bill Micklich blocked the kick for the extra point and the half ended with Washington State leading 13 to 0.

WSC's third score came in the third quarter after a 36-yard drive with Jay Stoves, substitute halfback, plunging over. Micklich again blocked the kick for the extra point. The final Cougar touchdown came when Dale Holmes took a pass for a touchdown. Rainbolt ran for the extra point.

The fourth quarter was played largely in Vandal territory with the Cougars making numerous threats but being unable to push the ball over. Idaho opened up with an unsuccessful passing barrage in the final period.

Montana Next Opponent
There will be no rest for the Vandals this week as they prepare for their traditional game with the University of Montana at Missoula. Last night the varsity scrimmaged the frosh as the coaching staff started to build a new backfield combination.

TERRIBLE TONGUETWISTERS
Two of Michigan State college's football players are giving radio announcers a great deal of trouble—or at least two were. The announcers talked one into changing his name.

The gridsters are Dionysius Economopolous and Tom Johnna-kopolous.

The latter shortened his name to Johnson, but Economopolous retains his entire name, with the explanation that his parents wouldn't like it shortened.

His teammates call him "Econ."

When Things Were Looking Bright

In an Idaho first quarter drive Saturday, Vandal Ray Davis, sophomore halfback, gained up to the Washington State 37-yard line on a lateral play before being downed by Cougar Halfback Bill Sewell. Hovering near from right to left are Douglas Felix Fletcher, No. 12, halfback; Dick Renfro, No. 37, fullback; Karl Giguere, No. 14, guard; and an unidentified player.

Sportlight Reflections

by bob wethern
WANTED: SPARK FOR GRID TEAM

If Saturday's game proved nothing else, it revealed that the Vandal squad is a football team—that the material is there. The Idaho eleven wasn't, as many believed, playing over its head in the first 15 minutes of the game. It was merely playing heads up ball as a team and not as eleven assorted individuals.

Idaho's rooting section roared with unaccustomed vigor and visiting Cougar fans fearfully wondered what the outcome would be. Then, on a trick play that left even experienced sportlanders bewildered, Cougar Quarterback Don Greeley appeared from nowhere to snag a Sewell pass and race unscouted over Idaho's goal line. It was then that the Vandals stopped being a team and became eleven individuals—some still playing good ball, others . . .

True Vandal Mac Beall left the game with a serious knee injury before the initial touchdown and Earl Acuff went to the sidelines with a bad ankle injury just 12 plays later. The two losses seriously impaired Idaho's offense and hurt the defense also, but not to the extent of 26 to 0. The collapse of the Vandal defense was caused by the first Cougar touchdown.

If the Vandal gridmen are depending entirely upon the abilities of Beall and Acuff for their offensive and defensive momentum, they have rolled to a dead stop for the remainder of the 1940 season. Indications are that the collegiate football careers of Beall and Acuff have been terminated by Saturday's injuries.

DADS ASSURED OF GOOD TIME
Idaho Dads may be worried about that Idaho-Nevada game slated for November 16 on Dad's day, but they don't broad smile at the prospect of seeing the Vandal national boxing champs in action. Coach Louie August has promised that punches will not be pulled in the eight inter-squad bouts scheduled. Promising freshman mitslingers will make their Idaho debut before visiting fathers.

Smiling also is Coach August. Reason: Three likely looking varsity ringmen on the Idaho campus who volunteered for ringwar duty after hiding away all these years. The men who didn't wait to be drafted are Chuck Sweetwood, 155-pound sophomore; Art Acuff, 155-pound junior; and Louis Karably, 175-pound senior.

Coach August vows that the "new three" hyped his 1940-41 club up to the strength of last year's champion team. Karably will easily take care of the 175-pound class left vacant by National Champion Johnny Webster, according to August.

Fight fans shouldn't confuse Karably with the Karabrothers, Ted and Frank, even though all three hail from Cleveland. A senior in mining engineering, Karably is "only" taking 22 hours this year and therefore has decided to spend a little time in the ring.

