WELCOME EDITORS

The University of Idaho in general and Jason in particular extends a hearty welcome to educators from all over the state who will meet on the campus this week end to discuss current problems in the educational field.

Problems of the Idaho educational setup and ways of improving it will occupy the major part of the program at the conference. Veterans of World War II will get special attention when representatives of the veterans' administration in Boise act as counselors to confer with veterans who may have special problems.

Students' buildings as well as state-owned facilities are open for the educators' use. May they have a pleasant stay on the University of Idaho campus!

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

Greeks versus Independents and vice versa will again be before the student body voters at the election of class officers to be held October 25. To date, the horizons on both fronts appear calm and collected. The age-old bickering within the United and Associated students' parties, respectively, has been less this year than for many a day on the U. of I. campus.

Back in the "good old days" the Independents had a sizable edge on the classics and took elections with landslide results. Last year, partly due to a decrease in enrollment which seemed to hit the Independents most, the Greeks came out on top, losing only two offices, senior presidency and vice presidency.

Election ballyhoo at Idaho has a history, which is too long and involved to be aired in this column. But recent history shows that in the fall of 1941, the Greeks swept all offices, with the exception of senior class positions, which were held by Independents.

Jason then blamed the Associated party for not organizing, especially the town voters. Going back a year further, in 1940, Theta Nu Epsilon, a group which had been active in campus politics for a number of years, failed to back candidates, hence died a natural death. Since then, Greeks, under the United Student party, and independents, under the Associated Students party, have been running their own campaigns.

With torchlight parades, party rallies and general ballyhoo out for the duration, U. of I. students settle down to a well-organized, quiet election again this year.

Officers chosen will be faced with the specific task of carrying on traditions. Last year, class activities were remodeled to fit war-time conditions, from war modifications of the year before. True, we still are at war. But this year, there is a glimmer of what may follow, a hope that events may pave the way for incoming class officers of the future, so that they may thrive on old Idaho customs.

And, the best way to get the officers who will carry on these traditions is to vote—each and every university student—in the elections October 25.

BOARD ON MERIT

The A.S.U.I. election board, formerly run by politicians, has come into its own and now is based on a merit system. It is made up of the 1 students getting the highest scores on an examination given by a committee which is headed by a representative of the executive board. The exam, to be given tonight, is open to all students in the university.

Magazine Pictures Former Student

Frank H. Peavey, formerly a civil engineering student at the University of Idaho, was pictured in the last issue of the "Em Kayan" engineering magazine, boarding an airliner on his way to Brazil, where he will be connected with an engineering project.

Mr. Peavey has just returned from Hawaii where he had been associated with the work of Pacific naval air bases.

While here at Idaho he achieved high honors in the school of civil engineering, and graduated in 1935. His home was originally in Twin Falls, Idaho.

AWS Council Plans November Party

Tentative plans for an all-university assembly and a play party for all women students were discussed at a meeting of the A. W. S. council Monday afternoon. According to Bette French, president, the play party will be held in November.

Re-elected to the office of president was Darwin Brown. Ken Chattin was named secretary, and Richard Nichols, treasurer. A discussion regarding the series of "pranks" between fraternal organizations resulted in an ultimatum that all "petty rivalry" stop immediately or the council will take action against the guilty parties, and penalties will be imposed. All articles taken from the individual houses were ordered returned immediately.

Weltzin Announces Program For Two-Day Conference

REMINDER

Students at the University of Idaho are responsible for the institution's regulations as printed in the catalog, D. D. Du Sault, registrar, reminded yesterday. He reported that several students failed to observe announcements that last Saturday was the deadline for change of study lists.

October 21 has been designated as the final date for the removal of incomplete grades received the last time a student was in attendance at the university, the registrar pointed out. "If a student can't remove the incomplete by this time, he should seek to get an extension of time from his instructor," he said.

The registrar reminds seniors that they should check up on graduation requirements with their deans.

Parties Reveal Candidates; Elections To Be October 25

RALLY

Led by white-uniformed Spurs, university students will assemble Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. to send off the football game between Company B and the university team, which begins at 2 p.m. Making arrangements for the rally is Julein Paulson, president of the student activities board.

