The GOLDEN FLEECE
by Jason

This Friday, led by the Spurs, the campus swings into the national Red Cross drive. This year the drive is not just the annual membership drive. At the present time, little concern is given to membership statistics. This year the drive is for the sole purpose of raising money.

The quota for Latah county alone is over $23,000. This means that for every man in the service from Latah county, over $11 must be raised. The campus has been asked to cooperate, and to cooperate to the fullest extent possible. In former years, the campus has participated in the annual drives. However, the results were usually pretty weak—a few dollars being collected in each living group. Now, the student quota is $700, and each individual is being asked to contribute one dollar. This may sound like a heavy tax, but it's what the Red Cross demands and needs.

WE HAVE IT EASY
We here in college are among the privileged few. Except for the few returned war veterans, we know nothing of the conflict and strife except what we read and what we hear. We ourselves have endured no hardships. All of us know that the work of the Red Cross is and always has been that of relieving hardship and giving assistance. But do you realize the full extent to which the Red Cross participates?

Of the expenditures of the Red Cross from March 1, 1943, to February 29, 1944, 87 per cent or a total of $82,500,000 was spent for services to the armed forces. These services include hospital and convalescent service, home service for the able bodied and hospitalized men and their families, blood plasma for the Army and Navy, emergency supplies for the armed forces and Chapter produced supplies such as surgical dressings, assistance to the disabled men and their families of this and past wars, and assistance to U. S. prisoners of war.

Further statistics show that 1,004,000 prisoners of war parcels were shipped by the Red Cross. Is someone close to you a prisoner of war? Or was one of your old buddies wounded? Well, 5,530,000 units of blood plasma have been collected for the Army and Navy to save the lives of those men wounded in action.

THE HOME FRONT
The home front benefits as well. Disasters can occur here as well as on the front lines and the Red Cross acts as the rescue squad in all emergencies. Thirteen per cent of their expenditures, or $10,897,100, was used for disaster relief, health, education and safety services.

Here's another opportunity for each of us to help fight the battle—on the front lines or in the local community. If men and women in uniform can do their part, and they're doing it—we can certainly meet the few demands made upon us.

Dig deep, and then toss in a few more cents. It won't hurt you and it helps bring relief to millions. The now dead NRA had a slogan, "We do our part." It seems appropriate for us. So adopt it, DO IT.

Leaders Announce Red Cross Plans

Faculty and student chairmen for the Red Cross drive at the University of Idaho have announced that plans for raising the university quota will probably go into action by the middle of next week. Dr. D. R. Theophilus and Dr. H. C. Hansen, co-chairman of the faculty committee, said that the faculty drive will probably follow the custom of previous years which has worked satisfactorily.

Miss Ada Mae Rich, president of Spurs, is student chairman. At a meeting of the group Wednesday, plans were made for the student drive which will include a house-to-house canvass.

Home Ec Slates Tea

Home economics students of the home management house plan to entertain the Homemakers' Club of Moscow on Monday, March 6. A program will be followed by serving tea.

CAUCUS

The United Students Caucus will meet at the Blue Bucket at 7:30 Tuesday night. According to Ben Martin, chairman of the caucus, business will consist of appointing new class officers to fill vacancies.

Musicians Rehearse For Tonight's Performance

The above group are caught in the act of preparing for the S.A.I. Victory Musicale which will be presented tonight at 8:00 in the auditorium.

SAI Will Present Victory Musicale Tonight At 8:00 In Auditorium

Rehearsals have ended, and all is in readiness for the Victory Musicale to be presented tonight, March 2, at 8:00 p. m. in the University auditorium. This program, sponsored by S.A.I. has a two-fold purpose: to further the best of interest of musicians by presenting programs of high musical calibre to audiences over the country, and to aid the United States treasury department and our country's war effort by encouraging the purchase of war stamps and bonds. Thus these programs are this week being presented all over the nation by S.A.I. chapters, with war bonds and stamps serving as tickets.

Members of Minute Maids already have the sale of defense stamps well under way, and will be present at the door tonight for further ticket sales. Members of Spur will usher, and the men of Phi Mu Alpha will help with the stage.

The program to be presented is varied in nature, offering instrumental and vocal numbers, both classical and semi-classical in nature.

The program will be introduced by the national anthem by Lucille Thompson, organist. Following will be two numbers by Jean and Ruth Gochneur, duo-pianists, and two numbers by the university string quartet, composed of Jean Armour, Iris May, Clara Rowell and Phyllis Claus. A group of SAI songs will be presented by the SAI chorus, and the university brass quartet will play a group of selections.

1000 Civics Enroll Second Term

"Enrollment at the university this semester is about the same as it was during the first semester of the school year," President Harrison C. Dale disclosed this week. He approximated the number of enrollees at somewhat less than 1000 civilians; over 600 sailors in the navy training school; and about 600 soldiers in ASTP. "A considerable number of the army ASTP men will be withdrawn within the next month," he reported.

Normal enrollment of the university before the war was between 2800 and 3000, with a steady drop since about 1940.

MOUNTERS

Students who want to work on photo mounting for the Gem may report afternoons and evenings for the next few weeks, Marian Krussman, photo mounting editor, announced.

Alpha Phis Initiate

Six Alpha Phi pledges were initiated Saturday, February 26. The initiates are: Roberta Jordan, Eldoris Erickson, Joyce Taylor, Evelyn Fisher, LaRaine Stewart and Kay Kenagy.