Tracksters Begin Annual Meet

Fall track will begin tomorrow when the two mile run and javelin throw events are contested in the annual inter-class meet. The meet will be spread over several weeks to give contestants a chance to perform in various events, according to Mike Ryan.

Thursday, the one mile run, 12-pound shot, 100-yard dash, and mile relay events will be run off. The inter-class meet is an important phase of Idaho's track program and every man who expects to make the varsity or freshmen teams this spring should take part, Ryan said.

Dyrgall Sets Mark As Teammates Defeat Cougars

Varsity Wins 22 to 37; Kittens Break Babe's Winning Streak

Vic Dyrgall, Idaho sophomore, set a record-breaking pace as he led teammates to a 22 to 37 cross country victory over the Washington State varsity Saturday morning. Dyrgall negotiated the course, ankle deep with mud, in 24 minutes 34 seconds. The win clipped more than twenty seconds off the former record set three years ago by Dixie Garner, now Cougar coach.

Vandal freshmen suffered their first defeat since Mike Ryan took over coaching duties at Idaho six years ago. The freshmen fell before the Cougar Kittens 30 to 25. Cougar Jim Crump, the freshman winner, set a new record, covering the three mile freshmen course in 16 minutes, 54.5 seconds. The old record of 17:02 was held by Bill Dale of Washington State.

The kitten win of 35 to 30, gave Dixie Garner a victory in his initial coaching appearance by the same score that he and his varsity teammates made last year when they snapped Idaho's string of varsity victories.

Frosh Gridders Drill For Bullpup Tilt At Spokane Friday

Coach Walt Price began preparing his Vandal freshmen this week for their encounter with the Gonzaga Bullpups next Friday at Spokane. Practice schedule for the Babes will find them scrimmaging the varsity tonight. Wednesday they will work on offense and Thursday they will concentrate on defense.

Vandal's chances for a victory Friday were boosted materially by the return of three injured players. Hugh Harper, Phil Szabo, and Jack Newell will all be ready to play Friday. Newell, halfback from Glenns Ferry, has been out since early season with a pulled ligament.

The play of Tackles Don Anderson and Jack Jones, and End Bob Pace has been outstanding in recent practices, according to Coach Walt Price.

Club To Reorganize

The Pem Club, organization of physical education majors, will meet tonight for election of officers and general organization. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in room 107, Memorial gymnasium. The Pem club was inactive last year.

Jacoby Receives Army Call To Active Duty

Glenn Jacoby, professor of physical education at the University of Idaho, has received army orders to report November 29 at Fort Douglas, Utah for a year's federal service.

Jacoby found the orders in his mail when he arrived home from Eugene, Sunday, after scouting the Oregon-Montana game. A first lieutenant in the quartermasters reserve, he will take a physical examination at Fort Douglas and report November 29 at Philadelphia for a 90-day course in the quartermaster training school. He will be stationed the remainder of the year at Fort Warren, Cheyenne, Wyo.

A graduate of the university in 1928, Jacoby won varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball. He was an assistant football coach for seven years under Leab Calland; coached at Idaho Falls high school for two years; and then returned to the university as a physical education instructor and director of intramural athletics.

Drifting Toward Dictatorship

The title of this editorial may remind readers of the revolting propaganda serial appearing in a Moscow daily newspaper under the heading, "Creeping Toward Collectivism." It is to be hoped that the contents of this editorial will remind them of nothing of the sort.

But the campaign is becoming warmer. Republicans, Democrats, and New Dealers are hurling charges that this or that party is leading America toward dictatorship. The conservatives claim an extension of centralized government will result in one-man rule. The liberals point out that the class-bossed governments of the smaller government units and the fascistic mind sets of many chamber of commerce might prove an even worse enemy of democracy.

