

If the freshman assembly had kept up the lively pace of the first half hour, it would have been, in Jason's opinion, the best class assembly of the year. Even though it dragged toward the end, the assembly showed ingenuity and talent. Judging from the quality of their first attempt, Jason looks forward to truly outstanding sophomore, junior, and senior entertainments from the class of 1948.

Six brave SAEs, the only male entrants in the Mother's Day Song Fest, drew well deserved applause for their "Idaho Medley." Whether the other six fraternities and Chrisman hall were too terrified at the idea of appearing at a predominantly female gathering to enter the Song Fest or whether they merely lacked interest and an inclination to spend time rehearsing, Jason doesn't know, but he passes on this remark voiced by several Sunday afternoon: "They give good serenades—why didn't they enter the Song Fest?"

The proverbial wet hen could have been no madder than members of the ASUI Activities Board last night when they discovered that their dance, entered on the calendar two months ago, is playing a sour second fiddle to four house affairs that made a late entry on the listing of campus week-end events.

Ever since the activities board was brought from its grave, dusted off and revived with an enterprising group of members two months ago, plans had gone forward on a "See You Next Fall" all-university dance planned for May 19. All was rosy. The event was there in plain sight, but group houses neglected to bring their spectacles when they consulted the calendar. Hays hall, Sigma Chi, Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Tau Delta went right ahead and planned their little affairs, neatly torpedoing the hard-working Activities Board members.

This is a highly regrettable incident and one that is now beyond repair, but it will serve as a warning for the future. All-university dances are entitled to have solo date on the calendar. The Activities Board was re-created to accelerate all-university affairs, but it is being forced out of existence.

A good deed for the Inter-Collegiate Knights, who have been cut down in their quota of good deeds this year due to a dearth of activities, is coming up this week-end with the arrival on the campus of 100 high school athletes from all over the state to participate in a track meet Saturday afternoon. These potential university students could stand a squiring about the campus and the I.K.s and the Spurs are the most likely prospects for the job. A good impression and a demonstration of interest now might spell the difference between the future student body of mediocre size and one that is larger. These sprightly track men might also come in handy for future Vandal teams if they feel the original reception warrants a return.

Another good deed the I.K.s, as the lone survivor of men's service honoraries, can look into if they are in the mood for servicing the university is that of handling the scoreboard at university baseball games. Restricted by a lack of functions and only performing those duties which enrich the coffers, the I.K.s seem to be in danger of dwindling. As one of the most respected and truly service groups on the campus, the I.K.s have lagged behind their parallel organization, the Spurs. The I.K.s should use every means to enhance their position and return the group to an enviable and highly respected niche in campus it deserves.

Darwin Brown is getting off to a roaring start in his role of ASUI president for next year. He has put forth a platform which is being run in this week's Argonaut, and has revolutionized presidential technique by installing an open house system and regular office hours. He can be contacted by students who wish to pass the time of day, laud him, or possibly assassinate him. In any eventuality, "Brownie" plans to be there. As an aid to understanding the drift of student opinion, nothing is better than Brown's "grass roots" method.

Freshman Assembly Shows 'Spring Fever' As Jinx

Revealing "Spring Fever" as the mysterious jinx, freshmen began their week-end of activities May 10 with an assembly in the university auditorium. General chairman for the week were Sharon O'Donnell and Steve Buck in charge of the assembly and John Dailey as head of arrangements for the "Spring Swing" dance held May 11.

Beginning the assembly program was Dean Hamilton with a vocal solo, followed by John Dailey appearing as the Mad Russian. Master of ceremonies Bob McCandless introduced the "Kid-dies Hour," a stunt prepared by Sigma Chi, Phi Pi and Gamma Phi freshmen. Other stunts were presented by Kappa Kappa Gamma, Delta Gamma and Gamma Phi, as well as Kappa Alpha Theta, Chrisman hall and Phi Gamma Delta. Solo Number

Solo numbers were given by Marion Stillinger singing a vocal solo and Kenny Smith playing the piano. Group stunts included in the program were by Alpha Phi and Hays hall. Other soloists in the program were Dan Strmac and Dorothy Monico. Carrying out the

Final Dance Decorations Show Year's Events

"See You Next Fall" has been announced as the theme for the final all-campus dance of the year to be held this Saturday at the student union ballroom and sponsored by the student activities board. Dancing to the music of Jim Huff's orchestra will start at 8:30 and last until 11:30.

Howard To Leave Idaho Faculty For New Position

Dean Pendleton Howard, nearly 16 years a member of the University of Idaho faculty, is resigning his position with the law school to take a professorship at University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

His resignation was submitted to President H. C. Dale and the board of regents Tuesday. President Dale said this morning a successor would not be selected until later in the year.

"I very much regret leaving the university and all my friends on the faculty and in Moscow," Dean Howard said. "But I feel that the opportunity offered at U. S. C. cannot be declined."

Effective June 30
Dean Howard's resignation is effective June 30. He recently accepted a summer session teaching offer at University of Missouri at Columbia, and leaves for there in mid-June, going to Los Angeles in September.

Howard came here in September, 1929, as a law professor. During the college term of 1933-34 he was a visiting professor at Northwestern university, Chicago, while on leave from his position here. Returning in September, 1934, he became dean of the college.

He first came here from New York city, where he was assistant district attorney and a lecturer at Columbia university.

Registrar Warns Of Records

Students interested in having their membership in honoraries and their work in activities put on their university transcript record should contact heads of group to which they belong, Registrar D. D. DuSault, warned this week.

He asserted that the activity and honorary records will not be accepted from students themselves, but must come from heads of the groups. He added that blanks had been sent out ten days ago to officers on which they were to list memberships and offices held by individuals, but that no response had been made as yet.

The listing of activities on transcripts comes from a desire from some employers to look into records other than scholastic ones, Mr. DuSault declared.

Council Ends Year By Planning Picnic

Geneva Ferguson and Donna Chapman are co-chairmen of a picnic which will close the year's work for the Inter-church Council. The party will be held behind the LDS Institute around the fireplace. All ministers and their wives and the presidents of the various college organizations will be invited as guests of the group.

According to Louise Schlegel, president, the council will meet at the LDS Institute next Tuesday at 5 p. m. and a definite date will be set for the picnic at that time.

Elaine Anderson, chairman of the board, announced that it will be a sport date-dance instead of a mixer as originally announced. Arrangements are now being made through women's living groups to secure dates for the high school boys who will be here for a track meet and who will be guests at the dance. Lucille Thompson will assist Coach J. A. Brown in the arrangements.

Last Event
Students will be reminded of the events of the year by the decorations which represent each college activity.

ASTR students have been invited to attend. They will be able to buy tickets for 75 cents from Bob Guisti at the Idaho club. Representatives in men's houses will sell to their groups. Tickets may be purchased at the dance also. Dance programs can be secured Saturday afternoon in the Committee chairmen, working Bucket.

under Miss Anderson, are all members of the activities board. They include Mary Dochios and Bob Nelson, decorations; June Williams, programs; Clara Beth Young, tickets; Lucille Thompson, orchestra; and Betty Craggs, publicity.

Patrons and patronesses are Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marty and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Deters.

Veterans Record Preferences

According to questionnaires returned by 30 veterans on the Idaho campus, men coming back to the university after serving in the armed forces want women to be more mature and companionable. They also stated that they dislike being called "chased" and want more consideration from the women about their problems.

The men also stated they like basketball, football and dancing for entertainment. The majority do not care for rallies and assemblies. Suggestions made by veterans for improvements of Moscow include the establishment of a bowling alley and skating rink and the lowering of admission prices at local theaters. They also suggested the opening of night clubs. Many expressed their desire for the establishment of an organization for World War II veterans.

Age range of the veterans was from 20 to 30 years with the average of 24. The questionnaires showed the majority of men are from southern Idaho and most are planning to return to the university next year.

Viola Steneck, a senior in the sociology department, conducted the survey. Tom Campbell, Len Wilson, Dick Nichols, and Darwin Brown aided her.

Marion Krussman Appointed Editor

Marion Krussman was appointed Gem editor for the following year at a meeting of the publication board and ratified by the executive board, Fred Watson, ASUI president stated last night.

