EDUCATION EVIL.

The evil of formal education reared its ugly head again on the Idaho campus last week. The result is that an abundance of classes has forced Chandler Bragdon, European history instructor and author of the Argonaut's feature Communicate Comment, to partially discontinue writing his popular column. Six classes, compared to the five he taught last year, has caused Mr. Bragdon to forego writing the column for Tuesday's Argonaut. The feature will continue in Friday's Argonaut, however.

WOMEN WRANGLING.

Wednesday, the AWS council met and elected Vera Nell James acting vice president of the Associated Women Students to succeed Marjorie Thompson, who automatically moved up to the post of acting president when Mabel Ayres failed to return to school. The "actine" part of the title is stuck on because Miss Ayres may return to school later on in the year and will then resume the presidential gavel, Miss Thompson will again become vice president and Miss James—well, she'll be out!

No sooner had the council picked the acting vice president, whose chief duties is serving as head of the social committee, than cries of "unconstitutional" and "unfair" echoed across the campus. Two arguments have been presented:

1. That the AWS council has no constitutional right to select the candidate and that it should be submitted to vote of the entire membership of the Associated Women Students. Miss Thompson was elected vice president of the AWS last March by a vote of the entire women students. Unless it is stipulated otherwise in the constitution, they argue that it should be presumed that a vacancy should be filled in the same procedure that the office was originally filled, i. e. by election of the entire women students.

2. That the AWS council's representation is very unfair. Proponents argue that each sorority house, whose membership would average not more than 35, has two representatives in the council, while each women's hall, whose membership is nearly triple that of a sorority, also has only two representatives. Each vote in the AWS council by a hall representative is the represented vote of 40 to 50 women while the sorority woman's vote represents only a constituency of 17 or 18. Fair?

The cost of holding elections is great. Ballots must be printed. It involves considerable time and effort. Women must be "drafted" to conduct the election, watch the polls, and count the votes. Sure it costs money and time, but in the present world crisis when all America is considering again to make a plunge into Europe's affairs "to make the world safe for democracy and Great Britain" we can't let democracy slip even in the pettiest election.

The result of a general election among the women students might not have resulted any differently. Miss James might have been elected. The results would have been the same, but it isn't the results—it's the principle that is being questioned.

In regard to the unequal representation in the AWS council, Jason will have to agree to the inequality arguers. It's the same problem that confronted the drafters of the United States Constitution. The large states, backed by Virginia, wanted representation in the new government on the basis of population, but the smaller states wanted the representation by states rather than people. The smaller states wanted to destroy the tenets of individualism. They wanted to subordinate the individual's welfare to that of the group. The constitutional convention solved the problem by compromise. The same can be done here.

Jason feels that if a portion of the women on the campus believe that the representation is "unjust" and that in accordance with more democratic principles that the larger groups should have more representation than the smaller groups, that they should be consulted in regard to modifying the apportionment of representatives.

Professor Speaks

Hall M. Macklin, assistant professor of music, told members of the local Kiwanis club how much of America's patriotic music came into being. Marian Parker sang two vocal numbers on the program.

500 Idaho Students To Rally Tonight In Spokane

Students Accept School Budget For Coming Year

The executive board, Wednesday night, accepted the 1941-42 budget as submitted to them by Graduate Manager Gale Mix. The board approved the budget and recommended no changes.

A budget allotment of $103,983.68 was suggested by Mr. Mix. This is a reduction of $18,892.06 from last year's budget of $120,875.74. The reduction came through slack in enrollment, according to Mr. Mix.

The estimated allotment for the general administration for the coming year is $4,025 and the general allotments is $6,856. The allotment for baseball is $3,700; basketball, $9,050; boxing, $3,725; football, $31,891.66; minor sports, $4,437.50; track, $2,925; and general athletics, $3,970.

WAA Gets $500. The total allotment for women's athletics is $500, and $4,800 is set aside for the golf course.

The allotment for the music department gives the pep band $1,100; the university band, $100; and Vandaleers, $550.

Publications are allotted the following: Argonaut, $6,575.88; Gem of the Mountains, $9,038.75.

The allotment for miscellaneous activities for the year are: agriculture judging, $935; debate, $550; dramatics, $700.

The allotment for the class of 1942 is $729; the class of 1943, $965; the class of 1944, $751; and the class of 1945, $936.

Intercollegiate Knights were allotted $500, for their year's work.

