The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

DISCRIMINATION DIATRIBE

Seated before his trusty Underwood, Jason was painfully aware that the paper sheet he'd inserted under the roller some ten minutes before was still blank. Campus news had been scanty during the week, and the Golden Fleece's views on the same was proving scantier.

"But in the process of playing tic-tac-toe on the keys, Jason was interrupted by the entrance of Kitty Fool, the campus 'cat.' Kitty's arched eyebrows betrayed her intentions, and Jason winced as he wondered who was going to get claved this time.

"Have you heard about all of the sorority women who were seen dating sailors at a local USO function recently," Kitty purred. Jason was about to interpose with an emphatic "so what?" when Kitty meowed on:

"I suppose it's our patriotic duty to entertain them, but gracious, does everyone have to admit they're having a good time in the process?" she said. "Even if most of them are nice fellows, one hears so many stories. I think we women ought to stay in our own set and the sailors in theirs."

Kitty had evidently scratched her last for the moment but before Jason could get a sharp word or two of his own in, she breezed out the door as abruptly as she had come. When the first flush of anger had receded to his neckline, Jason which Kitty had presented in a sat back to review the problem rather out-of-focus manner.

That there was a problem in existence Jason had been hearing from various sources during the past nine weeks. There had been the story of the polite rebuffing that sailor fraternity men had received when they called chapters on the campus saying, "I'm an Alpha Alpha from Eastern 'U', can you arrange a date for me?"

There were the stories of how various sororities on the campus had made obvious excuses to avoid supplying dates to sailors who had called. And then there were the obvious incidents: the whistling and remarks; passed on the street; the occasional flare-ups in downtown establishments.

But on the other hand, one could point to the mutual enjoyment that had been resulting from social contacts made by servicemen and campus women in many, many cases. One could point out that open house affairs held by several women's halls for the sailors and how successful they had been.

It was a problem with many angles, Jason decided. It was fairly certain that no perfect solution would ever be worked out no matter what effort might be expended. But then there would be no harm in attempting to work out a partial solution. Evidently too few were thinking along those lines.

Hallwomen had shown a commendable attitude in holding open house for the sailors. Sorority women were displaying a commendable attitude in not following suit. It would take only one house with a little backbone to break the ice. Other houses would follow.

But the fear of what the snobish set would say was evidently holding them back. Some of the vainer peacocks on the campus had intimated that they would not date a girl who had dated a sailor. And some of the sorority women actually commend such an attitude.

What this particular group of students evidently do not know is that by their attitude and actions, they are making an already small school and its students seem smaller in the eyes of some. They evidently do not know that many of the sailors stationed on the campus are either graduates or former students from large and famous colleges and universities.

Yet even this is immaterial to the real issue at hand. This same group of students evidently does not realize that a person should be judged NOT for his wealth, rank, or honor BUT for his personal worth and character.

A uniform and its wearer should command respect at all times but especially in time of war. Jason is not attempting to put halos around the heads of all sailors stationed on the campus. Some do not deserve a break, let alone a halo.

Yet many suffer for the actions of a few. Idaho students should be big enough to see that uniformed men cannot all be tagged into one category. We would not

Students To Hear King Sing 8:00 P. M. Tonight

Senior Ball Will Feature Stamp Corsages, Uniforms

Adding a new note to the annual Senior Ball scheduled for Saturday, women students will wear war stamp corsages and advanced military men will don full-dress uniforms.

Minute Maids will sell the war stamp corsages Thursday, Friday and Saturday between 3 and 5 o'clock in the Bucket lounge, December 7th red tags, commemorating the bombing of Pearl Harbor, will be given away with each corsage. Corsages will sell at one dollar and are expected to replace to a large extent the usual corsage of flowers.

Due to the shortage in available tuxedos, men in advanced military will wear their uniforms; thereby releasing the tuxedos for students not in military.

The white suede programs and the dance tickets will be on sale Friday and Saturday between 3 and 5:30 o'clock in the Bucket lounge.

Patrons and patronesses for the ball are: President and Mrs. H. C. Dale, Captain and Mrs. W. B. Stanley, who will lead the grand march, Dean and Mrs. D. S. Jeffers, and Dean and Mrs. J. H. Johnson. Guest of the evening will be Jim Cannon, senior class president of WSC.

Fred Fulton, John Berg, Leonard Labine, Bill Mout, Gene Lunty, Bob Wethern, Cecil Jones, Jim Spofford, Rex Blewett, George Stoddard, Bob Ralstin, Ray Hoobing, Jim Blandford, Harry Mosman, and Duane Hansen are ticketmen for the individual men's group houses.

VACANCIES

Students who are expecting to move into university dormitories second semester should contact the office of Director of Dormitories at Lindley hall, Mr. R. F. Greene announced last night.

Some vacancies may be available by Christmas vacation and reservations should be made.

W. A. Lydgate Will Speak At Assembly, Dec. 7th

Reporting on the home front, William A. Lydgate, editor of the Gallup poll, will speak at a public events assembly Monday, Dec. 7, in the Memorial gymnasium, Dean Kerr announced yesterday. Classes will be shortened.

Formerly a member of the staff of Time and Fortune magazines, Mr. Lydgate has worked with the Gallup poll since 1935, formulating the questions which reveal public opinion on vital issues before the country, editing the results, and interpreting the significance of the poll's results.

