In the book drive by the Victory Committee, between 400 and 500 books were collected for the men in the service. Last Saturday the members of the Victory Committee gathered the books at all the group houses. The Sigma Nu house topped the list of contributors with from 50 to 75 books. Other houses contributing were Hays Hall, Delta Gamma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Gamma Delta, Alpha Tau Omega, SAE, Lindley Hall, Ridenbaugh Hall, Idaho Club, Alpha Phi, Delta Delta, and Alpha Chi Omega. The books collected were technical books, novels, and short stories. Another drive will be held in the near future, the committee announced today. In the picture are Rex Blewett and Bob Stillinger.

The GOLDEN FLEECE

by Jason

For the past few weeks Jason has been so busy airing pet "gripes" that some things worth mentioning have been neglected. The scene last Sunday evening as the train was leaving, taking with it some 35 men from the University of Idaho brought the situation back to mind.

Those 35 men were going into active duty with the air corps—they wouldn't be coming back to the campus till after the duration—maybe never. And March 17, 74 more of "the boys" will leave, to go into active duty with the Army of the United States.

Down at the station there was lots of joking—a false front. After the train left, it was a very different picture. Fellows turned and walked away with hunched shoulders, and women quickened their paces so that tears would not be noticed. They suddenly realized what swell "eggs" those fellows were, and that there would be no more parties with them for a while—nor any friendly arguments.

There really isn't much to be said, except that Jason, for the student body, would like to add his sentiments to those of Dr. Graue, when he said to one of the men leaving Sunday, "Don't let us down."

But we know the answer to that when we see your records as men from Idaho.

Jason heard ASUI Prexy Harry Lewies say the other day with an audible sigh, "I wish there was just one thing that would go right this year." We think there was some slight exaggeration in his statement, for considering all the peculiarities that have been imposed on the campus during this war year, our living and activities have been kept on a fairly even keel.

But the problem that was bothering our Prexy when he made that statement, though not an especially vital matter, was one which was the direct result of inefficiency or mismanagement of student affairs.

What we are specifically referring to is the recent mix-up on the matter of who should perform between halves at the basketball game Friday night—WSC or Idaho. Simple? Well, yes, but here's the story behind it.

Washington State college began writing letters to our rally committee chairman last fall, saying that WSC would like to put on half-time entertainment for Idaho students at one of the basketball games this year. Other members of the rally committee contacted claim no knowledge of such let-

Army Takes Over Part Of WSC

The army air corps took over a part of Washington State college this week when several contingents of enlisted doughboys arrived for an intensified college course in pre-flight instruction and about 10 hours of flying instruction at the Pullman-Moscow airport. The actual number in each contingent was not officially disclosed, but observers said each comprises at least 400 men. Stimson and Ferry halls will house the first two contingents. Previous reports indicated that WSC will eventually have about 1200 men stationed there for this training.

AWS Nominates Many; Will Elect Monday

Nominations for officers of the Associated Women Students and for the May queen and her court were made at a nominating assembly held Monday, March 1, in the Student Union building. The elections were scheduled for yesterday but were postponed until next Monday due to the long list of candidates and the time that will be required to check the eligibility of the nominees.

AWS president, Rena Echer, presided over the assembly and received nominations from the floor to supplement the nomination slate submitted by an AWS committee. Candidates for president are: Claire Bracken, Edith Jones, Helen Jones, Lois Lemon and Anne Thompson. Nominees for vice president include: Lorene Bales, Drexel Brown and Helen Foster.

On the ballot for secretary are: Marion Franson, Edith Marler, Molly McMahon, Camille Short, Margaret Stillinger, and Vi Wicks; and for treasurer: Frances Freeman, Muriel Fugate, Frances Marshall, Mary Pennell, Beverly Weber, and Muriel Whiteman. Listed for orientation chairman are: Muriel Axtell, Merrie Lu Kleoepfer and Roberta Rodgers.

Candidates for may queen are: Dorothy Bayne, Rena Echer, Pauline Hawley and Jean Mann. Running for maid of honor are: Carol Brandt, Helen Jean Brink, Mary Ann Freeland, Maxine Grover, Edith Jones, and Kathleen Woodworth. The nominations for page included: Bette French, Edith Marler, Florence Marshall, Ruth Leth, Julien Paulson, Elaine Thomas, Barbara Ravenscroft and Marian Wilson. Frosh candidates for yell queen are: Vera Anderson, Eleanore Andrew, Barbara Bedwell, Mary Dochios, Phyllis Hines, Patty Ann Oxley and Pat Shelton.

Barkow Addresses Students On Democracy

By BETTY SMITHERS
"Democracy is not primarily a form of government," said the Very Rev. Calvin Barkow, dean of St. Michael's cathedral in Boise, in his address to Idaho students Tuesday. "It is a set of principles to be understood and practiced in all your contacts. And that is what our educational system means. It means leading the student to larger and more complex contacts and to the assumption of greater responsibilities."

"Yours is a crusade for democracy," Dean Barkow said. "The world is fighting for democracy, but whether or not they have it depends upon your generation. I challenge you to take your youth and make with it a better world than the warring one which your fathers have handed down to you. You can start by taking inventory of yourself, of your friendships, and of your country. Something made America the greatest nation in the world, and that something was the acceptance of the challenge of catastrophe. Stricken with civil war, she stumbled to the hills of God and emerged a new and united nation. If every man in America will accept the challenge of catastrophe, and let his motto be, 'I did yesterday what others will dream of doing tomorrow,' we can emerge again a united and better nation."

Dean Barkow was rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church in Moscow several years ago.