Miss Krussman will be assisted by Jean Thompson, newly appointed business manager. Ethel Jane Kopelman and Donna Harding will be assistant business managers.

Other appointments for the Gem will probably be made next week, Watson announced. Miss Krussman was one of the assistant editors for this year's annual yearbook.

Club Fetes Seniors

Seniors will be honored with a breakfast following mass on Sunday, May 27, at 10 a. m. by members of Newman club. The breakfast will be held at the parish hall of the church.

Faculty Approves Constitution For New Club

Idaho's university faculty Tuesday accepted a new constitution under which a formally organized faculty club will be set up for the first time on the campus. Presiding at the meeting which approved the document were President Harrison C. Dale and Dr. William J. Brockelbank.

Established by the constitution was a board of directors consisting of three members who will serve two years and three members serving one year. Following the acceptance of the document by the group, Mrs. Milton C. Albrecht, Robert E. Hosack and Dr. Brockelbank were elected by the club to act as members of the board for two years.

Representatives
Representatives elected to serve for one year terms were Dean Ralph H. Farmer, Miss Margaret Ritchie and Dr. Robert Bessey. Also invited to serve on the board are two members of the Faculty Women's club whose names have not yet been announced.

Leaving some decisions to be made in the future by the board, the constitution and officers will assume control of the club in September. Dr. Brockelbank, chairman of the constitutional committee appointed by President Dale, stated that he has "every hope for a good club," and that "everything looks fine for the moment."

Serving on the constitutional committee which has now been dissolved were Mrs. Albrecht, W. M. Beeson, Merrill Deters, Robert F. Greene and H. Walter Steffens. Representatives from the Faculty Women's club were Mrs. D. E. Warren and Mrs. D. E. Corless.

Installation Held During AWS Tea

Jean Thompson was formally installed as president of the Associated Women Students yesterday afternoon at a tea given at the Blue Bucket. Other new officers installed include Mary Dochios, vice president; Gerry Merrill, secretary, and Bette Scott, orientation chairman.

The tea is the last regular meeting of this organization for the school year. In charge of arrangements was Florence Hanny, social chairman, assisted by Barbara Smith and Bette French.

Presiding
Presiding at the tea table were Dean Louise Carter, faculty advisor of the group, and Bette French, past president.

According to present plans the proposed activity point revision system will be carried over until next year when it will be given a more complete test. Barbara Smith will remain chairman of this proposed constitutional amendment.

Festivities For Mothers Draw 500 Spectators

Highlight of the Mother's Day festivities on the university campus was the annual May Fete sponsored by Mortar Board. Nearly 500 people attended.

Mailing List

Men and women students entering military service at the end of the school year are requested to leave their names and home addresses with the War Records Committee, room 201-A, Ad Bldg., so that their names may go on the mailing list to receive the "Letter From The Idaho Campus."

H. C. Dale Receives Letter On Therapy

Pres. Harrison C. Dale has received a letter from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, asking for university students who are interested in a course in physical therapy to help in the fight against the disease.

One thousand scholarships are being offered through the nation, according to President Dale, who declared that there is no qualified physical therapist in the state of Idaho.

Interested students may contact Coach J. A. Brown.

Ceremonies started with the professional at 2 p. m. led by members of Mortar Board, national honorary for senior women, dressed in their black sweaters and skirts. Following came Cardinal Key, national honorary for upper class women, in light blue uniform with cardinal and gold insignia. Immediately preceding the royal party were members of Spur, national honorary for sophomore women, wearing pastel formal dresses. As the group passed down the middle of the gymnasium to the foot of the throne, they were announced by Jackie Lewis of Los Angeles, mistress of ceremonies.

At the foot of the throne Elaine Anderson, maid of honor from Preston, received the crown of white carnations from Jean Pugh, page from St. Maries, and placed it upon the head of Miss Thomas in the coronation ceremony. Miss Thomas then ascended to the throne to reign throughout the rest of the ceremonies attended by Molly Banks, Suzanne Tyrrell, Michael Standley, and John Buchanan, who acted as train bearers and strew flowers before the entering queen.

Following the coronation the

Players Present 'Fresh Fields' At Army Bases

University Players left Tuesday on a four-day tour to present "Fresh Fields" before nearby army bases and Baxter General hospital at Spokane. The humorous comedy was recently presented at the university auditorium. Army trucks arrived in Moscow at noon Tuesday to transport the cast and crew with their director, Jean Collette, to Spokane.

During the tour the group will make headquarters at Galena where they are guests of the aircraft repair base. The plans making the trip are Ed Dalva, Marvin Trigaro, Steve Buck, Grace Lillard, Enid Almqvist, Joy Ferguson, Joanne Hunter, Marion Wilson, Lois Fox, Don Rankin, Lenore Mays, Jerry Merrill, Barbara Jo Balsler, Marjorie Mock, Jean Pugh and Elizabeth Hadley.

Return Friday
Production schedule is Baxter hospital and Galena, May 16; Geiger field, May 17. The players will return to Moscow Friday.

June 2, the players will present "Fresh Fields" for the last time. This presentation, sponsored by Curtin club, has been planned as part of the commencement program.

Brown Announces Change in Plans For ASUI in '45

In expectation of improving ASUI plans for 1945 Darwin Brown, newly elected student body president, announced tentative changes to be made. Brown stressed that as yet the proposed plans have not been acted upon and are still under consideration.

Steps that will be considered are:

1. Regular office hours for the ASUI president.
2. A filing system established for the executive board minutes under headings of the activities affected.

Weekly Meetings

3. Weekly meetings of the ASUI president and secretary with the graduate manager to work out agenda for following the executive board meeting.
4. A sincere attempt to stimulate an Idaho Alumni association.
5. Possibly a homecoming.
6. All present major committees will be retained.

Brown asked for student consideration of the changes.

Group To Initiate Saturday

Sunrise initiation will be held Saturday morning for new pledges of Mortar Board. Following initiation, a breakfast will be held at the hotel with Dean Louise Carter as the principal speaker.

Besides Dean Carter, other advisors to be present are Jean Collette, and Mrs. Kenneth Hensley.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester 1944-45

(Three-hour examinations—two examination periods each day.)

Final examinations scheduled Wednesday, May 30, will be taken by all students. All senior grades MUST BE filed on or before May 30th, so graduating seniors in classes for which examinations are scheduled after May 30th must be given special examinations between May 26th and May 30th inclusive. Only those special senior examinations should be scheduled before May 30th. Grades for graduating seniors are to be filed in the registrar's office within 48 hours after the examination, and all senior grades must be filed on or before Wednesday, May 30th. The examination reports should not be dropped in mail boxes in other buildings, but should be delivered to the registrar's office. (There is a slot in the door.) We hope for the cooperation of faculty members in filing ALL their grades on time.

We cannot start working on senior averages until all grades are in. The regular class rooms will be used for the examinations unless instructors make other arrangements through the Registrar's office. Examinations in courses not included in the schedule will be arranged by the individual instructors so as not to conflict with examinations here scheduled. Examinations in courses comprised of lecture and laboratory periods may be scheduled according to the sequence of either. Announcement of time should be made by the instructor. Rooms should be reserved in the registrar's office in order to avoid conflicts, both for "arranged" examinations and for special examinations.

RASPBERRY BUSH

Woe be unto the lowly male! Concealed furtively in the happy honeysuckle that honeysucks in front of the U. Hut, one of the rarer-of-the-species was placidly contemplating the cosmos when three females hove into earshot, totally unaware of their audience. "Well, first I'll take my skirt up to HERE—" "UmHUM!" "And then get some REAL tight sweaters—"

You may contact Zeb Hodge for the remainder of the conversation. The male was last sighted flying low over Palouse Falls. (1)

Disciplinary Force
 Strolling meditatively over the campus 't'other day, with weighty problems of the S. F. conference burdening his not-to-be-burdened intelligence, your Buser blundered upon a Little Nachur Drammer. Five small birds were in vicious free-for-all, complete with cheepings, chirpings, peckings, and squawking. Feathers drifted idly to the lawn. With a raucous screech of triumphant justice, a robin swooped into the midst of the tiny trouble-makers, who backed off, eyeing Patrolman Redbreast with restrained malice. Peace was restored... Now where were we—oh yes, the S. F. Conference...

