Campus Honoraries Tap At 34th Annual May Fete

Crowned Queen of May at the annual May Fete Saturday afternoon, Rena Eccher presided over the ceremony from a throne atop old Memorial steps. Mortarboard, Silver Lance, Spur and Cardinal Key, all in full dress uniforms, made up the procession.

Following the coronation of the Queen, the Spurs danced the May-day dance and introduced the new Spurs who had been tapped at 6 a. m. Saturday morning. Those chosen were Dorothy Dalton, Mary Dochios, Jane Meyers, Joyce Foster, Jean Beveridge, Betty Boyle, Betty Echternach, Viola Mylly, Marian Krussman, Helen Jean Church, Margaret Eisenstein, Gloria Rino, Vera Anderson, Elaine Anderson, Eloise Deo, Barbara Smith, Evelyn Thompson, Pat Hagan, Mary Jane Hawley, Mary Pat Sylvester, Mary Rae, Ada Mae Rich, Mary Jane Smart, Ann Hite.

Cardinal Key tapped Frances Marshall, Florence Marshall, Marjorie Franson, Frances Freeman, Mary Pennell, Beverly Weber, Willie Keeton, Elaine Thomas, Jeanora Arms, and Bette French. Those receiving the pledge rose Mortar Board were Anne Thompson, Barbara Long, Claire Cracken, Marjorie Call, Muriel Axtell, Lois Lemon, Helen Foster, Virginia Newton, Edith Jones, and Rexel Brown.

New members of Silver Lance are Sherman King, Jerry Skiles, Carl Minden, Joe Gordon, and Bill Campbell.

The Alpha Lambda Delta book for the highest scholastic record among women for seven and one-half semesters at the university was awarded to Kathleen Orr, who had a grade average of 3.77; certificates were given to Elaine Harrington and Lois Johnson for maintaining the Alpha Lambda Delta average of 3.5.

Phyllis Paynter won the WAA award given to the most outstanding senior member of that organization.

ROTC To Parade Tomorrow

ROTC students will pass in review tomorrow before Lt. Col. Wm. L. Morrison from Washington State college, during the annual inspection.

Regimental parade will begin at 10:30 at McLean field with the battalion ceremony of all units which will be followed by an inspection in ranks of all units. At 2:10 there will be a company drill and then platoon and squad drill.

At 2:20 there will be a musketry exercise at the armory and the inspection will be concluded by one company doing a tactical problem at 3 o'clock.

4-H Club Chooses Miss Andrew

Election of officers was the main event of the 4-H club meeting held last Monday. New officers for the group are: Eleanor Andrew, president; Lois Deobald, vice president; Winifred Tovey, secretary; and Audrey Hartman, historian.

Plans were made for a group picnic to be held Monday at 5:30. The rest of the meeting was spent in writing letters to former 4-H members who are in the armed forces. This is one of the main projects carried out by the club this year.

SURPRISE!

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
The best durned tunes of all the year.
'Neath thy windows we'll be
Your ears for to borrow.
And when? Thou shalt see,
'Tis the Eve of Tomorrow!!!!

WAA Awards Made At Play Party Wednesday Night

WAA sponsored a play party for all the members and pledges last night at 6 p. m. in the Student Union building.

At this last meeting of the organization sweaters were presented to Ruth Ellen Jackson, Billie Keeton, and Dorothy Ann Outz. Those receiving "I" blankets were Barbara Long, Phyllis Paynter, Doris Johnson, Ruth Ellen Jackson, Rachel Swayne, Helen Dittman and Mrs. Bascom, advisor of the club.

Barbara Long, president of WAA, presented a gift to Miss Wirt, head of the women's physical Education Department.

Kappa Kappa Gamma received the "I" club plaque for house participation in WAA for the fourth consecutive year.

Those pledged to the organization were Mary Lu Adamson, Elaine Anderson, Eleanore Andrew, Barbara Bedwell, Jean Beveridge, Jean Bruins, Lavonna Craggs, Mary Kay Crowford, Arlene Durkopp, Bernice Evans.