Dancers Choose Marjorie Call

Marjorie Call was crowned queen of the annual Gold and Green ball sponsored by M.I.A., student organization of the L.D.S. church, last Friday night. The other candidates, Elaine Anderson, Betty Jo O'Rourke, Venice Draper, and Ilene Evans were her attendants.

After the coronation six couples performed two exhibition dances, a rumba, and the gold and green waltz. Those taking part were Marjorie Call, George Smalley, Lucy Tayson, Merrill Stucki, Venice Draper, Seth Jenkins, Jensine Johannessen, Leland Fife, Dorothy Jean Ricks, Bruce Jepsen, Virginia Transue, and Alvin Hanson.

Collegiate Victory Gardens

Collegiate Victory garden? Yes, Collegiate Victory gardens. It isn't such a screwy idea if you stop and think about it for a half a minute.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea for fraternities on the Idaho campus, and maybe some of the sororities, to plant a victory garden this spring and reap a crop of the vitamin packed green and yellow vegetables for the group larder? There is plenty of vacant ground adjacent to the many group houses to cultivate.

For instance such vegetables as carrots, radishes, potatoes, spinach, maybe a little lettuce or even a few green beans would look mighty fancy on the dinner table in early fall. Then there are such things as squash, cucumbers and tomatoes that could be grown.

Think of the ration points that could be saved. Now comes the labor problem. Who's going to be around all summer to bend the back over a hoe and pull a hose for irrigating? It's evident that many students deferred from military service for several reasons are going to stay in university classrooms during the summer to complete courses. They could do the work in exchange for a summer's room rent or other compensation.

Practically every group house on the campus is adjacent to enough space to plant a garden that would yield enough to afford a large saving in living expenses during the first few months of the fall semester, and some of the vegetables could be used by the students remaining on the campus during the summer.

For instance, the S. A. E.'s have ground in back of their house; the Sigma Chi's own quite a tract of land in back of their chapter house and it could be sub-let to three or four other groups and still have enough ground available for themselves.

It doesn't take a master mind to grow a vegetable garden. The College of Agriculture has information and bulletins on the proper varieties of vegetables to be grown with the greatest productivity for this section of the state, and the bulletins are free for the asking.

The growing of a vegetable garden sounds like a lot of work, and it is, but when divided among the members of a group house, it should be trimmed to a minimum. A week of work during the planting season would flit by in a hurry and a hoe, especially one that would fit any set of hands, exercised occasionally brings about a pretty fair crop.

Largest factor in favor of a victory garden must be faced squarely—ya gotta eat.

For the first time in history, women are being admitted to the band at UCLA. Director Leroy Allen issued the call for women to fill in the sections left depleted by the call of men to the armed services.

Women at Purdue have crashed another "For Men Only" bracket by enrolling in a Curtiss-Wright sponsored course in aerodynamic engineering. The cadettes are classed as special students and will study the engineering subject for 44 weeks. Upon completion of the work they will be assigned to work with the Curtiss-Wright company.

Eight women students at the University of Washington donated blood to the injured in the crash of an experimental Flying Fortress at a Seattle meat packing plant last week. The women were at a Seattle hospital to donate blood for military purposes when the call for blood arrived to aid the injured victims. Besides the thrill of donating a pint of blood for immediate transfusions, the girls packed eight sore arms back to their Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

University of Montana students are busy celebrating the 50th anniversary of the signing of the university charter in February, 1893. The celebration is spread over a week and features many interesting historical programs leading up to the present university.

Formal dances have been crossed off the social calendar at UCLA. Representatives of student organizations met with the student council recently and weighed the pros and cons of formal dances. The result was the abolishment of the dances. Main reason for discontinuance was the lack of cause for such frills while alumni and classmates are wallowing in mud and grime on a myriad of battlefronts.

Service bound seniors at the University of Washington are granted their diplomas when they are in the last quarter of their work. The ruling was adopted by the Faculty Senate committee as the number of seniors being called into the armed services has increased.

Enrollment at the University of Nevada "climbed to 616" students at the final day of registration for the spring semester. Two hundred thirty-nine were men and 277 were women.

With a gander into the future, men students at Washington State are contemplating the establishment of a rationing system for dating. To get a date a card must be set up on the campus soon. A, B and C cards will be issued according to the opportunities a girl has now to associate with the few remaining men on the campus. Following is listed the rationing brackets:

- A Cards—Allow one week-end date and one coke date per month.
B Cards—Two week-end dates and one coke date per month.
C Cards—Two week-end dates and four coke dates per month.
Requirements were listed as:
A Cards—All those who have three-points taken from a possible priority rating of 5.
B Cards—Those with priority rating 3 or 4.
C Cards—Those with priority rating 5.
Points will be scored in the following manner:
Girls who have classes in which one boy is enrolled—minus one point.
Girls in classes in which two boys are enrolled—minus two points.
Girls in that class which has three boys—minus three points.
It was decided that girls living in sororities who have an opportunity to see houseboys at meal times should have a point automatically subtracted from their ratings.

Initiates Honored

New initiates of Pi Beta Phi were honored at an initiation dance held Saturday night at the chapter house. The women who were initiated are Vera Anderson, Virginia Holmes, Barbara Hull, Jean Massey, Lenore Mays, Yvonne Neal, Gloria Rino, Maxine Roberts, Mary Swartz and Jean Thompson.

GAMMA PHI ELECTS
New house officers were elected this week by members of Gamma Phi Beta. They are Roberta Rodgers, Boise, president; Helen Foster, Sandpoint, vice president; Hilary Ann Corrigan, Spokane, corresponding secretary; Betty Ahrens, Spokane, recording secretary; and Betty Cartwell, Coeur d'Alene, treasurer.

