Minute Maids Pick New Officers

Betty Echternach was chosen last Thursday to head the Minute Maids organization during the coming year. Frances Larson was elected vice president, Jean Gochour, treasurer and Helen Morfitt was selected secretary. According to Evellen Baskett, former treasurer of the group, $8,000 worth of stamps and bonds have been sold on the campus since last October when the service organization was first organized. Maidens will attempt to increase that sum when they visit all men's residences this week. This will end the activities of the Minute Maids. Mrs. Marti was chosen as faculty advisor for the group. She will replace Miss Janette Wirt who is leaving the university.

Home Ecs Elect Mary Brown

Mary Brown was elected president of the home economics club at their regular monthly meeting last week. Other officers are Frances Larson, vice president; Marjorie Childs, treasurer; Ruth Leth, secretary; Patricia Hagan, historian; and Virginia Dempsey, key girl chairman.

Phi Mu Plans Picnic, Wood Announces

Phi Mu Alpha, national music honorary for men, has completed plans for a picnic to be held next Sunday, May 23, announced Win Wood, president. The picnic will be held at Moscow Mountain,

GRADES

Freshmen and sophomores who wish a copy of their semester grades other than the one sent to their parents should file a stamped, self-addressed envelope in the registrar's office before they leave the university. Other students who wish their grades sent to an address other than their parent's home address as given on their registration blanks should follow the same procedure.

It is probable that grades will not be mailed until about June 25, due to the time necessary for the several departments to file charges and the bursar's office to adjust student accounts. NO GRADES will be mailed to students or parents unless accounts are clear in the bursar's office.

Red Cross Closes College Unit For School Year

The University surgical dressings unit of the American Red Cross closed its doors last Saturday, and final reports for the 1942-43 school year were submitted. It is not yet determined whether or not the unit will be open during the summer school.

Six instructors won Red Cross pins which are given for 50 or more instructor hours: Betty Burke, Betty Turner, Sally McDaniels, Donna Handy, Helen Kornher, and Rachel Swayne.

The unit completed 22,297 dressings since its founding last February. This is an average of approximately 1,500 per week, and is considered fairly good for a collegiate unit. Mrs. Felton, director, said. About 500 unfinished dressings were turned in at the time of its closing.

"To all instructors and workers, thanks ever so much, and I do appreciate your work and your faithfulness," Mrs. Felton stated.

Honorary Initiates; Elects Officers

New members of Mortar Board were initiated last Sunday at 8 a. m. on the lawn in front of the Music Hall. A breakfast at Reynolds' Lunch followed the initiation ceremony.

At a meeting of the new members held Monday afternoon, new officers for next year were elected. Helen Foster will serve as president; Muriel Axtell, vice president; Marjorie Call, secretary; Virginia Newton, treasurer; Drexel Brown, historian; and Claire Brackeh, editor.

SPEAKERS VISIT HOME EC

Miss Lillian Navratil, state superintendent of home economics, and Mrs. Jeanette Hendrick of the Wheat-Flour Institute at Chicago were guests at the home economics department last week. Mrs. Hendrick spoke to senior girls on the future of home economics.

Phi Betes Honor President Initiates At Banquet

Eight new members were initiated last week into Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary for students in the college of letters and science.

A late announcement of the election of Claire Bracken, junior, and Wayne Rodeback to the honorary was due to a delay in receiving their personal acceptances of membership. Rodeback attended three years at the University of Idaho, and will graduate from Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston this spring.

The other three juniors initiated include Anne Thompson, Muriel Axtell, and Frances Sanborn. Ellen Cox, Maxine Reeves, and Kenneth Hanson were the seniors elected.

Speaker at the initiation dinner was Dr. Melville Jacobs, head of the anthropology department of the University of Washington.

Honorary Initiates Ten Members

Cardinal Key, national honorary for junior and senior women, will initiate ten new members this afternoon at 5:15 p. m. at the Tri Delt house. Those being initiated are Frances Freeman, Marian Franson, Frances Marshall, Florence Marshall, Mary Pennell, Elaine Thomas, Elnora Arms, Beverly Weber, Billie Keeton, and Bette French.

After the initiation ceremony members of the organization, accompanied by Miss Margaret Ritchie, will go to the Nobby Inn for dinner.

