

WELCOME DADS
Tomorrow, Idaho's football team, Idaho's boxing team, and Idaho's student body will honor Idaho's dads. Because Jason has watched similar occasions before, he can't resist pointing out some ways in which he believes the sons and daughters can have a better time with their dads on this occasion.

Sometimes one wonders, watching Idaho's typical young college man entertaining his dad on the campus. Both are seemingly attentive; both are trying hard to keep the other entertained. And for that reason, too many of them fall miserably. The gap between the campus interests and the interests of "the home town" is not a narrow one. It cannot be bridged merely by gridiron struggles and boxing cards. The dad and the son who have the best time together tomorrow will be those who have developed the best mutual understanding.

The student may object that lack of father-son understanding is not a campus problem. But the campus has always bred misunderstanding. Fathers complain that their college-trained sons forget that their dads ever knew anything. Sons reply that their fathers still consider them children, refuse to take their "impractical" information seriously, and close their minds against anything new the sons have come to believe.

Both fathers and sons are usually guilty of both those sins. If they only realize that they are mutually guilty, however, the problem can be easily solved. For both fathers and sons, Dad's day on the campus is a good time to seek the solution.

In this fashion, and verging upon the reefs of sentimentality, Jason welcomes Idaho's Dads. May the sons try to find the campus attractions that will interest their dads. May the dads try to understand and become interested in the things that interest their sons. May both sons and dads have a swell time.

Among the more trivial announcements of the day is the reassurance for Student Union loungers who have complained because no coat hangers were available. The chairs and davenport are too frequently laden with coats, they have complained. Yesterday Mrs. Mabel Whitehurst assured your correspondent that something will be done soon to remedy the situation. Progress takes another stride!

TRAINING TABLE
Ever since Idaho's athletic fortunes became the leading topic last year, students have been interested in team finances. This year's athletic misfortunes have heightened the interest. One of the current questions, which is becoming louder every day, is the one asking why the ASUI must pay 90 cents per man for training table dinners in the Blue Bucket.

Now Jason is not an accountant. His limited experience with university funds has only left him with the impression that most of them are "revolving," revolving to fast for a mere journalist to follow.

But the critics who are heaping scorn upon the head of Bucket Manager Jim Marsh for "overcharging the team" are probably overlooking some factors. In the first place, they should not use as a basis of comparison the prices charged at the Idaho club where the team ate during the first two weeks of practice. A business is one thing, and a cooperative is something else again.

The critics should also remember that Jim is doing his best to hire student help throughout. Students are not always as dependable as full-time workers. They do their jobs in less efficient "shifts." So the Bucket's cost is higher. Most important, the critics have so far developed nothing more tangible than "beefs" relating to the Bucket prices. When they have concrete economy suggestions, Mr. Marsh will probably be glad to consider them, insofar as he has the authority for unrestricted consideration.

Honorary Pledges
Velva Hunter, Alpha Phi, was tapped informally at dinner Thursday night by Phi Chi Theta, national women's business honorary. The eight members and Miss Ellen Reiersen, advisor, selected her Wednesday noon at a business luncheon at O'Meara's. Formal pledging will be held at Hays hall Friday afternoon at 5 p. m.

Pep Rally Tonight Begins Dad's Day Celebration

Chairman
Bob Leericht, Dad's day general chairman, headed the committee which planned festivities which begin tonight with a pep rally and assembly in the auditorium.

Women To Debate At Walla Walla In Opening Meet

To Argue Federal Government's Policy of Restricting Agricultural Production
Varsity debate will open December 7 at Walla Walla when the Idaho women's team engages in a triangular debate with Whitman and Washington State college, announced Albert E. Whitehead, debate coach, last night.

The men's varsity squad will meet W. S. C. at Pullman December 14 with the possibility of a third team also participating.

Question Started
The women's debate question at Walla Walla will be: Resolved, that the Federal government's policy of restricting agriculture production should be discontinued. Men will urge the question: Resolved, that the nations of the western hemisphere form a permanent union.

At Walla Walla there, will be four rounds of debate with three debates to a round. One round will be broadcast over the local radio station.

Six women, Betty Detweiler, Genevieve Wilson, Virginia Way, Peggy Barr, Lois Hansen, and Virginia are now working on the question, Whitehead says.

A practice debate was held by the men's varsity squad Tuesday night. Participating were Bernard Tavoro, Mark Bowles, Harry Lewies, Keith McCarthy, Vernon Ravenscroft, and Ernest Day.

Final choice for the two man debate squad will be decided by competition among these turning out. All those interested should report to Room 204, engineering building, according to Coach Whitehead.

Freshmen and sophomores are particularly urged to turn out as the annual debate tournament between 10 different schools in this vicinity will be held here January 18. It is confined exclusively to underclassmen.

Two Wrestling Bouts Added To Saturday's Boxing Show

With a rally, pep assembly, football game, wrestling and boxing matches, and a Student Union dance scheduled for the weekend, dads and students alike should find plenty of entertainment for the Dad's day celebration.