CAPITAL to CAMPUS

A. C. P.'s Correspondent Reports from Washington

Room for Rent by Racketeer

WASHINGTON, (ACP) — To nimble-witted gentry with acquisitive instincts, it's a rare ill wind that fails to suggest a road to easy wealth.

The ill wind of Washington's wartime overcrowding is no exception. Many a government recruit is learning the search for a room to rent may lead to the door of a petty racketeer.

According to the Washington U. S. attorney's office, here's how hundreds of newcomers are victimized. The new arrival checks his bag at Union Station and begins the room hunt. Hours later he finds a landlord who says he'll have a room available next day and a week's rent in advance.

The jubilant room hunter pays, pockets a receipt and departs rejoicing. Next day he returns. "No room here, sorry," says the landlord. The room hunter shows his receipt, asks for his money back. The landlord points to the receipt. It says "no refund after 10 hours."

The war worker is out $5, $10 or more—and still roomless.

That's small stuff. Big-time operators mulct home seekers of as much as $200, deposit on purchase of a home.

Few college students ever buck a racket like this. But they are old hands at the perilous, complicated business of renting rooms and living in rooming houses. They could give lessons to women war workers now living in rented rooms for the first time.

To help them with their problems, the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor prepared a list of do's and don'ts for roomers and landlords, complete with an epigram from Emerson: "Life is not so short but that there is always time enough for courtesy."

Speed-up For Women

Accelerated war-time education has received another boost, this time for women. In a policy statement for guidance of liberal arts colleges, the American Council on Education's committee on college women and the war plunks for hastening graduation of good students to help fill emergency needs for trained personnel.

To provide year-round schooling for women students at colleges unable to maintain summer sessions, the report suggests pooling staffs and student bodies. Three southern colleges, it points out, are planning to offer a combined summer term on a single campus.

Women's colleges and co-educational institutions are essential now, the committee believes, because they can provide technical and professional workers. Notable examples are chemists, mathematicians, physicists, statisticians, economists, research workers, administrative assistants, psychologists and bacteriologists.

Although stressing war training, the report urges continuation of foundation courses for professional schools and combinations of arts and technical courses such as social work, home economics and physical education.

War-Time Washington

It's getting so no nice young girl in Washington is safe—from job offers. So acute is the office help shortage that popping the question now means asking: "Can you type?" Many a high-paid executive doesn't know where his next stenographer is coming from. And a war department bureau is experimenting with training boys and girls to be typists. The experiment is directed by Dr. Maye Hyton of Columbia university, who says she can make a typist of an average-intelligence girl in three weeks. Stenographers take a little longer. Trainees get $1440 a year plus $312 overtime.

Experimental Drama

WPB isn't known as a patron of the experimental drama, but it's keeping an eye on an experiment among New England college theatres that involves—of all things—a logging project. Since the experiment concerns reduction of the manpower shortage for winter logging operations, however, WPB has a legitimate interest. Matter of fact, WPB wrote the script. It's "Woodman, Chop That Tree," a dramatization of the need for loggers.

Members of the Allied College Theatres of New England presenting the drama include Amherst, Bennington, Brown, Mount Holyoke, Smith, Wellesley, Williams, and Yale. Theatres at these schools organized last fall to integrate and enlarge their war activities.

Did You Know

That the first University of Idaho students plowed through thistles and wild grasses to enter the first administration building to enroll in the university in the fall of 1892?

There wasn't a tree in sight. Only trees visible reached skyward over the tops of willow bushes bordering Paradise creek. It was a vacant sight from the Ad building toward the east in comparison with the present view.

All of the trees on the campus were moved to the campus and planted in a scrubby state. They have been nursed to their present sizes by the buildings and grounds department. Speaking of trees, The arboretum to the south of MacLean field was the first of its kind west of the Mississippi when planted in 1909. Prof. Shattuck, first head of Idaho's forestry department, acquired the land for the arboretum from the Board of Regents and imported varieties from all parts of the world as a test to the varieties that would thrive in Idaho.

COMMUNIQUE COMMENT

In the past month, Secretary Knox has called for the naval disarmament of Japan and permanent acquisition by the U.S. of British, Dutch, French and Japanese bases in the western Pacific—as part of our reward for victory. His ringing words tend to convince more than a few citizens of our wartime allies that Uncle Sam intends to use the present conflict to establish a world-wide American empire based on air and sea power. The 1943 United Nations conference may help to dispel the suspicion of U.S. war aims that is growing among our friends overseas. More than that, the Allied talks that will start this spring may lay the groundwork for a peace settlement more far-sighted than any envisaged by the head of our Navy Department.

The experience of 1919-20 should convince Americans that it is wise to get the United Nations to agree in the near future on methods for solving the grave problems of the post-war period. President Wilson went to the Paris peace conference of 1919 in the mistaken belief that the Allies would use his Fourteen Points as practical guides for the reorganization of Europe, Africa and Asia. Clemenceau and Lloyd George came to the peace table with the determination to divide up the German, Austrian and Turkish territories on the basis of the Allied secret treaties of 1914-17. The Paris meeting resulted in the disintegration of the anti-German coalition of 1918—because the member states had not discussed thoroughly their respective formulas for peacemaking in the months before the armistice.

