

AMAZON ERA

Leaning back in the still-warm chair of his draft-departed predecessor, Jason paused to reflect upon an obsession which had recently set up housekeeping in his medulla oblongata.

The still-warm chair seemed to provide an incentive, and somehow all three were inter-related. Eloquent expressive was the still-warm chair... the draft in action.

Who would soon be going to college besides women? TIME magazine answered the query in one curt phrase, "only men in uniform and physically unfit."

Jason felt the warm chair developing into a hot seat, a seat from which he would watch Idaho's men-women ratio do a flip-flop even before 1942 stood on its last legs.

Even while university officials over the nation chanted "stay in college" or "enlist in the reserve" they were watching with apprehension the battle behind closed doors at Washington.

College officials are unwilling to relinquish control and the army and navy are equally determined to take over the whole works.

Educational leaders will compromise upon a plan whereby military authorities pick qualified high school graduates to become members of an enlisted training corps.

Jason tilted his chair back still further and visualized the Idaho-to-be. He saw an amazon-atmosphere settling over the campus.

He saw fraternity and hall roster chipped away by the draft, by failure to keep up with ERC grade standards, or by the enlistment of adventuresome youth.

It was not a particularly unpleasant thought... or a particularly pleasant one. It was something that was to be.

Drive Will Collect Relief Funds

A faculty-sponsored Community war chest drive will be held next Wednesday and Thursday, November 4 and 5, to raise contributions for various relief organizations and the USO.

Dean J. G. Eldridge, dean of the university faculty and head of the modern languages department, and Dean C. W. Hungerford, dean of the graduate school and head of the plant pathology department, have been chosen as general committee heads.

A faculty team consisting of 20 members has been selected to facilitate collections. This year's goal has been set at $5000 as compared with last year's amount of $6700.

TWO UNDERGO OPERATIONS

Camille Short, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Lois Frank, Forney hall, underwent appendectomies last week. According to reports, both women are recovering rapidly and expect to resume their studies at the university within the next two weeks.

Curtain To Raise Next Week On ASUI Play

"This is not a burlesque of the 'Gay Nineties' type of play though we believe that the humor can best be obtained by showing the contrast with present day production," commented Director John Sollers concerning "No Mother To Guide Her," ASUI play which will be given November 6 and 7.

Reserved seats may be obtained by students the first of next week by presenting their ASUI activity book at the Student Union Book store or Hodgins where activity ticket No. 3 will be exchanged for the reserved ticket.

Nearing the time for opening night, "No Mother To Guide Her" swings into the final stages of preparation. Furthering preparations are: Jean Beadles as assistant director; Gene Roth, stage manager; Jerry Riddle, electrician; Beverly Bistline, properties, and Ellen Cox, costumes.

Gay Nineties Atmosphere

A semi-musical-comedy effect will be produced by the rendition of several songs of the Gay Nineties era by Marcia Fay Kimble and a cop's quartet consisting of J. T. Peterson, Jim Watson, Ed Ghormley and Guy Wilson.

In keeping with the campus defense efforts, the four sets, though elaborate, are being constructed by resurrecting and remodeling panels and drops used in former years by the dramatics department.

Gem Editor Calls For Cameramen

Gem Editor Don Carlson issued a call this week for student photographers to snap candid pictures of campus activities.

"Work on the annual is progressing on schedule," the editor said, "but we need several photographers to cover student activities."

Scheduled to start next week is the taking of organization group pictures. It is hoped that most photos of campus honoraries can be taken before the coming of bad weather, it was reported.

Presidents or other leaders of organizations should contact Bill Campbell, Gem manager, to arrange for pages in the book. After an organization signs for a page, a date will be set for taking the group's picture.

Dale To Move CCC Camp To Campus for Navy

President Harrison C. Dale, during his one-day visit to Washington, D. C., secured strategic supplies necessary to continue the naval radio training program at the university, it was learned this week by Associated Press wire.

Through the help of Rep. Compton I. White, Dale succeeded in getting the civilian conservation corps to transfer the CCC camp at Moscow to the university, which will be used primarily for the housing facilities.

"Every month a new quota of sailors arrives before the old class can graduate and depart, thus causing us to be overcrowded," stated Robert F. Greene, director of university dormitories, "so it is our intention to move two of the barracks adjacent to Christian hall to accommodate all the men during this overlapping period."

Also to be used, besides the housing facilities of the CCC camp, is other valuable equipment, such as refrigeration units, which the

'Characters' Get Together

Associated Party Virtually Sweeps Three Class-Officer Slates

Associated students virtually swept the class elections last Thursday when they captured every office with the exception of one. Blaine Evans, United Student, was elected treasurer of the sophomore class.

Officers for the sophomore class were the most closely contested, as there was only the difference of one vote for Roy Grush who defeated United Student John Steile by the tally of 139 to 138.

With the exception of the sophomore offices, the other class leaders were elected by a substantial margin. The senior officers for this year are Bob Ralston, president; George Smalley, vice president; Rowena Nordby, secretary; Rachel Swayne, treasurer.

Junior executives elected are: Harley Greaves, president; Joe Gordon, vice president; Drexel Brown, secretary; and Maurice Johnson, treasurer.

