STOMPING GROUNDS LOOM NEAR

It will seem like old homecoming week to a number of departments in the university second semester when they move back into former quarters, which have been occupied by Navy personnel and which were vacated as of January 15.

The University Class Room building, which has housed administrative personnel for the Navy, will be converted into quarters for two important functions on the campus — the newly organized veterans' office to guide servicemen returning to the university in the southern portion, and the department of journalism, in the northern portion. Plans have been presented by the journalists for putting in a partition separating classrooms and the establishment of a type-setting lab for advanced students. The Idaho State Editorial association also is to be housed in the building.

Artists to Renovate
The Art building is to be restored to the department of art and architecture, with great plans in store for students in the curricula. Preliminary work includes cleaning the building, painting murals, and getting equipment.

Top floor of the agronomy building is to be made into classrooms, while the forestry classroom building will be restored to the school of forestry. Chrisman hall will be taken over by civilian men at the beginning of the semester. Willis Sweet hall has to be reconditioned, but all other buildings probably will be ready at the beginning of second semester, if the university can get the men to work on them, President Dale reports. He pointed out that the university expects to acquire title to Navy buildings one and two.

While students are sorry to see the Navy men leave, they are glad, too, to be able to move from makeshift war quarters into their own stomping grounds, so they can go ahead and plan improvement programs in their respective departments. It will be a welcome homecoming, indeed. We were all too glad to loan are buildings to servicemen — hope they enjoyed using them as much as we will enjoy getting back into them.

HERE'S CHANCE FOR WAR WORK

There's a story on page one of this issue telling about a proposed Red Cross unit on our campus, which if it is accepted by the Red Cross, would demand 100 per cent co-operation from every woman student here and from every man who would give a little of his time. The A. W. S. is asking that each woman give a minimum of two hours a week to put the program over and to be of real service in the war effort.

The Time Is Now

Here's a real chance to show the red, white and blue in you. We've been sitting around griping that we're far removed from the war, that there's nothing constructive for us to do, except build for the future. But here is a job that needs to be done now. Inquiries have been made in some of the women's houses and halls on the campus to see if they will co-operate, and the results have been astounding—it seems that the girls questioned are extremely interested. The completed projects, according to the petition sent to Red Cross national, would be sent to hospitals in this area — close enough to see the benefits. If we do obtain a unit, we pledge ourselves to two hours' work a week — and it's up to us to see the thing through. We must realize our responsibility. We must not allow our first enthusiasm to die leaving a struggling few to bear the entire burden. A campus Red Cross unit means work — hard work after the novelty of the idea is gone. However, it's worthwhile—there's the knowledge that the hours of effort are needed desperately.

Work of similar nature is being done on other camps in Idaho, and Jason heartily recommends that we, too, get on the bandwagon in this campaign to do all we can for the war effort. The University of Idaho is certainly big enough to handle such a program, and we will do it—each and every one of us!

Ex-Students Teach

Two graduates of the University of Idaho are now teaching home economics in the public schools at Sandpoint, Ida. Mrs. Florence Hinkley Floy, '42, began her appointment January 15, at the senior high school. Miss Mary Ellen Nelson, '44, has been teaching at the junior high school since last fall.

Curtain Rises On Semester's Second Play Friday

War Veterans To Appear At Student Assembly

Six war veterans from Baxter hospital in Spokane will be presented in an assembly this afternoon at 3:30. Sponsored by the W.S.S.F. drive, these men will relate their overseas experiences, and report what students' contributions have done for war prisoners and other soldiers stationed there. President Harrison C. Dale will introduce the speakers. Classes will not be dismissed for the program.

Delta Gamma and Alpha Phi women have reached the 100 per cent mark in their contributions for the drive, and their names will be placed on the thermometer in the Ad building. Hoping to reach the goal of $600 by Monday when the drive is closed, the canvassing committee urges all houses to turn in their money as soon as possible.

For the benefit of service men and town people, Minute Maids or members of the Inter-church council will be stationed in the front hall of the administration building to accept money for World Student Service Fund campaign.

Marjorie Aeschliman is general chairman of the drive. She is assisted by Ruth Leth, Beverly Weber, publicity; Elaine Anderson, Gerry Merrill, canvassers.

The purpose of the nation-wide drive is to raise funds to help students of foreign lands. Since the war, the fund has assumed added importance by sending materials to our soldiers and prisoners of war in these lands.

Miss Mary Robe, representative of the national committee, came to the Idaho campus during November to acquaint the students with the aim of the drive.

Each house and hall on the campus has representatives collecting money for the drive. Every student has been asked to contribute at least one dollar.

Faculty To Offer New Program As Experiment

J. F. Weltzin, dean of the school of education has announced a new program for educators in the state of Idaho. "The-In-The-Service Program" will be provided for those teachers who are now teaching in high schools throughout Idaho. It is being sponsored by the Board of Education and the Department of Education, and is more or less an experiment that is to continue throughout the year and perhaps longer.

Programs, demonstrations, round-tables, discussions, and conferences will be given by personnel from the University of Idaho. Different programs will depend on the local school system need, and educators from the university will be sent wherever they can be of help.

The first group going out will be represented by Professor A. A. Beecher, head of the music department, who will work with teachers of music in Pocatello, Weiser, Rexburg, and Payette. Also going is Professor A. C. Lemon of educational psychology who will work with educators of the same towns on student guidance. They will begin their conferences January 29, and continue them for one week.

Dean Weltzin has been to Boise several times where he and other educators planned and discussed this program which they feel will be very successful.

Minute Maids Hold First Mixer In Blue Bucket

University Minute Maids promise something new in the way of yearly events with their first annual mixer for Idaho and WSC students in the Blue Bucket this Friday evening.

Music for the sport dance, scheduled to begin at 9, will come from the horns and winds of Jim Huff's Moscow high school orchestra, according to Fidelia Zabala, president.

Associated Women Students advanced $50 for the dance whose purpose is to raise funds to meet Minute Maid operating expenses. Admission is $1 per couple and 50 cents for unescorted women.

Miss Zabala is general chairman. Committees appointed include Joan Tucker, Lynn Davis, Barbara Twitchell, decorations; Joyce Halley, Mary Holden, Marina Doschios, music; Barbara Dayton, Zelva Hodge, publicity; and Jean Pugh, Lorraine Brassfield, patrons. Patrons and patronesses are Dean and Mrs. D. S. Jeffers, Mrs. E. C. Standley, and Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Steffens.

PICTURES!

All Gem pictures must be taken by January 20, Beverly Weber, editor, reminded. Proofs must also be returned to Hutchinson's Studio by that date with a preference stated as to which of the two views is desired for a Gem picture. Unless proofs are returned by that date, Hutchinson's will choose one of the proofs. Hutchinson's choice may not be the picture you would have chosen," Miss Weber warned, "so return your pictures before Saturday.

