Oregon State Edges Vandals 47-45 In Thrilling Overtime Contest

Benson Scores a Looper

Just as the gun went off to end the regular time of last night's Oregon State-Vandal basketball game, Cliff Benson, Idaho guard, arched a shot that swished through the net knotting the count at 44-44. The Beavers went on to win in the overtime 47-45. Waiting for the rebound are Ted Thompson, John Mandic, Ray Hunter, Sam Dement, and Lew Beck.

Thompson Bags 17 Tallies For Scoring Honors

Oregon State, coming from behind in the last minutes of a red hot basketball game, tied the Vandals and went on to win 47-45 in the overtime period before a crowd of 3000 Vandal fans in Memorial gymnasium last night.

With 10 minutes to go in the last half, Idaho led 40 to 33 and were tied with two minutes to go when Don Durdan sank a two hander from just beyond the foul circle. Big John Mandic pushed the Beaver into the lead when he sank two free throws and Thompson pushed in a one-handed field goal to tie the score again. Mandic scored once more and Cliff Benson again pulled the Vandals up even with a long one hander, as the clock showed but ten seconds to go. Score, 44-44. George McNutt set the Beavers out ahead in the overtime period with a long pusher, and Lew Beck dropped a free throw to give the Beavers their final total. George Steele

Bookstore Pares Text Prices To Aid Defense

The Student Union bookstore yesterday added its support to the national defense effort adding defense savings stamps to its stock, Benny Lutz, acting manager, announced. To further encourage students to participate in the defense program, prices of new books have been cut 12½ per cent below the price listed in the Student Union bookstore catalog.

Students buying the books at the reduced price will be encouraged to invest their savings from the lowered prices in defense stamps, Lutz said. The Student Union Bookstore Advisory board heartily approves the selling of stamps and the decreased price of textbooks, according to Harry Lewies, chairman of the board.

Lewies explained that by the policy of lowering textbook prices and investing the savings in defense stamps that students can not only avail themselves of immediate savings but can invest the money in bonds that will increase their value by 33½ per cent in 10 years.

Stamps will be sold in 10 cent, 25 cent, and 50 cent denominations, Lutz said. The stamps may be converted into interest bearing bonds when the stamp books are filled.

Structural Steel Load Arrives For Dairy Building

A carload of steel bar joists arrived last weekend and comprises nearly enough structural steel required in the new dairy building being erected west of Morrill hall, according to President Harrison C. Dale.

The shipment of steel assures completion of the new building this spring, Dale said. The building is expected to be completed in time for occupation the first semester of next fall.

Work on the building will resume as soon as favorable weather conditions are obtained. Contractors for the $95,000 building are Kloepfer and Cahoon, Boise.

First Day Registration Shows Decrease Of 236 Students Over 1941 Figures

Figures for the first day of registration for the second semester, released from the bursar's office last night, showed a drop of 236 over first day registration for second semester last year.

A total of 1086 passed through the long lines yesterday compared to a registration of 1322 last year. Registration officials, however, indicated that the drop was no more than had been expected.

Civilian defense head, Dr. Allan C. Lemon, reported that 1060 of the total who registered, signed up for some type of defense work. He did not know last night how many had enrolled in defense courses.

Second day registration will open this morning at 8 o'clock, and run to 11:45 a.m. The afternoon hours will be from 1:15 to 4:30 o'clock. Those registering after today will be charged a late filing fee of $1 a day, up to a maximum of $10, according to university regulations.

Procedure Outlined.

Students, who were here the first semester, and have clear accounts, and those, who have applied by mail, can register in the following rooms:

College of letters and science, B.A. and B.S., freshmen and sophomores, second floor library; B.A. and B.S. juniors, Ad. 317;

ROTC Unit to Pick Some New Men

That four or five men will be chosen for the advanced R.O.T.C. course was announced yesterday afternoon by Lieut. Col. C. W. Jones who said that applications should be turned in to Lieut. Col. E. U. O. Waters as soon as possible.

"The vacancies in the corps were created when several of the men who had been taking the course left school," said Colonel Jones.

Lieut. Col. Waters will be in his office all day today to receive applications.

Registration Cards Reveal Strange Answers

Workers in the registrar's office, and those who suffer as employees in the registration line are both agreed that a course should be given in the proper technique of registering. Embittered remarks from these people yesterday show that it is still possible for students to get bawled up when the registration process has been reduced to its simplest form.

When the question "school or college" is asked, numerous people have entered "college" as their answer, which is somewhat a fore-drawn conclusion, since a semester's work has made it quite clear that this is an institution of higher learning.

Several answers to the same query have also been "B.A. English". One answer to "school or college" was "Idaho."

A small blank in the corner of each registration card is reserved for the department, college or school in which the student is enrolled. But quite often the name of the particular course is inserted. Thus, a class in Shakespearean writings may end up classified as Social Studies.

Dates are invariably omitted. Workers in the registrar's office are forced to fill all the dates in on cards, since they are necessary for filing.

Registering for defense courses yesterday brought out several "no" answers to the question of what language students could read or write. It is impossible to go to a university without a little elementary English.

The religious census provided quite a varying degree of churchgoers yesterday. There were three Sunworshippers and a few Druids listed with the Christian element, showing that there is still room for missionaries.

Golden Fleece By Jason

MAN ON THE HIGHWAY.

Fight fire with fire!
That was the order given to Student Union Bookstore officials by the powers-that-be after the Idaho Bookstore, a privately owned business operated by Gerald Hodgins, Moscow business man, had cut the price of new textbooks 10 per cent in the booklist issued by his firm last Saturday.

