

Regents Appoint Athletic Director, Two Coaches

Board Selects Guy Wicks Head Basketball Coach

Brings Razzle Dazzle To Idaho

Francis Schmidt To Talk At Rally Tonight

PLEASED TO MEET YOU
The appointment of Francis Schmidt as head football coach has been greeted with almost universal approval. The genial, homespun coach is already taking a place in the affections of Idaho people.

Strangely enough, those of us who have doubted the wisdom of embarking upon another "re-emphasis" program in football welcome Schmidt as heartily as those who believe a "big-time" coach is enough to insure success in "big-time" football competition.

Jason, for example, did not ask the new coach many questions, but he was satisfied with the answers. "What is your general impression of Idaho and its problems so far?" Jason inquired.

"Well, I realize that we have problems, but everybody works together I think we can work out some solutions. One factor which I think is as important as physical ability is the spirit and determination of the team. I have been very favorably impressed with the friendliness and spirit of the Idaho people I have met so far."

"Well, we must all try to build a better spirit. If we lose, we must make up our minds to get them next time."
Of course, none of these sentiments are new. They have been expressed before in about the same way by other men including Ted Bank, Bob Tessler and Forrest Twogood. But those men are out of the picture for better or for worse. And the sentiments are still good no matter who expresses them.

Out of the Past
There is also a striking parallelism between the popular reaction to Schmidt's appointment and that of Bank. The wolves who disposed of Leo Calland were anxious to get a coach who would "go out and get men from outside the state and build up a real team here." Lately they have changed their minds as to the methods of "building up a real team."

Schmidt, they say, will give us spectacular, razzle-dazzle football that we will enjoy whether OUT OF THE PAST
Jason hopes the day will not come when the same wolves are complaining that spectacular football tactics demands better players than Idaho can secure.

Schmidt has probably been in the business long enough to know that the wolves really mean that they can enjoy spectacular football when it is demonstrated by a winning team.
All this sober reflection, however, is not intended as a "wet blanket" upon the reborn athletic hopes of Idaho. If the alumni, the administration, and the students give Schmidt the continuous loyalty and financial help they failed to give Bank, the new coach may prove to those of us who are skeptical that Idaho can support a Pacific Coast conference team. We would be glad to be shown that we were wrong.

But if Idaho's latest experiment in "re-emphasis" should develop the same characteristics of its former ones, we hope the wolves will admit that it takes something more than an outstanding coach to build outstanding teams.
All hail, in other words to Coach Schmidt! May he get the support he deserves from the whole state of Idaho! May he turn out Rose Bowl teams and beat Washington State! But if the fates decide that these things are not for Idaho, may the wolves finally admit that "big time" football is not for Idaho either. We won't get a better coach than we have now. Please, brothers, don't blame him if things go wrong.

OTHER NEWCOMERS
The selection of George Greene as athletic director and Guy Wicks as basketball and baseball coach are other actions with which the public has found little fault. One reason is that "the public" was becoming so impatient with delays or imagined intrigues that it would have been satisfied with the selection of almost any capable men. However, the school's welcome of the two men will express something more than relief.
Greene is known and liked throughout this area. Jason was personally worried when Greene was first suggested because the Lewiston man is not accustomed to giving orders to "big time" coaches. Jason feared that, despite his personable traits and ability, he might have trouble enforcing the rules his job might require him to lay down for a famous coach accustomed to having his own way.

President Harrison C. Dale yesterday afternoon announced the appointments of Guy Wicks as head basketball and baseball coach and George Greene as director of physical education. Greene's appointment will become effective as soon as he can get released from his present contract with Lewiston normal. Wicks' appointment becomes effective September 1. Greene is now director of athletics and physical education at Lewiston normal, a position he has held for the past eight years. Wicks is director of athletics and head football and basketball coach at the southern branch. Both men are Idaho graduates.

Hoop Mentor

Guy Wicks, athletic director and head basketball coach at the southern branch, was named by the board of regents yesterday to succeed Coach Forrest Twogood at the helm of Idaho's baseball and basketball teams.

Greene had been prominently mentioned for the athletic directorship ever since the student-faculty advisory recommended to the board of regents that the position of athletic director and head football coach be separated. The appointment of Greene by the board of regents was allegedly blocked previously by the Idaho nepotism law. W. E. Geddes, Greene's father-in-law, recently resigned as a member of the board of regents. The board was then able to appoint Greene.

Wicks was previously offered the position of athletic director, but turned the offer down because of financial considerations.

Both Idaho Graduates

Wicks was graduated from Idaho with a B.S. in education in 1925. He did graduate work at Idaho, Washington State, and Northwestern university and received his master's degree from Idaho in 1934. For the past nine years, Wicks has been basketball coach at the southern branch and for the past five years, director of athletics. He previously had coached at Genesee high school for two years, Moscow high school for three years, and North Central high school in Spokane for one year.