Students Present One Act Plays

Four one-act plays will be presented tonight at the University Hut at 7:30. The plays are being staged and directed by members of the advanced play production class. Members of the cast are from the Reading and Interpretation and beginning play production classes.

Directing the first play, Beverly Bistline has included in her cast: Jeanne Hunter, Margaret Bacon, Joanne Hunter, and Virginia Barrows. Meredyth Bowler chose Muriel Axtell, Jom Watson and John Burt to act in her play.

Mary Ann Alban, Eleanor Johnston, Lenore Mays, Jean Rosebaugh, and Marie Chaney will be in the play directed by Ellen Cox. The cast of the play staged by Jean Beadles is: Barbara Jo Smith, Eunice Dieter, Betty Worley, Marjorie Moch, Maxine Webb, and Arloine Schmidt.

Students To Select Officers Today; Amendments Appear On Ballot

Dale Announces Program For Commencement

Approximately 500 university degrees and naval training school certificates will be awarded at the university's annual commencement, Monday, May 31, President Harrison C. Dale has announced. The probable university graduating class will total 368, consisting of 329 candidates for the bachelor's degree and 39 candidates for the master's degree.

The tenth monthly naval training school commencement will be combined with the university exercises, President Dale said. Although the size of the naval class will not be known in advance, previous graduating classes of sailors from the radio school have ranged from 100 to 140.

Saturday evening, May 29, the university players, under the direction of Miss Jean Collette, will give a repeat performance of the three-act comedy, "Ring Around Elizabeth," in the auditorium for members of the graduating class and their parents. There will be no admission charge.

The university's new buildings, dairy science and Kirtley engineering laboratory, will be open to all visitors. Three additional commencement displays, the flower show in the botany department, the exhibit in the library, and the art and architecture exhibit, will be continued. These open houses and displays may be visited any time Saturday or Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5.

Minute Maids Take Twelve Women

Twelve women were initiated into the Minute Maids last Thursday night at Forney hall. Those initiated were Eleanore Andrew, Forney hall; Helen Morfitt, Delta Delta Delta; Betty Echternach, Gamma Phi Beta; Jean Gochnour, Hays hall; Mary Dochios, Ridenbaugh hall; Joanne Hunter, Delta Gamma.

Evelyn Thomas, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Ruth Marie Curtis, Alpha Phi; Ruth Geddes, Alpha Chi Omega; Frances Larsen, Dalda Tau Gamma; Fern McGregor, Pi Beta Phi; and Dorothy Bowell, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Former members of the group, who have sold over $6,000 worth of stamps and bonds on the campus during the past year, are Helen Jeanne Brink, Delta Gamma; Elaine Anderson, Forney hall; Muriel Fugate, Kappa Alpha Theta; Betty Echternach, Gamma Phi Beta; Helen Morfitt, Delta Delta Delta; Drexel Brown, Ridenbaugh hall; Evellen Baskett, Hays hall; Marian Krussman, Alpha Chi Omega; Ferol Hunter, Dalda Tau Gamma; Gloria Rino, Pi Beta Phi; Ruth Specht, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Miss Janette Wirt is faculty advisor for the group.

MUSICIANS PRESENT RECITAL

Mr. Carl Claus, violinist, and Mr. Hall Macklin, pianist, presented a recital in the university auditorium Wednesday, May 12. They played the "Cesar Franck Sonata for Violin and Piano." Both Mr. Claus and Mr. Macklin are members of the university music faculty.

Summer Courses Emphasize Special Fields

University of Idaho's second 12-week summer term and regular six-week summer school will begin June 7, 1943 with emphasis being placed on training in those specialized fields where a critical shortage of men and women power exists. Summer school will end July 16 and summer term on August 28.

The admission requirements for high school graduates who enroll in June are the same as for those who begin in September. Graduate students enrolling this summer may attend either the six-week summer school or the 12-week summer term. The first six weeks are primarily for graduate students, but there will also be courses for undergraduate students.