At this moment, Britain and the Soviet Union seem to be ready to shoulder the responsibilities of international co-operation to achieve world stability. The British realize that their economic prosperity in the future will have to rest upon a series of international agreements governing markets, investments, raw materials, airways, and merchant shipping. The Russian Communist regime loyally supported the principle of collective security as a member of the League of Nations from 1934 to 1939; in the post-war years, the U.S.S.R. can be expected to take the same attitude as it seeks guarantees against aggression in order to carry forward the gigantic task of domestic reconstruction. Adoption of an imperialist policy by the U.S. after an Allied victory would turn Britain and the Soviet Union to the old and dangerous game of the balance of power—as a matter of self-protection in the face of American expansion.

The M. U. Plays Host . . .

Every year the Memorial Union (Student Union) plays host to the student body with the advent of the M.U. open house. This strictly informal affair has for its motive to "show off" so to speak, a building that many an Oregon Stater has just cause to be proud.

The inner working of the Memorial Union are open for the inspection of students and visitors alike. The Thanae and Talons have planned special tours throughout the building to view the Barometer and Beaver offices, the big kitchen that sets a fine plate for special banquets and independent male students living in the school owned halls, and other sights of interest that many of the Oregon Staters didn't know existed.—Oregon State Barometer.

Steeplechasers ? ?

With the return of physical education classes to the steeplechase course, the consciences of gym students have been placed under considerable stress and strain. A portion of the term's grade is to be determined by the average of two clocked runs over the course. The average class has but one instructor who is supposed to check individual times and at the same time see that obstacles are not accidentally missed by students. Foggy weather and the length of the run make this an impossibility for one man. By-passing of the harder parts of the course is prevalent, and a few students are occasionally seen cutting across the middle of the field.

Knowing that their grades are being lowered, students must fight a regular civil war in their minds to remain in the thinning ranks of honest participants. Less fog, fewer and easier obstacles or more instructors are needed if the steeplechase isn't to become the laughing stock of the physical education department.—Oregon State Barometer.

'After 3 Years Of War . . .

While still pursuing the course of students and the war, there's room here to include an account of the colleges of Britain—the schools whose classrooms have been tempered for war three years.

The British Information Services, an agency of the British government, paints a picture of the young men and women: "working hard," "cramming most of two or three years' work into one or two," "weekly fire-guard and military training duties," "sports continuing on a reduced scale," "taking much agricultural and some industrial work in week-ends and vacations."

And in the charming manner of English letters, it describes King's college, London, in its war-time home in Bristol:

"They all do weekly night firewatching duties, both on University premises and at their billets or hostels. Between lectures—which run at peace-time capacity and sometimes fuller—they drill, practice first aid, work in college, service, and public canteens, and organize continuous paper and pigfoot salvage, dig-for-victory, mending-for-the-army, baby-minding, entertainment for the forces (including Information Please and 'Brain Trust' features), and similar campaigns.

"The women tie up closely with the Women's Voluntary Services.

"Yet—look at the social notice-boards. They were a-flutter with layers of bills and posters advertising a college production of 'Quiet Wedding,' and Easter presentation of the 'Messiah,' and King's London-and-Bristol choir, a debate 'that the faculty of arts must be maintained, being a contribution to British life and thought influencing a far greater number than ever enter the university lecture rooms themselves.'—University of Washington Daily.

Student Weddings Again In Limelight; Pi Phis Lead Week's Parade

With the wedding of Maxine Garner and Ted Pence set for tomorrow night, student marriages are again in the limelight. Maxine, Pi Beta Phi, is a sophomore home ec major, and Ted, Alpha Tau Omega, is a senior in geology. The ceremony will be performed by The Rev. John R. Bill at 8:30 p.m. in the Episcopal church. Bridesmaids will be Gloria Rino and Phyllis Bruker, sorority sisters. Ray Hoobing, ATO, will be best man.

Allured-Untermaier

Miss Pat Untermaier, Pi Beta Phi, was married to Lt. Steve Allured at her home in Bonners Ferry last Saturday afternoon. The bride was attended by Roberta Thomas and the best man was George Untermaier, brother of the bride. Lieutenant Allured, Bonners Ferry, returned to Fort Lewis, Wash., where he is stationed. Pat, who is a senior in physical education will finish school. Parents of the bride and groom attended the ceremony.

Furse-Hinkley

The First Methodist church in Coeur d'Alene was the scene of the marriage of Irene Hinkley and Seaman Thomas Furse on Friday, February 26. Miss Hinkley graduated from the university last year with a degree in home economics. Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Florence Hinkley. Rena Ecker was also a bridesmaid. Seaman Furse is stationed at the naval base at Farragut. Irene lived at Ridenbaugh hall when she attended the university. She has been and will continue throughout the year to teach home economics in Kendrick.

Gordon-Hall

Joe Gordon, Lindley hall, was married to Betty Hall on February 12, in St. Mary's Catholic church. Gordon is a junior in mining engineering and is also in advanced ROTC. His home is at Kellogg. Miss Hall graduated from the university in 1940 and she has been teaching at Russell school since this year. Her home is at Pocatello. Miss Willen Shaver was maid of honor. Joe's brother, Hugh, was best man. A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Kathleen Shaver after the wedding. Miss Margaret Ritchie, head of the home economics department, poured. The couple are now living at the Thutuna apartments.

Crea-Richardson

Valentine's day was the date of Alice Richardson's marriage to Earl Crea. They were married by Father Stokoe in St. Mary's Catholic church. Earl Crea, Lindley hall is a junior in agriculture. Miss Richardson worked for the Pollack Forests the last semester, but she went to school here last year. She is now a junior in business. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Akers; Lewis Crea, the groom's brother, was best man. Senator and Mrs. William Crea were here from Boise to attend their son's marriage. The newlyweds are living in an apartment at 430 Veatch.