Speaking on the state of the home front, Lydgate will cover American morale, the effect of Pearl Harbor and Singapore as related to the country's internal situation, the reaction of the public to rationing as well as what they think of civilian defense and higher taxation. Based on factual findings by the Gallup poll, his lecture will cover existing conditions in the lines behind the front.

From his work with Dr. Gallup, Lydgate is in close touch with the pulse beat of the nation concerning the unity of the country, the danger spots, and what can be done to strengthen morale.

Lydgate began his career as an analyst for a firm of efficiency experts specializing in newspapers. Becoming associated with Fortune magazine he was later transferred to Time as a special writer on national affairs and finance. Since then he has been with the Gallup institute which has, since the war, been called upon by the Federal government for confidential surveys to solve problems which face officials in their dealings with the public.

Ball Chairman

"Everything is set for the big affair Saturday," says Matt Lewis, Senior Ball general chairman, "and it looks like our White Christmas theme will be in keeping with the weather." A large crowd is expected, according to Lewis.

General Lyon Dies In Washington

The death of her father, Brig. Gen. Alfred J. Lyon, called Phyllis Lyon, Gamma Phi Beta, to Washington, D. C., last week.

William Lyon, Delta Chi, who was a student at the university until he enlisted, had joined the headquarters company in the materiel division in Dayton, Ohio, when news of his father's illness reached him. He went on to Washington and was there when his father died.

Having been in London for two and a half years, Brig. Gen. Lyon was brought back to the United States three weeks ago after contracting pneumonia.

Poll Editor

William A. Lydgate, Gallup poll editor, will speak on "Reporting on the Home Front" at a public events assembly on Monday at 11:00 a.m. in Memorial gym.

Former Idaho Student Receives Flying Cross

Word was received on the Idaho campus this week that Lieutenant (j.g.) R. W. Johannesen, a former student, has been cited for bravery by Admiral Halsey, and has received the distinguished flying cross.

Lieutenant Johannesen was a student at the University for three years, leaving in the spring of 1941. During the school year 1940-41 he was president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He was a member of the associated engineers and of the mechanical engineers.

The distinguished flying cross was pinned upon Lieutenant Johannesen by Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., at Guadalcanal for his daring attack on warships in disregard for anti-aircraft fire. He pilots a dive bomber in the Marines, and is reported to have made a direct hit on a heavy cruiser in the combat on the Solomons.

Dean Lattig Urges Enlistment On Rumor Basis

With verbal information on hand to the effect that E.R.C. enlistments will cease after January 1, Dean of Men H. E. Lattig suggests that students who plan to enlist should do so before the holidays. As yet the information has not been confirmed by war department bulletins, Dean Lattig says.

"The naval enlistment board will be at Gonzaga university December 9 and 10 to take enlistments in V1, V5 and V7," Dean Lattig says, "and Idaho students are free to enlist with the board visiting Spokane if they so desire."

"The navy recruiting station in Boise is also empowered to enlist V1 and V7 applicants," according to Dean Lattig. "If students prefer, they may send their complete applications to Seattle and transportation will be furnished them for an examination at Seattle."

Recent war department directives require release from local boards on all men registered for selective service and requesting enlistment in the E.R.C., according to Dean Lattig.

Students volunteering for service prior to their date of departure should request Dean Lattig to take the necessary action toward obtaining orders for active duty.

It is necessary that Dean Lattig forward information stating that students have withdrawn from school and the address at which orders may be mailed to them.

Military Honorary Pledges Eight Seniors

Eight senior military students were pledged by Scabbard and Blade Tuesday night, according to Rex Blewett, captain of the organization. Initiation ceremonies will be held sometime after the Christmas vacation, Blewett said.

Those pledged were John Chamberlin, Duane Hansen, Martin Fry, George Osland, Joe Gordon, Ray Green, Byron Stratton, and Ben Riordan.

At the same meeting Dale Reynolds was made general chairman of the military ball. The ball is an annual event for the advanced military students and will be held January 1. Reynolds is expected to appoint committee members in the near future.

Work Is Speeded On Production Of ASUI Drama

Work on "Green Grow the Lilacs," ASUI play, has been accelerated in preparation of the coming opening night, December 11 and 12. Directed by Miss Jean Collette, this production promises to be equally entertaining as its predecessor, "No Mother To Guide Her."

In many respects, the two plays follow the same pattern. "Green Grow the Lilacs" is a melodrama, and takes place in around 1900 in the Oklahoma Indian territory. However, "Green Grow the Lilacs" carries with it a serious element as well as comedy, and the plot follows, to a certain degree, along with each individual's imagination.

Margaret Bacon takes the part of the heroine, Laury Williams, who lives on a ranch with her Aunt Ellen, played by Jean Rosebaugh. Although Jeeter Fry, the hired hand is in love with Laury, she marries the hero, Curly McClain.

After the wedding, Jeeter threatens Curly and a fight results. Curly is accused of knifing Jeeter during their grappling and is jailed. He breaks jail to return to his new bride. A suspended ending leaves the audience to make their own decision as to the complete ending.

Gene Roth takes the part of Curly McClain; Evan La Follette portrays Jeeter Fry; Jack Muller as the peddler; and Old Man Peck is played by Ray Rigby. Others who have minor parts are: John Hans, Winton Woods, Ed Dalva, Darrell Dolgner, Ben Strohben, Jack Anderson, Wallace Bodker, Delmer Bodker, Jay Fowles, and Fred Watson. There will also be a group of square dancers and singers.

