Dale May Deliver Main Address At Commencement

"I may deliver the annual commencement address myself this year," President Harrison C. Dale stated yesterday. Commencement exercises for the 47th class to be graduated from the university will be held June 1 in Memorial gymnasium.

President Dale indicated that the procedure of having the president of the university address the graduating seniors in times of crises is a policy widely adopted throughout the United States.

"Graduation this year will be a serious occasion and I have something important that I would like to tell the graduates," President Dale said.

He indicated that during the Spanish-American war and the World war the president of the university addressed the graduating classes, and that although it was not definitely decided he believed that he would continue the practice during this war. For the past two years prominent Idaho graduates have delivered the commencement address.

The Very Rev. Dean Frank A. Rhea, rector of St. Michael's Episcopal church in Boise, will deliver the baccalaureate address May 31, it was announced last week.

Lieut. Wunderlich To Conduct Naval Assembly

Former Dean of Men Herbert J. Wunderlich, who is on leave of absence from the university to serve in the navy for the duration of the war, will return to Idaho Wednesday in a new capacity.

With Lieut. Comm. J. G. Thwing, Lieutenant Wunderlich will conduct an assembly at 1 p.m. in Science 110 and describe to students free government scholarships and commissions as reserve officers now being offered to college men by the U. S. Navy. One of the officers will be available all day at Hotel Moscow to interview candidates and to supply information to all who are interested, according to a report received yesterday from the 13th naval district at Seattle.

Wunderlich Enlisting.

Lieutenant Wunderlich is enlisting young men under 26 years of age who have two years of college or the equivalent, in class V-5 naval reserve for aviation cadet training.

Lieutenant Commander Thwing will enroll college graduates and college seniors and juniors in class V-7 naval reserve, which will permit juniors and seniors to remain in school until they receive their degrees, when they will be given four months of midshipman training.

Sigma Tau Pledges Four Juniors

Sigma Tau, engineering honorary, announced the pledging of John Gibson, John Jasberg, Gailen Soule, and Harry Wilson.

The Sigma Tau formal dinner dance will be held April 11 at Hotel Moscow, Gene Luntley, president, announced.

Dr. Cady Releases Courses For First Summer Term

Spring Housecleaning

Massaging the window panes at the Delta Chi house is a typical scene on the Idaho campus as the old bugaboo of spring housecleaning starts with the first chirp of the robin. Balanced on the chair is Kenny Jordan while Harvey Butts looks on.

Noted Violinist To Play Here in Final Concert

The last of the community concert series of this season will bring the noted violinist, Henri Temianka, to Memorial gymnasium on April 13 at 8 o'clock.

Temianka calls himself a "cosmo-Pole." Born in Scotland of Polish parents, he made his first public appearance at the age of seven in Rotterdam where he made a great sensation because of his diminutive size.

University Given X-Ray Machine

A standard hospital X-ray outfit for the diagnosis and treatment of animal ailments on the university farm has been donated to the university by Dr. C. F. Magee, Genesee, President Harrison C. Dale announced yesterday.

The apparatus has been used by Dr. Magee in his private hospital in Moscow. It is a 100,000 volt model equipped both for fluoroscopic and X-ray work.

Dr. G. C. Holm, station veterinarian, said the equipment would be invaluable for such veterinary tasks as setting broken bones, diagnosing lamenesses, diagnosing digestive disturbances caused by eating wire, bolts, and other foreign bodies, and for deep X-ray therapy of tumors, growths, and possibly mastitis. He said the apparatus is far superior to that used in most veterinary hospitals.

DELTA CHI PLEDGES

Delta Chi fraternity announce the pledging of Dick Woodhead, Ivan Woods, and Bob Spencer.

Registration Starts June 8 For 12-Week Session

Registration for summer school will be held June 8 with all classes scheduled to start on June 9, according to Dr. L. C. Cady, director summer term. Part of the university's accelerated wartime program, it is designed to allow all students to advance the date of their graduation, irregular students to make up their deficiencies, and for freshmen to enter school in June. The complete list of courses was announced this week.