Both groups overlook the obvious fact, as is customary in campaigns, that no party can "lead" a relatively free people into dictatorship. The people, through their ignorance and indifference toward public affairs, may drift there without being "led."

No American public leader appears anxious to be a dictator. None will become a dictator, probably, unless "the people" thrust more and more of their problems upon the central government because they are too busy scrambling for money to solve them themselves.

What has all this to do with Idaho students? Well, young people enrolled here are presumed to be the most alert and well-informed of the state's population. That is their business—to get an education.

Yet, how many of them rise above the name-calling stages in discussing national campaign issues? How many of them see any correlation between the attitudes on the campus and the attitudes that have produced dictatorship abroad? How many have political ideals they are willing to fight for, even if it costs them something in time and money? How many, in short, are willing to do more for their government than listen to the campaign speeches? They will be the leaders. Where do they stand?

Communique Comment

As American naval units steam silently out into the Caribbean, it becomes more apparent than before that the State and Navy departments may take quick action in regard to the French West Indian islands. The Vichy government, through its envoy at Washington, is now trying to make clear to Secretary Hull its attitude toward the French possessions in the western hemisphere. If Ambassador Henri-Haye fails to reassure the white-haired guardian of Pan-American solidarity, U. S. Marines may occupy the French island of Martinique before the week is out.

The failure of the British to wrest the African port of Dakar from the forces of the Vichy regime leaves that strategic point, not far from Brazil and not too far from the West Indies, in the hands of a power that is becoming more friendly toward the Axis. It is reported that Nazi technicians are already at Dakar, directing the construction of fortifications and laying plans for an air and naval base of the first magnitude. Dakar, under German control, would give Hitler one of the stepping stones that he must have for Nazi penetration into the western hemisphere.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull see the Petain government under increasing pressure from victorious Berlin. They are determined to take action before the French knuckle under and grant rights to the Germans in Martinique, Guadeloupe or French Guiana. In addition, the U. S. government wants to keep 200 million dollars in French gold and 100 American-built combat planes, held at Martinique since June, from falling into the hands of the Nazis.

Military seizure of the French islands would be a simple matter. The inhabitants seem to desire the protection of Uncle Sam. It would, however, be the first occupation of foreign soil—without a preliminary agreement—by U. S. forces in the present conflict. Strong action seems to be necessary, but its ultimate effect will be to commit us more definitely than before to an un-neutral, anti-Axis stand. Aggressive moves, even in self-defense, render a sideline position untenable.

Ag Department Renovates Former Flour Mill

by Eugene Taylor
An old flour mill west of Chrisman hall, once capable of grinding out 50 barrels of flour a day for use in agricultural research, is being renovated. Repairs on the outside walls and new window casings will make it more suitable as a workroom for the horticulture, agronomy, agricultural chemistry, and plant pathology departments.

Exams Attract Candidates For Election Job

The 15 highest members of the Independent party and 15 of the United Students party were chosen last night on the basis of a merit examination. Of these 30, nine from each party will receive final approval of the executive board tonight to serve on the election board for Thursday's A-SUI election.

Forty-two students, 23 Independents and 19 United Students, took the examination given in Ad. 311. Vern Ravenscroft served as chairman of the examining board. Highest grade, a 97, was scored by Ruth Anne Cahoon.

Highest 15 United Students were Ruth Anne Cahoon, Sam Kaufman, Ed Hillman, Edith Weisgerber, Richard R. Still, Ben Mottern, Ed Benoit, Sam McKinney, Bonnie Jean Jennings, Arthur S. Lewis, Mackey Calquhoun, Doris Hiltcher, Paul Murray, Anita Hammar, and Lawrence Talbot.

Cokes And Coffee Flow Freely From Bucket Fountain

Much Ice Cream, Milk, and Labor Go Into 30,000 Orders

If they were poured together, the 25,000 cokes, and 13,000 cups of coffee served by the Blue Bucket during the first 35 days of school would make quite an impressive puddle. Add the 2,060 glasses of milk sold, and you could float a fair sized schooner.

