University Will Renovate Golf Course Clubhouse

The clubhouse of the student-golf course will be remodeled this spring and six or eight new tables installed on a canopied veranda behind the clubhouse, Graduate Manager Gale Mix announced yesterday. Cokes and sandwiches will be served this year to late-afternoon golfers, Mix said.

Living quarters of Golf Pro Frank James will be transferred to the space now occupied by the clubhouse office and the office will be moved to the rear of the building, according to Mix. A canopy 24 feet by 14 feet will be erected at the southside of the clubhouse and tables installed.

Work on the project will begin immediately, Mix said. Student season tickets for the golf course will be placed on sale as soon as the course is given a better chance to dry out, he added.

"Plans are afoot to sell two classes of student tickets," Mix said. "One ticket would sell for $1.50 and would be good for every day of the week except Sunday. The other ticket would sell for $3 and be good every day."

The "two season ticket" plan is only tentative and is designed to prevent slower golfers crowding the course on Sunday, Mix said.

2 Seniors Make Application for Graduation

Four hundred twelve applications are on file at the registrar's office for bachelor's degrees to be conferred at the university's 47th annual commencement June 1. This total includes 133 in letters and science, 43 in agriculture, 35 in engineering, 4 in law, 21 in mining, 30 in forestry, 97 in education, 49 in business. Candidates for advanced degrees have until March 15 to file their applications. Last year's graduating class, the largest in the university's history, totaled 592, of whom 488 received bachelor's degrees and advanced degrees. The 1940 and gown group was larger than any previous group.

Approximately half of the 7,000 degrees the university has granted since 1896 have been earned by members of the last six graduating classes, as follows: 1941, 592; 1940, 592; 1939, 573; 1938, 540; 1937, 468; 1936, 420.

Women To Strive for LDS Crown

One of five LDS women will be queen of the Green and Gold ball at the LDS institute tomorrow night, chairmen of the affair revealed yesterday. The winners will go to Coeur d'Alene to compete in the Green and Gold ball there.

Women nominated for queen are Marjorie Call, Marie Williams, Merrie Lu Kleopfer, Corine Williams, and Fern Meyers.

Chairmen for the dance announced yesterday are Marjorie Call, decorations; Betty Jo Bakes, publicity; Fern Meyers, Marie Williams, Marjorie Call, Betty Jo Bakes, Virge Dixon, Harold Davis, and Seth Corless, general committee men.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. G. S.anner, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Barber, Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Call, and Dr. and Mrs. V. A. Young. Dancing will be semi-formal.

Councilmen Elect Bowles Head

Interfraternity council elected Tom Towles, Sigma Nu, president Wednesday evening. Other officers named were Dick Larson, Phi Chi, vice president; Ed Smith, Lambda Chi Alpha, treasurer; and Bill Moutat, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, secretary.

War Clauses Pass By Large Majority

Both election amendments voted on by students at a special assembly yesterday were passed by large majorities, ASUI President Milton Eberhard announced yesterday afternoon. About 442 students attended the assembly which was well over the enough required by the constitution to constitute a quorum.

The executive board next Tuesday will vote on candidates nominated by rival political party caucuses to fill vacancies created in the executive board and class offices. The executive board members will be chosen from the Independent party ranks and one from the United Students, according to provisions of emergency war clause No. 1. Other offices to be filled are the presidency and vice presidency of the senior class.

The first emergency war clause, to become ineffective after cessation of the war, calls for the filling of class and executive board office vacancies by executive board appointment rather than calling a special election. Emergency war clause No. 2 calls for the abolition of mid-year class elections and extension of terms of office for class officers to one year rather than one semester.

Emergency war clause No. 1 was approved by a vote of 421 to 16 and clause 2 approved 429 to 13.

Dramatists Please Talent Scout

Sophie Rosenstein, who has the last word on whether or not acting hopefuls appear before Warner Brothers cameras in Hollywood, was "well pleased" with ASUI actors who performed before her yesterday. Miss Rosenstein was accompanied by Arthur Page.

Miss Rosenstein was mainly interested in dramatists who could be trained for leading men and women, and has been all over the Pacific coast on her current tour.

Ten ASUI actors who presented scenes from various works for Miss Rosenstein yesterday are, Gene Roth, Jack Muller, Ralph McColm, Gayle Manion, Dennis Savage, Barbara Leach, Betty Jo Jeffers, Helen Gale, Mary Lou Sherman, and Meridith Bowler.

From this group she selected as having possibilities as leading men and women, Muller, Roth, McColm, Miss Leach and Betty Jo Jeffers.