Group Will Honor New Members Saturday Night

Lambda Delta Sigma will hold their initiation dance Saturday night in the Student Union building ballroom. The dance will be semi-formal and will be held in conjunction with Dada Tau Gamma. Bruce Jepson, president, announced that programs are available upon the payment of semester dues.

Those who will be initiated are: Lucille Cummings, Virginia Geddes, Maurine Lee, Gertrude House, Marion Griggs, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Beverly Kay McCarter, Ora White, Margie Williams, Alpha Chi Omega; LaRaine Stewart, Alpha Phi; and Eva Rebecca Clinger, Ridenbaugh.

Miss Eggan Wins Inland Empire Radio Audition

A University of Idaho music major, Virginia Eggan of Seattle, is the Inland Empire winner in the "Undiscovered voice of America" audition being conducted by the "Hour of Charm" radio program, reports A. A. Beecher, head of the university music department. Miss Eggan was auditioned at Spokane in the regional contest and has made three recordings which have gone to Cleveland, Ohio, for judging in the national contest. From the recordings of regional winners a group of women will be picked for final radio auditions. The winner will receive a contract with Phil Spitalny's All-Girl orchestra.

Vandaleers Give Entertainment

The Vandaleers, Idaho's premier chorus of mixed voices, presented the half-time entertainment at Tuesday night's basketball game with the University of Washington. Numbers presented were "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jerico," Robert Walls, tenor soloist; "Two Guitars," Winton Wood, guitar accompanist; "Great Day," and a medley of Idaho songs arranged by A. A. Beecher, director of the group. Jean Gochneur was accompanist.

Wilson's Have Son

Dr. and Mrs. John A. Wilson are the parents of a son born February 22. Dr. Wilson, formerly of the geology faculty here, is now on active duty with the United States navy. He recently completed his indoctrination course at Harvard university.

Pres. Dale Names Physicians For Infirmary

Doctors C. O. Armstrong and C. J. Klaaren have been engaged on a part-time basis to serve as university physicians, replacing Dr. Harold D. Cramer, who was granted a leave-of-absence, President Harrison C. Dale announced. Dr. Cramer, a lieutenant in the army medical corps, left Tuesday morning. He expects to be attached to a flight surgeon's division, the president added.

Alpha Phis Initiate

Six Alpha Phi pledges were initiated Saturday, February 26. The initiates are: Roberta Jordan, Eldoris Erickson, Joyce Taylor, Evelyn Fisher, LaRaine Stewart and Kay Kenagy.

Barbara Long, Anne Thompson To Vie For May Queen In Run-off Election

Zero Hour Approaches For "Gee-Eyes Right"

"Gee-Eyes Right" goes on as planned as the zero hour approaches and the ASTP is still on the campus. Tickets go on sale this Friday for the performances to be given March 9, 10, and 11. They will be sold in the hall of the Ad. Building and at Hodgins drug store.

Lattig Announces Civilians' ASTP, V-12 Test

The third test for civilians aspiring to enter the ASTP or V-12 will be given on the second floor of the university at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, March 15. H. E. Lattig, dean of men, announced. Before taking the tests all applicants must receive an admission from the dean of men's office, fill it out, and return it to the office. Men between the ages of 17 and 22 may qualify for examination. Those accepted will be allowed to select the branch of service that they wish to enter.

Secretary Chosen

Miss Beverly Dalton replaces Miss Bernice Friedman as secretary to the Dean of Engineers, J. Hugo Johnson.

Hepworth Attends Conference

A review of scientific methods of food preservation and demonstrations to avoid food waste through spoilage in order to utilize the great quantities of food produced in the nation's 20 million Victory gardens were subjects emphasized at a recent conference in Chicago attended by Miss Marion Hepworth, state home demonstration leader and chairman of the state nutrition defense advisory committee.

Campus Loses 13 To Draft Board

More men students have been called into service, as the jaws of the draft board close menacingly over the Idaho campus. Thirteen men have been inducted into the nation's armed forces as a result of the February draft quota.

Idaho Records Refute Daily Statesman Editorial

EDITOR'S NOTE: A short time ago the educational system in Idaho received a so-called "slap in the face" through an editorial published in the Idaho Daily Statesman of Boise. We believe the writer of that editorial was a little outspoken when he classified the faculty of the University of Idaho as "incompetent noddies, struggling novices and legendary fixtures in their dotage." Idaho has many well-known, outstanding men and women on its university faculty. We think the facts should be presented to the students, parents and townspeople who are inclined to agree with this editorial without looking into the backgrounds of our professors.

Since much criticism in this editorial was directed toward our educational system, we are describing the department of education as the first in a series of articles designed to present facts about our faculty and outstanding graduates of the University of Idaho.

Material for this article was gathered by Betty Jean Rice and several research assistants. The Department of Education of the University of Idaho, headed by Dean James F. Messenger, is composed of four members who bring to Idaho a variety of experience and training. Three of the four members have received their doctorates, and the fourth has a master of science degree. Their formal academic training was gained in many of America's foremost colleges and universities.

Dean Messenger was an undergraduate at the University of Kansas, where he won his B.A. From Kansas, he went to Harvard to complete an M.A. His Ph.D. in education was conferred by the best graduate school of education in the United States—Columbia.

Bette French, Alpha Chi Omega, and Billie Keeton, Alpha Phi, will vie for the presidency of the Associated Women Students in a run-off election scheduled for Wednesday. They defeated Frances Marshall in the preliminary held yesterday.

Marian Krussman, the only candidate who received a majority vote, was elected treasurer. In the run-off election the polls will be open from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the hall of administration building.

