

Three Assemblies Scheduled For Idaho Students

President Returns To Discover His Desk Spindle Filled

Speakers To Explain Current Events On China, Aeronautics, and Draft

The Bucket Changes Hands

Three meetings of assembly-proportions are slated for the near future to keep Idaho students up-to-date on current affairs. Classes will not be excused for each gathering but all students are welcome to attend. A speaker on Chinese affairs, one to explain the future of aeronautics, and an all-male assembly conducted by President Harrison C. Dale will complete the sessions.

Tomorrow faculty members, their wives, and all interested students will listen to Miss J. Brown's account of her recent 7,000 mile trip through the interior of China. Miss Brown, who will speak at 3 p.m. in room 110, Science building, made the trip under the auspices of the American Association of University Women to study the work of Chinese industrial cooperatives.

ASUI To Present First Drama This Week End

Shooting scrapes and knife play, robbery and intrigue, "country" comedy, intense love, and bitter heartbreak, all presented in true melodramatic style, enliven the plot of "No Mother To Guide Her," ASUI play to be given Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 o'clock. There are still an unusually large number of reserved seats available at the SUB bookstore for ASUI activity ticket No. 3.

A preview of "No Mother To Guide Her" was presented over KRRC, Lewiston broadcasting station, a 7:30 last night. The broadcast was composed of short scenes from Act I of the play.

Kenneth Lemon, Marion Wilson, Ralph Joslyn and Ed Dalva from the cast, and Joyce Beadles, piano accompanist, appeared on the program.

Eighteen Sign Up In Reserves; Marines Get Five

Eighteen university men were enlisted in the army, navy, and marine reserve corps up to last night by traveling boards which will be operating on the campus until November 9.

The final army air corps mental exam will be given to a group of 30 or less at 1 o'clock today in A.D. 311. Those taking the mental exam will be excused from classes, and those passing the mental are eligible to take the physical exam given by the enlisting board on the infirmary's third floor.

Mental exams are not necessary for men attempting to enlist in V1, V7, V5, or the marine reserve corps and they can take physical exams on the third floor of the infirmary all week.

Enlistments in the E.R.S. are continuing through Lt. Col. Charles W. Jones. Lt. P. T. Washburn represents the E.R.C. and will be on the campus all week to answer questions in an office adjacent to the military department.

Legal papers and documents are not necessary for students to take the mental exam for the air corps reserve but will be needed for students who are being sworn in.

Enlistments were: U. S. marine corps reserve: Al-Jen Feld, Wesley Deist, Jr., Dale Price, Ray Engbersen, Patrick Wilson. Second Lieutenant A. G. Bryan, U. S. marine corps, was the officer in charge of recruiting.

President Harrison C. Dale, who returned to the campus Saturday after several week's absence, has been a very busy man these days getting university business off the spindle in his office.

Lengthy conferences with navy officials have taken much of his time during the past two days. An announcement concerning new developments in regard to the naval radio school stationed on the campus is expected to come out of the meetings.

All other appointment dates on the president's book have been taken by university and student officials with matters necessitating his attention.

As soon as the pending draft bill is finally passed upon, President Dale expects to call an all-campus assembly for the purpose of clarifying the effects of the law. He will also divulge what other information he was able to learn from army and navy officials during his visit to the East.

While visiting in Washington, D. C., President Dale was able to secure priorities for materials to complete the dairy and engineering laboratory buildings.

He visited the navy-operated radio school at Norotum, Conn., after which the Idaho unit is patterned. In Chicago, he attended the conventions of the Association of State Universities and the Association of Land Grant Colleges.

He also predicted that present 16-year-olds will see overseas fighting before the war is over.

President Dale Announces Appointments Of Twelve Faculty Instructors

Idaho students have been greeted in their classes by many new instructors this fall as the result of 12 recent university staff appointments, which President Harrison C. Dale officially announced Tuesday, subject to final approval by the board of regents.

Six of the new people replace faculty members who have entered civilian and military war service since September. None of the changes involves a rank higher than that of instructor.

