A Womens' World

There's another bloc to worry about now: The Women. Crowding in to meet the occasion they have ceased looking helplessly at the nearest male for protection, but are fitting up to fight for themselves.

It's been a hard struggle, this business of developing a new respect level, but with reward. First came liberty—that began the cigarette, short skirt era. Along with that rolled power, and a few of the old-liners headed in to politics, chalking up prohibition as a major accomplishment.

Individualism was part of the schedule: that meant Mrs. Roosevelt got a newspaper column, an all-girl orchestra ventured out over NBC, and Rita Hayworth came forth.

Competing with sailors on the billboards, the Chesterfield girl is still good advertising, and Varga's gems crowd Slinkwich from the hero worship wall. Striding forth in a uniform of her own, the military minded woman has even been successful in making a place for herself.

So the women take over, and we begin to worry if post war reconstruction won't have to solve this problem, too. But then we see the pins that go on passing and the rings that keep piling up and new marriages that continue being announced, until now we hope that the career fad will blow over in time anyway.—M. F.

Irate Father: "What do you mean, young man, bringing my daughter home this hour of the morning?"
Joe College: "Gee, I have to make an early class tomorrow."

Points Of Army-Navy Program

In closing his letter to the Argonaut's editor this week, President Harrison C. Dale stated that details on the long-awaited college training program for service men and service men-to-be were still lacking. Fortunately or unfortunately, Washington's secrecy has left all of the nation's colleges and universities equally in the dark. The uncertainty is universal.

All that is known is that there will be a dual army-navy program affecting virtually all of the nation's institutions of higher learning, and that it will be announced sometime in the near future. And although many points of the program have been cleared up, an equal number of loose ends still need to be tied together. Last week the Associated Collegiate Press released a bulletin which brought many main points of the program to light.

Which colleges will be selected for training centers is another unanswered question, although Secretary of Navy Knox has said, "We will give special consideration to those (colleges) with meager financial resources whose existence is threatened by the war." The A.C.P. bulletin went on to state:

Army men 21 years old and under, and navy men 22 and under may apply for college work.

Nothing in the new plans will affect existing contracts of army or navy with colleges.

Men selected for college training will wear uniforms, be on active duty and receive service pay. Soldiers will go to school as privates, seventh grade; sailors as apprentice seamen.

Civilian professors will do most of the teaching. Main provisions of the army plan, known as the "Army Specialized Training Program":

Men chosen for college training will be drawn from enlisted men who are taking, or have finished, basic training. Exceptions are medical, dentistry and veterinary students in the enlisted reserves who will continue their studies under the new program in an active duty status.

Medical, dental and veterinary students not in the reserves may finish another semester of college. After that, they apparently will be subject to selective service and will have to qualify for training under the new program in order to continue their education.

Pre-medical and pre-dental students and junior and senior engineers, also may finish another semester of college.

Fourth-year ROTC students may finish another semester of college. All other students in the reserves may expect to be put on active duty soon.

All other students not in the reserve are subject to the draft—now. The navy's side of the new program is known as the "Navy College Training Program."

Normally, students in this program will be picked during their senior year in high school.

At a "date to be announced," all V-1, V-5 and V-7 reservists in college will be placed on active duty as apprentice seamen, and V-1's and V-7's then may continue their studies under the new plan at least through their junior year. Those who qualify as medical, dental, engineering and theological students may complete their professional studies.

The V-5's may complete the year "current at the time of their enlistment or transfer to V-5." Students holding probationary commissions may resign "at a date to be announced," enter the new college program, and be commissioned again later. These points have been decided upon. Now Idaho's administration, faculty, and students wait with the nation's other college bodies to see what further plans are effected, where they will be put into effect . . . and how soon.

Communique Comment

French North Africa is giving the world a preview of the difficulties that will plague the peace conference following the final Allied victory. In the turmoil at Algiers, observers can find the elements that will make the next set of post-war parleys more fiery than the discussions at Paris in 1919. Among these elements are the conflicts between military and political objective, between the forces of the Right and the Left in the anti-Axis alliance, between the foreign policies of Britain and the U.S.

Late reports from Algiers disclose the delicate hand of French monarchism in the Christmas-Eve shooting of Admiral Darlan. This action by extremists in the royalist faction recalls the Caugouard plots which were uncovered by the Chautemps Popular Front government at Paris in November, 1937. At that time, the royalist leaders of a small terrorist group within a large revolutionary fascist movement planned an armed uprising to overthrow the Third French Republic. In their literature, French royalists have sought to justify the use of blunt force as a means of gaining their ends.