More than 100 gallons of ice cream for making milk shakes, sodas, sundaes and other concoctions have been passed over the Bucket counter with the past month, according to James Marsh, manager.

Chrisman I Champions
Chrisman hall's No. 1 touch-football machine rung up their sixth straight victory last night as it clinched over Phi Delta Theta 12-0 to crown the university intramural championship.

Paced by pass-slinging halfback John Shreve, the Chrisman team, division A champs, put over two touchdowns. One in the first half by a 16-yard pass, Shreve to Al Bonin, and another in the second half for the same distance, Shreve to Dave Wilson. Passes for extra points failed.

Phi Delta Theta could not get clicking as the Chrisman line charged through to upset all potential offensive thrusts. The Phi Delt line rushed too, but Shreve was always able to shoot his passes before getting hit.

When Gordie Williamson, Phi Delta Theta passing ace did pass, the Chrisman secondary continually slapped the aerials down.

Decisiveness of the Chrisman victory is shown by their 13 first downs as compared to the Phi Delt's three. Each team made one fifteen yard line penetration.

Division B Standings
Final standings in division B of the intramural program were released this week. Following are the division teams listed with the number of points garnered by each during the football campaign: Phi Delta Theta 200, Alpha Tau Omega 190, Beta Theta Pi 180, Phi Gamma Delta 170, Kappa Sigma 160, Sigma Chi 150, Sigma Nu 140, Tau Kappa Epsilon 130, Delta Tau Delta 120, Lambda Chi Alpha, 110, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 100, Delta Chi 90, LDS 80 and TMA 70.

Latest grid results and the last for 1940 are: LDS over TMA by default; Beta Theta Pi 26, Phi Gamma Delta 12; and Sigma Alpha Epsilon over Delta Chi by the flip of a coin.

Mural Notes
An all-university all-star touch football team will be chosen soon and will be announced in this column.

Over a hundred chilled fans watched the Chrisman-Phi Delt game last night.

Next sport listed on the 'mural calendar is volleyball. The schedule will be released tomorrow. Initial volleyball tilts will be played Tuesday night, November 12.

Woman Enrolls In School Of Civil Engineering

By Dorothy Hook
"Just a moment," said Elizabeth Buck, tall, lissome Boise woman, as she stepped across the campus to adjust a transit for six civil engineers.

Along with women lawyers and agriculturalists, Betty, enrolled as junior in civil engineering, is proving there is no such thing as a man's field and that levels and plane tables are not allergic to women. From the time Betty was old enough to pack a stadia rod, she has been helping her father who is a civil engineer in Boise. When she knew a little more about engineering, she ran such instruments as the transit, level, and plane table.

"Right now," remarked Betty, "I am interested in material testing as my vocation following graduation, however, I reserve the right to change my mind."

Crane Instructs Aviators
Her course, a very difficult one, consists of dynamics, mechanics of materials, direct current machinery, economics, and engineering reports.

Last year's only girl civil engineering major, Irene Crane, is an instructor at Moscow-Pullman airport. Following her promotion which she received earlier in the summer, Miss Crane obtained her instructor's rating just before the beginning of school this year.

Engineers To Meet At Oregon State

Idaho representatives at the annual short course for water and sewage plant operators at Oregon State college on Nov. 10 will be H. Loren Thompson, instructor in civil engineering, according to Dean J. E. college of engineering.

This meeting is sponsored jointly by the colleges in this region and the northwest division of the American Water Works association. It is held at a different school each year.

Bucket Dance Set

The Student Union ticket dance listed on the season tickets either November 9 or 15, will be held this Saturday, according to Mrs. Mabel Whitehurst. There will be no Student Union dance on November 15. Reason for question of the date was to have an evening open for the Interstate Knight dance, which has been scheduled for November 29.