John F. Sollers is directing the stage crews headed by Beverly Bistline, assistant director; Jean Beadles, costumes; Ellen Cox, properties; Meredith Bowler, make-up; Betty Detweiler, sound; Weldon Cole, music; Jerry Riddle, electrician and Ralph Joslyn, stage manager.

Mixer To Aid Sale Of War Stamps

Idaho's "Victory" committee will sponsor a mixer to aid its defense stamp drive on Monday, December 7—the first anniversary of the "day of infamy," according to Chairman Ben Martin. The "Victory dance" is to be held in the SUB ballroom, from 4:15 to 5:15.

"Students may date or go stag, as they wish," Martin declared. "Save your cash, and spend it in support of Uncle Sam."

A 10 cent defense stamp, to be purchased at the door from the Minute Maids, is the price of admission. Music will be furnished by the Stardusters.

J. R. Nichols Enters Naval Service

Lt. Commander John R. Nichols, executive dean of the University of Idaho, southern branch, is now at the headquarters of the Thirtieth naval district in Seattle, having recently passed his final physical examination.

Famous Tenor Will Present Concert At 8:00 O'clock In Memorial Gym

King To Sing

Tenor Luther King, who ranks with Paul Robeson and Marian Anderson as one of the most distinguished Negro artists, will sing tonight in Memorial gym at 8 o'clock.

Wicks Might Leave For Navy Soon

Guy P. Wicks, head basketball and baseball coach, will probably leave for the navy soon, President H. C. Dale announced yesterday.

Receiving orders to report for physical examinations, Wicks is in Boise this week making final arrangements.

If accepted he will qualify as a lieutenant, (s.g.) in the navy and will be granted a leave of absence from the university for the duration.

RED TAGS

Victory committee members announced Wednesday evening that December 7th red tags, to remember the bombing of Pearl Harbor will be given away with every purchase of a 25 cent war stamp, three 10 cent war stamps, or with senior ball war stamp corsages.

Faculty members as well as students will be expected to wear these red tags on Monday, December 7.

Board Selects Cronkhite To Succeed Phillips

Barbara Cronkhite, Vandal yell queen, was authorized to take charge of the Idaho yell team by ASUI executive board members, Tuesday night. She will remain as yell queen and in addition assume the powers formerly held by Rex Phillips who resigned as yell king this week, board members voted. The move came about when Phillips tendered his resignation to Harry Lewies, student body president, stating that his heavy scholastic course would not allow him to carry on the extra-curricular activity.

Board members decided upon Cronkhite to succeed Phillips because of her ability and because of the fact that she would be more likely to remain in school for a longer term than any male candidate.

Yell Queen Cronkhite will head a team of Yell Dukes Kenny Bergquist and Jack Mallory and Yell Dutchesses Vi Wicks and Pat Shelton.

Board members officially sanctioned the plan of Minute Maids to visit Willis Sweet and Chrisman halls to sell defense stamps to sailors during dinner, December 8.

The "Victory" committee's plan to have "December 7" tags printed and sold for one 25 cent stamp, three 10 cent stamps, or a senior ball stamp corsage was approved by the board.

GAMES START TOMORROW Badminton, shuffleboard, and table tennis for both men and women will start Friday and continue every Friday through the winter. These will be in the Women's gym and the only charge will be 10 cents for badminton birds.

By MARVEL HOUX
Luther King, distinguished Negro tenor, will appear in the Memorial gymnasium tonight at 8:00. The concert is another of the public events series, and there will be no admission charge.

Mr. King recent completed a sensational tour of western Canada, singing in churches and on the recital platform. Several army camps have heard King in Canada and last summer, for six weeks, under the United States government entertainment plan, Mr. King was soloist with a group of Fisk university singers.

King has been heard in over 50 colleges, including the University of Idaho. He appeared for 26 weeks with KHJ in Hollywood with Frederick Starks' orchestra; and he has sung with the Cleveland Symphony orchestra, and with the Detroit Symphony.

A native of Georgia, Mr. King was educated in Cleveland Music School Settlement, and at Fisk university.

In his recitals, King is accompanied by his wife, Jean Houston, a talented musician in her own right, who has arranged many of the spirituals which have made him famous. The Toronto, Ontario, Telegram said of King and his wife, "Jean Houston at the piano and Luther King, the singer, make music that will linger many a day—they are two great artists, with a single thought."

Idahoans Prepare King

After King's first appearance in Moscow in April 1940, Archie Jones, director of music at that time, and Myrtle Leonard, former Metropolitan star and voice instructor in the music department, said of his concert—"Mr. King has no peer among the Negro artists. Since we (University of Idaho) recently had Marian Anderson here, this comment is exceptional."

King's program will include three songs by Handel: "Where' You Walk," "Come Beloved," and "Total Eclipse," "Per La Gloria," by Bounoncin, "Aubade," by Lalo, "A Caravan from China Comes," by Storey-Smith, "The Miller's Joy" by Schubert, Johnson's "If Thou Wert Blind," and "Old Mother Hubbard" (Set in the manner of Handel) by Hutchinson.

