ANCHORS AWEIGH

It's goodbye and goodbye again—not a broken record but rather a little off the record farewell to those boys in blue who have for almost two years been living at Willis street, and who have become a regular part of campus life. It's been the Navy band that has played for our dances, Navy men who have taken our women to those dances, and Navy men who almost knock us off the sidewalk in their rush to make the best of their short liberties. They have helped form some of the best of campus life, though occasionally a little not so good.

But before all of you Navy men leave, take a little time out to read a few words concerning our appreciation for your activity and cooperation with campus functions. For when you do weigh anchor, you'll take a definite part of Idaho with you.

White Passing Posies

In dishing out a few more posies, we'll toss a big one to the sophomores for their plans for the traditional Holly week. It's a big job, as everyone knows, but it's well worth the efforts. Also, with another glance to future events, we're still awaiting the confirmation concerning plans for a bigger and better Senior Ball.

Sounding the gong as a prelude to Thanksgiving holidays, last week the dramatics department staged "Lady Precious Stream." We'd like to say that, while much credit goes to Miss Collette and the principals of the cast, our real orchids go to those many students in the minor roles—those with only a couple or three lines but having to suffer the grilling, tiring on-stage act continually. They stood to gain little personally but it was in a large way due to their cooperation that the staging was so successful.

Let's Have More

And what was the effect and result of the music clinic? The music department claims are that it well served its purpose in the musical field. Now let's consider its relation to the campus. It has been stated by the university officials that hopes are entertained to make it an annual affair. If this be so, it will mean that not just these students will get to give the campus the once-over, but that in years to come, more and more prospective students will look to this trip as a possible means of appraisal. There is certainly no better way to publicize Idaho.

Therefore, since this clinic was pronounced a success, why not extend it to other fields of study? The athletic department has for several years held field days with favorable results. The same can be said of the Home Economics department. If it can be successfully accomplished by these two departments, with a little activity and planning, other departments can present their work and talents throughout the state. It is certainly true that the university needs a little pushing and good-will to combat its antagonists scattered in the various towns of the state. We can't expect our school to grow unless we work and help it along.

Swindler Releases Idaho Directory

"High School and College Newspaper Directory of Idaho, 1944-45" has just been compiled and published by the department of journalism of the university, Dr. William F. Swindler, head of the department, announced this week. The directory contains names of student publications, editors and advertising managers, circulation data and advertising rates for more than 125 high schools and colleges in the state which issue newspapers or yearbooks. This is believed to be one of the first compilations of the kind published anywhere in the country.

Another publication of the department of journalism to be released early in December is Bulletin No. 2 in the service bulletin series to the newspapers of the state, inaugurated by the department last summer. The current bulletin is on the subject, "Legal Advertising Rates of the 48 States." Some of the statistical compilations for the study were done by students in the class in law of the press as part of their applied work, Dr. Swindler said.

The first bulletin in the series, published last July, was on "the subject, 'The Weekly Newspaper and the Editorial.'" Part of the material for this bulletin was gathered last winter by the class in editorial writing.

Sophomores Schedule Active Week December 3-9

Walla Walla Holds Debate Tournay

Walla Walla will be the scene of a triangular debate between the University of Idaho, Whitman college and Washington State college, November 8 and 9. A team of eight women from the university will be selected to enter this tourney.

The question for the debate will be the national college subject, "Resolve: that the federal government should enact legislation providing for compulsory arbitration in labor disputes." The team will be selected from the following women, announced A. E. Witthead, debate advisor: Frances Freeman, Joyce McMahon, Elaine Anderson, Betty Jo Young, Marjorie Balch, Frances Rhea, Joanne Smith, Shirley Brant, Geneva Ferguson, Geraldine Merrill and Ada Mae Rich.

Women To Debate Final Round Monday Evening

Monday night will mark the close of women's intra-mural debate when the teams from Gamma Phi Beta and Forney hall meet. These same teams met last Monday night resulting in success for Forney hall. Since both teams now have one loss, a final contest must be held to determine the winner in this double elimination tourney.

Members of the two competing teams are: Forney hall, Geraldine Merrill and Margaret Arnold; and Gamma Phi Beta, Shirley Brant and Geneva Ferguson. The question debated is: "Resolved: that the federal government should enact legislation providing for compulsory arbitration in labor disputes." Judges have been members of the university faculty. Monday night there will be three judges as contrasted with the one for the preceding debates.

This is the second time the Gamma Phi Betas and Forney hall has competed in the finals of this annual debate meet, the first time being in 1942 which resulted in Forney hall's victory.

