LONG SCOTTY

Next week, Idaho's "grand old man" will leave the campus after 19 years of being housemother at Gamma Phi Beta, Beta Theta Pi, and Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mrs. Lenore Scott, idolized by hundreds of students she has "mothered" through the university, is retiring.

Mrs. Scott installed the system of "housemother operation" in regard to purchasing for kitchens of sorority houses and operating of the commissary—a plan that has given the Greek houses a sounder financial footing and assured an experienced hand in the business operations of the house.

Affectionately called "Scotty" by her Kappa Kappa Gamma "children," Mrs. Scott has often been called the house's "best rusher." Her fame is known not only in Moscow but throughout the state. Several years ago, three freshmen women were given instructions from their parents "to pledge any house just so Mrs. Scott was the housemother."

PLAY PLAUDITS

Before the din of battle has died and the first ASUI play of the year, "She Stoops to Conquer," has been forgotten, Jason would like to get on the bandwagon and congratulate the cast and directors of the play for the marvelous job. After most student productions, it is the general policy of campus bullfight gangs to gather and criticize the "hams" but even the most cynical couldn't find a flaw to stand on in "She Stoops to Conquer."

POST MORTEM

Jason's suggestion to those who draw up the 1942 Vandal football schedule: Pick Washington State for Dad's day. Not since 1934 have we lost a Dad's day game. Next year, let's give Dad a break and chalk up the eighth consecutive game on "his day"—this one with a Cougar pelt.

BROKEN BOTTLE

Ozzie did it again! The spirit and enthusiasm shown by the Idaho rooting section Saturday against the Cougars has been lauded by newspapers throughout the Palouse empire. Another mark "boosting" Idaho has been made in the minds of 9,000 fans attending the game.

STUDENTS TO HOLD PUBLIC FORUM

Backing up student activity for the formation of a faculty forum, the International Relations club will sponsor a public forum on the topic "The Crisis in the Far East" tomorrow night. It will be held in the old ballroom of the Student Union building.

SMOKE RINGS

Of much interest to Idaho students, although they had no part in the heckling, is the activities carried on by a mob of Moscow high school students last night in front of one of the local theatres. Ending a huge bonfire rally with a march on the "man with the cigar," the high school students lifted the hood of a local theatre owner's car, disconnected all the wires. Aloofly puffing his cheroot, the "czar of Moscow" and "boss of the local gild system" rushed out his theatre only to have his cocked hat knocked off his head by the jeering high school students. Police and firemen threatened to break up the violence with the fire hose, so the theatricals subsided and the smoke rose again from the cigar.

Chemists To Meet

The Chemistry club will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m., in room 312 of the Science hall to discuss possible affiliation with the American Chemical society. All chemistry majors are eligible to attend.

Davis Chalks Up a Sweet Run Against the Cougars Saturday

Ray Davis, Vandal left halfback, really showed his heels to the Washington State Cougars on this play Saturday as he romped through the Staters for 12 yards from the Idaho 10 to the 22-yard line. Bill Remington, W. S. C. center, is caught in mid-air by blocker Earl Chandler.

Boles Announces Schedule For Women Debaters

Tournament flames will start shooting in rapid-fire elimination of women's intramural debates beginning November 24. Tournament Manager Marc Boles announced at a meeting of representatives from women's group residences last night. Debating the pros and cons of the United States entering the war will be four women from each house or hall, and two alternates who will act as time-keeper and chairman.

Blue Key Pledges Eight Men At Benefit Dance

Eight pledges last night were taken into Blue Key, upperclassmen's honorary, at a dance in the Student Union ballroom. Pledges announced at intermission were John Berg, Byron Bloor, Bob Kliever, Harry Lewis, Sam McKinney, Dick Still, Tom Sneddon, and Pete Hecomovich. "Activity point lists will not be released at this time," Ed Riley, president of the group, said last night. "We do not deem it advisable under the circumstances."