In his third group, King will sing "I Heard a Forest Praying" by Peter DeRose, "My Native Land" by Gretchaninoff, "Eleanore" by S. Coleridge Taylor, "The Moving Finger" by Rogers, and "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte. In his fourth, and last group, will be five Negro spirituals, arranged by Jean Houston: "Steal Away," "Los Sheep," "Two Wings," "Crucifixion," and "Plenty Good Room."

Foundation Names Question For Debate Contest

"Should American youth support the re-establishment after the war of competitive enterprise as our dominant economic system?" That is the question of the second series of the National Intercollegiate Radio Prize Debates sponsored by the American Economic Foundation.

All undergraduate students who are pursuing full-time courses leading to the bachelor's degree are eligible to compete. Procedure and regulations in full are posted on the business administration bulletin board.

National championship prizes consist of: first prize, $1000 war savings bond and $250 cash; second prize, $500 war savings bond and $125 cash. Also there are 16 commending prizes; eight first prizes of $30 each cash and eight second prizes of $25 each cash.

The American Economic Foundation is a non-profit organization supported entirely by voluntary contributions. Its purpose is educational, seeking by radio debates and other methods to arouse the interest of the American public in the discussion of vital problems in the field of economic and social relationships.

Taking over to lead the Idaho yell team is Yell Queen Barbara Cronkhite, diminutive junior in journalism. Queen Barbara was handed the reins of the yell team last Tuesday by the ASUI executive board.

Tirade On Grades

Tough subject . . . grades. They're out now, and the hounding of professors or last minute struggles to meet house standards are worries of the past, yet student attitudes towards the little marks are still pretty much the same.

There are those who disdainfully tag the 4 pointers as anti-social and go blithely on their way, happy with being "normal". Then there are the ones taking grade seriously, missing out on the midnight bull sessions or the Thursday night concert or the hit parade because there wasn't time enough in the efficiency schedule.

But it's when the grade theories begin affecting the grades that the advantages of the whole system are defeated . . . when the home ec major drops chemistry because there's a house average to make . . . when, on the eve of registration, the snap courses with the snap profs are picked out . . . when the class shows up for a test, armed with their unique cheating devices.

Why Buy Bonds? "We are going to fight this war; we are going to pay for it afterwards. Why, then, should we have to finance it beforehand?"

Leaving out the moralistic slant—whether or not it is a "good thing"—we find this attitude ill-founded. True, the money can be raised other ways: taxes, Federal Reserve loans, inflation. None of these means, however, are desirable.

That he may be sure he has something to fight for, the prospective soldier should contribute to the stability of post-war society by buying war bonds and stamps. M. S.

Communique Comment

At Vichy, Pierre Laval has been left alone by the virtual abdication of Marshal Petain and by the defection of Darlan to the Allied side.

Both Deat and Doriot have openly attacked the Vichy regime in dramatic speeches in recent weeks. Deat points an accusing finger at corruption in Laval's administration, while Doriot has hurled angry words at Vichy for its failure to declare war without delay on the Allies.

In the past six months, Laval has shown complete awareness of the danger to his own position from Doriot, the more crafty of his two opponents. He has taken over Doriot's Anti-Bolshevist League and merged it into his own private army, the "Tricolor Legion."

In some respects, the upheavals in French North Africa have played into the hands of Laval. Allied acceptance of Darlan as ruler of French North Africa has bewildered the liberal and labor groups which have been fighting against the Laval regime inside France.

Uniforms at Formals

The following editorial is reprinted from the Oregon State Barometer. While student opinion at OSC still remains to be crystalized, Idaho's student body has set a definite policy.

A recent suggestion has been heard circulating about the campus to the effect that members of the advanced ROTC classes adopt the practice of wearing their uniforms to all formal dances.

A plan like this should be considered by those who will be eligible to wear uniforms and also from the standpoint of those whom it might help.

The military uniforms under consideration would leave many tuxes available for other fraternity brothers or friends in the senior, junior and sophomore classes. The uniforms would also cut down on cleaning costs and total costs of dances.

Other factors also enter into this suggestion. Scabbard and Blade each year holds a military ball at which time uniforms are worn by upper-class cadets.

Other institutions have adopted this plan not only to decrease costs but proudly to show the men they have in training. If the plan is acceptable to the military department as long as uniforms are in style these days, why not wear them to formals?

'Campus Character' No. 2 Has Versatile Vocal Chords

This week we tip-toed up to the Sigma Chi sleeping porch and by means of a nocturnal third-degree, got the lowdown on our second "campus character."

A regular Jekyle and Hyde of the vocal chords is Character No. 2. When you heard him hollering at pep rallies and assemblies this fall you probably were convinced he was Andy Devine's first cousin.

Yeah . . . we're talking about "Bibs"—Rex Phillips, ex-yell king, to the frosh. "Bibs" is sometimes known as "Wart Head" in reference to a nodule on his nose.

youth. But even "Bibs" can't remember where he got the moniker "Bull Vester."

"Bibs" also can't imagine where he got his riotous range in voice, but he thinks a youthful start had something to do with it.

Yelling has also been one of "Bibs" hobbies from cradle-time and he probably worked out his frantic-antic routines to keep his mater amused while she rocked "Bibs" crib.

"Ex" is a prefix that has been receiving a workout in regard to "Bibs" recent past. He's Idaho's

Idaho Gets Wise To Druids 'Operating' On Campus

Inspired, no doubt, by their illustrious fellow pixies in England, the druids of the University of Idaho campus have become especially active during the past few weeks.