The royalists constitute a small but purposeful minority in France and in French North Africa. Their chief strength lies in the army-officer class: both Petain and Weygand have been suspected of secret ties with the monarchist societies. The royalists aim not only at the restoration of the Bourbon kingdom in France but at the establishment of a corporate state on the model of Italian fascism. They show no sincere respect for the democratic principles of civil liberty in their propaganda. The Count of Paris, the Bourbon-Orleans pretender, has been spinning a web of political intrigue in Algeria since the Allied invasion in the first week of November.

While the French monarchist leaders inside France maintain close contacts with Vichy and Berlin, Fighting French labor groups are carrying on the grim underground fight against Hitler. Allied invasion of France will require the accompaniment of a national uprising against the Nazis to achieve success. The British government realizes that the French industrial workers, bitterly anti-fascist and anti-monarchist, would have to form the core of such a revolt. Only a heavy American fist, brought down at once on the royalist plotters of Algiers, will convince the heroes of the Fighting French underground that the Allies honestly fight to restore democracy in Occupied Europe.

Who's afraid of the big bad draft? From all the brass alighting and ringing of fingers, you'd never guess that those teeth you hear chattering aren't doing it from poor dentistry . . .

It's the last call to arms for many of the men on the campus, but such stuff like that there hasn't stopped Alpha Phi Glanny Welsbrod from accepting SAE Dwayne Anderson's bid for a steady arrangement . . .

Or the Sigma Chis from pin planting. A one way ticket to the stocks is scheduled for Rex Phillips and Bill Campbell for pinning Gamma Phi's Gwen Davis and June Garfield . . .

We hear tell a Fiji tag is finally on a female sweater (Hays hall Virginia Egan) from Bill Stewart . . . and a few side-line whistles to Alpha Chi Kay Jones for the mean boogy ride she was swingin' at the Bucket the other eve . . .

Then came Sunday it was the same old story—Theta Mary Brown with short, dark and sweet stuff, Dick Fullwiler of the ATO abode . . .

And a bit of wondering goes on in our I.Q. 50 brain concerning Kappa Routh Specht and Fiji Cy Hudson. Is he at last devoting his entire dialling to 2425? . . .

We're losing sleep these bitter nights wondering if Pi Phi Vera Anderson is ever going to officially go steady with Delt Jack Julian . . .

And as a parting shot to our editor, who's tired of beating his brains out over pins and rings, we announce, with a blare of trumpets, that perchance there's been a pin-returning, just for a change. What's happened to Jim Roper's Phi Delt pin on Alpha Chi Bette French's sweater?

With four plays already to their credit and a fifth in the making, Theodore Sherman and Geoffrey Coope of the university English staff, will see one of their plays published in the near future. The play "Truth or Consequence," is a three-act comedy and was written by Mr. Sherman and Mr. Coope jointly.

"Truth or Consequences," especially designed for smaller high schools with meager stage resources, has been produced at Rupert, and during the coming month is scheduled to be produced at Payette and Marsing. Other schools plan to use the play later on.

Another play, "All Reason Now Resigned," a war play, has been produced at the university and at Akron university in Ohio.

The two other plays that are completed are "Easy Pickens" and "Shotgun Divorce."

At present the authors are working on a fifth play, "The Quiz Kid's Murder Mystery." It is a mystery play designed for high school productions.

Mr. Coope and Mr. Sherman wrote their first play in 1939 and have since been working on the various plays mentioned, as their hobby.

James Babb Gives Book To Library

Gift of the volume, "The Piro-technia of Vannoccio Biringuccio," the first translation into English from Italian of the first book dedicated completely to metallurgy, to the university school of mines library, by James T. Babb, formerly of Lewiston and now assistant librarian at the Yale university library, was announced recently by President Harrison C. Dale.

Mr. Babb gave the book, he advised President Dale, in memory of his father, the late James E. Babb, prominent Lewiston attorney, and "his favorite client," Harry L. Day, Wallace mining man. Mr. Day, who died recently, was a brother of Jerome J. Day, for many years a member of the board of regents of the university.

In addition to bringing to university mining students one of the earliest works in metallurgy, the translation is a typographical masterpiece. The translation is accompanied by an introduction and notes by Cyril S. Smith, formerly metallurgist with the Chase Brass company of Connecticut, and Martha Teach GnuDI of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. The book was designed by Carl Rollins of the Yale University Press.