Green has been director of athletics and physical education and dean of men at Lewiston normal for the past eight years. He was coach at Payette high school for four years previously. Greene received his B.S. in education from Idaho in 1928 and his M.S. in 1929.

"I" Club To Offer Entertainment At Annual Dance

Adds Betty Joice To List Of Candidates For Queen Contest

Betty Joice, Dada Tau Gamma, was added yesterday to the list of candidates for the "I" queen contest. Pictures of all the women nominated are on display in the showcase in the Blue Bucket. The queen will be crowned at the "I" club carnival March 29 in Memorial gymnasium.

A wide variety of entertainment was outlined at last night's meeting. One of the features of the evening will be a jitterbug dance contest, the winner of which will be selected by the newly crowned "I" club queen.

Concessions planned are basketball and baseball throws, dart throw, roulette wheel, penny toss, fish pond, bingo, ring toss, and dancing. Special door prizes will be raffled off in addition to the minor prizes.

Knights Discontinue Matinee Dances Until Next Autumn

IK matinee dances were concluded yesterday afternoon, Duke Ed Mueller announced last night. Because of the spring weather, the crowds have been dropping off. The dances will be resumed next fall.

Planned to eliminate the crowd-fest afternoon dancing in the lounge, the dances have been very successful, according to Mueller. Funds from the dances are turned over to the ASUI.

Idaho Musicians Return With Three Cups

Winning three of the eight grand champion cup awards given, and taking at least one superior or superior with honors award in every event they entered, 10 University of Idaho music students returned last night from the three-day annual Spokane music festival. A total of 248 contestants from colleges and universities of the northwest entered this fourth annual affair.

Winners of grand champion awards were Evelyn Failor, Spencerville, Ohio, vocal aria; Katherine Reed, Idaho Falls, piano solo; and Dean Elder, Coeur d'Alene, piano concerto. The three were presented cups by Edgar C. Sherwood which they keep for a year. They also won the right to appear in the Spokane music festival in May.

All grand champions were selected from a group that had won superior with honors awards previously. Miss Failor won superior with honors awards in both vocal aria and vocal solo. Accompanist for all contestants were Helen Bullock and Kirt Frey.

LeRay Heick, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Heick, Moscow, won a superior award in vocal aria. Other winners in voice were Alice Roberts, Boise, superior with honors in aria, and superior in vocal solo; Marian Partner, Aberdeen, superior with honors in aria, and superior in vocal solo, and Margaret Ward, Boise, superior in aria. Jo Anne Tretner,

Francis A. Schmidt, former coach at Ohio State, Sunday was appointed to direct the Vandal football team next year. He will assume duties immediately. He lost no time in getting started, announcing that spring football will begin next Monday after he returns from the Idaho state high school basketball tournament in Boise. He will address the Idaho State Coaches' association in Boise Saturday and will speak at a student pep rally tonight.

Gregor Piatigorsky To Play 'Cello Wednesday In Memorial Gymnasium

Music composed by nine artists will be played by Gregor Piatigorsky, world famous cello virtuoso, tomorrow night when he appears in concert in Memorial gymnasium at 8 o'clock. His performance is sponsored by the Community Concert association.

Not yet 40 years old, Piatigorsky has had a life filled with romance and adventure. Today he is winning acclaim throughout the United States as one of the foremost cellists. He believes that music should be played as the composer viewed it in his mind before it was set down on paper. Piatigorsky says that music may be marked for piano or forte, but he says that words alone have no meaning unless the musician knows how the composer played the piano.

Cast To Present ASUI Play Thursday Night

Tickets for the ASUI play "All Reason Now Resigned" went on sale yesterday at Hodgins Drug store and the Student Union bookstore. Town people can obtain tickets for 40 cents at the drug store and students can get reserved tickets at the bookstore by presenting an ASUI book. The play will be held Thursday and Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The play is written by two members of the Idaho English faculty, Prof. Geoffrey Coope and Theodore Sherman. It is centered in a London air-raid shelter during an air raid in the present war. It endeavors to show the diversity of interests and the different types of English people.

First "All Idaho" Play
"All Reason Now Resigned" is the first full length play ever written by a member of the Idaho faculty to be presented on the university stage. It is being directed by Miss Jean Collette.

Heading the cast of 22 speaking parts are Gayle Manion, a young journalist; Dorothy Peebles, a war nurse; and Denton Darrow, a British radical.

Revival of Spirit

Blue Key members asserted yesterday that the rally has as its intent the revival of Idaho's spirit, and to give Coach Schmidt a big "hello." Co-chairman for the rally are Ed Riley and Fred Harris.

As part of its campaign to bring more spirit to Idaho, Blue Key spokesmen announced that at the conclusion of the mixer in the SUB ballroom the crowd would sing the Alma Mater.