Before leaving, Miss Rosenstein declared her intention of returning to the Idaho campus on her talent tour next year.

Students May Pick Courses For Short Summer Term

Students intending to attend the summer term of the university now have the opportunity to choose the courses they wish through conferences with their dean, it was revealed yesterday by Dr. L. C. Cady, head of the summer term. They will be able to select the courses which will allow them to graduate in the shortest period of time.

The summer term committee has prepared a questionnaire which is now in the hands of all deans, according to Dr. Cady.

Conferences are being arranged by the deans at which each student will indicate his interests in the program, and, if he expects to attend, will choose suitable courses in consultation with his advisor. Conferences will either be this week or next.

To Help Advance Students.

In addition to allowing students to graduate in a shorter period, the summer term will give students who are irregular in their courses an opportunity to adjust their schedule so they may enter the next higher class, Dr. Cady's statement revealed.

Summer term classes will begin June 8, and students will carry the same credits as regular semesters. Students normally will take 12 or 13 credit hours during the summer term.

Oregon Series Will End Vandal Home Season

Idaho Vandals end their home season tonight and tomorrow as they meet the Oregon Ducks in games beginning at 7:30 o'clock each night in Memorial gymnasium. Oregon has won only three of 11 starts to hold the place above the Vandals, who have won two of 10 starts.

Oregon's playing against Washington State Wednesday night was characterized as "erratic but dangerous." Guy Wicks, Vandal coach, after his first view of the Oregon team in action said, "there are many teams just about alike in this conference."

The Vandals worked through a light drill last night in preparation for this series. Paul Jackson and Warren Taylor, Oregon guards, proved to be the big guns of the Oregon offense scoring 17 and 15 points each against Washington State.

Starting line-up for the visitors will probably include Bob Wren, and Rolph Fuhrman, at forwards, Taylor at center, Jackson and George Andrews at guards. Vandal starters will probably be Ted Thompson and George Steele, forwards, Ray Turner at center, Von Hopkins and Cliff Benson at guards.

SUB To Feature WSC Trio

The Adams Boys, WSC vocal trio, and the Lewiston high school dance band will be featured in special numbers at the first regular Student Union dance tonight. Other special numbers are being planned for regular dances this semester.

4 Debaters Leave For Oregon

Blaine Evans, Ben Kinney, Dale Greeley and Vernon Ravenscroft will represent Idaho this weekend at the debate tournament in McMinnville, Ore.

Evans and Kinney are to debate the question, Resolved: "That Government Should Regulate, by Law, all Labor Unions."

Greeley and Ravenscroft will debate on the question, Resolved: "That Democracies Should Form a Federation to Establish and Maintain the Eight Churchill-Roosevelt Principles."

Evans, Kinney, Ravenscroft and Greeley will also enter the oratorical and extemporaneous speaking contests, A. E. Whitehead, debate coach, said today.

Cups and other awards will be presented for each contest and each debate winner.

Kofmehl Gets Top Exam Grade

Three political science majors cracked grades of over 90 per cent in a junior administrative technician examination conducted by the United States civil service commission, Prof. Boyd Martin, head of the political science department, announced yesterday. Three other students passed the exam with good marks, Professor Martin added.

Kenneth Kofmehl scored a 98 on the general intelligence division of the exam and a 95.75 for the whole examination. Kathleen Christian made a 93.8 and Joe Zaring, 91.4. Others passing the quiz were Howard Langland, Rodney Tunks, and Ardith Beck.

"Kofmehl's mark is probably one of the highest in the United States," Professor Martin said. "Two years ago the highest grade was only 95 per cent."

Rooters To View Specialty Acts

With members of Lewiston high school moving in tonight to provide half-time entertainment, and the annual Spurs march set for tomorrow night, basketball rooters at both Oregon games this weekend will find the intermissions will be filled with entertainment.

Appearing at the game tonight will be 70 entertainers from Lewiston high school. In the group to appear are a band, yell leaders, twirlers, and tumblers. They will be accompanied by the high school principal, D. B. Branom.

Tomorrow night the Spurs, sophomore women's honorary, will present their annual formation march at half time. They will present drills, and designs in their act. Spurs have been directed again this year by their advisor Mrs. W. A. Boyer. The march is always held at the final home game.

Myrtle Leonard Praises Helen Jepson

Helen Jepson, who gave a concert here last night, is "just one swell gal" according to Miss Myrtle Leonard, assistant professor of music.

Miss Jepson and Miss Leonard both made their debuts at the Metropolitan Opera house during the 1935 season. After that the two young stars appeared together many times on the same program. One of their appearances was made in 1936 at an annual spring festival at the University of Michigan where they sang with the Chicago symphony orchestra.