Argonaut staff appointments approved by the board were Elizabeth Bracken, news editor; Fritz Meagher, night editor; and Bob Bonomi, sports editor.

Rigdon Gets Post In Rifle Group

Twenty-two men turned out for the first formal meeting of Pershing Rifles last Tuesday evening. Sixteen were old members and eight were new men trying out for the company. Tryouts will continue for some time. All sophomores and freshmen with previous military training are invited to try out Tuesday evening.

Gene Bassett, former Pershing Rifle member, tried out for the post of lieutenant. All junior officers interested in obtaining commissions in the Pershing Rifles should get in touch with Capt. Alan Foster.

Captain Foster announced the election of Melvin Rigdon as executive officer of the company. Lieutenant Rigdon was a member of the company's officer's staff last year. He was formerly a member of Pershing Rifle company C-7 at Oklahoma A & M.

Among plans for the coming year, is the training of a crack squad in the old drill. The squad will be used for exhibitions.

W.S.C., Idaho Representatives Agree To End 'Paint War'

Washington State college and Idaho student and faculty representatives Tuesday went on record opposing painting and defacing the campus of the rival school branding the "paint war" as childish and destructive.

They Know Their Cows

Ted Fiorito's Orchestra To Serve As 'Kicker' for Dad's Day

Six hundred tickets for the Ted Fiorito dance October 22 will go on sale in group houses Monday, Graduate Manager Gale Mix announced yesterday. The ticket sale is being handled by the Intercollegiate Knights and Blue Key.

"The tickets will sell for $1.65 a couple," Mix said. "As soon as they are gone, 44-cent tickets will be sold to allow spectators to watch the orchestra from the balcony."

Knox Craig, general chairman of Dad's day October 25, announced yesterday that the dance would be used as a "kickoff" for the Dad's day celebration.

Mix explained that only 600 tickets are being sold for the dance to enable those who purchase the tickets to have ample room in which to dance.

Four phonograph records featuring Fio Rito's band were installed in the nickelodeon in the Blue Bucket lounge yesterday and other recordings of the group will be alternated later this week, according to Mix. Recordings placed in the nickelodeon were "Donkey Serenade," "Chopinina," "Reflections," and "Midnight Blue."

Fio Rito's orchestra features "Candy" Candido, musical clown who performs with the bass violin. Two male vocalists, Frank Flynn and Allan Cole also highlight the Fio Rito program.

The department hopes to bring authorities here to discuss such topics as the boy voice problem, making musical instruments, architecture of music, what the young music teacher should know, the superintendent speaks about music, what chance has an accompanist, how to make money, the folk dance, radio music, certification, patriotic music, and the piano virtuoso, the opera singer and the music critic.

It is our hope that all of the music teachers in the surrounding territory may join us in our interesting forums and discussions of material," Mr. Beecher said.

The department hopes to bring authorities here to discuss such topics as the boy voice problem, making musical instruments, architecture of music, what the young music teacher should know, the superintendent speaks about music, what chance has an accompanist, how to make money, the folk dance, radio music, certification, patriotic music, and the piano virtuoso, the opera singer and the music critic.

Who? Yehudi? He's the Prexy Of the Silent Fiji House

"Yehudi" has first claim to the presidency of the Phi Gamma Delta house at Idaho, according to results of the election board examination given Wednesday. Eight of the students taking the examination answered the "fifty-first question," which asked the name of the Fiji president, by saying that he held the gavel.

Other answers to this question stated "some poor soul," "Madam X," "God and Fijis know, I don't," "I don't know, do you?" and "your guess is as good as mine."

Collette Selects Four Students For ASUI Play

Four more parts in the ASUI play, "She Stoops to Conquer," were cast this week and production staff positions filled, according to Miss Jean Collette, director.

Cope Gale, prominent in dramatic activities, will play the role of Hardcastle, host and mistaken innkeeper. Ralph Joslyn, who made his first appearance in the all-university production, "Family Portrait," last year, will play Sir Charles Marlowe. Don Swinney takes the part of Diggory. Marc Pederson acts the role of Roger. The six remaining minor parts will be cast this week, Miss Collette said.

Those named to fill positions on the production staff are: Barbara Sherwin, in charge of properties and sound effects; Venita Finegan, make-up; Lorene Wilde, costumes. Stage manager will be Gayle Manjon; stage crew, Murrel Hansen and Adele Clemmer. Don Darrow is in charge of property construction. Betty Jo Jeffers and Marian Heath are assistants to the director. Others who signed up for crew work at try-outs will be called this week.

