

Whatever the pace is going to be that we'll roll along throughout the year depends on whether or not the pace-setters use their heads and do a little planning this first week.

There will be dissension again—there has been already—from minor special interest associations who oppose the movement towards good relationship among the three divisions to this year's university personnel.

This isn't intended as a harangue to bring forth manifestations of binding ties between anyone. It's intended as a support to the effort being made in scattered circles to coordinate the three student bodies wandering across the lawns into one powerful unit.

Fortunately the Bucket is open house after its closed-door policy which emanated last spring from the university's own military department.

There is, however, a state of coordination to be maintained. The mistake of turning the campus into a military school would prove quite as serious as to maintain it as a pure and holy civilians' paradise.

These first-week developments are going to set the precedent for the entire year, and the manner in which the three parts of the student body fit together will depend upon how the arising problems are solved.

ASUI Board Alters Frosh Elections

Abandoning the timeworn policy of electing Freshman class officers during Freshman Days, the executive board voted Tuesday to hold Freshman elections simultaneously with other class elections.

As a result of this measure the confusing traditional Freshman Days assembly which would normally come Saturday morning and in which officers for the year were selected by an eye-nay vote, the Freshman class officials will be selected by secret ballot through the regular upper-classman election procedure later in the semester.

Acting on publication department vacancies, the executive board appointed Claire Bracken and Marian Franson as Argonaut co-editors for the fall term.

Billie Keeton was appointed to handle Gem subscription through registration line where down payments of $1 will be made on the 1944 yearbook.

Book Sale

In order to speed up the sale of text books after registration, the Student Union Bookstore requests that students know either the number of the courses for which they are buying textbooks, or the name and author of the proper textbook.

Saturday Mixer Planned For Campus Newcomers

Part of freshman week—with a special invitation to all newcomers to the campus—will be the traditional university mixer held Saturday, September 25, at 9 o'clock in Memorial gymnasium.

Sponsored jointly by the student union activities board and the ASUI executive board, the mixer will be furnished by the eight piece Army orchestra, which features several men who in civilian life played with big name bands.

Counselors Greet Newcomers At All Depots

A.W.S. women are acting as counselors to incoming freshmen and others this year as they have in past years, Anne Thompson, president, said yesterday.

At a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the A.W.S. room Muriel Axtell, orientation chairman, outlined plans which include the meeting of almost all buses and trains Wednesday and Thursday by counselors, who are identified by white ribbons.

In addition, the women are keeping an information booth open on the first floor of the administration building for the benefit of newcomers. Other counselors will be on hand in the halls of the Ad. building during registration Friday to give information or advice to freshmen.

Ag Faculty Loses Instructors To The Service

The agricultural faculty has suffered quite a few vacancies, according to a report given Wednesday by E. J. Iddings, Dean of the College of Agriculture. The armed services and some essential war activities have called many instructors.

During the past two years very many of the duties and responsibilities of the agricultural staff have been greatly increased because of war programs—especially those concerned with food production, conservation, and distribution.

The entire agricultural division includes the services of around 60 persons including 33 county agents who, with their helpers, recruit farm labor, operate insect control programs, improve livestock herds, and contend with the farm machinery shortage.

Red Cross To Plan Surgical Unit

Although there are no definite plans yet for the campus unit of the Surgical Dressing rooms, all women are urged to keep some time free for the work.

It is planned that the work will be done in the Women's Gym just as it was last year. If anyone wishes to work on the dressings before this unit is reestablished, they may attend the Moscow Red Cross rooms down town.

S.U.B. Management Assumed By Chet Kerr

Entire direction of the Student Union Building has been turned over to Chet Kerr, who last year managed the Blue Bucket. He has been named director of the Student Union Building, and is responsible for the Blue Bucket, the book store, and the ball rooms.

Mrs. H. P. Magnuson will again be hostess at the Student Union Building, and should be contacted by those who would like to use the ball rooms. Bob Desaulniers will Chet Kerr, Student Union Mgr. is Kerr's assistant, and will be in charge of the Bucket.

Chet Kerr, known to all students as Chet, has been in Moscow for over 20 years, and has been on the University of Idaho campus for the past 15 years.

The counselors have added responsibilities this year due to the housing of rushees in the sororities and halls, the chairman said. Because silence rules are in force, they will act as intermediaries between rushees and sorority members.

Faculty Changes Apparent In Many Departments

Thirteen departments face the fall term with new faculty members, President Harrison C. Dale stated yesterday. Offsetting a slight depletion in the overall teaching staff, numerous inter-department switches have also been made.

Among the new faculty members is Dr. Hans G. Naegeli who comes to the geology department from Ecuador where he held a position with the International Petroleum company. He replaces John A. Wilson who is on leave to the army.

Dr. James P. Martin, who has previously been with Rutgers university, will take Dr. William A. Selen's post as assistant professor of bacteriology. Filling the associate professorship vacancy in the mathematics department created by the death of J. R. Bender is Dr. H. M. Schwartz who has been teaching until this year at the University of Illinois.

Prof. William J. Brockelbank, who will replace Prof. Elmer W. Million in the law school, graduated from the Harvard law school, attended Lincoln's Inn at London, received his doctorate degree from the University of Paris, and is a member of the British, Canadian, and American bar associations. The new instructor in political science, taking Arthur P. Kruse's place, is Robert E. Hosack who comes here from Duke university.