The Student Union Bookstore cut 12½ per cent off the prices of new textbooks and officials announced that they would encourage students to purchase defense savings stamps with the savings from the lowered text prices.

All of which leads Jason to believe that the whole silly business of a price war is cutting one's nose off to spite his face; possibly a last ditch measure by a frustrated proprietor.

An interesting little morsel in the middle two pages of the Idaho Bookstore catalog fascinated Jason. The author of the pamphlet states that the Student Union Bookstore was founded by the university in 1937 with the expressed purpose of providing textbooks to students at a cheaper price. And that now the Idaho Bookstore was cutting the price of textbooks that it shouldn't be censured for accomplishing that purpose.

For the benefit of those students who have not been around the university since 1937, Jason would like to remind them that before the board of regents established the Student Union Bookstore that the only bookstore was Hodgins' firm. Maybe it wasn't the "good Samaritan" then.

If Mr. Hodgins is interested in the welfare and the pocketbook of the student Jason would like to make one suggestion: combine the two competing bookstores into one student-owned, student-operated firm.

Advantages for such a set up are many. Students owning the store could dictate the price policy that would be determined. Either the books and supplies could be sold on a cost plus expense basis or the students could decide that the profits from the store would be a certain per cent of the sales and that the profit would go toward purchasing a new wing for the Student Union building or would go to the athletic fund.

Overhead would be pared in half by operating one store rather than two competing firms. The personnel of either store could easily handle the total volume of business done by both stores, except during the rush season at the beginning of each semester.

Rent, light, and heat expenses would be reduced considerably by operating only one store. Unnecessary duplication would be avoided, that would be minimized would be the waste caused by overstocking in anticipation of greater demand or the trouble caused by understocking in view of a smaller demand for books.

Last summer Mr. Hodgins graciously consented to letting the board of regents consider the possibility of buying out his business. He wrote Jason a letter on June 26 stating his terms for a sale and stipulated that the offer expired July 3—one week to consider. All of which was more baffling and half hearted when the board of regents didn't meet until two weeks after Hodgins' deadline.

Dinner at One

"Please come on time. We can't help it if the food is cold if you don't arrive until 1:10 o'clock on Sunday afternoon."

This is the plea that social chairmen of houses and halls often wish they could make when inviting faculty guests to dinner, but one which Emily's book of manners never permits

Sunday after Sunday the same story is repeated. One or more faculty couples fail to put starving and plates have been standing to cool in the kitchen for 10 long minutes. Student meals, like classes, are scheduled for specific hours.

The professor who criticizes those who come late to his 8 o'clock or saunter into his 1 o'clock after the lecture has started apparently never stops to think that he should return the promptness which he expects from his students. Hashers and cooks automatically dish up student meals so that they can be put on the table at 1 o'clock, and housemothers are embarrassed when an excellent meal is spoiled because it is cold.—E. B.

A Chance?

Today we live in a period of national emergency as each day seems to draw us deeper in the European conflict. The national defense boom with plenty of jobs and high wages has attracted many pros—has taken many more.

What does this mean to colleges and to the college students? Does it spell disaster for the colleges and show the young people who have chosen to go to college are missing out on good wages and plentiful jobs only to graduate into a business world that will be hit by a big depression?

Quite to the contrary, this feeling of uncertainty and doubt points to a good year for the colleges and a bright future for the present college student. We will have a student body made up of determined youth going to college because they want something, not because they have nothing to do—young people who have turned down lucrative defense jobs, many of whom will go straight from school to the army.

The former fellow students who have been sidetracked by the lure of high wages and who are planning to save money now and then return to school when the bottom drops out, are liable to find themselves far behind those that are staying with their former plans. True it is that wages have generally increased, but not without cause. It is probably just as hard to save money now, if not harder, than it was two years ago. Past economic history has shown us that the unequal rise in living costs more than offsets the greater wages in periods of unbridled spending.

Authorities also point out that those engaged in occasional industries, are hit first, hardest, and longest when the bottom drops out. When business bumps the bottom, employers cannot afford to be particular, but will have to take the better trained men for the better positions—the college men of today.—(Montana Kaimin)

Benefit Program To Depict Music of 1776

Music memories from the "spirit of '76" to the present will be dealt with in the faculty sponsored Red Cross musical at the Moscow high school auditorium Friday evening. Tickets for the affair are on sale at downtown banks, the Music hall and both campus bookstores, according to Prof. Alvah A. Beecher, head of the music department. Vandaleers will start the program with their musical treatment of 1776.

A string quartet, under the direction of Prof. Carl Claus will recreate the songs of Stephen Foster on the program. The music will be of the period of 1840. The gay 90's period in American musical history will be typified by the Floradora Girls chorus, composed of faculty wives. In the group will be Miss Myrtle Leonard, Mrs. H. J. Wunderlich, Miss Helen Bullock, Miss Meitha Heitman, Mrs. Barnett Savery, and Miss Eunice Northup.

War tune typified "Alexanders Ragtime Band," which introduced another period in American music will be typified by an orchestra under the direction of Morey O'Donnell.

Another American custom will be reviewed with the presentation of a barbership quartet made up of Professor Beecher, Professor Lee Gibson, and Professor Robert Walls.

"Player Piano Days" will feature Prof. and Mrs. Hall Macklin, Mary Banks and Evan Evans.

Professor Lee Gibson will direct the "Home Town Band" another phase in American music. Their feature number will be a burlesque treatment of the William Tell Overture.

World War Lives Again

Memories of the first world war will live again in songs by Professor Walls, and Professor Lawrenson will present piano numbers reminiscent of the period following the last world war.