York-Bracken

The marriage of Elizabeth Bracken to Robert York has been announced. The wedding took place on January 30 in the Presbyterian church in Bridgeport, Conn. Elizabeth majored in journalism and received her B.A. degree in 1942. She has been working for the Syms-York Publishing company in Boise since then. While attending the university she was a member of Delta Gamma sorority, Phi Beta Kappa, Cardinal Key, Mortar Board, and Alpha Lambda Delta. She was president of Westminster Guild and Theta Sigma, women's journalism honorary. She was awarded the Alpha Lambda Delta scholarship cup at the May Fete last spring. Robert York is now a test engineer for General Electric in Bridgeport. He graduated from Colorado university at Boulder, Colo., in 1942. He was affiliated with Acacia fraternity; he received his degree in electrical engineering.

Harbke-Stellman

Bernadine Stellman of Forney hall revealed her secret marriage to William Harbke, U.S.N., on February 20. They were married in Bremerton where he was stationed at that time. He returned to school the following Monday and plans to graduate this spring. The home of both is Nezperce. The groom's mother attended the ceremony. He is now stationed in Chicago, Ill.

Journalism Group Initiates Two

Theta Sigma, women's journalism honorary, initiated Pat Palmer and Lola Jackson February 25. Following the initiation a dinner meeting was held at the Moscow hotel. Activities were planned for the remainder of the year. Mrs. William F. Swindler was a special guest.

SECRET

Deep secrecy shrouds the contest to be sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, service honorary, to raise funds for the purchase of war bonds. These bonds are to be redeemed after the war to erect a memorial plaque in honor of the former students of the university killed in action.

Numbers Replaces Towles On Board

Jack Numbers was named Wednesday evening by the Greek caucus to replace Jim Towles on the ASUI executive board. His appointment is subject to approval by the executive board. Billie Keeton was chosen as sophomore class treasurer, replacing Blaine Evans. Dee Gray was elected chairman of the caucus. He takes the place of Cecil Jones, who left at the end of the first semester to go to medical school.

Kappa Sigma Takes Nine Members

Nine new members were initiated into Kappa Sigma fraternity on February 21. These men are Jerry Smith, Keith Bennett, Stuart Blackwell, Irving Lantor, Jack Foster, Wayne Parks, Jack Mattson, Burt Berlin and Sumner Johnson. Pledged to Kappa Sigma last week was Walt Hoffbuhr, Aberdeen.

Scribe Slays War Rumors For University Women

The current topic of conversation in sorority and girls' hall bull-fest centers on rationing clothing problems. Idaho coeds ponder rumors and leaf-through spring fashion books wondering about the actual facts. Here are the answers to some of these questions and the truth about a few rumors according to government bulletins and a highly authoritative fashion magazine:
Rumor: Civilian purchases are depriving the armed forces of vital needs and should, therefore, be stopped.
Truth: The government takes those things which it needs and what is left appears in the stores. By purchasing wisely the articles that you need you are helping business to function as normally as possible.
More Rationing
Rumor: Clothing will be rationed in the very near future.
Truth: This seems rather remote because designers and manufacturers are cooperating in producing wearing apparel well within the government specifications. Spring lines are showing dresses with cap-sleeves, pencil-slim skirts, and short evening gowns.
Rumor: Rayon stockings will disappear because all rayon will be put into tires.
Truth: The WPB assures that enough will be left for civilian use.
Rumor: There will be only one shade of color in rayon stockings.
Truth: Some manufacturers are limiting their shades to one or two colors. You will be able to get different shades in different lines.
Costume Jewelry
Rumor: There will be no more

Spurs To Initiate Pledges Tonight

New Spur pledges who have been tapped during the past few weeks will be formally initiated this evening at the Pi Beta Phi house, according to Margaret Stilling, president.
Marvel Houx, Tri Delt, was tapped to replace Clyde Whitsett and Charlotte Dimond, Delta Tau Gamma, replaced Elizabeth Tyra, both of whom withdrew at the end of the first semester.
There will be a short meeting following initiation to make tentative plans for the annual Spur dance.

Scholars Pledge 23 Freshmen

Twenty-three freshman women were pledged Monday afternoon to Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic honorary, Julie Paulson, president, announced. These women have attained a 3.5 grade average for their first college semester.

Women Complete Archery Meet

In the third and final round of the women's intercollegiate archery meet, the same four girls who have been leading in the previous meets, shot the highest scoring arrows. This week Jane Meyer scored first with 378 points and Eleanor Arms second with 352. Joella Gage, with 257, and Yvonne Neal, with 137 points, came third and fourth, respectively.
These women shot a total of 1122 points the first week, 1196 the second, and dropped back to 1124 for the final round.
A total of 3442 has been sent in to compete with the colleges of the northwest entered in the intercollegiate meet. The final results are expected to come in from Oregon State this week.

Women Schedule Swim Opener

First competition in the women's swimming meet will be held next Thursday at 4:00 p.m., and the second meet, on March 20 at 10:30 a.m. A failure to get entrance fees in on time, has disqualified Idaho from the regular women's intercollegiate telegraphic meet.
There has been a good turnout at all practices it is reported. Some women drill at least twice a week.
Eight practices are required, but four class practices may be counted. Those in a swimming class still have time to get in the four out-of-class half-hour practices. Women interested may come any time between 4:00 and 5:00 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and on Saturday from 10:00 to 12:00 a.m. or 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. Stop watch timing will be taken this week on Thursday and Saturday.