Seniors To Order Announcements

Orders for senior class graduation announcements are now being taken at the Student Union bookstore, Benny Lutz, acting manager, announced last night. The official class announcement is being sold only at the Student Union bookstore this year.

The cards will be available by May 5 if the order is placed soon enough, Lutz added. Card orders should be made as soon as possible because the card has to be engraved after the order is taken. Special rates will be given students who own their own copper engraving plate with their name inscribed.

The cards retail for 9 cents apiece and were chosen by a senior class committee named by President Curt Clark. The cards are being engraved by the Crown Engravers, Portland.

Orders for caps and gowns rental for graduation are being taken in each campus residence. Students who have not been measured for their gowns can place their orders at the Student Union bookstore. Rental fee is $1.50.

Members of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's music honorary, are making plans to entertain their province president. They expect the president to be here sometime about April 28 or 29.

DiPippo Prepares Spaghetti For Vandal Stag Feed

Top Speaker

Ed Koester won the annual Alpha Zeta-Ag club extemporaneous contest last week with his discussion on the war's effects on foreign agriculture. The speaking contest is the feature of the annual Ag club banquet.

The summer term fee has been set at $16 with out-of-state students paying a fee of $25. Laboratory courses will carry their usual fees. A student registered in the 12-week summer term may take also any courses offered in the six-week summer term without payment of any additional fees.

Graduate students may attend either the summer school six-weeks session, June 8 to July 17, or the 12-week summer term, June 8 to August 28. A limited amount of graduate work may be arranged for during the 12-week term. Graduate students should contact Dean C. W. Hungerford, head of the graduate school.

GRADES

The registrar's office will release group grades this afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m., Registrar Ella Olson announced yesterday.

Scholarship chairmen gathering the grades were requested to bring an alphabetical list or card file of members of the group in order to speed up grade distribution.

The spaghetti is on the fire and Joe DiPippo is a busy man preparing the dinner menu for tonight's Vandal Stag party in the Blue Bucket inn. First platter of the slippery and delicious spaghetti will be served at 7 p.m. and there's no rationing of servings.

Program following the spaghetti dinner has been made as short and enjoyable as possible. Rod Klise, Associated sportscaster for the area, will tell a few of the quirks and the amusing incidents of sports broadcasting. George Greene, Vandal athletic director, plans to clarify the Idaho football situation for 1942, and Col. C. R. Stark, Jr., sports editor of the Spokesman-Review, will be introduced to the stags.

Communique Comment

With two Indian coastal towns already under Japanese air attack, the working committee of the Indian National Congress Party will hear today a message from President Roosevelt while it waits for the answer of the London War Cabinet to its counter-proposal for the future status of India. Continuance of the talks between Cripps and Nehru gives hope that the British and the Congress Party leaders will reach agreement. The presence of the special U. S. envoy, Louis Johnson, at New Delhi, indicates that pressure from Washington may be an important factor in forcing immediate settlement of the Indian problem.

It is possible that the formula submitted by Cripps to the Indian parties two weeks ago was intended by Churchill merely as a starting point for intricate bargaining—and not as a final British offer. In that case, we can expect concession by the London cabinet to some of the Congress Party demands. If Churchill and his colleagues are in no mood to budge, Cripps may be able to force acceptance of the Congress Party's terms by threatening to resign from the Churchill cabinet. The exit of Cripps from the Coalition ministry might lead to its fall in several days. It is a risk that Churchill could not run.

For several weeks, Roosevelt has had an iron in the fire in which the future of John Bull's Indian empire is being forged. The White House wants to cut down the distrust of British imperialism found in certain sections of the U. S. When Churchill told the Commons on September 9th of last year that the Atlantic Charter would not apply to India and the British Crown Colonies, the reaction in this country was unfortunate. A grant of self-government by Churchill to India, on terms satisfactory to Gandhi and Nehru, would convince doubting Americans that the British premier's vision of the future world is broader than that of Disraeli or Kipling.