Department of Creating Animosities presents this week's Thought Problem: When they are seniors, what would the frosh class think if they had to sit through their own assembly of last Thursday? It's a moot question. Jim Pironi has emphatically requested publicity in today's Arg for the Cys. Well, that was it. Now as to some publicity Jimmy may not be expecting—there is a class under the instruction of Mrs. Lattig in which the aforementioned Cyer is enrolled. But it must be boring. Or what prompted Mrs. Lattig to muse, "By not attending class, does the little brother of the White Star expect to pass?" And from there we could go into a further dissertation on serenades that are more seen than heard... But no... (2)

Sun Worshipers
 Dr. F. C. Church had occasion to stroll past the Delta Gamma house on a fine spring day recently. The sun was shining. And Dr. Church was reminded of a quotation from Elijah that runs "Lift thine eyes..." Come another sunny day, the queue will form to the right, please.

Kipling, Webster, Et Al
 From the Department of Research comes a report on current student philosophies, with annotations. Here it is, at face value: "All cats are grey by night." The cat C A T, is found to be antithetical to the dog, D O G, just as day is to night. This may indicate that though black be black and white be white, perhaps the twain shall meet. (3)

"Why buy a cow when milk is so cheap?" (Our economist is in Washington, D. C., working on this now.) "It's the squeaking wheel that gets the grease." Not being farmed, Mr. Webster got us off the track with "grease"—heels. An inflammation of the skin of the fetlocks and pasterns of horses marked by an oily secretion, ulcerations, and in severe cases, by grapes... Further research is needed.

"There's a cover for every pot." Mr. Webster was very helpful with the word pot, of which "colloq. of money, a large sum." Now try matching that up with one of Mr. Webster's 15 definitions for "cover." We predict that there is millions in making a parlor game out of it.

Riddle: Was it the coach or his girl friend in the grandstand who was most irritated when Carl Neiworth failed to appear as scheduled for a track meet because he spent the afternoon in the arms of Morpheus? Well, it just better not happen again.

Don Kamp Elected ASME Chairman
 Holding elections at 4 p.m. in Kirtley laboratory, Associated Society of Mechanical Engineers men elected Don Kamp as chairman for the ensuing year. Ronald Kilborn will assume the duties of vice chairman, and John Pointner, secretary-treasurer. Henry F. Gauss, head of the department of mechanical engineering, was re-elected honorary chairman.

Outgoing officers are Joe Doss, chairman, Fred Watson, vice chairman, and Bill Abbott, secretary-treasurer.

Personality

... Of The Week

It was a bleak night some 20 years ago in the little town of Preston when little Elaine made her debut on the scene.

Years passed and Elaine landed at the U. of I. after graduating from Preston high school with high honors. After three years at this institution of higher learning she has managed to pile up a record of activities and scholarship which could well be the envy of any ambitious co-ed.

This smiling junior started her college career as a home economics major but after two years was lured into an English major and now has hopes of seeing a B. A. degree come her way in June a year hence. School teaching will occupy her time when she graduates.

Besides maintaining a high scholastic average, Elaine has been a member of Spurs, Cardinal Key, Alpha Lambda Delta, Lambda Delta Sigma, the Varsity debate team, Curtains and Inter-Church Council. She is assistant news editor of the Argonaut, head of the student activities board, ran for president of ASUI on the Independent ticket, and was maid of honor at the May Fete where she was tapped for Mortar Board.

What does she do with her spare time? She is the secretary of the Horticulture department. Then to fill in the idle after-midnight hours she knocks off a nightly letter to the South Pacific.

The weaknesses to which she will admit are banana cream pie and "Mansius"—the latter being a New York G. I., not a drug.

Book Learning
 Comes easy to her but she says she's stumped by the game of golf. "I'm fond of it but the people on the course aren't fond of me," she sadly admits.

Miss Anderson has a variety of summer occupations—among them traveling, bookkeeping, and stenographic work. For hobbies she plays tennis and goes ice skating. Elaine's stomping grounds have been Forney hall and Mary house, but she's back at Forney now, where her winning smile, reliability, and unique sense of humor have won her the respect and admiration of everyone she knows. All in all, Anderson is a swell girl and one pretty well marked for success.

Pre-Medics Attend Initiation Banquet
 Alpha Epsilon Delta, national pre-medics honorary, held a formal initiation banquet on Thursday, May 10. The six new members are, Judy Boon, Betty Craggs, Evelyn Deering, Mary Dochios, Denise Magnusson, and William Shull.

After the initiation ceremony at the student union ballroom, the group was served with an initiation banquet at the Hotel Moscow. Dr. James C. Braddock gave an after-dinner address on his latest research paper.

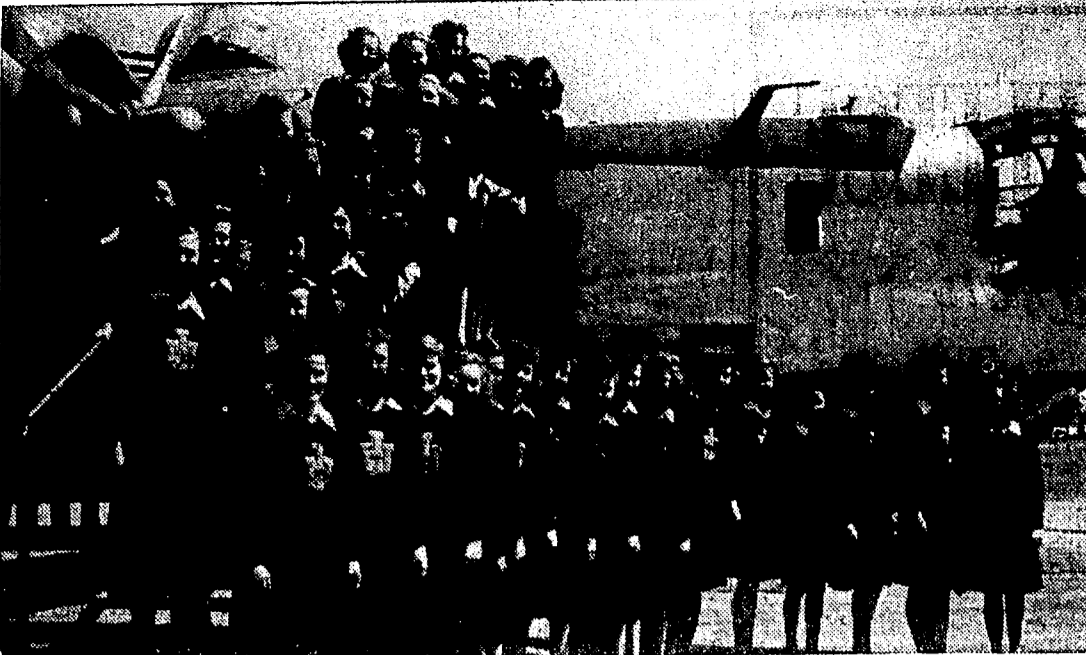

Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. Braddock, and Mrs. Robert Amussen.

Canterbury Picnic
 Concluding the year for Canterbury society was a picnic held Tuesday at the home of the Rev. Warren Fowler. Following a picnic supper, members played games. Plans for the event were arranged by Lyn Hopkins and Frances Rhea. Last formal meeting of the group was held May 8.

"COUNTER-ATTACK"

Idaho's All-Girl Singing Orchestra brought a successful season to a close when the group appeared at the university song fest on Mother's Day. Since its debut in December under the direction of A. A. Beecher, the orchestra has given 40 concerts and has appeared before 45,000 persons, about half of whom have been servicemen.

RECORD RAMBLINGS

By BETTE FAYE SOLBERG
 According to the latest reviews from disk companies, a series of albums are being released which will stamp jazz more firmly into the history of American music. They are being featured in an educational series which is definitely new and different. Among the great bands being featured is Louis Armstrong and his arrangements of "I Gotta Right to Sing the Blues," "St. Louis Blues," and "Basin Street Blues." Lionel Hampton's "Stompology," "Don't Be That Way," and "On the Sunny Side of the Street" are also included in this series.

