Students To Elect Class Officers For Ensuing Term

The election committee has been appointed and dates of the nominating assemblies and election for class officers set by Fred Watson, student body president.

Reed Fife is chairman of the committee, assisted by Mary Jane Hawley and Frances Marshall. Elections have been scheduled for October 25, with nominating assemblies to be held October 16. Election board examinations will be held some time before the election date, Fife announced.

Under the emergency war clause No. 2, of the A.S.U.I. constitution, class officers serve for the school year, with nominations to be made at the beginning of the fall semester at a special nominating assembly for each class, which shall be called by the president of the A.S.U.I.

The student executive board met Tuesday evening, without a quorum, so no official action was taken. Watson announced that a new member of the executive board will be selected by the board from nominees chosen by the Associated Caucus, under war clause No. 1. The position was left vacant when Watson, vice president, stepped into the presidency upon the resignation of Marian Franson.

President Harrison C. Dale will make announcements and remarks. The university band, under the direction of E. J. Marty, will play and A. A. Beecher will lead group singing. Prof. Robert Walls will sing a vocal solo.

Among the awards to be given will be the Inter-Fraternity council cup, Beulah Garrard Dale cup, Alumni scholarship cup, Phi Eta Sigma cup, Mary E. Forney cup, Delta Sigma Rho cups, Alpha Zeta award, Phi Chi Theta key, Alpha Kappa Psi award, Xi Sigma Pi awards, Mortar Board plaque, Phi Upsilon Omicron plaque, Sears-Roebuck scholarship award, Carl Raymond Gray scholarships and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers award.

Other awards may be made, details of which are not yet available.

Reception Honors Faculty Members

President and Mrs. Harrison C. Dale honored the faculty of the university Sunday afternoon at their annual reception in the newly refurnished living and dining rooms of Hays Hall.

Because of a recent illness, Mrs. Dale was unable to be in the receiving line. Those receiving with President Dale were Mrs. Louise Carter, acting dean of women, J. F. Weltzin, new dean of the college of education, and Mrs. Weltzin.

Assisting were the following: Miss Marjorie Lampan and Miss Editha Warren, at the door; Mrs. A. A. Beecher, Mrs. E. J. Iddings, Mrs. T. S. Kerr, Mrs. Frank Stanton and Miss Margaret Ritchie, living room.

Mrs. L. C. Cady, Mrs. D. D. DuSault, Mrs. Glenn Lantz, Miss M. Belle Sweet were in the dining room and Mrs. J. G. Eldridge, Mrs. Ralph Farmer, Mrs. H. E. Lattig, Mrs. Pendleton Howard, Mrs. D. S. Jeffers and Mrs. A. W. Fahrwald poured.

Dr. F. W. Gail, head of the botany department, furnished the flowers from his garden and arranged the colorful combinations.

Magazine Requests Correspondent

Ted Sherman, graduate manager, has received a letter from the "Boys Outfitter," a magazine of boys' and students' wear, asking for a campus correspondent. Material is wanted for the November issue, and the correspondent will be chosen from applications to the magazine. Copy may be sent to the "Boys Outfitter," 175 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y., in care of Lewis Kaplan, campus fashion editor.

James Will Assist Golf Students

Frank James, manager of the university golf course, has announced that he will be glad to help students who are interested in learning to play golf. Anyone who is in need of pointers in learning the game should contact Mr. James at the club house.

The GOLDEN FLEECE by Jason

FRESHMEN, TAKE NOTE:

To the freshmen—The University of Idaho offers some 60 or more organizations—scientific, cultural, religious, athletic, literary, dramatic, as well as numerous Greek letter honoraries and national service organizations. Check the university catalogue, pages 18 to 20 inclusive and see! With such a varied assortment, no student should complain that he is unable to find an activity to suit his taste!

It's true that not all organizations can be entered for the asking. In fact, many of the most desirable clubs insist that a student maintain a high grade average and show himself outstanding in other organizations before admission can be granted. These are the honoraries—coveted traditions of the U. of I.

Many campus clubs welcome those who display an interest and it's through these organizations that you new freshmen, who will some day be proud wearers of honorary badges, may prove your merit! Psychologically speaking, genuine interest fosters good work.

Now is the time to join these clubs. Calls for stage crews, Argonaut reporters, musicians, Gem workers and notices of, initial meetings of religious organizations, athletic tournaments, etc., are on the Ad building bulletin board and the Argonaut calendar.