Marion Franson was the other sophomore elected to office as secretary of the class.

An unusually small number of ballots were cast this fall as there were only 690 students who trekked to the polls last week. Other ballot counts were: Ralston, 116; Cecil Jones, 80; Smalley, 111; Ray Hoobing, 85; Rowena Nordby, 121; Harry Mosman, 75; Virginia Young, 75; Rachel Swayne, 121; Greaves, 127; Jack Numbers, 95; Gordon, 132; Bill Mangum, 89; Drexel Brown, 139; Johnson, 120; Claire Bracken, 101; Steile, 138; Grush, 139; Ravenscroft, 142; Greene, 136; Franson, 151; Jim Roper, 127; Evans, 140; and Earl Aldrich, 137.

The list of Idaho students was chosen by an anonymous committee, headed by Dean Olson and Dean Lattig, which consulted house and group presidents and members of the faculty before submitting the names to Who's Who.

MAIL MEN

A call for nearly 150 men to aid in the distribution of holiday mails at the Spokane terminal, from December 1 to Christmas, has been issued by the United States Railway mail service, according to a letter received at the dean of men's office this week.

Such extra help will receive $.76 per hour with 10 per cent additional for work between 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. The number of men employed will increase until December 15, and the maximum number, 150 or more, will be carried until December 25.

Any students who desire to work any portion of the period should apply to the chief clerk, Railway Mail Service, Spokane, Wash., for the necessary forms and information. Personal applications will be received at the main office, 228 Federal Building, Spokane, Wash.

ASUI Board Picks Yell Queen; Approves Editors

Arranging a new set-up for the yell team, the executive board Tuesday approved Barbara Cronk-hite for yell queen, to work in conjunction with Yell King Rex Phillips as the dual leaders of this year's Vandal cheering section.

Since the tryouts held a week ago, the single yell queen position has been formed, while Vi Wicks and Pat Shelton, formerly announced as yell queens, have been appointed to fill the newly created yell duchess posts.

Approved as associate editors of the freshman handbook were Evellen Baskett and Mary Jane Donart, sophomore and freshman journalism majors. The handbook, a guide to campus activities and customs, will be published for the use of new students next fall.

At Tuesday's meeting a committee was also appointed by the executive board to investigate the situation concerning sweaters for the football team. When the committee's report is submitted, the board will determine the advisability of selecting a new style of football sweater for each year, or retaining the same as has been earned previously.

Col. Jones Speaks To 'Basics' At Rifle Meeting

Colonel Charles W. Jones addressed approximately 60 freshmen and sophomores Tuesday in the Memorial gym at the annual fall smoker, sponsored by Pershing Rifles, national basic military honorory.

Colonel Jones stated in his address that wooden rifles had been ordered and would be used to replace the rifles which have been in possession of the army since last spring.

Captain Gene Bassett urged all freshmen and sophomores interested in military, to be present at the next meeting of the company, which meets every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the armory.

Other speakers at the meeting were: Lieutenant John F. Lukens, company advisor; Captain Bassett, company commander; Lieutenant Richard Campana; Lieutenant Gene Littlefield; and Lieutenant Jean Milar.

Chinese Student Recalls Terror of Jap Bombs

By BETTE ARMSTRONG When George Fong dashed into the Argonaut office 10 minutes late for his appointment, he had a pretty good excuse.

Less than four years ago George returned to the United States from China, filled with memories of Jap bombings, and the terrible suffering of his people. He resolved then to do his part to help them.

Those students who have not filled out mimeographed blanks but who have been accepted for loan considerations should get the proper blanks as soon as possible.

Hallet Abend, former Far Eastern correspondent for the New York Times for 15 years, author, lecturer, and local boy who made good, will address students Monday morning at 11 o'clock in the Memorial gymnasium. Classes will be shortened to facilitate the lecture.

"Ramparts of the Pacific" will serve as Correspondent Abend's topic to describe his recent 38,000 mile trip by air during which he made a last-minute survey of the areas in which the Japanese are now savagely at war with the democracies, just one month before the Pearl Harbor attack.

Abend gave up his Far Eastern post with the New York Times in January of 1941 after Japanese hoodlums had ransacked his Shanghai apartment. However, he returned during the autumn of 1941 to make a trip to the Philippines, the Dutch East Indies, New Zealand, Australia, Singapore, Honk Kong and other points now figuring prominently in the Pacific war area.

Moscow residents of the 1910-1920 decade will remember Abend as the young man who lived here during the summer and who later visited his mother, Mrs. John Bradbury. Born in Portland, Ore., Abend was educated at the University of Illinois and at Leland Stanford University.

His first newspaper job was with the Spokane Chronicle. In 1915 he went to Hawaii and was for a year city editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin. For the next four years he was managing editor of the Idaho Statesman at Boise. Before becoming a Far Eastern correspondent, he was also city editor of the Los Angeles Times, and scenario writer for Norma Talmadge.

He first went to the Far East in 1926 on a round trip ticket as a vacation from scenario writing in Hollywood. He stayed on to write special dispatches for the N.A.N.A. and then joined the New York Times' Far Eastern staff.

