Economist To Speak

Ruth Alexander To Discuss Pro-Capitalism

Dr. Ruth Alexander, widely discussed woman economist, will speak here next Friday, Dean T. S. Kerr, public events committee chairman, announced yesterday. She will talk in the Memorial gymnasium at 11 a. m. Morning classes will be shortened to 35 minutes each for the lecture.

Speaking before American education societies, forums, the National congress, and university student bodies, Dr. Alexander has received both criticism and commendation for her aggressive views on economics and philosophy. One British economist has said, "Her recent researches into the relationship between human nature and forms of the state are among the few original contributions being made to political-economic thought today."

Has Four Degrees.

She became a staunch defender of capitalism after making a thorough study of the philosophic and economic theories of Karl Marx, a researching project which launched her on a lecture career. Adapting her talk to a subject of widespread interest and contemplation, Dr. Alexander will speak here on "Problems of Freedom."

Having taken four university degrees at Northwestern, where she won Phi Beta Kappa honors, Dr. Alexander is considered by her admirers well posted on economics. Her thesis on "The Value and Distribution Theory in the U. S. S. R." won her a doctorate and furnished her with material for pro-capitalistic talks.

Unorthodox View Taken.

"The capitalistic system is on the way out," is often a statement heard in student bullfests; presenting an unorthodox opposite view, Dr. Alexander will compare the American way of living and American ideals to those of the nations living under different rules. The problems of freedom to be met in conducting such a government will serve as the basis for her discussion.

Ailshie To Speak On Mining Law

Judge James F. Ailshie, justice of the Idaho supreme court, will begin a series of lectures on mining law Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in room 324 of the Administration building. The lectures will continue throughout the week.

Bringing Judge Ailshie to the Idaho campus for this series of lectures is in line with the policy of the college of law to bring experts in various fields to lecture on subjects not included in the formal curriculum of the college.

New Yell Queens

Vi Wicks, left, and Peggy Tway, right, this week were approved by the ASUI executive board as yell queens for the rest of the year. Both are freshmen. They succeed Peggy Davis and Dorothy Harwood.

Registration Tops 2000 As Fourth Day Ends

At 5 o'clock yesterday 2,005 students had registered for the second semester, a drop of 16 per cent over the registration on the same day last year, Frank Stanton, bursar, told the Argonaut last night.

Compared with other northwest universities and colleges, Idaho's decreased enrollment was slight, President H. C. Dale announced yesterday noting that a drop of 25 per cent had been suffered by the University of Washington, from the call of armed forces and defense industries.

While some students left classrooms last semester for army camps and shipyards, those remaining behind signed up for newly organized defense courses and civilian defense posts, swelling Latah county's civilian defense roster to overflowing, Dr. Allan C. Lemon, civilian defense head, said last night. "We have far more registered than we expect to be able to use, but we are showing that the university is eager to respond to the call for volunteers."

Ten new courses applicable to defense have been installed after an investigation of students' needs by Dean T. S. Kerr, dean of the college of letters and science, and Dean Jesse E. Buchanan, dean of the college of engineering.

Members of Alpha Phi Omega, boy scout honorary, fingerprinted 450 students Monday and Tuesday, and will send the prints to the civilian identification file in Washington, D. C., after records are checked. The number tagged this year is less than the 700-odd students fingerprinted last year, mainly because most have been down the line before.

Board Approves 2 Yell Queens

The ASUI executive board this week approved the appointment of Vi Wicks and Peggy Tway as yell duchesses, granted three WAA awards and sanctioned a plan whereby the proceeds of the annual Pep band show would go to the Red Cross, providing that costs of the show are underwritten by a group of Moscow businessmen.

The board also reappointed Dick Still as chairman of the election board examining committee. Named to the committee were Elton Leavitt, Bud Doane, Elizabeth Bracken, and Kathleen Christian.

ASUI President Milt Eberhard announced that at the next board meeting successors to Yell Duke Ed Harper and Bob Robson, chairman of the rally committee, would be named. Both Harper and Robson resigned their positions at the semester.

Helen Campbell was awarded a woman's I blanket for 2105 WAA points. Women's I sweaters were awarded Phyllis Paynter and Alta Mae Mullin.