Students To Hold Public Forum

Backing up student activity for the formation of a faculty forum, the International Relations club will sponsor a public forum on the topic "The Crisis in the Far East" tomorrow night. It will be held in the old ballroom of the Student Union building. "Anyone is welcome to attend this forum," Dorothy Payne, president of the club said last night. "It is not for members of the International Relations club only. We desire to incorporate the club with a faculty forum if enough interest is shown by the students."

NYA Timeslips Due November 15

NYA timeslips will be due November 15 in the office of the dean of men, according to an official announcement from Dean H. J. Wunderlich, yesterday. Slips must be in by 5 p.m. on that day. Since the dean of men's office will be closed after 12 o'clock, students bringing slips during the afternoon, must put them under the door.

Curtain Will Hold New Contest For Playwrites

A new contest for campus writers was announced yesterday by Gayle Manion, president of the Curtain club. In order to promote play writing among students, the club is offering a first prize of $15 for the best play written by a student and turned in by the contest deadline, February 14, 1941. Any student enrolled in the university may submit an entry. No limit is set as to the number of entries per contestant. Plays must be original and of approximately one-act play length.

PRIZES

Judges chose Harold Matthews, and Drexel Brown as the best farm "Boy and Gal" at the Ag Bawl Saturday night in Student Union ballroom. "Lil Abner and Dasie Mae" prizes were won by Sam Kirksey and Betty Brown. Willis Garrad received the booby prize. Awarding of prizes for best dressed couple is a yearly event of the Bawl.

Dean Olson Talks To Sorority Pledges at Dinner

Dean of Women Beatrice Olson was featured speaker at the second annual sorority banquet in the Student Union ballroom last night. Miss Olson stressed in her talk that Idaho had a "friendly campus," and that pledges should tie up to school traditions as well as those of their houses.

Chenoweth To Talk At Farm Banquet

Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, professor of philosophy, will be the main speaker at a joint banquet of the Washington state farm bureau, the Washington Wheat Growers' league, and the Associated Rural Women of Washington in Walla Walla, Wash., November 25.

Mrs. Lenore Scott Retires From Housemother Post

Mrs. Lenore Scott, Kappa Kappa Gamma housemother since 1932, will leave Wednesday for her home in Boise where she again will enter private life. Mrs. Scott was also housemother at Gamma Phi Beta house from 1919 to 1921, while her two sons, Dr. Russel T. Scott, now of Lewiston, and Leland W. Scott, Boise, state W.P.A. finance director, were still in school. After four years' retirement, Mrs. Scott returned to be housemother at Beta Theta Pi fraternity until 1932 when she became the Kappa housemother. Now after 17 years of consecutive service as a housemother, Mrs. Scott is retiring. To visit in Lewiston. Before leaving for her home in Boise, Mrs. Scott plans to spend a few days with her son in Lewiston.

Gem Chiefs Set Thursday Deadline For Sale of 1942 Yearbooks

Only 300 Gems remain to be sold before a Thursday night deadline as the result of a decision made by Business Manager Ed Benoit and ASUI officials after a conference with Ralph York of Syms-York company of Boise, which prints and binds the annual. With defense priorities pushing the price of yearbook materials skyward, Syms-York must know the number of 1942 Gems to be sold so that supplies can be ordered immediately. A quota of 1500 copies was estimated in the 1942 ASUI budget, but a record-breaking sales campaign has already touched that mark and the quota has been reset at 1800.

ASUI Board Gives Sweaters To 26 Freshmen

Twenty-six freshmen were awarded numerals for play with the Vandal yearling squad by the ASUI executive board last night. The freshman football team Friday completed an undefeated-untied season by winning from the Gonzaga university freshmen 19 to 9. A special award will go to Lyle Sparber, hard-luck athlete of the freshman squad, who was injured preceding the game with the Montana freshmen at Kellogg. He was forced to sit on the sideline for that game. Before the WSC game he was operated upon for appendicitis and was unable to participate in either the WSC or Gonzaga games. He was recommended for the numeral by Coach J. A. "Babe" Brown, who said Sparber probably would have been on the starting lineup. Receive Awards.