Other offices to be filled are the vice presidency, with Florence Marshall and Beverly Weber as candidates; secretary, Vera Anderson and Eloise Deobold; orientation chairman, Marvel Houx and Joanne Hunter; maid of honor to the May queen, Julien Paulson and Elaine Thomas; page, Jo Marie Cramer and Jean Thompson, and yell queen, Lorraine Brassfield and Betty Craggs.

Some of the major fields of study for ASTP trainees, and the branches of service to which some of them lead, are as follows: chemical, civil, mechanical, electrical, marine, or sanitary engineering (trainees utilized by the army air forces, ground forces, or service forces); medicine or dentistry (trainees utilized by the medical department); personnel psychology (trainees utilized by the adjutant general's department); foreign area and language study (trainees utilized in the army air forces, army ground forces, signal corps, military intelligence service, and office of the provost marshal general); veterinary medicine; surveying; internal combustion engines; communications and optics; military and physical training.

The army-navy college quality test makes it possible for men to become earmarked for special consideration for the ASTP in advance.

The conference was called by the federal extension service with M. L. Wilson, director, serving as conference chairman. One hundred were present representing station nutrition committees, various federal departments and the manufacturers of food preservation equipment.

"This was one of the first meetings of its kind and it appears to be a determined policy of our government leaders that everything possible will be done to assist every American family to grow its own food, and show them how this food can be safely preserved for use throughout the year," Miss Hepworth reported.

Every State institution in the four northwest states has had a graduate of the Idaho school of education on its faculty, while in normal times, more than 50 per cent of the superintendents of Idaho have been held by graduates of the University of Idaho.

These statistics cannot reveal all of the value of the department of education, but they can convey an idea of the wealth of material the department has contributed, not only to Idaho, but to the entire nation.

Elmer Hagman is superintendent of a psychopathic hospital in Connecticut. Everett Erickson is head of the department of education at the University of Alaska.

Fred Blanchard received his doctor's degree at N.Y.U., and, before going into the navy, was head of dramatics in Wilson college, Pennsylvania.

Several State officials hold degrees in education from the University of Idaho. They include: John W. Condie, state high school inspector; C. Elmer Roberts, state superintendent of public instruction, and W. D. Vincent, formerly commissioner of education for Idaho. James Lyle, now in the navy, was formerly assistant state superintendent of schools for Idaho.

Every State institution in the four northwest states has had a graduate of the Idaho school of education on its faculty, while in normal times, more than 50 per cent of the superintendents of Idaho have been held by graduates of the University of Idaho.

Willard Price went from Idaho to complete a doctorate at Yale. Now he holds the position of professor of school administration, director of university extension and summer sessions, University of Connecticut.

Charles D. Yates is vice-president of the State Teachers College at Modesto, California.

Dean Messenger was an Assistant Professor in Psychology at Harvard, and held a fellowship in Psychology at Columbia. For eleven years he was head of the Department of Education and Director of Summer Session at the University of Vermont. He has been dean of the school of education and director of summer session at the University of Idaho since 1920. He is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, and held one of the few fellowships donated by the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is listed in Who's Who.

Dr. Smith ran a Community House in Philadelphia for 12 years. He was president of a junior college and a private normal school in Kansas City, Missouri. He has studied at Columbia, Toronto university, and the Universities of Washington and Southern California.

Dr. Russell has taught at the Universities of Utah, Washington, Northwestern, and has done extension teaching at the University of California. He has also taught at Union University and Louisiana College, and was director of teacher training at Humboldt State Teachers' College. He served as School Supervisor of Siskiyou County, California. He is Director of the Education Program for the American Legion. He is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, and Kappa Delta Pi.

Miss McCoy has served as county superintendent of Nez Perce County. She has also been both assistant and state superintendent of education. Miss McCoy gained considerable experience as a social service worker during the first world war. Since that time, she has held the position of director of placement service and non-resident instruction.

Acid test of the worth of any educator is the success, or lack of it, of his graduates. Idaho's educators make a credible showing in this evaluation. Since the establishment of the School of Education in 1920, 1,814 bachelor's degrees and 568 master's degrees have been conferred. Among these, 2,382 graduates, several noteworthy names have already appeared.

A brief sketch of the experience of each member will serve to dispel any belief that there are any "incompetent noddies" or "struggling novices" in the department.

ARMY CLOSES TRANSFERS TO AIR FORCE

Pilot Training Now Nixed For Ground Service GI's

Orders prohibiting further transfer of men from the Army Ground or Service forces to the Army Air forces were received here this week from Ninth Service command headquarters at Ft. Douglas, Utah.

Band Will Play Musical "First" At AST Exercises

A musical "first" will be a feature of ASTU graduation exercises Saturday, April 1, A. A. Beecher, head of the music department, said today.

It will be the premiere performance in this section of a march, "The Liberator," composed by Carl W. Hoisington of Moscow, a graduate of the University of Idaho and now an employee at the San Diego plant of the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, builders of the bomber in whose honor the march was written.

After his march received a favorable reception in Southern California, Hoisington sent a complete set of arrangements with his compliments to President Harrison C. Dale of the University of Idaho. President Dale passed them on to the music department and the university band, under the direction of Prof. E. J. Marty, began rehearsals.

Carlson To Take Japanese Course

Pfc. Don Carlson will leave this week-end for Ann Arbor, Mich., to enter the Military Intelligence language school at the University of Michigan. He will study Japanese. Orders for the transfer were received yesterday.