The new appointees follow: Dr. Mildred Burlingame, instructor in psychology. She received her A. B. and M. A. degrees from Stanford university and her Ph.D. degree from the University of Minnesota. Her last teaching position was as an assistant professorship at San Diego State college. She replaces Dr. W. H. Boyer, on leave as an army psychologist.

James Dalton, instructor in civil engineering, replacing Allen S. Janssen, granted leave of absence to accept a commission in the U. S. navy's civil engineering corps. Mr. Dalton, a 1940 university graduate, has been employed as an engineer by the Idaho bureau of highways.

Virgil B. Fielder, assistant economist, Idaho agricultural experiment station, replacing Leo J. Fenske, resigned. Mr. Fielder is a graduate of the University of Illinois, where he has done advanced work toward a doctorate degree. Since 1935 he has been state land use planning specialist in Illinois.

Dr. Gerhart Friedlander, instructor in chemistry, replacing Dr. V. L. Coulter, resigned. He received his Ph.D. degree last spring at the University of California, where he since has been a staff member.

Chester R. Kerr, manager of the Blue Bucket Inn, student union restaurant. Mr. Kerr attended the university two years, and during most of the past 14 years has been associated with another campus eating establishment. He replaces

ASUI Board Picks Sweaters For Yell Team

Yell team sweater recommendations dominated a full slate of business which ASUI executive board members waded through Tuesday night at a regular meeting. Assembly committee, "Victory" committee and election board committee reports were reviewed, and other items of business acted upon.

Board members decided that 25 cent defense stamps to be purchased by each person at the door would be admission to the first ASUI dance of the year, November 13. ASUI activity books will also be necessary, it was decided.

Passing upon the recommendations of a committee, board members decided that: 1. Two sweaters be awarded, one for Yell King and one for Yell Queen, to conform with the following description; Pullover, crew neck, yellow in color trimmed in pearl to simulate silver and gold, with yell emblem in front.

2. All yell uniforms be the property of the ASUI and be handed down from year to year, with Yell King and Queen furnishing for themselves pants and skirts respectively of color agreeable to the rally committee.

3. Upon recommendation of the executive board, the Yell King and Queen be given sweater awards.

Reporter Presents Gloomy Picture Of Pacific Setting

Interested students and members of the faculty listened to Hallet Abend, New York Times correspondent who recently completed a 38,000 mile trip by clipper plane over the Pacific war theatre, paint a very dark picture of the war being carried on by allied forces in the islands of the Pacific.

In talking of each of the "Ramparts of the Pacific" which he visited Abend said that he found too much "cocksureness" and a complete feeling of safety in all of the allied strongholds.

We underestimated the ability of Japan to transport troops and supplies. Due to a breakdown in our intelligence departments, we believed the Japanese to be able to transport 125,000 men and they actually transported 450,000 men and necessary supplies.

He also predicted that present 16-year-olds will see overseas fighting before the war is over.

'Blonde Bomber' Still Dishes It Out To Opponents

When university fight fans of several years ago dubbed their school heavy-weight "The Blonde Bomber" they didn't realize Dame Fate would decree that the nickname would fit to the "nth" degree. Yet when Captain Carl L. Killian recently led an American squadron of bombers in a raid over a German forward fighter station south of El Daba, Africa, he was more than ever "The Blonde Bomber" of his college days.

Fighting had been Captain Killian's specialty when attending the University of Idaho and he was a consistent winner, reaching the National Collegiate finals during his boxing career.

Group Hears Martin Tell Slap-A-Jap Club's Idea

At the first meeting of the newly-formed Slap-A-Jap club Tuesday night, Chairman Ben Martin outlined the plans of the organization.

"Our purpose is not to actually sell war bonds and stamps but to stand behind the Minute Maids and to help them in every way possible," Martin said.

Attending the meeting were representatives from almost all living groups on the campus. They were instructed by Martin to contact every person living in the houses and halls represented and to pass out to them the pledge papers and membership cards.

