

ELECTION ELABORATION.
Dick Still versus T.N.E., the famed sub rosa organization of political crooks. From the sidelines it looks like a wonderful battle—with T.N.E. favored to continue their control of the United Students party.

Still is making an honest effort to "clean up" Greek politics—to install a little democracy into a system that has been corrupted for years by the workings of Theta Nu Epsilon, a secret organization that has been outlawed in every college and university west of the Mississippi river, but one that still exists at Idaho.

Some fraternity men are either naive or think that Jason is a bigger sucker than he is. For example, one freshman last year argued that T.N.E. was a "bogey man" created by Independent party politicians so that they would have a make-believe weapon to hang over the heads of the Greeks. At the time the freshman was arguing with Jason about this matter, his roommate was a member of T.N.E. Either the freshman didn't know of the existence of the organization (which many fraternity freshmen and even upper-classmen do not believe exists) or he was trying to bluff someone.

Still is making an honest attempt to "purify" the United Students party, but he is bucking tough odds. Despite rumors to the contrary, Jason has it from a good authority that T.N.E. is strongly organized and ready to again resume the actual power behind the United Students party.

The Greek party caucus met last night and selected its slate of candidates for the class election. Most Greek students knew about the caucus meeting; they'd had a hand in electing the caucus representatives. They'd selected 50 names to be submitted before the caucus for consideration. It represented democracy at work, true democracy only if it hadn't been infested by the presence of several members of T.N.E.

But the majority of the Greek students don't know the reason two or three members from each fraternity house had bleary eyes on Thursday morning. No, they didn't stay up until the wee hours of the morning studying school books. They studied, all right, but it was studying a slate of candidates for the class election October 16.

RAINBOWS.
The "I" club squawks, the minor "I" club squawks, the WAA squawks, Graduate Manager Gale Mix squawks—all about the same thing—changing the lettermen's sweaters.

The "I" club has worked out an elaborate system of changing the awards to include nearly every kind and color of sweater in the rainbow. The club wants gold pull over sweaters with a huge block "I" and not stripes for the first year award; a gold coat sweater with no stripes for the second year; and a white coat sweater with gold stripes for the senior year. But the major letter winners were stumped with the problem of the minor "I" winners. They automatically get a major award for winning three letters in the minor sport and have been receiving gold stripes. But the "I" club evidently wanted to distinguish between the major and minor awards, so the lettermen gratefully decided that they wouldn't put any stripes on the white coat sweater for minor sports. And then the fireworks started!

Minor sports lettermen justly wanted to be represented when any talk about changing their awards was mentioned. The minor "I" club was consulted last spring, but in a year, the personnel and attitude of a group can change. The letter winners in minor sports resented the football, baseball, basketball and track stars dictating to them what they shall wear and that they shall not wear stripes!

The Women's Athletic association put its two bits worth in by also objecting to the leaving stripes off the minor sports sweaters. The WAA representative argued that the minor sports sweaters and the WAA senior sweaters would be the same and that undoubtedly confusion would result.

Graduate Manager Mix also had a few things to say about the proposed change. He pointed out that lettermen who have been graduated in past years would undoubtedly resent the "I" club's action as the tradition of the red sweaters has been built up ever since the first award was given in 1891. The athletic department is against the proposal to change the sweaters, but no one can deny that the "I" club has got a good point in

Gem Chiefs Announce Staff Appointments for Book

Staff heads and editors to supervise creation of the 1942 Gem of the Mountains, Idaho yearbook, were tentatively named by Editor Bob Wethern and Business Manager Ed Benoit yesterday. The appointments were made after nearly 150 students signed up for work on the annual at a meeting Wednesday.

The 1942 Gem staff will be complete when an associate editor, three assistant editors, three assistant business managers, and several minor staff heads have been selected by the publications and ASUI executive boards.

Bob Korman was appointed associate editor by the publications board last spring but the executive board has yet to meet and make the final approval.

"Sales and picture representatives from each living group will be announced soon," Business Manager Benoit says.

Fencers Agitate To Obtain Freshman Awards

The United Students party last night named its candidates for the class election to be held October 16 and a new ASUI constitutional amendment loomed in the background as political leaders of both sides began jockeying and debating over the balloting. The Independents named their candidates last week.

A move to obtain freshman numerals for fencers was underway today and a special executive board meeting will be called Monday afternoon or evening to consider the amendment should it be drafted by that time, ASUI president Milton Eberhard announced last night. Last spring, an amendment passed granting freshman awards in every minor sport except fencing.