Courses in American history, botany, business administration, chemical engineering, chemistry, civil engineering, dairy, economics, education, electrical engineering, English, European history, home economics, journalism, mathematics, mechanical engineering, music, physical education, physics, political science, psychology, Russian, secretarial studies, sociology, and zoology will be offered.

The fee for both sessions is $16 plus regular laboratory fees. Out-of-state tuition for non-resident students in the summer term will be $25. Students registered in either term may take any course offered in the other session without the payment of additional fees, provided he does not exceed the total number of credits allowed.

Certain of the regular dormitories will be placed in operation during the summer, and the University plans to furnish board at cost. The price of board will be determined by food prices prevailing this summer.

The university library and infirmary will be open throughout the summer. The health fee is included in the general fee.

Foresters To Hold Annual Barbecue

Idaho Foresters will hold their annual barbecue May 15 at Moscow Mountain, Bob Stillinger, president, has announced.

Possibilities of establishing a loan fund for students in the School of Forestry from the surplus accumulated during the year, to be used after the war, is being investigated by a committee. The committee is composed of Dean Jeffers, Professor Wohletz, Bob Stillinger, Roger Guernsey, John Krier, and Vernon Burlison.

An educational film showing the conversion and use of wood products was shown in conjunction with Idaho Forestry Week. This picture and other technicolor movies will be shown in the Bucket lounge this afternoon and Friday afternoon.

Election polls at the Administration building will open today from 8:45 a. m. to 4:15 p. m. for the election of next year's ASUI president and nine executive board members. Also appearing on the ballot will be several amendments to the ASUI constitution, as printed in last week's Argonaut.

The election this year is being held almost a month after the original date set, due to questions of constitutionality being raised by both parties, final settlement resting with the Board of Arbitration.

Barbara Long, candidate of the Associated Students, opposes Carl Minden, United Students candidate, in the race for the office of ASUI president. Miss Long is president of Forney hall, and is a junior in physical education. Minden is president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and is a junior in chemical engineering.

Board Candidates

United Students have named nine candidates for the executive board posts, while Associated Students will run only eight, because one candidate, Edith Marler, has declined her nomination.

On the United Students slate of candidates are Billie Keeton, Kathleen Woodworth, Jim Roper, Tom Collins, Bette French, Dee Gray, Bill Spaeth, Claire Bracken and Bill Lang.

The eight candidates of the Associated Students are Roy Reinhardt, Barbara Ravenscroft, Russ Conrad, Edith Jones, Frances Larsen, Jerry Skiles, Sherman King, and Marian Franson.

Orr Is Chairman

Elections will be conducted by an election board, chosen following a competitive examination, and approved by the ASUI executive board. Kathleen Orr will serve as chairman, and Betty Chester will be vice-chairman. Others on the board are Virgil Haynes, Cecil Olson, Fred Watson, Dean Larsen, Edith Marler, Muriel Whiteman, Eleanor Andrew, George Oschner, and Elaine Anderson.

At its meeting last night the executive board voted to discontinue the usual dual election polls. Because a decreased enrollment of students doesn't merit the opening of two polls and because of an inadequate force of election board members, the Bucket poll will be closed this year.

Women Will Hold Fashion Show

Freshmen home economics women will hold a style show of garments made in the elementary clothing-course this Friday afternoon.

Cotton suits and rayons will be featured. Planning the style show as well as making the garments was a class project. Lois Halley and Doris Mae Holz are in charge of the display with Lavonna Craggs, Ann Norman, Elaine Anderson, Betty Echternach, Eleanor Andrews, Audrey Hartman, Helen Morfitt, Mary Cosho, Virginia Barrows, Mary Mulder, Vera Anderson, Clara Beth Young, Pat Hagan, and Patricia Wells assisting.

Vocalist To Present Recital Tonight

Miss Gene Ricketts, soprano, will be presented in a recital in the Hays hall lounge today at 8. Marjorie Aeschliman, pianist, will accompany Miss Ricketts.