To be featured as half-time entertainment during the game Saturday, October 28, is the annual Sadie Hawkins race. Each living group on the campus will select two L'il Abners or Daisy Maes to compete. The SAB hints that there will be a mixer that night, but plans are as yet tentative.

Golfers Will Meet For Final Play In Golf Tourney

With the end of the second week's play university golfers have, in most cases, swung their way into the second round of the all-university tourney. Some of the more ambitious divot diggers have already gone through the third round and are waiting for the others to catch up.

In the first flight for the women's golf championship Betty Ann Craggs is leading by virtue of beating Clara Pointner and Arline Durkopp. Other winners in the women's division were Vera Anderson, Helen Howard, Larry Leining, Phyllis Wells, Jackie Richie and Barbara Suteiff.

First and second flights have been established in the men's division as result of this week's play. Winners in the first round establishing the first flight were: Tom Ryan, Darwin Brown, Phil Eastman, Jack Anderson, Sumner Johnson, Byron Anderson, Lenny Pyne and Cecil Saunders. In the second flight Jim Pieroni is waiting to play the winner of the Bob Davis-Ray Dills match. Winner of this match will play Bud Oylear for the championship of the second flight.

Fred Keiper took his match in the third flight from Bill Carbaugh on default due to a hunting accident sustained by Carbaugh. Other winners were: Bert Dingle, Ron Walker and Pete Rowell.

Winner of the match pending between Tom Ryan and Darwin Brown will determine who plays Jack Anderson in the semi-finals of the first flight. Either of the "Micks" might well come up for the University championship against Byron Anderson who won his semi-final match from Lenny Pyne in twelve holes. Pyne's first match went into extra holes too when he and Cecil Saunders had to go further than the prescribed nine holes.

Journalist Speaks To Students About Far East

We have to learn a three-way approach in the Far Eastern situation, Miss Vanya Oakes, prominent woman journalist, told university students at the first paid assembly of the year Monday. She pointed out that psychologically, we cannot think of Asia with a superiority complex, that we must do away with the imperialistic idea of profits and that politically, we must not force democracy on the rest of the world, even though we are partial to it ourselves.

Miss Oakes pointed out characteristic differences of the various nationalities in the Far East and contrasted their customs and beliefs with those of Americans. "They want to know our stand and they want us to stick to our word," the journalist reported. "What we do in this country is of tremendous importance to the Asiatics," she said.

The woman traveler recently completed a 50,000 mile trek through the Orient and into Russia. Her trip took in Malaya, the Dutch East Indies, Tibet, Burma, Thailand, China and the "fabled northwest route" to Moscow and back again to Chungking, Hong Kong, Singapore and the Philippines. Miss Oakes highlighted her speech with personal experiences gained on this trip.

Dept. Head Leaves

Miss Margaret Ritchie, head of the home economics department, is leaving today for Chicago to attend a meeting of the American Dietetic association. The meetings will be held from October 23 to 27 at the Palmer House Hotel. While there, Miss Ritchie expects to see many Idaho graduates, who are now training as dieticians in various parts of the country.

Board Discusses University's Building Needs

President Harrison C. Dale reported on his return from a meeting of the Idaho State Planning Board in Boise last week end that the group discussed building needs of the university in the post-war period. He was accompanied by Judge W. F. McNaughton and J. L. McCarthy, members of the board of regents.

Needs presented to the board for consideration included a woman's building, engineering building, the construction of an armory-field house, forestry-mining building, agricultural building and a campus approach to the North and South highway by building a road from Blake avenue, between the Gamma Phi Beta house and Forney hall, east through the forestry nursery to the present highway.

No action was taken by the board and the university is awaiting its recommendation, the president reported.

President Dale leaves today for Chicago, where he will attend a meeting of the Association of Land-Grant colleges, at which one of the main topics of discussion will be veterans' education. He expects to be gone 10 days.

The election board chairman and vice chairman will be chosen from those having the highest grades in the examination.

In charge of the examination is Reed Fife, assisted by Mary Jane Hawley and Frances Marshall.