Message

To the Student Body: The University of Idaho remains a civilian institution! Apparently this fact needs endless repetition.

A year and a half ago we welcomed the Navy to our campus when the Naval Training School was organized at Idaho. Last spring we welcomed the Army with its Specialized Training Program. We are glad both groups are here.

Let me offer two suggestions to the civilian student body of 1943-44. The first is that they preserve all our Idaho traditions and customs to the very fullest extent possible. Students now in the University though fewer in number than in peace times are just as much entitled to receive the same attention and to share the same experiences as those who were here before the war.

My second suggestion is that within the limitations of Army and Navy regulations we share our campus life with the men in uniform. Let us instill in them all that we can of the Idaho spirit and help them to join loyalty to our University with loyalty to their country and their flag.

HARRISON C. DALE, President. September 22, 1943.

Brown Forecasts Dim Prospects For '43 Football

Football prospects seemed pretty well clouded up at the Idaho campus Wednesday evening. So clouded, in fact, that a dope story was not indicated, in the opinion of athletic officials.

The turnout, as has been known, is small enough that without an increase in the size of the squad, the sport must be dropped. Thirteen men were suited up Wednesday.

Athletic Director Babe Brown stated emphatically Wednesday that most of the men on the squad are good football material; but the need of reserve strength and the possibility of injuries make a larger squad imperative. Commitments to other schools leave little time to wait for such an increase.

Discussions with representatives of the armed forces were in progress Wednesday, and there remained a possibility that immediate developments would cause a sharp increase in the size of the squad, and bring assurance that Idaho will field a team.

ASTU Men Hard At Work On Argonaut Copy

Responsible throughout the semester for a page in the Argonaut are nine men from the Army Specialized Training Unit. Left to right they are: T/5 Howard Chanler; Pfc. Raymond Del Tufo, Jr.; T/5 William C. Salzman; Pfc. Harry M. Zaimanoff; Pfc. Henry L. Norton; T/5 Harold Shaw (standing); Cpl. Morris Eisgraw (standing); and Pfc. Henry Santiestevan. Pan-Hellenic Announces Plans For Fall Rushing Program

The new accelerated rushing program for women students will formally begin this afternoon at 4:15 with the Pan-Hellenic reception.

The reception will be run differently this year as it will be held two days, Thursday and Friday, instead of one as in previous falls. Each rushee will spend half an hour at four houses one day and will spend the same time at the other four houses the next day.

This reception will take the place of the first party in former years when the new students were shown through the houses. Schedules for the eight different groups may be found in all the women's houses and halls and on the bulletin board in the administration building.

Women who are interested in signing up for rushing may register at the pan-hellenic office in the Bucket Friday evening at nine o'clock. A registration fee of $1 will be charged for those who wish to go through rush week.

Several calls for part-time work have been left at the office of the dean of men. Any men interested should contact Dean H. E. Latig.

Word that university juniors in ROTC would return to the campus from their present location at military centers but no definite date as to their arrival was recently received by the university military department, Colonel W. A. Hale said last night.

WAA To Entertain New Students At Annual Picnic

Instead of its traditional site on the courtyard between Hays and Forney halls, the annual Women's Athletic Association picnic will be held this year in the upstairs ballroom of the Blue Bucket Thursday evening from 5 to 7 p.m.

To be served cafeteria style, the picnic lunch will precede introductions of the P.E. department's faculty and the WAA executive board, each of whom will speak briefly, acquainting the new students with the WAA program.

Attention

Both editorial and business staff positions are open this fall to any students interested in working on the Argonaut. And for those who have had no experience, but want to learn, reporters are needed, as well as ad chasers, copy desk workers, and circulation assistants.

This call is for both new students on the campus and those who have previously attended the University of Idaho. Students interested should leave their names and telephone numbers in the Graduate Manager's office in the Student Union Building, specifying the type of work in which they are interested.

ROTC Juniors May Return To University Campus

Word that university juniors in ROTC would return to the campus from their present location at military centers but no definite date as to their arrival was recently received by the university military department, Colonel W. A. Hale said last night.

"A majority of the ROTC juniors, stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif., have finished a basic military training and are now being classified by a STAR unit before being sent back here," Colonel Hale said. "Very likely they will arrive between October 1 and 10," he added.

Camp Roberts is an infantry training center.

"Several of the first-year advanced ROTC students have been transferred to the armored forces at Fort Knox, Ky., and to the tank-destroyer unit at Camp Hood, Texas," according to Colonel Hale. "Although they too are expected back, it's plausible that they will arrive later than the Camp Roberts contingent," he said.

Dean Olson Grants U. Women Late Permission

Eleven o'clock permission will be granted University of Idaho women tonight, Thursday, Dean of Women Beatrice Olson said Wednesday. Friday and Saturday night, the regular 12:30 a. m. permission will be given.

Sunday evening women may also be out till 11 p. m., since it is expected that many women will arrive on the campus on that day. All women will be given 10:30 p. m. permission on Monday evening, because of the schedule of rush parties for sorority women and rushees.

Regular hours will begin on Tuesday. Freshmen are to be in by 7:30 p. m.; sophomores, 9:30 p. m.; juniors, 10 p. m.; and seniors, 10:30 p. m.

Mrs. Frances Bascom will call the country dances in which the entire group will participate, with community singing completing the program.