Communique Comment

From its first to its final stages, the Tunisian campaign stands as a tribute to the ability of British, French and American troops to carry on a major offensive over difficult terrain in close co-operation. It is also a tribute to the ability of the German soldiers and commanders to fight savage rear-guard actions in the face of hopeless odds. The first fact forms a basis for confidence as the Allies prepare for the invasion of the Continent; the second should give pause to those armchair strategists who assume that the morale of the Wehrmacht is disintegrating under repeated blows.

This week's conference between Churchill and Roosevelt may conclude with the appointment of an Allied commander-in-chief for the European and Mediterranean theatres of war. There are indications that a U.S. officer will be named for the supreme post while British generals direct ground operations on the fighting fronts, under the arrangement that has met with success in North Africa. Such a plan would give Churchill's countrymen the knowledge that their own commanders were leading the British forces which would form the spearheads in any Allied invasion of Europe, while it would leave Americans with the assurance that all major decisions of strategy were being passed on by a U.S. military chief.

As the "New York Times" military editor pointed out on Tuesday, the Allied campaign in Tunisia has been largely a British operation—and this assertion does not dim the glory earned at heavy cost by the 2nd U.S. Corps west of Mateur. The long trek of Montgomery's 8th Army from Egypt to Enfidaville alone made possible the final closing of the trap on von Arnim, while it was General Anderson's 1st Army that cut the Axis forces east of Tunis into isolated and helpless fragments this week. In addition, the Royal Navy has been responsible for guarding the sea lanes through which reinforcements and supplies have reached the North African front.

By their slashing attacks on Axis supply columns and troop concentrations, the U.S. bomber squadrons in Tunisia made a substantial contribution to the Allied triumph. But a bigger job is ahead of the American fliers, and more of our bombers and bomber-crews seem to be moving to North Africa this spring than to England. The recent raids on Palermo and Messina gave the Italians a foretaste of the U.S. air offensive against their cities that will increase in tempo in the next month. Intensive air bombardment of the enemy coastal bases in the Aegean and Mediterranean will have to precede any Allied landings in Sicily or Crete or Greece—and U.S. airmen will probably play a stellar role in that vital operation.

When people get full credit for what they do, they don't need credit for what they buy.

Program At Songfest

The annual university songfest was presented in the auditorium last Sunday. A large audience of university students, their mothers, and townspeople was present to hear the nine women's groups perform.

The program began with the Pi Beta Phi singing "Mother's Day Prayer" and "Pi Phi Honeymoon." They were directed by Olive Holmes, and accompanied by Hall Macklin at the organ. The next group, Gamma Phi Beta, sang "In The Heart of a Pink Carnation," and were directed by Willa Mae Maxy.

The Alpha Phis, directed by Jean Glindeman and accompanied by Betty Jo O'Rouark, sang "Stairway to the Stars" and "Pledge to Alpha Phi." They were followed by the Tri Deltas, directed by Eleanor Johnston and accompanied by Marvel Houx. They sang "Moonlight Mood" and were followed by the Thetas singing "My Rosary" and "Theta Lips." The Thetas were directed by Virginia Dempsey and accompanied by Helen Jean Church.

The next group, Ridenbaugh hall, was directed by Delpha Batzel and accompanied by Marjorie Aeschliman, and sang "I Hear America Singing." The Kappas, singing "Kappa Lullaby" were directed by Kathryn Horner.

Hays hall, with Gladys Larson as director and Jean Gochnour accompanist, sang "The Desert Song" and "This is Worth Fighting For." In the latter song, Virginia Eggan was soloist.

Concluding the program, the Delta Gammas sang Milot's "Lord's Prayer." This was arranged and directed by Jean Armour. Joanne

Women Present Program At Songfest

The annual university songfest was presented in the auditorium last Sunday. A large audience of university students, their mothers, and townspeople was present to hear the nine women's groups perform.

The program began with the Pi Beta Phi singing "Mother's Day Prayer" and "Pi Phi Honeymoon." They were directed by Olive Holmes, and accompanied by Hall Macklin at the organ. The next group, Gamma Phi Beta, sang "In The Heart of a Pink Carnation," and were directed by Willa Mae Maxy.