Two student soloists, Mrs. Milton Eberhard, and John Hans will sing light operatic numbers as an added angle to the period following the last war. They will be accompanied by the Vandaleers.

Depression days will live again with the song, "I Can't Give you Anything but Love, Baby," as sung by Miss Leonard.

The present period will be typi-

Students Donate Services Tonight

All services going toward the success of the Red Cross benefit dance scheduled for tonight in the SUB ballroom following the basketball game are being donated, according to an announcement yesterday. Women will receive 11:30 o'clock permission.

Students working in the check room have given over their time, as have those constructing the advertising posters. Music is being donated by Red Jensen and his orchestra.

The dance was one plan advanced by the university Red Cross committee, under the leadership of Dean Beatrice Olson.

Admission for the affair will be 37 cents per couple. This amount includes the tax.

LDS Group Picks New Queen

Merrie Lou Kloepfer was elected queen of Lambda Delta Sigma at the regular meeting Sunday evening. The queen and princesses for the Green and Gold ball, MIA dance, were also elected. Their names will be revealed at the ball which will be held sometime this month.

Preceding the business meeting, joint initiation of the two men's chapters and the women's chapter were held. Those initiated were William Kerr, Frank Jacobs, Ross Moser, Merrill Stucki, Ralph Findlay, Rolland Hammer, John Grimmett, Wallace Dalley.

Five Couples Take Marriage Vows

Dan cupid and marriage license clerks worked over time between semesters as five campus couples repeated nuptial vows.

ASUI President Milton Eberhard and Evelyn Failor, were married Sunday at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Alvah A. Beecher. They will remain in Moscow to finish school.

Two seniors, Mary Frances Carter, daughter of Mrs. I. N. Carter, Ridenbaugh hall house-mother, and Burton Clark were married at St. Mark's Episcopal church Saturday afternoon. They will live in Moscow and finish their schooling.

Pat Heath and Hugh Harper, both sophomores, were married in Coeur d'Alene Saturday. They left yesterday for Madison, Wis., where they will make their home.

Gertrude Galbraith and Wayne Sutton were married at the Baptist church Saturday afternoon. They will also remain in Moscow to finish school.

Edna Poole and Melvin Rigdon were married at Ridenbaugh hall Friday night. The couple will continue their work at the university.

Students To Plan For Initiation

Officers and committee heads of Phi Zeta Christo, church group, will meet Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock to make plans for the initiation of pledges and set up their budget for the second semester. Shelby Williams, president, is in charge of the meeting.

Prominent Campus Couple Are Married Here Sunday

At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon Miss Evelyn Failor and Milton Eberhard were married at the home of Prof. and Mrs. A. A. Beecher, George Tanner of the Church of the Latter Day Saints reading the service.

Miss Helen Bullock, pianist, and Miss Eunice Northup, soprano, gave a 15 minute program of music before the bride, to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, came down the stairway, which was twined with greenery and daffodils. For the mantle and room decoration, massed arrangements of smilax and white chrysanthemums and many white candles were used. The ushers lighted the candles just before the ceremony.

Gowned in white net and lace with short veil arranged to frame her face, the bride was met by Mr. Beecher, who gave her in marriage. She carried a formal arrangement of white pom-poms, freesia and gardenias. Her maid of honor, Marcia Kimball, wore light blue taffeta and carried Kokomo carnations and freesia.

The bridesmaids were Miss Rachel Swayne, in pink, carrying pink carnations and freesia, and Miss Jean Mann in yellow, with bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and acacia. Terry Beecher, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beecher, in quaint long white organdy dress, was flower girl.

Attending Mr. Eberhard, who wore the uniform of the U. S. army, was Wayne Hudson, also in uniform. Ushers were Kenneth Andrews and Ed Harper.

Some 60 students, faculty and townspeople were present for the marriage and reception afterwards. The bride cut the first pie from the four tiered cake, Beecher finishing the serving. Louise Platt poured. The for the big center arrangement on the table were all white.

Miss Failor, a voice student at the university for the past year and a half, has given generously of her talent in entertaining Moscow groups since coming here. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Failor of Lima, Ohio, and has been studying with Mr. Beecher. Mr. Eberhard, this year's student body president at the university, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eberhard of Melba. Both young people will complete this semester's college work and will be at home at 908 West Sixth street.