George Redford, student fencing coach, said yesterday that several freshmen have shown interest in the sport and that if future varsity foil teams are expected to cope with other northern division schools that the first year men must be given added incentive to turn out for the sport.

Dick Still, chairman of the "new" United Students party, yesterday announced that the method used by the Greeks in selecting was carried on in a manner that all fraternity and sorority students knew was "on the up and up."

Executive Board Rejects Plan To Change Award

The ASUI executive board Tuesday night rejected an "I" club proposal to change the lettermen's awards temporarily and recommended that the group consult the minor "I" club and other organizations whose members receive sweaters from the ASUI in order to avoid duplication of sweaters and to pacify all groups.

The measure will be voted upon at the next class election October 16, provided that the lettermen draft the amendment before Monday afternoon, according to Milton Eberhard, ASUI president.

Graduate Manager Gale Mix pointed out that the Pacific Coast conference is planning to adopt uniform athletic awards at the December meeting and if it is accepted Idaho would have to revise its constitution in regard to the athletic awards next spring. Mix indicated that several minor "I" club members have protested the proposed change, saying that they have not been given an opportunity to be heard on the matter and objecting to the "I" club's dictating the type of sweater to be awarded for minor sports.

Dale Distributes Cups and Awards At Convocation Assembly

Cups and awards were liberally scattered over the campus Wednesday morning at the annual convocation assembly, which featured a public events assembly talk by Author Clarence Streit as an added attraction.

Sigma Chi fraternity got its second leg on the Interfraternity council scholarship cup yesterday when President Harrison C. Dale presented it to them at the assembly. Sigma Chi won the cup the second semester of 1939-40, relinquished it to Beta Theta Pi for the first semester of 1940-41, and then won it back on the basis of their grade average for the second semester of 1940-41.

The Beulah Garrard Dale cup for women was awarded to Kappa Alpha Theta for highest scholarship among women's groups during the year 1940-41. It was held last year by Forney hall.

Death Call Comes To Housemother Of Beta Theta Pi

Funeral services for Mrs. Nellie Barclay, Beta Theta Pi housemother since February, 1938, will be held Saturday morning in Jerome, university friends announced today. Mrs. Barclay died of heart disease Wednesday night at the Gritman hospital.

Mrs. Barclay had been ill for several months, and was for a short period this summer confined at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn. Upon the advice of doctors there she returned to the campus this fall, but was warned to seek quiet and rest.

She complained of feeling ill Wednesday afternoon and was taken to the hospital at 4:30 p. m. She was sleeping at the time of death.

Death Pioneer
Mrs. Barclay is survived by two married sons, Wayne Barclay, an attorney in Jerome, Kenneth Barclay, Twin Falls, and a sister in Portland. Her husband, District Judge Adam Barclay of Jerome, died two years ago.

She was a member of the P.E.O., Eastern Star and other organizations in the Jerome area. She and Judge Barclay were Idaho pioneers. She was 58 years of age.

The body was taken to the Vassar-Rowley funeral home in Lewiston yesterday and will be taken from there to Jerome for services Saturday.

Boise Firm Bids Low To Erect Dairy Building

A Boise contracting firm, Kloefer and Cahoon, probably will be awarded the construction this winter for a new dairy building, according to President Harrison C. Dale. The firm submitted the low bid of $81,305 for the building construction. Bids for the installation of the refrigeration equipment soared the cost to about $106,000, which is $11,000 over the appropriation granted by the state legislature.

"We will meet the difference by eliminating part of the refrigeration machinery, not finishing the basement and substitutions in wood trimming in the inside," the president said yesterday.

The department of public works will probably accept the bid of the Boise firm and ask Architects Tourtelotte and Hummel to make revisions in the plans to bring down the total cost within the legislature's appropriation.

The bids will be sent to Allen C. Merritt, state commissioner of public works, now at Washington, before an award is announced. The building will be erected just west of Morrill hall.

A rally to welcome the Vandals home from Eugene will be held Sunday morning, Yell King Ozzie Walsh announced Wednesday night before he left with the team.

All students are urged to attend if they can. The team will arrive on the 8:50 train, at the Union Pacific depot.

Betty Armstrong, treasurer, told the group of the need for a definite system of keeping the books and was appointed to make out a tentative budget for the year. Marjorie Thompson, acting AWS president, appointed Ruth Mardahl, Mavis Schuepbach, and Virginia Keeton as a nominating committee for a temporary AWS vice-president.