Leading off the two nights and a day celebration will be a pep assembly tonight starting at Forney hall at 6:45. The rally will wind through the campus and end at the auditorium, where a pep assembly will be held.

"Everyone follow the rally to the auditorium," Walt Gugnioni and Jack Furey, co-program chairman, urged, "for we'll have a real snappy program to offer, and it will be free."

Feature of the program will be a surprise dancing-girl act with the women decked out in football togs. Other numbers in the show will be a skit by Ozzie Walsh; a number by the foresters' band, "The Thunder Mountain Boys;" and new arrangements by the Pep band.

"We'll introduce members of the football team," Joe Allegretti, master of ceremonies, stated, "and new cheers will be introduced that will be worked in with responses by the Pep band. The whole program will be informal with everybody out to have a good time. There'll be dancing in the aisles."

Co-Captain
Co-captaining the Vandal grid machine in its last home stand of the year will be big Paul Ryan, who has smeared plays for Idaho opponents for the past three seasons.

Registering hours for visiting dads will be from 3 to 5 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Student Union lounge, and Saturday morning from 9 to 1:30 p. m. Students are asked to bring their ASUI books when they have their dads registered.

Latest addition to the big smoker to be held Saturday night at 7:30 in the Memorial gymnasium is two wrestling exhibitions. One will be a free-for-all involving five men, and the other a dual match between Marvin Chouinard and Bhuell Sutton. With one wrestler to be chosen yet, those who will put on the mass exhibition will be Hank Juran, Bert Aikins, Jim Ellsworth and Dee Fildsted.

Smoker Erge
"Beside the wrestling bouts," Sam Zingale, boxing chairman said, "there will be eight boxing matches. This affair is in honor of the dads, but everyone is urged to attend. There will be no admission charge. The outcome of some of the bouts may determine team positions, so there should be plenty of action."

Those boxing are Dick Ferrell vs. Art Benny, at 145 pounds; Clark Chandler vs. Watkins Kershaw, 135 pounds; Tom Wells vs. Dwain Butler, 155; Hadley Waalen vs. Lou Karably, 175; Art Acuff vs. Claude Hansen, 155; Don Reed vs. Jim Jennings, 145; and Bill Williams vs. Reuben Margolin, student coach.

The eighth bout will be an exhibition match staged between Ted Kara and Sam Zingale which will demonstrate the right and wrong ways to box with Louis August, boxing coach, pointing out the fundamentals of the sport.

Half Entertainment
More entertainment has also been added at the half time of the Idaho-Nevada football game. In addition to the show to be staged by the military band with the for majorettes making their first appearance, Pershing Rifles will put on an exhibition of some of the fundamental drill movements.

Two cups will also be awarded at the half to the women's house and the men's house who have the highest percentage of dads present. (Cont. page 2, col. 6)

Nevada Lobo Leader
Jim Aiken, rough and ready tutor of Nevada Wolfpack, is a believer in "just straight football" and has piled up a record of 145 wins, four ties, and 26 losses in 18 years of coaching. Aiken plans to show Idaho dads and students a team that can cope with any situation.

Thief Makes Away With Property At Men's Houses

Rooms In Three Houses Ransacked; Thief's Loot Valued At $100
Three fraternity houses robberies, all occurring sometime Wednesday morning, have been reported to the Dean of Men's office according to Dean Herbert J. Wunderlich.

Houses reporting losses were Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi. Thefts included clothes, shoes, watches, and cash.

No clues have been found as to the identity of the thieves but the proximity of the robberies indicates they might have been performed by the same persons, says Dean Wunderlich. Local police have been informed and are working on the case.

Among items amounting to $100 lost by the S.A.E.'s were a brown finger-tip coat, Parker fountain pen, car keys, Sheaffer pencil, Waltham wrist watch, green ski jacket, Sheaffer fountain pen, and $13.45 in cash.

Rooms Are Ransacked
Several rooms were ransacked in the S.A.E. house while the Sigma Chi's and Phi Delt's reported only a few items missing from one or two rooms.

Because of a similar occurrence several years ago in which both the Idaho and W.S.C. camps were involved, the dean of men at the latter college has been informed of the incident, according to Dean Wunderlich.

A warning to all group houses on the campus, concerning possible thefts, was voiced by the Idaho dean of men yesterday noon. Local police have promised to patrol the campus more thoroughly in the future.

Dancers Will Name "Miss Idaho"

Dancers will turn "Artists" November 30 when a "Miss Idaho" will be selected by popular applause and awarded a large silver cup at a dance at the SUB, sponsored by TMA, downtown men's organization.

Using an "Artists and Models" theme, the dance is non-program, non-costume as previously announced, and tickets will go on sale today in all men's groups at 75 cents per couple.

Foreign letters will be sent to each women's residence, said Walt Gugnioni, committee member, and delegates will be selected by group members. No judging will be made, until the dance night. Wednesday, the cup will go on display in the Blue Bucket, he said. Decorations will carry out the theme.