The signed pledge sheet stating that the individual will purchase a certain amount of war stamps each month, entitles him to a membership card. Expect $3000 Quota

"If everyone on the campus cooperates to the extent that we feel they should, the minimum quota in stamps and bonds will be $3,000 but we are hoping for an unlimited sale," Martin stated.

Representatives attending were: Alpha Phi, Carmelita Guernsey; Alpha Chi Omega, Vi Wickes; Delta Delta, Elizabeth Wallace; Delta Gamma, Jeanne Hunter; Gamma Pi Beta, Beverly Weber; Kappa Alpha Theta, Helen Jean Davis; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Peggy Tway; Pi Beta Phi, Joy Garfield; Hays hall, Edith Marler.

Ridenbaugh hall, Barbara Ravenscroft; Alpha Tau Omega, Howell Johnson; Phi Delta Theta, Roy Brookhart; Kappa Sigma, Ben Martin; Delta Chi, Harry Mosman; Phi Gamma Delta, Bill Richardson.

Mr. Homer Loh, traveling secretary for the World Student Service Fund, will tell of his experiences in China at an inter-church rally Sunday, at the Presbyterian church.

Killian held the Pacific Coast heavyweight title in his junior year at Idaho and was runner-up to the National champion the same Spring. He co-captained Idaho's mitt team in 1939-40, the beginning of Idaho's "golden era" of boxing, but a throat infection caused him to quit the ring in his senior year.

The curly-headed champion was as active in campus organizations as he was in the ring. He held memberships in Blue Key, Scabbard and Blade, Alpha Phi Chi, the "I" Club, and the Inter-fraternity council.

Cold, Hard Facts

What he had to say hit hard, and when Mr. Analyst Abend concluded his talk Monday morning his audience left the gym thinking a little more seriously about this war we're in. Terse and quietly he presented his facts and let the weight of what he was putting across sink in as it would. A little grim, perhaps, but a better slant than the smoothly worded pepper-upper broadcasts and newspaper columns with which we've been bolstering our national ego.

Not a moment of the hour he talked did he bend down to soften the blow of his words or to put his speech on the phantom 'college level' . . . and we lapped it up. Assuming that we could follow his chain of thought without a simplified version, and assuming that we understood the nature of the Pacific war, he proceeded to talk as if it were important for a college audience to realize the heavy casualty losses in China, the futility of hoping for an easy win over Japan, and the vastness of the war effort yet to come.

He had hard facts to talk about, and he talked about them, and we listened.

Communique Comment

Reports in the European press on the congressional elections show how closely our allies across the Atlantic are watching political trends in the U.S. The British and their neighbors now realize that the republican party may go on to win control of congress and the presidency in 1944. They are wondering whether the G.O.P. is turning aside from its traditional policy of no peace-time entanglements in world affairs. Willkie's words have given them hope that the shades of Henry Cabot Lodge and Borah no longer dominate the councils of the Hoosier party.

More than a few Britishers have developed a prejudice against the G.O.P. since 1919. They remind themselves that republican opposition wrecked Wilson's dream of U.S. entrance into the league of nations and contributed to European instability in the two decades after the first world war. They hold the republican party responsible for the U.S. tariff acts of 1922 and 1930, which (in their honest opinion) set the stage for the rampant economic nationalism that led directly to the second world war.

The masters of the Kremlin were impressed by the sincerity of Willkie on his recent visit to Moscow, but they look with suspicion on the party to which he belongs. The soviet leaders recall the blunt refusals of the Harding, Coolidge and Hoover administrations to recognize the de facto government of 160 million Russians, in the period 1921-1933. Stalin and his colleagues evidently doubt the willingness of a republican president and senate to honor, after the war, agreements made by the U.S.A. with the U.S.S.R. in the stress of the conflict.