University Women To Aid Red Cross Knitting And Sewing To Be Main Project For Co-eds

Plans for the organization of a campus Red Cross unit are now being discussed by the Associated Women Students' council. A joint meeting of representatives of women's campus organizations and the AWS council will be held Tuesday at the AWS office for further discussion of the project.

Miss Ruth Rose of Los Angeles, field representative of the Red Cross, visited the campus Friday to explain the purposes and execution of the program. Suggested work for the campus unit is the production of small knitted articles and hospital materials for Baxter hospital, Geiger Field, and Fort George Wright in Spokane. A production room, to be located on the campus, would be provided with the materials necessary for the work and sewing machines, the Moscow Red Cross chapter, acting in an advisory capacity would provide instructors.

Following approval of the unit by campus organizations, a petition is to be sent to the American Red Cross at Washington, D. C. Upon acceptance of the petition, the campus unit is to be organized under the direction of the Moscow Red Cross chapter. Officers for the campus chapter would be a chairman, vice chairman, secretary, and advisor.

It was emphasized that the success of the campus chapter would depend on the individual initiative and effort of campus women. A minimum of two hours' work per week for each woman student was recommended.

TO SENIORS

Seniors expecting to graduate in June must file applications for degrees with Registrar D. D. DuSault before February 15. At that time records will be checked for deficits so students may have an opportunity to make them up during the second semester, Mr. DuSault said.

Rally Will Precede First Game In Conference

Student enthusiasm and pep will be tested January 26, when the Idaho Vandals will be cheered to victory against the Washington State Cougars with a pep rally. According to plans made by the student activities board, the rally will precede the game and a show will be given at the half by the band.

Joyce McMahon, working with E. J. Marty on plans for the rally, announces that delegations from each house will be carrying banners and marching behind the Pep Band in the display of Vandal spirit.

Meeting last Sunday, the board decided on this plan of action and also decided to sponsor a "Pajama Rally" in the near future.

Orchestra To Give Variety Program

Entertainment will be in order at a Musical Variety show, January 25, by the All Girls Singing Orchestra in the university auditorium. The soloists with the group will be Prof. Robert Walls, tenor; Jean Armour, violinist; Virginia Eggen and Virginia Chaney, vocalists; Profs. Hall Macklin and Joseph Brye, duo-pianists. Prof. Brye also will play his marimba. In addition to these soloists, there will be several others who will not be chosen until the night of the concert.

The program will be divided into two parts, the first composed of classical music and the second of popular compositions. The full program will be in the next week's Argonaut.

University Alum's Comedy Makes Bid For Approval

Humor and wit, which play a prominent part in the comedy "Papa Is All," promise to win campus approval for the play which opens Friday, January 19, for a two-night run in the university auditorium. Curtain time has been set at 8:15 p. m., with Miss Jean Collette as director of the farce written on the life of a farming family of Pennsylvania Dutch descent.

Produced by the dramatic department, the play is of special appeal to Idaho audiences since the author, Patterson Greene, is a graduate of the university. Greene's comedy has been successfully produced on Broadway and many west coast campuses from which come favorable reports by student audiences.

With an unusually small cast of six actors, the plot revolves around the life of the Aukamp family whose tyrannical father makes their happiness impossible. Using the Mennonite religion to cover his actions, Papa Aukamp keeps his family working hard to enrich himself. Although written in modern times, the farm is still without such modern conveniences as a telephone, electricity and farm machinery.

Help Comes At Last
Grace Lillard, cast as Mama Aukamp, plays opposite Bill Davidson who assumes the role of Papa Aukamp. The Aukamp children, Emma and Jake, are played by Marion Wilson and Edward Dalva. Barbara Jo Smith characterizes the role of the gossiping neighbor, Mrs. Yoder. When the Aukamp family troubles are at their greatest, help comes in the person of Mike Oswald who takes the part of State Trooper Brendle.

Adding to the humor of the plot is the unusual language of the Pennsylvania Dutch, which is a mixture of German and English as well as confusing sentence order and frequent use of prepositions.

Production Staff Works
Behind scenes work has been done by the production staff, with Marian Krussman and Elaine Anderson acting as assistants to the director. Work of technical director has been done by Marjorie Mock, with Elizabeth Hadley as stage manager. Working as assistant stage manager is Don Rankin.

Chosen as the stage crew is a group which includes Marjorie Mock, Geraldine Merrill, Jean Pugh, Lenore Mays, Jo Hunter, Mary Jane Donart, Dorothy Bowell, Mary Dochios, Muriel Smedley, Yvonne Hamlin, Annabelle Moore, Lucille Nelson, Gloria Klinkscales and Ann Smith.

General electrician Jerry Riddle has been assisted by Pat Blesinger, Ora White, Roslyn Riddle, Jane Griffin, and Barbara Spaeth. Lucille Nelson heads the sound department, aided by Jack Rowe.

Costume Crew
Costumes have been assembled by Betty Faye Solberg, head, and Hilma Sweet, Barbara Twitchell, and Jeanne Edwards. Geraldine Merrill, in charge of the dressing committee, is assisted by Margaret Arnold, Alma Hoefner, Ann Price, Barbara Bedwell, and Venis Johnson.

Properties to brighten the neutral shades of the farmhouse walls are in charge of Jewell Tanner, head, and Lois Fox, Maude Huggins, Enid Almqvist, Joy Ferguson, and Marjorie Ring. Make-up work is handled by Janet Polson.

Acknowledgements by the cast have been made to Ingvald Aas, Mrs. M. C. Albrecht, Bjorklund Hardware company, Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, Mrs. V. A. Cherrington, Coble's Second Hand store, Mrs. G. Elde, Miss Marion Featherstone, Harry Gallup, Frances Nonini, Mrs. P. J. Rawson, Mrs. G. S. Tanner and Mrs. A. E. Whitehead.

Recruiting Officer To Explain Navy Programs

Seventeen year old men or others interested in radar or air combat crewmen naval programs may obtain full information about these and other navy programs at a special meeting Tuesday at 4:10 p. m. in room 317 of the Administration building. Chief Don Marquess of the navy recruiting office in Lewiston revealed yesterday.

Discussing the programs with Herbert E. Lattig, dean of men, yesterday, Chief Marquess stressed the need of men for radar. "The navy is desirous of getting radar equipment on underwater, surface, and air vessels and need more trained men," he explained.

The navy offers 17 year old college men who pass the Eddy test the opportunity of enlisting and remaining in college until the end of the semester.

All Age Groups
Radar work is open to all age groups, but only 17 year old college men will receive temporary deferment. Men who are over 17 years may enlist in the navy and will receive a letter of authority to present at the induction center to insure their being placed in radar. Men who choose this program will enter as seamen 1/c, a rank equivalent in wage scale to that of corporal in the army.