Guerrilla warfare, bombing sieges, one civil war after another—he has covered them all, and as a matter of fact, came to be looked upon as a harbinger of storm. His appearance in a city or province was looked upon as a certain trouble-signal, so accurate were his presentiments of news developments.

He was in the midst of the Wing On bombing at Shanghai on August 23, 1937, when 600 persons were killed and 400 wounded, witnessed the attack of Tsinan where 7,000 Chinese charged to certain death straight into Japanese gun fire, met Chiang Kai-shek in their early Canton days.

He has met Tojo, Konnoye, Matsuoaka, and virtually all of the key figures behind the war in the Pacific.

'V' Group To Push War Stamp Sales

To further the sale of war stamps and bonds on the Idaho campus, a "victory" committee has been organized, under the sponsorship of the ASUI. The committee will work with the Minute Maids in selling the stamps and bonds, and arranging promotional activities.

Ben Martin has been named chairman of the "victory" committee. Other members are Helen Jean Brink, representative of Minute Maids; Rex Blewett, Executive Board; Anne Thompson, AWS; and Joe Gordon, campus.

Newspaper Etiquette

We see red every time the word "Vandals" is used in local newspapers to describe the depredations of lawless thugs in the community. And that means we're continually gazing through a pink haze. Local editors seem to overlook or ignore the fact that they're smearing Idaho's athletic nickname every time they associate it with common thievery.

Granted the original Vandals were marauders who overran and sacked the homes of less war-like peoples, we can't see why editors don't take cognizance of the good will they're destroying in interchanging the connotations behind the name.

A similar case arose at the University of Pittsburgh several years ago. The school was dubbed "Pitt" by Pittsburgh city editors, which was all right. . . until they also began using the word to describe local criminals. Headlines crying "Pitt Man Slays Three" or "Pitt Man Convicted on Arson Charge" were far too suggestive for comfort, university officials thought. And eventually they convinced Pittsburgh scribes along the same line of thought.

Cutting Corners

Curtailment of ASUI expenses because of a particularly scrawny budget this year has been a big talking point with student executive officials. Expenditures in the recent class elections should provide them with facts and figures with which to put their words into action.

In one of the most passive elections in recent years, 699 students cast ballots for class candidates. Of this small voting block, 541 voted at the Ad building polls while only 158 made their "X's" at the SUB lounge polls. Yet 20 student officials, including a chairman and vice-chairman, were on the ASUI payroll for a majority of the day. Salaries and meals for the officials amounted to $42.93. Yet this expense is not out of line with former election costs. In fact the whole election procedure was carried on in a traditional manner. It would seem then, that the high costs stem from the fact that two groups are necessary to run two polling places efficiently. And voting figures indicate that one polling place will adequately care for Idaho's student voters.

Communique Comment

On October 28, 1922, 50,000 Fascist militia began to move upon Rome. Two days later the Blackshirt columns occupied the Eternal City with only minor violence. They were greeted at the capital by Benito Mussolini, who had made the overnight journey from his headquarters in Milan, in the heroic luxury of a sleeping car, to accept the premier-ship from King Victor Emmanuel. Yesterday Il Duce celebrated the 20th anniversary of the March on Rome by appearing briefly on the balcony of the Palazzo Venezia. The leader of the Italian people found himself at a loss for words on the historic occasion.

The Italy of October 1922 was reeling from the impact of two years of economic chaos and civil disorder. The Italy of October 1922 is still a long way from the imperial grandeur that Mussolini promised to his Blackshirts twenty years ago. The Italian people face a winter that will bring shorter rations on food, clothing and fuel. Their peninsula has been overrun by a horde of German Gestapo agents and "advisers" who are fastening a cold Nazi grip on the Italian economy. Neutral observers believe that Hitler is about to demand outright control of certain Italian ports on the Adriatic.

Reports from inside Italy mention widespread dissatisfaction with the war and the government. Last week's R.A.F. raids on the congested industrial cities of Turin and Milan will not improve Italian morale. But popular revolt in the short end of the Axis must be ruled out as a possibility for the present and for some time to come. The groups opposing the Fascist regime are small in numbers and lack nation-wide organization, adequate arms, and training in modern street fighting. Their most capable leaders are in exile or in prison.

There is no indication that the leaders of the Italian army and of heavy industry have any urge to overthrow the Fascist party that they helped on the path to power in 1920-1922. These elements may criticize Il Duce and resent dictation from Berlin, but they will continue to support the Fascist regime for the same reason that they backed Mussolini in 1922: they fear that the collapse of Fascism would bring to Rome a Left-wing government that would lack Il Duce's respect for the traditional social order and the profit system.

To The Editor

Open letter to the male populace to the U. of I. I just noticed a couple of fellas wearing "levis" walking home from the Ad building. This uncommon sight set me to thinking. I looked again at their retreating figures—then down at my slacks with their doubtful crease and mused, "Wonder how much that'd save on cleaning and pressing?"

True, those "levis" did remind me of the farmers down my way, but what the heck, they still looked pretty good. When they're clean and they're worn with good-looking shirts and sweaters they seem to lend an air of careful casualness to the wearer—and don't misinterpret that word "air." It stands to reason that the six bucks the average fella spends for cleaning each month would be greatly reduced.