Willkie is forming within the G.O.P. a group that is determined to swing the minority party to a policy of international co-operation after the war. His "loyal opposition" to Roosevelt sounds like a sell-out to the Hyde Park squire, to some of the republican old guard, and Dewey's cautious vagueness in regard to foreign policy seems to find wider favor in G.O.P. ranks. But new members of the republican bloc in congress may line up with the Hoosier globe-trotter, Claire Booth Luce, photogenic helpmate to Timetycoon Henry R. Luce, can be included in Willkie's congressional following; her campaign speeches indicated her modest willingness to accept the state department post in his 1945 cabinet.

A TRIADE ON LEVIS

"Once again the men (?) of OSC are laboring under the illusion that they have reached the last twig in the latest logs for smart little (literally) boomer boys. Last year it was cruise blues which were tailored on parallel lines; but oh, no—nothing so conventional as that this year—this season we are featuring the cow-boy's second skin, originated by some rustic Schiaparelli from deep in the heart of that second hand, hand-me-down land, from sunny California—blue jeans. E-gad, fellas, you could at least be original!"

Physique doesn't seem to enter the picture at all—jeans seem to be the passion of long, lean lads and short, fat, fellows and both types look as though they had a bad case of the rickets when they were very small. It's all very well to look as though one had spent the better half of his growing years a-straddle a barrel, but there is no point in advertising it by waddling around looking like an Okie in a pair of jeans.

Relax, fellas, it's just little old Pete Kalamarides, scaring nobody but himself as he swings that stick. He's just a week-old rookie at law enforcement here in Moscow. But ask a campus veteran like Don Grey or Bob Briggs if you really want to get the low down on the crime wave in Moscow, Idaho.

Which all boils down to the fact that the Moscow police department has had some changes made, and now lists Don Grey, junior in zoology, and Pete Kalamarides, junior in "No Mother to Guide Her," as embryonic policemen.

They're still in their probation period, but they wear all the outer signs of a "bull." Visored cap, blue uniforms, night stick, gun, whistle, and last but not least—that spottish, shining badge (plug for Dutch Cleanser) which is the joy of every manly chest that bears it.

Don Grey is a policeman, mortician, and student all rolled into one busy individual. He works the "owl" shift at the police department and is available at call to the local mortuary. In his spare time he carries 14 hours at the university.

Don spent his summer alternating between policing the campus and the town. With his radio operator's license, he is also "on the desk," taking turns with walking a beat (collecting a few bikes and sleeping drunks) and riding the patrol car.

Pete's Brooklyn Trained
 Now we'll take up the case of Pete Kalamarides. Brooklyn taught him the rudiments of law enforcement via the Holmes Electric Company, where he was a private patrolman. Pete passed his New York City police test—then he came west. Picking up stray dogs, sailors, and demon drivers keep this patrolboy busy.

Last but not least in our roster of potential crime-breakers is Bob Briggs. Bob was sworn in by the Moscow Police department for the

Students Chosen As Salesmen For Yearbook

Gem sales by house representatives will begin next week with the aim of reaching or surpassing the 1800 copy annual quota of year-books sold before Christmas vacation, according to Business Manager Bill Campbell.

Representatives from all living groups will meet Monday with Campbell and Sales Manager Hank Noel to receive sales books and instructions, Campbell said. "Due early deadlines this year, the period for sales will be much shorter than before and those students who want their 1943 Gems should act now."

A Gem representative in the Rd building's main hall will give off-campus students a chance to buy their Gems and will be stationed there on Tuesdays and Thursdays and between 1 o'clock and 4 o'clock in the afternoons.

Individual picture taking is nearly completed and arrangements are being made for students who have not yet had pictures taken or who missed appointments when their groups were scheduled.

Debates To Begin For Women Monday Evening

Six teams will compete this year for the women's intra-mural debate cup in the tournament beginning Monday evening at 7:30. They are Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Phi, Ofney hall, and Kappa Alpha Theta, last year's winner.

Women's debate question is "Resolved: That the federal government should adopt a 5 per cent federal sales tax and consumer's tax."

Teams debating the affirmative side of the question will be hosted in each instance. No audience will be allowed other than the two teams, the judge, the chairman and timekeeper. Debates will be judged by a faculty member.