Assembly To Open Activities For Freshmen

Registration for all regular students begins Friday morning at 8 a.m. for all classes. An orientation assembly will be held for all new students in the university auditorium at 2 p.m. today, to be followed by conference hours with deans and directors.

The registration procedure and program for this year is the same as in former years, except that students are to be given only a day and a half to register, instead of the normal two days. No students will be registered on Saturday afternoon.

Today's registration activities include the assembly at 2 p.m. for new students, the conferences at 2:45 p.m. in specified conference rooms, and a WAA picnic at 5:30 p.m. for new women students only at the Student Union Building.

Students previously registered at the University of Idaho may obtain their registration blanks at any time in the office of the dean of the college in which they were last registered.

Men enlisted in the Army, Navy or Marine Enlisted Reserves, must present evidence of such enlistment to the Commandant before beginning registration.

New students may obtain registration blanks at 8 a.m. Friday. Those whose names begin from A to G will report to Ad. 108; from H to P, Ad. 104-A; and Q to Z, hall adjoining Ad. 102. After 8:30 a.m. Friday, new students will go to the Registrar's office, Ad. 104, for their registration blanks.

New students who have not received permits to register should report to the admissions room, Ad. 206, today, Friday or Saturday morning. This must be done before registration blanks may be obtained.

A. A. Beecher Tells Music Plans For This Year

A. A. Beecher, head of the music department, announced this week the music organizations which will be functioning on the campus this year.

The University Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Carl Chausa, the University Concert Band and All-Girls' Band, both directed by E. J. Marty, Vandaleers, under the direction of A. A. Beecher, University Men Singers and University Women Singers, both directed by Robert Walls, and the string, brass, woodwind, and vocal ensembles, will be offered.

Professor Beecher urged that all students majoring in music, or any who are just interested in belonging to one or all of these groups, come to the music office on registration day, meet the conductors, and get acquainted with the music department.

Churches Schedule Opening Night

October 5 has been scheduled for church night, when receptions and programs will be held by the various Moscow churches for University of Idaho students, Dean Beatrice Olson, dean of women, has announced. No other university activities are to be scheduled for that evening.

Special permission will be granted so that all students interested may attend the programs. Each church will advise students of that particular denomination of the exact time and place of the reception, and announcements will also be made in the next issue of the Argonaut, after definite arrangements have been made.

Lt. Colonel Hale, Veteran World War I, Heads ASTP

By Pfc. H. M. Zalmanoff
Trim, genial, Lt. Colonel William A. Hale, U. S. Infantry, a veteran of World War I and of the Army of Occupation in Germany, heads the Army Specialized Training Program at the University of Idaho this year. He replaces Col. C. W. Jones, who was recently transferred to Pittsburg, California.

The Colonel is a seasoned soldier having served through World War I as the Commanding Officer of a motorized machine gun battalion, the forerunner of today's mechanized units. This was with the 89th Division, and because of its splendid combat record was selected by General Pershing to become a part of the American Army of Occupation in Germany, where Col. Hale served for ten months.

Leaving Germany in the summer of 1919, he was returned to the United States and took the examination for the regular army. He was assigned to the 39th Infantry at Fort Lewis, Washington, as a Captain, where he served as Regimental Adjutant. In 1921 he began his first tour of college duty when he became Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the University of Washington, where he served for four years, after which he studied at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia.

Beginning in 1926, the Colonel put in three years as an officer of the 19th Infantry in Hawaii, which was followed by two years at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming. In the summer of 1931 he was transferred to the University of Idaho. Because of injuries received in combat he was retired from the regular army as a Major in the fall of 1935. Being an ardent hunter and fisherman, the Colonel decided the best hunting and fishing in the country was right here in Idaho, so decided to continue to live in Moscow. In the spring of 1940 he was recalled to the active list of the regular army and again assigned to the University of Idaho. Colonel Hale has specialized in weapons and marksmanship. His ROTC rifle teams have won many National Championships. He is particularly proud of the fact that in 1935, his Idaho shooters won both the Small Bore and Large Bore College Championship of the U. S., something no team has ever before done in the same year. For this the school received the "Doughboy of the West" Trophy and the "National ROTC Rifle Trophy."

Reminiscing a bit, Colonel Hale recalled the winter of 1919, when he lived in Erdorf, Germany. He was billeted at the home of the Burgomeister of the town. The Burgomeister came to call the first evening the Colonel was there and kept directing anxious glances at a box of Rio-Tan cigars on the Colonel's table. Offering the Burgomeister one, brought forth exclamations of joy and made a friend out of the German city official. A small amount of soap, sugar, tea and coffee made friends of the whole family, and from that day on when the Colonel returned to his room in the evening he found a piece of pie, cake, a bottle of choice wine or some other delicacy awaiting him.

The Burgomeister became very frank in discussing world affairs and predicted that in 1939 another European War would begin. With equal frankness he laid Germany's defeat in the first war to the entry of the United States into it, but said we would not be given cause to enter the next war, and Germany would emerge supreme in Europe. A pretty good prediction to be made in 1919, except that it shows the German mind just can't visualize our American ideals of freedom and Democracy. Colonel Hale is very proud of the personnel of AST 3926, and remarked to your reporter, "I think they are the finest group of soldiers I have ever commanded."

Sports Specialties

By T/5 Harold Shaw

Despite the fact that I've been out of the sports world for a few months I think it's more or less of a duty to turn prognosticator and this means that it's the usual time of the year to pick a winner.