Okay—so I will confess. It's like this: I'm one of those birds that likes to wait until someone else makes the initial step before I try anything new. Guess I haven't any of that old pioneer spirit. As a parting statement I might bring to your attention the fact this is war (didn't you know?) and every buck saved Pop will help him pay his income tax! So if it isn't too much trouble, I'd sure like to see some more "levis" walking around the campus with bodies in them.

To The Editor:

It never fails to happen! Whenever I walk by a fraternity house someone leans out the window and starts singing at me "Take it off, take it off." Now, I don't mind this during Rush Week, but it has come to the point where it gives me a feeling of immodesty. Well, they needn't be so persistent about it. I like to have the boys sing to me but can't they think of something more romantic, and I don't mean "Amen."

Now, fellows, the Strip Polka may be all right for a poolroom, but it certainly has no place on a campus. And certainly not one as nice as the University of Idaho's. If you like that song, sing it to yourself, and don't go screaming it out the window. After all, it certainly isn't a pretty song. Take this hint, Men, and you will find a much happier female population attending the "U" than there has been in the past week. I admit we gals are not perfect but we at least don't tell you to undress every time you come down the street.

Here's More About—CHINESE

November, 1938, the Chinese government issued evacuation orders to the city schools.

Then began a hectic life that will never leave the mind of the Chinese boy. Nearly 800 students picked up their desks and their books, packed them on sampans, or river boats, and moved the entire school down the river and into the safety of the hills. Four times the students moved, always to some place temporarily hidden from Japanese bombs.

George remembers most vividly their stay in Goonyick in Hoysun province. The students had learned to calculate the time of day that Jap bombers might be expected over the countryside. As the drone of planes was heard in the clear summer sky, the instructor would call a study period. Immediately the students would gather up their books and scatter in all directions. Japs Strate Students

But the white summer uniforms of the students were perfect targets as they squirmed through the green rice fields. Enemy planes swooped low and strafed the fleeing students. Fortunately, there were never any casualties, and when the "study period" was over, the boys and girls would meet again at the appointed place, roll call would be taken, and the studies resumed.

After the beginning of the war in 1937, and until he left China three and a half years ago, George was one of the thousands of Red Cross boy workers in Southern China. During air raids, their duties were to drag the frightened women and children to hiding places in the bamboo fields, or to assist the wounded. Once they helped evacuate a girl's school, while Jap planes tried to bomb the iron factory less than 50 yards away.

Supplies Coming Faster

American aid was coming to China in enormous quantities when he left. International trucks were assembled at one camp in Canton, and were driven north as soon as they were ready, making room for hundreds more as the parts arrived from Hong Kong.

"We do not hate the Japanese people as individuals, for we are all the same under the skin," George said. "It is the Japanese war lords that we blame and hate for causing this war. We feel sure we will win."

And win this war we shall, if there are more Americans as eager and pleased as George Fong over a 1A classification.

Dean Olson Seeks Social Schedules

A request that all student and faculty organizations turn in a schedule of their social events and parties that they might be included in the campus events calendar, has been issued by the dean of women's office.

The calendar is published each Saturday morning and is distributed to all campus residences, university offices, and professors. Houses and halls are asked to have someone pick up their copies from the mail boxes, first floor Ad building.

Freshmen Sponsor Success Mixer

Over 360 sweater-clad freshmen attended the Frosh Sweater Party last Friday night in the Student Union ballroom, according to Henry Arrien, general chairman of the dance.

"It was a financial success, too," Arrien declared, "thanks to the help of the committees." Music was furnished by the Stardusters and Earl Hays of Twin Falls entertained at intermission with two piano solos. Assisting the chairman with arrangements were Harold Evans and Bob Miller, co-chairmen of ticket sales; Jean Kilpatrick and Ann Hite, decoration; J. T. Peterson and Walter Jain, publicity; and Marjorie Gooding and Jean Arderburg, intermission.

Weightlifter Calls For Prospects

Anyone interested in weightlifting is urged to report to the wrestling room tomorrow afternoon at 4:15, Roger Guernsey, student weightlifting instructor, announced last night.

The athletic department is furnishing a special weight-lifting room and is adding more equipment, Guernsey said. Guernsey stated that by commencing workouts early he hoped to develop enough strongmen to beat the WSC weightlifting team which shaded the Vandals last spring.

New Club Sponsors Book Donations

The Sentinel club, a newly-organized group composed of Christian Science students on the campus, is dedicating its first activities to the war effort. A scrap drive has already been held, and the club plans to purchase books from the Book of the Month club and donate them to the USO.

Firesides this week-end are scheduled to take place at the houses of Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Chi, Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi.

Pledge dances will be held at Delta Gamma and Delta Tau Delta, Friday evening and a semi-formal dance at Forney hall Saturday evening will complete the week.

Councils To Meet On 2 Campuses

The Pacific Coast Interfraternity Conference will be jointly entertained on November 20 and 21 by Washington State college and the University of Idaho, Gene Luntley announced yesterday.

The conference, which will include delegates from the interfraternity councils at Stanford, U.C.L.A., U.S.C., University of California, Oregon, Oregon State, Washington, Washington State and Idaho, will be held to discuss problems and arrange plans for the coming year.