Air combat crewmen are also needed as gunners, aviation mechanics, or radio operators, Chief Marquess added. Men between the ages of 17 and 26 who pass the examinations are eligible to enlist in the program. Men in this program fly on navy bombers and receive 50 per cent more pay, Marquess pointed out.

At next Tuesday's meeting Chief Marquess will explain these programs and will make arrangements to give air combat crewmen examinations and the Eddy test soon here on the campus. Examinations may be taken at any time at the recruiting office located in the post office building at Lewiston.

ROTC Men Gather In England

A good share of the junior ROTC men who left the university for active duty in 1943 are now in England, a letter from Lt. Richard Sodorff to the Argonaut reveals.

Lieutenant Sodorff asserted that England is not at all like Idaho but the situation is saved through the opportunity for Idaho men to get together.

Stationed nearby, he reports, are: Lieutenants John Morris, Earl Crea, Jed Jones, Kenneth Lemon, Don Swan, Jack Kemper and Doc Talbot.

Students Meet For Gem Pictures This Week

Group pictures for the Gem will be taken this week and next week, according to June Williams, photography manager.

Honorary organizations having their pictures taken Tuesday were Alpha Epsilon Delta, the physical education teachers, WAA Executive Board, and the Women's "I" club were photographed in the Women's gym, and the men's "I" club picture was taken in the evening.

This noon at 12:55 the Engineering Council's picture is scheduled; Military personnel at 4:00; and Phi Mu Alpha at 7:30 in the evening. All these will be taken

AST Men Complete Second Term

Cycle II of the AST men stationed on the Idaho campus will finish their second term of training January 27. Furloughs will begin on that date, to extend to February 5.

Approximately 110 new trainees expected the first week in February will begin the first of their two terms of training. Previous groups have received three terms of training.

The Veteran Problem

The present trend of student thought regarding the flood of veterans who will enter the university when the war is over and, perhaps, even toward those who are here now, revolves about the thesis of "the veteran problem." This is a fallacy. Veterans entering the university are quite as adaptable as anyone else to their surroundings. They will not be a problem. Quite to the contrary, they will do much to enrich university life during their stay.

This "problem" feeling is universal. It is a natural result of a general feeling that veterans will constitute a class apart due to their harrowing and gruesome experiences and unwillingness to accept values that they once knew. They are being considered as a giant mass of men with no individuality, no feeling, no emotion—machines. This feeling could easily be true had they never tasted civilian life, but civilian life is like walking, once accomplished it is never forgotten.

When they arrive in great numbers, veterans will slip into the scheme of things. They will be a part of the university, older, more mature perhaps, but still an integral part. There will be "cases" among them that must be reckoned with, just as there are "cases" on the campus now.

If the veteran is accepted by the university he will enter into every phase of university life. If he is relegated to the role of freak, trouble will result.

News And Views

—Exchange

The World Student Service fund seems to have caused quite a stir on our campus. We have even heard a few groans and a comment or two such as, "But golly, a whole dollar!" or "What good will it do me if I do contribute?" Our student body isn't the only one that is sponsoring a W. S. S. F. drive. The University of Washington has set $3000 as its goal. Of course, we don't expect $3000 from our campus but would like everyone to contribute something.

When we speak about the "Vets" coming back to school we usually think of men, but the University of Southern California now has 8 women who have registered as students under the G. I. bill of rights and rehabilitation. You never can tell where you will find the girls now days.

From the University of British Columbia comes a serious war-time problem. The student body is growing faster than boarding houses are and consequently, since Christmas vacation, some of the coeds haven't a place to stay. One coed finally found a "bed" on the davenport in a sympathetic woman's living room. But somehow it doesn't seem like the best place to spend the night. "Every morning when I get up I feel four inches shorter," she mourned. The university is planning to build some new boarding houses to remedy the situation.

The University of Washington has another "first" to add to its long list of successful experiments. This time Dr. Ivar Spector, a Russian professor, has devised a method of teaching the Russian language by radio. At 9:30 every Sunday night Dr. Spector instructs on a 30 minute program over KRSC in Seattle. It's all done by recordings and the results of his classes, which last for 10 weeks, may be interesting.

Students at the University of Utah seem to be having the same old trouble with the books. The Oujia boards are really working over-time down there. It has even been claimed that one coed managed to pull down a 3.0 average just because she carried a portable one around in her purse during quiz week. (This is just a rumor that has not been proven as yet so don't depend too much on Oujia's magic powers.) "Barefoot Boy With Check" is another "distractor" at the U. of U. In case you haven't heard about it, it is a riotous take-off on college life that is definitely in the can't-put-it-down category.

It's not every day you get a new president on the campus, so our W. S. C. neighbors all turned out to honor their new president, Wilson Compton, at an informal rally last Tuesday afternoon. President Compton was attending a meeting of the board of regents at the time, but he came out and said a few words of appreciation to the students.

The athletic future looks bright to Buck Bailey, assistant Washington State college football coach on leave. He has predicted that the postwar high school and colleges will make our pre-war athletics look like "pink tea." He feels that today thousands of young men, by being in the service of their country, have had access to good equipment and sports facilities that they would never have had as civilians, and that after the war physical education will play as important a part in civilian life as it does in the lives of the men in the service.

According to the Collegian of Walla Walla college, all we need to wake us up in the mornings is a little of "Mother Nature's cold weather." It does kind of get in your blood, and the trees look lovely when they are covered with frost, but somehow, sleep seems to be the only real cure for that "droopy" feeling that's getting some of us down.

The University of Minnesota claims the distinction of being the first university in the United States to use an airplane as a means of going to and from classes. With the opening of a new graduate school extension class in Rochester, the professor makes the trip from Minneapolis by air.

The University of British Columbia has set the week of January 10-17 for "Blood Donor Week." The objective of the drive is 2000 donors, or two out of every three students on the campus. Each student is asked to sign a pledge and turn it in at the Ubyssy office, and be prepared to make his contribution when he is called upon to do so. Sounds like a good idea for all of us to think about!

Glamour puss: "Cats! I hate the very sight of them. I had a sweet little canary once and some cat got it. I had two pretty little goldfish and some cat got them. I had the most adorable boyfriend once and—oh, don't mention cats to me!"

—Boise High Lights.

MULBERRY BUSH

By D. L. STIDOLPH

What about?—was I fouled up on this weather prediction. From here on in I'll stick to sight-seeing instead of knocking myself out with forecasts. Oh, wishful thinking does have its compensations. I did attend some beautiful daydream picnics!

And now with winter really coming down upon us, many houses are planning their annual snow fights. The husky Harrys of the campus lost no time in donning their warm clothes, standing in front of their haciendas, and pelting the weaker sex with snow as they rushed and stumbled homeward after school. Enuff said!