Harry Lewies Will Explain Proposal at Mass Meeting

Student Union Bookstore advisory board officials tomorrow will submit a proposal at a joint meeting of the Interfraternity council, Pan-Hellenic council, and Independent council concerning the possibilities of the ASUI obtaining ownership and control of a single bookstore on the campus. The meeting is being held at 1:15 p. m. in the Student Union

Tentative Date Set for Voting

Class elections for second semester have been tentatively set for February 26, ASUI President Milton Eberhard announced yesterday. Nominating assembly to choose candidates will probably be held February 18 at 7 p. m. in the ASUI office.

Nominations by petition must be made within two days after the nominating assembly.

AWS Committees Complete Carnival Plans

AWS carnival committee members will visit all men's residences soon to explain to them the procedure for nomination and election of the traditional carnival queen. Each men's house and hall may name one candidate.

Several additions to original committees for the AWS carnival were made this week by the co-chairmen, Katherine McGregor and Doris Johnson.

Vera Nell James, Margaret Tomlinson, Marion Johnson, and Rena Echer will have charge of arrangements for exhibits and will contact every women's organization and inform them what booth they will sponsor.

Added to the poster section of the publicity committee were Mary Virginia Burch and Beth Curry.

Rachel Swayne and Jean Mann were added to the dance committee. Macey Mott replaces Ruth Mardahl as chairman of the money committee, serving with Betty Detweiler and Edna Lucille Roberts.

Musicians to Give Benefit Recital

A history of America in music will be the assignment for those who see the show tonight when members of the department of music faculty present a benefit for the Red Cross at the high school. Curtain time is 8 o'clock.

Tickets are on sale at both bookstores and at the music department office, Prof. Alvah A. Beecher, head of the department said last night. Special student tickets are selling for 25 cents apiece.

Hell Divers Elect Anderson Head

Don Anderson was elected president of Hell Divers Wednesday evening. Other new officers are Ralph Joslyn, vice-president; Lois Frank, secretary-treasurer, and Don Smith, program chairman.

building upstairs lounge and is open to anyone who wishes to attend.

"The meeting is being called to determine student opinion whether or not they want to obtain control of the Student Union bookstore and ultimately buy out any other bookstores on the campus," Harry Lewies, chairman of the advisory board, said last night.

President Harrison C. Dale has been consulted and he is in favor of a plan whereby the students can obtain ownership of the Student Union bookstore, Lewies indicated. The Student Union Bookstore today is owned by the board of regents and is controlled by a student-faculty advisory board. All profits go toward paying off the bonded indebtedness of the bookstore and ultimately the store will be turned over to the students as soon as the indebtedness is paid off.

To Confer With President.

"If the students favor the ASUI's buying the Student Union bookstore and obtaining the Idaho bookstore," a committee appointed by the bookstore advisory board will confer with President Dale about the matter," Lewies said.

Lewies indicated that he would outline the history of the present bookstore "war" and textbook price slashing between the two stores and explain the benefits to students by student-ownership of the store. Difficulties in obtaining the store will be explained also, Lewies said.

At a similar meeting of campus representatives late last spring, about 85 per cent of the representatives favored a plan for a single student-owned bookstore on the campus.

Spurs Pledge Two To Membership

Muriel Axtell, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Claire Bracken, Delta Gamma, were tapped for Spurs Wednesday evening at dinner. The two women replace Jewell Morris and Adene Hyde, who have left school. Initiation will be held Wednesday evening at the Alpha Chi house.

Spurs will celebrate Founder's day, February 14, with a banquet at Hotel Moscow. Following the banquet the sophomore women will attend the WSC-Idaho basketball game. Committees for the affair have not yet been appointed.

George Wren Heads Civil Engineers

The Idaho chapter of the American chapter of Civil Engineers elected George Wren, president; Bob Smith, vice president; Earl Rosti, secretary; and Dan Marden, treasurer for the second semester.