Aquatic Classes Present Pageant
 Benny Goodman boosters will be interested in the fact that they will be able to buy the old favorites "Body and Soul," "After You've Gone," "Stompin' at the Savoy," and "Dinah" all in the same album.

Since all the records are strictly not jazz, you might think that each one was the same as the other according to style; however, many types of jazz are represented.

"Caldonia" Capers
 Take a listen to the new blues novelty, "Caldonia," by Erskine Hawkins. Featured on the other side of this platter is a new singer destined to become one of the country's outstanding swing ballad singers. O.K., but just remember the name Carol Tucker.

Have you heard Perry Como's rendition of "Temptation?" The complete "Supper Club" organization was on hand for the recording and the finished copy is tops.

Many of you are familiar with the Four Clefs and their popular record, "Four Clef Woogie." This group which featured bass, guitar, drums, and piano have again scored a hit with their "V-Day Stomp" and "Why Be So Blue" recording.

T. D. Becomes M. C.
 The group of T. Dorsey admirers will be able to hear him as master of ceremonies for the "Music America Loves Best" radio program on Sundays. However, T. D. will appear with Jay Blackton's band, not his own.

Did you know that Jose Iturbi performs in shirt sleeves while he is recording, while Yehudi Menuhin wears an old suede sport coat when he's waxing discs for Victor. On the other hand Marion Anderson leaves her high heels under a table while she performs in flat-heeled moccasins.

High-Brow Winner
 A young New York baritone, Robert Merrill, has paired off with Jeanette McDonald in "Close As Pages In a Book" backed by the hilarious "The Fireman's Bride." Merrill has just been announced as one of the two winners in this season's Metropolitan Opera auditions. Other artists who have gained success through this contest are Patrice Munsel, Margaret Harshaw and Thomas L. Thomas.

Chloe Still Missing
 Well, I leave you for now with a side note on Spike Jones. It seems that after recording his arrangement of the ever popular "Chloe" he inserted an ad in the New York Post saying "Chloe; Where Are You? Baritone Driving Me Crazy!" It explained it simply by saying, "I got so tired of hearing baritone on the stage shouting for Chloe." He has decided that the stickers will find her once and for all and put a stop to all this nonsense.

Minute Maids

Choose Officers

Betty Jean... was elected president of Minute Maids at a meeting held last night. Other newly elected officers are Fleeta Williams, vice president; Patricia Robinson, secretary; and Pierina Truant, treasurer.

Women tapped for membership in the organization last week are Betty Jean Rustay, Alpha Phi; Patricia Robinson, Delta Delta Delta; Fleeta Williams, Alpha Chi Omega.

Maybelle Harris, Delta Gamma; Dede Edgington, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Barbara Thompson, Pi Beta Phi; Patricia Bridgwell, Kappa Alpha Theta; Juanita Bryan, Gamma Phi Beta; Mavis Carlson, Delta Tau Gamma; Pierina Truant, Forney hall; Dorothy Moulton, Hays hall; and Nola Whybark, Ridenbaugh hall.

Charter members of the newly organized group are Shirley Williams, Beverly Budge, Betty Bohner, Margaret DeKlotz, Regina Depper, Hazel Mooney, Eloise Soule, Barbara Miller, Pauline Lundgren, and Mary Bockman.

Other charter members are Edna Garrett, Maxine Bjorklund, Carrie Smith, Glyta Payne, Edna Burau, Billie Odberg, Freda Sparrow, and Jean Priest.

While at the university he was a varsity football player and wrestler. He is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Graduate Of '41 Receives Cross
 Marine First Lt. Gordon T. Sandison, university graduate in 1941, has received the navy cross, according to a marine corps announcement recently. The award is the second highest medal which can be given navy personnel.

Cited for heroism during the recapture of Guam, Lieutenant Sandison was decorated at Camp Pendleton, Calif., where he has been stationed after nearly two years overseas.

While at the university he was a varsity football player and wrestler. He is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

G.I. REPORT

Back To Work

Well, here I am again, back on the job after a furlough to try to inform the general public of the happenings in the old ASTRP unit here on the campus. The week's furlough helped things out a lot. In spite of the lack of sleep, everyone is back at work again now. Changes

A few things have changed since last term. Pvt. Kenneth T. Chase practically killed anyone who touched him during the first few days of the new term. It seems he concocted a bright red color on his face and back during his furlough. This was especially noticeable behind his ears. We kept telling him it's sunburn, but he insists on calling it various names of his own. Don't feel too badly about it, Pvt. Chase, you are not alone in your misery.

It looks as though spring has finally blessed Moscow with her gentle touch. Perhaps the signs on the yellow lawns should be changed from "Please Keep Off the Grass" to "Please Keep Off the Dandelions."

Uncle Sam's Letters
 The most noticeable change has been in the forty some ASTRP fellows who received letters from the war department last week. Now the time has come for us poor candidates for the infantry to laugh at the boys in the air corps.

Pvt. Walter K. Duffy made his debut into Kappa society last Friday night when he attended the freshman dance. Incidentally, there have been no complaints from the twenty odd fellows who attended this dance. Not having gone myself, because of a lack of funds, I cannot give a personal opinion of the affair, but all who went stated that they had a very enjoyable time.

Welcome
 We are glad to see Pvt. Robert Wilson back with the company. It seems that Bob had his tonsils out during his furlough and was a week after the rest of us getting back. That's really tough, Bob. Only 11 days at home.

Communique Comment

With Europe written off as a battle area, vast rivers of men and supplies are being diverted from that theater to the Pacific area. It was reported that ocean transports bound for Europe with munitions and troops were radioed when victory was announced to change their courses and head for the Pacific. Although the end of the Nazis will mean the discharge of over a million troops, and keep perhaps a million more in Europe for some length of time, the majority of the men in our European armies will be diverted to the Pacific. It is hoped that by the vast concentration of men and supplies which will now be made available for the war against Japan, the struggle in the east will progress toward victory with even greater rapidity.

The possibility that the Russians may soon enter the war against them has the Japanese quaking. In recent months the Japs have used all the tactics of ingratiating to assure Russia that their feelings toward her have never been anything but the friendliest. Whether Russia will actually declare war on Japan is a matter of the purest speculation. At the end of the war with Germany, the United States ceased the shipment of virtually all lend-lease supplies to the Soviet Union. However, we are continuing to ship equipment for the trans-Siberian railway, the route which the Russians would have to employ to ship supplies to the east for a war against Japan. It is known that a faction of the Japanese, principally the business interests, are interested in the quickest termination of the war. The increasing intensity of American air attacks on the homeland have made them fearful for the safety of their factories and industrial equipment. It is felt that these quarters might bring some pressure to bear on the Japanese government for an earlier peace than would be consented to by the fanatic clique of young militarists.

MUCH CRITICISM has been voiced concerning the sorority-fraternity system and the resentments and disappointments arising from their creation of a Greek elite, but little or no criticism has been directed at the almost equally unfair system of honoraries which leaves just as many broken hearts in its wake after the May Fete tapping spree as does the sorority-fraternity system after rush week.

In spite of attempts to make selection of members for honoraries as impartial as possible through the use of house elections, point systems, grade averages, in doubtful cases honoraries have no more objective basis for selecting members than do social groups. Borderline cases must be decided upon "personality and leadership" qualities that can't be accurately judged by a group of women who rely almost entirely upon secondhand information in forming their opinions. Actually, the woman who has friends in the organization, and is well known on the campus has a better chance for membership than a shy and retiring one, even though she may have been a diligent worker.

The activity point system drawn up to help honoraries evaluate candidates more impartially is inadequate because it merely counts the number of activities a candidate has signed up for with no attempt to distinguish between members who work in an organization and members who sign up to accumulate an impressive list of activities after their names in the Gem. Those who concentrate their efforts in drama, debate, music, or home economics and devote the time and effort necessary to be a valuable member of the group are usually left out in the cold at tapping time with those who have dabbled in a dozen organizations.

However, most of the women eligible for these organizations should have received enough personal satisfaction from their participation in activities to make the honor of belonging to Spurs, Mortar Board, or Cardinal Key secondary.