As many as 75 WAA points will be given to women making the swimming team. Distances in the competition will be both 40 and 100 yards. Strokes will be the breast stroke, back stroke, and free style.
Helen Urness, Kappa Alpha Theta, will be student manager for the swimming meet.

Foresters Discuss Annual Banquet

At the meeting of the Foresters' club held last Monday, tentative plans for the annual banquet and for the spring barbeque were discussed. The WSC Forestry club is to be invited to the banquet. Dates for the two events have not been set, Bob Stilling, president of the organization, said.
WOMEN SELECT MANAGERS
Two more managers were appointed last Tuesday afternoon at the regular WAA board meeting. Marian Krussman was chosen as the horseshoe manager, and the free throw manager appointment went to Kathleen Woodworth.

Rationing Fails To Stop Idaho Social Activity

Someone is confused. Although food rationing got into full swing this week, living quarters on the campus had more dinner guests than ever before. Miss Wayne Brainard, Kellogg, was entertained at the Alpha Chi Omega house last week-end. Dick Thomas, Phi Gamma Delta, and Mrs. William Keech, St. Maries, at the Alpha Phi house, Sunday; Dean Calvin Barkow, at the house of Delta Delta Delta, Thursday.
Mrs. S. J. Mariner, Spokane, was a guest at the Kappa Alpha Theta, this week; Dean Barkow, at the Gamma Phi Beta house, Tuesday evening; Katherine Crane, Boise, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dickerson, Bill Mangum, Jack Newell, John Hanson, Richard Lavro and Earl Hays, for Sunday dinner at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house; Rev. Stanton of the Methodist church, at Lindsey hall Tuesday night; Mrs. Pence, Mrs. Hoobing, and Mrs. Smith, from Butte, are expected guests at the Alpha Tau Omega house this week-end.

Exchanges this week are scheduled between the following houses and halls: Delta Tau Delta and Alpha Phi, Tuesday; Navy men and Delta Delta Delta, Saturday; Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Gamma, Thursday; Phi Delta and Gamma Phi Beta, Wednesday; Idaho club and Hays hall, Thursday; Pi Beta Phi and Phi Gamma Delta, Thursday.

The annual Sweetheart dinner is scheduled at the Alpha Tau Omega house next Sunday, and members of Sigma Nu fraternity will hold their formal initiation dance Friday evening.
Firesides this week will be held at the houses of Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Kappa Sigma, Alpha Tau Omega, and the Idaho club. These are all on Friday or Saturday evening.

Business Honorary Taps 10 Women

Ten university women were tapped by Phi Chi Theta, national women's business honorary, last Tuesday night. Those tapped were Margaret Burnside, Jean MacRae, Amy MacGregor, Bette French, Jean Schoenhals, Margaret Stilling, Helen Howard, Betty Cardwell, Eldoris Erickson, and Alice Richardson Crea.
Scholarship, personality and activities are the qualities considered in the selection of members by Phi Chi Theta. Pledging will take place Tuesday evening, March 9, at 5 o'clock at Forney hall, Arlene Deobald Watts, president, revealed.

SAE PLEDGES TWO

Sigma Alpha Epsilon announces the pledging of Ronald Bird, Paris, and Kenneth Oliver, Emmett. Recently initiated into the fraternity were Keith Griffiths, Lead, S. D., Bruce Hansen, Nampa, and Ted Clark, Emmett.

Here's More About INFORMATION

Oral tests are used to determine aptitude for specialist positions. There are many specialist jobs in the army. At the end of the basic training period, college students will probably be assigned to one of the following: 1. School for the training of army specialists. 2. Officers candidate school for training officers. 3. College or university for technical training. 4. Tactical unit, if not already a part of one.

The army specialized training program has been set up in two parts—college or university and officer candidate school. The soldier makes application for the army specialists program and if accepted, is to attend a college or university or an officers candidate school, depending upon his qualifications. There will be two groups in the college training program, basic and advanced.

Training courses will include such fields as pre-medical, pre-dental, pre-veterinarian, medical, dental and veterinarian, many fields of engineering, courses in chemistry, mathematics, physics, personnel and psychology. To qualify for the basic course, a man must score 110 points or better on the general classification test, and be between the ages of 18 and 22. To qualify for the advanced course, a man must have had at least one year of college and must have made a score of 110 or better on the general classification test.

While a member of the army specialized training program, the officer will have the rank of private, 7th grade. If he fails in his course, he will be returned to the ranks as a private. A man who completes his basic training in college will do one of the following: 1. Continue in college in the advanced courses. 2. Return to the ranks as a private with specialized training. 3. Be made a technical non-commissioned officer. 4. Be sent to officers candidate school. At the end of the advanced course a soldier will either be made a technical non-commissioned officer or be sent to officers candidate school. It is thought that the training courses will be divided into 12 week periods.

Further information may be obtained in the office of the Dean of Men.

Canterbury Elects New Officers

At a recent meeting of the Canterbury society plans were made for a semi-annual reception to be held next Tuesday at the Episcopal rectory, 612 Elm street, from 7 to 9 p.m. There will be refreshments, entertainment, and games.
New officers were elected for the coming year. They are: President, Marylin Jensen; treasurer, Chuck Ohms; secretary, Robin Sutton; and vestry members, Don Hansen, Mary Jane Donart, Jean Harmon, Sam Butterfield, Pot Oxley, Fred Siegfried, and Jean Barnes.

Recently the University of Idaho Canterbury society published the first 1943 issue of the "Canterbury Chronicle," national Episcopal college church workers' paper.