Cadets To March In Parade This Morning

Cadets of the R.O.T.C. unit will march in the Moscow Armistice day parade, Lieut. Col. C. W. Jones, head of the university military department, said yesterday. Formation for the parade, which is voluntary for the cadets, will start at 10:15 a. m., in the armory. As today is a national holiday, R.O.T.C. officers don't have to fall in for the parade unless they wish. The military unit will march in company formation to the train depot where it will join other parade participants to march through the city. Minute's Silence. The parade will march through the Moscow business district and at 11 a. m., the entire parade and Moscow residents will pause to observe the customary minute's silence, at Third and Main. Marching with the R.O.T.C. unit will be the drill teams of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and their auxiliary, the American Legion, and CCC. Other members of these groups will ride in the parade in automobiles.

Thomas Awaiting Steel Arrival

Steel, scheduled to arrive here last Friday for the Dairy building construction, hasn't come yet, D. C. Thomas, superintendent, said last night. No word has been received here, Mr. Thomas stated, to account for the delay. The steel was to have been shipped from Boise by truck. Enough reinforcing steel for the first floor and the pillars to the top of the engineering laboratory building is expected to arrive here the latter part of this week from Portland, according to J. D. Berry, contractor on that job. Excavation for the dairy building foundations has been completed, and the pouring of concrete for the footings will begin today, Mr. Thomas stated.

Phi Mu Initiates Six Musicians

Six Idaho musicians were initiated into Phi Mu Alpha, men's national music fraternity, Sunday evening at Pullman in a joint ceremony with the Washington State college chapter of the sinfonia. Following the initiation, Prof. A. A. Beecher, head of the music department and supreme historian of the national Phi Mu, spoke on sinfonia activities throughout the world, at a 6:30 o'clock banquet at the Washington hotel. Principal speaker for the dinner was Dean Herbert Kimbrough, dean of the school of fine arts at WSC, and past supreme president. Prof. Robert Walls, assistant professor of music and faculty advisor of the Beta Sigma chapter, directed the group singing. Idaho initiates were Douglas Campbell, Terry Crabb, LaMar Jensen, Lewis McKay, Gerald Todd, and Charles Strom.

Lemon To Address Faculty Group

Dr. A. C. Lemon, professor of psychology, will speak to faculty members of the college of engineering at a dinner in Hotel Moscow, Thursday night. Dr. Lemon's topic will be "Deficiencies in Human Relations and Personal Attributes of Engineering Students Reported by Employers and Considerations of a Program to Meet the Situation." The engineering faculty will hold three such dinners this winter.

Final Rally Is Set For Friday Night

The final football rally of the season will be held Friday night, Yell King Ozzie Walsh stated yesterday. "The Rally committee has not decided upon the theme yet," said Ozzie, "but we'll announce it as soon as we do." Ozzie explained that as a special feature for the Montana game to be played here next Saturday, the Montana yell team had been invited as special guests of Idaho's yell team. Because the yell team and the Pep band will be in Boise the week-end of the Montana State game, there will be no rally held in Moscow. However, the rally committee will write to the Boise high school and the Boise alumni to ask for their assistance in organizing a rally in Boise before the game. The letter will also ask for help with the proposed broadcast.

University Plans For Sidewalk

Negotiations to start construction of a concrete sidewalk from the corner of the Idaho club and university heating plant north to the Pullman road will begin soon, according to President Harrison C. Dale. Construction on the proposed sidewalk, however, will not start for some time as much of the ground has to be filled in along the road, he explained. Several university faculty members who live in the northern section of Moscow have signed a petition stating their willingness to be taxed to construct the sidewalk, he indicated. Several students also live in that section of town and muddy and slushy conditions in the spring and winter make walking miserable, he pointed out.