Freshmen women will be granted 8 o'clock permission for the rally-mixer, Dean of Women Beatrice Olson stated yesterday afternoon.

Council Votes Revisions In Choosing Members
Changes in membership qualifications for the student-faculty council were suggested at a meeting of the group yesterday, and the suggested outline on policy was referred back to a committee headed by Dean D. S. Jeffers to alter membership policies. The group interrupted a prolonged discussion of possible bases for membership in the organization in order to grant permission to a Blue Key delegation to sponsor a rally at the Student Union building tonight.

According to the committee report, membership would be based upon representation in large sectors of the campus population. The report provided representation for AWS, Panhellenic council, Interfraternity council, Independent council, Tau Mem Aleph, Dada Tau Gamma, the calendar committee, the ASUI faculty representative, and the deans of men and women. The discussions started after Dean Beatrice Olson suggested that a strictly representative policy based upon large groups might deprive the council of the opinions of campus leaders. She suggested that Blue Key and Mortar Board representatives be added to the list.

Two Groups Added
Bill Johnston, only member of the policy committee present, said the committee had decided upon the number of students belonging to groups as the criteria for deciding council membership. If the concept of leadership became a qualification for membership, he claimed, the policy would have to be altered, possibly to allow other groups representation.

The council voted to include Blue Key and Mortar Board representatives in the group's membership list, then voted to refer the question of membership requirements to the policy committee. The motion instructed the committee to frame membership qualification rules to include both the concept of representation and that of campus leadership.

No other parts of the committee report was considered, as the group decided that the report could not be judged until membership was decided.

Prof. Verner, assisted by members of the university maintenance crew, began last week a project to plant shrubs and trees in the area surrounding the university green houses.

This area, until five years ago, was used as a university refuse dump, but since that time has been steadily improved, through efforts of the university buildings and grounds department.

A return match with W.S.C.'s archers will be held in the armory Saturday afternoon, March 23, Tom Armour, Idaho archery coach announced yesterday.

Beaten Out By Francis Schmidt

Sportlight Reflections

by bob wethern

Schmidt "The Man" is an interesting fellow, but Schmidt "The Coach" is really fascinating to watch or listen to. You can talk of Idaho weather, townspeople, or students with Schmidt "The Man" and he has something to say of each. Mention for Lall and Schmidt "The Coach" becomes a focal point of interest because his real personality shines through. Coach Schmidt has lived football for 25 years—years of intense, winning, colorful football. He has no intentions of altering his "life" at Idaho.

At a luncheon yesterday, Schmidt proved amiable and just a little humorous when discussing "run-of-the-mill" subjects. More often, however, he forsook the light banter to huddle with Freshman Coach Walt Price in whispered conversations. There was nothing of a "light" or "bantering" nature in their discussion. It was all football—from training table talk to team scouting by movie, player requisites, and coaching assistance.

As Coaches Schmidt and Price huddled with heads together at the table, one could foresee that it would not be their last huddle. Together they will be deciding factors in future Vandal football wars. Coach Price, who has been turning out winning freshman teams at Idaho for three years, doesn't break down and smile often. He sported a genuine grin when Coach Schmidt was appointed head grid mentor.

"Both on fundamental and fine points of football coaching, Schmidt and I agree perfectly. We're from the same school of thought and I believe that part of my present system of coaching came from theories developed and used by Schmidt. It's going to be a pleasure to work with him," remarked Price.

Coach Schmidt's large frame amply supports his rugged personality; his genuine air of confidence seems to be the result of his splendid record; and his unlimited enthusiasm radiated from two bright, blue eyes.

And it seems that his interest and his personality have "caught on" with rapidity and strength that many had not dared not hope for. There are murmurs of satisfaction from "the powers," the alumni, and, most important, from the students and players themselves. Those murmurs will grow into the roars of a spirited football crowd when fall rolls around and Idaho's Vandals open the 1941 season against Utah's Redskins in Neale stadium. That season's opener is slated to be Idaho's homecoming game. It should prove a real "homecoming" for Coach Schmidt.

'Mural Sports

ATO TO BATTLE LDS

Alpha Tau Omega and the LDS Institute basketball teams will battle tonight for the all-university class B championship.

Alpha Tau Omega walloped Willis Sweet hall 30 to 15 last Saturday to earn a berth in the final bracket. LDS advanced to the championship round by drawing a bye.

In defeating Sweet, the ATO team took an early lead and continued to add to their margin until the final whistle. At half-time ATO led 15 to 8. Art Acuff, guard, paced the ATO team to the victory with 13 points.

Other basketball games Saturday were: Phi Delta Theta 23, Idaho club 19; and Phi Gamma Delta over Lindley hall by default.

Erickson To Bolster Vandals In Final Boxing Meets

National Champion Gets Deferral From Army, To Fight In East

With the presence of Laune Erickson, national 165-pound champion, definitely assured for the Vandals' defence of their national ring title, the Idaho mitt-men moved into the final stages of training this week before leaving for Wisconsin early Friday morning.