At a special meeting Wednesday, the council will vote for the new vice president. Nominations may be made from the floor, besides those presented by the nominating committee. It was decided to revise the counselor system before next fall.

Jerry O'Conner, president of the group, announced that several projects have been planned by the honorary for this fall.

"America, a Refuge for Refinement" will be discussed by Dean J. F. Messenger, dean of the school of education and honorary member of the Idaho chapter of the Sinfonia, according to Kirk Frey, Phi Mu Alpha president and banquet toastmaster.

Six Obtain Passes For Concert

A half-dozen, right-at-the-trigger Idaho students eased into the Lawrence Tibbett concert in Spokane Wednesday night—gratis—because they were the first six persons to call on the university music department and ask for the passes Tuesday morning.

Allison Hornbaker, Lovell Brough, Marian Partner, Leslie Steele, Milo Pearson, and Betty Babcock were, reportedly, well repaid for being on their toes and winning in the rush for tickets that were sent to the university in the reciprocal arrangement with the Spokane Community Concert committee.

The group heard Baritone Tibbett sing a variety of numbers, all of which were done in English. Included were such familiar selections as "The Glory Road," "Deep River," and "Shortnin' Bread."

Professor Beecher, who is the supreme historian of the national organization, will review the "Founding, Traditions and Present-day Responsibilities of Phi Mu Alpha."

Musical numbers on the program will include a piano solo by Terry Crabb, Handel's "Where'er Ye Walk" will be sung by tenor LeRay Heick and La Mar Jensen will play a clarinet solo.

Douglas Campbell's vocal selection will be followed by the group's singing Sinfonia songs.

Campaign Chatter

Campaign speeches are campaign speeches no matter how they may be presented, and students were not slow to recognize that the talk given by Clarence Streit at Wednesday's assembly fell into that category.

To those of us who had not read his books his program was new and, therefore, interesting; but we left the assembly feeling that we had spent too much time listening to the merits of the program and had heard too little of the actual outline of details of his plan.

Without knowledge of it, we found ourselves unable to judge whether Streit may have found the solution to today's problems.

We feel that Author Streit deserves credit for venturing to suggest a plan for our future, for certainly that future does need planning, and we admire him for his sincerity of conviction; but another time we would like to hear more of detail and less of campaign.

Communique Comment

Iron determination to recover national freedom is creating martyrs each week in Occupied France, in Belgium and Holland, in Norway, and in what was Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia. But military experts warn that rioting, sabotage and guerilla warfare will not be sufficient, even when linked with bombing and economic strangulation, to bring about the defeat of the Reich. Napoleon was destroyed in the end only by the combined armies of Russia, Prussia, Austria and Britain. The comrades of the men now facing German firing squads must be backed by an Allied invasion force before Hitler will meet his Waterloo.

Demands for immediate offensive action by Britain's armed forces ring out each day in the United Kingdom and in our own country. With unrest on the increase in the Occupied Zones and with von Keitel's crack divisions deep in Russia, the moment to strike seems to have arrived. The advisers to both the British and American general staffs warn that the Soviet army is on its way to total defeat unless a second front is created this fall. Grumbling at the apparent willingness of the British to fight "to the last Russian" has been heard in Washington.

In cold fact, John Bull possesses neither the troops nor the military equipment to invade the continent at this juncture. The British Empire commands a total force of not over 50 divisions, which is spread out from Singapore to Iceland and which is still incompletely trained. Neutral experts estimate the Germany army at some 250 divisions; it is forced to garrison half of Europe but it retains the advantage of interior lines and a 4-1 superiority over the British in equipment. Churchill told Parliament on Tuesday that 26 Nazi divisions (390,000 men) guard the French coast alone. In addition, Britain's navy cannot detach the units necessary to convoy an expedition to the Continent while its hands are full in the Atlantic and Mediterranean.

While Americans wonder at British inactivity, war supplies are moving from the U. S. to the enemies of Hitler in an unsteady trickle. Since the passage of the Lend-Lease Bill on March 11, only enough military equipment for the replacements after three days of fighting on the Russian front has been dispatched to Britain; China and the U. S. S. R. Outside of a few tankers of aviation gasoline, nothing has gone to the Soviet Union. More oil is going from U. S. ports to Nazi-puppet Spain—with British navicerts granted at the express request of our State Department—than to Russia.

Hey Ripley!