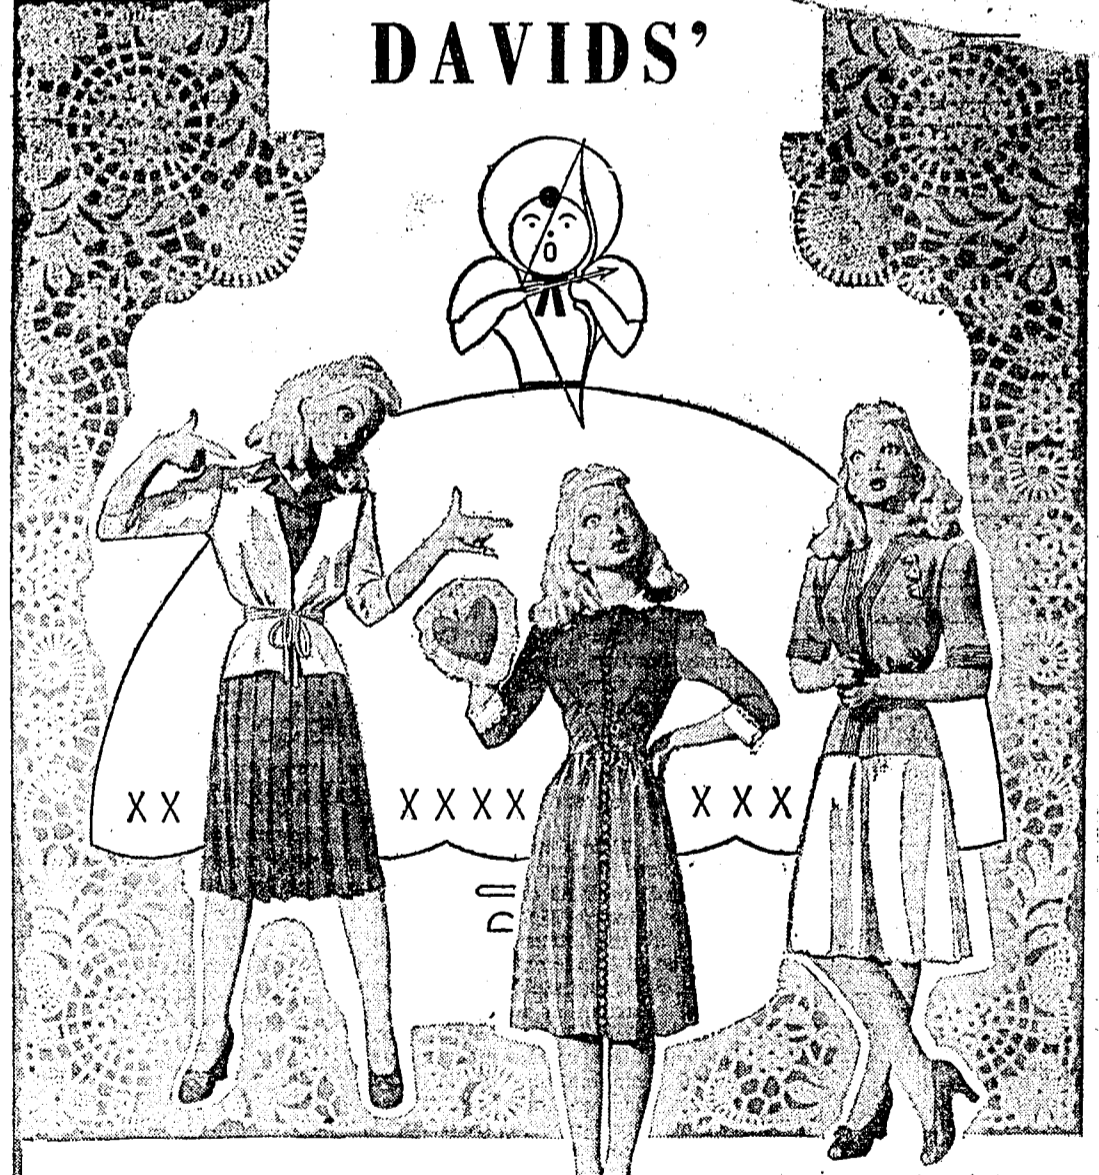

13 Women Sign For Rushing

Second semester rushing started last night with a general tea held in seven of the eight women's houses. Thirteen new and old students have signed up for rushing.

New rushees will be entertained at the following houses: Kappa Kappa Gamma, dinner, Tuesday; Gamma Phi Beta, fireside, Tuesday; Kappa Alpha Theta, dinner, Wednesday; Alpha Phi, dinner, Thursday; Alpha Chi Omega, fireside, Thursday; Pi Beta Phi, dinner, Friday; and Delta Delta Delta, fireside, Friday.

Houses must have their invitations in to the Dean of Women not later than 9:30 a. m. today. Rushees will call for their bids between 10 a. m. and 11:30 a. m.

Yearlings Squeeze Out Two-Point Victory

Unbeaten Freshmen Top Lewiston 44 to 42

Staving off a last minute rally by Lewiston Normal, Idaho's freshman basketball squad squeezed out a 44 to 42 verdict over the Loggers last night in Memorial gymnasium. It was the fifth consecutive win for the Babes under the tutelage of Babe Brown.

There will be no preliminary game tonight as the Idaho yearlings will remain idle until February 9 when they play a return game with Lewiston at Lewiston. The final game with Washington State's freshmen will be February 14 here. The Babes eked out a two point win over W.S.C. in their last meeting at Pullman.

Inaccuracy at the foul line almost cost the Vandal Babes the game last night as they converted only six out of 14 free throws while the Loggers were making good on 12 out of 16. The Babes had 19 field goals to 14 for the Lewiston five.

With Bob Ryan and Jim Swarbrick clicking the yearlings took an early lead and had a three-point edge at halftime by a 19-16 score. The Loggers came back in the second half with a sensational rally, but it fell short as the Idaho club stalled out the remaining seconds. Ryan and Presnell went out on fouls.

Ryan led the game scorers with 16 counters on seven field goals and two gift tosses.

All Set

Prepared for a long shot at the basketball is George McNutt, near letterman forward for Oregon State Beavers. A long shot artist, McNutt will be in the Vandals' hair plenty tonight in the return game.

Cyclist Performs At OSC Game

Washington State college's unicycle specialist made an appearance at half time in last night's basketball game, at which Idaho's new yell squad also made their initial start.

The one wheeled contraption is maneuvered by balance, and the feats performed upon it are of a various nature.

Half time entertainment for tonight's game had not been announced late last night.

connected with a free throw for Idaho's only score during the five minutes overtime period.

The last minutes of both the game and the overtime period were rough as the Vandals tried to take the ball from the Oregon State team, and the Beavers proving successful in their game of keep away.