Idahoans Attend WSC Conference

Eight members of the University of Idaho faculty attended the Conference of Arts and Sciences held at Washington State college last weekend. Harrison C. Dale, president of the university; Walter H. Steffens, assistant professor of zoology; Frederick C. Church, head of the European history department; Donald D. DuSault, registrar; D. S. Jeffers, dean of the school of forestry; John H. Cushman, head of the English department; George L. Luke, assistant professor of physics; and T. S. Kerr, dean of the college of letters and science, represented the University of Idaho. Discussions centered about curriculum in both arts and sciences with emphasis on feasibility of extending the use of synthesized courses, general non-technical courses designed to give non-majors a basic understanding of a broad field. Another conference of this type will be held next year at Reed college in Portland, Ore., Dean Kerr announced.

Musicians Sponsor Clarinet Concert

Lee Gibson, clarinetist and a former member of the University of Idaho, music department faculty, presented a concert in the university auditorium last night, sponsored by the Moscow Music club and presented by the music department.

Mr. Gibson was accompanied by Ruth Swan, pianist, and a string quartet composed of Glenn Swan, violinist; Ruth Gibson, violinist; William Bailey, violinist; and Miriam Little, violoncellist. Mr. Gibson is now instructing in the naval radio training school at Moscow.

School Receives Unusual Football Films of Ex-Coach

Idaho's department of athletics received a final gift from Francis A. Schmidt when Mrs. Schmidt, wife of the late football coach, gave the school his collection of football films. In addition to the film was a 35 mm. projector with which to show the scenes from recent important football games of nation-wide fame.

During his lifetime Coach Schmidt, Idaho's last pre-war football leader, made a personal collection of the movies. They include pictures from the greatest games of the past on this and other campuses.

Ted Sherman, graduate manager, announced the gift would be used for general school activities and publicity. He added that they would be used primarily by the athletic groups on the campus.

Before his recent and unexpected death in Spokane, Schmidt was a member of the Idaho faculty. He topped a brilliant college football career as coach for the Vandals and succeeded in leading the Idaho team to victories. His death was mourned in athletic circles throughout the nation.

Engineers Concoct Annual Whing-ding

Associated engineers plan to hold their annual ball December 2 from 9 p. m. to 12 in the student union ballroom. Howard Kamitsch, president of the associated engineers and general chairman of the ball, announced today. Tickets are on sale now in all men's group houses.

For "security reasons," engineers prefer to keep the theme of the dance a secret. Usual displays of engineering magic will be included in the decorations. Committees for the semi-formal dance are: Bill Abbott, music; Gerald Eide, decorations; Joe Doss, entertainment.

First Comedy Captivates University Audiences

By FRANCES RHEA

Displaying a winning combination of humor, clever interpretation, and unusual stage effects, the ASUI production, "Lady Precious Stream," opened the dramatic season with highly successful comedy. Under the direction of Miss Jean Collette, the play found instant appeal for the large audiences which attended the performances November 17 and 18 in the university auditorium.

Lacking the usual aid of formal properties, the cast nevertheless succeeded in making the play, a typical Chinese drama, vivid and realistic. Spectacular lightning effects changed with the mood of the scenes and gradually dimmed as a dramatic ending for each act. Outstanding Actors

Taking one of the lead roles as Precious Stream, Joanne Hunter made the personality of the Chinese beauty live for the audience. Ralph Joslyn, taking the co-lead as Hsien Ping Kieu, gave an honest portrayal of the ambitious and intelligent poet-gardener who won wealth for his bride in the western

Sigma Chi Will Choose Sweetheart For 1944

To be eligible for Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, candidates must be freshmen women not related to members of Sigma Chi and must not be engaged, married or "pinned." Ken Chatten, president of Sigma Chi, announced in disclosing plans for the forthcoming sweetheart contest which will begin Monday. Rules of eligibility for candidates were presented to women's group houses today, and Chatten requests that names of the contestants be reported to Sigma Chi before Monday noon.

WSSF Drive Opens With Address By Mary Robe

Miss Mary Robe, traveling secretary of the World Student Service Fund, will speak to administrative faculty heads at the university, beginning November 30, on the benefits of the W.S.S.F. and will present the plans for the next year at this first meeting.

The drive to collect money for the fund will be officially opened December 8 and will be under the sponsorship of the Inter-church council. The close cooperation of all students will be necessary to make this drive successful, Dorothy Cowin, chairman of the drive, stated. Her assistants will be Phyllis Wells and Marjorie Aeschliman.

The purpose of this widespread organization for youth is to bring more advantages to the individual student and to assist those who need financial help for college work.