In our opinion, too much stress is placed upon the honorary system. Tapping at the May Fete with visiting mothers present sends many visitors home a little disappointed in a university whose honoraries failed to recognize their daughters' talents by choosing them for an organization. We feel that the Saturday festivities before Mothers' Day should be more truly a May Fete with a program consisting largely of folk dances and music—not just an opportunity for honoraries to take the limelight.

WE HAVE READ with a great deal of satisfaction a series of statements from college students appearing in this month's issue of the Woman's Home Companion in regard to an article two months ago written by Mrs. Glenn Frank condemning the sorority system in colleges and universities. Mrs. Frank has since been roughly ousted from Pi Beta Phi for her stand, a good indication of the worth of her article.

Student comments in the magazine uphold Mrs. Frank in a majority of the cases. What's more startling is the fact that even Greek women themselves have worked up the gumption to be critical of the hallowed roof under which they live.

A few sample remarks by Greek women follow: "The sorority system is a vicious and snobbish one. Members are chosen according to artificial standards. Negroes and Jews are strictly excluded and only a limited number of Catholics are accepted."—J. F. University of Michigan, a Pi Phi.

"The sad part is that those who might gain in poise and confidence from sorority life are generally the ones who are passed by, for the very reason that they do lack social ease and can't make small talk at a rushtea..."—N. I. Wellesley college.

"Rushing requires sorority members to make snap judgments based on superficial attributes of the rushee as opposed to real personal quality. This sort of friend-selection becomes a habit in college and may influence a person's sense of judgment in later years."—K. K., Alpha Chi Omega, Northwestern university.

"Not just my sorority but all sororities have a single common ideal for more gracious living, keener understanding and finer friendships and these are factors in life which we can all profit by."—A. L., Kappa Alpha Theta, Ohio State.

"People who castigate fraternities are peering from without. They charge clamorously yet selection of membership can be charged against any organization, even labor unions."—J. L., Sigma Alpha Mu, University of Michigan.

Semi-Formals, Picnics Take Over When Mothers' Activities Close

With the Mothers' Day festivities over, Idaho students can once again settle down to the quiet social life of spring formal and picnics.

Saturday evening, Sigma Chi will hold their semi-formal dinner dance. Dinner will be served at the Moscow hotel at 6:30 followed by dancing at the fraternity house. Representatives from each fraternity on the campus will be invited to attend the dance. "Spring Garden" will be the theme with LeRoy Anderson as general chairman in charge of arrangements. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. T. Rowland, and Mrs. J. E. Gardner will be the patrons and patronesses. Music will be provided by KWSC.

Mothers Are Visitors

Over the week-end a number of mothers visited the Idaho campus. Guests at Delta Gamma were Mesdames W. Scott Rogers, R. E. Still, M. B. Harrington, Ernest Thompson, N. O'Donnell, J. L. Thomas, C. M. Solberg, C. E. Lampman, George Donart, T. S. Gayley, L. S. Harrison, H. C. Finch, W. J. Harris, Ward Gano, and Charles Glenn. Sally Smith, Portland, Patty Griffin, Lewiston, and Barbara Rutledge, Boise, were also week-end guests.

Pi Beta Phi Entertains

Pi Beta Phi entertained their mothers at a fireside Saturday evening at which the pledge class gave a skit. Those mothers present were Mesdames George Gage, T. G. Dege, F. T. Cosgriff, E. D. Trekel, W. C. Miller, and D. R. Theophilus. Mr. and Mrs. William Bucholtz also visited.

Kappa Kappa Gamma women were hostesses to twenty-two guests over the week-end. Those present at an informal fireside given by the pledge class Sunday evening were Mrs. W. Spaeth, Mrs. R. T. Hopkins, Mrs. Frank A. Rhea, Mrs. Harvey Smith, Mrs. George Edgington, Mrs. J. P. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ferguson, Mrs. R. D. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Pennell, Mrs. John Reed, Mrs. George Wittman, Mrs. John Gist, Mrs. W. J. Thomas, Ginger Thomas, Mrs. R. Kaylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. Garrison, Mrs. C. W. Hickman, Mrs. A. J. Powell, and Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Bolen. Miss Mary McDonald, Grangeville, was a dinner guest Monday night.

Hays Hall Mothers Attend

Guests at Hays hall were Mrs. F. H. Whiteman, Mrs. J. F. Valadon, Mrs. E. A. LaTurner, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Burgess, Mrs. J. I. Diehl, Mrs. F. W. MacKay, Mrs. H. L. Oakley, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Doumceq, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Campbell, Mrs. Ernest Tangley, Mrs. Isabella Peterson, Mrs. F. L. Chaney, Mrs. E. J. Webb, Phillip Moulton, Mrs. W. L. Kinder, Mrs. A. King, Mary Anne King, Mrs. B. Talley, Mrs. C. Fowler, Mrs. D. Aeschliman, Mrs. Paul Mueller, and Mrs. Don Milliken. Hays hall seniors held their formal banquet Tuesday evening. Dean Louise Carter was guest speaker. The traditional favors of Idaho plates were given to the twelve seniors.

Week-end guests at Phi Gamma Delta were Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacCandless. Phi Gamma Delta will hold a fireside Friday evening.

Guests at Ridenbaugh hall over the week-end were Mrs. A. Frear, Mrs. E. H. Flaig, Mrs. F. Wetter, Mrs. Andy Mitros, Miss Mary McBride, Miss Betty Dimico, Mrs. Mildred Bliss, Mrs. W. W. Thompson, Mrs. Wallace Shultz, Mrs. W. J. Florence, Mrs. Eric W. Matson, Mrs. Ray Kincaid, and Mrs. Ray Moreland. Wednesday evening guests included Mr. and Mrs. Eric Matson and Mr. and Mrs. M. Lungren.

Visit At Sigma Chi

Visiting Sigma Chi last week-end were Mrs. A. Swanson, Spokane and Mr. R. C. Ohms, Payette. Forney hall visitors over the week-end were Mesdames G. F. DeKloz, M. J. Tilburg, C. C. Gardner, H. J. Dittman, J. Fox, W. G. Bloomsburg, A. E. Deering, G. F. Depner, O. P. Merrill, W. B. Deobald, W. A. Gardine, E. C. Anderson, A. W. Hansen, C. R. Carnie, R. C. Pence, W. S. Evans, Ned Traunt, Ralph Jellison, G. W. Tarbet, W. Orava, C. S. Hodge, E. A. Seiter, and Miss Ann Orava. Forney hall will hold their senior dinner Thursday evening with Dean Louise Carter as guest. Dancing will follow the dinner.

Kappa Sigma is host. Kappa Sigma entertained Mrs. H. V. Creason from Rupert, and

Mr. and Mrs. John Dailey from Boise, Sunday. Gamma Phi Beta held a fireside Saturday evening at which the following mothers were present: Mesdames R. A. Ring, A. D. McMahon and her daughter, Sue McMahon, J. R. Bryon, C. P. Humphrey, D. G. Koehl, W. R. Echternech, H. Benoit, C. J. Seymour, A. E. Becker, J. N. Madsen, Mary MacDonald, F. Dodd, S. V. Long, O. C. Wilson, J. E. Brandt, and L. J. Swerty. Mrs. Robert Remaklus was a dinner guest Sunday. Wednesday evening dinner guests were Marilyn Williams, Ted Sherman and Marion Sherman, and Katherine Fowles.

Delta Tau Delta

Delta Tau Delta will present their "Kandy Kisses" dance Saturday evening. Bob Gardner is the general chairman in charge of arrangements. Guests entertained at the Alpha Chi Omega house over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Smith, Mesdames R. M. Copper, N. N. Medved, O. W. Aing, L. W. Sanberg, M. C. Harding, J. H. Field, C. E. Wilson, C. Tucker and R. Davis. Alpha Chi Omega will hold their semi-formal spring dance Saturday night at 9 p. m. Patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Packenham, Mr. and Mrs. Hall Macklin, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson. Music will be provided by Mac's. Mrs. Olson Visits

Department Holds Music Recital

Doris Adams, pianist, and Virginia Transee, mezzo-soprano with Rosa Aseuaga as accompanist, will be presented in a recital by the music department this evening at 8 in the university auditorium. Miss Adams and Miss Transee are juniors in the school of music and members of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music honorary.