The era of the conscientious student, we are told, is rapidly on the wane. But after hearing of an episode that allegedly took place yesterday morning in Dean J. E. Messenger's history of education class, the fire of faith in the present college generation is rekindled.

After going through the formality of calling the roll, and asking if there were any students present whose names he had not called, Dean Messenger was pleasantly surprised to find one such individual.

"Where is your class card?" queried the dean.
"I don't know, but I registered for the course," answered Ted Thompson.

"Are you sure you're not registered in section A?" asked Dean Messenger.

"I'm not sure," admitted Ted, "I can't remember whether I registered for section A or B, so I've been coming to them both."

wanting to change the style and color of sweaters if that is what its members want. After all, lettermen really earn those sweaters. It isn't too great an award and for the man-hours effort put into earning it is an enormous figure!

"I" club members wear the sweater. They should be entitled to have a voice in determining what color and style they want. When you go down town to buy a sweater you don't accept the first red coat style sweater that the clerk hands you. You know what you want. So does the "I" club.

But Jason believes that the group's enthusiasm got the better of the members. They didn't take enough angles into consideration. Now, the "I" club members are going to consult with athletic department heads and other groups and formulate a plan that will be satisfactory to all. It might not be just exactly what the "I" club desired, but other organizations will also be satisfied with the result.

Still outlined the procedure by which the nominees were chosen and indicated that it "was democratic in every way." First, each fraternity and sorority house selected one sophomore, one junior and one senior to be submitted to the caucus, which was organized last Tuesday. Wednesday, each Greek house voted on the 59 candidates (one house nominated only two men) and the high five in each class from every house was determined. The caucus met again last night and awarded five points to the nominee polling the largest number of votes in each house. Four points were awarded the second high candidate, three to the third highest, two to the fourth and one point to the fifth man selected.

The results were tabulated and the man with the highest number of points was chosen the party's nominee for president, the second highest nominated for vice president, third highest chosen secretary, and fourth highest was named treasurer.

SMOKING IS MORE FUN WITH CAMELS. THEY'RE EASY ON MY THROAT—EXTRA MILD

The name is Dorothy Van Nuys. The place—California's popular Santa Barbara. The cigarette—America's favorite—C-A-M-E-L!

SHE SWIMS... she rides... she's typically modern in her zest for the active life. Typically modern, too, in wanting to know the scientific facts about the cigarette she smokes. In choosing Camels, Dorothy Van Nuys enjoys the scientific assurance of a slower-burning cigarette: That means more coolness, freedom from the harsh, irritating qualities of excess heat... extra mildness. And she knows, from independent laboratory reports, that in the smoke of extra-mild Camels, there is less nicotine. (See above, right.)

WITH CAMELS, I DON'T GET TIRED OF SMOKING; THE FLAVOR IS ALWAYS INVITING

CAMEL

THE CIGARETTE OF COSTLIER TOBACCOS

"I NEVER REALIZED, until I changed to Camels, that a cigarette could be so much milder and yet have all that wonderful flavor," adds Miss Van Nuys from the pool's edge (above). Yes, Camels always hit the spot—and they're extra mild with less nicotine in the smoke.

The smoke of slower-burning Camels contains 28% LESS NICOTINE than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself

I LIKE THE EXTRA COOLNESS OF A SLOW-BURNING CAMEL

YES, DOROTHY VAN NUYS, and the important point is: Camel's extra coolness—and other Camel advantages are in the smoke. After all, it's the smoke you smoke. And in the smoke of the slower-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos there's more coolness, more flavor, extra mildness—with less nicotine.

The smoke's the thing! Smoke out the facts about milder smoking pleasure yourself. Dealers feature Camels by the carton. For economy—convenience—get your Camels by the carton.

Vandals Face Hard Game With Oregon Under Lights

Ducks May Prove To Be Idaho's Toughest Foe

Toughest assignment on their 1941 grid schedule faces Idaho's traveling football forces tonight at Eugene, where they meet the mighty University of Oregon Ducks.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt and the Idaho gridders pulled out of Moscow Thursday night enroute to Oregon, and last night worked out under the lights at Hayward field, scene of tonight's gridiron battle.

Oregon is rated as heavy favorite to drub the Vandals tonight, for the Ducks boast a much heavier and more experienced eleven.

Last Saturday, while Idaho was losing to Utah in Neale stadium, the Oregonians were losing to last year's Rose Bowl champions, Stanford University. It took a last period rally for Stanford to down the Eugene team, however.