Naturally I'm referring to the spectacle of sports, the World Series. A quick way to gain a lot of friends is to pick the right team; but knowing my capacities, I'll not guarantee any results and simply state that the New York Yankees look like the best bet for the title. Of course there are the usual cries of "He's crazy," but I am sure the Yanks can't forget last year and the disastrous results—and so on the revenge motive I'll string along with the Bronx Bombers.

It may be true that the Cards from St. Louis have plenty of hitting and pitching ability, but I think the Yanks will stack up to these departments without too much trouble.

I won't be too surprised if the series only goes four games this year. Because if it does, it means that the train accommodations won't be too burdening; and I have it on reliable authority that Yanks don't want to stand up in a day coach between New York and St. Louis.

HOW ABOUT FOOTBALL

One of the most perplexing problems in the sports world now is the football situation.

Colleges throughout the country have dropped the game from the calendar, and many schools are not expected to finish their complete schedules. The only schools that will be lucky enough to get in a full season are the colleges where the Navy and Marine programs are in force.

There was quite a cry raised in the sporting circles when Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said "No" on the army boys' ing for colleges, and his reasons were practical.

Like everything else, sports are undergoing a change during war time. Just how much the future will be affected is still an unknown quantity, but I am willing to hazard a guess that this country will go back to its old ways once we get this mess cleaned up.

There's still something about college football which just can't die out. Maybe it's the crowds in the stadiums, maybe it's the marching bands, maybe it's the flowers the girls carry, or the pennants the fraternity boys wave; but whatever it is it's an American custom that grew on us and none of us wants to see it stopped.

True, some of the smaller schools have taken a beating in this football situation, but I think it's only for the duration.

Softball Team Closes Season

With two wins and one loss to its credit the ASTU softball team wound up its season last week.

The army ten got off to a good start by punching out a 14 to 8 decision over Sigma Chi. Pitchers Herschel Schulman and Jack Potter managed to come through in the pinches, while Vic Drasner, with a home run, and Charlie Country Wagner, with two triples, led the hitting department.

In the second game both Pitchers Schulman and Potter were a bit wild, but the army sluggers held up and the ASTU ten came out on the long end of a 7 to 5 tilt with the navy's second squad. Schulman counted up a four bagger while First Sacker Joe Dullea poked out three bingles in as many trips to the plate. Fancy fielding at third base by Drasner was another highlight of the contest.

Held to three hits in the finale, the army squad went down to an 8 to 1 defeat at the hands of the Moscow city softball champions—the navy. Drasner collected two

Soldier Students Here In ASTP

When regular students of the University of Idaho return this fall to their campus, they will find already there soldiers who will be their fellow students. These soldiers are in Idaho as members of the Army Specialized Training Program—familarly known as the ASTP.

The ASTP is a comprehensive program to train soldiers for specific Army needs, utilizing the facilities and facilities of colleges and universities throughout the United States. It is designed for specialized study in engineering, psychology, medicine, mathematics, science, and foreign area and language.

Selection of the University of Idaho as a training school has made this University an Army Specialized Training Unit (ASTU).

Training for the ASTU soldier is rigorous. He has about 27 hours of class room study per week, 21 per week of study periods, 6 a week of gym, and 5 a week of military training. His day runs from 6:15 a. m. until 10 p. m., at which time he is allowed free time until 11:00 p. m.; lights out is at 11:30. Week-end passes allow the only other free time. They are from 2:00 p. m. or 2:30 p. m. Saturdays until 6:30 p. m. Sundays.

An ASTP term runs 12 weeks. The number of terms varies for each course. Generally, however, there are three 12-week terms, or roughly 9 months in the course of study. There is a furlough of one week between terms.

Soldiers come from all branches of the Army into the ASTP. In the University of Idaho ASTU practically all arms and services, and all grades through the non-commissioned officers are represented. Because the ASTU operates under the cadet system, no insignias of rank are worn. Thus a blank sleeve does not mean a rookie, here; the soldier underneath that stripeless sleeve may be anything from a P.F.C. to a Master Sergeant.

The cadet system allows the men to be their own officers, offering them training in leadership. Within the units, acting officers and non-commissioned officers serve in weekly rotation. Men wearing plain blue bands on their sleeves are the acting non-commissioned officers for the week. Those wearing a blue band distinguished with an Idaho badge are the acting commissioned officers. The acting company commander has two such badges, while acting lieutenants have one.

Carl Minden, ASUI president, today issued an announcement that all soldiers are welcome to the use of the lounge in the Student Union Building. Soldiers are reminded that the Blue Bucket, Book Store, and other facilities of the Student Union are not off-limits, and may be used during free time.

of the clouds, while Johnny Janssen marked up the other blow. Schulman, who went the route for the army, was wild and the sailors managed to take advantage of the free passes. Two rallies that the army crew started were quickly stopped by the Navy.

Members of the team were Dullea, first base; Joe Gianni, second base; Willie Scott, short stop; Drasner, third base; Joe Pagliuso, catcher and short field; Schulman, pitcher; Potter, pitcher and short field; Wagner, left field; Cal Metz, center field; Janssen, right field; Lloyd Stephany, short field; Al Rosenbaum, catcher, and Julie Domovich, coach.

Tremper Longman was manager of the team. He also organized the outfit and scheduled the games.