The Alpha Phi, directed by Jean Glindeman and accompanied by Betty Jo O'Rouark, sang "Stairway to the Stars" and "Pledge to Alpha Phi." They were followed by the Tri Deltas, directed by Eleanor Johnston and accompanied by Marvel Houx. They sang "Moonlight Mood" and were followed by the Thetas singing "My Rosary" and "Theta Lips." The Thetas were directed by Virginia Dempsey and accompanied by Helen Jean Church.

The next group, Ridenbaugh hall, was directed by Delpha Batzel and accompanied by Marjorie Aeschliman, and sang "I Hear America Singing." The Kappas, singing "Kappa Lullaby" were directed by Kathryn Horner.

Hays hall, with Gladys Larson as director and Jean Gochnour accompanist, sang "The Desert Song" and "This is Worth Fighting For." In the latter song, Virginia Eggan was soloist.

Concluding the program, the Delta Gammas sang Milot's "Lord's Prayer." This was arranged and directed by Jean Armour. Joanne

Miss Axtell Heads Church Council

Muriel Axtell will head the inter-church council during the coming year, George Pomeroy, present president, announced Tuesday night. She will be assisted by June Sutton, vice president, and Elaine Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

Besides the elections, a financial report was given at the meeting by Dora Huettig. She reported that $142.15 was collected during the drive for the World Student Service fund.

Saturday has been set as the date for a picnic for all council members. Those planning to attend will meet at the L.D.S. Institute at 2.

Musicians Choose Winton Wood

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, men's music honorary, recently elected Winton Wood to succeed George Ochsner as president of the organization.

Other officers elected for the coming year are: Fred Watson, vice president; Reed Fife, secretary-treasurer; and Bud Walter, warden and historian.