Vandals and Beavers were tied nine times during the game, first half ties were at 2, 8, 5, 10, 12, and 24—all was the score at half time.

Idaho's Ted Thompson was the game's leading scorer dropping eight field goals and a free throw line. Ray Turner, Idaho's top scorer, was second for the Vandals with 13 points, 12 from the floor and one free throw.

Vandal hoopsters tried 49 shots from the floor, sinking 18 of them, while the Beavers hit 19 out of 54. From the free throw line, Vandals made nine out of 14, and the Beavers sank nine out of 11.

Mandic was the only player eliminated for too many personals, his fourth personal coming in the overtime period.

Ankle Keeps Valenti Out

Paul Valenti, regular guard and one of the best set shots in the Pacific Coast conference, will not be able to play against the University of Idaho in this week's Oregon State series. So declared Bud Forrester, OSC freshman coach and director of athletic publicity, after the six-foot, two-inch Larkspur, Cal., senior suffered an ankle injury in the first Washington State game at Pullman Friday night.

Three baskets by the hobbling Valenti helped Oregon State gain a 36-34 victory. With the Californian bomber out of the lineup Saturday, Oregon State lost 48-53.

An opponent came down on the side of Valenti's foot, catching it at a twisted angle. He was on crutches Saturday but was permitted to discard the sticks Sunday.

Coach Slat Gill probably will keep Sam Dement, 6-4, usually a forward, back at one guard post. Senior George McNutt, 6-1, will open at the other guard; John Mandic, 6-4, at center, and Lew Beck, 5-11, and stubby Don "Rose Bowl" Durdan at forwards.

Guy Wicks, Idaho ringmaster, indicated he would stick by his usual combination of George Steele and Ted Thompson at forwards, Ray Turner at center and Cliff Benson and Von Hopkins. All are lettermen, save Beck and Benson.

Hughes Will Show Film Thursday

W. P. Hughes, Lewiston city engineer, will show a special sound film Thursday afternoon to all students interested in water supply, sewage disposal, and sanitation. The film will be shown at 4 p. m. in the engineering building.

Beaver Reserve

Merle Kruger, reserve guard of the invading Oregon State Orangemen, is one of the many capable second stringers on whom Coach Slat Gill can rely.

Skiers Have Meet At Wallace Next Weekend

Entry blanks for the Pacific northwest Ski association Zone 5 races to be held at Lookout pass next week-end were received by the ski team this week, Bob Bonomi, ski manager, reported last night. The meet will consist of slalom and downhill races, and is sponsored by the Idaho Ski club, Wallace.

Originally scheduled to be a two day meet, the report received from Duff Ebbley, Idaho Ski club sports chairman, indicates the meet has been shortened to one day with both races to be held on Sunday. Class A, B, and C races will be run, the high men in each class winning a chance to compete in the P.N.S.A. championships for that class.

Class A championships had been scheduled for Mt. Spokane February 14 and 15, but unfavorable weather conditions remain as they have been the past few days, that the meet may be held.

An invitation for the Idaho skiers planning to stay at Mt. Spokane over a weekend should notify the Spokane ski club the Wednesday preceding.

Included in the invitations received by the ski team this week-end was a request from the Montana State university skiers for such a meet, Bonomi said.

Fencers Will Go To Seattle

Idaho fencers will seek their first victory when they go to Seattle to cross foils with the University of Washington Huskies this Saturday. The squad list is undetermined and will be decided by tournament Wednesday.

Vandal fencing squad will be bolstered by the return of Dick Shaver, last year's team member, George Redford, team captain, said last night. Shaver did not attend school last semester.

Oregon State foilmen defeated Idaho squad 5-2 in the minor sports carnival held here last Friday. Lewis Nomini and Redford were the winning vandals.

GIRDLED

Two members of the Idaho boxing team are finding women's undergarments very useful in sweating extra pounds.

Every night Chace Anderson, 175 pound 1941 Sugar Bowl champion who won a decision from W.S.C.'s Pacific Coast champion, Fred Spiegelberg, and Gordon Ross, scrappy 127 pounder, don their fugitives from a ladies' apparel shop. Ross swears by his tight fitting rubber girdle and Anderson endorses a model with laces in the sides, the material resembling heavy canvas.

Sigman, LDS honorary, held a party following the OSC-Idaho basketball game last night in the LDS

Many people predict that he can chew. It does look like he is taking a sneaky bite out of a borrowed plug. In this respect we can only compare him to "that beach combing bird called the pelican. It can hold more in its bill than its belly can. It can hold in its beak enough to last it a week, but I don't see how the hell he can."

Idaho Boxers to Tangle With Gonzaga Friday

Idaho will be forced to forfeit bouts in the 120 and 135 pound divisions when they tangle with Gonzaga mittmen Friday night, according to Boxing Coach Bob Knox yesterday. He also broached the possibility that there may not be a heavyweight available.

"Ordinarily," Knox declared, "because small men are unable to be here for the Friday sports as football and basketball, a large number of lighter men compete in boxing."

He revealed that there are no 135 pounders and but one 120 and 127 pounders.

The lack of 120 pounds is forced because Wetlins Kershaw will be unable to be here for the Friday bout, and Gordon Ross will fight in the 127-pound division.

The heavyweight bout is undecided because there is a possibility that Veto Berllus, a last year's letterman may be called to the army.

Williams Featured

Feature of Friday's match will probably be between Idaho's Bill Williams and Tony Felice of Gonzaga in the 145 pound division. Boxing circles rumor that this may be the forerunner of the results of the Pacific Coast championship.