However, there's the old killjoy in every party—you've heard of and known him, and here Jason maliciously offers a word of warning to the over-enthusiastic. Joining organizations is fine and a necessary part of complete college life—but in moderation. The "eager-beaver" activity seeker is of little use to any of the many organizations he participates in. Class work suffers, club members are indifferent and an exhausted wild-eyed student greets fellow U. students, himself too busy to enjoy the work he is attempting to do.

Concentrate your energy and interest on a few in which you can really shine. There are plenty of activities to go around. You'll be a better club member and have a better time!

HELLO, SOLDERS!

The campus this year seems different without the many familiar faces of last year's A. S. T. P. students, and the university paper is lacking a whole page of soldier news. But in the near future, Jason is looking forward to working with the new group on the campus. He has asked the present Army students to get back on the map and join in the college spirit as much as this war will permit. And, next week's Argonaut, Jason hopes, will contain a column from the reservists, painting their side of university life.

800 Students Register; 40 Veterans Enroll

Registration had reached 799 by the end of the third day, Tuesday, D. D. DuSault, registrar, reported yesterday. By Wednesday morning, it had passed the 800 mark, with indications that it will be much higher, since a number of registration credentials still are out, DuSault said. There were 831 at the end of the first week last year.

University To Add Three Members To Library Staff

Three new members have been added to the library staff this year it was announced Wednesday. Serving the students at the loan desk will be Miss Eleanor Walker, a graduate from Syracuse university in New York, where she worked in the public library. Miss Louise Laybourne, recently from the University of Iowa library, will be in charge of periodicals. In the catalogue and order department, is Miss Kathleen Dooley, who has had experience in the Los Angeles County public library and the Buffalo public library.

Continuing in their present positions will be Miss Peterson at the reference desk; Mrs. Kerr at the loan desk; and Miss Atkinson at the catalogue desk.

Hours during which the library will remain open are the same as last year. They are from 7:50 a.m. until noon, from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. Sunday hours are from 2:30 p.m. until 5 p.m.

Meeting Planned For Gem Staff

A meeting for anyone interested in working on either the editorial or business staff of the 1945 Gem of the Mountains will be held Wednesday at 12:30 p.m., at the Blue Bucket, according to Beverly Weber, editor.

Class pictures, which will be taken at Hutchinson's again this year, will begin to be taken next week. Pictures must be taken by November 1, and students must make an appointment for sittings within the next week.

Board Names Moore

Pren Moore, University of Idaho extension poultryman, was informed last week of his appointment as a member of the board of directors of the International Baby Chick association. He attended the association's recent Chicago convention.

Students Keep Gem Receipts

STUDENTS! It is extremely important that all Gem receipts be kept. If there should be any error in the Gem office, possession of this receipt will establish the fact that a Gem has been ordered and will show how much credit has been received.

If it should happen that the Gem records do not show a payment, the student could not expect credit unless he could produce his receipt, the business staff announced.

WELCOME

Freshmen: Welcome to the campus of the University of Idaho. Most of you have already registered for your year's work and have selected your living companions for the nine months to come. On behalf of the student body, I extend best wishes for your success both academically and socially.

Last summer marked the lowest ebb of Idaho's colorful career. From now on, the student body will grow, old traditions will return, and new ones will be born.

To you, class of 1948, is entrusted a large part of the building of a new Idaho. Conditions were never more ideal for preparing for this task by entering and becoming leaders in campus functions. You are urged to study Idaho, to take a part in her activities, and to help shape her destiny. In all these things, I wish you the greatest success.

FRED WATSON,
ASUI President.

Kerr Announces Date Of Awards Assembly

The annual awards assembly has been scheduled for Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the auditorium of the administration building. Dean T. S. Kerr, head of the public events committee, announced yesterday. At this assembly, awards for the previous year's work are made and scholarships announced.

Students Try Out For Vandaleers During This Week

Tryouts for Vandaleers were held in the music hall Wednesday, October 4, but there has been no definite outcome, Mr. A. A. Beecher announced. Unless there is an adequate number of male voices, Vandaleers will be discontinued.

There will be an addition to the musical activities this fall with the organization of an "All Singing Girls band." This group will consist of approximately 18 girls capable of both singing and playing some instrument. Special music has been written and arranged by the music faculty.

Arrangements are being made for an all university sing in the near future, with all students, and the army and navy participating. It will be held in the vacant lot east of the music hall around several large bonfires.

Music scholarships are again being offered this year. Those who are interested should call at the music hall and fill out the necessary blanks before 5 p.m. Friday, October 6. Seven scholarships are offered to students majoring in music and consist of a waiver of the fee for applied music. They are continuous for the year or semester in which they are granted and are awarded on the basis of ability, need and scholarship.