Miss Robe is scheduled to speak before the Inter-church council and student advisors during the first week of December. She will explain the main functions of the organization and its various activities as well as point out the manner in which the group is financed and the benefits derived by each student. The World Student Service Fund exists for each student and annually is aiding more college students to progress with their education.

Engineers Receive Library Gift

Idaho's college of engineering received an important gift recently when the university was chosen as one of the institutions in which the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation will establish a library. Serving as a nucleus for the collection, the foundation has donated $100 for the purchase of a group of books. A number of new books have been added recently, and the foundation expects to maintain a modern reference library which will cover acetylene welding, electric arc welding and related fields.

The Lincoln Foundation has also made three periodicals available to university students. The Journal of the American Welding Society, The Welding Engineer, and Industry and Welding. Located in the engineering reading room, the collection is available to interested persons.

Faculty Plays Host To State Guests

The University of Idaho will be host to those attending the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce meetings Monday and Tuesday at a luncheon Monday at Hays hall, President Harrison C. Dale reported. This luncheon is a biennial event, the president said. Governor C. A. Bottolfsen and Governor-elect Charles C. Gossett have been invited as special guests.

Orators To Meet At U. of I. For Tournament

Pacific forensic league activities will be carried on at the University of Idaho, following a recent selection of the meeting place, announced A. E. Witthead, Tuesday. Each of the 12 schools represented will send two men students and one faculty member for the meet to be held in the first part of April.

These representatives will compete in four different contests— oratorical, extemporaneous, after-dinner speaking, and round table discussions.

Idaho Host Twice

This will be the second time Idaho has been host to this group—first time being in 1928, the year the league was founded, when Herbert Wunderlich handled the Idaho forensic group. No meet was held last year but a majority of the group agreed to assemble this year.

In 1943 a meeting was held at the University of Southern California. At that time, Idaho was represented by Mitchell Hunt, who was awarded first place in the after-dinner speaking division and Milton George, who was a member of a panel of four who broadcast a round-table discussion over the Mutual network.

Members of the league include Stanford University, Whitman College, the University of Southern California, University of Idaho, Pomona College, University of Washington, University of Nevada, University of Oregon, College of the Pacific and University of California.

Council To Award Fellowships And Grants-In-Aid

Announcement has been made by the social science research council of the fellowships and grants-in-aid to be awarded for the academic year of 1945-1946.

Post-doctoral research training fellowships are open to men and women of the United States and Canada who have already received their Ph.D. degrees or equivalents. The primary purpose of these fellowships is to broaden the research training and equipment of young social scientists, not for the completion of research projects or doctoral dissertations.

Grants-in-aid of research are available to scholars whose capacity for research has been demonstrated by published works. These grants are not open to candidates for a degree, being offered primarily for assistance to members of the staffs of institutions which are unable to provide adequate funds for social science research and to aid in completing rather than initiating projects.

Pre-doctoral field fellowships are open to candidates for the Ph.D. degree who will have completed by the end of the 1945 academic year all courses and examinations for which they are eligible before completion of the thesis.

Demobilization awards are being offered to promising members of the armed forces whose careers in social science have been seriously disrupted by the war. These awards are for the support of either training or research projects.

Detailed information concerning these fellowships and grants may be obtained by contacting Laura Barrett, 230 Park Avenue, New York 17. Closing dates for applications are February 1 for the post-doctoral research training and pre-doctoral field fellowships and January 15 for the grants-in-aid of research.

Ag Leader Visits Dean Iddings

To discuss post-war plans for agriculture economist for the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Washington, D. C., is visiting E. J. Iddings, dean of the college of agriculture, this week.

Mr. Willard and Dean Iddings will discuss, besides Idaho's post-war plans in reference to agriculture, the relation of Idaho agriculture to national policies of food production, international trade and the relief requirements of post-war Europe.

How returning war veterans may find a place in agriculture, how Idaho can make use of the surplus commodities developed by war which might be of assistance to agriculture and how Idaho will dispose of the land which was taken over by the government for war emergencies are other problems under consideration.

Councils Consider Greek Relations

A joint meeting of the Interfraternity council and the Panhellenic council will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the A.W.S. office, Darwin Brown and Elaine Thomas, council presidents, announced.

Plans will be discussed for group house Christmas decorations and proposed pledge councils along with other business concerning Greek relations. It is asked that all members of these two councils attend.

'I' Club To Renew Former Customs

Plans were discussed in regards to the coming "I" club dance and choosing the "I" club queen in a meeting of the club last night at the Sigma Nu house.

An "I" club organization of the past era ruled that only seniors and their girls should sit on the senior bench. This custom of the club will be enforced during the coming year.

Arrangements are being made for the initiation of any new members during the 1944-45 school year.