Idaho Women Try For Commissions

Tryouts for officers' commissions continued at the last meeting of the Idaho Women Cadets, according to Lt. Col. Bernard Poller, commandant of Perishing Rifles.
The tryouts will continue for another week, Poller said, and appointments will be made March 13. Before the start of the drilling, Lt. Duane Taylor spoke to the women on "Military Courtesy and Customs of the Service." The lecture was the first of a series on military subjects to continue until May 1.

Lt. Col. Poller will speak on "Organization of the United States Army" at the next meeting of the women Saturday, in the second lecture series.

Nobby Fire Causes Little Damage

Diners at the Nobby last Thursday evening, were interrupted during their dinner by the alarm of fire. Someone reported that the sign on the front of the Nobby Inn was blazing and for a short time it was believed there was danger of the whole building going up in flames. The arrival of the fire department soon put an end to the excitement.
The trouble was caused by a short circuit in the wiring of the sign, and the manager of the Nobby reports that the sign is so badly damaged that it will be necessary to replace it entirely.

Following: 1. Continue in college in the advanced courses. 2. Return to the ranks as a private with specialized training. 3. Be made a technical non-commissioned officer. 4. ### Call For Baseball Talent

Monday has been set as the day and the Memorial gymnasium is the place, and 4 o'clock is the time, for all men interested in making a bid for places on the varsity baseball team to report, Athletic Director George W. Greene, announced Wednesday.

Greene, who will take over the coaching of the baseball team until a coach is selected, has had experience in baseball, having played as an undergraduate at Idaho, and several summers with teams in northern and southern Idaho. He coached the Lewiston Normal nine before coming to Idaho two years ago.

The baseball schedule as set in the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference will be played with 16 games making the league slate and several pre-conference games in the making with Whitman college in Walla Walla and probably service teams in the immediate vicinity.

Monday's turnout will be spent in arranging for practice times and the drawing of equipment and taking to the field, if the weather permits. Several varsity lettermen are on the campus and plan to take part in the coming season.

Nine of the 14 lettermen from the 1932 squad are on the campus and will probably report to battle for positions on the team. Freshmen are eligible for varsity baseball and should report next Monday along with the varsity men.

Jerry Peterson, who led the Vandals in batting last season with .309 percentage for 55 trips to the plate is eligible for the 1943 club. Henry Crowley, who hit .303, is also available for the team, although he may be forced to leave to answer a call to the naval air corps.

Lettermen available for the club are: Berilus, Newell, and Woods, pitchers; Irvin Konopka, catcher; Henry Crowley, first base; Howard Manson, second base; Pederson, third base; Matt Lewis and John Ryan, outfielders.

Men unable to report Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, should contact Coach Greene at the athletic office and state their intentions to take part in the spring sport.

Lindley Hall Armada Splashes To Intramural Swimming Championship

Lindley hall armada was crowned the new intramural swimming champions last night.

The new champions scored 96 points to lead their closest rivals by 19 points. Phi Delta Theta was second in the meet with a total of 77 points. The two leaders were followed by Alpha Tau Omega with 68 points, Sigma Nu with 58 points, Sigma Chi with 54 points, Sigma Alpha Epsilon with 25½, Phi Gamma Delta with 25, Idaho club with 23½, and LDS with 20.

Preliminary events were held last Tuesday and Wednesday, semi-finals on Monday and the final events were run off late last night.

John Mattmiller, ATO star, was the only double winner of the meet, winning both the 100-yard free style and diving events. Charles Plastino, Sigma Nu tankman, gave him a fight in the diving event, scoring 40.78 points to Mattmiller's 40.82 high.

Although no records were officially set, Dick Carlson, Lindley hall swimmer, unofficially broke the university intramural 50 yard back-stroke record in the preliminary events. His time of 31 seconds was approximately 2 seconds below the old record. However, since not enough timers were present, his record will probably not receive official recognition.

The meet was well attended. 101 men representing 12 group houses participated. This is a much better turnout for the sport than has been evidenced in recent years.

Intramural managers will meet with John Thomas and Ray Turner this evening to decide the fate of B league basketball. Due to the war situation, it has been decided that the managers decide about each sport as it comes up.

Complete summaries of the swimming finals follow:

200 yard relay—won by Sigma Nu (Plastino, O'Connor, Dikeman, and Reilly); second, Idaho club; third, Sigma Chi. Time, 2 min., 19 sec.

50 yard back stroke—Won by Dick Carlson, Lindley hall; second, Dennison, Phi Delta Theta; third, Schmidt, Sigma Chi. Time, 37 sec.

50 yard free style—Won by Pence, ATO; second, Adams, Sigma Chi; third, Ellingson, Lindley hall; fourth, Nerass, Phi Delta Theta. Time, 30 sec.

50 yard breast stroke—Won by DeVries, Lindley hall; second, Kemper, Phi Delta Theta; third, Littlefield, ATO. Time, 39 sec.

100 yard free style—Won by Mattmiller, ATO; second, Nelson, Phi Delta Theta; third, Stone, Phi Delta Theta; fourth, Ellingson, Lindley hall. Time, 1 min., 16 sec.

150 yard medley relay—Won by Lindley hall (Witcher, Beinning, and Dahlstrom); second, ATO;

Vandals-Cougars Mix In Final Hoop Series

Final home appearance of the Vandal basketball team is scheduled for Friday night when Washington State college travels across the state line to engage the Idaho five. The final game of the 1943 season is scheduled for Pullman on Saturday against the same opponent. The freshman clubs of both schools will play the preliminary.