Meetings will be held on both the WSC and Idaho campuses, and a banquet and dance are to be sponsored by Idaho.

Plans for the annual pledge banquet and for the joint participation in the Pacific Coast Interfraternity Conference will be discussed at an interfraternity council meeting Thursday night, October 22, at the Blue Bucket. The pledge banquet, tentatively scheduled for next week, is an annual affair to which all fraternity pledges are guests of honor.

Luncheon Honors National Head

Mrs. Lela Quintall, Portland, Ore., national vice president of Phi Chi Theta, national fraternity for business women, examined the local chapter Saturday, October 24. She is on an inspection tour of the universities in Idaho, Utah, and Colorado.

A luncheon given at the Moscow Hotel Saturday in honor of the guest was attended by Miss Ellen Rierson, associate professor and head of secretarial studies, and the members of Phi Chi Theta.

In the afternoon, meetings were held at Hays hall during which the chapter's plans for the year were discussed.

Student Recovers From Injuries

Robert Blandford, sophomore of Beta Theta Pi, is reported recovering as rapidly as possible from the back and internal injuries incurred by a fall from the sleeping porch of the fraternity house. Monday he was placed in a body cast in which he will remain for at least two weeks.

According to reports, Blandford will attempt to keep up in his classes while remaining in the infirmary.

Honorary Sponsors 'Mural Debate' Starting Monday

Intramural debate tournaments, sponsored by Delta Sigma Rho, honorary debating society, will get under way November 2 for men and November 9 for women. A double elimination procedure will be followed in determining the intramural champion, Helen Jean Brink, president, announced last night.

"Resolved: That the Federal Government should enact a 5% consumer and service tax," is the question to be contested by the women. Men's teams will argue the question of federal union and world policing in post-war reconstruction. Women's houses may enter either one of two teams, but each team must debate both affirmative and negative.

Rules Strict

No woman who has previously participated in a varsity debate is eligible for the intramural tournament. The mens division prohibits all those who have entered in either varsity or intramural competition.

Contests will be held at various group houses, with those on the affirmative team providing the place and a timer. Either a faculty member or three students will serve as judges.

A meeting of the teams is to be held Saturday in Room 207 of the Ad building where further details will be explained.

Women To Assist Red Cross Bandage Unit

University women will begin work for the surgical dressing unit of the American Red Cross today, Pauline Hawley, chairman of the project, said Wednesday. More than 300 women have signed up for this work and have been assigned special work hours.

"All groups on the campus have shown an excellent spirit of cooperation," Chairman Hawley said, "but there is room for more girls." Latah county quota is 124,000 dressings, besides those made for local use.

Women must either be at Red Cross headquarters (formerly the Smart Shop) at the hour assigned them, or send some qualified person in their places. After the first meeting, when specific instructions will be given, the women may go down to work at any time, but they must continue at the regular times as well.

Red Cross offices will be open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 7:30 to 10 p.m. A special table has been provided for university women.

While at work, all women must wear cotton dresses. A place at Red Cross headquarters has been provided where these dresses may be kept if women do not want to wear them except while on duty.

Other special instructions for workers include:

1. Wash your hands before coming to the table to work.
2. Wear a cotton dress, smock or uniform at all times while at work tables.
3. Hair is to be completely covered.
4. Remove nail polish.
5. Remove lipstick.

Assisting with the surgical dressing unit of the Red Cross is the first step in a program sponsored by AWS for University women to help in the all-out war effort. Other branches of activity will be opened soon in which university women may participate.

Pauline Hawley, as AWS organization chairman, is in charge of the war work program, assisted by Phyllis Lyon, Edith Jones, and Rena Echer. Mary Fran Marshall, representing Mortar Board, is working with this committee.

Catholics To Meet In Conference

Tuesday—masses at 6:30 and 7:20 a.m., with short talk between masses; afternoon talk at 4:15 p.m., and benediction and sermon at 7:30 p.m.

Dean of Women Beatrice Olson has granted women 9 p.m. permission for the Monday and Tuesday sessions.

Matrimony Unites Three Couples From University

Three weddings of interest to University of Idaho students were announced last week.

Miss Pauline Bulkley and John Holland, both students this year at the university, were married Monday afternoon in the Episcopal chapel. Mrs. Holland is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and was an active member of Spurs last year. Holland is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and is working for his master's degree, as well as serving as assistant instructor in the geology department.

Attending the couple were Virginia Young and Ray Greene. Others attending the wedding and wedding dinner were Kathleen Woodworth, Hal Hull and Art Chase.

Crutcher - Morris

Miss Jewell Morris became the bride of John Crutcher Sunday at a ceremony performed at her home in Cascade. Both were students at the University of Idaho last year.

Mrs. Crutcher is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, was elected Spur president, was AWS carnival queen, and was a member of Vandaleers. Crutcher was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. The couple will make their home in Kellogg.

Wallace - Ruchert

Lionel L. Wallace, former U. of I. student, and Miss Lois Ruchert of Pomeroy, Wash., were married last week in Spokane. Wallace attended the University of Idaho in 1939 and 1940, and is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

New Women Learn Honorary Aims

Campus organizations and honoraries were explained to more than 180 new women students at the annual Mortar Board tea last Friday afternoon at the Blue Bucket Inn. The groups sponsored individual exhibits to display their insignia and projects while different representatives explained the function and purpose of each.