Women Will Give Banquet Friday

Associated Women Students council and officers will hold their installation formal banquet Friday evening at Hotel Moscow. New officers to be installed are Anne Thompson, president; Drexel Brown, vice president; Marian Franson, secretary; Frances Marshall, treasurer; and Muriel Axtell, orientation chairman.

Dean of Women Beatrice Olson will be a special guest. Marjorie Childs is in charge of the banquet.

At an AWS meeting Wednesday afternoon Muriel Axtell was appointed chairman of the committee in charge of counsellors to greet freshmen women next fall.

NEXT ISSUE

Next week's issue of the Argonaut will be delivered on Friday instead of the usual time on Thursday, due to conflicting quiz schedules of staff members. That issue of the paper will be the final edition for this semester.

In Thursday's election Carl Minden was chosen president of the ASUI. He conducted the organization meeting of the new executive board Tuesday evening.

Three Couples Tell Marriage Plans For Near Future

At a dinner party held Thursday at the Pi Beta Phi house, the approaching marriages of Beth Morrall and Eleanora Arms, Pi Phi Spurs, were announced. Miss Morrall will become the bride of Edwin Bodily May 27, at 7 a. m. in the L.D.S. Chapel. She is a sophomore in the school of business, and Bodily will receive his degree in dairy husbandry next week. He is also in the advanced ROTC.

May 29, is the date set for the wedding of Elnora Arms and Martin Fry at the Pi Beta Phi house. Miss Arms, a sophomore, is majoring in French, and Fry, a junior, is a horticulture major. Fry is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and is in advanced ROTC.

Mary Ann Alban of Spokane, Wash., and Kinsley Brown of Swan Lake will be married June 1, at 8 p. m. in the First Presbyterian church in Spokane. Miss Alban, Pi Beta Phi, will receive her degree in home economics this spring. Brown, Delta Tau Delta, graduated in chemical engineering last semester and has been employed by the General Chemical company in Port Chicago, Calif. He will return to the campus to graduate with his class.

Officer Reviews R.O.T.C. Men

R.O.T.C. students passed in review before Lt. Col. Wm. L. Morrison from Washington State College during their annual inspection last Friday.

The regimental parade was held in the afternoon at McLean field with the battalion ceremony of all units and was then followed by an inspection in ranks and company drills.

Carl Minden, United Students candidate, was elected president of the student body at last Thursday's election, defeating the Associated Students candidate, Barbara Long, by eight votes, 411 to 403.

Deviating from all former precedent of electing as vice president the executive board member first to be declared elected, the new board at its initial meeting Tuesday evening, chose Edith Jones, an Associated Student member of the board.

Elected as secretary was Marian Franson, also an Associated Student member of the board.

Executive Board members, in the order of their election under the proportional representation system, are Claire Bracken, Marian Franson, Rey Heinhardt, Gerald Skiles, Tom Collins, Sherman King, Billie Keeton, Kathleen Woodworth and Edith Jones. Five of those elected are members of the Associated Student party.

Three recommendations of the election board were accepted by the executive board. These recommendations are:

1. Until such time as increased enrollment warrants the reopening of polls at the Bucket, poll only at the Administration building is sufficient.

2. Additional booths should be provided to take care of the rush of students who wish to vote between classes and ballots should not be given to the voters until there is a booth available in which to vote. A rail should separate the voters from those passing in the hall.

3. In view of the fact that 50 out of the 800 people who voted marked the ballot for the executive board incorrectly, the correct method of marking the ballot should be more carefully explained prior to election.

The executive board also took action on a fourth recommendation which read: The executive board should definitely clarify the rule concerning the checking of the election board's lists by house representatives, and the legality or illegality of the procedure should be unquestionably stated. The board voted such procedure to be illegal.

Band Entertains With Serenade

A surprise serenade last Friday night climaxed the activities of the pep band for this year. Because many of its members were called to the armed service the band was disbanded for a time but was later revived under the leadership of Edmund J. Marty, director of the university band.

The annual pep band show was not presented this year because of lack of time and talent. The serenade was substituted for this annual show.

HONORARY HOLDS PICNIC

Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary, honored departing seniors with a picnic in the department Friday. Faculty members attending were Miss Margaret Ritchie, Miss Adah Lewis, and Miss Marion Featherstone.