Eligibility Rules
 Women's intra-mural debate is open to any women on the campus who has not previously taken part in an intra-mural debate at the University of Idaho, or in a collegiate debate on the University of Idaho campus or on any other University of Idaho team.

Each team entered must be prepared to debate both sides of the question, or two teams may enter from a single residence, with two women debating affirmative and two negative.

First Round
 Schedule for first round of debates to begin Monday evening at 7:30 is:

Section A—Kappa Alpha Theta, affirmative; Alpha Chi Omega, negative.

Section B—Forney hall, affirmative; Gamma Phi Beta, negative.

Section C—Delta Gamma, affirmative; Alpha Phi, negative.

Minute Maids Launch Initial Stamp Drive

SAI Will Salvage Old Records Saturday

Wait. . . don't shatter those platters. Old, unwanted records are a vital scrap in the national salvage drive, and Sigma Alpha Iota members will be around to collect them Saturday afternoon.

So sort out those dented disks. The scratchy recordings of Sophie Tucker and Gene Autry. . . the "too fast" or "too slow" numbers that gripe you when they turn up at an exchange.

Set them aside for members of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music honorary, who will call at each campus residence, Saturday.

Get rid of those "Blues In The Night". . . give them to the SAI "Record Session."

White collars over dark dresses and blue headbands marked with a white "V for victory" constitute the Maids' costume. Their stamps are carried in small "Blue Buckets."

The Minute Maids are scheduled to appear at the theatres between features on Wednesday and Sunday nights; at the Bucket every Wednesday between 4:30 and 5:00, and at the ASUI plays Friday and Saturday nights.

November 17 is the date set for their visit to Alpha Tau Omega, Campus Club, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, and Sigma Chi.

Members are Helen Jean Brink, Delta Gamma, president; Elaine Anderson, Forney hall, vice president; Ruth Specht, Kappa Kappa Gamma, secretary; Paity Ann Oxley, Gamma Phi Beta, treasurer.

Before you call Long Distance, please ask yourself:

1. Is it really necessary?
 2. Will it interfere with war calls?

TELEPHONE lines—especially Long Distance circuits—are crowded as never before, these war days. Materials to build new lines—copper, rubber, nickel—are needed for the shooting war. So we must get the most out of present facilities.

You can help us keep the wires clear for vital war calls if you will do these two things: (1) Don't call Long Distance unless it's urgent; (2) Call by number if possible and please be brief. Thank you!

Vandals Drill For WSC After 21-0 Win Over Montana

Idaho Abandons Cellar for Grizzlies; Rests for Final "Civil War" Game

By CLARK CHANDLER

Encouraged by a 21-0 victory over the Montana State university Grizzlies at Missoula last week, Vandal footballers were resting this weekend and brushing up on offensive and defensive play for the traditional battle of the Palouse hills with Washington State, Coach Francis Schmidt said last night.

Washington State meets Michigan State in a tough inter-sectional game at Gonzaga stadium this weekend and if all other factors were even the additional rest would give Idaho an advantage.

Still, Idaho hasn't defeated Washington State since 1925 and as always the case will be pulling everything out of the bag in an effort to break this string of WSC victories.

"Off-tackle plays and reverse plays worked well against Montana showing that Idaho is shaping up well," Schmidt said, then added: "We'll practice indoors during extremely bad weather."

Idaho's Best Game

"We played our best ball this year against Montana and the score wasn't a result of breaks. We outfought, outcharged and outplayed Montana the whole game, Football Mentor Francis Schmidt, said last night.

Both teams played remarkably well considering the weather, which was so wet that it was necessary to throw a dry ball into the game after every play.

Every touchdown was made via the aerial route and Idaho's first score came in the first quarter as Hecomovich caught Davis' pass over the goal line. This was Hecomovich's first touchdown in three years of team play and to the blocking back it presented quite a thrill.

