University Students Send Men To Fort Lewis

A cold and mournful crowd waited for an overdue train last week as 72 ERC men left for the army. Speeches from Dr. Graue, Harry Lewies and Rena Eecher as well as a banquet, a mixer, and a rally were included in the send-off program.

University Officials Think ASTP May Come In May

A logical explanation has at last been issued to back the estimate made this week in university officialdom that the army engineers would not arrive until May. Offered purely as a guess, the surmise may be proved incorrect before the week is out but as it looks now, mass-movement for Forney and Hays halls will be delayed until at least the last of April, possibly until after school is out.

The reason behind all this maneuvering lies in the fact that there is simply not a large enough number of men ready to be sent into the ASTP. In the ninth service command only one institution has been organized for the ASTP set-aside at that school only 125 of the expected quota of 500 army men were sent in. Since the men eligible for entering this army specialized training program must have completed their 13 weeks basic training, only 13 men as were taken from colleges at the end of the winter quarter (Christmas) are ready for a program. Most of the men were taken from institutions running a semester system ending in February, so that they will not have finished their basic training until the latter part of April. Consequently, the bulk of the men that will enroll in the new programs will not be ready for work until a month later than the original statements stipulated. At present there are only six institutions in the entire country in which the ASTP has been installed, and as yet the government-university contract has not even been signed at Idaho.

Beveridge Chosen Cadet Captain

Jean Beveridge has been chosen captain of the Idaho Women Cadets, according to a press release from the sixth regimental headquarters of Pershing Rifles, sponsors of the organization. Her staff will consist of Norma Ham, first lieutenant, and Marylu Jensen, second lieutenant. The first duty of the new officers will be to choose the non-commissioned officers for the company. The officers were chosen after several weeks of tryouts and considering their attendance record, Col. Bernard Poller of the Pershing Rifles reported. Additional officers will be chosen as need arises. Poller said that he would like to see more women out for the unit. "We would like enough women out to form a complete company," he said. New women are urged to turn out for the drill Saturday afternoon.

Students To See French Film Tonight at 7:00

"Maria Chappelaine," a film based on Louis Hemon's novel of French Canadian life, will be presented tonight under the sponsorship of the department of modern languages.

The story portrays pioneer life in the backwoods of the province of Quebec and, since it was filmed in Canada, presents an authentic picture of French-Canadian life. Madelaine Renaud plays the title role and Jean Gabin, who is now familiar to American audiences, plays the male lead. The dialogue is in French, but for the convenience of those who do not understand French, English subtitles will be flashed on the screen at short intervals.

The picture will be shown in room 110 of Science hall at 7:00 p.m., and admission will be 15c.

Home Ec Sponsors Clothing Clinic For Idaho Coeds

The consumer clothing clinic which is being sponsored by the home economics senior women ends Friday at 4:00 after having been conducted every afternoon for the last week.

Held in the home economics department, the clinic offers an opportunity for anyone to take her clothing problems and have any questions answered concerning them. Various exhibits and demonstrations illustrate the different methods of sewing and caring for clothes.

Of special interest to college women will be a discussion on the selection and the care of ready-made garments, accessories, and color in dress Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

The project is being carried out with the Misses Marion Featherstone, Lucille Magruder, and Elsie Nelson acting as advisors.

Lattig Announces Service Exams

Dean of Men H. E. Lattig announced Wednesday that a classifying examination for freshmen and sophomores in the marine corps reserve, and sophomores in navy V-1 will be given April 20. Copies of sample examinations are in the dean of men's office, and any men interested in seeing them may do so at the dean's office.

Juniors Will Hold Annual Week; Plans Under Way

Further plans for "College Days," annual four day campus frolic sponsored by the juniors, were worked out Monday night at the committee meeting. "The theme 'College Days' was chosen by the committee because for many, this year will mean the end of their college careers," Rey Reinhardt, chairman for the week said.

Plans for the assembly and mixer scheduled for Wednesday, April 15, were nearly completed. The serenade, under the direction of Winton Wood, will be given by a selected group of juniors from every campus residence.

Invitations to the Prom have already been sent out to the governor, members of the board of regents, and the dears of the schools. It was also announced that advanced military uniforms would be in order for the Prom along with tuxedos.

Herb Larsen was chosen chairman of the cabaret, replacing Joe Gordon, who resigned because of more pressing activities.

Marty To Conduct Band Try-Outs

Tryouts will be held for the university pep band in the Bucket Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m., E. J. Marty, director of bands, announced yesterday.