Committee men include Rex Blodgett, Ken Falen, Bill Kinnear, and Gugnioni.

Pem Club Will Give Mixer Tonight

Sporting and dancing minded students will have a chance to do both at the free mixer sponsored by the PEM club in the Memorial gym tonight, according to Ron Allen, president. PEM is a physical education honorary.

All types of indoor sports, volleyball, table tennis, shuffleboard, lawn tennis, darts, horse shoes, and deck tennis will be played. Swimming will also be featured in the evening's entertainment.

Dancing will vary from Virginia Reels and square dancing to present modes.

The mixer will begin at 7:30 p. m., with games continuous through the evening, dancing at 9 p. m. and swimming at 9:30 p. m.

Foresters To Give Annual Ball On November 23

Foresters will pay homage to Paul Bunyan, their patron saint, at their annual Fernhopper's ball in the SUB ball room November 23.

Pershing Vance, general chairman, announced yesterday that tickets for the dance would go on sale next week in all men's group houses.

Programs for the ball will be made from plywood, with a pine tree inlay, whose base is a letter "F" set on a gold background. Joe Titus will play for the ball.

Graduates Marry At Missoula

Frances Zachow, '40, and Bob Towne, '39, were married Thursday at Missoula, Mont. She was president of Gamma Phi Beta last year. She also was a member of Cardinal Key, Spur, and Phi Chi Theta. Towne was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

They will live at Niehart, Mont., where he is employed as an accountant.

28 Kappas Attend Hartin Funeral

Twenty-eight members of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority attended funeral services in Spokane yesterday at 2 p. m. for Mary Hartin, university student killed in an auto wreck Monday afternoon near Rosalia, Wash. Memorial services were held by Kappa Kappa Gamma here Wednesday night.

Miss Hartin was killed when the car in which she was returning to school hit the rear of a truck. Frank Schwartz, Spokane, and a student at Washington State college was also killed in the accident.

Loren Rice, passenger in the car, sustained scalp lacerations, and shock. He returned to Moscow yesterday. Robert Hoesley, driver of the car, received a broken nose and is still in Spokane.

Defense Bill Will Bring Additional Courses

Plans for the addition to the university curriculum of several engineering courses needed for the training of civilians to fill positions in the national defense program were revealed by Prof. H. H. Langdon, regional adviser for Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and Montana, at a meeting of the local preparedness council Tuesday. Professor Langdon, head of the mechanical engineering department at Washington State college, has been granted a temporary leave of absence from his academic duties to fill the newly created defense post.

The courses that may be added would not be intended to interrupt the studies of students now enrolled in school, but rather to encourage former graduates to return to the university for completion of their training along national defense lines. The program would also encourage former students to take up additional engineering courses, said Dean J. E. Buchanan, chairman of the local preparedness council. No courses would be dropped from the present curriculum.

Plans for the setting up of the additional courses are in the hands of the University Defense Training board, recently established by the government under the national defense act. Colleges and universities are asked, under the plan, to submit a program of courses that would help to reduce or prevent the present bottlenecks in the defense program.

Courses Listed
Courses that would be added to the present university curriculum may include machine design, marine engineering, drafting, tool engineering, explosives, aeronautics engineering, and other courses relating to production of munitions, airplanes, ships, and other armaments.

Large House Sees Student Plays

Student directors are to be complimented on the two short one-act plays presented Thursday evening at the U Hut under sponsorship of the fundamentals of play production class. The one-acts were well done and played to a "full house."

"In Overtones", a fantasy, was directed by Beth Geddes. The cast included Barbara Jo Smith, Helen Skjersaa, Barbara Sherwin, and Laurine Wilde.

"Sparkin", a farce, was directed by Virginia Aylor. The play was written by Eileen Adair, Bob Jensen, Sue Frye, and Mary Louise Ripley.

Thought Club Taps 22 New Members

Alpha Theta Delta, national contemporary thought honorary, announced the pledging of 22 men at a meeting of the organization last week.

Those named were Dick Still, Bud Gaffney, Phillip Hearn, Gene Taylor, Jack Furey, Sumner DeJana, Bob Wethern, Keith Hartin, George Beito, Dick Groshong, George Ochsner, Warren Weinberg, Knox Craig, Houston Snyder, Creston Johnston, Sam Kaufman, Wall Penick, Louie Gorino, Tom Sneddon, Fred Lukens, Spencer Hess, and Paul Murray.

Debaters Hold Semi-Finals

Intramural debate teams of Beta Theta Pi and Campus Club will meet in the semi-finals at 4 p. m. today to determine who shall meet Idaho club in the championship round next Sunday, according to Harry Lewies, intramural debate manager. Campus club won the right to meet the Beta's after defeating the L. D. S. Institute last night at the Institute. The Campus club argued the positive side of the question and L. D. S. took the negative.

Beta Theta Pi's victory over the Sigma Chi's Wednesday night carried them into the semi-final round. A forfeit by Sigma Alpha Epsilon to the Campus Club was responsible for the match of the latter against L. D. S. last night.