Our battling basketball team is back among us with many a lengthy tale of the big city life. Keith Finlayson and Bob O'Connor found the Tri-Delt house on the U. of Washington campus mighty inviting. Seem' the sights of Seattle at "dusk" were Lenny Pyne, Bill Carbaugh, and Jeff Overholser. Ask Pyne to show you the photograph that was taken during their nocturnal jaunt!

It looked like Idaho students changed their location last Friday night with WSC. Whatta conglomeration of plaid shirts, and whatta turn out. Paul Wykert was escortin' a cute WSC Theta around the dance floor.

Before John Noggle departed for the navy, he pinned his Beta jewel on Betty Echtenach, Gamma Phi Beta. That's one more Beta pin to keep the memory of the "hotel" alive!

Paul Olson has been keeping us guessing lately. First, Kappa Ann Smith and then appears a Miss X who was seen tripping the light fantastic with him a couple of days ago. What's the dope, Ole?

Saturday night the Minute Maids are holding a jive session in the Bucket. Come on out and have some fun, besides helping the bond gals raise a few coins to finance their organization.

A "cokin'" and a "smokin'" at the Bucket the other day were Theta Barbara Bedwell and Fiji Allen Bunker.

Another "lost" affair that looms up before us is the Darwin Brown-Betty Dodd romance. What is the matter "Brownie", still can't make up your mind? or is frosh Alex Swanson beating a better tune.

Won't be long before "Papa is All" will be "all," and the drama crew will have another short breather. Stage setting, props, and characters are 'bout ready to open the curtain and Moscow will see how a Menonite family lives. Good luck, kids!

Alpha Phi LaRaine Stewart and Fiji Don Leeper hit the trail for WSC last Friday night, and joined in with the Pullmanites for a gay evening.

Joy Ferguson had eyes only for khaki last week-end. I could ask what his name was, where he was from, why, when, and how, but I won't. I'll let my curiosity go running amuck.

Kappa Sig Louis Cosho wandered onto the campus a few days ago from Farragut, much to Gamma Phi Betty Cardwell's delight. What luck to have Farragut so close, or would you say—to have Louis so close!

Pat Haight, Forney hall, and former student at Stephen's college, became a wearer of Bob Atwood's S.A.E. pin a few days ago. Irene Daffer, also of Forney hall, has Jack Tallent's Sig Ep pin.

The domicilium of the Sigma Alpha Epsilons will be one short now when they read their roll book. Dean Shaver left to march around in the Army last Monday.

Won't be long before the Greeks will be settin' their traps and oiling up their vocal cords for mid-semester rushing. Ah, what fun!

Jean Massey, Pi Phi, announced her engagement to a former Fiji at Idaho, Alan McComb from Gooding. Every week I have shudders of becoming an old maid when I read of all the lucky women! Ahhh (that's a sigh, ya dupe.)

Whoops, there went a man, so I'll be seein' ya slopping around in the slush and snow. Don't you wish I had been right about the potential spring weather?

Fraternities Rush
Rushing by men's fraternities on the Idaho campus will be over on February 14, the Wednesday after the beginning of the second semester. Chairman Paul Wykert announced Monday.

No new rules have been initiated by the rushing committee, other than those divulged in last week's Argonaut.

Ode to the Battle of Paradise Creek

It has been a long time since I've told this tale, but nothing can stop me now; It's the story of father's run with the law, and how he crossed the Paradise riding herd on a sway-back cow.

It was during the reign of terror; when Indians rode the range, and the range was an old black stove without a grate,
That lay half way under the clear blue ripples of Paradise creek, where my father used to fish, using his toe as bait.

It was a cool autumn day and my father approached the creek on a mule while the grass whistled and the worms sang;
Fearless, dauntless father flew from his saddle and beat his mule to cover; the worms had turned as the first shotgun rang.

Sitting not far from the muddy bank, on an old and rusty stove, was Moekahauntus the fearless warrior brave;
His smoking gun had spoke it's last when pop cut loose a blast; you'd think he was murdered the way the others raved.

The mule had long since sought the shelter of a red barn not far from the now famous historical site;
Where my father fought the Indians on the Paradise, and fought them defiantly through the night.

The dawn had crossed the distant hills, and still the guns were coughing, and the only thing moving was a wild speckled bird;
The Indians clung to the creek, and dust was flying fast and plenty, and out of the confusion pop's cussing was the only thing heard.

But far to the North, thunder clouds broke loose, and flooded the mountain streams with buckets of water;
It hit the town full blast dragging all that stood in it's way even snatching up the parson as he pleaded with the saloon keeper's daughter.

The warrior brave saw the deacon in his peril, father saw the saloon keeper's daughter and forgot the Indian's stand;
They swam against odds as the waters raged; the Indian for the gold in the deacon's teeth, and father for the beer still clutched in the barmaid's hand.

They still like to tell the story of that historical day, and it brings tears to many an old timer's eye when they try to remember:
Whether the Indian ever got his gold, or whether father finished his beer before the waters pulled him under that September.

No matter how the story ended, if there's ever a doubt in your mind just travel down to Paradise creek and there in the mud-banked cove,
You'll find the remnants of the flood, and amid the rusty cans you'll find Moekahauntus, picking his store-bought teeth on top of the old black stove.

Idaho Debaters Triumph In Junior Tournament

Idaho debaters walked off with first place honors and a trophy Saturday, January 13, when they competed in the annual junior varsity debate tournament held at Pullman.

With seven wins out of the eight rounds, the two teams representing Idaho won by a large margin over debaters from Whitman, Washington State college and Lewiston State Normal.

Making the trip with Coach A. E. Whitehead were Geneva Ferguson, Joyce McMahon, Geraldine Merrill, and Frances Rhea. They argued the national college debate question for the year which is advisability of compulsory arbitration of labor.

As one round of the tourney, Miss Ferguson and Miss Rhea with a WSC team broadcast on radio station KWSC. The decision was the only one Idaho lost during the entire tournament.

Only freshmen and sophomore teams were eligible to compete in the tournament.

Spurs Slate Dinner For Pullman Group

At a meeting last Wednesday at the Alpha Chi Omega house, Spurs made plans for inviting WSC Spurs to the campus on January 26, the night of the Moscow-Pullman basketball game. Entertainment will include dinner at the Bucket, Geraldine Merrill, president, appointed Ethel Jane Kopelman chairman of arrangements and entertainment; Twyla Shear, in charge of refreshments; and Lalene Cargill, in charge of entertainment.

Spurs also practiced songs and voted to hold their regular meeting Wednesday, January 24.

Church Guild to Hold Dinner On Tuesday

Members of Westminster Guild will have a dinner meeting at the Presbyterian church Tuesday, January 23, at 5:45 p. m. Miss Gladys Woody will give a talk on Mexico. A group picture will be taken at 7 p. m.

University To Hold 9 Weeks Session In Summer Term

President H. C. Dale has announced the 1945-46 calendar and simultaneously reported that the board of regents decided at their meeting January 8, to replace the regular 12 weeks summer term with a shorter nine weeks session. The six weeks summer school will be continued as in the past.