Golden Fleece By Jason

ANCHORS AWEIGH

Speculation as to when the navy was moving in on the Idaho campus has been discussed pro and con ever since two more naval officers toured the campus and inspected housing, feeding, and laboratory facilities for possible use as a navy training school. The pair of naval officers—Lieut. Comm. Tom Hamilton, former Naval academy football coach, and Lieut. A. H. Wickhorst—is the second contingent of officers to inspect the campus in the last week.

The navy plans to establish several training camps in the Pacific Northwest area for airplane mechanic and radio divisions—and about 650 dry land sailors would be stationed here providing the facilities are acceptable to the navy.

However, the navy men probably wouldn't be stationed here until after the end of the present semester and no student would be required to move out of his dormitory facilities, according to President Harrison C. Dale. Further routine check ups will be made in the future providing Idaho is tentatively selected as a site for the camps.

The naval officers were impressed with the excellent kitchen facilities at Chrisman and Willis Sweet halls and the university cooperatives. They were impressed with drilling facilities in Memorial gymnasium and they lauded the rifle range as the best on the coast.

Commander Hamilton told one student at the university that the facilities here were the best that they had seen anywhere on the coast. The officers had already inspected Stanford, Oregon State, University of Oregon, and Washington State.

Lack of any supply of water besides Paradise creek wouldn't affect Idaho's being chosen as a site for the training camp as the navy is interested primarily in laboratory facilities for the radio training program and plenty of room for their airplane mechanics to work on the planes, in addition to housing.

From Jason's position on the sidelines it looks like next year college students will be rubbing shoulders with the navy, but the male students this year have nothing to worry about for a while.

UNCLE SAM MAY AID

The wartime education commission in Washington, D. C., this week recommended that federal financial aid on a broad scale to accelerate the education of college youth be granted. The aid would be granted to assure an "adequate and continuous supply of men and women trained for various wartime services."

The commission recommended that federal funds be provided to pay the added costs that colleges incur by maintaining special programs in fields essential to the war effort. The aid will be given both to needy students and needy colleges.

This may be the Godsend that the board of regents needs to finance the 12-week summer term in face of a budget slash of the state administration. The state administration has proposed a $100,000 cut of expenditures for state educational institutions and the board of regents has replied that it can, by efficient administration, cut about $60,000 in expenditures.

Added with a decreased enrollment of about 15 to 16 per cent, rising costs of ordinary expenditures, and the summer term the budget slash makes a hard rocky road ahead. Perhaps the federal aid will be the savior.

Communique Comment

Soon after he had bought Singapore from the Sultan of Johore in 1819, Sir Stamford Raffles of the English East Indies Co. predicted that the port he would build on that low island would enable his countrymen to attain a commanding position in the valuable trade of the East; then monopolized by the Dutch. In the next century Raffles' base took its place beside Gibraltar, the Suez Canal and the Panama Canal as one of the four most important strategic points along the sea lanes of the world. It is now in hourly danger of capture by the soldiers of a nation that was only roused out of medieval slumber by the British bombardment of the Japanese coast in 1863 and 1864. Official London is silent as to Singapore's chances, but there is no excess of optimism behind the closed departmental doors.

Japanese superiority in the air over Singapore is worrying Allied observers. The Japanese hold a large number of air bases, scattered over the Malay States, and they are using fighter planes which seem to be superior to the best models that the Allies now have in Malaya. The pounding from the skies that the city is taking can be explained by the fact that the defending air squadrons lack the latest types of British and American pursuit planes and must operate from a small number of air-fields in the narrow confines of the 27-mile-long island. The wet soil of Singapore makes impossible the construction of underground civilian shelters. The enemy dive-bombers are evidently trying to create panic among the non-European population, which comprises all but 14,000 of the city's civilian total of 750,000. In addition, Japanese high-explosive bombs threaten to disrupt the city's water system, which is already operating from emergency reservoirs of limited capacity.

It is possible that the warriors of Hirohito will not attempt a land attack on Singapore but will encircle it gradually from the south and east by the occupation of the Dutch islands of Sumatra, Bangka and Billiton—along with the Rhio Archipelago. Such a maneuver would cut off the Singapore garrison from supplies and reinforcements coming by sea through the Malacca Strait or the Java Sea. From their base at Pontianak in western Borneo, the Nipponese could launch invasions of Bangka and Billiton; they already have a foothold on northern Sumatra near Medan. This encirclement move might be co-ordinated with a heavy land-and-air assault on the rich island of Java. Allied Generalissimo Wavell would then be forced to keep his available troops and planes on Java at the moment when the Dutch defenders of Bangka, Billiton and Sumatra call for help.