Registrar Reports Pacific Meeting

D. D. DuSault, university registrar, reports that institutions of higher learning in the Pacific area are working out a program of uniform entrance requirements for World War II veterans. He attended a committee meeting of the Northwest section of Pacific Coast Collegiate Registrars in Portland last week end, where, he said, representatives from universities, state colleges, normal schools, junior colleges and denominational schools outlined a working procedure for giving credits.

The Pacific Coast group will meet in two weeks in the Bay region for the same purpose, so that requirements in the whole Pacific area will be on the same basis, DuSault said.

Vandal Vandalism

The war is on again. What used to be a private fracas between the Sigma Chi freshmen and the first-year gals at the Kappa house, has, this year, become a university pastime. In the old days we saw the Sigma Chis creep up to the Kappa house and swipe the benches which adorn the front porch, leaving the misses with an ultimatum if they wished to get their beloved pillions home again.

Now the feline is out of the burlap; the possibilities are wonderful! Any evening you might come home to find that some group has relieved your house of lamps, trophies, pictures, furniture and other accessories. Yes, they are even going in for bed clothing this year!

Latest reports have it that university officials, and many of the unfortunates who have suffered bodily injury, fail to see the humor in the thing. In fact, an extra patrolman has been put on duty to discourage further vandalism on the part of the ambitious groups who have been ransacking the group houses and staging "mixed" brawls every evening.

The intrafraternity council has issued an ultimatum that all such activity stop and all "borrowed" property be returned before it is necessary to take more drastic steps. The houses themselves are asking for this protection and it would be to the best interest of all if there were no thoughts of "getting even" or of getting in the last blow.

With the exception of one young lady getting knocked unconscious and a few bruised shins there have been no serious injuries. However, if this activity continues university officials and members of the intrafraternity council can see nothing but a bad end. Let's call it off before someone gets hurt.

Musicians Sponsor University Sing

An all university sing sponsored by Sigma Alpha Iota and Phi Mu Alpha will be held Friday night, Oct. 20, in the arboretum at the council fire from seven to eight. The Army and Navy units have been invited and a large attendance is expected. There will be an accordion accompanist for the sing. Since many houses have scheduled exchanges and firesides for Friday evening, the time has been arranged so there will be no conflict.

Plans are now being made for the annual reception for new music students by Sigma Alpha Iota. Last Monday night's meeting held at Forney Hall was the first of a series of new types of meetings. A workshop meeting was held Monday with several members performing for the group. Mrs. Jacoby and Doris Snodgrass, local alumnae, were guests. In the future, faculty lecture-record programs, current event, and lecture meetings will be held.

Kappa Alpha Thetas are entertaining at a reception for Mrs. Harry Balley Sunday afternoon. Last Sunday the Tri Deltis gave a picnic in honor of their pledges. The trip to Moscow Mountain and afternoon of recreation were enjoyed by all.

Saturday afternoon the members of Alpha Chi Omega had a bike picnic for their pledges. Their destination was the Elk's Country club.

Women To Sponsor Picnic On Friday

The women's "I" club will sponsor a picnic for all women students Friday afternoon, October 20, from 3:30 to 5:30, at the recreation park. The women will play softball, horseshoes and other games. Each person planning to attend should pay 10 cents to her house representative to cover the cost of refreshments.

At the "I" club meeting Monday night members discussed plans for an overnight trip. This annual excursion will be made soon.

Same beachhead scene. Same — except today there are no screaming bombs, no burning tanks, no convulsive shells tearing big holes in the ground. Same scene, but today the guys up there on the beach put on the show.

They're ready for Act II. They've pushed the enemy back a few miles. Here comes Act. II. Here comes the U. S. O. Camp Show!

Our guys need this show. They need it desperately, like starving men need food. For an hour or two they'll go back to America . . . back to Broadway, Hollywood, Main Street . . . back a thousand miles from this beachhead. They need to laugh, to forget.

They need it, understand?

Thanks to the folks back home, U. S. O. Camp Show units have played in every combat zone, often immediately behind the front lines. More than 90 units are playing the "Foxhole," more than 80 units appear regularly at camps and hospitals in the western hemisphere.