A noted geologist, Hall at once recognized the devilry of the druids as being patterned after the gremlin activities in Europe, busily at work pushing books onto the floor, opening and closing doors, and banging window shades during lectures.

Local druids seemingly have developed equally ingenious disturbances among which may be listed the dimming of lights alternately all day, banging on steam pipes and radiators, and prying at chairs.

Female druids love nothing better than to softly croon a student to sleep and then knock his supporting arm away from his chin.

Druids originally came from England, and being very scholarly they no doubt have migrated to America in search of peace and contentment.

It is now firmly established that they have again moved—this time to the Idaho campus where they ply their sly tricks and laugh and laugh at the harried students.

Still the problem is largely one for the individual in that it is up to one to choose a friend for companionship and other merits after the first meeting.

With the inevitable trend of events leading towards an "amazon era" at Idaho, Jason sees but two solutions for date-aspiring women: 1. They date men in uniform. 2. They go dateless.

FROSH TO GET GREENER? "Permitting high school seniors to register as college and university freshmen might be a good idea."

University of Washington, declared yesterday in commenting on the recommendation of the National Education Association that such a plan be put into effect.

"A lot would depend on the individual seniors and upon their preparations," Dr. Sieg said. If the high school seniors have taken all the mathematics and science courses available during their three high school years, they should get along all right as university freshmen, the president said.

Especially appropriate items to go over the block today are four umbrellas, three Oregon jackets, four rain jackets, eight mittens, 31 scarfs, five raincoats, one green tweed sports jacket, one rain hat, and two men's hats."

Even the serve-yourself policy inaugurated by the University's coffee shop hasn't avoided a labor shortage problem there.

Unless three or four students volunteer for work during the morning hours, the restaurant will be forced to close from 8:30 a.m. until 11 a.m. and early risers will be unable to sip their java (if there is any) while studying for 9 o'clocks.

Following the Thanksgiving holiday stalemate of social events, campus activities were revived this week with numerous exchanges, firesides, and guests.

Exchanges were held with these halls and houses: Foreman and LDS; Hays with LDS; a local group of U. S. navy men; Alpha Tau Omega and Alpha Phi; Campus club and Kappa Kappa Gamma; Idaho club and Kappa Alpha Theta; Sigma Nu and Delta Gamma.

Idaho club and Alpha Phi; Tau Kappa Epsilon with Delta Delta Delta; Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Chi Omega; Kappa Sigma with Pi Beta Phi and Gamma Phi Beta; Delta Chi and Pi Beta Phi.

Contestants in the Sigma Chi Sweetheart contest are being entertained three times this week by members of the fraternity. Twelve of the girls were dinner guests Tuesday and the other 12 will attend dinner Thursday. A fireside for the entire group is scheduled for Friday evening.

Many Guests

This week's guests included the following: Miss Mary Holdin, Idaho Falls, house guest of Delta Gamma members; Justin Guernsey, Idaho club, dinner guest of Delta Tau Delta; Mr. and Mrs. John Mattmiller, Sr., of Kellogg, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Swan, Sr., of Boise, guests of Alpha Tau Omega; Mrs. D. C. Andeberg, Glenns Ferry, Mrs. Pound, Orofino, and Mrs. Ratcliffe, South Dakota, guests at Forney hall.

Firesides are scheduled this week end at the houses of Sigma Nu, Phi Delta Theta, Kappa Sigma, and Delta Tau Delta.

Women To Sponsor Student Parties

Two parties will be given by the Faculty Women's club for students who remain on the campus for the Christmas vacation, Mrs. V. A. Cherrington, president, announced Tuesday afternoon.

Final plans for these annual entertainments have not been completed but all students unable to be home for Christmas vacation will be invited.

Club Will Postpone Annual Coed Prom

Cancelled because of the Luther King concert tonight, the Coed Prom will not be held until after Christmas vacation, Buff Walker, president of the home economics club, announced yesterday.

The annual all-woman affair, sponsored by the home economics club, was scheduled as a Toyland dance for tonight but because of the conflict with the concert it has been postponed.

Group To Sponsor Movies Sunday

"South to the Lands of the Conquistadores," a sound movie, will be shown at the Methodist church social hall Sunday night, December 6, at 5 o'clock. Wesley Foundation, a Methodist student group, is sponsoring the show.

The picture consists of the filming of a trip which starts in New York City, continues down through the Panama Canal to the Central American countries, and on down to Chile, South America. Phases of modern and early civilization are shown along with the natural and scenic beauty of these countries.

Farmers' Efforts Praised By Dale

President Harrison C. Dale lauded the efforts of Gem state agriculturists in an address to the opening session of a two-day, third annual meeting of Idaho Farm Bureau Federation members at Pocatello recently.

Tickets Go On Sale For Sophomore Holly Festivities

Climaxing Sophomore Holly Week celebrations will be the Holly Land ball, a semi-formal dance at the Bucket Saturday night, December 12, Dick Beier, chairman, announced Tuesday. Tickets are on sale at all men's houses and may be exchanged for programs in the Bucket lounge between 3:30 and 5:30 p.m., Friday, December 11.

Tickets for the Holly Frolic went on sale Tuesday at 27c per person. They are being distributed in all men's and women's houses since the dance is a mixer, and women may go with or without dates. Women will be given 9:30 permission Thursday night, December 10, for this informal affair.