Greeting the guests in the receiving line were Dean Beatrice Olson, Mrs. Harrison C. Dale, Rachel Swayne, president of Mortar Board, and Rena Echer, president of AWS.

Coffee and small cakes frosted in the black and yellow colors of Mortar Board were served. Pouring were Vera Nell Doane, Mrs. Louise Carter, Mrs. Gladys Babcock, and Miss Jean Collette. During the tea, piano music was furnished by Marvel Houx.

Helen Wilson was general chairman and Macey Mott was in charge of the table.

Idaho Trackmen Scattered From Brooklyn to Burma

Mike Ryan, Vandal track coach, has long advocated more emphasis on track and cross country as conditions for national defense, and figures on Idaho tracksters now in the armed services bear out the veteran mentor's contentions.

A host of Idaho track athletes are now serving Uncle Sam, most of whom are officers in the various branches.

Heading the list undoubtedly is Vice-Admiral Robert Ghorrmley, who was a member of Vandal cinder squads back in the early years of the twentieth century. Ghorrmley, currently the object of a week-long celebration in Moscow, was a sprinter for Idaho.

One ex-Vandal, Benard Peterson, has been lost in action. Peterson, a member of Mike Ryan's first Idaho cross country team, was a member of the Navy air corps. He was lost on an Atlantic patrol when his plane failed to return.

O'Neill in Marines

One of the all-time Idaho track greats, Bill O'Neill, is a major in the Marine corps, and was in charge of the Pensacola Marine base. O'Neill was one of the top distance runners on the coast, and left school before graduation to join the thinned forces of the San Francisco Olympic club.

O'Neill was a member of the Olympic club medley relay team which broke the world's record in 1936. The former Vandal ace ran his three-quarter mile stint in close to world record time. The ace was part of the Fresno relays and teammates of O'Neill in that brilliant performance were such greats as "Blazing" Ben Eastman of Stanford and Norman Bright of California.

Otto Tronowski, another of Ryan's pupils, is a member of the RAF. Tronowski was one of eight men who were luncheon guests of Queen Mary of England recently.

Ability to speak and read Polish and Russian fluently have come in handy for Tony Kamelevicz, who was a football and track man several years back. Kamelevicz is stationed somewhere in Europe with the U. S. Army Intelligence service.

Busby in Australia

Doug Busby, one of the best of Idaho's high hurdlers, is an army aviator. Formerly stationed in Alaska, he is now located in Australia.

George Whitlock, another football and track man, left school in 1941 for the army air corps. Whitlock is now stationed in India and has fought over the Mediterranean.

Theron Ward, a great Vandal track and football star and a law graduate, is now an army officer. Ward took part in the East-West Shrine game in 1936.

George Rich, holder of the Idaho indoor pole vault record, and a wingman on Vandal football squads, is a captain in the Marines. Milton "Dubby" Holt, assistant track coach in 1940 and a great sprinter in his own right, is now a Chief Petty officer in the Navy. Holt is stationed with Gene Tunney division of the Navy. Holt's career was full of broken records and brilliant performances.

Holt Was "White Hope"

As a high school student in Glendale, Calif., he shattered two of the state's prep marks. His 9.7 time in the 100-yard dash broke Frank Wycoff's old record, the same Wycoff of USC and Olympic fame. He also set a new mark in the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet, 3 1/2 inches.

In 1935 "Dubby" was the nation's white hope running against such stars as Jesse Owens and Eulace Peacock. He ran a dead heat with Owens in one race in 9.5. He was then competing for Fresno State, along with such teammates as Cornelius Warmerdam, the 15 foot pole vaulter; Elroy Robinson, first man to jump 6'9". Holt in 1935 finished second to California's George Anderson by six inches when seven times fearing the results in 9.2 seconds. Fearing ridicule they failed to report the result. Holt's career with Idaho was cut short when he was declared ineligible in the middle of the 1939 season.

One Man Team

Don Johnson, Idaho's one-man track team of a few years back, is now a first lieutenant in the army air corps, while Pat Propst, a distance runner for Ryan, is an officer in the army quartermaster corps.

Bill Piedmont, who competed in both football and track, is now a member of the army's Military Police in Fort Douglas, Utah. He is a brother of Joe Piedmont, Vandal tackle and javelin thrower.

Superior marksmanship and a high I.Q. combined to result in the entrance of Francis McGuire into Marine Officer's training school in San Diego. McGuire was a member of the undefeated Idaho cross country team last year. He had no inclination to enter officer's training, but was ordered to do so anyway.

Mcagher Holds Record

Bert Mcagher, another cross country man last year, is now at the St. Mary's Navy Pre-Flight school, and at last reports held the record for the three-quarter mile run there.

Ray Schultz, a javelin thrower last season, and Johnny Holloway, former Idaho sprinter are others who are stationed at the Pre-Flight school.