Bursar Announces Foundation Grant

The W. B. Kellogg foundation of Battle Creek, Mich., last fall made a grant of $4,000 to the University of Idaho for the purpose of assisting students enrolled for training in medical technology, the bursar's office has announced.

Of this fund $3,000 is to be used for loans to students taking such training, and $1,000 is to be used as a scholarship fund to assist them during the clinical period following their graduation from the university. Particulars may be secured from the heads of the departments of bacteriology and home economics or from the bursar's office of the university.

Jean Collette Sets Dramatic Tryouts

All university students interested in turning out for dramatics are asked to attend a meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in the auditorium, Miss Jean Collette, coach, has announced. First semester freshmen girls cannot try out, but any men may come. The tryouts are for both acting and stage work.

Churches to Hold Reception For Idaho Students

The churches of Moscow will open their doors to all college men and women Tuesday, October 10, for their annual reception. All students who expressed a church preference on their registration blank will receive an invitation to attend an evening meeting and social gathering at the church of their choice.

Under the direction of Dr. Otis Walters, the Presbyterian church will sponsor a dinner at 5:45 o'clock in the church basement. A social evening will follow. All Congregational and Presbyterian men and women are invited. The Guild Hall of the Episcopal church is the place announced for a meeting of all students of that preference. The evening of games and refreshments will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Information concerning the time and place of meeting for the other church groups can be obtained by contacting the pastor of the church, after Friday of this week.

Dean of women, Mrs. Lois Carter, announced that all freshmen women students who wish to attend these meetings will have 9:30 permission.

Teachers To Speak At Meeting

Two members of the home economics faculty, Miss Elsie Nielsen and Miss Lucille Magruder, will be speakers in the home economics division of the Idaho Education association meeting. Miss Nielsen and Miss Magruder will speak at the Lewiston division today and at the Coeur d'Alene meeting on Friday.

Miss Margaret Ritchie, head of the Idaho home economics department, will attend the Coeur d'Alene sessions.

Honorary To Plan Year's Activities

"Activities of the Mortar Board for the 1944-45 school year will be planned at a meeting Friday at 5 p.m. in the AWS office," Mary Mangum, president, announced Thursday.

Other officers are Jean Bruins, vice-president; Frances Freeman, secretary, and Frances Marshall, treasurer.

Members of this organization are chosen from the women of the junior class who have shown themselves to be outstanding in campus activities. Each year it sponsors numerous events, among which is the Spinster's Skip held in the spring. Eleven juniors were initiated into the organization at capping ceremonies held in May.

Mrs. Mangum asks that all officers bring their notebooks.

Guizar To Perform At Pullman

Tito Guizar and his fifteen-piece Pan-American orchestra will perform Monday, October 9 at 8 p.m. in the college men's gymnasium at Washington State college. The concert will be open to the public, but no seats will be reserved. Tito Guizar is a composer as well as musician and will make special arrangements of his own compositions for the program. Among his more popular numbers are "Ferryboat Serenade," "Chattanooga Choo Choo," and "Elmer's Tune." He has just finished the movie, "Brazil," and has a musical program over the Columbia Broadcasting system.

There are also several well-known musicians and dancers who will be on the program.

Honorary To Pledge Eligible Women

"So Little Time"

There is a popular song that most students have heard of recently entitled "So Little Time," and that is the reason for this editorial. With men returning from the armed forces to continue school, and with the number of civilian students who are taking hurried-up courses in order to advance their schooling before entering the armed services, there is little time for any activities except studying.

Each day will pass quickly for students at the University this year, and much must be accomplished day by day. Studying comes first, of course, and the library is open nearly every day and night for that purpose. Penalties will be imposed upon veterans for low grades, and failure to report to classes.

But, along with the dark side of college life in wartime, there are many activities open for students. Plays will be produced this year as in the past, and there will be many male parts to be filled. Sports will also take the limelight and fellows may participate in many sports activities.

Continuing the list of ways to kill that "So Little Time" are dances, parties and firesides. The Argonaut and Gem of the Mountains need men on their staffs and many positions will be open to them. In fact, there is so much that students can do to further the University and themselves by extra-curricular activities that it is needless to mention them all. Each student can easily make his place on the campus, and wartime is no time to fail.