"Available" Dullea Exposed As GI Joe Of Quaint Life

By T/4 JOHN P. SHEA

Long as the State of Idaho... blessed with a chin that leads like the Yankees... Irish as Bush-nill's... friendly as an insurance salesman... unassuming as a Moscow beer joint... that's Joe. (Available) Dullea, the supremely apologetic for the Washington Redskins.

One can spot him coming from blocks away by reason of his shoes that forever glisten like a Georgia congressman's nose. This propensity for well groomed pedal-ware has embarrassed him recently. A fast talking buddy (?) signed him to a one-sided contract that required him to shine the former's shoes at the oddest hours. O'Mearas probably was never before the scene of one soldier kneeling in the center of the floor assiduously polishing the shoes of another dog-face who languished in a booth, counting the house.

Lengthy Dullea Eager to get both ends of the lengthy Dullea frame sharp as an Esquire ad, he will spend hours before a mirror taming his frivolous locks to just the right careless curl. Sometimes known as "Dis" Dullea, for his tremendous collection of popular recordings, he will spend long hours lying on his bunk and listening ecstatically to their music... and then try to sleep in class the next day.

The man who talks it up on first base for our softball club is here primarily to make with the French. Besides which he has an above average knowledge of Greek and Latin.

ASTU Forms Band New Units Added

An ASTP military band has been organized under the direction of T/Sgt. Alfonso Espisto, and has already appeared at several drill formations.

ASTU Band Crew Boasts Ex-Stars

by Pfc. RAY DEL TUFO

A Jimmy Dorsey saxophonist, a Bud Freeman drummer, and a Vincent Lopez bass violinist form the nucleus of the smart ASTU dance orchestra, which has already played at two dances in the Student Union building.

Bespoke Kenny Odekirk, leader of the orchestra, is a former member of Jimmy Dorsey's aggregation, while drummer Renny Mitchell, the lad with the frog voice, held the spotlight in Bud Freeman's band. Husky Bob McCormack, on the bass violin, was formerly with Vincent Lopez.

Other members of the band are: Jim Laing, trumpet, a former college star; Jerry Lederman, piano, formerly on the "Borscht Circuit," and Wisconsin's Oliver Schleuter, trombone.

Odekirk hopes to get two more sax players soon. He will then be able to use his two other trumpeters, Al Van De Waa and Warren Goodwin.

Ernie Farnham is manager and Julie Domowitz, co-manager.

Bunk Fatigue

By Cpl. Bill Saltzman

A beautiful day and a beautiful car and a beautiful girl—and all Sgt. Harold Kuhnau could do was nod and gulp... mostly gulp... It all happened when the blond G.I., now a member of ASTU 3926, was hitchhiking along a California highway. A snappy roadster pulled up, and a soft voice said: "Hop in, soldier." Kuhnau hopped in and then nearly collapsed... For the driver was Carol Landis, the movie star... Sight of the week: Our Hal Kuhl walking his guard post—followed by wife and child...

Don't throw away that "True Story" magazine, feller... One of the former models for said magazine was Sgt. Bill McMillen, who earned extra money this way between acting chores... Isaacson Means

Ike Isaacson was moaning over the fact that his Moscow girlfriend had left for boot-training with the Marines... "You shouldn't kick," said the Air Corps guy from the STAR unit. "In my old outfit, we were lucky if we saw a girl once in two weeks..." "Yea," said Ike, "you sure had it tough. Almost as tough as the time I was stationed on the Samoan Islands for a year and never saw a white woman..."

Communique Comment

By his spirited defense of Anglo-American policy in Italy before the House of Commons yesterday, Eden showed that the Churchill cabinet is sensitive to the charge that Britain and the U.S. are willing to make peace with and keep in power those elements in fascist enemy countries which have backed totalitarian leaders. The brisk words of the British foreign secretary did not calm the fears of anti-fascists all over Europe who see that the Badoglio regime represents not the people of Italy but the upper-class groups which helped Mussolini on his way to power in 1922 and supported his authoritarian rule for over 20 years.

Neither Churchill nor Eden gave the members of Parliament this week a clear-cut declaration concerning the future status of the Badoglio government and the relation of the Allies to it. It is possible that the British and U.S. chiefs of state do not intend to formulate a definite policy in regard to Italian internal affairs until after the impending Anglo-Russian-American conferences. Any discussion between Churchill, Roosevelt and Stalin will certainly include the problems of political reconstruction inside Italy, the Balkan states, Poland, and Germany. The vagueness of the Allied armistice terms with Italy in regard to political matters may conceal secret provisions advantageous to Badoglio and his colleagues, but there is absolutely no proof of this.

By his recent public statements, the Italian premier has shown that he is working overtime to win for his government the status of one of the United Nations in the crusade against Hitler. Attainment of such a status would give Italy a guarantee of lenient treatment at any Allied peace table and would tend to pledge the Anglo-American team to support Badoglio in any civil conflict with opposition groups within Italy. Mussolini's successor naturally hopes that Britons and Americans will forget that his regime is merely the opportunist residue of a dictatorship and can make no valid claim to represent the majority of the Italian people. Badoglio is evidently encouraged by the fact that the chiefs of the Allied military government in occupied Italy are British and American conservatives whose natural sympathies lie with the Italian bankers, industrialists, landed nobles and generals that support his oligarchy rather than with the Italian proletarian leaders.