It costs money to operate the world's biggest theatrical circuit. Even though most stage and screen stars donate their services without charge, it still costs a lot of money to send hundreds of other performers. Every cent must come from part of the money you give to your local community drive.

Your gift helps your neighbors at home, too! Local services supported by this one drive include family and child welfare work, hospital and clinical projects, settlement work, maternity care of wives of servicemen, and care for children of war workers.

Give once for all these. There are many war needs to cover. Give now—at least a day's pay. Give all you can!

SPORT SHORTS

By TOM RYAN

It is with deep pride that I write today's personality sketch of Mike Ryan. The policy of the sports page has been to give the big play to the varsity sport currently in season and cross-country is it with Mike at the helm.

Versatile

It's not every school that can boast a three-time all-American athlete, a two-time Olympic competitor and a mentor who has coached on five Olympic teams as a member of their coaching staff, but the University of Idaho can point to Mike Ryan with unreserved pride.

No Softie

Back in the days when a runner wasn't considered an athlete unless he entered the distance races of 20 miles or more, Mike blazed his way into the athletic "hall of fame" as one of the greatest marathon runners the world had ever seen. Under his thundering feet, five world records fell, the record for the Boston marathon was lowered, all of the American races over twenty miles were lowered and some of the Canadian records were smashed by the Irish-American star. One Canadian record still stands in Mike's name. In 1910 Ryan won the Canadian championships and was sent to the English Empire championships the following summer to represent Canada.

MIKE RYAN

Olympic Star
Mike's Olympic career started in 1908 when he carried the American colors to London for the games. The years 1910, '11 and '12 saw him as a member of the All-American teams which toured the United States and Europe. In 1912 he won the Boston marathon and was again selected to represent the USA in the Olympic games, this time in Stockholm. The 1916 games to have been held in Berlin were called off because of the first World War, and Mike's career as an Olympic competitor was over.

Coach

With the resumption of the games the Idaho coach went to Rome, Antwerp, Paris, Amsterdam and Los Angeles as coach of the American distance runners.

Since going into the coaching business, Mike has served at Bates and Colby colleges in Maine, was trainer for the Boston Redskins professional football team and for the last nine years at the helm of the Idaho track and training departments. His proteges in these schools have been among the outstanding athletes of the last quarter century.

At Idaho, for example, his teams have broken all but three existing track records; these being the 100-yard dash, the 220 and the relay. Many of Mike's thin-clads from the Gem state have gained national and international recognition for their efforts in the puff-and-pant sport. Foremost among these are Phil Leibowitz who ran the fastest outdoor mile in the world in 1941, Bill O'Neill who was being considered for a berth on the 1936 Olympic team which was interrupted by the war, Al Fletcher who took second in the high jump at the 1941 national meet, Don Johnson one of the best weight men in the country for three years and Pacific coast champion, and many others, who have brought Idaho coast championships.

Promoter

Mike introduced cross-country running to the Pacific coast and is the promoter behind the annual physical fitness day held in Spokane each Thanksgiving day. His cross-country teams have won six coast championships and three second places in the last nine years. It was Coach Ryan who started the Inland Empire meet for the high schools of this area which has now become an annual affair with some 50 schools and up to 300 athletes competing.

Mike's long athletic career has seen him entertained by presidents, royalty, generals and statesmen who, in some cases, have become personal friends of the genial Irishman.

Entertained By Teddy

Mike was entertained more than once at Teddy Roosevelt's Oyster Bay home and it was Mike who headed the Sportsmen's campaign for Roosevelt in the 1912 elections. He was a guest of Al Smith's at the 1925 governors' convention held at Poland Springs, Maine. While in Rome, Mike had an interview with Pope Pius X and was a witness to the unveiling of the Garibaldi memorial.

Knows Generals

High ranking military friends of Ryan's are General Patten, General MacArthur and Admiral Train. Patten was a decathlon competitor in the 1912 Olympics and Train competed in the 1924 games. General MacArthur was the president of the 1928 Olympic committee and even today Mike wears a charm on his watch chain given to him by the four-star general.