"All interested please come at that time. We are especially in need of those who play trumpet, trombone, French horn, sax, clarinet and drums," Mr. Marty said. All present members of the pep band are expected to be at the Tuesday meeting.

CATHOLICS DISCUSS BOOKS

"Forbidden Books" was the topic discussed by members of Newman club at a meeting Tuesday night. Virginia Grief, study chairman, led the discussion.

Students Continue Rehearsals For Spring Play

With the date of production April 9 and 10, just two weeks off, rehearsals for "Ring Around Elizabeth," ASUI spring play, have been carried on with increasing strength, with emphasis being placed on continuity and special scenes.

Meredyth Bowler, who has in the past played almost exclusively character roles, will handle the title role. Due to the ineligibility of some and dropping out of others, the double cast has been singled down in many cases. The revised cast includes: Drexel Brown as Laurette, Jim Watson as Hubert and Elaine Anderson as Mercedes. Virginia Barrows will play Vida, Joanne Hunter and Marian Wilson, Jenifer; Mary Kay Drummheller and Jean Rosebaugh will portray the part of Irene; Jackie Morefield and Anne Norman as Harriet. Dick Ryan will be Ralph; J. R. Peterson, Andy; Winton Wood as the doctor, and Ben Schmidt the policeman.

Assisting Miss Collette with the directing are Beverly Bistline and Ellen Cox. Bob Leeper heads the stage crew; Marjorie Moch, sound; Eleanor Johnston and Anne Norman, makeup; and Marie Chaney, costumes. Barbara Jo Smith is in charge of properties, and Jean Beadles, the technician work.

Dress rehearsals will be held the final week before presentation, and a special performance will be given for the men at the naval training school.

Foresters To Hold Joint Banquet

At a meeting of the Idaho Foresters Monday night it was decided to hold the annual forestry banquet jointly with the Washington State school of forestry. The banquet will be held at the Hotel Moscow on April 24, and men in the forestry profession from nearby areas will be guests at the dinner.

Xi Sigma Pi, national forestry honorary, furnished entertainment at the Monday meeting, at which John Krier and Harold Haupt were pledged.

War Stamps Given Poster Winners

Dorothy Howell won first prize of $3 in war stamps for her poster in Phi Upsilon Omicron's nutrition contest. Mary Pat Sylvester and Ruth Geddes won the second and third prizes of $2 and $1, respectively. Honorable mention went to Barbara Smith, Jean Anderson, and Lavonna Cragg.

The winning posters will be displayed in the Bucket lounge and posted later in the group houses.

Other posters, created by home economics art students under the direction of Miss Marion Featherstone, will also be on display in the houses and halls.

Students desiring to take these tests leading to college work at institutions under contract to the army and navy may make application for them through the dean of men's office. Successful candidates will be enlisted or inducted into the army and navy and sent to college at the expense of the respective service.

Basic Training

Students chosen for the navy program, after selection by the office, of naval officer procurement, will be detailed directly to the college navy program which begins July 1. Students selected for the army program must undergo further screening during 13 weeks of basic military training before they are finally qualified for college attendance.

A man does not actually commit himself to enlistment when he takes this examination, but, on the other hand, he is not sure of being accepted if he passes the examination, since he must also pass a physical test.

Although men now enlisted in the navy reserve are not eligible, since they will be transferred to the navy college units around July 1, ERC men are eligible to take this qualifying exam and are urged to do so. Regular application blanks, available in the dean of men's office must be filled out and presented at the time the men report to take the examination.

A.S.U.I. Will Give Free Dance For Students

Strictly informal, free, with cottons and cords in vogue, a mixer dance is to be held April 2 in the Student Union ballroom. "This should provide a means for the student body to meet and mix informally," Harry Lewies, A. S. U. I. president, commented yesterday. Anklets and cotton dresses have been prescribed for the women, skin shirts and cords for the men.

To be sponsored by the A. S. U. I., the dance will be an annual spring event, the executive board members decided at Monday's meeting.

A program will be presented for intermission and Earl Grimmett's orchestra will provide the music. Macy Mott Steile is the chairman of the entertainment committee and her assistants are Edith Jones, Warren Weinberg, and Bob Ellington.

Moore Will Leave For New Work

William C. Moore, instructor in economics, will leave Monday for Salt Lake City, where he will begin his new duties as head of industrial relations in the 11 western states for the war relocation authority. He has been granted a leave of absence for the duration.

Mr. Moore's work will include handling aliens, particularly Japanese, and trying to relocate them in non-defense areas. He will negotiate with various company managements to take these men.