The shorter term was adopted because of the decreasing need of a full term. In 1942-43-44 summer courses were taken largely by army-deferred men in engineering and pre-med. The enrollment dropped last year when deferment of these men was discontinued.

One-third a semester's credit will be allowed for the six-week school and one-half will be earned by those registering for the nine-weeks term.

Both sessions will begin June 11 with the six-weeks closing July 20 and the nine-weeks August 10.

According to the 1945-46 calendar approved by the board, freshman days will be held September 20-21 registration, September 21-22. Classes will begin September 24, and continue until Christmas vacation, December 19-January 3. Final examinations for first semester are scheduled for January 30-February 6, 1946.

Second semester registration days are February 8-9 and classes will begin February 11. Final examinations will be held June 5-12 with baccalaureate and commencement exercises June 9 and 10, respectively.

LDS Plans Election

Lambda Delta Sigma, L.D.S. organization, will hold an election of officers next Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the L.D.S. Institute.

G.I. REPORT

NEW MEN ARRIVING
On Monday, February 5, the ranks of SCU 3926 will be swelled by 125 men who will report to their first classes in the AST program. Contrary to the erroneous report of another column in this paper two weeks ago, the men will not receive their basic training here. Specifically defined, basic training is "preliminary military training for active participation in the United States army," and is given only in certain army camps—never at a university. These men will receive instruction in basic engineering, AST curricula B-60 and N-20, and will be stationed at the university for two semesters, not two years, as was stated. We, the personnel of SCU 3926, welcome these new men, and hope that they will enter into the spirit of the campus with as much success as that of their predecessors.

Company Will Move
The new men will be quartered at Idaho club. Company "B", now living there, will move to Lindley hall, and will occupy the entire third floor and parts of the first and second. Lindley hall will house approximately 150 men, which, with the arrival of the new men, means that SCU 3926 will be 275 strong.

Lindley Being Repaired
Built by engineers in the First World War, and used variously as army barracks and independent house, "Ole Lindley," home of the joy-boys of Company "A" of Coffee Pot Parade fame (credit Pvt. Kenneth Birdwell of Coalinga, Calif., with an assist) has seen better days. Lindley hall has served the university campus well, so recently it was decided that it should be repaired. And that is why for the last two weeks, anyone passing by Lindley hall during the day could hear loud banging noises, and, at intervals, crashes from the third floor. So, don't worry, folks. It's nothing serious. Ole Lindley is just getting another permanent.

Generally Speaking
Pvts. Harry Silcocks and Bill Holmes have been transferred, but Pvt. Don Womack is still around to tell about it. On January 4, all three left Moscow, and headed north, to arrive in Trail, B. C., on the morning of January 6. While approaching the outskirts of Deer Park, Wash., on their way up, they passed the town's grammar school. Believe it or not, school was abruptly halted, so that children might see the men in uniform passing by. Yes, in this man's war, anything can happen. The DGs have announced an ex-

Former Students Visit Idaho Campus While On Leaves And Furloughs

Highlighting society news of the week was the large number of former Idaho students who have returned to visit the campus while on leaves and furloughs. Visiting last week were Lt. (J. G.) and Mrs. Dean Wilde, both former students of the university. Wilde is with the navy air corps and will be stationed in Dallas, Tex.

Weekend guests of Forney hall were Cleo Tarbett of Lewiston and Dorothy Rogner of Spokane. Sunday dinner guests at Forney were Miss Tarbett, Miss Rogner, Gail Radermacher, Fleeta Williams, Marilyn Daigh, and Cpl. William Ball of Camp George Wright.

Service Men Guests
Louis Cosh, HA 2/c and Pvt. Gerry Grimes, U. S. M. C. who are both stationed at Farragut were weekend guests of Kappa Sigma. Paul Rose, AE 2/c from the Pasco naval air base also visited there last week.

Loren E. Basler and George Denman, who are with the veterans administration, were entertained at dinner Thursday by members of Kappa Sigma.

Allan McCombs, USN visited on the campus last week. McCombs was a student here in 1942 and was affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta. He is now stationed at North Fork, Va.

Dinner Guest
Eda Mae Rose of the American Red Cross was a dinner guest at the Kappa Alpha Theta house last Friday night. Miss Rose was here working on plans for a Red Cross unit. Merlyn Churchill and her mother were also dinner guests that evening.

Frances Rhea, Jane Meyer, and Marjorie Reed were Sunday dinner guests at the Theta house.

House guest at the Kappa Alpha Theta house Tuesday was Miss June Cone of Grangeville.

Here For Week
Guests for the past week at Sigma Alpha Epsilon were Mrs. D. W. Jackson and her daughter, Dora Grace, of Spokane.

The SAEs held a fireside last Friday night in honor of Dean Shaver who left for the army Monday. A five-piece dance band furnished the music for the evening.

Week-end guests at the Sigma Chi house were Fred Bagley, stationed at Farragut, and Cpl. Don Carlson, former editor of the Gem of the Mountains.

The Sigma Nus held a fireside Friday night. Several guests from other houses attended.

Kappas Entertain
Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained several guests over the week-end. At dinner Saturday night were Lt. Ted Beecher, Idaho Beta Theta Pi, of Twin Falls, Cpl. Charles Van Eman, and Cpl. Gerald Hayes, stationed at Walla Walla, Wash. Lt. Beecher was the guest of Marion Griggs, and Cpls. Van Eman and Hayes were visiting Joy Ferguson. Also at dinner Friday was Miss Mary Frances Marshall, former president of the sorority. Lt. Beecher and Joyce Kenworthy were guests at dinner Sunday.

Wednesday night Maxine Rowland and Sharon O'Donnell of Forney hall were guests of Patsy Johnson at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Maurine Cherrington was a dinner guest at the Alpha Phi house last Sunday.

Visit Ridenbaugh
Dinner guests of Ridenbaugh hall Sunday were Miss Verda Sanders, Don Pack and Ted Mann. Hays hall held an exchange with Co. B Friday night. Clara Eimers and Dorothy Thompson were dinner guests of Hays hall Wednesday. Mrs. E. A. Burgess of La Crosse, Wash., visited her daughter Louise of Hays hall during the week-end.

Dinner guests of Gamma Phi Beta Sunday were Gayle Whealy of Spokane, Mrs. K. A. Churchill of Gooding, and Donna Trueblood. Mary Kay Pendry was a dinner guest Monday night.

The Gamma Phi Beta pledges entertained members at a fireside Thursday evening. A program was provided and refreshments were served.

The Delta Tau Deltas held a fireside Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Halstrup were the patron and patroness. The Delta Taus will entertain at another fireside Friday night.