This is the second important book gift made by the Babb family to the university. Shortly after her husband's death, Mrs. James E. Babb, who still resides in Lewiston, gave his law books to the university law library.

Whitlock Pilots Big Bomber Thru Series Of Hazards

The exploits of a former Idaho student are the talk of an American air base in Africa, according to a recent Associated Press dispatch from Cairo, Egypt. Captain George B. Whitlock, who left the university in his junior year, 1941, is the "man of the hour" at the African base.

Returning from a successful bombing raid in which his plane escaped heavy anti-aircraft fire, Captain Whitlock and crew flew the big bomber into some barrage balloons.

The bomber struck a balloon cable just before the fatigued crew was expecting to reach their home base and a hot meal.

The impact spun the bomber around in a smi-circle and tore a hole in one wing. However, Captain Whitlock righted the plane and sighted his home field.

More Trouble In preparing for a landing, Whitlock discovered that his right wheel would not go down, but landed safely on the left wheel.

Captain Whitlock was awarded an "I" letter in football in his junior year as an end on Coach Ted Bank's last Idaho team. A resident of Boise, he is affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Merrill Announces Frosh Smoker

Ted Merrill, president of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholastic honorary, announced a smoker scheduled Friday night at the Idaho club at 7:30.

Prospective members, freshmen boys who made a 8.5 or better grade average at the nine weeks, will be guests at the smoker.

IDDINGS ADDRESSES MEET

Discussing the food for freedom program and goals set for 1943 production, Dean E. J. Iddings, head of the college of agriculture, spoke Tuesday to a meeting of business men and farmers.

Addresses

Gem purchasers who plan to leave school before the end of the current school year should leave their home address at the graduate manager's office before checking out. Home addresses are wanted rather than temporary residences, according to Graduate Manager Perry Culp, Jr.

It is especially important that male students leaving for military service leave their home addresses," Culp says. "Mailing of 1943 Gems will probably occur in June at which time they will be sent COD postage."

Foresters Slate Annual Dance

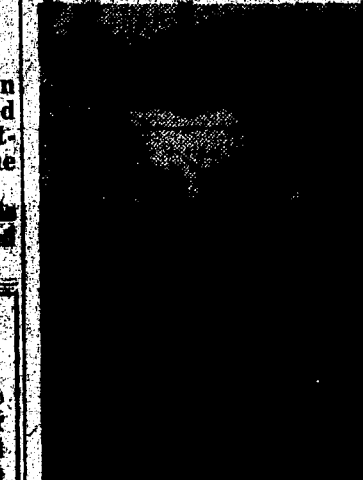

Foresters scheduled their annual ball for February 8 at a Monday night meeting. President Bob Stilling announced last night. Don Hyder was named chairman of the decorating committee.

Tentative plans for an all-university "between semesters" dance were discussed at the meeting which was highlighted by Ranger Powell's lecture on ranger life.

Editorial appointments for the Idaho Forester, forestry school publication, were announced by Dr. Merrill Deters and Marshall Spencer was named editor-in-chief.

Other appointments were: Dick Campagna, news editor; Warren Randall, business manager; Jerry O'Connor, advertising manager; Don Hyder, circulation manager.

Lieut. Favaro

Receiving his marine corps commission recently was Lieut. Bernard J. Favaro, who was graduated from the university last spring with a major in history and political science. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Delta Sigma Rho, and the International Relations club, Lieut. Favaro also participated in varsity debate.

Two Unusual Events Occur In TKE, SX Initiations

Making the several fraternity initiations Sunday were two out-of-the-ordinary occurrences which had house members guessing until further investigation cleared them up.

Sigma Chi members were thoroughly mystified as to the whereabouts of one initiate, Lawrence Douglas, when he failed to show up for the ceremonies. Inquiries revealed that Douglas had been participating in a ceremony of his own and had married Helen Everest, the preceding day.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Douglas were honeymooning, bewildered Sigma Chi discovered.

A more sober scene was transpiring at Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity almost simultaneously. Don Keith, freshman, and one of the 15 Teke initiates, was stricken with a severe attack of appendicitis during the ceremonies and less than half an hour later was operated upon at the Grifftman hospital.

He had been ill during the night but had concealed his discomfort as much as possible and expressed a desire to be initiated with his pledge class. At present he is convalescing at the infirmary.

Lawrence and Helen Douglas were married by Rev. Owen J. Beadles Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Poulson of Moscow attended them, Mrs. Poulson being the bride's sister.