Faculty Resolves To Plant Memorial Grove

A World War II memorial grove, one tree for each University of Idaho man who has given his life for his country, has been proposed by the university faculty as a companion to the memorial grove planted following World War I. Already there are a hundred gold stars on the service flag. Thirty-two trees were planted in the memorial grove for the first war.

At the first meeting of the 1944-45 year the university faculty endorsed the plan of the Latah county wildlife federation and the Idaho wildlife federation to have a mountain peak in the St. Joe river country of northern Idaho named in memory of the late Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, for a quarter of a century a member of the Idaho faculty and one of the university's most popular teachers. The faculty also proposed that the books in his department bearing his signature be assembled as a memorial library in his memory.

Resolutions also praised the contribution of W. L. Stephens of Blackfoot, for 19 years a member of the university agricultural extension service staff, and commended the establishment of a distinctive memorial in his memory by the agricultural and livestock leaders of the Inland Empire. Stephens was a leader in the development of 4-H club work in the northwest.

The faculty resolutions also declared that in the passing of Francis A. Schmidt, for three years Idaho's football coach, "American athletics as well as the University of Idaho suffered a severe loss."

Silver Leaf Graduate

George B. Whitlock, 24, of Twin Falls has recently been promoted from major to lieutenant colonel at the Eighth Air Force base in England. The youthful lieutenant colonel is the commanding officer of a B-17 Flying Fortress squadron.

Before entering the Eighth Air Force, Colonel Whitlock distinguished himself in action with the Ninth Air Force when it was attacking Rommel's supply lines during the African campaign in 1942. His group was cited by the President for stemming the flow of supplies to Rommel's troops in Africa.

He was cited personally for bringing down his B-24 Liberator on one wheel after the other had been torn off by the control cable of a barrage balloon during an attack on Tripoli. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster while serving with the Ninth Air Force in the Middle East.

Before entering the AAF in July, 1941, Colonel Whitlock was a student at the university where he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta.

W.A.A. Board Has First Meeting

Board members of the W.A.A. held their first meeting Wednesday, October 4, to decide on a general program for the year. It was decided that in the future, all board meetings would be held on Wednesdays at 5 p.m. The next meeting is scheduled for October 18th.

Soccer practices began Monday of this week, and will continue until November 9. The soccer tournament between classes and color teams will begin November 13 and end November 16. All university women are eligible to turn out for practice but must have at least eight practices to be eligible for team play. Under the direction of W.A.A. board members and physical education instructors, the practices will be held Monday to Friday at 4 on the soccer field, across from the women's gym. The women are asked to wear rubber-soled or tennis shoes.

A tennis tournament has been scheduled to start October 17. Sign-up sheets will be in the women's gym and on the Ad building bulletin board from October 5 to October 9.

Miss Neal Enlists In WAVES

The platoon will be entertained at the Fox Theater where they will be presented with corsages and gifts from various organizations, and will also be entertained wherever there is a play-over on their trip to New York. Yvonne is a member of Pi Beta Phi, W.A.A., Kappa Phi and the Home Economics club.

Frosh Tells First Impression Of University Life

By Roslyn Riddle
 Eighteen hours on a sooty, crowded train — gee, we were really getting off to a fine start! But the singing and gaiety on the university "special" put us in a happier mood as we neared the college town. (Moscow didn't seem so small as most had expected.) Those counselors were a welcome sight to our freshmen eyes.

Standing in line to pay fees took our spare time before we rushed off to the Pan-Hellenic tea. It's lucky everyone was tired! That way we didn't look quite so out of place in our wrinkled clothes. "My bags are bound to come tomorrow," we had to keep reassuring ourselves.

Some lucky people arrived early, taking first choice of the rooms in the halls. They were pretty unhappy, as were the late-comers, when five and six girls were crowded into a room for three. "This must be my dress, I had a blue one." "Who took my stockings?" "Which of your suits may I wear? My clothes still haven't come." Friendship, they say, is great, but privacy now and then might help to keep us from getting so homesick.

Rushing completed, we were pretty happy to settle down to our classes. All the stories said people skipped classes and slept

if they did attend. Maybe some of the rushees could relax, but the professors so fascinated us, we had to pay attention.
 "Oh, you poor kid, you really picked a hard prof." These upper-classmen are always trying to frighten us out.
 Everyone has the famous "hello" spirit. And the campus is so

Bless the Little Boys Dept. A little boy was saying his prayers in a very small voice. "I can't hear you, dear," his mother said.
 "Wasn't talking to you," the small boy replied.
 "Hell, yes," said the devil, picking up the phone.
 pretty! Idaho can't be beat for friendliness, and the homey atmosphere. Hurray for the Silver and Gold!