Spokane Visitors
Three Spokane guests at the Phi Delta Theta house this week were, John Wilson, Bob Hibbit and Bill Turner. They were visiting John Neraas, and Mike Oswald. Alpha Phis entertained several guests for dinner this Sunday, including Mrs. Maureen Cherrington, one of their Moscow alumnae. Other guests at dinner were Jackie

Kappa Phi Hear Music Program

Kappa Phi held their business dinner Tuesday, January 16 at the Methodist church. The theme of the dinner was "One Harmonious World in Music."

After dinner the devotionals were led by Marjorie Aeschliman. Lucille Thompson, who was in charge of the program, gave a talk on the history of music, including the background, development and brief biographical sketches of the world's greatest composers. To represent some of the products of the composers, several records were played.

The meeting was closed with the song "One Harmonious World in Music," composed by Barbara Ravencroft and Frances Freeman. The song won the national contest last spring from all entries submitted by Kappa Phi chapters in the country. "Harmonious World in Music," was chosen the official song for Kappa Phi for this year at national convention held last June at Baldwin, Kansas.

Canterbury Holds Discussions

Canterbury meeting was held Tuesday evening at 7 p. m. in the Episcopal Rectory. Marjorie Reed gave a talk on Mohammedan religion with a group discussion following.

Dr. Boyd Martin will lead the discussion next week at the meeting, and all members are invited to attend. Gem pictures will be taken at that time.

Wednesday there will be a communion breakfast at 7 a. m. to be held in the rectory.

War Dept. Reports Heppner Missing

According to word received by his parents from the war department, Pfc. Leo Heppner has been listed as missing in action since December 16.

Heppner entered the service in March, 1944, and has been in the infantry overseas since the early part of October. He was a student for three and one-half years at the University of Idaho.

Lewis, June Beasley, and Lorna Borris.

Delta Gamma has scheduled an exchange Friday night with Co. A. Banquet Scheduled
Tomorrow night Kappa Alpha Theta will have their annual brother-son banquet. Theta brothers and sons who are here on the campus are invited to the dinner.

The Alpha Phi pledges are having a fireside with the Delta Gamma pledges at the Alpha Phi house tomorrow night. There will be a short program and refreshments.

Guests at the Sigma Nu house while they are here for the World Student Service Fund assembly are Sgt. Dick Tenyck, Sgt. William Browne, Sgt. Willard Crosley, Paratrooper Lovereck, Pvt. Emil Beurtsch, and Sgt. John Breslin. Gamma Phi Beta and Delta Gamma will entertain them at dinner Thursday night.

From Minnesota
Mrs. Andrew Melgard, visiting from Warren, Minn., and Mrs. W. R. Melgard of Moscow, Joan Whitman, Helen Moulton, Jane Myer and John Taylor will be dinner guests of the Pi Phis this week.

Mrs. K. I. Brown, formerly Mary Ann Alban, was the weekend guest of Vera Anderson. Mrs. Brown, a resident of Spokane, is an alumna of Pi Beta Phi. Also, visiting from Spokane, were Mrs. Fred Palmer, formerly Marge Harmon, and Mrs. Charles Murphy, who was Billie Lu Kuntler. Both women are also Pi Phi alumnae.

Guest of Honor
Mrs. Harry W. Flanary, Jr., the former Betty Jean Reed, who was recently married, was guest of honor at an open house held Sunday evening at Forney hall. Hostesses were her roommates, Lois Lee Meister, Ragnhild Endahl, and Elizabeth Robinson. During the evening refreshments were served.

Engagement Revealed
Miss Virginia Weisrud, Alpha Phi at Idaho last year, announced her engagement this week to Lt. Duane Anderson of the U. S. Marine Corps. Lieutenant Anderson, Weisrud, was a Sigma Alpha Epsilon here in 1942. No date has been set for the wedding.

Charles Kerr, former student at the university, returned to the campus Tuesday on his way to Farragut naval training camp after a short leave. He was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Honorary Reveals Tentative Date For Spinster Skip

Further plans for the Spinster Skip, an annual affair sponsored by Mortar Board, were formulated at a meeting of the group held Friday, Mary Magnus, president, announced recently. It was decided to hold the dance during the second week of March, although the date is still tentative.

The Spinster Skip is the only dance of the year when university women invite men, and in years gone by it has proved a success. It is planned that this affair will be an afternoon tea dance, and will be held at the student union building.

Another meeting of the Mortar Board will be held this Friday at the AWS office, Mrs. Magnus announced.

WAA Members Win "I" Sweaters

ASUI executive board members last night approved the awarding of "I" sweaters to Frances Marshall, Vera Anderson, and Mary Dochios. Erma Smith was awarded an "I" blanket.

These awards are made on the basis of WAA points earned by these students. To be eligible for an "I" sweater, the student must have earned 1250 points, of which 417 must be in leisure time sports. A total of 2000 points, preceded by the award of a sweater, is necessary for the award of a blanket.

Miss Fugate Weds Ensign Haegele

Muriel Ann Fugate and Ensign Rowland W. Haegele of Caldwell were married in the Presbyterian church of Aberdeen January 4.

The bride wore white satin and her fingertip veil was capped with a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible. Her attendant was her sister, Carol. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Jerry Haegele.

A buffet supper was held after the wedding for a few friends of the family. The couple then left for a honeymoon in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Haegele is a senior at the university, where she is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Theta Sigma, journalism honorary.

Ensign Haegele attended the university for three years and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, fraternity, and Sigma Tau and Rho Epsilon honoraries. He graduated from the Illinois Institute of Technology with a degree in engineering. At present, he is radar material officer aboard a destroyer in the U. S. Navy.

Club To See Movie Friday Evening

India will be the topic of the March of Time movie to be shown to the International Relations club at their Friday evening meeting, announced Russell Miles, publicity chairman. Following the discussion of the movie, Dr. Boyd Martin and Robert E. Hosack will give a review of the current news of the week.

Guests of the Delta Delta Delta house were Hays hall women, and Forney hall entertained women from Kappa Alpha Theta. Kappa Kappa Gamma dined at the Gamma Phi Beta house and those from Pi Beta Phi house at Hays hall. Ridenbaugh women went to the Theta house, and Delta Gamma to Ridenbaugh hall.

Ex-Students Visit Idaho Campus

Several students of the school of forestry, now in the armed services, have visited here recently. Sgt. Wilbur F. Currier, of the class of 1940, is back in the United States from the South Pacific, where he had been stationed for 34 months. He is now on rotation leave, and will be reassigned from the base at Santa Barbara at the end of his 30-day furlough. He saw his baby boy for the first time when he arrived in Spokane, where his wife and son have been living.

Thomas H. Laurent, a corporal in the marines, flew from Santa Barbara to Portland and came to Moscow for a few days to visit friends. He was in the class of '46 while at the university and is now in radar work.

Philip Brummond of the U. S. infantry is now home on furlough. He was wounded recently before Strausburg in Germany and has been hospitalized in the United States.