Leading the Wednesday night serenade will be Don Singer and Marvel Houx. Two women from each house and any interested sophomore men may take part by contacting one of the leaders immediately. The group will begin its singing tour of the campus at 10:30 and will present three Christmas numbers at each house. The living group whose house is most appropriately decorated for Holly Week will be awarded $5.00 in war stamps. Decorations must not exceed $5.00 in cost and must be completed by 4:30 p.m. Thursday, December 10, when judging will take place.

PREMIER

"Truth or Consequence," a 3-act comedy recently written by two faculty members, Geoffrey G. Coope, and Theodore A. Sherman, assistant professor and instructor, respectively, in the English department, was performed for the first time last week by a student cast at Rupert high school.

Marsing and Payette high schools are now rehearsing the play for production. Two years ago Mr. Coope and Mr. Sherman wrote "All Reason Now Resigned," which, since its premiere on the Idaho campus, has been reviewed in Theatre Arts Monthly.

Marth Allen, an Idaho graduate who attended the 1942 summer session, directed the Rupert high school production of "Truth or Consequences."

Betty Jane Wahle and Pete Kalamarides were married Saturday afternoon at St. Mary's Catholic church.

The bride, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, has not been attending the university this semester, Kalamarides, a senior sociology major, expects to receive an army commission in June. A member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, he has participated in dramatic productions, has played with the varsity baseball team, and is now employed part time on the city police force.

News of the marriage of Bernice Underdahl to Sgt. Walter C. Miller, Jr., on November 12 was announced last week.

Mrs. Miller received her elementary teaching certificate from the university, and is a member of Delta Delta Delta and Delta Tau Gamma sororities. Sergeant Miller received his law degree from Notre Dame university and is now stationed with the air force at Geiger field.

Carlson Announces Gem Progress

Campus organizations were warned by Gem Editor Don Carlson last night that if they did not soon make arrangements for pictures in this year's annual, the book would go to press without them.

Presidents or other officers of honoraries should contact Dick Beier, Beta Theta Pi, to schedule pictures. Beier is Gem photo editor.

Deadline for Gem copy has been moved up almost six weeks ahead of last year's, and if the Gem staff fails to meet this early date, printers and engravers cannot expect to get the book out on time, Carlson said.

Work on the book is progressing on schedule, it was reported. While in Boise two weeks ago, Carlson conferred with Syms-York company, printers, and approved proofs for the Gem's 1943 cover. The cover is expected to be completed within the next month.

Business Manager Bill Campbell reports that portraits for group house and class panels are being taken according to schedule. He said groups which have not been contacted regarding sittings at either Hutchison's or Sterner's studio should not be alarmed. These houses will be taken in their turn.

Med School Urges Application Now

Applications for admission to the University of Oregon Medical school for the 1944 class should be placed as soon as possible after Christmas, according to word received by Registrar Ella Oleson.

Interviews and acceptances will begin after January 1, 1943, for the class entering the following January. Appointments for interviews may be made through the registrar or of the University of Oregon Medical school.

Three Couples Wed During Thanksgiving Holiday

Arline Campbell, president of Pi Beta Phi last year, and Jerry Manning, Kappa Sigma, were married Thanksgiving day at Colville, Washington.

Mrs. Manning graduated last year with a B.S. degree in commercial education and is secretary to Graduate Manager Perry Culp. She plans to continue working while her husband, a senior, finishes school.

Men of TMA Hear Bragdon Speak

Instigating the plan of having a faculty member speak or some form of entertainment at Tau Mem Aleph meetings, members heard Dr. Chandler Bragdon, assistant professor of European history and civilization, give a short talk Tuesday night on recent developments of the war in Europe, Africa, and the Pacific.

The town men are planning a more active entertainment policy this year both for meetings and in the intramural program. They are arranging a mutual "teach to dance" exchange with the Daldal Tau Gamma organization, in two weeks.

Barrymore To Star In Spokane Tonite

Ethel Barrymore, internationally famed actress of the stage and screen, makes a personal appearance at the Fox theater in Spokane tonight, when she plays the leading role in the dramatic play, "The Corn Is Green."

The play, which was written by a British playwright, Emyln Williams, concerns the life of a spinster school teacher, devoting her life at all costs to her profession.

"The Aircraft Warning System gives a single plane on ground alert the equivalent striking power of 16 planes on air patrol." This startling statement comes from England.

Our country's Aircraft Warning Service—quite similar to England's—keeps a constant check on the flight of all aircraft. Should the need arise, it is prepared to send fighter planes aloft, to mobilize and direct ground defense forces, to warn endangered areas. Every step in its operation requires the fast, accurate communication of the telephone.

This is just one of the many wartime jobs that are keeping telephone lines busier than ever before. To help us keep lines clear for vital military and industrial calls, please avoid using Long Distance to war activity centers unless the call is urgent. And please keep all your telephone calls as brief as you can. Thank you.

Idaho Meets Whitman Tomorrow In First Hoop Game

Three Lettermen Start In Initial Hoop Battle

Practicing this week without a regular coach, the Vandal hoopers will make their initial start of the season against the Whitman Missionaries tomorrow night in Memorial gym. The starting whistle will blow at 7:30 o'clock.

Leaving suddenly last Monday night, Guy Wicks, basketball coach, went to Boise to take a physical examination for one of the navy P.C. programs. Bob Knox, boxing coach, was left in charge of nightly practice. Wicks is expected to be back by game-time Friday night.