Other starting fighters for Idaho Friday will be Warren Briggs, 175; Chace Anderson, 165; Darrell Lott, Nelse Petermann, 155; Bill Williams, 145 and Gordon Ross, 127.

Idaho's next meet will be with Washington's Huskies at Seattle next Saturday afternoon.

Hank Juran, Vandal captain and defending northern division 165 pound titleholder won his first match of the season by throwing Mostul of Oregon State in 17

Beaver Veteran

Two-year letterman Don Hall alternates at forward and guard for the visiting Oregon State Beavers. Hall will see plenty of action tonight against the Vandals in the final game of the two-game series.

SCHEDULED ON NIGHTS WITH LEAST ACTIVITIES

To The Editor

J.F.'s letter which you printed in the Friday edition of the Argonaut was undoubtedly written with the intent of irking the female population on this campus. JF has succeeded very well; we're burned to a crisp! And we intend to defend our sex from the malicious accusations set forth by the unknown JF.

In the first place, we are wondering if JF belongs to that group of college Joes who can't get a date. Would that perhaps be one of the causes of his intense dislike for the campus cuties?

JF seems to doubt the fact that we women are endowed with gray matter, too. Here we would (as kindly as we know how) point out a few significant facts and figures to the elite slanderer. Has JF ever checked the Phi Beta Kappa list and seen just how many of the names are feminine? Has he ever stopped to consider that women are required to make a 2.5 to the 2.0 requested of the men before they can be initiated into a house? Has our criticizer ever been made aware of the fact that such an organization as the Mortar Board exists on this campus? Does JF know that the highest grades in the school of law went to a woman last year? A worthwhile pastime, JF to look into some of these things.

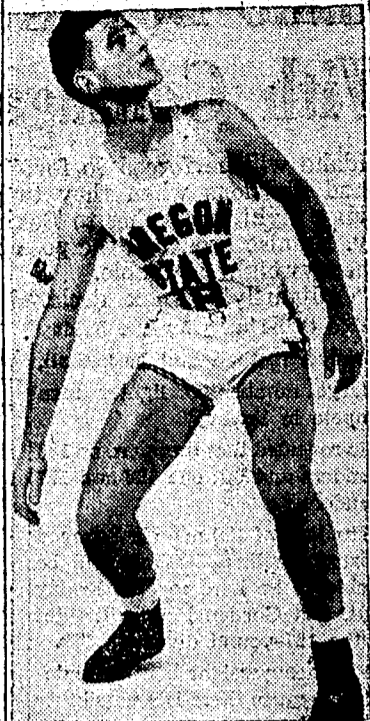

What burns us most is the accusation that the war effects us only to the extent of a silk stocking or lipstick shortage. You couldn't know about this, JF, because you've never seen the look on a girl's face when she receives a letter from her one-and-only, telling her that he's off to beat the Japs. You've seen that girl only when she's gone out to say goodbye to him who she's behind in every way. Did you ever hear of the word morale? Well, don't think for a moment that its the men who keep up the morale of the country. Or maybe you'd like to have us going around with red eyes and pale faces all of the time.

And you object, to our smoking. Well, we don't pretend to be perfect. Maybe you do a lot of things that we object to. You also accuse us of displaying our physical charms. And why not? There is no reason to be ashamed of beauty and American are reputed to be the most beautiful and charming in the world. You sound very unmasculine to us!

Your last paragraph irks us the most. Frankly we say phooey to you and all like you. If you don't like us, we suggest you enroll immediately in a boy's college or jump into Paradise creek. Of course hating us as you must you'll never get married; therefore why should you worry about the type of civilization we are propogating?...

And a final word of advice—either keep your identity a secret forever or "get out of town before it's too late!" The Women

2-Year Letterman

Sam Dement, veteran Oregon State forward, bucketed 10 points last night against the Vandals to trail big John Mandic, Beaver sharpshooter, for the invaders' scoring honors.

Rationing Limits Sugar Supply

Campus sweet-tooths will have to undergo a severe change in the days to come because of the sugar rationing plan, which has been adopted and is to go into effect

The situation really isn't so serious, however, since few houses on the campus consume more than the 100 pounds quota of the sweet stuff during a month. Sugar-loving individuals will, of course, be expected to curb their sugar diets slightly. This personal sacrifice means powder for soldiers and sailors, authorities point out.

Alumna Marries Here Saturday

Barbara Peterson, '39, was married in Moscow Saturday to Robert E. Carey of Anaconda, Mont. They will live in Spokane.

The bride was a member of Delta Delta Gamma and Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary. She has been employed at Spokane as home service advisor for the Washington Water Power company.

He loved the girl so much that he worshiped the ground she walked on. Her father had just struck oil.

Translator "Savvies" College Slang of Other Schools

Do you feel blue today? Is your roommate smirking behind a chocolate bar and saying, "I told you to study for that psych quizz!"? Well, don't despair, they're doing it in the best of colleges. At Annapolis they call it "bilging"; Duke crammers tag it as "catching a blippy"; Ohio state refers to it as an "encore"; Iowa state boosters call it "getting the cob"; and Wesleyan university says simply that it's "getting stabbed,.." What it really means in every college from Maine to California is slunking.

About this time of year there is usually a lot of griping about the fellow down the hall who crashes through with a four point just because he is a brain. Those, too, are found in every college. Duke students just chalk it up to the fact that are "exam artists", at Washington they are "damned average raisers." No matter what they are called, we'd all like to ease the Phi Betes off into the brush and hit them over the head when grades come out.