Casting for the second production of the semester, under the direction of John Sollers will begin next week. Among the plays being considered are "The Little Foxes," recently released in film form, "Junius and the Paycock," by O'Casey, and "Jim Dandy," by William Saroyan. The final selection will be a strong, serious play in contrast to the Goldsmith show, Mr. Sollers said.

Council Discusses Stimulation Of Idaho Spirit

Stimulating Idaho spirit and a general feeling of friendliness and cooperation were set up as goals for the student-faculty council at the first meeting of the group Tuesday.

"Students and alumni throughout the state usually snicker when the university is mentioned," ASUI President Milton Eberhard stated at the meeting. "They don't have the feeling that Idaho is their alma mater and should be boosted."

Dean Herbert J. Wunderlich announced that a student creed written by Bob Leeright would be distributed to each member of the council before the next meeting, and adoption of the creed as an Idaho tradition would be considered.

Dean Beatrice Olson outlined the history of the group and mentioned that it was a gathering in which the members could "take their hair down, and discuss student and faculty problems 'as friends.'"

Dean Olson explained that she believed Idaho spirit could be improved by more cooperation, and cited the example of poor attendance at the AWS-sponsored May fete. She believed that if men students showed more interest in the May fete, it would be a great aid in improving the performance.

Idaho Campus Shows Interest In Aviation, Major Claims

The University of Idaho campus is the best source of air corps material in the northwest, Maj. Percy O. Brewer, president of the cadet examining board said Wednesday as he left the campus after examining 25 applicants here. Before his departure for Pullman where he will continue examinations, he stated that "of all places we visit in the northwest, the University of Idaho evidences the greatest interest in aviation."

The board approved 16 of the 25 applicants, a percentage which is extremely high, Major Brewer pointed out. "Not only do we find more candidates here," he said, "but they are of generally higher physical caliber. For instance," he went on, "we usually find that one out of three candidates on a certain campus qualifies for air corps cadetships. Here it is about half-and-half."

Saturday Marks Incomplete Failures

Saturday, October 11 has been set as the last day on which students may remove incomplete, according to the office of the registrar. Incomplete not made up by this day automatically become failures unless students have already filed a permit for extension of time. This permit must be signed by the dean of the college in which the student is enrolled, and by the instructor concerned.

Re-registration in a course for which a mark of incomplete has been filed automatically changes the incomplete to failure unless special action is taken by the student in advance of that registration, according to the registrar.

Individual picture taking begins Monday with one women's living group signed up for that date. Other living groups will be signed up for subsequent dates to keep production steady, according to Benoit.

"Those students who signed up for the Gem photography staff will meet Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock," Photography Manager Warren Lauer says. "House representatives will be picked at the meeting and announced in Friday's Argonaut."

Gem chiefs Benoit and Editor Bob Wether have been experimenting with new picture backgrounds in cooperation with Hutchinson's studio in order to provide the group panels with a "new tone." The background selected will be used in sittings for both men and women.

In the past, women have used a darker background than men and in mixed-panels the result is a mottled appearance.

Gem Heads Launch Sales Campaign

Gem sales by house representatives began today with the aim of reaching or surpassing the 1800-annual quota before Christmas vacation, according to Business Manager Ed Benoit. Representatives from all living groups met yesterday with Benoit and Sales Manager Ken Harding to receive sales books and instructions.

All fraternity pledges will meet for the second annual pledge banquet to be held in the Blue Bucket Inn, October 13, at 6 p. m.

Dean Otis McCreary of Washington State college will be the principal speaker, announced Dean Herbert J. Wunderlich, who is also a program speaker. Present plans call for short talks by faculty members and fraternity leaders.

At the meeting of the Interfraternity council last week the following men were appointed on the banquet committee; Jim Hutchinson, chairman; Jack Nelson, Oliver Mackey, and Nolan Weeks. The Interfraternity council fostered the plan for the purpose of closer relationship between fraternities on the Idaho campus.

All pledges are urged to attend the banquet to get acquainted with other new fraternity men.

Thirty Turn Out For Debate

About 30 potential debaters put themselves in line for steady argumentative jobs for the school year, when they signed their names at a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Although all four members of last year's varsity squad have returned to carry on their debating after they concluded a successful season last spring, almost all the new loquacious-minded signers will have opportunities to debate during the year, according to Debate Coach A. E. Whitehead. He explained that practically all of the season's debating will be in tournaments in which an indefinite number of teams may be entered from each school represented.