Tentative time for the final debate has been set at 2:30 p. m., Sunday at a neutral house yet to be decided upon. Three men appointed by Delta Sigma Rho, debate honorary, will judge the debate. Intramural debate question is: Resolved, that nations of the western hemisphere shall form a permanent union.

Pier Starts Drive For Gem Sales

A drive to complete the sales quota for the 1941 Gem of the Mountains will be started Monday in the individual group houses and halls, according to Jane Pier, business manager of the Gem.

"We are trying to sell about 1000 of the books," stated Miss Pier, "in order to complete our quota of 2000 copies. I urge all the students to buy their Gem, now since this may be the last time they will be offered for sale in the houses.

All students are urged to have Gem photographs taken as soon as possible, as the schedule must be completed before Christmas. Picture schedules are now posted in all the group houses and halls.

Civilian Pilots Solo

New students to solo in the fall class of the Civilian Pilot Training course are Robert Ralstin, Leonard Hickman, John Curtis, and Ollie Hammer.

200 Pledges Hear Teke Secretary

About 200 fraternity pledges heard Harold "Tex" Flint, national traveling secretary of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, speak on "What the Fraternity Means to the Average University Man" Wednesday night at an inter-fraternity banquet in the Blue Buck.

The banquet was held to create a spirit of unity among the fraternities on the campus. Bill Abrahamson, president of the inter-fraternity council, presided. Entertainment was furnished by John Meese pianist, and Ray Rodgers (saxophonist).

Women To Observe

As you hustle down the campus hill in your home rush for lunch, or skip alternate steps from Ad first to Ad third in a futile attempt to get to your 8 o'clock, don't worry if you feel someone's eyes following every move.

Personal hygiene students have been assigned the task of observing and compiling statistics on low-heeled and high-heeled walkers and step climbers.

Sigma Xi Hears Biologist Discuss Plague

Speaking before about 100 assembled members of Sigma Xi, scientific honorary, and members of the local medical society, Dr. F. K. Meyer, eminent University of California bacteriologist, described the dangerous disease of bubonic plague last night. He also discussed symptoms of the disease and told of the part played by the squirrel as a carrier of the plague.

The talk was illustrated by a film which traced the development of research regarding the disease from 1934 to 1939 in this country. The film also traced the early history and spread of the plague.

Disease Near Here
The picture brought out the fact that ground squirrels bearing the disease have been discovered in the Northeastern corner of Oregon next to the Idaho border and also in Bonneville county of this state. Infected squirrels have also been found in most of the other western states. Research regarding the squirrel as a disease carrier began and has developed principally in California.

Faculty Increases Chest Donation

A total of $1156.65 in donations was reported yesterday by Dean C. W. Hungerford, who heads the faculty committee for the Community Chest drive. This is $38.65 in excess of last year's total. Dean Hungerford expects a still greater increase over last year when all faculty members have been contacted. Last year's amount was $1118.

Honorary Taps One

Three men students who made the necessary grade average second semester last year were pledged to Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary, at their meeting last Wednesday. Those pledged were Russell Wilson, electrical engineering, Weldon Cole, music and Nelson Peterman, forestry.

Key Members Plan Christmas Party

Cardinal Key, upperclasswomen's service honorary, held a luncheon meeting yesterday, and discussed plans for the annual Christmas party for the needy children. The group decided to meet every Wednesday, reserving every other meeting day for a luncheon meeting.

Mabel Ayres was appointed chairman of the Christmas party, and Helen Campbell was appointed chairman of the luncheon meeting.

Gamma Phi Hold Annual Dinner

Gamma Phi sisters honored their sorority's beginning with a formal banquet at the chapter house Thursday evening. Many Moscow alumni attended the annual dinner.

Decorations featured pink carnations clustered in the center of the table, and pink tapers placed at either end.

Gamma Phi Beta was founded 66 years ago at Syracuse University. It is the oldest sorority on the Idaho campus.

Houses & Hosts

Hays hall held its first formal dinner of the year Wednesday night. The evening was spent in dancing.

Delta Tau Delta was host to Hays hall at an exchange dance Thursday night.

The Campus Club entertained Ridenbaugh hall at an exchange dinner Wednesday.

Lambda Chi Alpha was host to Forney hall Tuesday night at an exchange dance.

Bud Elmore was a Wednesday night dinner guest of Sigma Nu.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained Harry Goetz at dinner Wednesday night.

Sigma Chi was host to Kappa Alpha Theta at a dinner exchange Thursday night.

Phi Delta Theta entertained Gamma Phi Beta at a costume party Wednesday evening.

Phi Delta Theta was host to Delta Gamma at a dinner exchange Thursday night.

Delta Gamma and Gamma Phi Beta held a Cardinal Key exchange dinner Wednesday evening.

Frank Rancy, Spokane, was a dinner guest of Delta Tau Delta Monday night.