Frosh Women To Learn Full Activity Program

By ELAINE THOMAS

The minute the confusion of rush and registration is over, every frosh woman on the campus is going to discover that she has some extra time when she won't be studying, going to classes, or just chatting. At this time, with a year facing us with fewer men (that is, men who have time for coke dates every day), we're going to be on our own for activity.

Here is just a glimpse of the campus in the light of activities. In war work, there is the Red Cross Surgical Dressings room which will be established on the campus just as it was last year. If you knit, the yarn and directions will be given to you by the Red Cross Work Rooms. If you don't work on it any other time, it's enough if you take it along with you to house meetings.

Work for Grades

If you're the brainy type, (and if you are, be proud of it) work a little harder and make Alpha Lambda Delta, the freshman women's honorary, based on a grade point of a 3.5 or better. If you have lots of drive, good grades, and personality, you may be tapped for Spur, the sophomore women's service honorary. These both beat a path toward Cardinal Key and Mortar Board as upperclasswomen.

For these honoraries, you have to get in a lot of hard work. They aren't given to you. The Argonaut is one of the sources. You don't have to be an experienced proofreader, reporter, or ad-getter. All you need is the willingness to work. Any of the seasoned upperclassmen in your houses can help you. The same goes for the yearbook. Get in and get your name on the staff and drop around once

Here's More About— Assembly To

Students who have not graduated are being permitted to return to school on an inactive status, at their request, to continue their academic work. This group will be permitted to remain in college to complete the semester or quarter in progress on December 31, 1943, unless sooner graduated.

Second year ROTC students awaiting assignment to Officer Candidate School and those who do not elect to return to college will be held in replacement training centers, where they will be utilized as assistant instructors to provide them with additional training and experience which will be of distinct advantage.

Ultimately, all advanced ROTC students will be assigned to Officer Candidate Schools to complete their officer training.

in awhile to justify it.

W. A. A. is one of the most important activities. It not only keeps you in trim, but it is the best way to meet and know other girls. Besides, it carries a lot of weight in activity points.

Keep your eyes open. There are places for you in music circles, play casts, and athletics. Don't wait for someone to ask you to do something. Even with the war, there are lots of things to do. Or perhaps we should say—especially with the war!

Forests Reveal Faculty Changes

Mr. Vernon Ravenscroft will replace Mr. R. K. Pearson, extension forester, in the School of Forestry this year. Mr. Pearson has taken the place of Assistant Director in the Emergency Farm Labor office at Boise.

Also from the School of Forestry comes the resignation of Dr. V. A. Young, professor of Range management, who has a duration appointment with the Soil Conservation Service in Southern California.

Home Ec Stresses Wartime Plans

In addition to their regular course of study, the home economics department plans to focus special attention on such wartime problems as food preservation and clothing renovation. Miss Margaret Ritchie, head of the department, announced today. These innovations, it is believed, will be valuable in fitting home economics women for the part they must play in community and home war work.

University Loses Two Geologists

Dr. John A. Wilson, Assistant Professor of Geology, was commissioned as an ensign in the navy this summer and is taking his training in Harvard. Replacing him is Dr. Hans G. Naegeli, a native Swiss student with a degree from the University of Zurich.

Another resignation was received in the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology when Mr. Clarence Zuech, chemist, accepted a position with the Great Western division of the Dow Chemical Company in San Francisco.

MULBERRY BUSH

Greetings and welcome salutations to all new Moscow-ites on our campus. First edition "dirty" consists of those general occurrences of the summer concerning pins and rings.

Tri Deits announce that Eleanor Johnston is sporting an SAE pin belonging to Jim Glenn; Helen Knaggs has a ring from Lt. Dave Short of Louisiana; and Jean Grey has one from Sigma Chi Johnny Gunn.

From the Delta Gamma House, the first concern is that "Dream Man" Joe Ryan has placed a ring on the left hand of Eldene Mulcahy; Helen Jean Brink is planning her wedding date to ATO Ray Wilson this season; Barbara Sutcliffe and Elaine Thomas have respective Figi and Beta pins of Egan Drenker and John McCormick.

Marylou Kleopfer of Kappa Kappa Gamma has announced her engagement to Jack Newell, Sigma Nu, now at Pasco, Washington; and Ann Smith to Steve Goff, Phi Delta.

Of special interest can be a report that several Idaho men are in Navy V-12 training at the U. of I., Southern Branch. This includes a few fellows from nearly all the houses, some of whom are: Charles Plastino, Jack Riley, Jack

It appears that telegrams have been sent to several rushees with instructions to stay at certain houses during rush week. This was brought up in a pan-hellenic meeting and has seemed to cause some confusion. Who done it?

Several Idaho women have taken notice of a blonde Sigma Nu from the University of Missouri, living in the ATO house. For their information his name is Darwin Brown and he hails from some town in Southern Idaho named Blackfoot.

Mrs. Frances Bascom has recently been appointed active head of the physical education department. She succeeds Miss Janette Wirt who is now associated with the American Red Cross in New York. Other instructors for the year are Miss Margaret Mylne, who will conduct her regular classes as previously, and Mrs. Marty, who will take over Mrs. Bascom's former position.

Fraternities Hold Joint Serenade

Olive drab and navy blues seem to predominate our campus, but the few men on the campus still in civilian attire are not to be forgotten. First evidence of this came Tuesday evening with a serenade at women's residences. The group was led by Dale Ablin, Beta Theta Pi, and included among the serenaders were representatives from Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, and Kappa Sigma.