MULBERRY BUSH

With sliced throats and tired feet, we settle into the oblivion that is college life. Rushing is over. Hallajah! And, so we wonder on.

Wonder what some sweet young things are thinking about the goings-on at the Nest last week. Dave Wooters and Dave Stidolph were washing dishes. Tom Ryan was cooking (?), and another joker was waiting on the trade by trying to talk them into accepting food that was easy to fix. It was all done to relieve the shortage of help, but we wonder how many customers are frightened away from that morning cup of coffee.

Taking a quick peek at the new sorority pledges, the wolves will soon begin to howl at the Gamma Phi house for a Miss Taylor, at the Delta Gamma for a sweet Miss Williams, and don't forget Miss Jones at the Alpha Chi and that zoot blonde at the Alpha Phi. By the way, guess who's dating the latter for a fireside this weekend.

Get Clark Hopkins and other boys on the serenade Tuesday night to tell you how cute Lavonna Craggs looks on a balcony, and the Sigma Nus can be a little embarrassed when questioned about their big hero act Monday eve when they rescued three fair ladies from a sorely treated dog.

Rich Morse is back from the hills with his hair shorter and his smile broader. Billie Keeton still laughs like a cold motor, and Sam Moreland can wag her tonis through a Tri Delt song better than ever. Jerry Riddle remains as the Perpetual motion machine, and already talk is heard about "Club 46."

So long for now, but I'll be around again soon, so watch your step. Hope you dig me solid, cause this will be straight stop, and nothing icky.

“How’s YOUR Invasion Going?”

Theirs seems to be doing all right.

On June 6th, these young fellows tackled the biggest, toughest, most audacious military venture of all time—and they’re pulling it off.

But how’s our invasion going?

We’ve got one on our hands here in Moscow—just as much as any soldier.

The War Department has asked the American Red Cross for 100,000,000 surgical dressings a month! To meet this tremendous demand, more volunteer workers are needed.

Surgical Dressings is an exciting program; particularly, when you consider what dressings can mean to a wounded soldier, to an Army doctor, tired and overworked beyond belief... BUT when you sit at a table and fold gauze day after day, perhaps you don’t always remember the part your dressings will play in saving a man’s life. You forget... you are bored... your back gets tired... you think of the myriad tasks awaiting you at home... you wonder what your friends are talking about at the luncheon you turned down in order to come to the Red Cross work room at Fifth and Main street... and fold surgical dressings.

George B. Whitlock, 24, of Twin Falls has recently been promoted from major to lieutenant colonel at the Eighth Air Force base in England. The youthful lieutenant colonel is the commanding officer of a B-17 Flying Fortress squadron.

Before entering the Eighth Air Force, Colonel Whitlock distinguished himself in action with the Ninth Air Force when it was attacking Rommel's supply lines during the African campaign in 1942. His group was cited by the President for stemming the flow of supplies to Rommel's troops in Africa.

He was cited personally for bringing down his B-24 Liberator on one wheel after the other had been torn off by the control cable of a barrage balloon during an attack on Tripoli. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster while serving with the Ninth Air Force in the Middle East.

Before entering the AAF in July, 1941, Colonel Whitlock was a student at the university where he was affiliated with Phi Delta Theta.

Frosh Tells First Impression Of University Life

By Roslyn Riddle

Eighteen hours on a sooty, crowded train — gee, we were really getting off to a fine start! But the singing and gaiety on the university "special" put us in a happier mood as we neared the college town. (Moscow didn't seem so small as most had expected.) Those counselors were a welcome sight to our freshmen eyes.

Standing in line to pay fees took our spare time before we rushed off to the Pan-Hellenic tea. It's lucky everyone was tired! That way we didn't look quite so out of place in our wrinkled clothes. "My bags are bound to come tomorrow," we had to keep reassuring ourselves.

Some lucky people arrived early, taking first choice of the rooms in the halls. They were pretty unhappy, as were the late-comers, when five and six girls were crowded into a room for three. "This must be my dress, I had a blue one." "Who took my stockings?" "Which of your suits may I wear? My clothes still haven't come." Friendship, they say, is great, but privacy now and then might help to keep us from getting so homesick.

Rushing completed, we were pretty happy to settle down to our classes. All the stories said people skipped classes and slept

if they did attend. Maybe some of the rushees could relax, but the professors so fascinated us, we had to pay attention.

"Oh, you poor kid, you really picked a hard prof." These upper-classmen are always trying to frighten us out.