Wicks Says Husky Plays Speedy Basketball Game

Characterizing the Washington team as the "fastest I've ever seen," Coach Guy Wicks has been busy this week preparing the Idaho Vandals for the two-game series against the Huskies which opens Monday night. The Huskies won from the Vandals in two close games at Seattle.

Drills last night emphasized passing and free throw shooting as Wicks sought to remedy weaknesses which appeared in the Oregon State series. Vandal marksmen made only 14 of 25 free throws in the Beaver series, while the Orangemen were connecting on 17 in 25 attempts.

Washington, currently leading the division with six victories and two defeats, will first run into a tough two game series with W.S.C. at Pullman tonight and Saturday. With the Cougars now resting in a tie with Oregon State for second place, this series may make of break the Cougar's title hopes.

Norm Dalthrop, Chuck Gilmer, Bodie Gilbertson, and Bill Morris have been scoring regularly and make the entire starting team a definite offensive threat. The Husky defense is also effective as shown by the strong protection against Oregon State last month.

The Vandals will be fighting for their second conference victory following a four game losing streak. The Idaho defense, which Edmundson characterized as the "best in the league" has held opponents to 273 points or approximately 39 points per game.

Vandals lost the second of a tight two game series to the OSC Beavers Tuesday night when the Beavers came from behind to take a 28-27 lead with five minutes left to play. Final score was 34 to 29. John Mandic led the scoring with nine points, and Ted Thompson was high for Idaho with eight points.

Wicks said he would use the same starting team which worked against Oregon State. George Steele and Ted Thompson will open at forwards, Ray Turner at center, and Cliff Benson and Von Hopkins at guards.

Brown Issues Call For Handball Men

First call for Idaho handball players was announced by Coach J. A. "Babe" Brown yesterday. All men students interested can sign up in the physical education office in Memorial gymnasium for a ladder tournament. At the conclusion of the tourney, the four top men will represent Idaho against Washington State.

Vandals To Battle Husky Mat Team

Idaho will be represented by a full team for the first time this year when it meets the University of Washington matmen at Seattle tomorrow, according to Hank Juran, team captain. Juran says that the team is the strongest that it has been this season.

New to the team is Harley Greaves who fills the vacant 120 pound spot. Juran was pleased with the show made by Ralph Russell and Buhl Sutton, both experienced wrestlers. Juran said that he expected to field a stronger team in future meets because Walt Stevens, 175 pounder, who wrest-

Idaho's undermanned swimming team left at 7:30 p. m. today for Seattle where they meet Washington's Huskies Saturday afternoon.

Those to make the trip to Seattle today are: Greaves, Lawrence McGonagle, 128 lbs., Sutton, 130 lbs., Russell, 145 lbs., Jim Ellsworth, 155 lbs., Juran, 165 lbs., Russ Lindstrom, 175 lbs., and LaVern Bell, heavyweight.

Ray Turner Leads Vandal Scoring; Has High Average

Although he made only seven points in the final Oregon State game, Ray Turner's average of 12½ points per game still tops the northern division scoring. The big Idaho center is tied for third in total scoring but has appeared in only seven games compared to nine for the other leaders.

Marvin Gilberg W.S.C. forward, is leading the total scoring race with 91 points in nine games followed by his teammate, Gail Bishop. Tied with Turner for third are Oregon State's Lew Beck and John Mandic.

Bishop is high man in field goals while Bobby Lindh of Washington has caged 30 free throws for honors in that division. Bill Morris of Washington leads in personal fouls with 24.

Thompson Second. Runnerup to Turner in Idaho scoring is Ted Thompson, sharpshooting forward, who has 53 points, 25 of them coming against Oregon State. Cliff Benson is third with 29 counters. "Bad man" of the Vandal squad is Turner who has had 19 personal fouls called against him.