Ex-Hostess Leaves For New Position

Minden Welcomes Freshmen To University Of Idaho

Freshmen:

Welcome to the campus of the University of Idaho. You are now beginning your college career and many of the acquaintances and friendships you make here will remain with you always. Quickly adopt Idaho's traditional spirit of friendliness and it will help you on your way.

The war has required changes in the usual routine of college life. Many activities have been curtailed, and reduced enrollment has limited the number of older students who ordinarily assume the leadership in campus functions. This gives you freshmen an even greater opportunity to get into activities. You are urged to take an interest in the running of your school. I wish you success. Don't forget the all-school mixer Saturday night!

U. Takes Men's Houses For Women's Halls

Housing for 126 women formerly living in Hays and Forney halls has been made available by the university taking over three fraternity houses, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Nu, and Phi Gamma Delta.

The new residences for these women have been named Mary, Elizabeth, and Gertrude, for Mary Elizabeth Forney and Gertrude Hays, after whom the two halls were originally named.

Mary house, which is the name given to the Beta house, will house 56 women, and Mrs. Gladys Babcock will be hostess. The Sigma Nu house, housing 39 women, has been named Elizabeth house, with Mrs. Della S. Adkison as hostess.

Mrs. Mabel K. Chapin has been named hostess for Gertrude house, the Phi Gamma Delta house, but she will not be on the campus for about two weeks. Mrs. B. Christanson will take her place as hostess for that time. Gertrude hall is expected to house 31 women.

Eat at Lindley
Women from all three halls will eat at Lindley hall, as well as all civilian men not living in fraternities, where service will be cafeteria style.

Ridenbaugh hall will be opened as usual as a women's cooperative, and Mrs. Harry J. Smith will be hostess. Seventy-five women are expected to live there.

All sorority housemothers have returned to the campus this year. They are Mrs. Paul C. Shoudy, Alpha Chi Omega; Mrs. Homer Pitner, Alpha Phi; Mrs. W. A. Ritchie, Delta Delta Delta; Mrs. Roy Van Winkle, Delta Gamma; Mrs. T. W. Macartney, Gamma Phi Beta; Mrs. R. J. Chamberlain, Kappa Alpha Theta; Mrs. Gay Hester, Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Mrs. Florence Tuft, Pi Beta Phi.

Only men's dormitory maintained by the university is the Idaho Club, whose occupants will eat with university women in the Lindley dining room. The Teke and Delta Chi houses will both be closed for the year, the Fijis will live with the Phi Deltas, the Sigma Nus and Betas with the ATOs.

the dean concerned, the student should go to the Women's gymnasium, entering through the north basement door via Art 104. Here identographs of new students will be taken, registration cards checked by the dean of men or dean of women, class cards made out, and fees paid.

Schedule Changed

Miss Ella L. Olesen, registrar, has announced that the morning schedule of classes will be the same as last year, with the first period beginning at 8 a.m. Afternoon classes will begin 10 minutes later than last year, so that the university may follow the schedule of army hours. Fifth period classes will take up at 1:20 p.m. All afternoon classes will run till 10 minutes after the hour.

Most courses are offered this year, though many of the advanced courses are to be arranged following registration. In most subjects, fewer sections are being offered.

All able-bodied men will be required to take gym three days a week, for which one credit will be given. This is a modification of last year's program, which required the men to take gym five days a week.

Buy Bonds to Keep Out of Bondage.

Government Stops Future Loans

Dean H. E. Lattig, dean of men, Tuesday announced that federal loans to engineering students will be continued this year, only for those who have been receiving the loans. No new applications will be accepted. Men receiving the loans will have their tuition paid, and will be given $25 a month, with the understanding that the program will be definitely ended on June 30, 1944.

Attends Convention

Helen Jones, president of Alpha Chi Omega, attended the national convention of Alpha Chi Omega officers in Chicago this summer. Discussion centered on problems of wartime changes.

Student Recovers

Bette Armstrong, Alpha Phi junior, is reported recovering from an appendectomy which she underwent Sunday. She is expected to arrive on the campus in about two weeks.

Max Nelson of Moscow was pledged in August.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon pledged David Edmark, Nampa; Eddie Wilkinson, Idaho Falls; Jack Merrill, Idaho Falls; and Jose Deleon of Panama. Spud Juve was pledged by Phi Delta Theta and Mark Burggraf, Frank Fisher, and Dean Wood, all of Idaho Falls, were pledged by Phi Gamma Delta.

pledging will be that afternoon. Silence rules are binding on new women students from the time they arrive at Moscow until after they receive their bids Tuesday. Although all sororities are having ten or more rushes living

The majority of the parties will be more informal than in previous years. "Simplicity is the keynote of our wartime rushing," said Helen Foster, pan-hellenic president.

Wethern Will Edit Idahoian Page

Sports fans will find at least one familiar condition at whatever contests are held in Moscow this fall, for Bob Wethern will be in the press box.

Wethern has accepted a position as sports editor of the Idahoian, and will cover contests in that capacity. He was known in recent years as an activity man on the campus. During the first semester last year he was editor of the Argonaut, but completed the work necessary for graduation at mid-year. Year before last he was editor of the Gem of the Mountains. Another position he held as a student was that of sports editor of the Argonaut.