Reports from New Delhi indicate that the Moslem premier of Punjab province, Sir Sikandar Hyat Khan, is Nehru's choice for the post of Defense Minister that the Congress Party wants filled by an Indian. Appointment of Sir Sikandar to a position of such power would undermine the charge of Mohammed Ali Jinnah (head of the Moslem League) that the Hindu-dominated Congress Party will never give a square deal to the Moslem minority of India. It would also tend to calm the restless Moslems in the Near and Middle East, who are being told by Axis agents that Britain intends to sell the 80 million Moslems of India down the river in an effort to appease the 240 million Hindus.

It's about time again for those supper to breakfast political sessions around a coffee cup as time before the general ASUI election to choose next year's executive board and ASUI president narrows to slightly over two weeks.

Independent party politicians are beginning to worry. They're beginning to see where a wicked combination of Uncle Sam's navy, Uncle Sam's army, and the Boeing Aircraft company is cutting down the hall and cooperative's numerical superiority over fraternities and sororities. They are beginning to realize that the navy's moving into Willis Sweet and Chrisman halls will slice their advantage over the Greeks and they're getting worried about it.

Latest brainstorm of delegates to the Independent party caucus was a proposal to establish the ASUI executive board on EQUAL representation, with the balance of power to hang with a faculty advisor—a set-up that just contradicts the goal for which we are striving. It is a denial of the doctrine of student control of their own affairs. It is a denial of the working of democracy. It doesn't represent a plan whereby the majority rules and the minority acquiesces. It's just a plan whereby the faculty men are told that the students can't manage their own affairs and that they need a faculty man to arbitrate and make decisions. And yet we come to school to learn democracy.

Delegates to the Pacific Student President's association last spring reported that Idaho had as much or more actual student control of student affairs as any other school on the coast. Are we going to overthrow that system by admitting that we aren't capable of handling our own affairs? Are we going to be grown adults capable of taking our place in society or are we going to be a bunch of kiddies?

The plan was advanced as a means whereby the representation on the executive board could be sterilized for the duration of the war. It indicated that some Independent party chieftains are worried about the results of the next election and that the Greeks would regain the power they lost two years ago. They're willing to throw aside the ideals upon which the Independent party was formulated out of the decadent remains of the old Campus party four years ago—fight, spunk, and spirit. Fortunately it was tabled.

To some Independent party politicians, the ship is already sunk. The order to evacuate Willis Sweet hall to enable the navy to move in will wreck the solidarity of that group and cause many hall residents to disregard the trek to the polls, they believe. Increased rushing by fraternities has cut down the number of men living in dormitories and at the same time swells the ranks of the opposing forces, they contend. Sure, its tough odds, but that's when the fighting should be tougher.

Cornelison To Talk To Businessmen

Harold Cornelison, secretary of the Moscow chamber of commerce, will speak to members and pledges of Alpha Kappa Psi, business honorary, Wednesday evening at 7:30. The meeting will be held at the Tau Kappa Epsilon house.

Mr. Cornelison will explain the organization, activities, and purpose of chamber of commerce groups.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the political fence, Greek enthusiasm for the election seems to be waxing. They see the glimmer of political victory over the hill and from the grapevine Jason learns they've already laid the groundwork for a 'smear' campaign against one possible Independent candidate. Well, it looks like we might have an exciting election if the Independents don't adopt an appeasement policy and stick to their original spirit of enthusiasm.

KIDDIES?

Just what cooperation students are getting from the administration in attempts to purchase the Student Union bookstore and ultimately merge with the Idaho bookstore is practically nil. A group of students have worked long and hard in efforts to gather enough data to present to the board of regents and semblances of a proposal for consideration. Gerald Hodgins, owner of the Idaho bookstore, last week sent a telegram to President Harrison C. Dale at Boise with a proposal to either buy or sell his business to the Student Union.