Miss Jepson and Miss Leonard had not seen one another for four years until yesterday noon.

When asked what the noted opera star is really like, Miss Leonard said that she is a "real and genuine person."

"Helen is a typical American," she said.

The two starlets were in an NBC office awaiting the radio interview which would introduce them to listeners of the Saturday afternoon Metropolitan program, several years ago. The script was being whipped into last-minute shape and the two new stars were being asked about their past. Miss Jepson talked about her husband and daughter.

Finally, the interviewer, who couldn't get her to tell anything good, such publicity would be harmful; that instead of being presented to the public as a mother and housewife, she must appear as a glamorous young star. Miss Jepson, so proud of her family and home, burst into tears at being told that they could not be a part of her career.

Golden Fleece By Jason

The student-faculty council, an organization of deans, faculty members and students which sits around "with their hair let down" and talks, met last Tuesday. Started in 1939, the council is still trying to determine its purpose, or organization, and personnel. A committee was appointed in the fall of 1940 to survey the needs, objectives, purposes, and personnel of the student-faculty council. At nearly every meeting since the committee submitted its report the matter has been tabled; sometimes it was discussed and sometimes the discussion was postponed because leaders of the two rival factions within the council weren't present.

"To improve student-faculty relations" apparently has been the objective of the group and the meetings have been characterized by the introduction of "gripes"—both by students and faculty members; often a short discussion; and a prompt conclusion of hostilities by the curt statement of Chairman Herbert J. Wunderlich that "it's a project for us." The discussion is penned in the minutes and promptly forgotten.

Students attending the council meetings have taken a cynical attitude toward the council. The more they go to meetings the more they are convinced that there is probably excellent student-faculty relations at Idaho. The more they go to meetings the more they are convinced that the one or two hours idled away could more profitably be spent sipping cokes at the Bucket. They've heard faculty members discuss student morale; They've heard no conclusion, and they've seen no results!

Exact position of the student-faculty council is indefinite. It has no teeth to enforce its decisions. It is a body that is supposed to make recommendations to other groups and it needs confidence and support to put forth its student-faculty relation improvement program. It has developed into debating society and a breeding place for student-faculty animosity.

Perhaps there is a place for such an organization as the student-faculty council, if student-faculty relations are supposed to be atrocious. Some accomplishments have been made at the council; but Jason believes that the group will hold more prestige among students and make more accomplishments if it adopts a more aggressive policy; find out what it wants to do—and then do it!

Cast Members Prepare For Pep Band Show

Pem Club To Give Sports Party

Weekly rehearsal schedules have been worked out for cast members of the Pep band show, set for March 5 and 6 in the university auditorium, according to Jack Leishman, director, yesterday.

Dancers now perfecting their routine for the presentation are Helen Jean Davis, Doris Henderson, Vi Wicks, Elaine Thomas, Marge Smith, Lenna Hooker, Kathryn Craine, Carmeleta Rea, Jeanne Hunter, Wanda Hall, Irene Tulppa and Leona Tulppa.

Specialty dancers at the show will be Virginia Bennett, who will present a hula, and Peggy Tway, tap dancer.

Standout musical offering of the formal part of the show will be "Ballet Egyptian" by the expanded pep band orchestra under the direction of Leishman. Howard Baker will present a trumpet solo.

Weldon Cole has written a number for the informal part of the show, which will be sung by Don Smith.

South Sea island in theme, acts of the show are being directed by Walter Gugnoni, who will also act as master of ceremonies.

Proceeds of the show this year are going to the Red Cross, and money to aid in the production is being advanced by several Moscow merchants.

Shall Students Be Represented?

Students should be represented on the public events committee that chooses assembly lecturers, the student-faculty council decided Tuesday. The council went on record as approving that recommendation to the public events committee.

It was agreed that at least one student representative should be a woman and that another should be a journalism major.

The student-faculty council also discussed economizing measures being taken by fraternity houses at dances.

Prof. Gibson Needs Band Members

If you can toot a horn, scrape a fiddle, or pound a drum there is probably a place for you on the university concert band, Prof. Lee Gibson, band conductor, said yesterday.

Because of the number of musicians leaving school at the semester, several positions are now open for interested students, Professor Gibson declared.

Any student interested in trying out for a position on the concert band is urged to see Professor Gibson at Barclay cottage.

Miss Amy Burnham Onken, grand president of Pi Beta Phi, was a house guest of the local chapter last week end. Sunday evening she was entertained at a formal buffet supper at the chapter house. Miss Onken left Monday evening to visit with the Pullman chapter.