Erickson's presence was definitely assured when he was granted deferment from service in the army air corps by the draft board. Erickson will be taken in the call sometime in April. Previously, he was scheduled to be taken in March 19. Erickson will be defending 165-pound champion.

An eight man team accompanied by Coach Louie August, Assistant Coach Sammy Zingale, and manager Karl Greer, will leave at 6 o'clock Friday morning by car for Spokane where they will make train connections. They will meet Wisconsin at Madison March 24 and from there will go directly to Penn State college, for the national championship meet March 27 to 29.

Hess, Juran Leave For National Wrestling Meet

Henry Juran and Denny Hess, winners of northern division wrestling titles, left Sunday for Lehigh university, Bethlehem Pa., for competition in the N.C.A.A. wrestling championships Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Plans to send the pair east were made hastily after they had received an invitation from Paul Short, director of the national tournament, late Saturday afternoon.

Hess undefeated. They will arrive in Bethlehem Thursday but probably will not begin competition until Friday, according to Graduate Manager Gale Mix.

Hess, student captain and coach, won the northern division 138-pound crown after finishing a dual meet season undefeated. Juran, champion in the 168-pound class, finished the dual meet season with only one defeat. Juran lost one match to Art Cameron, W.S.C. former northern division 165-champion, but later defeated him.

Skiers Win Places In McCall Meet

Competing as individuals, members of the Idaho ski team took places in the Payette Lakes Ski Association invitational meet near McCall yesterday. Phil Conley placed fourth in the slalom behind Alf Engen, Kaare Engen, and Jim Howell. Jack Numbers placed seventh and Ellis Wickyard was thirteenth in the same race. Numbers placed third in the Class B jumping.

Snow conditions were bad according to the Idaho skiers who say that the snow had an unbreakable ice-like crust.

Alf Engen, national ski jump champion until two weeks ago when he lost the title to Torger Tokle, won first place in both the jump and slalom events. His winning jump was nearly 175 feet and was a new mark for the hill. The former hill record had been 163 feet.

In the slalom event, Engen's time was 1:02.1, and Conley's time for the fourth place was 1:08.1. Numbers had a jump of 107 feet for his third place.

Don't forget the matinee dances Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons at the Bucket.

the nation's best boxing teams. Last year the Vandals battled them to a 4 to 4 draw before going on to annex the national title. Some idea of the Badgers' strength can be estimated as Nick Lee, 1940 national heavyweight title-holder, and now fighting in the 175-pound division failed to win the all-university championship. Lee bowed to Phil Prafter of the Badgers in the 175-pound finals.

Rifle Team Awaits New Laurels In Last Match

Second Rifle Team Fires 944 Point Score Out Of Possible 1000

The University of Idaho rifle team, champions of the Ninth Corps area, is looking forward to new laurels while waiting for the results of the William Randolph Hearst Trophy matches. The rifle team fired a 944 point score out of a possible 1000.

According to Maj. W. A. Hale, rifle team coach, scores as low as 930 have won the Hearst National matches. All of the national intercollegiate R.O.T.C. rifle teams are matched in telegraphic competition in this annual match. The three high point teams are each awarded a plaque and individual team members win medals. Idaho won a third place plaque in 1935.

Second Team Fires
Testimony of the ability of the local marksmen is the fact that the comparatively high score of 944 was chalked up by the second team. The first team was put out of the running when William Wright, high-scoring member of the five-man team, was confined to the infirmary with an arm swollen by vaccination shortly after the matches had begun.

Don't forget the matinee dances Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons at the Bucket.

Beautifying the Idaho campus is a continuous process and is being resumed this spring by Prof. Leif Verner, head of the horticulture experiment station.

Prof. Verner, assisted by members of the university maintenance crew, began last week a project to plant shrubs and trees in the area surrounding the university green houses.

This area, until five years ago, was used as a university refuse dump, but since that time has been steadily improved, through efforts of the university buildings and grounds department.

Independents Win Track Meet For Second Time

Kerby Garner 14 Points For A.T.O. To 'Take' Scoring Honors

By Bernard Poller

Paced by Phil Leibowitz's nine points, the Independents swept to a victory in the annual inter-group track and field meet held in the Memorial gym last night. The Independents scored 37 points in winning against 20 points for the A.T.O.'s and Lindley hall, who tied for second.

Milo Anderson broke Tony Kamelevicz 35-pound weight throw record of 42 feet 10 1/2 inches by throwing the weight 44 feet 4 inches. ### Twogood Travels To Convention Of Hoop Mentors

To Look For Job During Trip; Leaves Baseballers With Williamson

Coach Forrest Twogood would attend the National Collegiate basketball coaches association meeting at New York next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. He left Moscow Sunday night.