Aside from university debating, of both men's and women's teams, freshmen teams are being organized. Twelve first-year students turned out at the meeting—a number exceeding that of previous years, Mr. Whitehead said.

Veteran debaters returning this year include Vernon Ravencroft, who will be debate manager; Keith McCarthy, Milton George, Marc Boles, Betty Detweiler and Sylvan Jeppesen.

Military Honorary Names Officers

Lieut. Cody G. Robertson yesterday announced the promotion of Bernard Poller to the post of captain on the Pershing Rifle Regimental staff. Captain Poller was a master sergeant last year. He will hold the position of adjutant this year.

Colonel Robertson also announced the appointments of Charles Sweetwood and William Hayes as lieutenants on the staff. At some future date, three sophomores will be appointed as master sergeants and three freshmen as sergeants.

Hattrup Accepts Idaho Position

Hubert Hattrup arrived yesterday to become an instructor in electrical engineering. His appointment is subject to final approval by the board of regents. Hattrup was graduated from Idaho in 1930 and in 1934-35 was an instructor on the engineering staff here. He will succeed Carl W. Brown who resigned to accept a faculty position at the University of Wyoming.

SIX, SEVEN MILES UP! In air no man can breathe—and live! Motors—now even pilots are "super-charged." On the stationary bicycle (above) Marshall Headle, chief test pilot of Lockheed, breathes pure oxygen for 30 minutes before a test flight in Lockheed's new interceptor.

SHE CLIMBS A MILE A MINUTE. They call her "Lightning." Pilot Headle clammers into the cockpit, switches from a pocket oxygen flask to his cabin supply, and streaks for the stratosphere. He's test-flown 300 different planes. But when he lands, it's always... "Now for a Camel."

YOU CAN'T SEE HIM up there. You can scarcely hear the hum of his motors. Then his voice comes into the radio tower: "Headle—35,000 feet—diving now." And you just hope! Seconds later—yes, seconds—he's landing. And here he is (above) cool, calm, lighting up a Camel.

The smoke of slower-burning Camels contains

than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself

CAMEL'S EXTRA MILDNESS IS PLENTY OKAY WITH ME. I SURE GO FOR THAT FULL, RICH FLAVOR

"Less nicotine in the smoke means more mildness to me," says test pilot Marshall Headle (above), as he lights up his... and America's... favorite cigarette

THERE may be little traffic at 35,000 feet, but test-diving any new, untried plane is no Sunday joy-ride. No, not even for a veteran like Marshall Headle (above).

Naturally, cigarette mildness is important to Marshall Headle. And in the slower-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos... Camels... he gets extra mildness—with less nicotine in the smoke.

What cigarette are you smoking now? Chances are it's one of the five included in the nicotine tests reported above at the left—tests which trace Camel's advantage right down to the actual smoke itself. Obviously, the smoke's the thing!

Try Camels. For convenience—economy—buy the carton.

They Organize

There are about 500 men attending the University of Idaho who live off the campus. These town men were invited early this week to attend a mixer in the auditorium for their benefit, that they may begin to take steps toward organizing themselves—also for their own benefit. Eighteen attended.

Despite wholehearted effort and cooperation on the part of Dean Herbert J. Wunderlich, Idaho's town men seem to lack the spark which sets things in motion, and evidently either know nothing of events staged for their benefit or care nothing. If the former is the true, their case is solvable; if, on the other hand, they have no interest in projects designed to stimulate campus-town relationships and "tie up" all the students, the case is lost.

For years these men have complained that they are "left out of campus activities" and it is truly lamentable that the social blessings of college life must end at Deakin street, but these same complainers, when invited to unite and become an active group in the college scheme, balk and wait for someone else to volunteer. Tau Mem Aleph, town men's fraternal organization, is a boon to its members, but it cannot be expected to carry all cross-town boys on the exhilarating wave of so-called "campus life" without active cooperation on the part of everyone involved.

It has been said that perhaps town men do not get the Argonaut and therefore do not hear of such things as the mixer held Tuesday night. If this is true, and until more efficient distribution methods can be devised, we suggest that each man remember that the Argonaut is his paper and can be obtained at any store on the campus. And when he next complains that college has passed him by, let him remember that people don't get organized, they organize. —L. H.