Through constant vigilance and tireless effort on the part of employees, thousands of men and trainloads of materials have been moved efficiently and quickly to aid the Allied cause.

This is just one of many safety measures established by Union Pacific to assure reliable transportation of passengers and freight. War resulted in a tremendous increase in rail traffic. As might be expected, a large part of that traffic has been directed over Union Pacific's "strategic middle route" uniting the East with the Pacific Coast.

The constant improvements in railroading, resulting in safe, efficient transportation, are due in large measure to the American system of encouraging workers to seek advancement through personal enterprise and initiative. We're fighting and working to maintain that spirit of equal opportunity for all.

BENCH NOTES

By JACK ANDERSON

Those of us who sat around my battered little five-tube radio, and between bursts of static, squeaks and unidentified noises tried to catch the course of the Washington games last week, were impressed with the numerous times this statement was made by the announcer: "There are three men on the floor, two Washington boys and... yes, it's Jeff Overholser." We then remembered that during the Oregon series, a strangely similar occurrence took place. We then whipped out our pencils, and after much figuring, came up with the conclusion that Jeff is no one to trifle with under that backboard.

This 19-year-old freshman migrated from across the border where he was a Spokaneite during his high school days. Two letters in basketball fell his way as he played forward for the North Central Indians his last two years. When he was a junior the Indians swept the city league and went on to the state tournament, where they played against boys who later became college stars, among them was Jack Nichols, all-conference center for the Huskies last year. Jefferson is a softball pitcher of ability, serving them up for the Athletic Round Table's team, which traveled in a mighty fast city league.

JEFF OVERHOLSER

From his forward spot on the Vandals, he is a valuable back-board man and ball-hawk, often diving into a melee of players, and emerging a few seconds later with said ball in his hands. His keen reflexes and aggressive, rugged playing did not just happen, but are the results of a life of roaming the fields and streams. Although a city-dweller, he knows the hills and lakes of Northern Idaho more intimately than some natives. He has a stock of tales of myriad schools of "big ones that got away" and sagacious old bucks that he almost outwitted, swearing as to their veracity with all the vigor of a seasoned outdoorsman.

With a flyrod he can curl a fly under an overhanging bush with precision, and as his hunting companions will attest, he is no amateur with a scatter gun. For the future, Overholser has his eyes trained on a coaching spot. The "big town" has done us no less than good this year, and we're glad to welcome this amiable migrant into the Vandal fold.

Let's not do it again, I mean come within 3 points of a victory after leading all the way. No kick coming on our performance at Seattle, as "Uncle Hec" has more men at his disposal than any other conference coach. We'll wait until they trot over without their Naval trainees, and who knows, we might repeat last year's giant killing. Whitman here this week should provide a breather for the WSC series next Friday and Saturday. Put those days down in the little black book, for you won't want to miss them.

Here's a Good Racket... he said, as he handed me a badminton bird and showed the way to the courts. If you haven't yet played this combination between tennis and pheasant hunting, you should wander around to the women's gym some afternoon and try it. The essentials needed: 10 cents, gym shoes, a few choice cuss words (mumbled to yourself, of course) and a bottle of liniment. After smashing the elusive bird with all your strength, and watching it flutter daintily to earth 16 feet, four inches away, and unwrapping yourself from around a net post, use for the liniment will be found.

If you need a little exercise (don't ask what's that) and are a little worried about the avoirdupois, here is what you've been looking for.

Jose, the downtrodden intellect, learned more about American sports the other day. He was mistakenly under the impression that a basketball coach was the vehicle in which the team traveled to the game. Well, ay bane go now...

Teachers To Take Examinations

National teacher examinations will be given at the university on Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 17, under the supervision of the school of education, it was announced yesterday.

These examinations, prepared under the auspices of the national committee on teacher examinations of the American Council on Education of New York City, are given annually at various examination centers throughout the country.

Purpose Explained

The purpose of the examinations is to qualify teachers for teaching in the various states of the union. Anyone making a satisfactory score on the examinations has his record filed at the New York office of the committee. The record is thus made available for reference to superintendents, school boards, or teacher agencies.

Application to take the examination must be made before February 17. Participation is open to any teacher and to senior students in the school of education. The national committee requires a fee be charged for the examination. Applications should be made to Dr. Allan C. Lemon, professor of educational psychology, in the school of education at the university, who has charge of the examinations.

SAE Men Receive Coveted Pins

Sigma Alpha Epsilon held its semester initiation ceremonies Sunday, January 14. Those initiated are Clifford Streeter, Coeur d'Alene; Dan Strmac, Morton, Illinois; Albert Wellman, Kellogg; Ralph Tallent, Mullan; James Mann, Jerome; Charles Larson, Boise; Donald Collins, Camp Cook, South Dakota; Earl Miller, New Meadows; Charles McKinney, Weippe; Morris Loomis, New Meadows; Wallace Conine, Preston; and Robert Atwood, Lewiston. A formal dinner was held Sunday afternoon at the SAE house in honor of the new initiates. Plans are now being made for a formal initiation dance to be held sometime in the near future.

Spurs Entertain WSC Chapter

Washington State college Spurs will be guests of the Idaho chapter on January 26, the night of the Pullman-Moscow basketball game. Members of the sophomore service honorary decided at last Wednesday's meeting at the Alpha Chi Omega house, Idaho Spurs are planning a dinner at the Bucket before the game to entertain the Spurs.

Ethel Jane Kopelman was appointed general chairman, Twyla Shear will have charge of food; LaLene Cargill will plan entertainment.

Last year Idaho Spurs were entertained at Pullman by the WSC chapter.

Idaho Vandals Lose To Washington Huskies

University of Washington Huskies came through by their eyeteeth to take the first game 51-48, and then came back to thump the Vandals 60-41 in the Saturday night contest. Bob O'Connor and Len Pyne tied for scoring honors in the first game with 13, and Bill Carbaugh connected for 16 to pace the second tilt.

Friday Night

Idaho 48, Washington 51. Coach Hec Edmundson of the Huskies, chose to start his Navy trainee team, who had a height advantage of three inches per man on the Vandals. The Navy boys did little else, but watch, as the Brownmen ran up a 13 to 2 count in the first eight minutes of the game. Drawing upon his civilian team, Hec put Norm Carnovale, Bob Jorgenson, and Whitey King, all freshmen into play. The Seattleites began to click, and soon evited the count. The lead see-sawed back and forth, and just before the half, Len Pyne dropped in a free throw, and the score read 21-20 in favor of the Vandals. In the second frame the dog-fight continued, with solo efforts keeping the Washingtonians up to the Idaho stride. Don McMillan of the Huskies began setting up plays in the pivot spot, battling in lay-ins, and snagging the ball off the backboard making himself a thorn in the Moscow boys side the rest of the evening. Uncle Hec's men began a scoring spurt that gave them their longest lead of the game, at 37-30. Pyne, O'Connor, and Carbaugh bounced back with two-pointers to bring the score to more even terms. Vandenburg, who led scoring for the game with 15, began to hit the hoop to bolster the Husky lead. Pyne sank a swisher from 44 feet out as the final gun sounded, and we had lost another close one.