Replacing Carlson in the ROTC contingent leaving Sunday night to enter the Infantry Officer Candidate school at Ft. Benning, Ga., will be Pfc. Steele Barnett, who is being transferred here from Camp Roberts, Calif.

"Play By Play" To Get No Play

Production of "The Army, Play by Play," a collection of five one-act dramas which were to have been staged here March 29, has been cancelled, Pfc. Deane Bryant, the producer, has announced.

Juke Box King Succumbs After Fight Against Swing

Elmer C. Broadbottom, nephew and sole heir of the late Andrew Juke, multimillionaire inventor of the juke box, died of a heart attack at his home at 7544 West Seventy-eighth street, Mission Hills district. He was 58 years old.

Mr. Broadbottom, whose own fortune, like his uncle's was built up by the great public appeal of swing music and "gut bucket," nevertheless abhorred both. He was virtually a recluse because he refused to visit any store or restaurant where swing music was played.

Thirteen Trainees Get All-A Grades For Second Period

At least thirteen trainees of ASTU 3926 have 4.00 grade averages for the second four weeks of the present term, Lt. George D. Hayenga, classification officer, has announced. Grades for some class sections were still lacking up to last night, however.

Four-point men reported to date: Herman Ausubel, Jack E. Connors, Raymond Del Tufo, Jerome Lederman, Robert G. Martin and William E. Scott, French; Louis M. Fisher, Sol D. Schachtman and Harry N. M. Winton, German; Justin Heineman and Reuben Hyman, Russian; Frank J. Huddleston; Term 6 Electrical Engineering, and Charles E. Johnson, Term 2 Basic Engineering.

Astu Makes Surprise Visit; Denies Blossom Pupunapping

Astu did not pupnap Blossom. The little, mysterious figure, whose presence in Moscow was recently revealed by T/S Ralph Behrens, sales and promotion manager of The Astude, appeared today at the Argonaut office and showed definite proof he was not involved in the pupnapping.

Mad Russians Praise Flatbush Queenie

By TOVARISCH NORTON
Whenever Pfc. Al Weiss receives a large package from Brooklyn, all the Russian students come around to watch him open it, because it probably was addressed to them, too—"Pfc. Alfred Weiss and the Boys, Co. B, ASTU 3926, University of Idaho, Moscow."

Usually though, it's food—a loaf of pumpernickel, a yard of salami and a coffee can full of homemade cookies, or something like that. The latest package, which arrived Monday, contained a large box of chocolate dipped halvah bars (halvah is a rich, crumbly Russian confection), a can of celphane-wrapped candies, a package of coffee-flavored sweets and a can of cookies. The donor of all this generosity has seen Weiss only once and "the boys" not at all. But they've elected her (and quite naturally) "queen" of the Russian class. And last Christmas every one of the boys received a Christmas card signed "Queen Glenn," wishing them season's greetings and a quick return to their loved ones.

"You can't imagine how pleased I will be to get the yearbook with all my boys' pictures in it," she wrote in her last letter. "I will keep all the letters and Christmas cards the boys have sent me in the book and every spare moment I have I will read the letters and look at the pictures of all the boys."

Weiss met her when he was home on furlough last October. She lives across the hall of an apartment house from his parents, and she had developed a great interest in his sister's new baby—so great an interest, in fact, that she bought a $25 buggy for the infant.

Basic Training—Cadre Style

Medic Applicants To Be Interviewed

Two civilian physicians and a dentist will be on the campus next week to interview basic engineers who successfully passed medical aptitude tests recently, Lt. G. A. Hayenga, classification officer, said yesterday. About 40 men will be interviewed. Interviewing will start Monday.

HERZOG AT MEETING

Lt. Morris Herzog, supply and transportation officer, will attend a Ninth Service command transportation conference at Salt Lake City Friday and Saturday.

Saving coffee is easy if you just use the old bean twice as much. Whitehallite.

Text To GI's At Cost

Trainees will be allowed to purchase AST textbooks used here at cost, Lt. Col. W. A. Hale, commandant, announced yesterday. Payroll deductions to cover the cost of books purchased may be secured on statements of charges.

Lt. Morris Herzog, supply officer, requests that men wanting to purchase books notify the supply sergeant well in advance of their leaving the unit so that the charges can be properly entered and recorded.

Should the unit be disbanded, slide rules and drawing sets also would be placed on sale to trainees, Colonel Hale said.

Capt. Applegate Reports Saturday

Capt. Daniel W. Applegate, who has been transferred here from Vancouver Barracks, Wash., will report Saturday, Lt. John H. Swain, adjutant, said. Captain Applegate is as yet unassigned in the unit.

Engineers Choose Date For Ball

Since St. Patrick has been proved by the aid of integration calculus, thermodynamics, and all other engineering tools, to be the patron saint of engineers, the engineers on the University of Idaho campus have chosen his sacred day for their annual dance.

The Engineer's Ball will be held Friday, March 17.

The ASTU Angle

By T/S HAROLD SHAW
I've heard quite a bit of comment through various sources about some of the cartoons we have been running.

It seems that two of the female drawings on page 2 sort of shocked some of the coeds who roam the campus.

"DARING" ART

In fact one of the quotes that reached me was that the pictures were a little "risque." Well, to tell you the truth, I thought that they were a little on the "old" side. With all due respect to our able cartoonist, Yogi Williams, I used the shapely wenches because I thought the GIs in the unit would be able to add a new pinup—never realizing that I would offend the maidenhood of the U. of I.