Douglas is a sophomore in civil engineering and Mrs. Douglas a senior in business. She formerly resided at Hays hall.

Ice Rink

Inquiries directed at the graduate manager's office in regard to the absence of an ice skating rink on the campus caused Manager Perry Culp, Jr., to state that one would be installed on the football practice field if future weather warrants it.

Last summer Frank Jones, golf course manager, surveyed a corner of the practice field and announced it suitable for a rink," Culp says. "It is inadvisable to flood the tennis courts for skating purposes as the freezing and thawing tends to damage them."

Construction of a rink on the campus has been delayed because it takes three or four successive cold nights and a good many man hours to flood and build up a pond properly, according to Culp.

Musicians Attend Band Concert

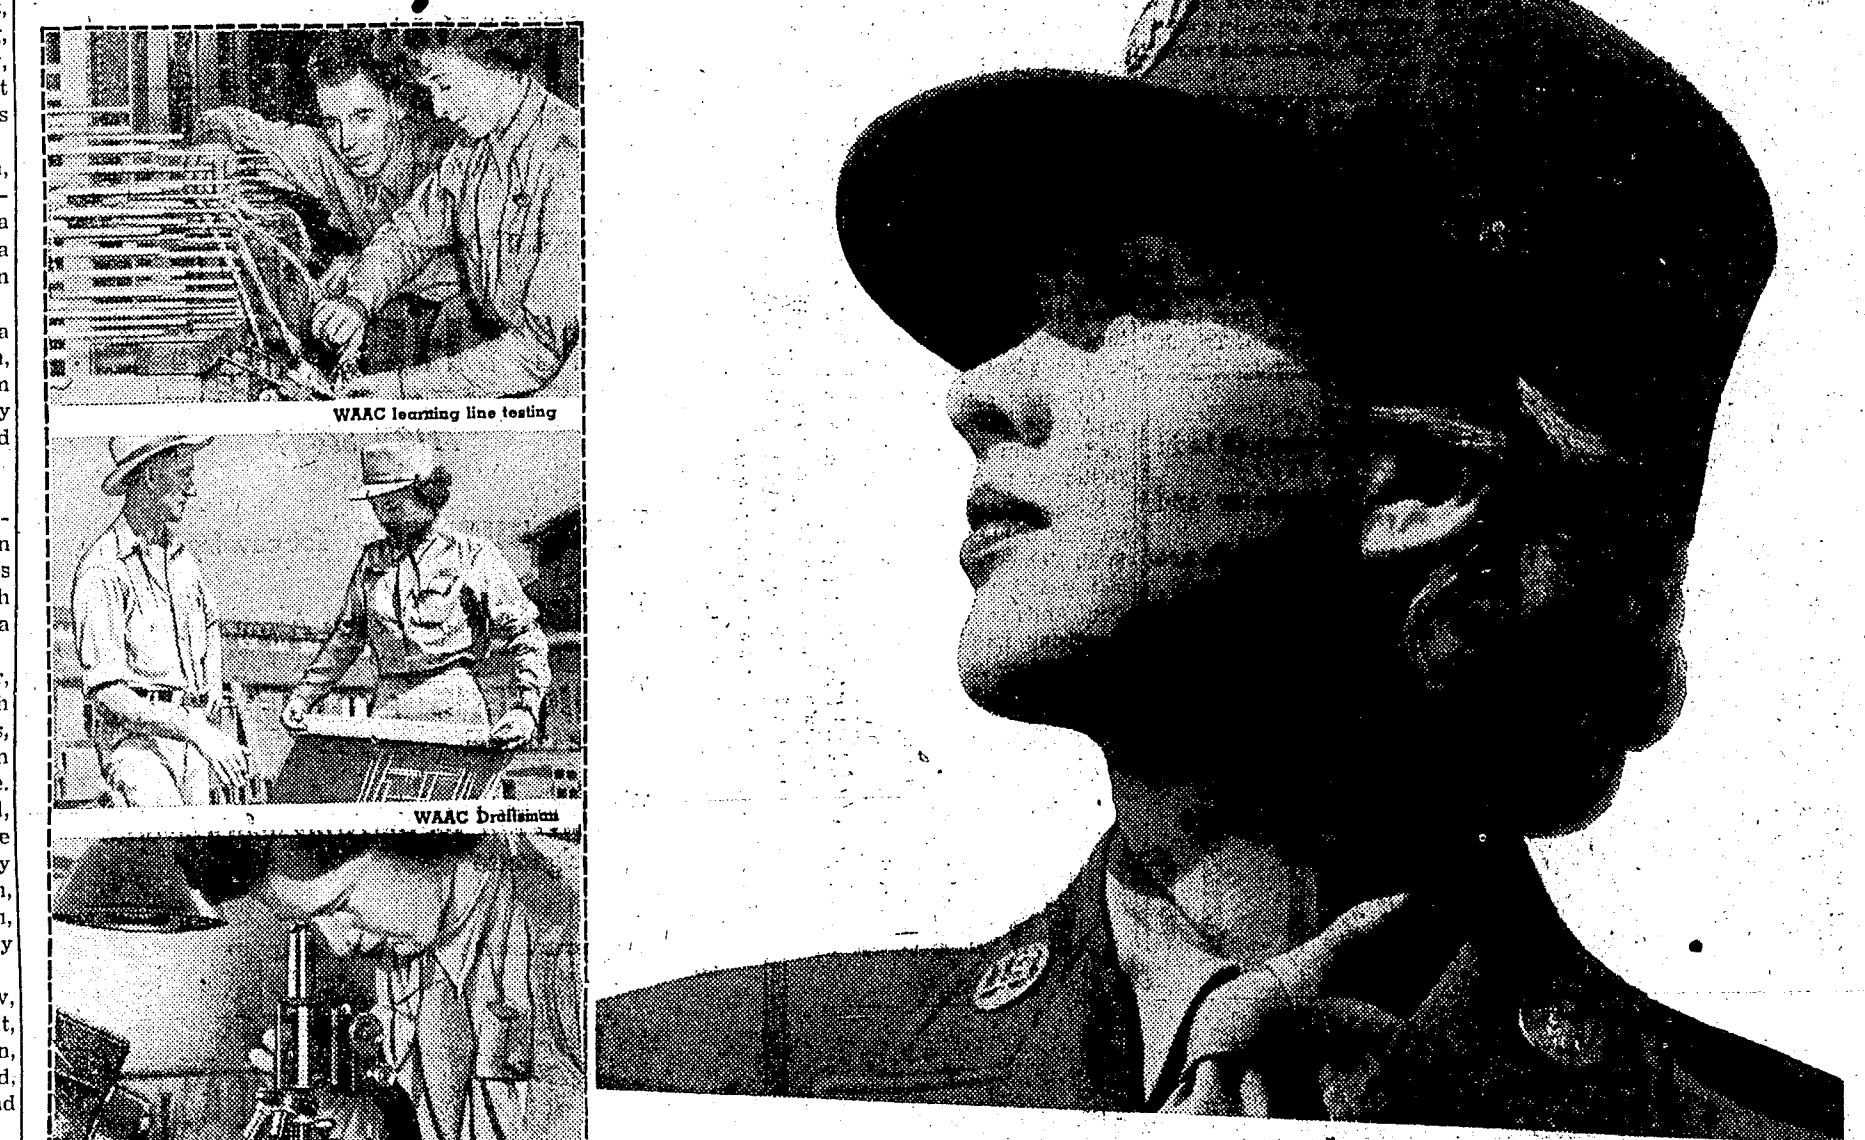

Three members of the music faculty and three members of Phi Mu Alpha, music honorary for men, attended a band concert at Washington State college last Sunday.

Those attending were Alvah H. Beecher, Carl Claus, and Edmund J. Marty from the faculty, and Ed Dalva, George Ochsner, and Don Slinger, from Phi Mu Alpha. After the concert, the men stayed for a Phi Mu Alpha initiation and banquet held for WSC.

Vandals To Meet WSC After Two Oregon Losses

Ducks Trample Brownmen In First Game, 43-21

Quinn and Bob Ryan took scoring honors of last night's game by scoring 10 points apiece. Benson was next for Idaho with 6 points all of which were scored by long one-handed push shots. Wren Taylor lead Oregon's scoring with 9 points while high scoring Wiley was held down to 6 points. Quinn scored a total of 21 points for both games and Wiley scored 22.

Idaho looked much better last night than they did Tuesday and they will now be setting their sights for the game January 23 when the Cougars from Pullman way invade Idaho. This will be another battle of high scoring centers and there is bound to be action when WSC's center, Gail Bishop, and Quinn start out to do a little scoring. Quinn scored 21 points in the two-game Oregon series and Bishop, who has not yet played a conference game, was perhaps the outstanding scorer in this area in pre-conference games.