Earl Acuff, Darrell Kerby, Earl Gregory, and Kenny Woods, all track men, are now first lieutenants in the army stationed in the Aleutian islands, while Coach Ryan's two sons, Ben and Paul, are first lieutenants in Hawaii. Dick Slade, a great Idaho distance runner, is a first lieutenant in Australia.

Irv Alterwein, another distance man, is a Navy ensign stationed in the Brooklyn Navy yard. His teammate Al Cohen is a staff sergeant with the Glider pilots in New Mexico.

Clark Still in School

Dave Ellison, Russ Yorgenson, Bill Micklich, and Dale Clark, all cinder competitors for Idaho at one time or another, are in the Marine Corps. Clark is at the Marine Officer's school in Quantico, Va.

Ralph Garst, Lee Ragland, and Phil Leibowitz, are all members of the army air corps, while Sted Johnston is now awaiting call for the Navy air corps. Leibowitz, holder of numerous Idaho records, is now in the army air corps officer's training school at Miami, Fla. Ragland's brother, Jack, a sophomore quartermiler, is now in the army.

Dyrgall Is M. P.

Nelson Park, Dave Wilson, Bob McLaughlin, and Grant Humphrey, the latter a Utah State transfer, are former Idaho thincalcs now serving as officers in the army. Vandals who are serving in the regular army are Maurice Young, Roy Suominen, and Vic Dyrgall. Dyrgall, a native son of Brooklyn, and one of Idaho's all-time greats, is with the M.P.'s in Brooklyn.

Gene Read, sophomore pole-vaulter last year, is in the Naval air corps, while former sprinter Chuck Humphrey is a navy ensign. Sprint star Alan Poole is in a Canadian Officer's training school. Ed Harper, Vandal quart-ermiler in 1940, is a member of the coast guard. Chuck Bottiggi, a Maine contribution to Idaho athletics, is an army mechanic in Missouri.

Bob Dwyer, Idaho two-miler, is a member of the army Paratroops, while Vernon "Tootie" James, a former sprinter, is a member of the Geiger field band.

From Ghorrmley to Joe DiPippo, who is home awaiting his call, Vandal trackmen are scattered over the world in the armed services.

LEONARD BACK TO ALASKA

Jim Leonard, a former student of the University of Idaho, spent his two weeks leave in Moscow. He left Monday to return to his work on the Alaskan railroad where he has been with the United States Army Engineers for the past six months.

Eire's first internal airplane line recently began service between Dublin and Limerick.

Playing in front of the Administration building the Sigma Chi touchball team ran over ATO 13-6 last night to win the touch football championship for 1942.

Three teams met in the finals. Sigma Chi representing league I, Kappa Sigma from league II, and ATO, winners of league III. In the finals ATO defeated Kappa Sigma 19-0 and lost to Sigma Chi, who drew a first round bye, giving Sigma Chi first place, ATO second, and Kappa Sigma third.

First score of the championship game was made in the first half by ATO from John Ryan's pass to Norman Fried-

Mural Teams End Football Games

Thursday, in a playoff for a three way tie in League I, Sigma Chi defeated Sigma Nu 6-0 in a very tight game. ATO won League II championship by winning from the Betas 6-0. SAE defeated Idaho club I in a close game 13-12 and the Deltas forfeited to Idaho club II.

Monday, Sigma Chi won the right to play for the campus championship by winning from Delta Chi by one penetration after the game ended in a 6-6 tie. Sigma Nu won from the Phi Deltas 12-6 and Campus club II overwhelmed LDS 18-0. The Idaho clubs I and II fought it out on the field with Idaho club I winning 12-0 and Lindley hall won by a forfeit from Campus club I.

Tuesday, in final games played, Campus club I beat the Fijis 13-0. Delta Chi won from the Betas 12-0 and ATO defeated Kappa Sigma and won the right to meet the Sigma Chis in the championship game. Idaho club I forfeited to Delta Tau Delta.

Wednesday, in the playoff for fourth place Delta Chi won from Lindley hall 7-0. For seventh place SAE trounced Sigma Nu 25-0. Campus club II forfeited to the Tekes.

Volley ball will start Monday, Leon Greene, intramural director, announced yesterday.

Boxers To Begin Daily Drills

"Boxers should start getting in shape and the boxing room will be open every afternoon from 3.00 until 4.30," Bob Knox boxing mentor, announced last night.

"There are going to be some fights early in the season and it is imperative that both new and old men start training," Knox said.

The Idaho boxing team had a fairly successful season last year which ended in winning third place in the Pacific Coast championships.

Parker Addresses 70 Engineers

James W. Parker, president and general manager of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, addressed 70 engineering students Monday morning at a breakfast given in his honor.

All students in engineering were excused for his talk which highlighted the necessity of engineers being versatile when confronted by new problems.

Friday and Saturday, a board of five government engineers interviewed majors in engineering. The board represented the Reclamation Service, the Bremerton Navy Yard, the National Aeronautical, the National Advisory Research Committee and the U. S. Geodetic Survey.

Pro Prospect

Ray Turner, Vandal basketball star who broke the northern division scoring record last year, recently received offers from Oshkosh, world champion professional basketball team and the Sheboygan Red Skins, another professional team to play basketball this winter.