Before leaving Moscow, Coach Twogood said Gordy Williamson, student and freshman baseball coach, would have charge of the varsity team in his absence. Twogood expects to return to Moscow in about ten days.

Chambers Speaks On Psychology

Dr. O. R. Chambers, psychologist from Oregon State college, talked on "Spirals of Spiritual Growth" at a joint meeting of the Moscow and Pullman Methodist Wesley foundation Sunday evening at Pullman.

Dr. Chambers is visiting three days on the Pullman campus to counsel student groups in religion. Following Dr. Chambers talk, refreshments were served and the group played several games.

Idaho Archers Plan Return Meet With WSC Cougars

A return match with W.S.C.'s archers will be held in the armory Saturday afternoon, March 29, Tom Armour, Idaho archery coach announced yesterday.

Idaho's Robin Hoods, recently resumed practice sessions after a mid-year layoff. With several new men out for the team and most of the veterans improved since the initial W.S.C. contest, outlook for the meet is bright. Coach Armour says.

Sportlight Reflections

by bob wethern

Schmidt "The Man" is an interesting fellow, but Schmidt "The Coach" is really fascinating to watch or listen to. You can talk of Idaho weather, townspeople, or students with Schmidt "The Man" and he has something to say of each. Mention football and Schmidt "The Coach" becomes a focal point of interest because his real personality shines through. Coach Schmidt has lived football for 25 years—years of intense, winning, colorful football. He has no intentions of altering his "life" at Idaho.

At a luncheon yesterday, Schmidt proved amiable and just a little humorous when discussing "run-of-the-mill" subjects. More often, however, he forsook the light banter to huddle with Freshman Coach Walt Price in whispered conversations. There was nothing of a "light" or "bantering" nature in their discussion. It was all football—from training table talk to team scouting by movie, player requisites, and coaching assistance.

As Coaches Schmidt and Price huddled with heads together at the table, one could foresee that it would not be their last huddle. Together they will be deciding factors in future Vandal football wars. Coach Price, who has been turning out winning freshman teams at Idaho for three years, doesn't break down and smile often. He sported a genuine grin when Coach Schmidt was appointed head grid mentor.

"Both on fundamental and fine points of football coaching, Schmidt and I agree perfectly. We're from the same school of thought and I believe that part of my present system of coaching came from theories developed and used by Schmidt. It's going to be a pleasure to work with him," remarked Price.

Coach Schmidt's large frame amply supports his rugged personality; his genuine air of confidence seems to be the result of his splendid record; and his unlimited enthusiasm radiated from two bright, blue eyes.

And it seems that his interest and his personality have "caught on" with rapidity and strength that many had not dared not hope for. There are murmurs of satisfaction from "the powers," the alumni, and, most important, from the students and players themselves. Those murmurs will grow into the roars of a spirited football crowd when fall rolls around and Idaho's Vandals open the 1941 season against Utah's Redskins in Neale stadium. That season's opener is slated to be Idaho's homecoming game. It should prove a real "homecoming" for Coach Schmidt.

'Mural Sports

ATO TO BATTLE LDS

Alpha Tau Omega and the LDS Institute basketball teams will battle tonight for the all-university class B championship.

Alpha Tau Omega walloped Willis Sweet hall 30 to 15 last Saturday to earn a berth in the final bracket. LDS advanced to the championship round by drawing a bye.

In defeating Sweet, the ATO team took an early lead and continued to add to their margin until the final whistle. At half-time ATO led 15 to 8. Art Acuff, guard, paced the ATO team to the victory with 13 points.

Other basketball games Saturday were: Phi Delta Theta 23, Idaho club 19; and Phi Gamma Delta over Lindley hall by default.

SWIMMING STARTS TONIGHT

Seventeen groups announced last night that they would have teams entered in the intramural swimming meet which begins tonight.

The following swimming schedule was announced by Leon Green, intramural sports director:

Tuesday night trial heats will be run off in league I are Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Campus club, Chrisman hall, Delta Tau Delta, Idaho club, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha and LDS.

Thursday night league II teams will run through trial heats. League II teams are Lindley hall, Phi Delta Theta, Willis Sweet hall, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, and Town Men.

Monday of next week first and second place winners of the trial heats in league I will meet in quarterfinal events.

New Coach Calls Likely Gridmen For Session

Students wishing to become varsity football candidates will attend a meeting in Memorial gym 107 at 4 p.m. today while Coach Francis A. Schmidt discusses spring football and his style of play.

Tentative date for the start of spring practice is set for next Monday but candidates will probably draw equipment for the balance of the week.

With only 30 days of spring football practice allowed by coast conference rules, Coach Schmidt does not intend to start the spring sessions until the athletic department is better organized.