'Snow Stars' And Serenade To Highlight Holly Season

Co-chairmen for the annual sophomore Holly week will be Eileen Quinn and Will Defenbach, Betty Ann Craggs, sophomore class president, announced yesterday. The week will open with a serenade on Sunday, December 3, and culminate with the semi-formal Holly dance to be held Saturday, December 9, with "Snow Stars" as the general theme. An evening assembly displaying sophomore talent will be presented December 8.

IRC Selects Topic For Program Friday Evening

This Friday, November 24, the International Relations club will present a March of Time movie on Canada. These movies are sound movies especially prepared for discussion groups. A charge of ten cents will necessarily be levied to allow for costs of presentation.

Following the movie, the audience will take part in a discussion on some of the following questions: "How is Canada related to Britain and the rest of the Commonwealth, and how does her position differ, for example, from India's?"

How do Canadians feel about Canada's position in international affairs? How is their attitude toward a world organization and toward the rights of small nations affected by their position in the Western Hemisphere and in the British Empire?"

Dr. Boyd Martin and Mr. Robert Hosack of the Political Science department will discuss the current events of the past week. The meeting will be held at the old Student Union ballroom at 7:30 p. m. Everyone is invited to come.

Musicians Acclaim Successful Clinic

Sponsored by the music department, the band clinic held last Friday and Saturday was reported received with genuine enthusiasm by those attending. Representation from many high schools throughout Idaho and surrounding states accounted for the success of this newly inaugurated plan. Because of the interest shown for the clinic, President Harrison C. Dale has expressed a sincere wish that it will become an annual event.

Next year, it is hoped that the session will be large enough to include an orchestral and vocal clinic which will be devoted to the discussion and exemplification of direction problems, techniques and examination of scores. The main purpose of these studies is to prepare the students and directors for forthcoming music festivals.

Climaxing the two day program was the presentation of the clinic band in concert. The university band formed the nucleus of the massed 150-piece band under the direction of E. J. Marty.

Lt. Metke Reports Pacific Activities

Lt. Harry Don Metke, Idaho graduate of 1939, told of his experiences in the Pacific, for which he has been recommended for the air medal and Navy Cross, on the radio program "Everything for the Boys" last night. The program was presented in connection with the Sixth War Loan drive and is the regular program of Dick Haymes. Paulette Goddard was guest star.

Lt. Metke is credited with responsibility in sinking five Japanese ships and downing one Zero while on navy duty in the Pacific, where he is now serving as naval air corps pilot. His home is in Bend, Ore.

Home Ec Club Taps Outstanding Girls

Tuesday evening Phi Upsilon Omicron, national Home Economics honorary, tapped five girls. Those chosen for the organization were Mary Mulder, Dorothy Howell, Marilyn Lester, Lillian Johansson, and Vera Anderson.

Members are chosen on the basis of scholarship, activities, and professional attitude.

Home Economists Stress Value Of Journalism

Mrs. Emma States, "Dorothy Dean" of the Spokesman Review; Miss Marion Lage of the National Dairy Council; and Mrs. Sylvia Hemingway, home demonstrator for the Washington Water Power company, spoke to the Home Economics club on the business opportunities in Home Economics Monday.

"Dorothy Dean" emphasized the importance of home economics students taking courses in journalism. No matter what field a home economics graduate enters, some type of journalism is necessary, she explained. Mrs. States said her department in Spokane included demonstrating, column writing, and developing new recipes in which Spokesman's advertisers' products could be used. The most difficult part of the job, Mrs. States believes, is to be able to answer reader's inquiries for cooking information.

According to Miss Lage, the National Dairy Council, sponsored by the entire national dairy industries, provides many opportunities for home economics graduates. Through this council an extensive nutrition education program is carried on to further the health of the nation.

After the war, power companies will again be hiring women for home demonstrators, stated Mrs. Hemingway. The home demonstrator teaches classes in Red Cross nutrition and Camp Fire; does radio work, and group and individual demonstration work; helps women plan their kitchens; and acts as hostess for the company. Mrs. Hemingway considers home demonstration one of the best fields for women in business in home economics.

Attic Club to Give Spaghetti Dinner

Thirty art students will attend the Attic club's spaghetti dinner scheduled for November 30, upstairs in the U-Hut, Ann Hite, club president, has announced.

Barbara Bedwell is general chairman for the event and has chosen the following members to act on committees: Lynn Davis is in charge of cleanup, Grace Nesbit will choose refreshments, and entertainment will be under the direction of Pat Burris with Cicely Ann Harris and Frances Currie as assistants.