Riddled by the call to arms of Fred Quinn and Norman Fredrick, Coach Babe Brown has spent the practice sessions since returning from Seattle Sunday in organizing new combinations for the final games. Ray Davis, varsity football letterman, has been working out with the club for the past week and may see action against the Cougars Friday and Saturday.

Quinn, who travelled to Seattle and played the Washington series, reported for induction in the army air corps at Salt Lake Tuesday morning. He received a call in Seattle from Pocatello and left Sunday morning for his home and did not return to the campus with the team.

Quinn Holds Record.

When Quinn left the Vandals he held the third position in the scoring race with 168 points for 14 games. He also left an opportunity to break the scoring record set by Ray Turner last season of 192 points, but he did leave the club with a record of 27 points scored in one game, the highest in northern division basketball history.

Half-time entertainment for the Friday game is being produced by the rally committee from Washington State college. Idaho's rally committee provided the entertainment for the Idaho-Washington State game played in Pullman on February 19.

The lineup for the final series of the season has many possibilities. Still included in the lineup are the Ryan brothers, Bob and John, and they will carry much of the scoring load with Quinn away.

Coach Brown has been grooming John Evans for the center berth to replace Quinn. Evans has substituted for Quinn during the season, but has played more in the forward spot. However, Brown believes he can capably fill the position.

Riflemen Capture Postal Matches

Vandal marksmen maintained their winning pace by defeating four opponents in the last two weeks.

Two weeks ago St. Norbert college posted a score of 1756 against the Vandals high of 1901. High man in the match for Idaho was Earl Crea with 386 out of a possible 400 points. Following him in order were Gene Bassett with 384, Walter Klug with 379, Martin Fry with 377, and Gordon Dailey with 375.

Last week the sharpshooters posted a score of 1901 for the second consecutive time, while the University of Oregon, Ripon college, and Knox college turned in scores of 1880, 1818, and 1771 respectively.

This week the marksmen are concentrating on Cornell university and Clemson Agricultural college.

All were postal matches.

50 Men Turn Out For Track Majority Lack Experience

At the end of the third week of workouts, Coach Mike Ryan yesterday reported that 50 men were turning out for the track team.

Fairly well set in the middle and long distances, the Vandal thinclads are still badly in need of sprinters, hurdlers, jumpers and weight men, Ryan said.

"I want to emphasize that although we have 50 men out at present, there is still plenty of room for newcomers," Ryan declared. "We would like to see double that number out for the sport."

Novices Dominate.

"Manpower creates competition," Ryan went on, "and will give the inexperienced members which make up the bulk of the squad much needed experience."

The mentor particularly urged all men who have had previous running experience in high school or college to turn out. However, he said that inexperienced men are more than welcome on the squad.

"With the armed forces likely to call many of our runners before the season is over, we must have manpower to fill in the vacancies as they occur," he said.

Full Schedule Planned

The team is preparing for a full spring schedule of meets. Negotiations are now going on with Washington State, Cheney, and Whitman. Also planned is a relay meet, and indoor meet with for the overflow of the regular meet events.

A plan now under consideration would provide additional events WSC and an Inland Empire Championship meet. All this in addition to the regular Northern Division Championship meet.

Minor Awards Voted To Ten

Ten swimmers and wrestlers were voted athletic awards at the Tuesday meeting of the executive board for participation in their respective sports during the current season. Six of the 10 were freshmen earning varsity awards for the first time.

Swimmers meeting the requirements for awards were: Gerald O'Connor, Allen Feld and Kenneth Bailey; Bill Edmark and Art Biehl, all freshmen.

Awards have been voted the following wrestlers: Carrol Elmore, Austin Hanny and Elton Miles; Darrel Mathews and Hank Behrman, freshmen.

Freshmen eligible by the Pacific coast conference at a meeting in December for all varsity athletics after January 1, 1943. Previous to the December ruling, only men of varsity classification were eligible for the minor sports—wrestling, boxing, swimming, golfing and tennis.

Green Departs For Naval Duty

Leon Green, University of Idaho intramural athletics director, received his commission as ensign in the naval reserve last week and departed for Boise to take his physical examination.

Under Green's direction the intramural program has been enlarged to where over 1400 men participated in it last year. He helped develop the new five-day week physical education program. Green, who joined Idaho's faculty in November, 1940, also had charge of Pem Club and Hell Divers.

A graduate of the University of Idaho in 1937, Green was a three-year letterman. As football end and captain of the Vandal squad, he was named All-American in his senior year.

Bob Knox, boxing coach, will assume part of Green's duties, and a new man will be chosen to handle the five-day week physical education program and minor sports, said Athletic Director George Greene. He also added that due to the limited staff the future of intramurals at Idaho is uncertain.

ASUI Golf Class Increases

Increasing interest has been noted in the golf instruction classes Thursday evenings in the women's gymnasium, Francis L. James, golf professional, said Wednesday.

The classes started two weeks ago with only a small number reporting, but the second session a week ago brought more than 20 to learn the "how" of golf.

The classes are sponsored by the ASUI and no charge is made for the instruction, which takes the beginner through all phases of the game. James, who learned the golf business in England, has a novel and easy way of teaching the game to beginners.

Classes will continue for the balance of the month and will then be taken to the course for practical use of the indoor teachings. It is the plan of James to give the Thursday classes a working knowledge of the fundamentals of the game to enable them to start off on the course with a working idea of the game.

The Idaho course is still covered with snow in some spots, but is drying rapidly and should be open for play on temporary greens within the month. Some ardent golfers have already been limbering up driving muscles on the No. 1 fairway, which is dry. None of the greens are open for play.