Skiers Win Places In McCall Meet

Competing as individuals, members of the Idaho ski team took places in the Payette Lakes Ski Association invitational meet near McCall yesterday. Phil Conley placed fourth in the slalom behind Alf Engen, Kaare Engen, and Jim Howell. Jack Numbers placed seventh and Ellis Wickward was thirteenth in the same race. Numbers placed third in the Class B jumping.

Snow conditions were bad according to the Idaho skiers who say that the snow had an unbreakable ice-like crust.

Alf Engen, national ski jump champion until two weeks ago when he lost the title to Torger Tokle, won first place in both the jump and slalom events. His winning jump was nearly 175 feet and was a new mark for the hill. The former hill record had been 163 feet.

In the slalom event, Engen's time was 1:02.1, and Conley's time for the fourth place was 1:08.1. Numbers had a jump of 107 feet for his third place.

Don't forget the matinee dances Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons at the Bucket.

Erickson To Bolster Vandals In Final Boxing Meets

National Champion Gets Deferral From Army To Fight In East

With the presence of Laune Erickson, national 165-pound champion, definitely assured for the Vandals' defence of their national ring title, the Idaho mittmen moved into the final stages of training this week before leaving for Wisconsin early Friday morning.

Erickson's presence was definitely assured when he was granted deferment from service in the army air corps by the draft board. Erickson will be taken in the call sometime in April. Previously, he was scheduled to be taken in March 19. Erickson will be defending 165-pound champion.

An eight man team accompanied by Coach Louie August, Assistant Coach Sammy Zingale, and manager Karl Greep, will leave at 6 o'clock Friday morning by car for Spokane where they will make train connections. They will meet Wisconsin at Madison March 24 and from there will go directly to Penn State college, for the national championship meet March 27 to 29.

the nation's best boxing teams. Last year the Vandals battled them to a 4 to 4 draw before going on to annex the national title. Some idea of the Badgers' strength can be estimated as Nick Lee, 1940 national heavyweight title-holder, and now fighting in the 175-pound division failed to win the all-university championship. Lee bowed to Phil Prafter of the Badgers in the 175-pound finals.

Rifle Team Awaits New Laurels In Last Match

Second Rifle Team Fires 944 Point Score Out Of Possible 1000

The University of Idaho rifle team, champions of the Ninth Corps area, is looking forward to new laurels while waiting for the results of the William Randolph Hearst Trophy matches. The rifle team fired a 944 point score out of a possible 1000.

According to Maj. W. A. Hale, rifle team coach, scores as low as 930 have won the Hearst National matches. All of the national intercollegiate R.O.T.C. rifle teams are matched in telegraphic competition in this annual match. The three high point teams are each awarded a plaque and individual team members win medals. Idaho won a third place plaque in 1935.

Hess, Juran Leave For National Wrestling Meet

Henry Juran and Denny Hess, winners of northern division wrestling titles, left Sunday for Lehigh university, Bethlehem Pa., for competition in the N.C.A.A. wrestling championships Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Plans to send the pair east were made hastily after they had received an invitation from Paul Short, director of the national tournament, late Saturday afternoon.

Hess undefeated

They will arrive in Bethlehem Thursday but probably will not begin competition until Friday, according to Graduate Manager Gale Mix.

Hess, student captain and coach, won the northern division 148-pound crown after finishing a dual meet season undefeated. Juran, champion in the 168-pound class, finished the dual meet season with only one defeat. Juran lost one match to Art Cameron, W.S.C. former northern division 165-champion, but later defeated him.

Second Team Fires

Testimony of the ability of the local marksmen is the fact that the comparatively high score of 944 was chalked up by the second team. The first team was put out of the running when William Wright, high-scoring member of the five-man team, was confined to the infirmary with an arm swollen by vaccination shortly after the matches had begun.

Members of the second team and their individual scores are as follows: Merle Songstad 193, Stanley Mills 188, Robert Kidwell 183, Armour Anderson 191, and Gordon Dalley 189.

A New Paint Job

Francis Schmidt, former Ohio State coach, was appointed head football coach at Idaho Sunday. Immediately student optimism boomed. Students began to visualize Idaho as football champions. They dreamed of the Rose Bowl and victories over Washington State.

Yes, the Idaho athletic department received a fresh paint job Sunday, but does that correct all the faults that underlie the surface? Should the Art building be painted, would all the defects of underlighting and flimsy walls be corrected? Should the bricks in the old Engineering building be cleaned, would the cracks in the walls and the creaky stairs be repaired? No! The same is true of the Idaho athletic department. It has a brand new coach, but the cause of losing Vandal football teams is still prevalent.

Francis Schmidt is a good coach. He's built up a reputation of producing champions at every school at which he has coached—Arkansas, Texas Christian, and Ohio State. He will probably get as much out of football material that he has as any coach in the nation. Schmidt is a good coach, but so is Ted Bank. Winning teams aren't built around the coach. Winning teams are built around a good coach, combined with 11 good men on the field and two or three more good teams on the bench.