The most sensational play of the game came in the second quarter when Merlin Aldred caught a Davis pass in his outstretched fingertips, stumbled for five yards, spun out of one tackler's arms to be hit by another tackler, spun again and went over for the score. In third quarter play Johnny Evans, sophomore end who played good ball all day, caught a pass from Manson to score the final touchdown. Charles Thomas carried the ball in one of the longest runs of the day to the one foot line just as the gun ending the game sounded.

Montana Threatens Twice

Montana threatened just before the end of the first half and forced the ball to the one foot line on one occasion and a little later to the four yard line, not only to be held, but actually pushed back by Idaho who took the ball on downs.

Earl Chandler was outstanding Idaho man in defensive action, being responsible for many disrupted Montana end-around runs. Pete Hecomovich played an outstanding game while playing the entire 60 minutes. Bowman and Berger were Montana's main threats.

Idaho outroughed the Grizzlies 272 yards to 128 and outpassed them 68 to 34.

Hank Crowley, who received a spine injury, and Joe Malta, who injured an arm, were the only casualties resulting from the game.

Northern division statisticians are giving Charles Plastino, Vandal halfback, the benefit of a doubt which labels him as one of the outstanding place kickers on the coast.

"Chuck," who was a member of last year's undefeated freshman team, attempted to kick a try for point during the Cheney normal game which was blocked, picked up by Earl Chandler and ran over for the point.

Statisticians are evidently giving him credit for the kick which gives him eight successful boots out of eight attempts. Seven successful attempts out of eight is quite an accomplishment.

Volley Ball Begins For Muralists

Snow is flying in the air, the touchball season ended and intramural sports moved indoors with the start of volleyball last Monday.

Because players are yet unaccustomed to the indoor courts the opening games have been one-sided, but gives promise of some very exciting games in the future, Leon Green, intramural director, said last night.

On the first day, Monday, Lindley Hall I won from the Idaho club II in a close contest, 8-15, 15-9, 17-15. The ATO's defeated the LDS, 15-10, 15-9, and Delta Tau Delta won from Sigma Nu 15-5, 15-5. Sigma Chi beat Delta Chi 15-3, 15-0.

On Tuesday, Lindley hall II defeated Idaho club I after they were battled all the way, by the score 14-16, 18-16, 15-10. The Fijis defeated the Kappa Sigs 15-10, 16-14 as the SAE's took the Teke's into camp 15-4, 13-15, 15-3. The Idaho club II trounced the Campus club I 15-3, 15-6.

Wednesday, the games were all one sided as ATO overwhelmed the Campus club II 15-0, 15-0, and Sigma Nu did the same with TMA, the score being 15-0, 15-0. Delta Tau Delta won from LDS 15-7, 15-12, and the Beta's lost to the Phi Deltas by a forfeit.

Classes Elect WAA Team Captains

Tentative class teams for soccer will be chosen today so that the classes can get some practice together before the final selection of teams and the beginning of the women's soccer tournaments.

The class teams will be selected officially next Tuesday, Kathleen Woodworth, WAA soccer manager, has announced, and the playoffs between the classes will begin the following week.

Team captains chosen are Margaret Kerby, freshmen; Florence Marshall, sophomore; Helen Dittman, junior; and Lillian Farrell, senior.

Since practices began over 130 women have turned out for this first WAA team sport.

Harriers Entrain For Whitman Missionary Meet

Vandal harriers will finish preliminary training this week for Whitman meet, and Mike Ryan, Idaho track coach, takes his charges to Walla Walla tomorrow morning to meet the consistently strong Missionaries.

Last year the Vandals defeated the Missionaries by a score of 20-43 in the varsity event and 20-35 in the freshman event. Griffin of Whitman won the meet.

The team will leave early Friday morning and will be back Friday evening.

Ryan saw his men work out for the first time this year last Tuesday and Wednesday. At other times he has been busy as trainer for the football team. The first time-trials of the season were held Friday afternoon and Ryan expressed satisfaction in the times reported.

Rain Spoils Trial

This week will be devoted to speed work, according to Ryan. The rain on Monday spoiled the contemplated 2-mile race but it was held the next day.