Student War Relief—A Link

Organized in 1941 was the World Student Service Fund, an outgrowth and combination of the student service fund in China and the European Student Service Fund. Active on campuses all over the United States, its benefits have been felt by students and professors who are prisoners of war, when they receive books and study materials; by the tuberculosis threatened Chinese scholar, when he is provided with soy-bean milk; in Switzerland, a refugee student might be able to leave the refugee camp for a month to study in some university; and in Russia, condensed milk could be supplied to a needy student.

This fund is the opportunity for the American student to help another student on an international, interracial, non-sectarian, non-political basis.

Last Year's Response
 In 1942-43, 534 institutions contributed to this fund, 49 of them averaged $1.00 per capita or more. With such a gratifying response from the college student, W. S. S. F. can continue to further its helpful assistance to those less fortunate.

When Idaho launches her drive in December, give freely and willingly, as your money will be turned into active service for your fellow student.

Campus Celebrates Holiday

Tomorrow, according to annual custom, Thanksgiving day will be celebrated throughout the nation. Perhaps the holiday will not be as festive as in former years, but the thought behind it is engraved deeper in our minds and hearts than ever before.

Contrary to popular belief, it was not the Pilgrim colony who declared Thanksgiving a legal holiday, but William Bradford, first governor of Massachusetts who, in gratitude for a plentiful harvest following a period of great scarcity, proclaimed a day of thanksgiving in 1621 to be observed December 23. This was later changed to the last Thursday in November and was this year set as November 23 by presidential proclamation.

We Have Thanks Galore
 The high point of this celebration is the traditional dinner, but let's not forget that our forefathers had something other than a turkey dinner for which to be thankful, and so have we. A democratic nation, the four freedoms, and the right to vote are only a few of the things to think about and be grateful for tomorrow. But also, let's not stop with thinking about those liberties. Let's show our deep appreciation and help keep those rights and privileges by supporting the war effort. We must buy stamps and bonds and give our time and energy to insure that there will be many more Thanksgiving days to come—in fact, to insure that every day will be a day of Thanksgiving.

Sigma Nus Present Formal Dance

Sigma Nus presented the first true formal dance of the year last Saturday evening, with the theme "It Ain't Necessarily So." Decorations were of black, white and gold, the fraternity colors. From a specially decorated corner in the Sigma Nu living room the music was furnished by Red Jensen and his orchestra. Dean and Mrs. H. E. Lattig and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson were patrons and patronesses.

Forney Entertains Hays At Carnival

The biggest carnival of the season pitched its tents at Forney hall last Sunday evening. Tickets were given exclusively to the women of Hays hall.

Various side shows, acts, and booths displaying traditional carnival personnel offered amusement for the guests. Refreshments were served at the end of the performance. Venis Johnson was general chairman of the evening merriment.

Holiday Produces Inertia In Social Activities

As far as social events go, the campus will be very quiet over the Thanksgiving vacation. Phi Gamma Delta is the only house to plan a fireside on Saturday night. Exchanges have been entirely omitted this week.

Catholics Postpone Sunday Breakfast

A breakfast to be given by Newman club this Sunday, has been postponed until December 2, according to Sue Wittmann, president. All Catholic soldiers and sailors, as well as members, are invited to attend, immediately following 10 o'clock mass, in the Parish hall.

The Newman club, an organization for Catholic students, has been holding meetings regularly every other Tuesday from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. at the Buckets.

Communion breakfasts are held monthly for all Newman club members.

Juniors Victorious In W.A.A. Tourney

Juniors emerged victorious in the W.A.A. soccer tournament by virtue of wins over the freshman and senior teams. Runners-up in the tournament were the sophomores, who had one victory to their record. The blue team claims the championship in the color tournament, announced Patty Kulzer, soccer manager.

Volleyball, the second major sport of the season, will begin next week. The first practice will be held on Monday, and the same procedure will be followed as in soccer. Each girl must attend eight practices in order to make a team.

Lutherans Elect Group Officers

Forty members of the Lutheran Students association met November 13 to hold election of officers for the coming year. Those elected are: president, Helen Campbell; vice president, Beverly Ford; secretary, Ragnhild Erdahl; and treasurer, Jeanne Mortenson.

A program for the year was formulated at a meeting at the Kappa Alpha Theta house Friday. A pot-luck dinner will be given December 12.

Meeting will be held the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

Pem Club Selects New Officers

Pem club members selected Billie Chamberlain as president Monday night when the physical education majors gathered to choose their leaders for the semester. Other officers are Violette Grant, vice-president, and Jacquie Fallis, secretary-treasurer. The three officers with Jolla Gage, Ralphine Strub and Muriel White-man make up the board of directors.

Violette Grant was made chairman of recreation night. The next meeting of the club is scheduled for December 4. All physical education majors are requested to attend.