It is a well known law of economics that you get what you pay for. Occasionally you get a bargain and occasionally you get gyped, but generally you get what you pay for. If you buy a model T Ford for $30, you shouldn't expect it to run as good as the one for which John Smith paid $62.50. The same principle applies to football players.

Idaho athletes are paid for the work they do in handling the physical education department locker room, acting as lifeguards in the university swimming pool, erecting temporary bleachers at crowded basketball games, and performing odd jobs around the campus. They are paid liberally, but they are not paid the exorbitant wages paid by other Pacific coast schools. The whole problem of losing football teams centers on this point. Idaho can't hope to compete with other Pacific coast schools and still maintain its standard of pay for its working athletes!

Idaho has had some fine athletes in the past and still has some fine athletes enrolled in school. Often a model T Ford that sells for $25 is really worth $50. That is when the buyer gets a bargain. But many times the model T that sells for $25 is worth only $15. Idaho, as a "buyer" of athletes in the competitive market with other Pacific coast schools, has made some good bargains on some individuals, but it still stands to reason that if you "buy" football players for about $30 a month, you can't expect all of them to be as good as players "bought" for $62.50 a month.

The hiring of Francis Schmidt as head football coach probably is an expression of Idaho's desire for becoming "big time" in football and re-emphasizing the sport. But if the re-emphasizing program is to be carried through, steps must be taken to improve the quality of the building underneath the new paint job.

Communique Comment

In his Sunday sermon to a picked congregation in the Berlin Army Museum, the pastor of the Nazi flock made no mention of an invasion of England but urged the Reich's soldiers to be confident that they were defending the Fatherland even while fighting on far foreign fields. The Fuehrer went on to promise his Italian comrades-in-arms that the burden of the conflict would henceforth rest on Germany's military might. These assertions are taken in some quarters to indicate that the first big Nazi push of 1941 will be in the direction of Suez or Iraq.

General Wavell, with his ear to the ground at Cairo, is aware of the danger. Between 50,000 and 100,000 British troops have already landed in Greece. The imminent collapse of the Italian defense in Ethiopia will free South African, Free French and Indian forces in that theatre of conflict for service in the Balkans. Troop transports from "down under" are bringing Australian and New Zealand reinforcements to the Egyptian garrison each week. The arrival of the Anzac detachments will enable Wavell to send more units from his hard-hitting Army of the Nile to Salonika and Athens.

In the 1940 campaigns in Norway and the Low Countries, Hitler's military machine proved more than equal to the best John Bull could offer. German superiority over the British was particularly marked in staff work, in the organization of supply services, in co-ordination between air and ground forces. But the Libyan campaign just ended has shown the world that Wavell and his corps of commanders have learned from the costly mistakes of Norway and Flanders. The divisions of the Army of the Nile now debarking at Greek ports are better prepared for facing a blitzkrieg than the British Expeditionary Force which proved magnificent only in the retreat to Dunkirk last June.

Hitler's Panzerdivisionen stationed in southern Italy are being made ready for action. If permission can be wrung from Vichy, these units may be sent across the narrow Sicilian Strait to reach Tunis, then by land marches into Libya—there to strike at Wavell's outposts. If the Nazis were able to threaten the British position in Egypt by a Libyan offensive, Wavell would be forced to cut down on the shipment of British troops to Greece. But Darlan and Petain have not handed over Tunisia to Berlin, yet.

By The Day

OLD, OLD STORY

And speaking of postmen's holidays, they tell this one about Harry Lewies and Bernard Favaro, eloquent and garrulous members of the debate team, also roommates. After haranguing for three solid hours in heated argument one night last week Favaro wandered into an adjoining room and disgustedly announced, "and when we finally got the thing straight, we discovered that we had been arguing over two entirely different points, and that we agreed on each."

KUDOS

To the Idaho Pep Band may we extend our heartiest congratulations for what was in our humble opinion the best of your shows in recent years.

Especially appreciated, if one can competently judge by the random remarks overheard during and after the performance, was the formal portion of the show. It was nothing if not versatile.

To Band Leader Hud Nieman, whose courtesies to the audience during the formal show Friday night were subject to the heckling of an ambitious photographer equipped with a plentiful supply of flash bulbs, our sympathies. Honest, Hud, they were cute despite the distracting influence. CACCIA MALIGNED

We trust that the well-meaning ladies of the local WCTU chapter intended to cast no reflections on the hitherto unsullied name of Italo "Babe" Caccia by mailing to that worthy man an invitation to the forthcoming meeting of their organization. ERIN GO BRAGH

Yesterday, a man whose name begins with an O' tells us, was St. Patrick's day, the one calendar day of the year on which all good Irishmen sail forth with heads up and eyes aglow. Green our informant tells us, is the most prominent color in every Irishman's sartorial make-up on March 17.