Everyone has the famous "hello" spirit. And the campus is so

Board members of the W.A.A. held their first meeting Wednesday, October 4, to decide on a general program for the year. It was decided that in the future, all board meetings would be held on Wednesdays at 5 p.m. The next meeting is scheduled for October 18th.

Soccer practices began Monday of this week, and will continue until November 9. The soccer tournament between classes and color teams will begin November 13 and end November 16. All university women are eligible to turn out for practice but must have at least eight practices to be eligible for team play. Under the direction of W.A.A. board members and physical education instructors, the practices will be held Monday to Friday at 4 on the soccer field, across from the women's gym. The women are asked to wear rubber-soled or tennis shoes.

A tennis tournament has been scheduled to start October 17. Sign-up sheets will be in the wo-

Miss Neal Enlists In WAVES

Yvonne Neal, the fourth Pi Phi from this campus to enter the service, enlisted in the WAVES on her 20th birthday. She will leave October 15 with a special Spokane WAVE platoon. The platoon will be entertained at the Fox Theater where they will be presented with corsages and gifts from various organizations, and will also be entertained wherever there is a lay-over on their trip to New York. ## MULBERRY BUSH

With sliced throats and tired feet, we settle into the oblivion that is college life. Rushing is over. Hallajah; And, so we wonder on.

Wonder what some sweet young things are thinking about the goings-on at the Nest last week. Dave Wooters and Dave Stidolph were washing dishes. Tom Ryan was cooking (?), and another joker was waiting on the trade by trying to talk them into accepting food that was easy to fix. It was all done to relieve the shortage of help, but we wonder how many customers are frightened away from that morning cup of coffee.

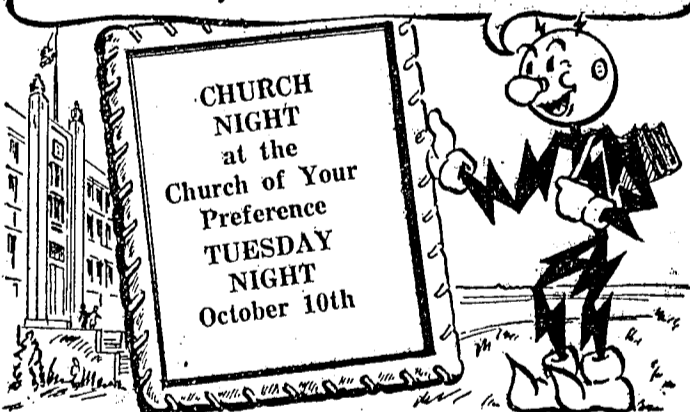

Taking a quick peek at the new sorority pledges, the wolves will soon begin to howl at the Gamma Phi house for a Miss Taylor, at the Delta Gamma for a sweet Miss Williams, and don't forget Miss Jones at the Alpha Chi and that zoot blonde at the Alpha Phi. By the way, guess who's dating the latter for a fireside this weekend.

Get Clark Hopkins and other boys on the serenade Tuesday night to tell you how cute Lavonna Craggs looks on a balcony, and the Sigma Nus can be a little embarrassed when questioned about their big hero act Monday eve when they rescued three fair ladies from a sorely treated dog.

Rich Morse is back from the hills with his hair shorter and his smile broader. Billie Kecton still laughs like a cold motor, and Sam Moreland can wag her tonists through a Tri Delt song better than ever. Jerry Riddle remains as the Perpetual motion machine, and already talk is heard about "Club 46."

So long for now, but I'll be around again soon, so watch your step. Hope you dig me solid, cause this will be straight slop, and nothing icky.

"Where Fashion's Last Words Are Spoken First!"

“How’s YOUR Invasion Going?”

Theirs seems to be doing all right.

On June 6th, these young fellows tackled the biggest, toughest, most audacious military venture of all time—and they’re pulling it off.

But how’s our invasion going?

We’ve got one on our hands here in Moscow—just as much as any soldier.

The War Department has asked the American Red Cross for 100,000,000 surgical dressings a month! To meet this tremendous demand, more volunteer workers are needed.

Surgical Dressings is an exciting program; particularly, when you consider what dressings can mean to a wounded soldier, to an Army doctor, tired and overworked beyond belief . . . BUT when you sit at a table and fold gauze day after day, perhaps you don’t always remember the part your dressings will play in saving a man’s life. You forget . . . you are bored . . . your back gets tired . . . you think of the myriad tasks awaiting you at home . . . you wonder what your friends are talking about at the luncheon you turned down in order to come to the Red Cross work room at Fifth and Main street . . . and fold surgical dressings.