Oregon vs. Idaho
In Tuesday night's game fans witnessed a very ragged game and one which Oregon was never headed all the way. Idaho played over 10 minutes in the first half without scoring and the half ended 24-10 for Oregon. Idaho shots were way off and the whole team played raggedly, suggesting that they were still tired from their long road trip. Wiley, 6 foot 5 inch freshman center from Oregon, led the scoring with 16 points. Fred Quinn, Idaho high scoring ace, pushed five field goals and sank one free throw to cop second place scoring honors with 11 points.

Quinn had two men guarding him most of the night since no other Idaho player provided real scoring threat.

Quinn Keeps High Average

Big Fred "Wimpy" Quinn, high scoring Vandal center, unwinds on his favorite hook shot despite being surrounded by Center Roger Wiley, left; Forward Ralph Fuhrman, No. 11, and Guard Alvin Popich, No. 6. Quinn dumped in 10 points last night and 11 Tuesday night to retain his high pre-season average.

Tankmen Prepare For WSC Meet

Vandal tankmen are preparing for the swimming meet with the WSC paddlers scheduled for February 6, Jerry O'Connor, team captain, said last night.

The meet was previously scheduled for tomorrow when Cougar swimmers and wrestlers were to invade Memorial gym in a minor sports carnival, but due to lack of preparations the meet was postponed, O'Connor said.

Pfc. Miller Killed
Pfc. Jerrold Burke Miller, who attended the university in 1940, has been killed in action, presumably in the Solomon Islands.

Burke was a commando in the marine corps, and was a member of the group who took part in the movie, "To the Shores of Tripoli."

The team recently lost one of its swim stars, Addison Foss, when he quit school. Ralph Hollingsworth, championship diver in the Northern division last year, failed to return this year, and Art Acuff, dash man, was lost by graduation.

O'Connor said that any freshman good enough would be used on the team and urged that more first-year men turn out.

Mittmen To Meet Friday In Inter-Squad Bouts

Idaho mittmen preparing for the WSC meet January 23 will hold an inter-squad meet tomorrow afternoon in the Memorial gymnasium, Bob Knox, boxing mentor, announced yesterday.

"We hope to put the ring up on the gymnasium floor and hold the meet under actual meet conditions except that large 16 ounce gloves will be used," Knox said.

Knox explained that the inter-squad meet was being held in order to give his battlers a little more ring experience and conditioning before the Cougar fray next week.

Freshmen Win Two From Sailors; Play WSC Next

Idaho's yearling basketball team under Coach George Greene, new mentor, won its first two games from the navy radio school by good margins of 40 to 25 and 42 to 17.

In last night's game the frosh went on to win easily 40 to 25 and after leading 21 to 16 at halftime. John White won honors in the scoring department by piling up 12 points. He was followed by Gates with 7 points, and Faylor with 4. For the navy, Wilson was high with 6 points.

Tuesday night the frosh had tough going the first half, but increased their 19 to 8 halftime lead to a 42 to 17 victory.

John White paced the yearlings with 12 points, followed by Gardner with 9, and Faylor with 6.

Both games were ragged, but the squad shows possibilities. Coach Greene substituted freely in order to get an idea of his material's prospects.

The team is now preparing for its next game with the WSC frosh, which will be the first of the six scheduled with the Kittens.

Bill Williams Calls 'T' Club Meeting
The "T" club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Memorial gym and all new lettermen who are not in the club as well as members should attend, Bill Williams, newly-elected president, said last night.

"We have had very poor attendance this year, but we intend to remedy and build the club up until it is as good or better than ever before," Williams said.

"We intend to have a good "T" club section at all the basketball games and other athletic events and see if we can't have as good a section as WSC this year," Williams added. Among the plans of Williams and his group of major "T" letter winners was that of a contest to select a queen for the "T" club dance being planned for the future.

Meeting last Monday night the sweatmen elected Williams president for the new year; Norm Fredelkind, vice president; Earl Chandler, secretary; Ray Davis, treasurer; and Veto Berlus, sergeant-at-arms.

Coed: Going to the party tonight?
Pal: No, I'll be out of town.
Coed: I wasn't asked either.

WSC TO OPEN NEW CLASS
The college of engineering at WSC will open a class in engineering for off-campus women, beginning at the second semester, Dean R. D. Sloan announced this week.

Five university officials were elected Monday night to the 1943 Red Cross executive committee: Prof. R. S. Snyder, G. S. Tanner, Dr. H. D. Cramer, Col. C. W. Jones, and Mrs. J. E. Buchanan.