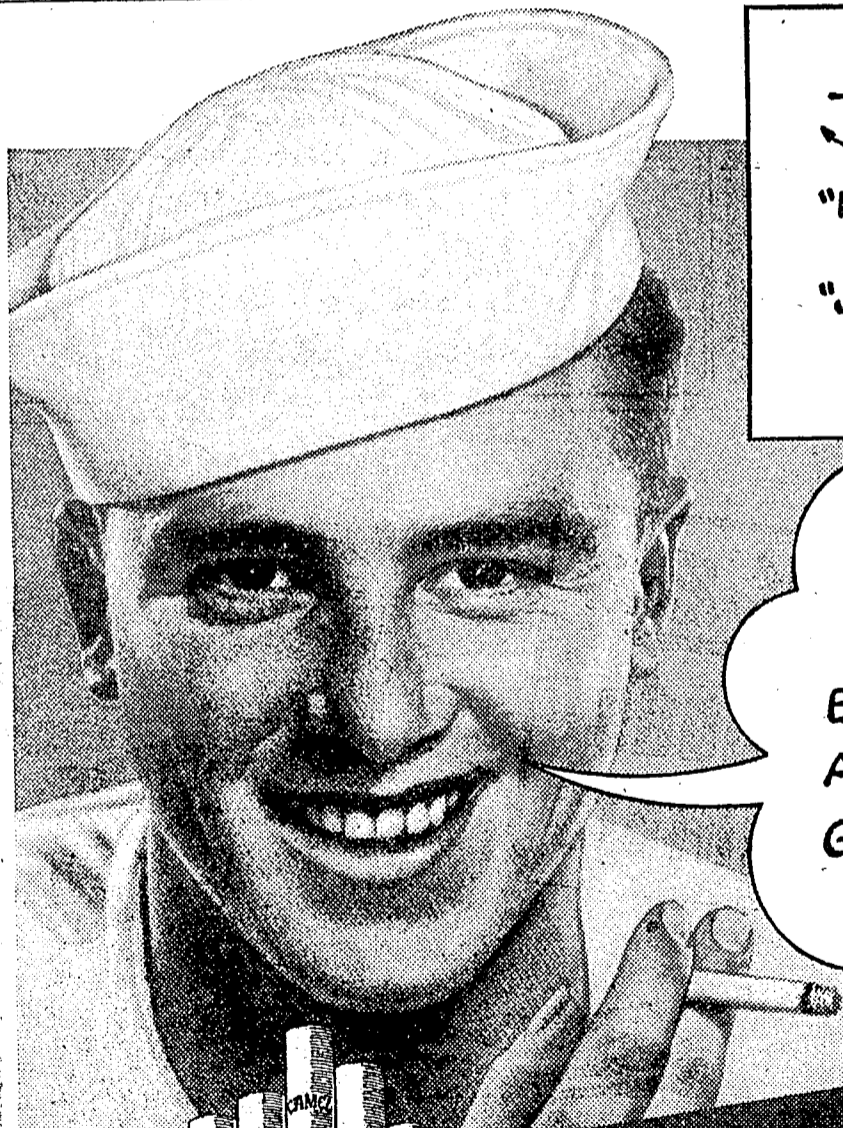

Tretner was soloist, and Marjorie Call and Virginia Barrows sang the obligato.

Thinclads Win Dual Meet From Whitman, 10-5

Vandal thinclads defeated the Whitman Missionaries here Saturday, ten first places to five, in a track meet in which only first places counted toward the final score. Two events ended in a tie, giving each team a half point for each event.

Mike Ryan, Vandal track mentor, met with the Whitman coach before the meet and arranged to match men in the various events. This was done in order to make the meet more even.

Michaells Wins Two
Harley Michaells, Whitman sprinter, was the only double win-

Netmen Drop Last Two Dual Meets

Vandal netters dropped two meets over the week-end, losing to Washington State Saturday, 7-1, and to Whitman Monday, 4-3.

Larry Douglas, Vandal entry in the singles, was the only winner for the Gem Staters, defeating the Cougar's Jim Damascus, in three sets, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5.

In the Whitman meet, the Missionaries divided the doubles matches with the Vandals and won three out of five singles matches.

Idaho was missing its first and fourth seeded men in both meets. Don Carlson, top-seeded Vandal was away at Boise on business for the Gems and Kent Barber, the other missing netman, is out with an injured ankle.

Rifle Team To Get Sweater Awards

"I" sweater awards were voted for members of the rifle team, at Friday's special executive board meeting. Those to receive the awards are Don Bassett, Earl Crea, Gordon Dailey, Martin Fry, Walt Klug, Robert O'Connor, John Fry, Don Witcher, Gordon Freiberger, and James Stitt.

ner of the meet. He won the 100 in the fine time of 10.1 seconds and the 220 in 22.2 seconds. His teammate, Ray Bowles, had a part in both ties.

It was the first meet of the year for the visitors, whose war-depleted ranks made advisable the "first place only" system of scoring.

FIRST AID

J. A. (Babe) Brown announced yesterday that the advanced first aid cards had been received for those who took the course last semester.

The cards may be obtained by seeing Brown in his office in the Memorial gym.

Oregon Hammers Vandal Nine In Final Games

Vandal diamondmen dropped their last two games with Oregon over the week-end, the Webfeet winning 23-1 and 12-3. The losses lengthened Idaho's losing streak to 11 straight since the conference season started.

The Ducks fell on Tom Woods for three runs in the first inning of the opener to put the game on ice. The Webfeet scored four more in the second, five in the fourth and five in the fifth, before Jack Newell relieved Chuck Plastino, who had come in in the second. Newell held the Ducks scoreless until the ninth, when they scored six runs on seven hits.

Idaho's lone tally came in the sixth when Pederson walked and was sent to third on Konopka's single. An error at third sent him across the plate.

Ducks Score Easily
The Ducks scored in every inning but the first two to win the finale 12-3. Rich Gardner, Idaho pitcher, gave up 12 hits, but no one inning was especially rough.

Idaho's three runs came in the ninth on two doubles, a single and an error by Farrow, Oregon short-stop.