Lambda Chi Alpha held their monthly alumni meeting Wednesday night. Kenneth Dick, Rubin Baurer, and Bert Sumison were guests.

Dick Groshing was a Monday dinner guest of Delta Chi.

Gamma Phi Beta entertained Lucille Marshall at lunch Monday.

Gamma Phi Beta held its Founder's Day banquet Thursday night. Moscow alumni were present.

Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Phi held a Cardinal Key dinner exchange Wednesday evening.

Here's More About—Pep Rally

To the dad who comes the farthest distance will go a picture of a Vandal warrior, and one will be presented, also, to the dad who has had the most children attend the university.

All the houses on the campus will provide individual entertainment for dads, according to Sennett Taylor, chairman of the house entertainment committee.

The Helpers
Members of the different committees chosen by Bob Leeright, general chairman, to aid in putting on the Dad's day celebration include: boxing committee, Sam Zingale, chairman, Kirk Rush, Bob Baker and Bill Brewer; registration committee, Ben Mottern, chairman, Peggy Barr, Jack Gray, and Frank Dillon; house entertainment committee, Sennett Taylor, chairman, Emma Batt, Marion Grief, Kenneth Webb, and Kenny Scott; publicity, Knox Craig, chairman, Bob Wethern, Phyllis Morrison, and Frances Hardin; pep rally and assembly, Walt Gugnioni and Jack Furey, co-chairmen, Mary Jane Bertrand, and Marian Johnson.

Honorable mention goes to Gloria Garfield, Ann Lewis, Phyllis Morrison, Bob Bonomi, Stanley Wotkiewicz, and Edith Jones for aiding the publicity committee to address some 2000 cards that were sent out to dads.

"There are a number of people on earth who should be under it."

Seven drill movements will be demonstrated between halves at the Dad's day game tomorrow by the Pershing Rifle unit. Rehearsals for the drill were held at Tuesday's meeting of the riflemen. Drills will include:—by the right flank, change shoulder arms, to the rear march, company mass, column right march, column left march, and eyes right in honor of the visiting fathers.

The company will occupy a special section at the game. Captain Bob Knox announced yesterday that the following men will perform the flag raising ceremonies tomorrow: Bernard Poller, Dick Campana, Marvin Adamson, and John Neely.

Knox also announced that formal pledging of the new members will take place next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the armory.

Team's Hopes Rise For Dad's Day Tilt With Nevada Wolfpack

Coach Ted Bank sent his Vandal football machine through an intensive workout this week as he laid plans to upset the University of Nevada's fleet-footed Wolfpack in tomorrow's Dad's day game. The meeting will be the first between the two schools since 1936, when the Nevadans nosed out Idaho 7 to 6.

Foresters Change Name Of Group

Meeting Tuesday, associated foresters adopted a new name for their organization. Henceforth, the Bunyans will be known as Idaho foresters, say heads. Also chosen was a new insignia for the club, to be announced soon.

The new constitution was presented and accepted at the meeting. Drawing up the constitutional draft was a committee headed by Harlan Tully.

This week's practice has consisted of a hard scrimmage Tuesday night, the perfecting of a pass defense Wednesday night, and defensive scrimmage against Nevada plays last night.

Beall May Play
Only casualty for last week's game was Rex Workman, who suffered a broken rib bone in the Montana contest. The injury may not keep the first-string guard from seeing action in tomorrow's game. Earl Acuff, senior right half, will not be in shape for the encounter and it is doubtful if Dale Clark will be able to play. Bright spot for the injury list is the possibility of Mac Beall's return to gridiron, in time for the game.

"I am very pleased with our showing against Montana last week, especially pleased with the way our last two touchdowns were scored," Coach Bank said.

"They were scored on power plays and not on passes and if the team improves as much this week, as they improved last week we will give Nevada a good battle," he said.

Players Give Opinions
"If we play like we played against Montana, we will win tomorrow," said Maynard Hein, veteran end for the Vandals. "They have a good offense but I believe that we will stop them and they don't have much of a defense."

"Last Saturday the players showed that they had the ability to score and they have shown plenty of fire the past two weeks," commented Tony Aschenbrenner, letterman center. "I think we will win by one touchdown."
Not so optimistic was diminutive Bobby Smith, sophomore left half, who said, "I'm afraid that the team will have a letdown after last Saturday's game and will not be in top shape for tomorrow's encounter. If we can play as good as we did last Saturday, we will give them a battle."

So far this season Nevada has rolled up big scores to stop San Francisco State, the Idaho Southern branch, Arkansas A & M and Eastern New Mexico. They have been tied by Brigham Young University and were defeated 7 to 6 by undefeated Fresno State. This setback may have come as a result of a contract between the two schools declaring Marion Motley, star negro back, and four other regulars ineligible for the game.

Five sophomores will probably start for Idaho Saturday and more will probably see lots of action. Scheduled to start are sophomores Vic Berlus, end; Church Chandler, guard; Hank Crowley, center; George Nixon, left half; and Fred Nichols, right half.