After this meet, the hill-and-dalers will concentrate on speed work in preparation for the Washington State meet.

Both varsity and freshmen men making the trip to Walla Walla will be chosen from the men named above.

Men Will Debate Third Round

With results of the second round still incomplete, the men's debate tournament swings into the third session tonight with the Idaho club team already eliminated.

Outcomes of the debates so far show the SAE, Kappa Sig, and Fiji teams undefeated, as a result of their debates with the Beta, Sigma Nu, and Idaho club men. Following a double-elimination procedure, the Idaho club team was eliminated after losing a second debate to the Betas last night.

Concluding the second round this afternoon, the SAE team will meet the Sigma Nus, with another debate scheduled between the Kappa Sigs and Fijis.

WAA To Pick Heads At Next Meeting

WAA will hold a general meeting November 17 at the Women's gym to elect four new managers. Vacancies open are basketball, swimming, archery, and rifle managerships.

Women must have 100 points in WAA to be eligible to vote.

A student makes his bed and has to lie in it. A professor makes his bunk and has to lie out of it.

Back On The Shelf

Ill-concealed elation is discernible upon the faces of Coach Francis A. Schmidt as he paints a bold "Idaho 21, Montana 0" on the traditional Brown Stein; Left Halfback Ray Davis as he holds the paint; and Right Halfback Earl Chandler as he holds the Stein itself. The last time Vandal gridmen fondled the coveted "mug" was in 1939. Montana State university won both games during the 1940 and 1941 seasons.

Miss Wirt Visits Camp Lewis

Miss Jeanette Wirt, associate professor and head of the department of physical education for women returned this week from Camp Lewis, Wash., where she observed the recreational program for the hospital wards and the ambulatory patients.

The program at the camp consists of providing materials for crafts, reading, music, inactive games, and arranging special entertainment. Miss Wirt contributed to the latter by showing moving pictures of her Far Eastern travels.

While at Camp Lewis, Miss Wirt was the guest of Josephine Keane Sheppard, Red Cross supervisor of the camp. Mrs. Sheppard was a former Idaho student and while here she was president of WAA and founded Dalda Tau Gamma.

Seniors Will Teach Physical Fitness

As a part of the civilian defense program of Moscow, a group of six senior women will rotate as teachers and assistants for a class in physical fitness for local women. Students contributing to this program are Patricia Unternahrer, Phyllis Paynter, Ruth Ellen Jackson, Betsy Ross, Caroline Williams, and Doris Johnson.

The lessons were drawn up as a professional project by students in the department of physical education for women last spring, and were designed to make women better able to stand the extra demand of war-time emergencies.

Classes started yesterday evening at the Moscow high school, and will continue for a series of 18 lessons.

The Fifth Quarter

by clark chandler

Dayle Molen who wrote the last column appearing on this page two weeks ago and who is now in the army at Ft. Douglas, Utah, offered the much talked over idea that Idaho and Montana being outclassed in their present conference seek to enter the Rocky Mountain conference.

Molen felt that Idaho would gain financially as well as in prestige. True, Idaho is at the present time hopelessly outclassed and something should be done, but merely changing conferences will not alter the situation. Molen did not present the whole situation involving Idaho athletic teams and the proposed change of football conferences.

Idaho could probably become more prominent in such a league because it is the opinion of many that Idaho would soon dominate the Rocky Mountain conference in spite of the fact that Idaho and Utah teams have been playing on a fairly even basis the last few years. It must be remembered that Idaho is playing in a conference that is much faster and offers much more competition than that of the Rocky Mountain conference.

As for financial gains Idaho couldn't hope to do much better because prospective Idaho football crowds are geographically connected with the Pacific Coast and that is where their interest lies. Idaho is poorly connected with Utah and states to the east. There is no other conference that could offer Idaho any competition.