Turner regretfully turned both offers down because he is enlisted in the enlisted reserve corps. He has also been asked to play with a group of All Stars against the champion Oshkosh team in a game sponsored by the Chicago Herald American. Turner as yet does not know if he will be able to play.

Freshmen Lose 6-0 To Montana Team

Vandal Babes lost their first start of the season to a bigger, heavier Montana frosh team, 6-0, in a night contest last Friday at Kellogg. The Montana freshmen took advantage of a weak line and ran up 13 first downs to Idaho's 4.

Montana scored early in the second quarter, when Buckmiller, Montana quarterback, carried the ball on a lateral eight yards for a touchdown.

Idaho lost the services of Bob Barbour, right halfback, due to an injury early in the game. The overweighed line was unable to shake Jerry Williams, speedy halfback, loose once during the game.

The freshmen are now brushing up their offense and defense for the last frosh game of the season against Washington State, November 6.

Air Corps To Visit November 6-9

The examining board of the Army Air Corps Reserve has notified Dean of Men Lattig that they will be at the campus November 3 to 9, along with the representatives of other reserve programs.

"The examining boards will establish headquarters on the upper floor of the infirmary," Lattig stated, "provided that the space is not needed for hospitalization."

Lattig re-emphasized the necessity for all applicants to obtain their required documents including birth certificate, parent's consent affidavit, and draft board release by the time of enlistment.

Transfer students from other colleges and universities who were enlisted in any of the reserves before enrolling at Idaho are asked to notify the dean of men's office as soon as possible.

4-H To Cooperate With Red Cross

In keeping with the times, the university 4-H club adopted civilian defense work as its project for the year, Monday night. Vernon Ravenscroft spoke on 4-H clubs and their place in universities today.

Plans for 4-H defense work are already under way. Women members will roll bandages in cooperation with the local Red Cross unit. The entire group will correspond with former university men now in the service, at their regular bi-monthly meetings.

"Grizzly One-Two Punch"

Both Bill Leaphart, left, and Arnold Scott, right, have shown up well this year in the Grizzly backfield and will have much to do with the smooth operation characteristic of Montana's passing and running attack against Idaho.

Montana Cancels Harrier Meet

Mike Ryan, Vandal track coach, yesterday announced that the dual cross-country meet with Montana, scheduled for October 31, had been canceled. Cancellation was due to the fact that Montana at present has no track coach and there are not enough men turning out for the sport.

Idaho now has only three meets for the fall. The first meet for the harriers takes place against Whitman at Walla Walla with both freshman and varsity teams competing.

The traditional Washington State meet will take place in Moscow, November 14. Vandal freshman and varsity teams have only been beaten once in seven years in this meet, the varsity losing in 1939 and the frosh the next year.

The last meet of the season for both teams will take place in Spokane on Thanksgiving day when Idaho's entire squad will be entered in the Pacific Coast Conference meet sponsored by the Athletic Round Table of Spokane. A Vandal team will be entered in the varsity, freshman, and A.A.U. events.

Coach Ryan said that the first trials of the season would be held tomorrow. Both freshmen and varsity runners will run the 3-mile freshman course against time.

T. Davidson Gets Air Corp Wings

First Lieutenant Tilmer E. Davidson, Idaho graduate and former Moscow florist, recently received his air corps observer wings, according to Col. Stanton T. Smith, commanding officer at Brooks Field, Texas.

Davidson has been selected for intensive training in tactical coordination and observation from the air.

Rutledge Becomes Rifle Coach

Lieutenant Hugh M. Rutledge will be in charge of the rifle team this year, according to an announcement from the office of Col. Charles W. Jones. Lieutenant Rutledge replaces Lieutenant Otto Nelson, who was transferred to Camp Roberts recently.

The nucleus of this year's team has been practicing since Monday, Lieutenant Rutledge said. A general call for men will be made when the university receives its allotment of ammunition.

Thus far various challenges have been received by the defending corps area championship team. However, none will be accepted until the ammunition arrives.

Gridders Entrain Today For 'Brown Jug' Fray

Travel weary Idaho Vandals entrain this afternoon for Missoula to meet the Montana Grizzlies in the sixth game of a schedule full of road trips, Francis Schmidt, football coach, announced last night.

The Vandals are gunning for their first Pacific Coast conference win and will try to bring back the traditional brown jug which Montana has retained for the last two years.

Presenting Montana's effective passing and running attack will be six-foot, 190 pound fullback Dic Kern, and two good running and passing halfbacks, Bowman and Scott.

Dean Lewis who received a head injury while playing against Stanford is still out of the lineup. Hank Crowley and Dan Davidoff are still on the injury list and the team has faced four consecutive road trips.

Idaho will be further handicapped by not having much rest or practice, Schmidt said.

The team will be bolstered by the return of Pete Hecomovich to the backfield.

Idaho threatened Oregon several times and failed to score from the six-yard line on one occasion. Original plans allowed the Vandals to get in one more practice session before leaving for Missoula, but a recent wartime transportation ruling will not permit a Pullman car to be held over in Spokane, forcing the team to leave Thursday instead of Friday.

Scientific research in Britain has given the allies many powerful weapons of war. British scientists invented and perfected "radiolocation," a revolutionary discovery in the detection of approaching aircraft.