Communique Comment

On Sunday night under a bright moon, R.A.F. planes at last made an assault on Rome—but they dropped propaganda leaflets rather than bombs. The political aspect of the struggle in the central Mediterranean is now as important as the military one, and U.S. newspaper headlines lead Americans to hope that by peaceful persuasion a large proportion of the Italian people may be turned into active partisans of the Allied side.

Americans are mistaken when they assume that an anti-fascist Italian is ipso facto a firm friend of the United Nations. Unquestionably, millions of Il Duce's fellow-countrymen would welcome the overthrow of the Mussolini government, through the agency of an Allied invasion or by some other means. But the opponents of the Roman dictator inside Italy will not co-operate fully with Anglo-American landing forces if anti-fascist Italians continue to harbor the fear that Allied conquest of their homeland will be followed by the establishment at Rome of an authoritarian regime that would mock the third clause of the Atlantic Charter.

Italians of all classes must be won over to our side as a matter of military necessity, but the task will not be easy. It can only be accomplished by a solemn promise from the Allied leaders that the Italian people will be left free to choose a parliamentary government of their own after Anglo-American occupation of their peninsula. It is regrettable that Prime Minister Churchill, in his address to the U.S. Congress yesterday, made no move to modify the terms of unconditional surrender offered to the Italians at the Casablanca Conference. At this time, liberal Italians regard with alarm the machinations of British and American reactionaries who want to set up a pro-Allied dictatorship at Rome, and in that way protect the position of the land-owning and big-business groups that in 1922 backed Mussolini on his way to power.

The support given by Britain and the U.S. to the anti-democratic administrators of Algeria and French Morocco is convincing fascist leaders in nations allied to or dominated by Hitler that politicians of their stripe can make a "deal" with the Anglo-American combine, if and when the struggle in Europe turns strongly against the Axis. The Augean stable at Algiers is still a long way from being cleaned up—in spite of the lip-service being paid to democratic principles by General Giraud. Right now, the enemies of Mussolini inside Italy want from Churchill and Roosevelt an explicit guarantee that the Allies are not preparing for the invasion of their country by dickering secretly with an Italian Darlan within the fascist hierarchy.

The GOLDENELEECE

by Jason

It was shrouded in mystery, concocted behind locked music hall doors. Then a week ago it emerged, playing an early morning serenade; and the pep band was on the active status list once more.

When the basketball season finished up and most of the ex-members had left for the army, the band was casually considered dead. And no one was looking for any resurrections. So many things have died that way this year, but behind none of the others has there been a driving current to make at least the swan song good. The pep band is probably gone until a new generation of musicians begins filtering in, but its outgo was good.

A tribute is merited the pep-banders, not so much for what they did in coming into the limelight for a final fling, as for their motive behind the plan: Under Mr. E. J. Marty, the faculty aide, the plans have been laid for the type of pep band that will rise again after the war is over.

The band, as it has existed, has been perhaps the most widely-known display card of the university. Making its annual round to high schools it has been an impression maker all over the state. The purpose being set down now, and as it was embodied in Friday night's exhibit performance, is to build up a pep band after the war that will represent the best the university can offer in music... a band that can give out good football rah rah songs, and then turn around and do a neat job on a symphonic type of swing.

So as it leaves the tradition slate, the pep band has set down a precedent to be followed: strong organization in the face of adverse conditions, a new branch out of activity. It has, with Mr. Marty behind it, laid the foundation for the type of pep band that is wanted on the campus when it is time to have another one.

It has, as an outgoing organization, been the first to offer a concrete example for post-war rebuilding. Whether the direction it has pointed out is shown or not, the pep band has nevertheless shown itself endowed with some foresight. It might serve as a guidepost for other university agencies.

Marines Continue Inactive Status

Members of class III(d), marine corps reserve, who are classified as second semester seniors, will not be assigned to active duty on July 1, 1943, under the marine college training program, if they will complete the requirements for their degree prior to September 15, 1943, Dean of Men H. E. Lattig said last week. This information was received from headquarters, U. S. marine corps, Washington, D. C.

These men will be allowed to remain on an inactive status until they have graduated from college with a degree, unless the exigencies of the service necessitate the issuance of orders prior to that time, the letter said.

Boeing Class

The engineering science management war training program, sponsored by the Boeing Aircraft company, established three months ago on the university campus, has developed into one of the largest classes of the five schools sponsoring the course, J. W. Holmes, college coordinator for the Boeing company, said during a visit here this week.