Other starters will probably be Paul Ryan, senior end; Bill Piedmont, junior and Glen Rathbun, senior, at tackles; Leonard Zenkevitch, junior guard; Laune Erickson, junior at quarterback; and Rudy Franklin, junior, at fullback.

Frosh To Battle Kittens

In Season's Final Season's First Vandal Babe Game Here Promises Much Action

Coach Walt Price's 1940 football team will make its initial appearance before Vandal fans this afternoon when they clash with the Washington State freshmen. The game is scheduled for 2 p. m. in Neale Stadium. Last year at Pullman the Cougar yearlings eked out a 13 to 7 victory in a bitter battle.

Season's Final For Both
Both teams will wind up the season with today's contest. Washington State's Kittens have played three games this year and tied all three. They opened the season with a 13 to 13 deadlock with the Moffett Field Air Corp gridgers. Playing in the mud at Pullman, they battled Gonzaga's Bullpups to a scoreless tie.

Armistice day they came behind to tie Washington's powerful freshman aggregation 7-7.

Injuries Dim Chances

In two starts the Vandal Babes have broken even, winning from the highly-rated Montana freshmen 12 to 0 in a night game at Kellogg, and losing to the Gonzaga Bullpups at Spokane 7 to 0.

Chances for a Vandal victory were dimmed by injuries sustained by three outstanding linemen, according to Coach Price. Regular guard Cliff Sable injured his arm in practice Wednesday night and will probably not play. Jack Jones, giant tackle, will not see much action. Hugh Harper, tackle, who was outstanding in the Montana game, will not be in uniform, and Charles Corbett, halfback, who broke his nose in the Gonzaga game, will be unable to play.

Carrying the offensive load for the Vandal Babes will be Howard Manson, Earl Chandler, and Orville Munson. Manson's kicking, passing, and running have been outstanding in Idaho's previous starts.

Fox Sparks Kittens
Frankie Fox, swived-hipped triple-threat from Seattle, is the bulwark of the WSC attack, and has starred in all of the Cougar freshmen contests. The passing of Fox was largely instrumental in the tie with Moffett Field.

Fencers Start Soon

Prospects for this year's Idaho fencing team look bright according to Jim Dick, captain and coach, who will have three lettermen to form a nucleus for his team. The three returning lettermen include himself, George Redford and Lewis Nonini. Other men turning out are Nathan Cherry, George Hackney, Allan Foster, and Dick Shaver.

Highlight of this year's schedule will be the Northern Division championships to be held at Moscow on March 1. The mask and foil men will also meet WSC at Moscow on January 10, WSC at Pullman on January 25, Washington at Moscow on January 31.

Two Good Smooths Fast Offense

With the 1940 Vandal's first pre-conference basketball game against Whitman only two weeks away Coach Forrest Twogood intensified afternoon basketball drills, to smooth the fast, new offense being employed by the Idaho squad this year.

Because of the large number of sophomores and transfers, on the squad, the Vandals will be a little green at first, according to Twogood. The mid-western trip will give the team playing experience, but it will not allow time for corrective scrimmages, he said.

Twelve pre-conference basketball games have been lined up for the Vandal basketweavers. The schedule lists the following games:

- Nov. 29, Whitman there
- Dec. 4, Whitman here
- Dec. 6 and 7, Gonzaga here
- Dec. 11, Bismarck All-Stars there
- Dec. 13, North Dakota State at Fargo
- Dec. 14, Minnesota there
- Dec. 16, Carlton, Northfield, Minn.
- Dec. 17, Illinois Wesleyan, Rock Island, Ill.
- Dec. 20, Utah there
- Jan. 3 and 4, Gonzaga there.

Idaho Harriers To Race In National Meet

Three Vandal cross country runners will represent Idaho in the national meet being held at Michigan State college, Lansing, Mich., November 25, according to word from Graduate Manager Gale Mix yesterday. Phil Leibowitz, senior, Vic Dyrsgall, sophomore, and Bob White, sophomore, will make the trip.

The fast trio will be part of the Vandals squad that leaves for Portland to defend Idaho's Pacific coast championship cross-country crown Monday. After competing in the coast meet Wednesday, the three runners will board the Portland Rose for East Lansing, Mich.

Coach Mike Ryan will join the trio at Green River, Wyo., after travelling through Southern Idaho with the Idaho football team. The runners with Coach Ryan, will arrive in East Lansing, November 23 and will race in the National championship meet November 25.

A five-man team would probably have been sent to compete for team rather than individual honors had not Bobbie Neal and Bob Dwyer been forced from competition by appendicitis trouble, according to Mix. Neal underwent an appendectomy early this fall, and Dwyer has been bothered all season by the same ailment.

Hell Divers Conduct First Initiation

Informal initiation for 10 new members of Hell Divers, was held last night at the university pool. New members are: Janet Collier, Lois Frank, Jean Richardson, Rachel Swayne, Charlotte Saad, Jerry O'Connor, Don Anderson, Jack Kemper, Bill Leuschel, and Eugene Read.