Idaho, who is expected to have a good ball club this year, will go into their first game with three lettermen in the starting lineup. Cliff Benson and Von Hopkins at the guard positions and Norm Fredekind at forward and the returning lettermen who undoubtedly see much action this season. Fred "Whimpy" Quinn slated to work in the center. Bob Ryan will probably start at the other forward. John Ryan, who plays guard, is likely to see much action as is Tom Collins, a forward.

Leaving Soon?

Coach Guy P. Wicks, Idaho basketball mentor, whose varsity five plays its initial game here tomorrow night, against Whitman college, may soon be leaving the coaching staff for navy duty. Coach Wicks returns soon from Boise where he has been taking a navy physical examination.

Whitman Loses Game

The Missionaries will have the advantage of having one game under their belts before they meet the Vandal eagles. They lost their first start to Washington State 52-44.

Not much is known about Whitman this year, Bob Knox, acting coach, said. Idaho will use a man-to-man defense, Knox added.

EARLY SEASON TOP SCORER

Bob Steuber, University of Missouri halfback, became the nation's early season top football scorer when he ran up 83 points in six games.

THE FIFTH QUARTER

By CLARK CHANDLER

It was a bitter blow to the hopes of this year's basketball team when it learned that Coach Guy Wicks would go into the navy physical education program if he passed his physical examination in Boise this week.

The outlook for the team was exceptionally good, that is until now. Instead of a team with one scoring punch as was the case last year when Ray Turner led the Northern Division in scoring, Wicks' crew gave promise of a speedy, well-rounded, smooth-passing outfit with every man a scoring threat. Five returning lettermen, a few members of last year's freshman team, and Fred Quinn constituted the basis for this outlook.

But in spite of this good material, a coach is needed and it is rather late to be changing horses in the middle of the stream. A new style of ball cannot be inaugurated now and the changing of coaches may make a difference in the team even if Wicks' system is maintained.

The absence of a coach this week is going to hurt the chances of the team to win Friday night since the team doesn't know all the plays given them. Because Wicks was busy with freshman football, the basketball team didn't start turning out until late in the season and for that reason the team is not yet in good condition and has not yet taken on a high polish.

If Wicks resigns, which is quite likely, it is only natural for "Babe" Brown, who is in charge of fresh basketball, to take over the varsity, and whatever he accomplishes will be a great credit to him. It seems that quiet, unassuming Ray Turner is the only logical candidate to take over the freshman team. Turner is serious and he does know his basketball.

Th wrestling team would also like to know what it is going to do for a coach this year. It seems that there is no capable coach as "Babe" Brown will be too busy with basketball and the list of student coaches is exhausted. One suggestion would be J. W. "Doc" Barton of the psychology department.

Fred Quinn will be the smoothest passer and probably the best center in the Northern Division this year. Quinn doesn't have to look where he passes, he knows where every man is and the pass is always true to the mark and executed in such a manner that the men on the opposite team are caught off guard. Quinn is so cunning in the art of making baskets that it takes a very good player, alert every second of the game, to check him at all.

Cliff Benson and Von Hopkins starting guards of last year's team, look even better this year. Benson, an excellent shot, will be arching basketballs through the net more consistently this year since everyone is going to be doing more shooting. Norm Fredekind and John and Bob Ryan should have very good seasons. Fredekind and John Ryan were members of last year's squad, while brother Bob is up from last year's freshman team.

Vandal Harriers Dominate PCI and AAU Runs Again White Wins Varsity Race Idaho Gridmen To Clash With Bruins Saturday

Winning their sixth consecutive Pacific Coast title and their second consecutive A.A.U. title at Spokane, Vandal harriers hung up their spikes for the season last Thursday. Turning in the low score of 28 points, against 72 for the second place Oregon State hill-and-dalers, Vandal runners continued their dominance of Pacific coast cross country in the Turkey-Day classic sponsored by the Athletic Round Table in Spokane.

Placing five men in the first nine, the Vandals easily outdistanced their closest rivals to win the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate championship for the sixth consecutive year.

Following in the footsteps of Vic Dyrvall, Idaho's Pacific coast cross-country champion last year, Bob White won individual honors in the four-mile collegiate race, to give Idaho its second conference cross-country champion in as many years. Running the course in the creditable time of 21 minutes, 35 seconds, White outdistanced Griffin of Whitman by 15 yards. Vandal LaMar Chapman placed third behind White and Griffin.

After a brief rest of less than an hour, Vandal harriers repeated their performance of a year ago by winning the Coast AAU championship. Led by LaMar Chapman in third place, the Vandals placed their first five men in the first ten. This is the second time in the history of the sport that a team has doubled-up in such a race. Idaho runners tried this successfully last year, and again last Thursday.

Although won by a Vandal freshman, the frosh event went to WSC. Bob Anno, Vandal yearling, won event in 17 minutes, 20 seconds, to become the first freshman Pacific coast champion.

This is the first PCC freshman championship ever held. Washington State won the team title with a low score of 20 against Idaho's 44 in second place.

With the season completed, the varsity again finds itself undefeated with victories over Whitman and Washington State, and victories in the coast intercollegiate and AAU events. The yearlings lost to Washington State earlier in the season, although individual honors in that race went to Bob Anno and Hoyt Anderson, Idaho yearlings, in that order.

Mike Ryan, Idaho track coach, expressed himself well satisfied with the showing of his charges last Thursday.