"The quality of the work offered here is in general very good. Much credit should be given Prof. W. W. Tinniswood, in charge of the course, and to Edward Anderson, instructor, for the fine work they are doing. The cooperation of the university and the efforts of President H. C. Dale and Dean J. Hugo Johnson are greatly appreciated."

Another class may be organized in June to continue the training offered, Holmes said, adding that "the only thing that will stop another class will be unavailability to obtain classroom space and instructors." The present class ends May 7.

Teacher's Lament

Once I was young and careless,
And Archie I was called.
Now I am old and hairless,
And they call me Archibald.

One day a German officer said to a close-mouthed loyal Dutchman: "Who is behind the resistance given by your people?"

"Only one man," was the reply, "and he is dead."

"What was his name?" pursued the officer.

"William the Silent," replied the Dutchman.

The post flag and record book Major Anderson Post No. 5 (Mc-cow) of the G.A.R., have been presented to the University of Idaho library by the members of the former Moscow chapter of the Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, which disbanded when the last veteran died 20 years ago.

Presentation was made to Miss M. Belle Sweet, university librarian, by Mrs. Roy Holman and Mrs. L. M. Steffens, a committee representing the local group. The post record book contains the records of 283 veterans. For many years the post flag was carried by Taylor W. Johnson, father of Mrs. Steffens.

"The University of Idaho is pleased to have the university library made the depository for records and mementos of historical interest," said Miss Sweet in expressing university appreciation for the gift.

Library Will Display Coins From Warring Nations

Coins from the countries at war will be displayed in the show cases of the university library during the next week and over commencement week end. Most of the coins to be displayed were brought back by soldiers from the first World war.

Miss M. Belle Sweet, librarian, who is arranging the exhibit, has suggested that men now in the service might bring back a few coins to be added to the university's collection.

Countries which will be represented in the coin exhibit include England, Australia, India, Canada, Hong Kong, Mexico, Portugal, Switzerland, Spain, Luxemburg, Belgium, Holland, Tunisia, Hungary, Austria, Greece, Italy, France and Germany. Also included are bank notes from Russia, Tunis, France and Germany.

War Relics

The library's exhibit will also include weapons of various sorts, including French bayonets brought from the Argonne, and other war relics. One Kaiser Wilhelm cross will be on display, which has marked on the back, "Metz 1918." There will also be the last firing order received and obeyed by Capt. V. L. Minear before the Armistice in 1918.

A book display has also been planned to show some of the books which Hitler has burned and banned from Germany.

Debaters Complete WSC Tournament

Results of the Idaho-WSC debate tournament which were announced last Friday showed two victories for each school. Though both schools debated both sides of the question, in each debate the team upholding the affirmative case won.

Doris Mae Holz and Betty Echernach represented Idaho; Doris Diderickson and Esther Mae Davies and two other teams represented WSC.

The question debated was "Resolved: That the United Nations should establish a permanent federal union with power to tax and regulate international commerce, to maintain a police force, to settle international disputes, and to enforce such settlements and to provide for the admission of other nations which accept the principles of the Union."

Three Medals

Three top medals in just three months is the record recently achieved by Lt. Dick Paulsen, former Idaho student for conspicuous bravery in North Africa. Paulsen was recently awarded the distinguished flying cross in addition to the air medal and the army medal of honor for piloting a fighter plane while attached to the British eighth army.

This information was revealed in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Edith Paulsen, Lewiston. While at Idaho, Paulsen, who was to have graduated in 1941, was interested in several different fields, finally majoring in dramatics. He was a member of Phi Gamma Delta, Cur-tain and Advanced ROTC.

While in the United States, he received his training at Calero, Calif., and was later stationed with the pursuit squadron at Baltimore, Md.

Farmers To Obtain Extension Service

The University of Idaho under the congress of the United States, has launched an agricultural service to aid Idaho farmers in securing help to produce, harvest and market their 1943 crops.

D. L. Fourt, professor of dairy husbandry on leave of absence from the University of Idaho, will supervise this farm labor service. Dean E. J. Iddings of the agricultural department returned last week from Salt Lake City where he attended a meeting pertinent to this labor extension program, and he left for Boise Wednesday to attend another meeting.

Dean Iddings explained, "This farm labor program is to give every possible aid so that the Idaho farmer will have sufficient labor for the maximum production of essential war crops. Cooperation from local groups, agencies, and individuals will be necessary to assure the success of this emergency program which will carry through the harvesting season next fall."