The foregoing may serve to explain to many bewildered students and townfolk the slightly green aura yesterday which surrounded Coach Michael J. Ryan. A J.—the name offers a clue to the true son of the Auld Sod, Michael observing—showed his true color by blossoming forth in green suit, shirt, tie, sock and hat. Shoes, unfortunately, are unavailable in green.

Pep Band Draws Record Crowd

Record crowds attended the Pep Band show this year as 2037 people got tickets for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, according to figures released by the graduate manager's office last night. Nine hundred forty tickets were reserved for Friday night, 643 for Thursday night, and 464 for Wednesday night.

The whole band was heard in the formal part, and the Pep Band presented the informal show, which had a South American setting. Featured were eight girls in a rumba dance and five couples of jitterbugs.

The script was written by Walt Guignoni and the dances were directed by Bob Riegel.

"We all had a lot of fun putting on the show, and the cast cooperated splendidly," Leader Nieman said yesterday. He also announced that the new Pep Band leader for next year will be elected in May.

Dr. Lemon Talks About Curlers And Beards

Marriage is not to be entered into in a state of hypnosis," Dr. Allan C. Lemon of the psychology department stated at a meeting of the Baptist Roger Williams club Sunday night at the church parsonage.

"In choosing the person you want to marry, consider that a de-glamorized girl in hair curlers, and a grouchy man with a two day beard is more natural to life than moonlight and sweet music," Dr. Lemon stated.

Dr. Lemon's talk on "Christianity and Marriage" was the second in a series of topics relative to marriage and religion. Dr. O. LeRoy Walter will talk on "Christianity and the Home" next Sunday night.

Club To Sponsor Caldwell Trip This Week

The International Relations club is sponsoring a trip to the collegiate convention of International Relations clubs, to be held in Caldwell this week, says Mary Genevieve Gamble, president.

All students desiring to attend should see either Miss Gamble or Dean Jay G. Eldridge. They will leave Thursday with Dean Eldridge and will return Sunday.

Lawyers Contest Ag Victory In Annual Game

Paced by big Milo Anderson, the Ag club galloped across the maple court Saturday to vanquish members of Bench and Bar in their traditional basketball game 25-18.

Although the "official" results show the Ag team ahead, the lawyers, always willing to contest a decision, disdainfully refused to acknowledge defeat, maintaining that Anderson was ineligible on the grounds that he once received a varsity award, they declared the fight "unconstitutional."

The Ags attribute part of their success to the fact that they had no coach to get in the way as the Lawyers did. With absolutely free rein, they pushed man after man into the breach and altogether had about 30 men on the floor.

"Poor coaching and ignorance of the rules" defeated the Lawyers, claim the ag boys, "And besides, they were too tired to fight very hard."

Yesterday, both teams were confident that they had won, and that the other team was just a bunch of bushers.

'I' Club Initiates Two Women

Initiated into the Women's I club Thursday night were Joyce Kenworthy and Rachel Swayne. Members of the women's organization assisted in the play day at WSC, March 15, President Elsie Mae Stokesberry said. April 5 has been tentatively set for a play day here at the high school. The next meeting will be held April 9, she said.

Institute Will Hear Music Faculty

Four members of the music department faculty will present a program for the L.D.S. institute Sunday at 7 o'clock, according to Prof. Alvah A. Beecher, head of the music department.

Here's More About JASON

But with the selection of Schmidt, that objection has disappeared into the thin ether. Modest and self-effacing, the new football mentor has indicated already his ability to cooperate with anyone he meets.

Wicks is not so well known in the Moscow area, but he will receive a hearty welcome. He can do much to help patch up the difference between the North and South. His coaching record indicates that he can step into a bigger league without timidity.

FOND FAREWELL Rob Tessier has landed a better job than Idaho offered. Forrest Twogood is one of the candidates for another better job. If "Twogood" gets the consideration his ability entitles him to get and if Ted Bank finds greener fields, Jason will be well satisfied with the whole affair, as far as athletic officials are concerned.

The extended and complex maneuverings have come at least to a temporary end. Idaho starts on its athletic progress with a fresh slate and high hopes. Time may efface the scars left in the process; if time fails some more dynamic action may prevail.

At any rate the state legislature and the university's athletic committee have finished their tasks and returned home. How soft and sweet is the spring air this time of year!

Councils To Sponsor Benefit Ball For Red Cross

Plans were completed yesterday for a Red Cross benefit dance to be sponsored Friday, March 21, at the Blue Bucket by the Pan-Hellenic council and the Inter-Fraternity council.

Joe Titus and his orchestra will play. Admission price will be $1. Joyce Kenworthy and Vera Nell James are in charge of ticket sales for Pan Hellenic. Publicity chairman for the dance are Virginia Erdman, and Bill Morton.

Miss Marion Featherstone spoke to members of the Dames club Wednesday evening on how to economize in making a home. The meeting was held in the Women's gym at 8 p.m.