The order of finish in the various events were as follows:

Varsity Race
Bob White, Idaho, first; LaMar Chapman, Idaho, third; Don Wold, WSC, fourth; John Thomas, Idaho, seventh; Ward Stroschein, Idaho, eighth; Bob Eyestone, Idaho, ninth; Ted Lake, Idaho, 16; Clare Ber-

PCC Distance King

Leather-lunged Bob White, Vandal distance star, led all the way in the Pacific Coast inter-collegiate cross country race at Spokane last Thursday to win title honors. Later the same day he placed fourth in the grueling AAU four-mile run.

McGOVERN LEADING SCORER
Eddie McGovern, nation's leading collegiate football scorer, added 30 points to his total in Rose Polytechnic's sixth and final game to finish the season with 165 points. Rose Poly beat Principia, 48-0.

gevin, WSC, 21; Dick Green, Idaho, 24; Ed Mounger, WSC, 28; Tony Wolf, WSC, 30; Curtis Bowers, 31.

Freshman Race
Bob Anno, Idaho, first; Tom Belley, WSC, third; Herb Merman, WSC, fourth; Lief Knutsen, WSC, fifth; Emmett Gumma, WSC, sixth; Hoyt Anderson, Idaho, seventh; Don Taylor, WSC, eighth; Art Bal-siger, WSC, 10; Marshal Nicholas, Idaho, 11; Ted Jones, Idaho, 12; Michael Barclay, Idaho, 13; Luis Berriocha, 14; Norm Prisbire, WSC, 15; Nate Osborne, Idaho, 16; Ed Linn, Idaho, 17; Gene Jones, Idaho, 18; Cliff Hennis, Idaho, 19; Tom Smith, Idaho, 20; Bill Pettijohn, Idaho, 23.

A. A. U.
LaMar Chapman, Idaho, third; Bob White, Idaho, fourth; Ward Stroschein, Idaho, fifth; Bob Eyestone, Idaho, sixth; John Thomas, Idaho, seventh; Joe Snyder, Idaho, 10; Ira Hill, Idaho, 11; Paul Thome, Idaho, 12; Ted Lake, Idaho, 13; Dick Green, Idaho, 14; Bob Hawthorth, Idaho, 15; Clarence Kassens, Idaho, 16; Bob Smith, WSC, 18; Jim Gamble, WSC, 20, and Bill Freeburg, Idaho, 21.

Playing their last game of the season, the Vandals will meet the UCLA Bruins Saturday in a game the Uclans must win to insure a Rose bowl bid. Idaho withstood three touchdown drives by Utah Thanksgiving day but still lost by a 13-7 score.

Idaho, not given a chance to win by dopesters, will enter the Colosseum stadium Saturday as "David against Goliath," Goliath being the Pacific Coast conference leading Bruins who are favored to win their next two games from Idaho and USC. Immediately following the Idaho game, USC will meet Montana for a second game in the same stadium.

UCLA did not play a game last week end, but barely won from the University of Washington 14-10 the preceding week, while Idaho won from the University of Portland and then lost to the University of Utah.

Six Seniors Play
Six seniors, Veto Berllus, end; Henry Crowley, center; Dan Davidoff, quarterback; Ray Davis, half-back; Peter Hecomovich, quarterback; and Irvin Konopka, tackle, will be playing their last game for Idaho when they meet UCLA.

In losing the Utah game, Idaho didn't score until the last quarter. After withstanding a goal line drive by Utah the Vandals marched upfield 86 yards with a series of passes from Manson to Berllus, Evans, and Vonderharr. Manson skirted right end to score on a 12-yard dash.

Both of Utah's touchdowns were the results of passes, one the very last of the second quarter and the second late in the third. Frank Nelson tossed both of Utah's passes to Chet Kim.

Knox Calls Boxers To Fill Vacancies

"We need three or four men for every position on the team this year because of the uncertainty of the length of time students will be allowed to remain in school," Bob Knox, boxing coach, said last night while urging anyone interested to turn out.

Plans are also being laid for a novice all-university tournament the week before Christmas vacation, Knox said. Those who hope to enter this tournament must commence to get in shape, he added.

Boxing, according to Knox, is a good thing to become acquainted with during our present times for the navy pre-flight schools and the army are stressing athletics. Navy pre-flight schools devote three hours a day to tough physical edu-

Sig Chis To Meet Fijis For Volleyball Title

As the volleyball season nears its close the Sigma Chis and Fijis have won their way to the top and will play for the championship Monday evening.

Most of the playoffs have been completed and many of the teams have already won places. The rest of the games will be played Monday.

In the playoffs Monday, Campus club II was beaten by the Idaho club I 15-8, 15-9 and the Tekes took the Sigma Nus into camp by a score of 15-12, 15-9, while Lindley hall I won from Delta Tau Delta by the same score, 15-12, 15-9. LDS beat the Delta Chis 15-7, 15-2.

Tuesday, the Sigma Chis won the right to play for the title by defeating the ATOs 15-11, 15-3. The Idaho club I trounced the Campus club I 15-1, 15-10, while the Lindley hall II and the Kappa Sigs were playing the closest game of the evening. Lindley hall won 14-16, 15-13, 15-9. Lindley hall I also won from the SAEs by a protest.

and two hours of this is devoted to combative work, Knox pointed out.

Help Wanted