I guess I forgot to drop a line of explanation along with the cartoons. They were used in other college annuals some time ago—so naturally I thought that there wouldn't be any kickback from another college such as this one.

But I underestimated the modesty of the Vandal coed, who I'm sure just sits around all evening long with her books and her knitting needles—never once trying to get a glimpse of Esquire. (Although that magazine is barred from Uncle Sammy's mails now because of indecent exposures.)

So I stand corrected and properly chastised for my rash act of running a couple of clothed gals. To all of the women whom I offended may I offer my sincere apologies. Next week I'll run a W.C.T.U. advertisement.

CHEAP REWARD

Many of you have wondered, no doubt, why Pfc. Henry Santiestevan wasn't conducting this column of late. You all know, however, that he is the editor of Astude, the unit's yearbook, and that as a result of the work on the annual he hasn't found the time to bat out a comment each week.

I've seen some of the finished work and believe me it's really a wonder how the men drummed up their ideas. Santy, who was recently awarded a "brown star" for duty above and beyond the call of necessity, has tossed away a lot of his own free time to make the book a success. Along with the little man, Artist Howie Chanler has tossed his brush and glue around like in the good old days, and he has come up with a lot of top notch novelties.

Beerless Buffet Supper Planned

A buffet supper will be a feature of the ASTU graduation dance March 29, Capt. Lorn D. Parkin, special service officer, said yesterday.

But there won't be any beer—the university dean of women would object and mark the dance off limits to coeds.

"Although the party will not be a required date affair, men will be encouraged to supply their own dancing partners, Captain Parkin said. In addition to the main dance in the Student Union ballroom, juke box music will be provided for dancers on the lower floor of the building.

Everything will be free. The party will be paid for from the unit enlisted men's fund.

Lt. Kersey Earns Silver Star

Idaho's men in the services are again in the news, so word has been received by the Sigma Chi fraternity that Lt. John S. Kersey, St. Maries, was awarded the silver star for gallantry in action February 10. The 1942 graduate's sister, Mary Kersey Nelson of St. Maries, sent the information to the fraternity.

Lieutenant Kersey was executive officer of Co. F of the 16th infantry regiment on August 3, 1943, at Troina, Sicily, and staved off a German attack of superior numbers. Lieutenant Kersey's action came after every other officer in the company had been killed. He received his commission through the ROTC.

WITS AND HALF-WITS:

It is being said that with the sugar and gas rationing, women will be so thin from not eating sweets and from walking, that they won't have to worry about the rubber shortage for girdles. . . and then there was the Indian who slept with his head near the fire to keep his wigwam. . . and then there was the moron who read in the paper that a man had been arrested for signing Rudy Vallee's name to a check: Said the moron, "Himm, a Valley Forger."

Found on the floor beside the chair in which he died suddenly at 11:14 o'clock last night, was a copy of the latest issue of Down Beat, trade paper of the music industry, announcing that two swing records "Mairsey Doates" and "Shoo-Shoo Baby" were attracting more nickels than any other two records ever sponsored by the juke box system.

Nope, it ain't true, but we had the space to fill.

Communique Comment

March 1940 saw the end of the first Russo-Finnish war of this decade. March 1944 may witness the end of the second. Reports from Helsinki imply that a Finnish peace delegation will arrive at Moscow before the end of this week. The logical head for such a mission would be Juho Paasikivi, the negotiator of the Russo-Finnish peace of 1940 who recently completed informal talks at Stockholm with the Soviet minister to Sweden.

Hitler's attitude toward a Russo-Finnish peace conference is hard to fathom, but Russian gains inside Estonia in the past four days may have convinced the German High command that the isolation and defeat of Finland by the Soviet Union is merely a matter of time. While the world wonders at the silence of Berlin on Finnish affairs, the six or seven German divisions in northern Finland may be quietly retiring into Norway—so that a Russo-Finnish armistice commission will find no units of the Wehrmacht inside Finland to intern. The signing of a Finno-German trade treaty this week shows that no sudden rift has developed between Helsinki and Berlin.

According to Moscow, Molotov is not demanding unconditional surrender from the Finns—or even Russian military occupation of key points inside Finland. The Soviet demand for the frontiers of 1940 had been expected in London and Washington. This would give Russia control of the northern shore of Lake Ladoga, or Viipuri and the entire Karelian Isthmus. These changes would not make Finland into a Russian protectorate, but they would deprive Finland of areas of strategic value. The Finns realize that the Soviet terms might be more harsh at this time—and they know that the Kremlin will insist on unconditional surrender if Finland chooses to fight on.

Stalin and Molotov are settling the affairs of the Baltic without waiting for advice from Whitehall; but friends of Finland have been encouraged by the report that the British government has given its approval to the Russian terms of peace for Finland. One cannot assume that persuasion by Secretary Eden led the Kremlin to modify its demands on democratic Finland; but the Soviet leaders must realize that Russian leniency toward Finland at this time undermines the argument of those Britons who declare that the Red Russian bear will swallow half of Europe after the defeat of Hitler.

Alpha Phi Omega Crowns "Gert" and "Ike" Winners

Campus Chooses Co. "A," DG Candidates

Marilyn Lester, Delta Gamma, and Company A's candidate, Melvin Schwartz, were crowned Gaudy Gert and Ugly Ike respectively at a mock wedding ceremony staged at the Spinster's Skip. Trophies were awarded to each winner in the name of the group they represented.