Old members discussed plans for the formal initiation to be held after Thanksgiving. Virginia Anderson was appointed new publicity chairman.

Ornstein To Direct Ski Enthusiasts

Ski enthusiasts will meet in the Women's gymnasium Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. to arrange for skiing lessons under Walter Ornstein's direction. Anyone interested in skiing or in learning to ski is welcome to attend. Decisions on lesson prices and meeting days will be made at the meeting.

Ornstein is a German refugee who received his skiing experience in Switzerland where he belonged to the Student Union, an organization similar to ours except the stressing of sports of that group in his country.

Minor Sports May Get Junior Managers

Negotiations to include two junior awards in the present minor sports manager setup will be settled at a meeting of managers and aspirants Friday afternoon, according to Mentor Bob Tessier, line coach. The proposed plan would give two junior managers to the minor sports: swimming, wrestling, golf, tennis, and fencing.

"Unless managers and aspirants turn out for the meeting the plan will probably fall through as it has in the past," says Coach Tessier. The meeting is scheduled for Memorial gym 107 between 4:30 and 5 o'clock Friday.

Managers Pick Sports
If the plan is approved, the managers will be divided into groups according to the sports that they want to manage as nearly as possible, Tessier says.

Under the proposed setup, senior and junior managers of each sport will have the cooperation of other managers when their sport is in session. A general managing staff of underclassmen managers will assist in all sports.

Swimmers Get Call
Swimmers, both freshmen and varsity prospects, are expected to be present at the meeting for several important announcements regarding their sport, says Coach Tessier.

The swimming season will get under way in earnest with definite practice sessions being held

Vandals To Leave For Meets At Walla Walla

Fourteen freshmen and varsity cross country runners will leave for Walla Walla tomorrow morning for meets with the Whitman harriers. The selections for the traveling squad were based on an inter-class meet held Armistice day.

and Oregon State at Corvallis on February 15. Regular practice will start December 1.

Hi, Dad!

Hi, dad! We want you to make yourself at home here the next two days. Dad's day is dedicated to you! You deserve it. You slave hard to send your children to college and this is only one feeble attempt to repay you in pleasure and entertainment for that work.

Go out to the game tomorrow, Dad. Sit with your son or daughter and cheer for the Vandals. "Take down your hair" and make yourself "just one of the bunch." Attend the boxing matches tomorrow evening. Don't let anyone try to seat YOU in the back row. Show them your "DAD" ribbon and march right up to the ringside.

Take your wife to the Student Union ticket dance tomorrow night in the Blue Bucket. See the campus from the social side there; and see the campus from every viewpoint you can. You'll like it here and you'll be proud that you are an Idaho dad.

We want you to feel at home, Dad. Get acquainted with the students and the campus life. We hope you have a good time and are anxious to pay us another visit during the year. —Bob Leeright.

Ode To A Fireside

It may be a dangerous thing, telling students that they should not always be efficient, always studying, winning friends, and influencing people. But the barrage of cold weather dumped us the other evening in front of a big roaring fireplace, ringed around by fellows just sitting. We would like to recommend this indoor sport to our readers, but it's inefficient; wastes time.

Talk becomes a beautiful thing around a fire. People lose their reserve, and tell things they would never dream of exposing under the cold, hard light of the sun or electric lights. They find themselves drawn into the closest sort of communion with each other, by the flames. But they're neglecting books and activities; they come to with a start and dash upstairs to drive, drive, drive.

Fireside sitting shows up the superficialities that keep too many on the go: occasionally the old fireplace catches them by the coattails and they stop and wonder if they are perhaps missing a little real friendship and a surprisingly complete exchange of viewpoints by not being "at home" oftener.

Sitting by the fire is plenty inefficient, but we're tired of being efficient. Fetch another log, boy! —E. D.

Communique Comment

Roused to decisive action by the prospect of a Russo-German alliance and the dismemberment of Turkey, Britain is taking the offensive in the Mediterranean. It is apparent from the Italian reports that the units of Il Duce's fleet concentrated at Taranto were damaged—just how severely we do not know—in this week's savage raids by the British air force.

Molotov's two-day conference with Hitler is still shrouded in mystery, but the German preparations for military action in the Near East are an indication that Berlin seems to regard Soviet co-operation as a foregone conclusion. The Nazi air fleet has been reorganized and a sizable proportion of its strength concentrated at Bucharest. The Reich's aircraft industry, which is producing 2 1/2 planes to Britain's one, is being transferred to eastern Germany, nearer to the Balkan theatre of war.

The British rightly regard Italy as the Achilles' heel of the Axis and are hammering with their bombers at industrial centers and naval bases from the Alps to Sicily. The Italian economy is feeling the pinch in raw materials caused by the British blockade, and morale on the home front is reported to be low. Churchill and his advisers seem to be convinced that the most effective way to check the Nazi offensive is to transform Italy from a German ally into a German liability.