Thirty-two Vandals are in Oregon. The travelling roster included 33 players, but Ed Keiper, end, suffering from a knee injury, was unable to make the trip.

George Nixon, quarterback, is also suffering from a knee injury, and may not play against Oregon. It was announced that Nixon would dress for the battle.

Schmidt ran the Idaho club through its last home practice last Wednesday afternoon, and the team worked to polish up weaknesses which cost it the Utah game.

Before the practice session, a colored movie of the Utah-Idaho tussle was shown the gridders. The film revealed Idaho's weaknesses in the game, mainly, downfield blocking, pass defense, and high tackling.

The Vandals will arrive back in Moscow Sunday morning, when a pep rally has been scheduled to greet them.

Host to Schmidt and Crew

Tex Oliver, University of Oregon's head grid coach, is rumored to be planning a little "T-party" for Francis A. Schmidt's Vandals when they meet his Webfoot eleven tonight at Eugene. The game is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock tonight and is Idaho's first night game in nine years.

FOOTBALL

Idaho fans in this area will hear a direct broadcast of the Vandal-Duck game over KRLC beginning at 7:45 o'clock tonight, according to Gale Mix, graduate manager.

"Our arrangements with Associated Sportscasters are that all game broadcasts will be made direct from the field, that there shall be no recreating the game as in past years," said Mix.

Saturday the squad is stopping in Portland to see the Oregon State-Washington clash. Schmidt and Assistant Coach Price will scout Oregon State, which Idaho meets at Corvallis November 1.

Travellers to Oregon were: Schmidt, Price, Athletic Director George Greene, Trainer Mike Ryan, Manager Herman Renfrew, and the following gridders:

Coach Plans Fall Tourney For All Idaho Netmen

Announcement of the appointment of A. E. Whitehead to act as tennis coach came from the office of George Greene, athletic director, today and simultaneously from the office of Coach Whitehead came the announcement that a fall tennis tournament open to all university men will be held soon. Coach Whitehead called a meeting of all men interested in tennis and who would like to participate in this fall tournament for tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in Ad. 207.

The results of the tournament this fall will have a great influence in the choice of players for the varsity and freshman teams next spring," Coach Whitehead said. "The spring schedule this year will carry both freshman and varsity meets, so it will be necessary for freshman candidates to turn out for the fall tourney."

Tentative plans have been formed for fall meets with Washington State college and with Gonzaga university. If these meets are arranged they will be practice meets to provide experience for the three teams. Freshman and varsity matches will be arranged for these fall meets.

Any person who has a class which conflicts with the 11 o'clock meeting set for tomorrow morning should send his name with someone else, or telephone his intention to participate in the meet to Bud Doane at the Sigma Chi house, the tennis manager instructed.

Seven Lettermen Work Out For Cross-Country Team

With seven lettermen back and working out regularly, prospects for Idaho's cross country team are very good, according to Coach Mike Ryan. Twenty-five candidates, including the seven veterans, have answered the call for varsity men, while 12 freshmen are battling for places on the yearling squad. Uniforms still are being issued to prospective team men. The Vandals will open their season November 1 with both varsity and freshman meeting Whitman here.

Following the Whitman meet the Idaho harriers will clash with Washington State at Pullman November 8, both varsity and freshmen. November 15 the Vandals will meet Montana here in a varsity meet. November 19 the Ryan men will attempt to win their fifth straight Pacific Coast cross country championship on the Hill military academy's four-mile Rocky Butte course at Portland. Conclusion of the season will come November 24 with the national collegiate cross country championships at East Lansing, Mich.

"Our chances this year are equally as good as last year when we won the coast championships and finished behind Indiana and Michigan normal in the nationals," said Mentor Ryan. "However, since most of our team this year are seniors I would like to have as many freshmen and sophomores out as possible since the caliber of our future teams depends largely upon them."

From last year's team graduation took Bobby Neal, Irv Alterwein and Phil Leibowitz. Returning lettermen are Bob White, Sted Johnston, John Thomas, Vic Dyrigall, Bob Dwyer, LaMar Chapman, and Francis McGuire. McGuire dropped track after earning his letter three years ago. From last year's freshman team come numeral-winners Jack Ragland and Harold Stroschein to bolster the varsity.

Candidates are now doing preliminary training for the five-meet schedule. To condition the tracksters for the cross-country season, intra-squad track meets will be held October 14-15, and October 20-21. Later there will be two intrasquad cross country races, including a freshman-sophomore meet and an interclass race to help determine the teams for the Whitman meet.