The Gaudy Gert trophy is a rolling pin of Honduran mahogany set up on a pedestal. The trophy was made and donated to Alpha Phi Omega for use as a perpetual trophy by Dean Messenger. Ugly Ike received a ball and chain, donated by the university carpenters as the annual trophy for Ike. Each group will hold their respective trophy until the next election in 1945.

Betty Farrrens, Alpha Chi Omega, was Gert's closest competitor. Jack Tallent of the Idaho Club ran a close second to "Shorts" Schwartz of Company A. The Delta Gamma candidate was the most popular, taking top honors in both groups in the number of votes received.

The total proceeds, approximately $150, will be used to purchase war bonds from the Minute Maids and then placed with the bursar to be held for use in a memorial.

Spinsters Treat Skip Dates Royally

Strange indeed were the sights appearing on the Idaho campus last Saturday when the women did the dating and put on the Annual Spinster's Skip. Significant was the fact that this is Leap Year.

For example, one chagrined miss was found toting her escort's shaving kit as repayment for the many times he had unwillingly carried her purse. Ah! But his elation lasted only for the day.

In order to give the boys a thrill, several energetic young women ordered vegetable corsages and tipped newshoys a dollar to deliver them over the barracks wall... the corsages, we mean.

One straggling man ended up at a ticket office. "Is my nose shiny?" he asked, whereupon he pulled a good-sized compact from his pocket. We wonder if the ticket-taker recovered.

Despite the fact that the Skip was held during war time, many good-looking clothes were seen there, although the inconspicuous absence of new clothes proved that Idaho students are definitely patriotically minded.

Thirty carloads of spare automobile parts have been shipped to Alaska to complete reserve stocks of Army ordnance depots along the Alcan highway.

Idaho Gets Bouquets

One expression of appreciation and gratitude soothes the wounds of a lot of gripes. And sincere appreciation and gratitude were the emotions of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Doumeq of Craigmont after they visited our campus this last week.

They expressed special thanks to Gertrude house and the housemother Mrs. Edwin T. Chappin, for the hospitality and friendliness extended to them. They also commended the infirmary for their kindness and cooperation.

These are both a vital part of the university—a vital and integral part. The infirmary in the past has received much comment, much of it unfavorable. Gertrude house was established this year to meet the war time re-organization necessitated when the army took over Hays hall. Thus when praise so sincerely offered as was in this case, it's a big boost. It's a bouquet in the lap of the university when parents, after visiting our campus, are free from worry and have a good will attitude towards us and our school.

Dresses were designed by Barbara Campbell; red, white and blue costumes which will be ordered from commercial costumers, by Mary Pennell; and costumes for specialties by Marilyn Lester. Virginia Holmes is chairman of the costume crew with Betty Ozburn assisting her.

Those who have helped in making costumes are: Eileen Quinn, Jeanne Edwards, Elizabeth Rofinot, Ora White, Mary Pennell, Marion Bell, Betty Thompson, Marion Griggs, Lois Fox, Maurine Lee, Bette Faye Solberg, and Barbara Ravenscroft.

Women Complete Play Costumes

Amazing progress has been made on costumes for "Gee-Eyes Right," according to Miss Marion Featherstone, faculty advisor in charge of costumes. Although the crew has worked a total of 18 hours, costumes have been completed except for finishing touches. Dance routines and specialty numbers require a variety of costumes. Startling black and white

Week-end Guests Swarm Campus; Houses Schedule Firesides

Week-end guests held the social spotlight during the week but several other important social events took place. Miss Betty Simpson was the guest of honor at a wedding shower given Sunday at the Alpha Chi house. Miss Simpson is leaving to be married within the next month.

The Alpha Phi house now has several newly initiated members. Six girls: Evelyn Fisher, Eldoris Erickson, Kay Kenegy, Roberta Jordan, Joyce Taylor, and La-Raine Stewart were accepted into membership on Sunday. Mrs. William Keeton of St. Maries is visiting at the Alpha Phi house for several days.

Pi Beta Phi entertained Mr. and Mrs. Louis Boas at dinner on Wednesday evening. Dinner guests at the Gamma Phi Beta house on Sunday were Dean Beatrice Olson, and Harry Fraley. The Gamma Phi held their formal initiation dance Saturday night.

The members of Delta Tau Delta were hosts Tuesday night of Ralph Didrickson, an alumna, and Jack Eakin, house president of last year. Mr. Eakin is now serving with the Navy V-12 program. Another Delt guest for the week-end who is in the navy is Walter Kiser.

Hank Crowley, a former student of the university who is now a midshipman in the navy, is visiting at the Alpha Tau Omega house. Bill Sahlgren, who is connected with the Navy Air Corps, and John Rummel, both former Betas on this campus, are also visiting for several days. Other campus visitors include: Kent Barbor, Sigma Chi, and Miss Doris Leggat, an Alpha Chi of the University of Washington.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta have both scheduled firesides for Friday evening and the Sigma Chis will entertain at a fireside on Saturday.

The Intercollegiate Knights plan to hold an exchange with the Spurs next Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Student Union building. This is the second exchange held by the groups.

W. H. Bunch, assistant professor of mathematics at the University of Idaho, left Tuesday for his farm in southern Idaho. He plans to start doing remodeling work on the farm and house immediately. Mr. Bunch's family will remain in Moscow until some time in the spring.

REHEARSAL

Continuity rehearsal for "Gee-Eyes Right" will be held Friday evening at 7:15 instead of Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

House Announces New Officers

Gertrude house has announced its new officers elected recently. Lucille Cummings is president; Della Doumeq, vice president; Dorothy Knapp, secretary; Dorothy Doumeq, treasurer, and Delpha Batzel and Virginia Geddes, social chairmen.