It is unfortunate that British diplomacy cannot turn in a record comparable to that of the Royal Navy and the Royal Air Force. If the U. S. S. R. is lining up with Berlin, the Foreign Office at London has received another decisive setback. And it is alliances, not heroic actions, that win modern wars.

Houses To Sponsor Exchange Lad From Finland

A second foreign exchange student may reach the University of Idaho campus this fall, according to word received this week by Dean of the Faculty Jay G. Eldridge.

The student, Mr. Runeberg of Finland, will enroll in the school of forestry. Anne-Marie von Krusenstierna of Sweden is already enrolled in the college of letters and science under a similar exchange plan.

Word received this week from Misto Solanko, secretary of the Legation of Finland at Washington, D. C., stated that the ship on which Mr. Runeberg was coming to the United States had run aground between Petsamo and New York.

Both exchange students are being sponsored on the campus by the Greek houses, which are furnishing their board and room. Ann-Marie moved last week from the Kappa Kappa Gamma house to the Delta Delta house for the second month of her stay here. The Finnish boy will move from house to house in similar manner.

The university is providing scholarships that cover regular fees and tuition for the students.

Dr. Young To Speak On Big Game At Potlatch Meet

Dr. Vernon A. Young, professor in range management, will present an illustrated lecture tonight at Potlatch before the Potlatch Wild Life Federation.

The lecture will be on "Range Habits of Big Game in Idaho" and will be illustrated with colored slides.

"Idaho has an abundance of summer range for big game, but if it is stocked to capacity, the winter ranges will be over grazed," declared Dr. Young.

In his lecture, Dr. Young will emphasize the need for winter range, and the importance of determining the carrying capacity of winter ranges, which are vital in big game management.

Dr. Church Reviews Book By Miss Chenoweth

Copies of "Green Jade for Laughter," novel by Maureen Chenoweth, 1926 university graduate, arrived in Moscow this week. Already commissioned by the Penn Publishing company of Philadelphia to write more books of similar nature, Miss Chenoweth, daughter of Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, head of the philosophy department, is doing more works in the

of her task. This is that of presenting the intriguing mystery as to the origin of the supposed teller of the story, whose foster-parents, for she was adopted as a small child, decide to acquaint her with her brief history and the sole clue to her identity. This plot makes an entertaining story, believe it or not; and the climax reached so sensible as well as so dramatically that one toys with the idea of how difficult Hollywood would have made it all.

The undersigned confesses that he took the book to read because of a lively sense of the capabilities of Miss Chenoweth when an undergraduate at the University of Idaho; but it was no chore to accompany her to the devastating discovery at the end that the keeping of a certain dinner engagement would have cleared up the mystery before ever the story began, and would have saved that journey of a helpful friend of "Taire" to the interior of China, let alone the alarming encounters of that young lady with the sinister "Chinkie Charlie" in Lombard street, San Francisco. You close the book with the conclusion that a lot is to be said for fresh fields and families in preference to warming up the "Five Little Peppers" or "Little Women."

Telling the tale in the first person is as wise as it is appropriate; for a sixteen-year old girl is not expected to have the knowledge and experience which an older raconteur would be expected to have. The author has thus disarmed one kind of critics before proceeding to acquit herself.

Following is a review of Miss Chenoweth's book by one of her former teachers at the university, Dr. F. C. Church, head of the European history and civilization department.

In "Green Jade for Laughter" Maureen Chenoweth has given us a story obviously for boys and girls of high school age, even if the jacket did not say so. It is a story whose attraction for them is doubtless in the plot; and the plot is one to appeal particularly to the age which, I suspect, Miss Chenoweth knows very well from her library work, to say nothing of earlier opportunities (she is the oldest of four sisters). But this reviewer admits having followed its skillful unfolding with unblinking enjoyment. Adults, while scoring her high for never letting her story lag, are likely to be made more aware of the sensitive touches with which she fills in the background of a San Francisco family and their friends.

Huntsmen Supply Men's Groups With Deer Meat

Having huntsmen in their midsts has rewarded residents of several of the men's houses and halls with venison or pheasant dinners.

Record of those on file was the deer and elk which hunters, Loren Baker and Ed Darst donated to Lindley hall for their Sunday dinner.

Kappa Sigmas have dined on deer meat this week, thanks to the Priest river expedition of Lee Jones. Thor Kilsgaard brought back the bacon in the form of a doe for Campus club members.

Bob Cook, Roman Thune, Jack Holland, Bud Harris, and Lloyd Grobe, supplied the Phi Gamma Delta house with sufficient ducks and pheasants for dinner. Sigma Chi is thanking David and Walter Little for their pheasant feast Armistice day.

Betas Get Pheasants
Although they reported that the hunting was poor, Colin McCleod, Bill and Denton Siddoway, Jack Baker, Joe Ryan, and Bob Dahlstrom managed to retrieve enough birds for the Betas to have a pheasant dinner.

Bob Schmidt represented Tau Kappa Epsilon in the unorganized campus hunters when he returned with "a few."

Several of the other houses weren't so fortunate as their hunters came back empty-handed.