Communique Comment

When the field-grey horde rolled into Russia on June 22nd, competent neutral observers predicted a complete defeat of the Red armies within six weeks. With one Nazi spearhead within 125 miles of Moscow, the same observers do not dissent from yesterday's claim of the Berlin press that the Soviet war machine is in its last death agony. They may be wrong once more, but it is time to consider seriously the probability of capitulation by Stalin to Hitler—and to look straight ahead into the consequences of such a denouement.

Victory over the U. S. S. R. will boost morale on the German home front at a time when just such encouragement is needed. German losses in military equipment are probably lower than the estimates coming from London would indicate, and the amount of Russian war material already seized by the invaders is known to be gigantic. The Nazis can garrison a defeated Soviet Union with an army smaller than the one which was stationed on the Russo-German frontier last winter. The main body of Hitler's troops will be free to strike at the numerically-weak British forces in Iran, Iraq and Syria.

Surrender by the Kremlin will result in a sharp decline in unrest on the Continent. German legions from the eastern front will restore the depleted garrisons of the Occupied Zones to full strength. The spectacle of Britain and the U. S. coming through once again with too little, and that too late, will create doubt among the conquered peoples as to the intentions of the democracies. The conservative elements in the subject states will be sincerely grateful to Hitler for destroying the Bolshevik ogre. Groups that are now wavering will rush to make terms with the new Caesar—on the theory that defeat of his "invincible" army is no longer possible.

Morale in the United Kingdom has been magnificent, but it will be dented by the sight of the Russian bear with all four paws in the air. The British people were assured by their lords of the press that Hitler would miss the bus in Norway, that the Nazi legions would be stopped in the mountains of Jugoslavia, and finally that the vastness of Russia would swallow any puny imitator of Napoleon. Sharp deflation of this last pink balloon might lead to a demand for drastic changes in the London cabinet.

Salesmen

This is the time of year when intrigues and deep dark plots hatched up during rush week finally come to light. The following tidbit was overheard Wednesday night as four competitors during rush week let down their hair and compared notes:
"Say what you may, I've got to hand it to your house for pulling off something I've never heard of any other house doing before. We sent Richard Rushee down to your house with our pledge button in his pocket, and darned if he didn't come back with one of your buttons on his lapel."
You can't deny it, those Sigma Nu boys are hard men with a rushee.

For Shame

We think it not only indelicate but downright nasty on the part of the Pullman wag who, according to one of the most secretive of our secret agents, mailed the following bit of buffoonery to Idahoan Sports Writer Tom McCall:
Saturday, 2 o'clock: "Tie up with Schmidt."
Saturday, 5 o'clock: "Tie Schmidt up."

The postal card was signed with the name of avicious organization that has outlived its usefulness on the campus and is considered by one and all to be against the general welfare of the student body. We hope and trust that its ugly head will not be raised again in these parts.

Popular

But despite the potshooting of a despicable minority of outsiders from a neighboring hamlet, Coach Schmidt remains a popular gent on the Idaho campus. So popular, in fact, is Headman Schmidt that last Saturday night, some vandal picked the lock on Hutchison's outside display, pilfered the large-scale likeness of Schmidt. It is, to quote the assistant janitor in the Hutchison studio of fine arts, the first time in the memory of local citizens that anyone has shown sufficient interest in the persons whose likenesses appeared in the display case to swipe one of the pictures. Curbstone conclusion: Student enthusiasm hits all time high.

To The Editor

To The Editor:
They choose "Blue Champagne" to "Go Vandals Go" and so they stayed in the Bucket lounge and danced. Just a few steps away a spirited Idaho rally was in progress but the sophisticated couples found the lounge's slick floor or soft chairs too much to sacrifice for a little loud yelling. And so they danced on.
Yes, they were Idaho students. At least they have ASUI books with their names upon them. Perhaps they were even planning to attend the Idaho-Gonzaga game tonight. But they couldn't quite see their way clear to step outside and join a rally dedicated to Idaho spirit... the spirit to win.
They liked the rhythm of a smooth fox trot better than the staccato beat of Idaho's fight song and so they remained lounge lizards and danced on. We're not saying that "they who dance must pay the fiddler." We're just saying it's too bad they have no Idaho spirit. They're really missing something.

Idaho Dairy Cattle Win Second at Portland

University dairy cattle and dairy products judging teams were back on the campus this week from Portland, where they won second and fourth places, respectively, in the Pacific International Livestock exposition.
Teams from Washington State, Oregon State, Montana State, and the University of British Columbia participated.
Cattle judging team members were Ed Bodily, Wesley Jenkins, Reid Merrill, and Raymond Chambers. Merrill was rated second highest in the contest.