Pledges' Carnival Is Scheduled

Pledges classes of Gamma Phi Beta and Delta Gamma will hold their annual dance Friday evening at the Gamma Phi Beta house. "Carnival" will be the theme of the dance with Maybelle Harris and Janet Madsen as the chairmen, in charge of arrangements. Refreshments will be served and the music will be provided by KWSC. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marty, Mrs. Roy Van Winkle and Mrs. T. Macartney will be the chaperones.

Music Features Planned For Summer School

Three new music features appear on the program for the university's 1945 summer school, announces A. A. Beecher, music department head. The music work this summer will cover theory, teaching, and applied music at all levels from the grade and rural instructor who teaches music as a sideline up to the professional teacher giving private lessons.

First new feature is the summer music camp of three weeks, June 11 to June 30, for high school students. This summer camp is planned for student-musicians who were deprived of state contests and festivals this year and to provide band, orchestra, and chorus opportunity to students in schools not having music teachers.

Second Feature

Second new feature is a music educator's workshop, of two weeks duration, June 25 to July 7. In this workshop, practical problems in music education will be studied and new teaching materials reviewed. Professor Beecher also indicates the workshop has been designed to assist musicians seeking a wartime emergency teaching certificate.

The third new feature is a piano teachers clinic, which will be held the fifth week of the summer school, July 9 to 11.

Four guest instructors will come to the campus to assist the resident music staff during the six-week summer school, June 11 to July 20, Professor Beecher announces.

Department Holds Music Recital

Doris Adams, pianist, and Virginia Transee, mezzo-soprano with Rosa Aseuaga as accompanist, will be presented in a recital by the music department this evening at 8 in the university auditorium. Miss Adams and Miss Transee are juniors in the school of music and members of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music honorary.

Miss Adams will open the program with the playing of Mozart's "Concerto in D minor" with the orchestra parts played on the second piano by Joseph Bryce. For her first group of songs, Miss Transee will sing "He Shall Feed His Flock" by Handel; "Il Mio Core" by Fedeli; Tost's "Serenade" and "Nebbia" by Respighi.

Miss Adams will conclude her part of the program with the playing of "Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 5" by Liszt, and two Rachmaninoff preludes, in E flat and G minor.

Miss Transee will close the evening's recital with four songs by contemporary composers; "Spend-thrift" by Charles; "Transformation" by Watts; "American Lullaby" by Rich and Charles Cadman's "The Moon Behind the Cottonwood."

game, Sunday, the Sigma Alpha Epsilons will have their annual picnic on Moscow mountain. Visiting the fraternity this week are Ensign Russell Wilson from Twin Falls, who graduated from Idaho in '43, and Pvt. Jack Christopher from Moscow. Both are members of the fraternity. Mrs. Albert Wellman from Kellogg, and Mrs. Richard Nichols, Coeur d'Alene, were visitors over the week-end.

Here's More About FESTIVITIES.

Spurs presented their traditional May pole dance.

Each year the Women's Athletic Association and Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic honorary, make awards to the senior women who have been outstanding in their respective fields. Jane Meyer, Gooding, president of WAA, awarded the cup this year to Ruth Leth, Buhl, for outstanding service in WAA, campus activity and scholarship.

Alpha Lambda Delta, with Joyce McMahon, Jerome, president, officiating, awarded to all senior women who through seven semesters have maintained a grade point average of 3.5 or above certificates of their achievement. To Julien Paulson, Troy, who maintained the highest average with 3.91, was awarded a book of the complete works of Shakespeare.

Spur Pledges

Newly pledged members of Spur were then escorted from their seats in the audience by the 1944-45 members and introduced by Geraldine Merrill, Preston, president.

New pledges are: Marilyn Day, Rupert; Elaine Smith, Jerome; Bonnie Burnside, Rupert; Mary Jane Parks, Buhl; Vivian McLaughlin, St. Maries; Patricia Still, Nampa; Helene Rogers, Spokane; Margaret Arnold, Kimberly; Pierina Truant, Kellogg; Geneva Frand, Idaho Falls; Shirley Brund, Spokane; Margaret Walters, Pendleton, Ore.; Doris Gochmour, Burley; Eve Smith, Lewiston; Marguerite Dore, Madras, Ore.; Barbara Spaeth, Jerome; Frances Rhea, Boise. Others are Jacqueline Ritchie, Idaho Falls; Louise Cosgriff, Kellogg; Donna Chapman, Orofino; Billy Justice, Hagerman; Maxine Bjorklund, Joyce Hanson, Moscow, and Shirley Yenor, St. Maries.

Cardinal Key carried out its tradition of tapping new members at this point and on completion of selection, Patricia Hagan, Moscow, president, introduced them as Evelyn Fisher, Kellogg; Lucille, Thompson, Moscow; Ora White, Idaho Falls; Leona Eales, Caldwell; Virginia Geddes, Preston; Louise Schlegel, Walla Walla, Wash.; Betty Ann Crags, Idaho Falls; Ethel Kopelman, Boise; Bette Scott, Moscow; Madelyn Sanberg, Jerome; Lalene Cargill, Coeur d'Alene; Joyce McMahon, Jerome; Geraldine Merrill, Preston, and Donna Harding, Nezperce.

To Senior Society. A red rose was presented to the following by Mortar Board when they were invited to join the organization: Clara Beth Young, Edmond, Calif.; Barbara Smith, Spokane; Ada Mae Rich, Blackfoot; Marian Krussman, Pocatello; Mary Jane Hawley, Buhl; Mary Jane Donart, Weiser; Mary Dochios, Rathdrum; Pat Hagan, Moscow; Eloise Deobald, Kendrick; Betty Echternech, Lewiston; Elaine Anderson, Preston. Membership is based on scholarship, leadership and activities. Mary Pennell Mangum, Nezperce, president of Mortar Board, introduced the new pledges.

To complete the May Fete the university band struck up the recessional and the queen descended from her throne to lead the participants in a royal exit. Following the May Fete the members of AWS acted as hostesses at tea to which all attending had been invited.

Prominent Professor Slated To Lecture This Summer

Dr. Ralph D. Russell, professor of secondary education, has announced that Dr. Edgar Fuller of Washington, D. C., will appear on the summer faculty for the 1945 summer school session.

Dr. Fuller is an education specialist with the civil aeronautics administration of the department of commerce and was awarded the Frank G. Brewer trophy of the National Aeronautics association for his leadership in carrying to American youth the implications of the air age.

Other Leaders

Other leaders in education, industry, and business who will appear on the visiting staff include Dr. H. B. Bruner, superintendent of schools at Oklahoma City; Dr. E. M. Draper, professor of secondary education and curriculum at the University of Washington; G. C. Sullivan, state superintendent of public instruction; and Frederick Arple, assistant chief of the Bonneville administration's division of industrial and resources development.

Additional members will include Harry W. Christy, American Loan & Insurance company; J. W. Condie, state high school supervisor; George E. Denman, chief, education subdivision, veteran's administration; Leonard L. Eastly, assistant director, school and college service, United Air Lines; J. C. Eddy, assistant state superintendent of public instruction; Dr. Walter W. Isle, education specialist U. S. office of price administration; J. J. O'Connell, general manager of Potlatch Lumber company; E. T. Taylor, state master, Idaho Grange; and E. M. Toops, business agent Lumber and Sawmill Workers, American Federation of Labor.

Boeing Needs Men

According to L. C. Cady, dean of the college of engineering, a personnel representative of Boeing Aircraft company will be on the Idaho campus May 22. The representative will be here to contact juniors and sophomore students in engineering who are seeking employment during the summer months.

Festivities to honor mothers visiting the campus, were held in the gymnasium contrary to plans for the ceremonies on the lawn because of rain. It was estimated that approximately 100 mothers from out of town attended.

Music furnished by the university band, under the direction of E. J. Marty, included "Independencia" by R. B. Hall, "Bridal Song" from the Rustic Wedding symphony by Carl Goldmark, "Lady of Spain" by Evans-Cailliet, and "Triumphal March" by T. B. Boyer.