Deobald, Kendrick; and Jean Armour, Moscow.

The group is completing plans for a "farewell to seniors" musicale to be held today at the home of Mrs. F. L. Kennard. On the program will be six new initiates, and Jean Bonneville.

At a meeting last Thursday of Alpha Lambda Delta, national scholastic honorary for freshmen women, the following officers were elected: Betty Echernach, president; Mary Jane Hawley, vice president; Elaine Anderson, secretary; Helen Jean Church, treasurer; Clara Beth Young, historian, and Julien Paulson, junior advisor.

Miss Jo Anne Tretner, Delta Gamma and senior in musical education, and James Leonard, former University student just returned from Alaska, were married Saturday evening at 8:30 in St. Mary's church. Father Earl A. Stokoe performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. W. J. F. Tretner, of Colfax, Washington. The maid of honor was Mrs. Leonard's sister, Carol Tretner, and best man was Walter Rodi.

Jean Armour, sorority sister of Mrs. Leonard, played the organ; Professor Robert Walls sang Ave Maria; and Professor Carl Claus played a viola solo.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard are living at the Oscar M. Anderson home on Hays Street.

Diamondmen Drop Two To Huskies

Vandal diamondmen outthit the University of Washington Huskies in their final game of the season Saturday, but dropped the contest 6-2. Washington won Friday's game 8-1.

Chuck Plastino added 11 strikeouts to his already large total while yielding nine hits. Hit Berlus

Washington nicked Vic Berlus for 17 hits in the first game, but they were scattered throughout eight of the nine innings.

Sigma Chi, and ATO, in that order.

League Winners To Play

The University softball championship will be decided when the two league winners play each other. At the same time, the Tekes will play Lindley hall for third place, Kappa Sig will play LDS for fifth, Fijis will play Sigma Chi for seventh, and Delta Chi will play ATO for ninth.

The league playoffs will mark the end of the Idaho intramural program for the year, Student Director John Thomas said yesterday. He went on to point out that final exams are too close to permit any more sports to take the calendar.

Northern Division Race Ends In Deadlock

Northern Division
	W.	L.	Pct.
Oregon State	12	4	.750
Oregon	12	4	.750
Washington	8	7	.533
Washington State	5	9	.357
Idaho	0	13	.000

The northern division coast conference baseball race ended in a tie Monday as Oregon defeated the Oregon State Beavers, 9-1, behind the three-hit pitching of John Bubalo.

The win boosted Oregon into a league-leading tie with the Beavers at 12 wins and 4 losses each. Officials said there would be no playoff since term examinations are near.

Washington clinched third place Tuesday by defeating Washington State 5-4. Ford did the pitching for the Huskies. The win left Washington with eight wins and seven losses against WSC's five wins and nine losses.

Washington State ends the conference season against the tail-end Vandals tomorrow and Saturday in a home-and-home series. It will be the Idahoan's last chance to break into the win column in conference play. They have already lost all chance of breaking out of the cellar with 13 straight conference losses.

From The Bench

By BERNIE POLLER

At this time each year, the Argonaut sports editor sticks his neck out and tries to pick the win, place and show boys in the northern division track meet.

A glance at the Argonaut crystal ball showed your scribe that Washington would repeat last year's triumph and win the crown and that, horror of horrors, Idaho would place a poor last.

For the material he had to work with this year, Mike Ryan has done well. Last fall, the Vandals had the makings of a championship team. Ted Lake, in the sprints and hurdles, Lyle Fagnan in the weights, and Bob White in the distances, would have given their opponents a race and would probably have walked off with a fair share of the firsts. But, as Sherman said, "War is H - 1," and the army's gain was Idaho's loss.

After recovering from the initial shocks of the revelations of the crystal ball, your scribe came up with the following predictions.

100-yard dash—First, Aikens, WSC; second, Smith, Wash.; third, Rubistello, Wash.; fourth, Allen, Oregon.

Engineers Announce New Officers

Electrical engineers have announced the election of Russell Conrad, president; Harlow McKinney, vice president; Howard Kambitsch, secretary; and John Burt, treasurer. Jack Fox spoke at the meeting of that group Tuesday evening on "How Washington Water Power Insures Sufficient Power for Its Customers." Wednesday the group went through the local telephone exchange.