Extra Duties

In addition to his duties as track coach and trainer, Ryan manages to carry on correspondence with around 300 servicemen, from generals to buck privates. Along with his letters he sends the servicemen campus bulletins, papers and clippings which contain news of them and their former classmates. In fact, he has sort of an information bureau of his own which has developed in lieu of his correspondence. Servicemen from all over the world are writing to Mike to find the whereabouts of some former buddy and Mike can usually give them that information.

Five Sons Serve

Mike has had five of his own sons in the service, three of whom know only too well that they play for keeps on the other side. It was writing to his own sons that started Mike on his campaign to furnish news to all the boys overseas who sought it from him.

First Love

Most of Mike's time nowadays is devoted to his cross-country team which he hopes will be able to win back the Pacific coast championship taken by the University of British Columbia last year. Knowing Mike convinces us that it is going to be no cinch for the Canadians to retain the title.

Company A Starts Football Season With Easy Victory

By LEN PYNE

Company A took Company B to the tune of 24 to 6 Saturday in the first game of the current season at Neal stadium despite the disadvantage of only a week's practice.

Fullback Marvin Carr and left half Dixie Basile were the big guns for the A company taking credit for the long runs and three of the touchdowns made by the underdogs. Dean Barth is credited with the other tally.

Carr opened the scoring march on the second play of the game with a 62 yard sprint and added another just three minutes later, making it look as though Company A was cut to get it all over in the first period. Basile took over at that point and set up the next touchdown for Barth with some fancy long running.

Company B tightened in the second quarter and offered a few crowd thrillers themselves, but both teams went scoreless. In the third period B continued to improve and finally shook substitute Harry Lang loose for a 61 yard "tight-rope" dash down the side line and B's only score.

This coming Saturday will bring the first Idaho team to the gridiron since 1942 when the Vandal

Honorary Initiates Bette French

Mortar Board held initiation Friday, October 13, for Miss Bette French at the Alpha Phi house. After the ceremony a banquet was held at the Moscow Hotel for the members and advisors. Dean Louise Carter and Miss Jean Colette.

Following the banquet, Mary Magnum, president, showed colored moving pictures taken last year of the May Fete, and tapping of Mortar Board members.

"Civies" meet Company B in the second game of the current series.

Coach J. A. "Babe" Brown and assistant John Cermack have been working overtime to get the undermanned Idaho team into playing shape for the first game. Brown said the "civies" never have enough out for a full practice so they can't be expected to play a pre-war brand of ball. He hesitated to add that they might surprise even the most sceptical.

It is to Idaho's credit that she is the only college in the northwest fielding an all-civilian team. Other teams in the conference are manned by servicemen and playing regular schedules or have dropped the sport for the duration.

In early workouts stocky Ed Bybee has shown potential ability as a ball carrier and "Tiny" Frank Viro (235 lbs.) at tackle looks as if he were capable of opening big holes in the opposing lines.

Furlough Fun Ends For Army Men

(Editor's Note: The following information was gathered by Army reporters and is a sample of what may develop into an issue, so that servicemen on the Idaho campus will have a closer tie-in with the student body by presenting their views.)

October 9 marked the reluctant return of the ERC and pre-professional students who were awarded furloughs over two weeks ago. Advanced students and several of the men studying pre-dentistry, however, were sent to other universities to continue their work. Those who did return, though, had many tales to spin concerning the hours they spent during their eight day vacations.

Many of the men were able to hitch-hike by army transport to their homes, and several took this chance to hunt elk and deer in nearby country. Walter Harding, though, was industrious enough to work in a Moscow store after spending the first week end in Spokane.

An unhappy end came to Bob Bennett's furlough when he returned to the campus three days late. Bob was seen doing fatigue duty for two days as a result.

After the excitement that prevailed at the Co. A, Co. B game last Saturday we're sure that you won't want to miss the battle between Co. B and the university team this Saturday in Neale stadium. The arm-chair coaches predict a close contest, although the university team has a heavier line. On the other side of the fence we have the added weight of C. D. Brown, who was unable to participate in last week's game. It looks close and should be a good game, so let's come out and show our teams we're really behind them!