Campus Caricature

By Fritz Meagher

Tis Not True

There is absolutely no truth to the current rumor that there is a move underfoot to confer on Cougar Back Bob Kennedy the honorary title of 'Most Unpopular Man Not on the Campus.'

Eeeekkk—

With housecoats a'flying and unpinned hair simply a fright, Gwen Hoopes and Maurine Crusier rushed frantically from their Hays hall room yesterday morning. After cornering the janitor, with blushes and stammerings, they confessed their plight: they had mice in their pantry.

Communique Comment

High-strung Doctor Geebels, paused in his bubble-blowing last week and warned his countrymen that the Reich must triumph in the present conflict or face annihilation under peace terms that would make the Versailles treaty look like an act of Gallic generosity. Neutral travellers back from Germany report a growing fear among the German people of the vengeance that is being planned for them by the races now under the iron heel of their armies.

Rev. Walter Gives Dedication Talk

The Rev. O. L. Walter gave the dedication address and presided at the laying of the cornerstone for the new Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

To The Editor

To the Managing Editor: In a recent edition of the Argonaut you wrote an editorial which made gentle fun of the hair-does—"cyclical coiffures" I believe you called them—of my female friends and constituents. I would like to answer a few of the questions which evidently puzzle you in regard to the various arrangements of our maiden locks.

Armistice Day, 1941

The observance of Armistice day, 1941, must for many seem a bit puzzling and out of place today. How and why should a nation at war observe this twenty-third anniversary of the ending of another war?

Certainly the day can no longer be looked upon as a peace day anniversary, even though the very word, armistice, connotes cessation of hostilities. The realities of World War II have abrogated that part of the ceremony.

Nor should we—though many will—use the day as an occasion for passionate, fighting speeches filled with hatred and revenge. To point to those who died in World War I as glorious warriors whose deaths must be wiped out with more blood is to defeat the day's very purpose.

Armistice day 1941, in a world at war, should be a day when all pay sincere, silent tribute to those of the war of 1914-18, who died, or living returned shattered in body or mind; to those who fought in a war not theirs, for an ideal that they believed worthy.

But more than that, the day should stand to all as a symbol of the goal that a war-tired people set in 1918—a goal of peace, world-wide peace; of economic and social agreements on an international scale. A goal that was never attained; that, today, is completely smothered in the rush of war preparation.

It is these things we should recall today. Men did not die in the mud of France for the glory of war, but for the hope of peace. They did not go "over there" to a Hell on earth merely to set the stage for another war.

What happened to those dreams and hopes of 1918 after the war had ended in an armistice on November 11? Where and how have we failed in carrying out what those soldiers started on the battlefield? In that minute of silence this morning, it would be well that we ask ourselves of these things. Must the answer lie in another armistice?

Dewey Will Head Engineering Class at Boise

Off-campus engineering instruction will be offered at Boise by the university beginning probably next week under the government's engineering, science and management defense training program.

The board of regents approved the university's participation in the venture, and appointed Harry Dewey, an instructor in civil engineering on the campus last year, as resident supervisor in Boise. Mr. Dewey will handle the course in addition to his regular duties with the U. S. bureau of reclamation.

Richmond Marries

Word was received by university friends yesterday of the marriage of Jack Richmond, a student of several years ago, to Betty Stiburk, Nampa, last Sunday.

Army Defers Men In Agriculture

"All industries have received careful consideration by the local boards throughout the state, and we have endeavored to achieve a balanced approach to 'all-out' efforts," Lieut. Col. Norman B. Adkison, state executive officer, said yesterday in announcing that 2,038 registrants had been given occupational deferments in the selective service act.

The list of occupational deferments is as follows: agricultural, aviation, business, officers and clerks, doctors, druggists, defense industries, electrical industries, meat and produce processing, railroads, salesmen-clerks, skilled labor, students, telephone and telegraph workmen.