A G.I.'s Thanksgiving

PVT. CALVIN P. MORGAN

Thursday will hail the coming of another Thanksgiving day. To most of us Thanksgiving means, first of all, turkey, stuffing, cranberry sauce and mince pie. Thanksgiving is symbolized by these delicacies, fruits of the first harvest by the Pilgrims.

But to the GI away from home, it means even more. It means the day when Uncle Ed, Aunt Grace, Granddad and Grandmother come to dinner and visit with the rest of the family. It means the men, sitting in the smoke-filled living room after dinner, recalling old times, hunting trips, fishing trips, and planning more for the future, discussing politics and a thousand other things men talk about. It means the women, washing dishes in the kitchen, exclaiming about Laura's new baby, or maybe telling how much fruit they've canned this fall. Thanksgiving means the American family day.

Empty Heart

GI Joe generally gets turkey for Thanksgiving dinner, even if he's in a foxhole or on a troopship. But there's usually a feeling that the turkey is only a small part of Thanksgiving. There's a great emptiness in his heart where there should be the smoky living room, the rattling dishes in the kitchen, and the proud display of the garden's harvest nicely preserved in clear glass jars. There's the feeling that the turkey is just another meal and he's missed out entirely on the Thanksgiving as it should be. But then, the folks back home have the same emptiness in their hearts, and a vacant place at the table besides.

Great Day Coming

But even as the emptiness troubles him, so he is filled with hope and determination that soon there will be another peacetime Thanksgiving. A day when the family will sit at the large dining room table, covered with turkey, stuffing, cranberry sauce, and pies. A day when Joe and his buddies will be sitting at that table, home again. The talk after dinner will be of the problems of peace, not the campaigns in France, Italy, Burma, and the South Pacific. Instead of discussing Cousin Dick's V-mail letters, they'll talk about the day when he came home from war, for good.

Yes, there will be a lot of heavy hearts this Thanksgiving day, but there's a great day coming soon. The day when Thanksgiving will again be an institution of the reunited American family.

G. I. REPORT Morgan Announces Rifle Team Names

By Pvt. David Greenbaum

The Pre-Pros of Company A are still wondering where they will be stationed next term. Only time will tell. One thing is certain. They will go to an advanced medical school, but the big question is where and when?

Company A has some very capable social chairmen. No one seems to know who appointed them, or even who they are, but it really doesn't matter. They do an excellent job.

Activities in the Tal Sigma, fraternity originally organized by the Pre-Dents and Pre-Meds of last term, ceased as suddenly as they started. However, the good news has leaked out that it is in the process of a rebirth, and the ambitious Pre-Engineers of both Companies A and B intend to make the organization even more successful than it was last term.

OUR PART HAS BEEN EASY...

Let's PROVE Our Thanksgiving!

This is a BIG farm year—Now Buy BIGGER Bonds!

Here are 6 big reasons for buying the most you can—$100, $500, $1,000 in the big 6th War Loan. War Bonds give you:

1. The best and safest investment in the world.
2. At maturity, $4.00 for every $3.00 you loan.
3. The convenience of cash—plus increase in value!
4. Funds to replace and restore worn-out farm equipment, soil fertility, and buildings.
5. Funds for educating your children; a nest-egg for your own security, travel, retirement.
6. The increased purchasing power vitally needed to win the Peace.

THEY still die—will YOU buy?

You've had bigger profits—NOW BUY BIGGER BONDS

FARMERS have much to be thankful for this year. Before you sit down to that big turkey dinner, ask yourself if you've done the best you could. Lending money is the easiest part of the war effort—but it is as essential as fighting. We don't need to ask if they're fighting enough. Are you lending enough?

It's been a mighty good year for farmers. So far it's been an easy war in general for us in the United States. But it isn't over yet. Not by a long shot. The biggest part of the job is still ahead. The war against Japan will probably be history's costliest. One average Navy task force costs two billion dollars—and we need many of them. Even one torpedo costs $12,000! And one Superfortress to bomb Tokyo, $600,000.

Your dollars are urgently needed—now more than ever—to speed victory and insure America's future. Prove your Thanksgiving. Buy the biggest War Bonds you can—NOW!

When Babe Brown leads the Vandals onto the floor against Gonzaga tonight, he will be starting his third season at the helm of Idaho's quintet. This is a year which might well be the most successful since Brown was handed the reins to guide Idaho's basketball destinies through the "dark years."

Babe became heir to his varsity coaching post when Guy Wicks was called to the colors at the end of the 1942 season and by the end of last season had lifted Idaho from her traditional cellar position in the conference to third place. Really an accomplishment when you consider that he was playing against teams who had the benefit of using military personnel while Idaho depended upon the leftovers to form her team.