The agronomy judging team competed yesterday, but no returns had been received last night. Members of the agronomy team are Ronald Baskett, Don Beals, Don Robertson, and Fred Wetter. The team is expected to return to Moscow today.

In the livestock show, the university stock captured five grand championships and won 13 first places.
The winners are: Cattle—champion Shorthorn and reserve grand champion in the summer yearling Shorthorn class.
Swine—grand champion barrow and grand champion pen of barrows, junior champion boar and junior champion senior gilt in the Duroc breed, and senior and grand champion junior yearling sow and junior champion gilt in the Poland breeding class.
Prof. D. L. Fourt of the department of dairy husbandry, coach of the dairy cattle judging team, was an official judge at the main event of the livestock show. He judged Jerseys and Ayrshires.

Fewer People React Positive to Tests

According to results from tuberculin tests taken during the last few weeks, the percentage of positive reactions for both men and women has shown a slight drop. Of 245 women taking the test, 19 per cent were found positive, and 26 per cent of the 428 men tested gave positive reactions.
A positive tuberculin test does not necessarily indicate active tuberculosis, but merely shows that an x-ray photograph should be taken and the patient kept under observation, infirmity officials emphasized. This year's tests are not yet complete.

Spokane Organizes Alumni Group

An active alumni association is being organized by former University of Idaho students this week in Spokane, according to Bill Olson, who left yesterday to attend the meetings.
Plans are not complete yet but an informal luncheon will be held either today or Saturday to complete arrangements.

Retreat Concludes

Catholic students closed their retreat Tuesday evening in the small ballroom of the Student Union building at services conducted by the Rev. J. K. Kloft, of Coeur d'Alene. The three-day retreat included masses each morning at 6:30 a. m., and again at 7:20 a. m., divided by short talks which discussed "Our Duties to God, to Our Fellow Men and to Ourselves."

Forestry School Exhibits Game Bird Specimens

Engineers Begin Boise Survey

The college of engineering may assume sponsorship of specialized short courses in technical fields for those engaged in defense work, it was announced recently by Dean J. E. Buchanan, dean of the college of engineering.
A survey began recently in the Boise area to determine the need for such courses, and it deemed necessary these will be made available by the U. S. department of education through an appropriation of $17,500,000.

Dean Buchanan recently announced the appointment of Harry Dewey, formerly on the engineering faculty here, as acting supervisor and instructor in the Boise area. Dewey is now starting a survey to determine what need there might be for such courses, and if it is decided that there is sufficient need in that area for the project, courses will be authorized and classes begun.

The hunting season on game birds opens October 15, and nimrods who aren't sure how you tell the difference between a Hungarian pheasant and a mountain quail are invited by the school of forestry to drop in at Morrill hall and find out. For this purpose, and for people who are just plain curious, forestry officials have erected a display of stuffed game birds on the second floor.
Among the specimens represented are Hungarian pheasant, silver pheasant, and golden and ring-neck pheasant, chucker partridge, sharp tail grouse or prairie chicken, mountain quail, Franklin grouse, and ruffed grouse.

The display will change with the hunting seasons, so that hunters can keep posted on what they're shooting.
Dr. Vernon A. Young, professor of range management, has requested that alumni send in desirable specimens whenever possible, and students themselves collect some of the birds and animals.

Larson Injured In Accident

No definite information on the condition of Dr. W. E. Larson, specialist in soils with the Extension service, injured in an auto accident at Montpelier Wednesday, has been received, Mrs. Larson said last night.
Dr. Larson is said to have suffered a broken knee in the wreck, and was taken to a Salt Lake hospital for treatment. Mrs. Larson said that she had received no report of his condition since the accident.

Moore To Speak To Thinkers

Alpha Theta Delta, national contemporary thought honorary, met Tuesday night with Harold Bergerson, instructor in political science, to plan changes in the organization and to discuss pledges. Members of the group decided to make this year's meetings more formal and to use a different faculty member for speaker at each meeting.
William C. Moore, instructor in economics, will speak at the next meeting which will be held Tuesday, October 14 at the Kappa Sigma house. Pledges will be announced next week, according to Dick Still, president of the group.

Vandals Use 'Beat Gonzaga' for Theme

Babes Drill for Grizzly; Play Against Varsity

With power evident in both line and backfield, Coach J. A. "Babe" Brown, freshman coach, ran his charges through heavy offensive scrimmages last night in preparation for their meeting with the Grizzly Cubs in Kellogg October 18. The Vandal Babes also worked Gonzaga formations and shifts against the varsity to give the upperclassmen experience against such formations.