Idaho scoring:

Vandal Team Wins Two Rifle Meets

Idaho riflemen chalked up two more victories in telegraphic meets by defeating South Dakota State and Montana State college by decisive margins last week. The Vandal sharpshooters are firing this week against Georgia Tech, Detroit, University of Tennessee, and the University of Oregon.

The Vandals defeated Montana State by 221 points winning 3725 to 3504, and won over South Dakota State 3725 to 3574. A match fired against New York university has been declared no contest, said Lieutenant Otto A. Nelson, rifle coach. No report has been received from the Violets.

Next Wednesday the Vandals will meet Washington State in the rubber match of a three meet shoulder to shoulder series. The meet will be held in Memorial gymnasium and will be the deciding match between the two schools, each having won one previous meet.

Women To Begin Basketball

WAA basketball practices will begin Monday and continue until March 13, according to Merle Delp, basketball manager. Practices will be held every afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock except Fridays. Women are urged to complete their required practices early, as team captains will be chosen after the first two weeks.

Prospective pledges will meet at the Dean of Women's office at 10 o'clock to make out preference lists. As soon as the bids are given out, houses may contact their new pledges. New pledges must move out of the halls by tomorrow evening.

Skiers Will Race At Wallace Meet

Competing in slalom and downhill races on Lookout pass near Wallace this weekend, nine Idaho skiers will be seeking to qualify for entrance into the Pacific Northwest Ski Association championships.

Reports from Wallace indicate that skiing conditions are excellent. Three meets scheduled for Vandal participation already this season have been cancelled because of poor snow conditions. A dinner is being planned for the skiers at the Lookout pass Ski lodge Saturday night.

Skiers who will compete in the meet are Jack Numbers, Phil Conley, Martin Marquard, Don Conley, Ellis Wickward, Bill Brown, John Garber, Jack Gunderson, and Dave Jenks. Bob Bonomi, manager, will accompany the team. They will spend Saturday practicing at Lookout.

Four Win Places On Foil Team

Idaho fencers last night matched foils to determine places on the team for the meet at Seattle tomorrow afternoon. Making the trip will be George Redford, team captain, Lewis Nonini, Dick Shaver, and Sherman King.

In the tournament Redford beat Nonini, King beat George Hackney, Shaver beat Hackney, and Shaver beat King.

The University of Washington team will be made up entirely of new men, but Redford expects the Husky to be a formidable aggregation. Idaho's team has been cut by eligibility rules and the loss of Ed Budris, who left school at the semester. The return of Shaver, last year's letterman has added some strength to the team, Redford said.

Dr. Cady to Head Summer Term

Dr. L. C. Cady, head of the chemistry department, has been named director of the 12-week summer term, President Harrison C. Dale announced yesterday at the general faculty meeting. President Dale explained the operation of the new summer term at the meeting.

Dr. Cady will hold a position similar to that of Dean J. F. Messenger, director of the summer school, a six-week session designed primarily for school teachers.

Ringmen To Fight Gonzaga Team There Tonight

Idaho's chances of winning from Gonzaga in boxing bouts in Spokane tonight are limited, according to Bob Knox, ring coach, who announced last night that the Vandals had been forced to forfeit three bouts. Bouts being forfeited are in the 120-pound, 135-pound, and heavyweight classes.

Knox pointed out that Gonzaga will be putting a strong team into the ring tonight. The Gonzagans have tied both Washington State college and Oregon State college this season.

Gordon Ross, 127-pounder, has been developing a strong body punch and is expected to demonstrate it in his bout against Gonzaga's Brazee, according to the Idaho ring mentor.

Other fights on the card will be Bill Williams vs. Tony Felice, 145 pounds, Darrel Lott vs. Cohen, 155 pounds, Chace Anderson vs. Salins, 165 pounds, and an opponent for Warren Briggs, 175 pounder, has not yet been named by Gonzaga.

Clark Chandler will meet Viv Felice in an exhibition bout at 135 pounds, and 145-pounders George Unternahrer and Longtre will also fight an exhibition bout. Both are freshmen. Nelse Peterman will fight an exhibition bout at 155 pounds. His opponent has not been named.