The telegram was read at the meeting and promptly tabled without discussion. Maybe the idea of student ownership of the Student Union bookstore is unreasonable under present war conditions. Maybe students have no business trying to be anything but kiddies. But at least a proposal that has created so much interest among the students at least should be discussed.

President Denies That University Will Accept Japs

A cool welcome will be given by University of Idaho officials to evacuated Japanese students from the University of California, according to President Harrison C. Dale. The report that the University of Idaho had expressed willingness to accept part of the 300 Japanese students who must be evacuated from the California campus was branded by President Dale as "incorrect."

"Our policy is to take American-born Japanese graduates of Idaho high schools, but not to accept them from outside the state," he explained. "In other words we do not exclude Japanese students, but we don't make it a policy to accept them from other states."

Staff Heads Shift Argonaut Jobs

Two administrative shifts on the Argonaut staff were made this week when Tom Campbell, veteran Argonaut reporter and day editor, left school, according to Editor Bob Leeright. Campbell left this week for Seattle either to work in an aircraft factory or to enlist in the navy.

Fritz Meagher, former night editor, will take over the duties of news editor and day editor and Ladd Hamilton will be shifted to night editor. The news editor position was vacated last week by Elizabeth Bracken, who left to take employment in Boise.

Dean To Arbitrate Labor Dispute

Dean Pendleton Howard of the college of law left Moscow Friday for Denver, Colo., where he will act as arbitrator in a long-standing wage dispute involving unions and operators in the west coast Douglas fir industry. Both sides have accepted Dean Howard as arbitrator, having selected him from a panel submitted by the national war labor board, under whose jurisdiction the dispute falls.

Because of the public service nature of his unusual assignment, Dean Howard has been granted permission by the university to be absent from the campus as long as necessary, which may be several weeks. In his absence, Prof. Bert E. Hopkins will be acting dean of the college of law. College of law faculty members will take over his classes.

Here's More About SUMMER TERM

semester. A student will normally carry from 12 to 13 hours. In full operation during the summer term will be the university library, the student union, and the infirmary. The health fee is included in the summer term fee. Certain of the regular dormitories will be placed in operation during the summer term, and the university plans to furnish board at cost, Dr. Cady reported.

It is expected that both basic and advanced courses in military science will be offered during the summer term. Thus it may be possible to secure a commission in two and one-half years.

Requirements Set.

Admission requirements for high school graduates, who enroll in June are the same as for those who begin school in September, the director said. New students planning to enter should write immediately for credential blanks which should be filled out and returned immediately after graduation.

The most complete programs will be offered in those fields whose work is necessary to war effort such as chemistry, civil, electrical, and mechanical engineering, and mathematics. The school of business offers courses in accounting, statistics, financial administration, marketing, and others. Six courses will be offered in the field of economics.

Eight English Courses.

The college of agriculture will have courses in ag economics, engineering, and chemistry. One course will be offered in American history, and four under European and history of civilization. Spanish, Russian, and German will be the foreign languages offered.

The English department will offer eight courses during the summer term. Botany, bacteriology, dairy husbandry, forestry, geology, and agronomy, will each have one 12-week course.

Girl Scouts Offer Counselorships

Miss Loine Hanes, Girl Scout executive, will be on the campus Thursday to confer with all women interested in camp counselorships next summer. Appointments should be made at once with Miss Margaret Mylne, as Miss Hanes will be at the Women's gymnasium only from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. She is particularly interested in counselors for dramatics, nature lore, and water front supervision.

Miss Dorothy Brown, Camp Fire executive, will be on the campus next Monday, April 13 for the same purpose of interviewing women students who are interested in counselorships. Appointments should also be made within the next few days with Miss Mylne.