Describing his team, Coach Brown said that the boys have plenty of spirit, are willing to learn and are "coming along." A 40-minute practice game has been scheduled for this afternoon and the freshman mentor expects to then gain his first true picture of how his men will act under game conditions.

Practices have indicated that the freshmen will have power in the line, and that the backfield men who can pass well in scrimmage, and get punts away cleanly. The many ball-handling assignments, and the sudden shifts of position necessary for the linemen are being taught the men each day in fundamental drills.

Foil Captain Asks To Begin Drills

Freshmen fencers are asked by Fencing Captain George Redford to report in the Tower room of Memorial gymnasium Monday afternoon at 5 p. m. Redford pointed out that most men turning out for fencing this year have been upperclassmen and that it will be necessary to build for next year.

Nine men reported for drills last Friday, several of them freshmen. Plans for this year include arrangements for freshman meets and a complete freshman team.

"The freshmen will have a chance to win a numeral sweater in fencing if the amendment is passed by the student body at next Thursday's elections," Redford said. The ballots will carry a proposed amendment that minor sport numeral awards be granted freshmen who qualify in fencing.

The schedule of drills for fencing as set by Redford are: 5 p. m. on Monday and Tuesday, 4 p. m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and 2 p. m. on Saturday. Persons unable to make the 5 p. m. meeting Monday night may turn out later in the week, Redford said.

After Victory

Black bow tie and all, Coach Francis A. Schmidt is gunning for his first triumph as the Vandals head coach tonight against the Gonzaga Bulldogs.

Knox Negotiates To Complete Mitt Schedule

Idaho's boxing schedule for the coming season will be announced next week, Coach Bob Knox stated as he sent novice fighters through ring drills yesterday. The mitt schedule will be complete as soon as negotiations with Gonzaga university are settled over the week-end, Coach Knox says.

"Pre-season boxing drills have been limited to roadwork and general conditioning in most cases so far this year," according to Coach Knox. "Experienced boxers are taking it fairly easy but the greener fighters are working out at regular intervals." All boxing aspirants will weigh in Monday afternoon so that an idea of which weight is represented by the most or the fewest men can be ascertained, Knox said.

Managers Elect Dale Reynolds

Dale Reynolds was elected president of Alpha Phi Chi, honorary society for intramural athletics managers, by proxy vote for the 1941-42 school year.

Don Robertson, Dick Harlan, and Dick Snyder will fill the offices of vice president, secretary, and treasurer respectively. The first meeting under the new administration was held Wednesday evening in the athletic office with Leon Green, intramural director.

The main part of the meeting was given over to the discussion of protested touch football games, but no definite action was taken. Plans for minor intra-mural awards and the advisability of physical examinations for all intramural participants were also discussed. These plans were laid aside until research work was completed.

Twenty-one Golfers Sign For Fall Tournament

Twenty-one potential Vandal golf stars have signed up for the coming all-school tournament, according to Frank James. All players interested, beginners as well as experienced golfers, are asked to play qualifying round matches either Saturday or Sunday. Those turning out Sunday are requested to be at the club house by 10:00 a. m., so that the matches can get under way.

The idea of the fall tourney is to find out what each man can do under fire, and to get some outlook as to the coming spring campaign, Coach James pointed out. The tournament will be divided into two groups—varsity and freshmen—and arrangements are being made to award prizes to winners. After completing the matches, which will all run eighteen holes, the players will be placed in flights according to ability.

Practice Tourney Draws 22 Tennis Players

Twenty-two tennis players, including six lettermen, have registered to play in the University of Idaho fall net tournament, Bud Doane, manager of the meet, reported this morning.

First round pairings have already been made, and matches will begin immediately, Doane said. The meet is being sponsored by the Idaho athletic department, and play will be on the Memorial gymnasium courts.

Purpose of the tourney is to give new Tennis Coach A. E. Whitehead a basis for measuring the ability of potential members of next spring's Vandal racket team.

Lettermen signed for the tournament are Doane, No. 1 on the Idaho team last spring; Elmer Jordan, Dale Pollak, Dale Reynolds, Kent Barber, and Summer Delana. Two members of last year's freshman team, Gus Ranzinger and Don Carlson, have also entered.