Classes taught by Mr. Moore will be taken over by faculty men in business and economics.

Communique Comment

Churchill's speech of last Sunday showed that the Conservative premier is alive to the main currents of opinion in his own country. Britons have a right to expect such awareness from a seasoned politician who has twice changed his party allegiance. The Tory chief failed, however, to display in his address a statesmanlike appreciation of the trend of developments in Asia, where the chances for ultimate Anglo-American victory are less bright at this time than in Europe.

The words of the prime minister on domestic issues add up to a brave effort to convince the people of the United Kingdom that his government is sincerely committed to the support of the main features of the Beveridge Plan. By the Commons vote of February 18 on the cabinet's stand concerning Sir William's famous report, Churchill and his fellow-ministers were forced to realize that Britons of all classes expect from the coalition government a more vigorous handling of the problems of post-war reconstruction. The premier's outline of his Four-Year Plan for a new Britain took up general principles rather than specific methods. But his tone indicated that he will guide his colleagues deeper into the maze of national planning for social security if he feels continued pressure from the public.

The comments made by Churchill on the Far East may signify that he is convinced that the political aspects of the Asiatic problem can wait until a military decision has been won over the Axis in Europe. The premier may have been led into this belief by the recent "victory" of Viceroy Lord Linlithgow over the fasting Gandhi and by the success of the police and the British army in keeping India quiet through a critical winter. Churchill may come to regret his failure to promise a new and more democratic order to the millions of the East as well as to the masses of Britain. Important leaders of Asiatic nationalism are losing faith in the Anglo-American cause. As the war goes on, more and more Allied troops are being used not to fight the Axis or Japan but to police Asiatic and African countries where there is danger of uprisings by native elements that demand freedom from British or French control. This is a harsh commentary on the second and third points of the Atlantic Charter: it is being exploited with dexterity by the propaganda mills of Berlin and Tokio.

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

There's a golden rule set forth in the Bible which Jason believes bears repetition now. We find that golden rule in Matthew 7:12, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

It's not that you fellows who are waiting for calls to the armed forces aren't appreciated. We do like to have you around. But can't you see the other fellow's side of the picture—that pre-med student studying for the nine-weeks histology quiz—or the engineer who will be called to active duty if he flunks his math exam.

We hear reports from almost all of the men's residence groups that fellows are there who have withdrawn from school, and have nothing to do except to waste their time and that of others. They interfere with study hours, and have a "don't care" attitude.

Whether we like it or not, we've got to face the facts. School now isn't the fun it once was. There is generally a more serious attitude, and a more earnest desire of the men to get the most out of their courses, or at least pass with decent grades. They know that unless they do "crack" each exam there's a possibility that they won't be around school much longer, and they won't have an opportunity to come back "for the duration."

We're not saying that we don't want to have you stick around, but isn't this a good time to give the other fellow a break? These nine-weeks exams are especially important.

Army Commissions Louis Douglas

Second Lieutenant Louis L. Douglas, student at the University of Idaho in 1939, was commissioned as an officer in the United States air corps at the Lubbock army flying school, Lubbock, Texas, on January 14.

After a period of primary training at Muskogee, Oklahoma, Lt. Douglas went to Brady, Texas, for basic instruction.

Prior to beginning flight training, Douglas had enlisted in the army air corps.

Red Cross Opens Dressing Unit On Two Evenings

As an added convenience to university women, the surgical dressings unit of the Red Cross will open its doors Monday and Friday nights from 7 until 9, Mrs. Robert Felton, director, announced recently. However, it will close at 4 p.m., rather than 5 on Saturday.

Anyone who is registered in the university is free to attend in the evenings. Special organizations will meet in separate rooms. Students wishing to make arrangements for a group should call Mary Frances Marshall, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Last week 14 Cardinal Key members met Friday night, completing 140 4"x8" dressings, while 12 Spurs worked Monday evening, turning out 170 2"x2" dressings. Cardinal Key members are giving the time they would have spent conducting the traditional bridge tournament and party. They may also continue throughout the year, as the Spurs plan to do.

Both attendance and total output dropped sharply last week, due perhaps to spring and mid-semester quizzes, Mrs. Felton said. She announced that the new quota of 7200 dressings will be due within three weeks after its arrival the first of next week, and asked for increased cooperation as the national demand is urgent. She stressed the fact that the university unit is reserved exclusively for students.

Hays hall again led last week with 34 women contributing 57½ total hours, while Gamma Phi Beta was second, with 33½ hours, 27 women attending.