New women students living at the house include Marjorie Lundberg, Athol; and Irene Daffer, Weiser. A Valentine party was held at the house Sunday and an exchange with Company B was held Wednesday.

Miss Axtell Weds Lt. Smedley

The marriage of Muriel Axtell, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Lt. Jack Smedley, Phi Gamma Delta, was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. at the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Smedley is a senior at the University of Idaho and is majoring in English. She is a member of Mortar Board, Phi Beta Kappa, A.W.S. council, is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges, and has been prominent in campus circles during her college years. She expects to finish her work for her degree at Oregon State college and by correspondence with the university here.

Lieutenant Smedley was a senior at the University of Idaho and a member of Phi Gamma Delta a year ago when he left to enter the armed services. He was majoring in mining engineering and was president of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, mining honorary. Lieutenant Smedley completed officers' training at Fort Benning, Ga., and is now stationed at Camp Adair, Ore.

SPORTS SHORTS

By LEN PYNE

An unusual one-handed push shot is the trick that has made Bert Berlin, reserve forward, one of the best basket getters on Idaho's basketball team. Bert didn't turn out until six of the sixteen conference games had been played which was a big handicap to overcome. Bert quickly proved that he could shoot, run, dribble, and pass with any of the Vandals. Coach Brown selected Bert to go on the Oregon trip although he had been in Vandal attire only two weeks. Berlin received some valuable playing experience on the trip and he is now able to go into a game and give the vandals badly needed reserve strength. Not bad for a fellow who has never turned out for college athletics until this winter.

Hails From Heyburn

Bert's prep days were full of highlights both athletic and scholastic. He went to Rupert high for one year and the following three years to Heyburn. At Heyburn, he earned two varsity letters in football and three in basketball. His top athletic achievements were being chosen all-district end in football in the fall of 1939, and all-district guard in basketball for the 1940-41 season. Bert was one of the top pigskin snappers in his conference, on one occasion scoring four touchdowns in a single game. In basketball, he was always near the top in his team's scoring. Bert was valedictorian of his class, graduating in June, 1941. Bert decided to continue his education at the University of Idaho Southern Branch in Pocatello. After one semester at the Southern Branch, Bert came to the University of Idaho and became a member of Kappa Sigma. He is now a junior in mechanical engineering and holds a high grade average.

ABANDON SPRING SPORTS

Abandonment of all spring sports in the northern division on an official divisional basis, focused interest and speculation of the status of coaching staffs at member schools. Action was taken by graduate managers of the conference in abandoning conference-wide schedules because of the increasing shortage of competitors.

The sports which are affected will be baseball, track, golf and tennis. It is probable the ban will continue throughout the duration of the war emergency for the manpower shortage which brought about the action, will not get any less at most of the schools. Only the U. of Washington expects to have anywhere near a full complement of athletes.

No Confirmation On Staff

Nothing has been confirmed regarding the status of the coaching staffs of the different schools in the conference. Remaining coaches at the University of Idaho are J. A. "Babe" Brown, acting athletic director and basketball coach; Mike Ryan track coach and trainer; Bob Knox, boxing coach; and Bill Ramsey, swimming and minor sports coach, all participating in the physical fitness program for ASTP soldier-student trainees. At Washington Babe Hollingbery, football and track coach; and Jack Friel, basketball and baseball coach remain.

Earl V. Foster, chairman of the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference, intimated neighborhood meets, such as Washington State against Idaho, Whitman and the University of Washington might still be arranged. If such should turn out to be the case, there probably would be no change in the coaching status at any of the schools.

OTHER STARS STAR

Slingshot Sammy Baugh, Washington Redskins star passer and kicker topped all the National professional football players in kicking last fall. Baugh had an average of 45.9 yards for fifty tries.

Hank Crowley, former University of Idaho football star played a few games last fall for the strong St. Marys pre-flight team. Competition there was of a high caliber, with such stars as Bruce Smith, Bill Warden, Gomer Jones, and many others.

San Francisco Seals, a member of the Coast baseball league has already started spring workouts. The Seals are the first coast baseball team to start workouts this year. Sixteen members turned out of which ten were pitchers, three catchers, and three infielders.

Honorary Pledges Nine Women

Nine women were pledged Tuesday to Phi Chi Theta, women's business honorary, Helen Jones, president of the organization, announced. Women pledged were: Jean Beveridge, Joan Benoit, Mary Alice Buchanan, Shirley Ann Moreland, Mary MacRae, Mary Lu Adams, Barbara Hull, Jean Thompson, and Karma Smith. Pledges are chosen from sophomore women in the school of business on the basis of scholarship. Formal pledging was held Tuesday at 5 p.m. at Mary house.

Tea Marks Close Of Meeting

Following an earlier discussion in the afternoon, Miss Marian Hepworth gave a tea Saturday at the Moscow hotel. This was the closing event of the week-long extension service meeting. The featured speakers were Mrs. Clara Snyder, director of home economics for the wheat flour institute, Chicago, and Mrs. Janet Hendricks, western representative of the same organization, Oakland, Calif. Wives of the men on the agricultural faculty were included with the out-of-town guests.

Council Discusses Mission Plans

At the regular meeting of inter-church council representatives Tuesday, plans were discussed for the mission that is coming to the University. A group of noted speakers will be here for three days to discuss the problems of religion in war time.