Right now you probably aren't on friendly terms with any of the profs. At Ohio state the instructors are known as "heat gods" and if you "quill" at Ohio State you are rubbing the chamois on the good old apple.

Translation: If you take a girl or take a pad (Bennington) instead of going to your board flights (West Point) you'll never be a tam hot shot (Marin J. C.) and you'll probably have to Ferdinand (U. of West-Virginia) in your lulus, (Duke).

If you drag a dollie (Chicago U.) to a dance or take a instead of taking your examinations, you'll never be a smartie, and you'll probably have to bull in your stiff courses.

Carter-Clark Rites Read At St. Mark's

St. Mark's Episcopal church was the setting late Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Miss Mary Frances Carter, daughter of Mrs. I. N. Carter, and Burton Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Clark, former members of the faculty of the University of Hawaii, but now living at Santa Barbara, Calif. The rite was read by the Rev. John Hill in the presence of 90 guests. The church was beautifully decorated with daffodils, white chrysanthems and...

Additional candleabra furnished the only light. Mrs. George Miller, organist, played a program of music as the guests assembled. Escorted by her uncle, Francis Blomquist of Caldwell, Miss Carter wore a white slipper satin gown and finger tip veil held to her hair with a wreath of freesia. Her shower bouquet was of brides roses and freesia. Dress, veil and bouquet were designed for her by a classmate, Eugenia Penick. Miss Betty Craig, maid of honor, in a soft shaded rose costume, wore a matching Juliet cap and carried pink roses and snapdragons. Dorothy Carter, young sister of the bride, as flower girl, was quaintly dressed in an ankle length frock of pale green with matching cap. The bride's mother wore an ensemble and small hat of heaven blue. Her corsage was gardenias. Roland Mattson was best man, and the ushers were Dr. J. Irving Jolley and Robert Jensen.

Reception Afterward. At the reception in the parish hall, four tables were arranged, one of the big four-tiered cakes, the other three identical with daffodils and smilax for the center and silver coffee services. Assisting were Mrs. D. D. DuSault, Mrs. Louis A. Boas, Mrs. Fulton Gale, and Mrs. C. E. Lampman. Also Dean Beatrice Olson, Miss M. Belle Sweet (the bride's godmother), Mrs. Pendleton Howard, Mrs. Earl David, Mrs. R. F. Hutchinson, Mrs. T. D. Matthews, Mrs. Harry Driscoll, Mrs. Homer David, Mrs. J. H. Einhouse, Mrs. R. S. Butterfield, Mrs. Harvey Smith, Mrs. John Montgomery, Mrs. J. E. Buchanan and Miss Virginia Shearer.

SMARTIES

Straight A records are scarce in any school in the university, and especially in a professional school—but two students in the college of law broke all precedent last semester and came through with unmarred records. They are Larry Duffin, a senior in law, and Louie Gorino, a first year student.

Last year, one 4.0 was made each semester, each time by a senior. Alberta Morton, who led her class scholastically for the entire three year course, made the 4.0 the first semester, and Pete Leguineche finished his final semester in school with straight A's.

Practice Begins For Swimmers

Practices for the W.A.A. inter-collegiate telegraphic swimming meet will begin Saturday. Students may practice for the meet between the hours of 10 and 12. Eight hours of practice are required to make a contestant eligible. The meet will be held March 14. The following events will be held: 100 yd. breast stroke, 100 yd. back crawl, 100 yd. free style, 40 yd. breast stroke, 40 yd. back crawl, 40 yd. free style, medley relay and free style relay. Colleges and universities all over the United States will enter the meet.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Blomquist and daughter Jane, Caldwell; Mrs. Della Atkinson, Pullman, a cousin of the bride, and from Lewiston, Miss Shearer, Mrs. Raymond Hyke, Mrs. J. S. Thompson, Mrs. Carsow and Mrs. David Bodine.

For the short trip the couple took, the bride wore a blue tweed suit with brown fur coat, hat and accessories. On their return, they will be at home at the Thatuna, while completing the year's work at the university where both will get degrees this spring.

Vandaleers To Hold Tryouts Soon

Tryouts for Vandaleers will be announced soon, Prof. Alvah Beecher, head of the music department revealed yesterday. He said that several vacancies had occurred in the group because of students leaving school.

Miners To Auction Defense Stamps At Muckers Ball

Gambling, dancing, and the auctioning of a book partially filled with defense saving stamps will be high points of the tradition Muckers' ball, which mining students will sponsor Saturday night in the Bucket ballroom.

Each couple attending the dance will be given $500 in paper money with which to gamble at the sessions. The defense stamps will be auctioned off and awarded to the couple holding the most paper money during the evening.

Music will be provided by Cawley and his orchestra. The price of admission will be $1 a couple. Decorations and concessions will carry out the "49-er" theme.

Contest To Close In Two Weeks

Entrants in the Curtain play writing contest may have two more weeks in which to make final touches on their scripts. Virginia Keeton, contest chairman, last night.

Completed entries must be turned in to the hands of Miss Jean Collins, instructor in English, or John Sollers, instructor in English, by February 15. The original manuscripting date was January 31. Judges of the manuscripts will be Geoffrey G. Coope, associate professor of English; Mrs. John Sollers, and one other person selected later.

First prize will be $15 and a reduction of the play on the stage this spring. The next two prizes will be produced this spring. Several scripts have already been turned in. Emphasis will be placed on the development of new types of style. All manuscripts become the property of the college.

Juniors Invited To Fireside

Junior women who have a grade average and are outstanding in university activities will be invited to a fireside held Sunday evening at the Delta Delta house. Helen O'Connell will have charge of the program. She will be assisted by Elizabeth Bracken and Marian... The refreshment committee includes Vera Nell James and Mary... son. Norma Lou McMurry, head of the invitation committee.