BABE BROWN

Sledding was tough for the Babe in 1943 when his team won only two conference games and a guarantee on last place in the conference. Last year, however, players were catching onto the system that made Babe the most successful high school coach in the state and finished the season by knocking mighty Washington over and giving Idaho her best season since 1939. Idaho was the only conference school to tip the Huskies last season.

Babe Was Star

During his undergraduate days Babe made the All-Coast team as a fullback for the Vandals and was the captain of Idaho's championship team in 1924. Babe also went in for bone crushing and grunted his way down cauliflower alley to the Olympic finals. He was wrestling coach while still a student. Ted Sherman was one of his proteges.

After graduation he played football for the Olympic club of San Francisco during a couple of seasons. Coaching the club at the time was none other than Babe Hollingberry, later to become head coach at Washington State and Idaho's worst headache.

Checking the Records

Brown went into the coaching game after his playing days were over and set the pace for Idaho high schools while serving at Boise, Burley, Lewiston and Moscow. At these schools his teams were always the team to beat in the state championships, and a look at the record will show that they weren't easily beaten.

Brown was holding the freshman coaching job when the 1940 "shakeup" smokes had cleared in Vandalville and his teams went undefeated in football and basketball. Then came the war. Babe moved up to take over varsity basketball. George Green was called and Babe was put in temporary charge of the athletic director's office. Now, in his dual capacity, Mr. Brown is striving to keep sports alive at Idaho regardless of how the win and loss columns read. As for his current basketball team, Babe isn't saying much but will admit he has good reserve power, something he could have used last year, and if things break half way fair he will win a few games. We will go further than that and say Idaho will finish no lower than they did last year, which was their best season in five years, war or no war.

Get On Jack

It is pretty generally conceded that, as a team, Idaho won't astound anyone in the big race tomorrow, but Jack Anderson might bring home individual honors for the school. His big competition will come from Bill Galbraith of Washington, who has turned in a 22-minute 16-second four-mile over the Huskie course. Up to date, Anderson hasn't been pushed in winning his races, but to beat Galbraith he is going to have to run his best race of the year.

"Bud" Comes Back

David "Bud" Brown of the Babe Brown's hit the campus this week after four years in the service, 32 months of which were spent overseas. Bud will enter the university next semester to further his academic training and get back into the swing of things in a civilian sense.

Young Brown left for the wars in 1940 with troop K of the Idaho National Guard and was stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., for nearly two years. When war was declared the Moscow contingent was shipped immediately to Australia and have been in that vicinity of the Pacific for the last three and a half years.

In high school, Bud was a halfback of no mean ability on the Moscow eleven and in track he was the best miler in North Idaho. As a senior he turned in the good time 4:46 which is fast mile running for a high school lad.

In years to come sport fans might be seeing young Brown packing the pigskin for his father on the Idaho varsity and running some fast miles for Mike Ryan when the track seasons roll around. We'll be looking for you, Dave.

Off the Record

Paeth, WSC—"Nice running, Anderson, did you come in second behind me?"

Anderson, Idaho—"Thanks, I won. You came in second behind me!" (Anderson finished 500 yards and one minute ahead of the field.)

The 1944-45 edition of Idaho basketball will entrain for Spokane this morning to meet Gonzaga in a two-game series tonight and Thanksgiving night for the curtain-raiser in the current season. Last year the Vandals dropped four to the Boone Street Boys who were powered with navy trainees from the Irish University seventeenth place in the National Collegiate basketball standing.

Though the Bulldogs are not as strong as last season, Babe Brown said he wasn't looking for a soft touch this weekend. In fact, he pointed out that they will have Navy trainees to draw from whereas Idaho takes them as they come.

Two returning lettermen will hold down the starting guard spots tonight as Len Pyne and Bill Carbaugh, both of Spokane. Pyne will lead the Idaho track. Carbaugh played forward last season.

Other starters include two Moscow High players. John Taylor gets the nod at center and Bob O'Conner will hold down one of the forwards. The remaining position will go to either Jeff Overholser, Spokane, or Max Call, Moscow. Call is a holdover from last year's squad, but not a letterman. Also making the trip are: Dick Morse, Jack Boder, Bob Smith, guards; Keith Finlayson, Chuck Schiferl, Bob Pierce, Oscar Orstein and Ned Stewart, forwards. Bert Dingle will manage the team.

Brown said he was less interested in wins and losses in the pre-season games than he was in finding the best working combination for the gruelling conference schedule which the Vandals will meet after the first of the year. The Vandals have 16 pre-conference games scheduled as compared with seven last year, and Babe thinks this will make a difference in the final results.