University To Offer Course In Beet Sugar Technology

Starting this coming fall the university college of agriculture, cooperating with the western sugar beet industry, will become the first institution in the United States to provide young men and women interested in careers in this industry a chance to attend a "sugar beet school." Information on the university's new four-year sugar beet technology curriculum, set up to provide an increased supply of technically trained individuals for the beet sugar industry, appears in the new addition of the university catalog, now being distributed.

Working details for the new venture and points of university-industry cooperation were discussed when R. H. Cottrill, vice president and assistant general manager of the Amalgamated Sugar company, Ogden, Utah, and Wilford Y. Cannon, production manager of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, Salt Lake City, representing the beet sugar industry, visited the university to confer with Dean E. J. Iddings of the college of agriculture and members of the college staff.

Big Hopes

The representatives of the beet sugar industry expressed the hope that the new beet sugar technology curriculum at the university eventually would do for the western beet sugar industry what the Audubon sugar school at Louisiana state university has done for the cane sugar industry. That sugar school, in operation many years, has supplied a large percentage of the leaders of the cane sugar industry throughout the world.

"Through this new curriculum the University of Idaho college of agriculture hopes to perform a valuable service to an important western industry," commented Dean Iddings. "There is throughout the industry a serious shortage of technically trained personnel. With the trend toward mechanization in production so pronounced this need will become increasingly urgent."

The curriculum will cover the two broad phases of the industry, growing the beets in the field, and producing sugar from the beets in the factory. During the first two years the students will study general basic subjects to give them technical background preparatory to specializing at the end of the sophomore year.

To bring students in the course into direct contact with the industry itself sugar companies plan to take them into the fields and factories, probably on a part-time employment basis, at least twice a year, first in the beet harvesting season and again when the factories are producing sugar.

Concert Features Jean Armour

Tuesday evening, the university orchestra under the direction of Carl Claus presented a concert, featuring Jean Armour as student violin soloist. Miss Armour played Mozart's "Violin Concerto in A Major." She is a junior in the school of music and a member of the All-Girl Singing orchestra and Sigma Alpha Iota.

Students who are either music majors or minors presented a student recital in the auditorium last night. Those taking part were Mrs. Walter Snodgrass, Lucile Thompson, Stephen Shelton, Doris Gochmour, Vivian McLaughlin, Joan Wittman, and Jane Ellen Cunningham, pianists. Voice students presented were Arlys Powell, Jean Mariner, Dorothy Monico, Billie Adamson and Lalene Cargill.

Walter Smith, violinist, and Neva Le Favor, organist, were also on the program.

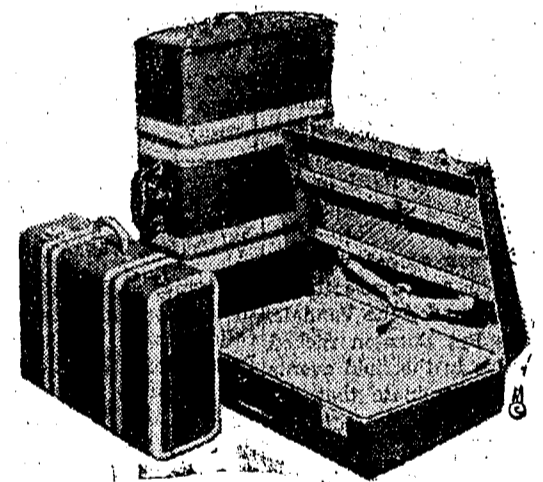

Next Tuesday night at 8 in the auditorium, Jean Gochmour will give her senior piano recital. Miss Gochmour has been actively engaged in all music organizations during her four years at Idaho. For the past year, she has served as president of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Graduate Accepts Red Cross Job

Miss Virginia Greif has accepted permanent employment by the Red Cross in Spokane. Her job will begin June 11 and will consist of sending and verifying wires for soldiers from the war department and social case work of Red Cross.

Miss Greif is a graduate in sociology this year. She is living now at Hays hall.

BENCH NOTES

By JACK ANDERSON

The University of Idaho this week is host to the first State Track meet for prep athletes in a decade. The Ad club is sponsoring the affair, which from this corner looks like the first sizeable attempt to bring athletics to a pre-war basis. The meet will be held on MacLean field and might be well worth attending.

The treatment accorded these potential students of the U should be of the best, for first impressions are oftentimes lasting. We want them to understand that we are desirous of having them attend Vandallville when they graduate from their respective high schools.

Speaking of missing flies, the Vandal baseballers missed a fly this week, when the Army suddenly changed its mind about a plane trip to Mountain Home, but hopes for the 28th as a take-off date are strong.

Unacquainted as to the ways of divot digging is Jose as witnessed by a letter to his friend Pauncho . . .

DERE PAUNCHO: Today I am told you about mine experiments on this golf. To start with the beginning, I gone to the club house, that sees where the clubs are kept, an this man (call greenskeeper, and you should see heem, always he green from ears to ears) he to me present a golfing bag full with sticks, and some leetle white, almos' ruck pills.

On one of the wee-sticks I'm balance the leetle ball, and with the beeg clubs, like the wind I swing—when the leetle ball shes sail into the wheat field so far she went.

Out from there I'm hit and landing on the gramm-way. Once more I'm swung, and when the smoke she clear, the ball ees in a hole in the groun' and the grass are gone for seven inches square. I'm go on, ruining this lawn een fine shape, and then—carramba, bad luck shes veesit with me. This ungrateful ball is rolling into a hole, onder a small flag, and Por Dios hombre, such a times I are having to knock it out from there, I'se bent one clubs to pieces weeth a tin-can some joking man put in hole.

Later on further, I'm what you said tee-off and what you know that ball is roll in these hole in one shots. The rest of mine frans are jump up and down and Pedro is stamp on hees hat for joy. Me I am mad in my face, for the rest get to hit four times each one thees hole, I theenk I get gyed in beeg manner.

To go on weeth the story, I'm continue: On number ocho, 18m light in what is call sand trap, thees is good name for heem, for you should saw how much sand he is caught and has hold heem all.

Well we feenish the match (and still don't get mine cheeroo light up) and when we going into thees clubs-house. There's a men who say he shoot a birdie on number seex, but him I don't believe, for he don't got thees bird weeth him, I don't think hes hitting any bird at ever.

Ones man are bragging that he came in under the par, but I am not impress weeth him, for I gone out under table on each Saturday night. Thees golf ees full weeth fun, so mine advise to you are to begin to commence on it immediately if not before. —Adios—Jose.

Missionaries Score Upset, Drop Vandal Tracksters

Sadly underrated Whitman college track team sounded a resounding clang on the Vandals' helmet with a stinging 72 1/2 to 58 1/2 defeat on MacLean field last Saturday.

Feature of the meet was the "ironman duel" between John Taylor and Leo Schlosser of the Missionaries. Pitted against each other in four events, Schlosser edged John in the 100 yard dash, the 220, the low hurdles and the broad jump, good for 20 points and high scoring for the meet. Taylor picked up a first in the high hurdles and a third in the 220 for his total of 15 points.

Jack Anderson scored wins in the half mile and two-mile to share top scoring with the Vandals.

Whitman's Pat Darnton racked up 17 1/2 points in the field events to completely dominate that department.

Weights Tip Meet

Increased strength in the weights and field events spelled success for the Missionaries, Bob Smith being the only Vandal to capture a first in a field event. Bob's win came on a 158 foot, six inch javelin toss.

In an earlier meet the silver and gold had defeated the trainees by nearly the same margin.

- Summary: 100-yard dash—Schlosser (W), Taylor (I), Jensen (W), Time, 10.3 seconds. 220-yard dash—Schlosser (W), Jensen (W), Taylor (I), Time, 23.3 seconds. 440-yard dash—Jensen (W), Kilborne (I), Heistuman (W), Time, 52.2 seconds. 880-yard run—Anderson (I), Kilborne (I), Boling (W), Time, 2 minutes 8.2 seconds. Cougars Grab Diamond Victory, Errors Many Coach Jack Friel's Washington State Cougars captured the first contest of a four-game series with the Idaho Vandals, 10 to 7, on MacLean field last Friday, but he can be mighty thankful the Vandal infield was not up to par.

No less than six errors were charged against the infield, and although the Cougars attempted to throw the tilt away themselves with five bunts of their own, it was Idaho miscues which definitely settled the issue.