Ritchie Will Lead Panel Discussion

Miss Margaret Ritchie, head of the home economics department, will lead a panel discussion Wednesday, April 8 at the home economics section of the Inland Empire Education association.

The panel topic will be "Economic Problems Raised by the War as They Affect Home Economics." The meeting is being held at the Davenport hotel, Spokane.

Officials To Sign Naval Contract

Four university officials left yesterday afternoon for Seattle to complete arrangements and sign a contract with the 13th naval district for the use of campus housing and classroom facilities for training of about 600 navy engineers. Making the trip to the city were President Harrison C. W. B. McNaughton of the board of regents, Dean Jesse E. Shannon, and Robert F. Greene. Nothing definite is known how the navy men will begin moving to the campus. President Dale left before he left.

Meanwhile preparations for moving students out of Willis are progressing and early work is being completed in the University Classroom building to fit the frame building for naval training classes.

Koester Wins Ag Speaking Title

Ed Koester won the annual Alpha Zeta-Ag club extemporaneous speaking contest last week, beating Ray Rigby in the finals Tuesday night at the Ag club banquet. About 120 students and faculty members attended the feed.

Dr. Gerhard Wiens, instructor in modern languages, told the group unusual facts on Russian agriculture, Prof. H. A. Winner, associate professor of agricultural education, was toastmaster for the banquet.

Koester talked on "The Affect of the Present War on Foreign Agriculture" in the finals. Rigby discussed "Education's Contribution to a Balanced World Living."

Nolan Weeks, Tau Kappa Epsilon, was married at Seattle Sunday to Adalee Beckvold, Moscow. The couple will live here until Weeks, a senior in engineering, completes his course.

Vandal Baseball Team To Open Home Season Against Whitman Tomorrow

Home play for Coach Guy Wicks' first Idaho baseball team begins Wednesday afternoon against the Whitman Missionaries. Doubleheaders are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday. The Whitman team won four of five from the Vandals at Walla Walla last weekend. Heavy hitting showed in the one game for Idaho.

Coach Wicks said that his team had not been disappointing at Walla Walla, and that it shows promise of gaining strength. Hitting strength was apparently good and the team should round into shape, he said.

Clarkson Woods, Keith Parks, and Steve Trukositz carried the pitching load and Konopka and Brooks were the receiving men of the batteries for the first games. Whitman's last inning nipped a two-run Vandal lead in the first game and in the second game the Vandals led for two innings but failed to score afterwards. Scores for Friday games were 5-4, and 8-2.

Whitman Cops Two.

Three games were played Saturday. Whitman won the first game 8-2, Idaho the second 4-2, and Whitman took the nightcap, 4-3. Irv Konopka, Idaho backstop, was hit near the right eye by a foul ball from his own bat and was taken from play in the second game. The third game was tied at the end of the seventh and Whitman pushed across the winning run in the extra inning. Jack Newell pitched the game Idaho won.

Probable starting line-up for the Vandals in tomorrow's games will be Jack Newell or Woods, pitching with either Konopka, Pete Kalamirides, or Bruce Brooks catching. Comprising the infield will be Dale Clark, first; Bob Jones, second; Jack Tewhey, third; and Howard Manson, shortstop. Fielders will be Jim Patano, right; Matt Lewis, center; and Gerry Pedersen, left. Wicks said that it is possible that Tewhey may play shortstop and that Curtis Washburn may play third.

Reporters To Meet This Afternoon

Argonaut reporters will meet this afternoon in the Argonaut office at 4:45 o'clock to be explained a new program for reporters caused by the changing of news editors, according to Editor Bob Leeright. Any person desiring to work on the reporting staff of the Argonaut who has not signed up before is asked to come to the meeting.

Houses Canvassed Show Interests in Parade

That the Junior week parade, brought back this year after several years banishment, may die for lack of interest, was expressed last night by Jim Towles, junior week chairman. The parade was set for Saturday, April 18, final day of Junior week festivities that open Wednesday night, April 15.