Following is a complete list of the tournament entries and first round drawings: Doane, bye; Lawrence Douglas, bye; Dave Seaberg, bye; Jordan vs. Lynn Aldrich; Pollak, bye; Maury Lundy vs. Darrel Dolenger; Paul Thome, bye; Reynolds vs. Howard Copenhaver; Tomie Feinstein, bye; Bob Smith vs. Gene Lundy; Barber, bye; Byron Anderson, bye; Delana, bye; George Boyer vs. Ranzinger; Ed Budris, bye; and Bill Sproat vs. Carlson.

Ryan Schedules Track Meet For Freshmen

Vandal freshmen tracksters will get their first taste of collegiate competition Tuesday and Wednesday when they hold an all-freshman meet on MacLean field. The meet will start at 4:15 Tuesday with six events being run off. The other six events will be held Wednesday afternoon.

"All freshmen will be expected to compete in at least one event each day while the upperclassmen are expected to compete in the events which will be open to them," said Coach Mike Ryan. Entries for the meet will close Monday night.

Tuesday's events will be open to freshmen only. The 100-yard dash, 600-yard run, one and one-half mile run, 120-yard low hurdles, high jump, and 12-pound shotput will be run off on Tuesday. Wednesday the 300-yard run, 100-yard run, 70-yard high hurdles, running broad jump, three-mile run, and the javelin throw will be held. The three-mile run will be a handicap event for upperclassmen only while the javelin throw will be open to all track candidates.

Vandal cross country men will open November here against Whitman. Prior to this meet four intrasquad meets are planned. October 14 and 15 an all freshman meet will be held with twelve events scheduled. October 20 and 21 a freshman-sophomore meet will be held. Later on there will be two intra-squad cross country meets. Results from these meets will help determine the personnel of the varsity and freshmen teams for the Whitman meet.

"I would like to see 100 freshmen out this fall and 300 varsity men. In a school of this size that is not too many to expect," said Coach Mike Ryan. The Vandal mentor added that prospective candidates for varsity track squad must come out this fall if they are to gain consideration.

38 Vandals Shout Motto During Final Practice

Rhythmical shouts of "Beat Gonzaga" were used as shift signals by the varsity last night as it worked through the last preparatory drill before facing the Gonzaga university Bulldogs in Spokane tonight. The game begins at 8 p. m. in Gonzaga's stadium.

Thirty-eight Idaho gridders will make the trip to Spokane. This is the entire Vandal roster with the exception of Levon Chase, end, who is being kept from the traveling squad by a knee injury.

Seeking a winning combination, Francis A. Schmidt made a few changes in the Idaho lineup for today's game. The changes: Ray Davis, speedy left halfback, has been transferred to the right halfback spot to add speed to that position. Dale Burkhalter, another left halfback, has been shifted to the quarterback, or blocking back, to fill the gap left when George Nixon quit the squad. Tackle Hugh Harper was moved from the left to the right side of the line.

'Mural Slants'

Winners in last night's intramural touch football games were: Idaho club II, Sigma Tau Omega and Kappa Sigma. Chrisman hall II was the Idaho Club II victim, bowing 0-12. Delta Chi and Kappa Sigma each tallied 6 points but Kappa Sigma was declared winner because of greater yardage. Alpha Tau Omega chalked up their victory at the expense of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 13-0. Lambda Chi Alpha proved only a mild test for Sigma Nu and was snowed under, 30-0.

Three ties were a feature of Tuesday night's play. Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta Theta battled to a scoreless tie as did Alpha Tau Omega and Kappa Sigma. Idaho club I and Chrisman hall I each scored 13 points in their fracas. Delta Tau Delta, Chrisman hall I, and Alpha Tau Omega gained more yardage than their respective opponents, and were awarded wins. Delta Chi downed Tau Kappa Epsilon, 12-0, and Phi Gamma Delta licked Lambda Chi Alpha, 14-0, in other Tuesday night games.

Wednesday night, Sigma Nu eked out a 6-0 win over Delta Tau Delta. Kappa Sigma humbled Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 19-0, and Phi Delta Theta blanked Lambda Chi Alpha, 23-0. L.D.S. Institute was awarded a 6-0 forfeit win over Tau Kappa Epsilon who failed to appear.

The following postponed games will be played next week with the first games scheduled Tuesday night: Kappa Sigma vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Chi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi vs. Phi Gamma Delta, Campus club II vs. Willis Sweet hall II, Alpha Tau Omega vs. Beta Theta, Willis Sweet hall II vs. Chrisman hall II, and Idaho club II vs. Chrisman hall II.