Actually, Idaho's Bill Carbaugh should have won the game, 5-3, which means no less than seven Stater tallies were unearned, but the bobbles were just too much for any team to withstand.

Waller Wins Game Although Cougar starter Darroll Waller, the lad who has lost only one collegiate game, and that to the Vandals, was roughly clubbed for three runs and four hits in the initial frame, Washington State rebounded for five in the second to hand Waller the victory.

Bob Anderson came in from his middle field post to take over mound duties in the second, although touched for eight safeties, the Vandals couldn't connect at the right time. They produced a trio of runs in the fifth, to close the gap to 6-7, on successive blows by Denny Gray and Carbaugh, an error, Jeff Overholser's bingle to left-center and Sumner Johnson's infield fly, but the Frielmen retaliated with a pair in the sixth to ice the contest.

Idaho's offensive spark was led by Len Pyne and Carbaugh, each banging out three hits, the former getting two doubles and a triple, while Gray came through with a pair of solid blows. Ray Johnson paced the visitors with three for four.

Saturday's game between the two teams was called at the end of the fourth because of rain with the two deadlocked at 4-4. Each had registered four hits up to that time.

Carbaugh Continues Lead, Slashes Out .348 Average

By RUSS WARD (Sports Statistician)

Portsider Bill Carbaugh, the Vandal flinger who shuns the old "pitchers can't hit" adage, continues to pace Idaho swatsmiths this week following a lone tilt last Friday. Carbaugh whacked out three for five against Wash State to up his average to .348, a 31-point increase over last week.

Shortstop Len Pyne also clubbed Cougar pitchers for three hits to move into second place with .341, while Denny Gray, third baseman, slid to third despite an 11-point rise to .324. No other players are found in the .300 circle.

Carbaugh also leads in runs-batted-in with 14; hits, 16; total bases, 30; triples, 3, and is tied with Gray for homers with two. Pyne tops the squad in runs with 16; doubles, 5; and stolen bases, 6. Team batting average was upped four points to .253.

WAA Spring Picnic Set For Monday

Annual spring picnic of the Women's Athletic Association will be held May 21 from 5:30 to 7 p. m. in the area between the men's and women's gymnasiums. All WAA members are invited.

"I" sweaters will be awarded to women who have earned 1200 points and blankets to those who scoring the highest number of points have earned 2000. A plaque will be presented to the women's group in the past year by the "I" club. Also at this time will be the initiation of new members into WAA.

Jane Meyer, president, has appointed the following committees: Jane Thompson, invitations; Phyllis Wheeler and Helen Morfitt, food; WAA executive board, clean-up.

GRADS CONTINUE STUDIES

Bob Davis will be a graduate assistant in the chemistry department at the university next year.

Reed Fife, who will receive his degree in bacteriology, will attend the University of Oregon medical school this summer.

Carl Niewirth, Dick McKeivitt, Frank Galley, Ben Martin, Mike Oswald, William Abbott, Philip Einhouse, Clifford Streeter, Robert Smith, Ronald Kilborn.

Science Honorary Holds Initiation

An installation and initiation dinner meeting of the Idaho chapter of Sigma Xi, scientific research honorary, was held Wednesday, May 16, at Hotel Moscow.

Business of the evening was the initiation of the two new members elected, Charles F. Petersen and A. W. Slipp, and the installation of new officers for the coming year.

New officers for the year 1945-46 are Dr. H. W. Steffens, president; Dr. Robert Bessey, vice-president; Dr. D. H. Anderson, treasurer; and Dr. Glenn C. Holm was elected to continue his term as secretary.

The board of electors includes Dr. W. H. Cone, outgoing president, Dr. Ella Woods, Dean D. S. Jeffers, and Prof. D. W. Bolin. Dr. M. E. Deters and Dr. J. V. Beck were elected alternates.

Dr. Cone delivered the address of the evening on "Recent Advances in Analytical Chemistry."

Netmen Meet Cougars Friday

Vandal racquet-wielders will attempt to make it three in a row over WSC when they play the Cougars here Friday. To date Idaho has won two and lost one, the loss being to Whitman. The Missionaries will play a return match here May 23.

Coach William Ramsey indicated he planned to use Dave Seaberg as number one singles man with Irv Wentworth, Byron Anderson, Bob Smith, and Bob Assmussen completing the team in the order named.

"We hope to have our new judging stands installed by Friday for the Cougar series," Coach Ramsey stated.

State Prep Track Meet To Be Held Saturday

Prep track stars of southern Idaho, with the southwestern district predominating, appear to have a stranglehold on laurels of the state invitational meet which is being sponsored by the University of Idaho at MacLean field Saturday.

According to past performances in six district meets held last week, the southwestern area—headed by strong entries from Boise, Emmett, and Weiser, should dominate the field of nearly 125 thinclads of the state.

Diamondmen Meet Huskies in Frays This Week-end

Coach Ernie Wohlétz, Manager Dick Ohms and 13 members of the Idaho Vandal baseball team, packing for the second time this week, will leave by train at 5:15 this afternoon for Seattle and a two-game series with the Washington Huskies tomorrow and Saturday.

The Vandals were packed earlier this week for their scheduled plane ride to Mountain Home only to have the tilt postponed until Monday, May 28.

Little is known of the Husky squad except that Coach Tubby Graves had over 65 candidates out earlier in the spring. Lost from the squad last month was infielder and basketball star Bob Jorgensen, who was called into the service. The Seattleites, however, are well fortified at several posts by naval trainees.

Idaho's Wohlétz said today he probably would start his ace flinger, Bill Carbaugh. The hard luck portsider, considered one of the best college hurlers in the northwest, has taken his last four tilts on the chin only because of faulty support. Hefty Frank Viro will form the other half of the battery.

Those making the trip include: pitchers, Carbaugh, Sumner Johnson, John Dailey, Walt Smith; catcher, Viro; infielders, Chuck Schiferl, Jerry Isaacson, Len Pyne and Denny Gray; outfielders, Jeff Overholser, Chuck Henderson, Elmer Sperry and Johnny Ikeda.

Qualifications for Kappa Delta Pi are that pledges must be in the upper quartile of the junior class and majoring in education. Dr. Wayne Smith is advisor of the group and other faculty members are Dean J. F. Weltzin, Dr. Ralph D. Russell, and Dr. Allan C. Lemon.

Officers of the organization other than Mrs. Mangum are: Muriel Whiteman, vice president; Betty Cardwell, secretary; and Marjorie Aeschliman, treasurer.

Following are Idaho's representatives: Arthur Humphrey, Robert Deal, Dean Mosher, John Taylor, Kenneth Smith, Fred Pomeroy, Leroy Beeson, Jack Anderson, Charles Larson.

Women To Receive WAA Awards

Blankets and sweaters will be presented to women who have earned the required points in WAA, according to Fred Watson, ASUI president. Blankets will be received by Ruth Leth, Catharine Dochios, Muriel Whiteman, and Joella Gage.

These women earning sweaters were Olive Dittman, Mary Dock and Vera Anderson.

Dietitian To Speak

Goldie Manning, formerly dietitian for the A. S. T. P. at the university will be a guest of the home economics department, Saturday. Miss Manning is now director of school cafeterias in the public schools in Bremerton, Wash.

She will speak to home economics seniors at 9 o'clock, Saturday morning on the subject of "Feeding the School Child."

Smooth Sailing
A railroad's roadbed has a lot to do with travel comfort. A well-built roadbed does away with annoying, sleep-disturbing bumps... like a boat breasting a choppy sea. It gives you "smooth sailing."
Thus, even the ballast used on the railroad's roadbed plays its part in efficient, round-the-clock transportation of troops and essential battle-line freight over Union Pacific's Strategic Middle Route, uniting the East with the Pacific Coast.
The kind of gravel used for roadbed ballast is an important factor. Union Pacific uses a special, sturdy type of crushed granite which stands up particularly well under wartime's heavily loaded freight and passenger trains. Then, too, it acts as a "cushion," resulting in more comfortable riding and less wear on locomotives and cars.
Future "smooth sailing" over life's highway can be assured by holding tight to the war bonds we now have... and, as an extra measure of economic protection, buying as many more as we can possibly afford.