1942 Gem Sales Close Today

Plans for the 1942 Gem of the year contest definitely close today with second-semester registration, Business Manager Ed Benoit announced last night. Students may purchase yearbooks either in registration line or at the Graduate Center's office.

"We must have a definite sales plan immediately which necessitates closing sales," Benoit says. About 150 Gems are still available although it is not necessary that they be sold.

Over 1850 yearbooks have been ordered this year to establish a new sales record. Two thousand copies have been ordered and now it is necessary that we give the year a definite order on the spot.

Copies may be obtained by signing a note to have the entire sales taken out of the general department fund.

Year Size. The 1942 Gem is adopting a larger size, style, and special features which will set it apart as a year among Idaho annuals," Benoit said.

Color proofs of the large campus scene kodachrome to be featured on the 1942 cover have been mailed to Editor Bob Wethern. Symms Printing company of Boise is working on the covers soon, according to Wethern.

Color reproduction of the cover is very outstanding and with six other kodachromes to be included in the book should make an outstanding color section," Wethern says. "Other proofs of the book's layout are coming regularly now."

Staff editors and heads are being contacted now to get editorial and picture-taking activities lined up to meet deadlines, according to Wethern.

Writing group representatives are securing senior activity blanks falling at the Gem office any afternoon, Office Staff Head Loren Rach says.

Students are urged to get Gem pictures taken at either Johnson's or Sterner's studios before the February 14 deadline according to Photography Manager Nick Lauer.

Men To Register On February 16

Men required to register for selective service February 16 under the provisions of the new military service age bracket of 20 to 45 years may choose what place of residence they want recorded as their permanent boards to have jurisdiction over them, according to an announcement made last week by Brig. Gen. M. G. McConnell, Idaho director of selective service.

No transient address may be recorded. Selective service regulations prohibit any interference or dictation by a registrar when a registrant is making his choice of permanent home address. A man may also record a separate mailing address on the card in addition to the home address.

"It is the intent of the law and the purpose of selective service regulations," said Director McConnell, "that each man may be registered at his home address and be subject to call to fill quotas from that local board. That is a basic principle of democratic procedure and I expect every selective registrar in the state to adhere strictly to it."

Navy Might Use University For Training

A hint—but only a hint—that the U. S. navy might wish to use some of the facilities of the University of Idaho, along with other educational institutions, for training centers was dropped by Commander Bert H. Creighton, in a visit here last weekend.

Commander Creighton had nothing really to say, except that the navy is making a survey of all institutions in the 13th district to ascertain facilities that are available. These include housing facilities, drill grounds, and recreational facilities.

The 13th district embraces Idaho, Oregon, Washington and Montana. The navy will be faced with a difficult training problem in its expanded program and it is likely, the commander said during his visit with officials of the university, that the navy may desire to send numbers of its men to educational plants for part of their training.

Idaho Economizes By Budget Slash

Idaho's institutions of higher learning can save about $60,000 during 1942, according to Judge W. F. McNaughton, chairman of the board of regents. The announcement was in reply to Governor Chase Clark's proposal to slash budgets of state activities $300,000, according to an Associated Press report.

McNaughton added that a decrease in enrollment in the state-supported colleges and universities had not made possible the discontinuance of any courses or substantial reduction in the number of instructors.

The budget slash effects not only the university but also southern branch, Lewiston normal, and Albion normal.

Some instructors called into government service have been succeeded by men on lower salaries, while other savings may be made by postponing repairs or improvements on buildings and campuses.

O.S.C. Matmen Win From Vandals

Winning only two of eight matches, Idaho's wrestling team bowed to Oregon State, defending northern division champions, 26 to 10 in Memorial gymnasium Friday afternoon. Idaho's next meet will be with Washington's Huskies at Seattle next Saturday afternoon. Hank Juran, Vandal captain and defending northern division 165-pound titleholder won his first match of the season by throwing Mostul of Oregon State in 1:05. LaVern Bell won the other Idaho victory by throwing Neilson of Oregon State in the heavyweight division in :37 seconds.

Lieut. Dick Leaves For Fort Benning

Lieut. Kenneth Dick, former assistant bursar and chief accountant, left Friday night for Georgia where he will be stationed at Fort Benning.

Dean Fahrenwald Changes Plans

Dean A. W. Fahrenwald, of the school of mines, may completely abandon plans to accompany a party of eight other mining engineers, metallurgists and geologists to South America this year, he said Friday.

Departure of the group, which was supposed to leave New York by clipper January 21 to further the Pan-American good-will policy and accelerate production of vital defense metals has been postponed for some time.

Dean Fahrenwald was planning to go during his sabbatical leave. Unless the party leaves by the middle of February, the trip would run over that leave, and he will not make it. The party was to operate out of Rio de Janeiro, setting up research facilities in Peru, Bolivia, and Chile.

Faculty Members Lead Discussion

President Harrison C. Dale and Lieut. Col. Charles W. Jones will lead a discussion on the student's place in the war and the question of whether or not a student should drop school to enlist at a meeting of Alpha Theta Delta, national contemporary thought honorary, at the S.A.E. house Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Warren Weinberg, president, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

"There's something I like about the real thing"

Pause... Go refreshed

5¢ You trust its quality

Everybody wants the real thing for his money. That's ice-cold Coca-Cola. It has quality, the quality of genuine goodness... taste, the taste that charms and never cloy... refreshment, complete refreshment. Thirst asks nothing more.