Cooperation between Northern and Southern Idaho would do more to improve Idaho teams than to change conferences. A little more money appropriated to the university would work wonders with the whole institution. A closer relationship between high

Vandal Frosh To Battle WSC Friday In Final Game of Season

Hoopmen To Begin Daily Drills On November 9

Idaho varsity basketball prospects have been working out at night this week, with five lettermen in the opening turnout. Coach Guy Wicks is busy with his duties as frosh football coach, thus necessitating night practice sessions. However, starting Monday, November 9, regular practice will start at 4 o'clock.

Returning lettermen are Cliff Benson, Von Hopkins, Jack Newell, Bob Rosenberry and Norman Fredekind.

The practice sessions this week have been devoted merely to preliminary conditioning and accustoming the men to the floor, Wicks said. The first game has been tentatively set for December 8 with Lewiston normal.

Quinn Back Again

Fred Quinn, on last year's ineligible list, has reported, and is slated to replace Ray Turner, northern division record holder, at the center position. Bob O'Conner, of the frosh team two years ago, is also turning out this year.

From last year's frosh squad, Bill Jonas, Bob Stratton, Ray Obendorf, and Bob Ryan are out, and John Evans is expected to report after football season is over. Transfers Bolster Teams Several transfers are out to bolster the Vandal squad this year. Ken McColms from Albion normal, Tom Collins, Boise junior college; Phil Presnell, Lewiston normal, and Dale Dykeman, from the Southern branch, are transfers. Dykeman will report at the end of the football season.

A tour for the team during Christmas vacation is planned, in which the Vandals will meet several southern Idaho schools and play in a round robin tournament in Montana. Idaho's conference schedule opens with Oregon here, January 12.

schools and the state university would do much to draw talent to Idaho. There has been practically no such a relationship in Southern Idaho.

More University of Idaho publicity in Southern Idaho newspapers would also aid immensely. At the present time, with very few exceptions Idaho receives more publicity from out of state newspapers than she does from Southern Idaho papers. Increased publicity and a closer relationship with high schools would do much to stop the annual trek of Idaho youth to Utah schools. Look at the team rosters of Utah teams and you find the names of many Idaho men. Utah State has five Idaho men on its starting football lineup.

The Vandal yearlings will close their 1942 grid season tomorrow in Neale stadium at 2 p.m. against the WSC freshmen. Idaho defeated the Cougar Kittens 13 to 7 in a tight contest at Pullman last year.

"With most formerly injured players now back in the lineup, our team will be at its strongest this season," said Coach Guy Wicks.

"Washington State apparently has a strong frosh team this year. They held Eastern Washington normal to a 7 to 0 score last Saturday on a muddy field," Wicks said.

Tryouts Scheduled By Lt. Rutledge

Lieutenant Hugh Rutledge, rifle team coach, yesterday announced that the rifle team will be open for sophomore and junior tryouts next week. Practice so far has been confined to old team members, members of high school rifle team members, and men who have fired in N.R.A. matches.

With the arrival of the university's allotment of ammunition, the team will now accept sophomores and juniors interested in trying out for the team. Freshmen will be allowed to turn out after they have had the course in marksmanship given by the military department.

Foresters Elect Dick Hodder

Dick Hodder was elected to represent the junior class members of the Idaho Foresters, at a meeting of the foresters Monday evening. He will fill the vacancy left by Bob Walkley.

Forestry seniors gave short talks on their various jobs during last summer, which spread them from California to New Hampshire. They also presented a comedy skit, "Bookworms vs. Faculty Parasites."

Smoke gets in THEIR eyes!

UNION PACIFIC

Furnace fires glow and smoke surges from the stacks of thousands of industrial plants producing an ever-increasing quantity of planes, tanks, guns and other implements of war. That's the smoke that gets in the eyes of the Axis.

Raw materials and completed units are loaded on long rows of freight cars, go rumbling across country in a never-ending procession, hauled by gigantic locomotives followed by trails of smoke—smoke that smarts the eyes of Hitler and Hirohito.

Smoke 'em out!—that's our job. Union Pacific, the Strategic Middle Route connecting West with East, is doing its part by "keeping 'em rolling." Thousands of Union Pacific employees are working tirelessly—and buying War Bonds generously—for victory!