"We have canvassed only a few halls so far," Chairman Towles stated, "and they do seem interested in it. However, if we expect to have a parade, we must get a good many more entries immediately."

Novelty numbers sung by Marilyn Jones, and a girls chorus will provide part of the cabaret entertainment Saturday night, Towles said. Other numbers are being planned. Masks, confetti, and streamers will be given to dancers attending the Saturday night show.

ASUI Board Gives Major Awards

Major awards were granted ten riflemen last Tuesday by the ASUI executive board. The major award was given because the team won the ninth corps area championship which is equal to a Pacific Coast championship.

Men receiving awards and their season's averages are James Canning 380.52, Gene Bassett 375.92, William Wright 375.00, Cecil Hill 373.92, Gordon Dailey 372.08, Bob Robbins 371.00, Lawrence Douglas 368.80, Earl Crea 368.31, Armour Anderson 368.8, and Marion Bush 366.08.

Medals will be awarded to Canning, Bassett, and Wright, for being the three high men. Canning will receive a gold medal, Bassett a silver, and Wright a bronze.

Firing of national match scores will probably be completed this week, Lieut. Otto Nelson, rifle team coach, said last night. The team has received a report on the first phase of the match and lost that phase to Washington State by 11 points.

The national match is divided into four phases, each phase consisting of ten shots from prone position and ten from the standing, sitting, kneeling, or prone position. Idaho's total was 981 prone and 971 sitting in the first phase.

Following the assembly will be a free mixer at the Bucket with Red Jensen providing the music. "Red" will provide the rhythm and lyrics for the dances Friday and Saturday night.

Junior week opens Wednesday night with a picked chorus of 35 to 40 voices, who will make a tour of the campus. The group will serenade all houses. The formal junior prom will be Friday night.

Foresters Study Game in Park

A six-day trip to Yellowstone national park sounds like a vacation excursion to most people, but it's just part of a semester's work to 22 senior forestry students who returned from the famous park last week. Three days of the trip were spent studying big game in winter environment. The trip was under the direction of Dr. Vernon A. Young, professor of range management.

Trackmen Begin Heavy Drill Whitman Meet Changed

Vandal trackmen began a week of heavy work yesterday, the last week of extensive drilling before the opening of the season. Announcement that the Whitman meet, originally slated for this Saturday at Walla Walla was being changed to April 18, forced a change in the Idaho training schedule.

Coach Mike Ryan will direct the Vandals through hard drills all week, then taper off the workouts next week with work on finesse and technicalities.

Date set for the Cheney meet is not yet definite. When conference moguls moved the date for the northern division meet up a week to May 23, the original Idaho schedule was disrupted. Efforts are now being made to work in the Cheney meet on May 9, but the Savages have a meet in their own conference set for that date.

The Vandals will hold their second intrasquad handicap meet this week. Although vacation made cancellation of some events necessary, the Idaho thinclads ran off their first handicap match last week.

"The performances in the meet last week were good," said Ryan. "Performances in the 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, mile, and weight events were especially pleasing."

This week's handicap meet begins Wednesday and will continue until all 15 scheduled events are finished. Events slated Wednesday are the 100-yard mile, shotput, and the high

Thursday the 220-yard 440-yard dash, discus, javelin, the pole vault will be completed Friday the 880-yard run, jump, 120-yard high hurdles, 220-yard low hurdles will be

Saturday at 2:30 o'clock a relay race will be held with Vandal varsity team running against five selected relay squads in an effort to break the mile relay mark of 3:23.8, record was set in 1933 by Vandal squad of Robert F. John Thomas, Carrol Living and James Kalbus.

Sted Johnston, Bob White, Thomas, and Jack Ragland, prize the Vandal varsity team. Their chief opposition will probably come from the picked of Francis McGuire, Bob D. Wilfred Rooney, and Vic D. running with a 25-yard handicap. Handicaps for the four teams range up to 140 yards.