Vandals Will Meet Huskies Here Friday

Idaho Will Try To Break Washington's Record

Idaho Vandals will play their last game of the season against the Washington Huskies Friday evening at the Memorial gymnasium. Washington has clinched the conference championship making the Vandals the underdogs. Washington will be out to make it four straight over the Vandals and also to try for their 15th straight conference win this year. On the other hand, Idaho would like nothing better than to take Washington into camp.

Washington has a well-balanced team led by Al Mar and Jack Nichols. Mar, little Chinese guard, is a transfer from Whitman college. He is one of the smoothest players that has been seen in the local gym this year. Jack Nichols, 6-foot five-inch freshman center from Everett, Wash., is Washington's top scorer this season. The other three starters will be picked from John Codd, Colfax freshman; Jim Mallory, Seattle freshman; Al Atkins, former WSC star; and Don McMillan, 6-foot three-inch sophomore from Seattle.

Idaho's starting lineup will probably be identical with that of the Washington-Idaho game Tuesday night. This will put "Lefty" Bill Carbaugh and Dale Ablin at forwards; Jay Gano at center; and Tom Collins and Len Pyne at guards. Reserve strength for the Vandals will come from Darwin Brown, forward-center; Rich Morse, guard; and Bert Berlin and Jack Anderson, forwards.

Tomorrow night's game will be the last college game for Captain Tom Collins. Tom is a senior and has played four years of varsity basketball, two with Boise Junior college and two with the University of Idaho. Tom is one of the best one-handed shots in the league along with being the coolest player that the Vandals have this year. Collins has been Idaho's heaviest scorer all season despite an injured knee that has hampered him nearly all year. Likeable Tom is the man with all the "hustle" and it is with deep regret that he finishes his collegiate basketball career tomorrow night.

Thetas Entertain WSC Sisters

Members of the Idaho chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained Theta members from WSC Sunday afternoon, February 20, commemorating their 74th Founders Day anniversary.

Skits were presented telling of the history of Kappa Alpha Theta, and the program also included musical numbers by members of both chapters. Following the program was a buffet supper and informal social hour.

Church Presents Lenten Musicale

In keeping with the Lenten season, the chorus choir of the Presbyterian church presented a musical program Sunday. Mendelssohn's cantata, "Hear My Prayer" was sung by Miss Virginia Eggan, university student from Seattle. The choir, which was directed by Professor Robert Walls, was made up of 40 voices. A violin solo by Professor Carl Claus of the music faculty was also on the program.

Coach Ryan Urges Track Men To Turn Out

Coach Mike Ryan made his second call for track men. According to Mike, around 15 aspirants have answered the call to start training for the oncoming season. "There definitely will be track at Idaho this spring," the master of the cinders asserted.

Coach Ryan stated there are several spots open on the squad at the present time. So far there seems to be a shortage of dash men, pole vaulters, broad jump, high jump, and if a few hurdlers appeared the situation might be helped immensely.

This year previous experience is not necessary to find a spot on the squad. Contestants turning out will definitely have competition this spring as meets have been discussed with Whitman college and Washington State. As to whether other schools will have track, the news has not yet been disclosed. Every possible chance to compete will be given the Idaho squad this season.

Track is a sport where conditioning is greatly stressed. In past years Idaho has been famous for her track teams and has had several stars in recent years.

Foresters Write From Overseas

Dean Jeffers, who receives many letters from former forestry students who are overseas, heard recently from Captain Langdan, a University of Idaho graduate in 1940. The letter was from "somewhere in England," and Captain Langdan wrote that he was very surprised to sit down to mess one noon and see Lieutenant Charles Kiljaneczyk walk into the mess hall. Lieutenant Kiljaneczyk is also a graduate of the School of Forestry in 1939.

It seems that these lads' homes are in opposite parts of the country—California and Massachusetts. They met in Idaho, were separated and met again about five years later in England as officers.

Another interesting letter came from Leland C. Higginson—class of '37. He is in North Africa and has been to Casablanca and Uran. His description of Uran was: "Uran looks good from the hill above it, but is dirty and old when you get down into it. There is very little modern machinery in use although the land is rather fertile, and olives, oranges, tangerines and grapes grow extensively."

Here's More About—SAI WILL

The board attempts to have representatives of all classes and houses and to enable them to take part in the arrangement of student activities. With the aid of these student representatives the board will continue to operate in conjunction with the army and navy officials and will cooperate with Mr. Magnuson in scheduling affairs to be held at the Blue Bucket.

Idaho Loses Game With Washington; Vandals Improve In Second Half

The Washington Huskies edged the Vandals here Tuesday evening by the score of 63 to 48. Taking an early lead the Huskies led throughout the entire first half. Idaho's attack bogged down the first ten minutes of play. Shot after shot went astray of the net until finally Pyne, Collins and Carbaugh started pushing the points through for the Vandals. Creeping closer to the Huskies the Vandals left the court at the half trailing 21 to 32.

The half opened to find blood-thirsty Vandals matching basket for basket with the lucky Huskies. Although playing superior ball throughout the entire second half the luckless Vandals were unable to close the gap. Coach J. A. "Babe" Brown substituted quite freely. Missing the services of Paul Olson, lost for the remainder of the season, the Vandals were unable to control the backboard as they might have with Olson's additional height.

The final minutes of the game found the Vandals spurring for victory but when the gun sounded fans found the home team behind 48 to 63. Codd, Washington guard, was high for the game with 18 points and Collins carried away the honors for the Vandals with 12 points.