Brown Tells Plans For Athletics

Intra-mural sports will be carried on during the coming year to the extent that all university men who want to participate may have an opportunity to do so. This was the statement of Babe Brown, director of athletics in response to queries as to what would happen to Idaho's extensive program.

Just how much activity this will mean is something only time can tell. It is impossible to say how the men on the campus will be arranged in living groups, Babe pointed out, so organization into leagues must be temporarily postponed. The number of sports that can be included when the number of men is so small was also unpredictable.

New way to stop tardiness: The last one in rings the bell.

University Appoints "Babe" Brown Head Of Athletic Department

Appointment of J. A. "Babe" Brown as acting director of athletics and acting head of the department of physical education heads the list of changes in the department of physical education for men that have occurred since the close of school in the spring.

Much interest will be felt, also, in the return to the campus of Rich Fox, who has joined Brown's staff. Fox will not do any coaching, however, for his activity will be limited to physical training, for both army and civilians. Another newcomer is William Ramsey, replacing Leon Greene.

The vacancy that Brown fills was created by the departure of George Greene for duty with the navy. Greene was commissioned a lieutenant just after school closed, and spent several weeks in New York taking an indoctrination course at Columbia university. He was then sent to Arkansas A. & M. at Monticello, Ark., where he is now stationed. His work is to coordinate the naval training program with the college activities.

He has been joined by Mrs. Greene and his family, and is on leave of absence for the duration.

Old-Timer On Campus

Babe Brown, new head man in athletics, has been well known on the campus for 23 years. He joined the staff of the university in the spring of 1914 as coach of freshman football, after coaching previously in Lewiston, Burley and Moscow. Since then he has had a rapid advancement. He has filled the position of assistant football coach, and last year took over the work of varsity basketball coach when Guy Wicks was commissioned a naval lieutenant. In the spring, he coached the tennis team and helped George Greene with baseball when the latter was unable to be with the nine.

Babe made his original bid for Idaho fame in the early twenties during the Golden Age of Idaho athletics. He was a powerhouse as fullback on the football team, and was student coach of the Idaho wrestling team. He made few appearances as a wrestler because of the habit of the other schools forfeiting to Idaho every match in which Babe was entered.

Rich Fox was a contemporary of Babe as a student. He was a three-year letter man in basketball and baseball, and captained, in 1921-22, the quintet that won the coast conference championship. Later, Fox returned to Idaho as basketball coach and served several years.

War Cripples Football On Pacific Coast

Football in the Pacific Coast conference presents a weird scene at the start of the current year. Idaho has not been the only school to depart from normal.

Three conference schools had cancelled their season up until noon Wednesday. Montana dropped out early in the summer. Stanford announced in August that it had dropped the sport for the duration. And University of Oregon notified the public Monday morning that it had cancelled its schedule when the size of the squad was seen to be only 13 men.

Rumors Denied
Rumors have been thick since Monday that Oregon State College would follow the lead of Oregon, but these rumors are denied by Percy Loece, director of athletics. Loece proclaims that his school has a turnout of 30 or more and will play out its season.

Washington State has adopted a tone of optimism in all its releases on the subject. Figures on the size of the squad are announced as running in the twenties. Most

In 1936 he left the university but kept his home in Moscow and represented manufacturers of equipment for visual education in the Pacific Northwest. He holds farmland in the Moscow region, but with the manufacture of the equipment he handled being discontinued because of the war, he had time free and consented to help when the need became acute for a larger staff in physical education. He has been active in his position since mid-summer.

Intra-Murals
William Ramsey came to Idaho in June after three years with the department of physical education in Eastern Washington College of Education. He will be in charge of whatever intra-mural activity can be maintained, as well as giving classes in physical education for regular students and army. Swimming is among Ramsey's special interests. He will have charge of the pool, and hopes to revive interest in water sports during the coming year.

Coach Ryan Calls Track Men To Turn Out

All men interested in cross country running or any branch of track should report to the training room at their earliest convenience, says Coach Mike Ryan.

How extensive a program can be worked out depends on the number of students that turn out, but it is planned to arrange such cross country meets as the strength of the team justifies. "All candidates are welcome," Mike insists, "regardless of size, age, race, creed, or previous record." Men who expect to participate in the spring should train during the fall, as well as those for whom cross country is the drawing card. It is possible to qualify for a major letter by fall participation.

The excellence of track as a conditioner for other sports was listed as among the reasons men who expect to compete in activities that have later seasons might turn out. The stamina necessary for such a sport as basketball can be developed, according to Idaho's trainer, on the track; and there's always the chance that a man who comes out to get in shape for basketball later may surprise himself by becoming a point winner.

News about U. C. L. A. is dismal. An original turnout consisted of just eight men. It was predicted that the number would increase rapidly.

Opposition Uncertain
One of the difficulties of the teams with a good turnout is the uncertainty of their opposition. Collapse of another Northern division team or two might force the cancellation of the season even for the stronger squads.

Meanwhile, some of the traditional underdogs are on top. College of the Pacific, for example, has a fine turnout of sailors. Willamette has a turnout of fifty—Beier was affiliated with Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Pre-Meds To Face Restrictions

Men in pre-med or pre-dental work at the university now in an enlisted reserve corps must apply for admission to a medical school and be accepted provisionally in order to stay in school on the reserve status, it was announced this week by Dean of Men H. E. Lattig. Further information may be obtained from the office of the dean of men.