Special Busses Scheduled for Spokane Trip

A limited number of bus tickets to Spokane for the Idaho-Gonzaga football game are available, Graduate Manager Gale Mix announced yesterday. Only two special busses will make the trip to the Washington city, he indicated.

Groups interested in chartering a 33-passenger bus to make the trip to Spokane should notify Mix before Tuesday, he said.

Riflemen Begin Shooting On October 20

First shooting for men trying for positions on the University of Idaho rifle team is scheduled for October 20, according to Lieut. Otto A. Nelson, assistant professor of military science and tactics coach of the rifle team this year. Lieutenant Nelson said that a meeting of all men interested in trying for the team would be held within the next two weeks.

Nine men from the squad which last year won the Ninth Corps Area championship and placed second in the William Randolph Hearst national matches will bolster the chances of Idaho's being among the nation's high teams this year, according to Lieutenant Nelson.

Plans for the season include intensive practice from 2 to 5 p. m. each week day starting October 20, and will provide a basis for selecting the first week's team members, Lieutenant Nelson said.

New Coach. Lieutenant Nelson is replacing Major W. A. Hale as coach of the rifle team. Major Hale last year coached the team to the highest honors won by an Idaho team, and in 1936 guided it to what is now its second best season.

Streit Advocates Federal Union

"The original American plan for freedom of all men should be spread over all the world to defeat dictatorships," said Clarence K. Streit in his speech at the first assembly of the year. He suggested an American expeditionary idea, not an expeditionary force.

"The only thing that can conquer an idea is a better idea," the speaker said. He advocated a federal union, which was almost begun in May, 1940, he declared, when Britain suggested that France and England combine their governments. The offer was rejected by the French government by a 10 to 13 vote.

Author of "Union Now," and "Union Now With Britain," Mr. Streit is leader of the Federal Union movement in the United States.

Commander Calls Staff Meeting

Lieut. Col. Cody G. Robertson, sixth regimental Pershing Rifle commander, called a meeting of the Regimental staff for next Tuesday evening, yesterday. Appointments will be made to the staff and plans will be formulated for the further expansion of Pershing Rifles in the west.

The sixth regiment covers the entire west coast plus Idaho, Montana, Nevada, and Utah. "Our goal," says Colonel Robertson, "is a Pershing Rifle unit in every accredited R.O.T.C. school in our area."

Vandals Schedule Two Night Tilts

Two night games, first on the Vandal schedule since 1932, are booked for the Idaho gridders this year. The Vandals will face the Oregon Ducks in a night game at Eugene, tonight, and will meet the Gonzaga Bulldogs under the lights the following weekend, October 10, in Spokane. Both games are on Friday nights.

Fencers To Meet This Afternoon

Candidates for the Vandal fencing squad will have their first meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the tower room of Memorial gymnasium, according to an announcement by Coach George Redford. Plans for the coming season will be discussed at the initial gathering.

Actual fencing drills will get under way Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Originally Redford had planned the practice session for 2 o'clock but the California-Washington State football game in Pullman forced postponement of the drill. Practices will be held every afternoon including Saturday. Instruction will be given beginners who wish to learn to fence. A ladder tournament will be held and team members will be selected on their showing in this tourney.

The Idaho foilmen will open their season in January.

Yearlings Begin Scrimmages For Full Season

First scrimmages for the Vandal Coach J. A. "Babe" Brown, who dal Babes were held this week by this week began the earnest work of preparing the freshmen for the first of their three scheduled games. The first year men are spending most of their time on fundamentals and little work has been done as team units, according to Coach Brown.

"We have been drilling them on fundamentals and working in a few plays," Brown said. "We have not yet been able to determine for which position each man is best fit, but we have learned much about their potentialities." The offensive drills have been the heaviest this week, with the linemen learning their assignments for many plays and the ball handlers spending time learning to hand the ball from man to man in the smooth manner necessary in the Francis A. Schmidt style of football.

Of the 40 men out for freshman football, Brown has classified 26 as follows:

Ends—Evans, Fagnan, Williams, and Kubluboski; tackles—Hinchcliff, Gray Bateson, and Von Fredenberg; guards—Schutt, Moses, Langlois, Brown, and White-man; centers—Seeds, and Swan-briek; quarterbacks—Kerby and Gwartney; and halfbacks—Swartz-zenberger, Thomas, Plasting, Sparber, Briggs, and Robinson.