WASHINGTON (51)

Box score for Washington vs Idaho (51-48). Includes players like Vandenburg, McMillan, Creveling, Carnovale, Lemman, King, Jorgenson, and totals.

IDAHO (48)

Box score for Idaho vs Washington (48-51). Includes players like O'Connor, Overholser, Call, Taylor, Pyne, Carbaugh, and Smith, and totals.

Half-time score—Idaho 21, Washington 20. Free throws missed—Vandenburg, McMillan, Lemman 2; Jorgenson, O'Connor, Overholser. Shots attempted—Washington 66, Idaho 64. Referee—Art McLarny. Umpire—Phil Sarboe.

Saturday Night

We 41, They 60

The power of the Washington reserves showed what it could do, burying the Vandal scoring mechanism with a barrage of baskets. Bill Carbaugh took scoring lead for the game with 16 tallies. Using a two-handed set-shot from a long way out, he split the net for three consecutive shots in the first half. The Washington machine kept rolling however, and by half-time had run to a 32-17 margin. Carnovale whipped 14 points through the cords to pace the purple-clad boys. The trainees, who had been unable to fathom the Idaho defense the night before, began casting off and adding to their scoring averages, as the Husky lead mounted. Carbaugh and Pyne kept up their display of long-shot technique, while Bob O'Connor centered the hoop for 11 points, second in Vandal scoring. The loss is the fourth straight for the Brownmen, and the first one by more than three points.

Idaho Artists Win At Boise Exhibit

Two university of Idaho faculty members were among winners of awards in the annual Idaho artists exhibit at Boise. Miss Marion Featherstone, instructor in home economics, was declared first place winner for her oil painting "Kamiae Butte," and Alfred Dunn, instructor in art and architecture, won first honorable mention in water color division for his "Cheat Grass," a landscape.

Sig Nus, Campus Club To Battle For Championship Of Mural League

The intramural league remains knotted between the Campus club and Sigma Nu, as each won their next to last game, the club slapping the Kappa Sigs 37-28, while the Sigma Nus swamped the SAE 38-19. The meeting between these two teams, both undefeated in seven games, will come as a preliminary to the WSC game next Friday evening, and will decide who is to receive the Intramural Championship trophy put up by the Intrafraternity Council as sponsors of Intramural play this year. The Phi Deltas drew down on third place with 5 wins and 3 losses.

Ben Dobbs Heads Missionaries In Week-end Fray

Coach Ben Dobbs, will lead his Whitman Missionary basketball team into two frays with the Vandals on Friday and Saturday nights at Memorial gym, the games starting at eight o'clock. Dobbs was a high school football star at Ashland, Ky., playing on a state championship team in his Sophomore Year. He was a member of a national championship basketball team in the winter of 1928.

Coach Ben Dobbs

At Ohio State university, he was the first in a decade to gain a starting berth on the freshman football, basketball, and baseball teams. Dobbs' varsity career was cut short by a back injury received in pre-season training. After recovering, he played three years of professional football, dividing the time between the New York Yankees, St. Louis Gunners, Pittsburgh Americans, Philadelphia Eagles, and the Louisville Tanks. Weighing only 170 pounds, he was noted as one of the smallest ends ever to play pro football.

He entered the armed services in 1943, but was given a medical discharge for an injury received in basic training. He began coaching at Whitman last year, having previously coached in Nebraska, Wyoming, and Kearney State college. The season's record to date of the Missionaries shows they have beaten every team with which a two game series was played, dumping Idaho, Washington State, the Pasco fliers, McCaw, Gonzaga, and Montana. At Walla Walla the Idaho hoopers won the first game 40 to 35, but the Walla Wallans rose up the next eve to hang a 41-23 defeat on the Vandal helmet. Carl Ackerman, and Bob Eckman, freshmen from Roosevelt High in Seattle have formed the vanguard of the Whitman attack this year, averaging 14 points per game each.

Washington Huskies Holding First Place In Hoop Race

NORTHERN DIVISION STANDINGS table with columns for W, L, PF, PA, PCT. Lists Washington, Oregon, Washington State, Oregon State, and Idaho.

Top ranking Washington kept its slate clean in the northern division hoop race last week-end with a pair of wins over the hapless Idaho Vandals, although extended to the fullest in the opener, while once-beaten Oregon remained in the runner-up position with a hard-fought victory over rival Oregon State. The Beavers entered the win column, however, by swamping Washington State Tuesday night. Only two conference games are scheduled for this week-end—the Cougars invading McArthur court for tilts against Oregon. Both Idaho and Washington have scheduled contests, but all are non-conference.

Webfoot Dick Wilkins continues to pace the pack in individual scoring with 47 points in five games, but Washington's sharp-shooting center, Don McMillan, advanced from sixth place last week to second with 44 tallies in four contests, best average to date. The Vandals have two members in the Big Ten—Len Pyne and Bob O'Connor, each with 35. Bevo guard, Bernie McGrath, turned in an 18-point performance against Oregon for the top individual scoring mark of the conference. This was two points higher than that registered by Idaho's Bill Carbaugh and Oregon's Smith. Washington hit 60 points against Idaho for highest team scoring so far, and the two clubs slapped in an accumulated 101 total, also high.

Oregon's Smith and Bartel lead in personal fouls with 17 and 15 respectively, while the two Oregon schools participated in the roughest contest, 41 fouls being called.

Big Ten table with columns for G, FG, FT, PF, TP. Lists Wilkins, Oregon; McMillan, Washington; Jorgensen, Washington; Hays, Oregon; Smith, Oregon; Hamilton, Oregon; Pyne, Idaho; O'Connor, Idaho; Vandenburg, Washington; Bartel, Oregon.

Rifle Teams Fire For Trophies In Major Meets

Rifle-pits in the armory are the scene of much activity, as the squeeze-them-in-the-black team is competing in three major meets this week, the ninth service command's Hearst trophy, the national Hearst trophy, and a quadrangular meet with the University of New Hampshire, Vermont, and Rhode Island State. The squad includes James Leeper, Glen Benjamin, Melvin Morrison, Darrell Gallup and Jack Gooding.

Last year's rifle team won all three of these meets with one of the highest scores ever compiled in the national meet. Sgt. Charles Cramer who is directing the shoot, said we have an excellent chance of winning again this year, in spite of the fact we have no four-year men, as the other schools have the same situation to face. Men who are taking, or have taken ROTC are competing in this meet. Scores are tabulated at the school were they are made, and the results mailed to the other schools.