SPORT SHORTS

By TOM RYAN

Coach Babe Brown, speaking as acting athletic director, says sports will continue for sports' sake. By putting loose ends together, the athletic department is going to field a team in every sport as they did last year. Cross country, basketball, baseball and track will be the headlines since these sports will carry the Idaho colors into competition with other collegiate teams on the coast. Coach Brown in his might not be the best teams conservative way said these Idaho ever turned out, but the important thing would be the fact that the Vandals were being represented in coast sports and the athletes were getting the benefit of competition.

Coach "Babe" Brown

Football Too!
And don't pack away your "I" caps or cords because old man football will be here this fall as usual. Before the fall winds are through fanning the gridiron the Idaho rah! rah! boys and girls will have the opportunity to exercise their lungs at the intramural games.

Company "B" of the ASTP already have 28 men in uniform and are holding regular practice sessions. Company "A" will draw their suits Monday. Babe Brown wants an Idaho team in this round-robin affair and encourages every athlete not already competing in some other sport to come around this week and draw out the moleskins. By starting now, a full schedule of four or five games can be played which would be as many games as are usually played at home during a regular playing season. Here again, Brown pointed out that the brand of football might not be too illuminating because of the short season but if football can be kept alive and the students have something to take up their spare time on Saturday afternoons it will be worth while.

Haegg Invited Here
Track fans of the Northwest who wondered how Gundr Haegg (or anyone else) could beat Gregg Rice last year might get the opportunity to find out before too many more weeks. With Haegg and Arne Anderson coming to Spokane to run in an exhibition race on Thanksgiving Day, Mike Ryan has been working overtime to bring them to Moscow to run in connection with a war bond drive.

The Swedish stars who specialize in breaking world records for distance races will make several appearances in Spokane and the Northwest in connection with the $5,000,000 war bond drive, and the annual physical fitness program sponsored by the Athletic Round Table.

It was Idaho's Mike Ryan who inaugurated the Northwest's physical fitness day three years ago on the theory that cross country was the basis of all physical conditioning. Now that it has become an established affair, Mike and the heads of the Athletic Round Table are going to broaden the program to take in all sports and make the Northwest's physical fitness day comparable to the Sugar Bowl classic held in New Orleans every New Year's day. The appearance of Haegg and Anderson is the first step in that direction.

Barton Gets Hit
Doc Barton, despite the handicap of his Rube Goldberg perambulator, manages to nudge par around the university links, and still follows the theory that form doesn't mean a thing if "you ain't got that swing." Last Sunday Doc proved the soundness of his philosophy by batting his pre-war pellet around to the tune of a neat 76 which is only three chips and a putt over par for the university course.

Ryan To Speak At District Educators' Meet

Coach Mike Ryan of the university athletic department will speak at Coeur d'Alene before the Idaho Educational association meeting Friday evening. The subject of his talk will be physical education in Idaho high schools.

Today Coach Ryan will go to Lewiston with Dean Weltzin of the school of education to attend a similar district meeting in that city.

Mr. Ryan has been trying to promote cross-country running in the Idaho high schools for the past couple of years and contends that it is the most natural and beneficial of all sports.

It was through the efforts of Mike Ryan that brought cross-country running to the Pacific coast and he is also the figurehead behind the annual physical fitness day in Spokane.

THE PHI BETTE WHO WENT AWAY
Once I met a Phi Bette. Was the smartest man I knew. Spent his time a-readin' books and things As cultured people do.

He said he's studied everything The mind of man evolved. And he'd never found a problem That he hadn't quickly solved. I haven't seen him lately. Heard he went away in shame, So I followed him to ask him What had undermined his fame. I found him as a hermit With a cave as his abode Readin' "Terry and the Pirates" And a-workin' on the code.

—J. W. S.
"How are you getting along at home while your wife's away?"
"Fine, I've reached the height of efficiency. I can put on my my socks from either end."
—Camp Wallace Trainer.

Idaho Harriers Will Compete For Varsity Awards

With cross country the first varsity sport to get under way this season, Mike Ryan is urging all men, whether they are experienced or not, to turn out and draw their uniforms now. The hill and dalers are beginning to shape up, and prospective candidates should plan to start their workouts, and allow sufficient time for the proper conditioning period, which is from two to three weeks.