Football Forecasts

By RUSS WARD

Don't look now, but it's us again in our weekly gridiron predictions. And please pardon the smile, it's not every week we're able to hit .300 (22 wins in 25 attempts), but before gloating maybe we should realize there's a brand new week of pigskin warfare staring us in the face, which means we'll probably be harder pressed to remain out of the gutter after this week's results.

Our greatest satisfaction last week was picking Alabama over Mississippi State, the Tide sweeping the South's last undefeated grid power from its lofty perch. We were, however, slapped around a bit by Syracuse, SMU, and TCU, which makes it two straight from the latter. Our week's effort to date is .357, based on 42 right, seven miscues.

So we're off again, and watch those coins closely.

March Field 21, 2nd Air Force 19—Most of 'em will pick the superbombers, but we like Jacobson-Nelson & Co.

USC 20, UCLA 0—Trojans ride into Rose Bowl; Illinois 20, Northwestern 7—Cats about as wild as Ferdinand; Indiana 18, Purdue 14—Hoosiers by a hair; Ohio State 13, Michigan 0—Buckeyes nab Big-Ten championship; Notre Dame 19, Georgia Tech 13—Irish wreck Tech; Minnesota 20, Wisconsin 0—Gophers' finally out of their holes; Okla. A. & M. 14, Oklahoma 13—Phew! you pick this one.

Round the horn: Rockies—Colorado 13, Denver 6; Utah 20, Utah State 12.

East—Penn State 13, Pittsburgh 6; Dartmouth 7, Columbia 6; Pennsylvania 26, Cornell 6; Brown 13, Colgate 7; Yale 19, Virginia 7.

Anderson Wins Tops Honors As WSC Takes Meet

Washington State and the Idaho Naval Trainees doubled up on the Idaho varsity last Saturday for team honors while "Antelope" Jack Anderson continued his trot toward an undefeated season by leading runners from WSC, Navy and Whitman to the tape in the fast time of 22.56, nearly two minutes ahead of the nearest rival.

Anderson took the lead from the opening gun and increased it with each lap, finishing so far ahead of the second man that the runner-up thought he had won the race.

After the first lap on the four mile course it was apparent that team honors were to be decided between the Idaho Naval Trainees and Washington State. Idaho varsity and Whitman college were fighting it out for last place. At the end of the second lap Washington State was bunching their men to the fore and the Navy team was slipping back but keeping ahead of Idaho and Whitman.

In winning the quadrangular affair the Cougars left little doubt of their potential strength by finishing 10 men in the first 15. Richard Paeth and R. Nuckolls placed second and third for the WSC team behind Anderson of Idaho.

Results of the Inland Empire schoolboy race Friday showed Don Nepean of Moscow winning and shaving 40 seconds off the old record. Lewis Clark of Spokane took the team honors with Moscow High second. Others finished in this order: Lewiston, Clarkston, Central Valley, Rathdrum, Kellogg and Grangeville.

Vandal Track Men Trek To Spokane For Pacific Coast Championships

With "Antelope" Jack Anderson as the pacemaker, a 12-man Vandal harrier squad enters the Athletic Round Table-sponsored Pacific coast cross country championships at Spokane tomorrow against a field of hill-dale runners that has taken on international proportions in the past few years. In the college division of the colorful race, Vandals will compete against the University of British Columbia, defending champions, Gonzaga university, Washington State college, Whitman college, Washington and CWCE runners.

The Vandals, earlier conceded a strong chance to upset the UBC harriers, have lost several of their best leather-lungers, have bowed to WSC harriers as well as naval radio school runners, and can now be rated only in the "dark-horse" category.

Anderson, undefeated against all comers this season, is expected to lead the pack of competing collegians but where he will finish against such stars as the San Francisco Olympic club's Johnny Fulton and Marine Ray Sears, excellent intercollegiate champion, is a story that will be told at the finish line.

The lanky junior from Sandpoint has defeated WSC's best, Dick Paeth, former prep half-mile titlist, and should take Washington's Galbraith and CWCE's Lynne, defending champion, in stride.

The University of Idaho naval trainee team, unbeaten until clashing with WSC in the quadrangular meet, still ranks high in the service team division and will be competing for top honors.

With Idaho's coach, Mike Ryan, already in Spokane to check final plans for the coast meet which he manages, the Vandal harriers left for Spokane today by auto.

Those making the trip besides Anderson include Gordon Meacham, Walt Smith, Joel Mallor, Dale Hooper, Carl Neiwirth, LeRoy Beeson, Art Humphrey, San Strmac, Ray Hall and Tom Kauffman.