From The Bench

By Bernie Poller

Reduced transportation facilities, the war, and the lack of manpower have given rise to the rumor that several northern division schools would not carry out their schedule commitments this spring. One school has already served notice that golf and tennis are out for the duration. At the same time, it has strongly hinted it might not make any extended baseball trips.

Other schools plan to carry on as usual and expect to enter teams in all spring sports. One, in fact, has become very indignant at the thought that conference schedules may not be followed. This school insists that authority from the conference is needed to abandon the schedules.

This corner will not venture to decide what is right and what is wrong. The decision rests with those "in the know" on the question. However, the decision should be made, and made soon.

The conference schedule goes into effect in less than a month, and the schools concerned should know where they stand before that time. If it is decided to abandon the schedules set up last year, they must have time to make other arrangements.

Letter writing will not solve the problem in time. Your scribe believes a conference meeting is needed immediately to iron out the situation. A statement of policy from the conference itself would clear away the clouds befogging the issue and allow the schools freedom of action.

Diamondmen Open Season Against Whitman Nine

Sixteen Vandal diamondmen will leave for Walla Walla this afternoon to meet the Whitman Missionaries in the first baseball series of the year. The two teams will play a double header tomorrow and another one on Saturday.

Coach George Greene said that the men chosen had shown more natural ability in the short time available for practice than the rest of the squad had. He emphasized, however, that no player is sure of his position and that changes would be made when the other men show their caliber.

Dick Gardner, Dick Sodorff and Chuck Plastino will carry the pitching chores together with veterans Veto Berllus, Jack Newell, and Tom Woods. The infield will be chosen from among John Evans, Howard Cooper, Bob Barbour, Lennard Pyne, Ray Davis, Jerry Pederson, and Irv Konopka, while John Ryan, Matt Lewis and Bob Vonderharr will make up the outfield.

Schedules

Athletic Director George Greene released the following schedules for the four spring sports. He emphasized, however, that these schedules are subject to change due to the war situation. The list includes only the conference games. Other games will be arranged in the future.

Baseball—April 14-15, OSC at Corvallis; April 16-17, Oregon at Eugene; April 19-20, Washington at Seattle; April 26, WSC at Moscow; April 27, WSC at Pullman; May 3-4, OSC at Moscow; May 7-8, Oregon at Moscow; May 14-15, Washington at Moscow; May 21, WSC at Moscow; May 22, WSC at Pullman.

Track—April 24, WSC at Pullman; May 1, OSC at Corvallis; May 22, Northern Division at Seattle.

Tennis—April 17, WSC at Moscow; April 23, OSC at Moscow; April 24, Oregon at Moscow; May 1, Washington at Seattle; May 8, WSC at Pullman; May 22, Northern Division at Eugene.

To abandon spring sport entirely seems folly. The army and navy have been urging the continuance of competitive sports. They promote coolness and the ability to think clearly in action. To discard the sports at the present time would only defeat the purpose of all sports during a war, to build men better equipped for battle.

If it is decided to renounce the schedules set up last year, arrangements could be made with Whitman, Washington State and Gonzaga to take up the slack. An extensive program between these schools and Idaho would give the participants competition needed at this time and would practically do away with transportation problems.

Come on, conference officials. Let's have some action on this problem.

Three Dual Meets Scheduled With Cougar Thinclads

Washington State has agreed to two additional track meets this spring, Mike Ryan, Vandal track coach, reported last week. The first meeting between Vandal and Cougar cindermen will take place in the WSC field house April 3 and the second April 10, also in Pullman.

The April 3 meeting between the two schools will be a dual meet, while the second will be a relay meet. This will mark the first time the opponents have met in indoor dual competition and will mark the first time a relay meet has ever been held in the Inland Empire. These meets are in addition to the regular conference dual meet between the Vandals and Cougars scheduled for Pullman on April 24.

Although Whitman is also scheduled to oppose the thinclads, the date for the meet has not been set. However, Ryan reported yesterday that the Missionaries have been contacted again and that in all probability, a date will be decided upon in the near future.

First Time Trials

With the first meet of the spring season barely a week off, Ryan put his charges through their first time trials this week. "Due to the fact that most of our men are novices," Ryan said, "it is proving very difficult to place them in the correct events. However, I hope to have the team well set by next week."

Ryan expressed himself as well satisfied with the progress made by his two remaining lettermen. John Thomas and LaMar Chapman, both distance men, have shown themselves to be in better shape than they were last year at this time.