Idaho's teams have led the coast year after year, and from the many gangling inexperienced athletes who have turned out, Mike Ryan has developed some of the nation's greatest distance men, notably Phil Liebowitz and Vic Dyrvall. This year's team can be as good as any, with scheduled races booked with Whitman for Walla Walla, and Moscow, the Pacific Coast Interscholarship championships at Spokane on Turkey day. Negotiations are under way for a meet with Gonzaga university, Geiger Army air field, and the Naval Radio training school team.

Those intending to participate in the track, and field meets next spring should plan to join the cross country team in its workouts, and also gain valuable pointers from Coach Ryan on their particular event. Varsity letters will be awarded to all athletes who turn out for cross country and meet the athletic department's requirements. If a sufficient amount of interest is shown by the athletically inclined students, an interclass track and field meet will be held before the cross country competition starts. Cross country is the most natural, and beneficial of all sports, and can be used as the basic conditioner for any sport.

SERVICE MAIL BAG

D. D. DuSault in the chemistry department, received a letter from Capt. John Robert Angell, Moscow, that he is getting acquainted with the "French underground" as he has been digging ever since he landed shortly after D-day and has seen France only from over his fox-hole.

An unusual story of two old friends meeting on a street in London for the first time since graduation in 1936 was written to Dr. F. W. Gail by Capt. John P. Decker, Moscow, and Lt. Morton A. Wood, Wilder. "We had a good old gabfest," said Lt. Wood and Capt. Decker.

"I" CLUB

Tentative plans for organization of the 1944-45 "I" club have been completed, and it is learned that J. A. 'Babe' Brown will act as advisor.

In order to establish a larger group for the duration of the war, those men who have won a minor "I" award will unite with the major letter winners. No meeting has been held yet, but the activities of the club will be much the same as in past years. Lettermen are asked to watch the Argonaut for date of the first meeting.

Student Golfers Swing Clubs For School Title

Word comes from Golf Professional Frank James that the university golf championships will be resumed this Sunday providing at least 16 entries are listed. There will be nine holes of medal play to determine positions, and there will also be 18 holes of match play. The winners will be put in the first flight while the losers will be stationed in flight two.

Those turning out for golf will find that the university course is in excellent condition, and that it is one of the finest in the state. Mr. James has taken great pride in keeping the course ready for just such a championship this fall. There is a strong possibility that this tournament may determine who will be playing for the university team this coming spring.

Every contestant will be charged 50 cents for registration fee for the purpose of buying prizes for each flight. Golfers may sign up with Tom Ryan or Darwin Brown at the Sigma Nu house today and tomorrow.

Those of you that still adorn these halls might do well to listen to the following advice from the Manitoba Slide Rule:

In search of some knowledge I entered in college, There were things that I wanted to know; So I took Engineering Without ever fearing That I'd not get a job with big dough.

I studied up geometry, Calc. and trigonometry, So I would be a success; But I met a House-Eccer, A sweet little necker, Who made of my plans quite a mess.

She was a trim little bit, And for hours I'd sit With that cute little kid on my lap; I never would study, I made her my hobby, And she—she made me her sap.

Then came December, Naught could I remember, I think that I failed every last; But my face rather paled When my torso it failed, When the doctor examined my chest. The Dean sent a letter To return my school sweater, And I bid all my comrades adieu; So closed was the door, And I'm off to the war, So let this be a lesson to you.

July reported a German prisoner. He was a P-51 Mustang fighter pilot.

'Greeks' Plan Social Events For Pledges This Week

With rush week officially ended many events have been planned in honor of the campus fraternity and sorority pledges. Firesides, exchanges and dinners are prominent features of the week.

Tuesday evening the Greek women's houses greeted their pledges with a formal dinner. The Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi fraternities serenaded these houses that evening as a welcoming party.

Among the men's houses to have firesides this week-end will be Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Nu, Sigma Chi, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternities.

The Gamma Phi Betas were guests at an exchange of the S. A. E.'s Wednesday evening. Phi Delta Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma are planning an exchange together for next Wednesday.

Guests at the Sigma Chi house this past week have been Fred Bagley, Bill Campbell and Oliver Mackey, members now in the service. Former Deltas who have been visiting are Harold Thomas and Manford Morris.

Miss Julia Sleight of Paris, Idaho, a junior in bacteriology, announced her engagement Friday to Ensign Spencer R. Shortridge of the U. S. Navy. Ensign Shortridge, a member of Delta Tau Delta, received his degree in electrical engineering in 1944 and is now stationed at Hollywood Beach, Fla., following his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Mrs. Roger Conrad of Wenatchee, Wash., was a guest at the Kappa Alpha Theta house over the weekend.
